You see, dear friend, one of these times, God’s going to say, “Adrian,” “Jim,” or, “Scotty, I’m so grateful you did this. I’m so grateful you did that.” And we say, “Lord, when did I do that? I don’t remember that.” You see, a legalist—he has his little notepad out.

Now you listen to me, friend. When you serve the Lord, number one, don’t make bargains; number two, don’t keep books. God will do a better job of the bookkeeping than you will.

III. Don’t Begrudge Blessings

Number three: Don’t begrudge blessings. Now when God blesses somebody else, don’t let that take the joy out of your life.

Look now, in verse 8, as we continue to read here in this parable: “So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more…”—you see, these were the bookkeepers and the bargainers—“they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house” (Matthew 20:8–11).

Now here they are murmuring; here they are unhappy. Rather than praising and being grateful that they were able to do a full day’s work, and get a full day’s pay there, with the money hot in their hand, rather than praising, they’re murmuring and they’re bitter. Do you know why they’re bitter? Not because of what they got, but because somebody else got more.

A. All Jealousy Is Rooted in Legalism

Now listen to me. Are you listening? All jealousy is rooted in legalism—jealousy is rooted in legalism. When we are legalists, we think we’re owed so much. And then, if somebody else gets more, that legalism causes us to be jealous. Pay attention now. All jealousy is rooted in legalism.

B. All Ingratitude Is Rooted in Jealousy

Now all ingratitude is rooted in jealousy. You see, when I’m jealous of somebody else, I’m not grateful for what I have.

Little children are so happy on Christmas Day with what they have, until they go out and see what someone else got. Isn’t that right? I mean, you get a bicycle for Christmas, and you’re thrilled—until you go out and find somebody with a moped. And then, you say, “Oh my goodness! He got a moped.” You get a doll, and you’re happy—until somebody else has a basketball, or roller skates, or something; and then, you feel that you didn’t get enough. Now that’s human nature; that’s the legalism in us.

C. All Self-Pity Is Rooted in Ingratitude

Now listen to me, friend. Legalism is the root of jealousy; jealousy is the root of ingratitude; ingratitude is the root of self-pity. When you’re not grateful for what you have, you begin to feel sorry for yourself.

D. All Misery Is Rooted in Self-Pity

And self-pity is the root of misery. You want to be miserable? You become legalistic in your service for God; you make bargains with God; you begin to keep books on yourself—and, I’ll tell you what you’ll do: You’ll end up a bitter murmurer, ungrateful to God. Your legalism will lead to jealousy; your jealousy will lead to ingratitude; and your ingratitude will lead to self-pity; and that self-pity will lead to misery. Don’t you worry about it. If God wants to bless somebody else, let Him bless that person. His blessing upon somebody else does not diminish yours. And you can trust the Lord, friend. He will do right. You just trust Him. He says, “You trust Me, and I will do right.” We get in a lot of trouble, when we worry about what other people have.

Ole’ Simon Peter—at the end of his ministry, the Lord is telling Simon Peter, “Now when you’re old, Simon—when you’re old—somebody is going lead you around, and you’re going to die a martyr.” The Bible says there, in the end of John, that the Lord told him this, “signifying the way that he should die” (John 21:19). And then, Peter turned and looked at John, and he said, “What shall this man do?” (John 21:21). You know what the Lord said? “If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me” (John 21:22). “What’s that to you? Mind your own business, Peter. I will do as I will do. What’s it to you? Don’t worry about it. It’s Mine. I’ll get it as I will.”

Don’t you begrudge somebody else’s blessing, because, if you do, you’ll lose your own.

Conclusion

You want to serve God this coming year? Three rules: no bargains, no books, no bitterness. Okay? God is God. He will do right. You just serve Him out of a heart full of love, and leave it with Him. Let’s pray.
It Pays to Serve Jesus

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: November 4, 1990

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 19:29–30; 20:1–16

“So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.”

MATTHEW 20:16

Outline

Introduction

I. It Is Always Too Soon to Quit, but Never Too Late to Start
II. To Make Bargains with God Is to Cheat Yourself
   A. Some Came with a Contract
   B. Some Came with a Covenant
III. You Will Get Better Pay If You Will Let God Keep the Books
   A. If You Keep Your Own Books, You May Overpay Yourself Some Time
   B. If You Keep Your Own Books, You May Fail to Pay Yourself for Something You Weren't Conscious of Doing
IV. God Is Not Fair, but He Is Always Just
V. Another Man’s Blessing Is Never Your Loss

Conclusion

Introduction

Turn with me please to Matthew 19 and find verse 29. I’ve already announced that the title of our message this morning is this: “It Pays to Serve Jesus”—and, friend, it really does.

It pays to serve Jesus.
It pays every day.
It pays every step of the way.

—FRANK C. HUSTON

And it pays big. Look, if you will, in verse 29. The Lord Jesus said, “And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name’s sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life.” (Matthew 19:29)

It does pay to serve Jesus. But I want to ask you this question: Does God give equal pay for equal work? What do you think? May I tell you, my dear friend, He does not. God does not give equal pay for equal work. It’s a good thing God can’t be sued, because some of those Washington lawyers would sue our Lord for unfair labor practices. He does not give equal pay for equal work. Now I’m not saying God is unjust. God is very just, as we’re going to see. It’s very interesting.

Now, let’s continue to read verse 30: “But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.” (Matthew 19:30) And now, let’s just continue to read: “For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a [denarius],”—that is, “a penny a day”; a day’s labor. That’s what that literally means—“he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.” (Matthew 20:1–16)

That’s an interesting story. It’s a parable—and a very interesting parable. Here’s a man who needs some workers, some hired hands, in his vineyard. So he goes out in the beginning of the day, and he says to these people there in the labor pool, “If you’ll come work in my vineyard, I will pay you a day’s wages”—called here in the King James Version of the Bible a “penny.” But don’t think for a moment it means a penny like our penny. It was a full laboring man’s denarius, a laboring man’s wage for a day. He said, “I’ll give you this.” And so they hired on, and they began to work.

Now at about nine o’clock, he goes out and he finds other people there in the labor market. But these people he doesn’t contract with; he just says, “You come aboard, and I’ll pay you whatever is fair.” And so they come about nine in the morning. And then, at high noon, at twelve o’clock, he goes out, and others come. And they’re hired under the same arrangement. Then, at three o'clock in the afternoon he goes out, and he finds some more. He says, “Come on into the vineyard and work. I'll just give you what's fair.” And then, about five o'clock—I mean, at the end of the day—what the Bible calls “the eleventh hour,” after all the others had worked eleven hours and there was only one hour left to work—they worked a twelve-hour day, by the way—he hired some others to come, and they worked one hour. And then, of course, when the pay time came at the end of the day, everybody received the same.

Now these fellows who'd worked only an hour got paid a day's wages. Those who had worked for twelve hours said, “Boy, we're going to get rich today, because he's paying a day’s wages for an hour. We worked twelve hours. Look what we're going to get!” But they also only got a denarius, a day’s wages; and they began to murmur. There was a near riot. Why, these people had grievances and complaints, and trouble broke out. They said, “Look, we’ve worked twelve hours in the burning sun, and this man only worked an hour, and others worked a few hours; and we all got paid the same. You are not fair! You don't give equal pay for equal work.” The owner of the vineyard said, “Look, you got what you bargained for. The money is mine. I can do with it what I will.”

Now that's a strange story, isn't it? But, my dear friend, there are some incredible principles, and I pray God that He will teach them to you and remind me of them: five wonderful principles I want to give you today, when I want to tell you, my dear friend, it pays to serve Jesus. Now Jesus said, “Many [are] called, but few [are] chosen.” (Matthew 20:16) Now the word chosen here has the idea of being choice. Do you want to be a choice servant? Would you like to be not just somebody called into the vineyard, but would you like to be a choice servant?

Five things I want you to learn today.

I. It Is Always Too Soon to Quit, but Never Too Late to Start

Number one: It is always too soon to quit, but never too late to start. Okay, put it down: It is always too soon to quit, but it is never too late to start. I may be talking to some of you today, you've not yet given your heart to the Lord Jesus Christ, and you say, “It is too late for me. I am living in the sunset years of my life. I am living in the eleventh hour of my life.” My dear friend, our Lord, through this preacher, is saying to you today, “Come into the vineyard.”

Now He’s not saying that it is wise to postpone coming to the Lord. He's not just putting a premium on what we call deathbed repentance. Does the Bible teach deathbed repentance? Can a man live all of his life for the devil, and then in the last few hours give his heart to Christ, and be saved? He certainly can! Should he? Oh, no. The best thing to do is to come to our Lord early. Billy Sunday said that deathbed repentance was like burning the candle of life for the devil and then blowing the smoke in God’s face. But, my dear friend, you can be saved at the eleventh hour; and I don’t care how old you may be, or how long you’ve lived in sin: You can be saved at the eleventh hour. And I just tell you, it’s always too soon to quit if you’re serving the Lord, but it is never too late to start. And so you can come to our Lord any time that you want.

Billy Sunday was a great evangelist, and Billy Sunday was a baseball player before he became an evangelist. As a matter of fact, he held the record for circling the bases. He was like Ty Cobb. He could run those bases. And he was an incredible guy and a great athlete. God called him to preach. And before Sunday was saved he ran with his old baseball crowd. Well, one day, when Billy Sunday was in a particular town for a crusade, they said to him, “Billy, there’s an old man here that lives in this town that says he knows you. We call him the Old Timer.” And they gave Billy the name of this baseball player, and Billy said, “Yes, I know him.” He said, “We played baseball together.” He said, “He was with me the night I decided to give my heart to Jesus. I’ll go see him.” They said, “Billy, the Old Timer is sick. He’s about to die.” Billy said, “I’ll go see him.”

And Billy Sunday went to see his old buddy, and they sat down and talked, reminisced. They talked baseball; they talked the times they had together. And then Billy Sunday said to the Old Timer, “Old Timer, have you given your heart to Jesus? Are you saved?” The Old Timer said, “No, Billy.” He said, “You remember that day we sat on the curb and we discussed religion? You told me what you were going to do. And, Billy, you got up and left, and you went your way; but,” he said, “Billy, I went my way. You’ve lived for God; you’ve had a good life, Bill; but I haven’t. Things haven’t worked out for me.” So Billy Sunday said to the Old Timer, he said, “Well, let me tell you how to be saved, and let me explain the gospel and how God loves you.”

And so Billy just poured out his heart to his old baseball buddy and asked him, “Wouldn’t you like to be saved now? Don’t you want to give your heart to Jesus?” Do you know what this old baseball player said to Billy Sunday? He said, “No, Bill.” He said, “I can’t do that now.” He said, “It’s too late for me.” He said, “I remember when we were young men: You went your way; I went mine. This is the way I lived; this is the way I’ll die.” Sunday said, “Oh, no, Old Timer. It doesn’t have to be that way. God is a God of grace and a God of mercy, and He will receive you. Come and give your heart to Jesus.” But the Old Timer said, “No, Bill, it’s too late for me.”

Billy Sunday later on told that story. The Old Timer died, of course, and he went to hell—never gave his heart to Jesus. Billy said, “It was late in the game of life.” He said, “The Old Timer was at the plate. It was his last game. It was the big game. It was late in the ninth inning. The sun was sinking in the west. The Old Timer was there at the plate, and he had two strikes against him.” He said, “The pitcher in the game of life wound up, and he threw one more ball.” And Sunday said, “He came across big and soft right across the plate. And everybody in the crowd said, ‘Swing, Old Timer, swing!’ But,” Sunday said, “the Old Timer never even lifted the bat from his shoulder. The umpire said, ‘You’re out!’” That’s sad.

My dear friend, I want to tell you something: It’s always too soon to quit, but it’s never too late to start. I don’t care who you are or where you are, I want to tell you that God wants to save you today. And if you have come into the vineyard early—if you’re a child, if you’ve come to the vineyard early—praise God for all of the sin that He’s kept you from. I’m so glad I was saved as a teenager. But if you’re an old person, come and get saved and thank Him for all the sin He’s forgiven you of. The Bible says when we’re forgiven much, we love much. (Luke 7:47) It pays to serve Jesus.

II. To Make Bargains with God Is to Cheat Yourself

Now there’s a second thing I want you to learn: Not only is it always too soon to quit but never too late to start; but the second thing I want you to learn is this: to make bargains with God is to cheat yourself. Do you have it? To make bargains with God is but to cheat yourself.

A. Some Came with a Contract

Now, go back to this story. What our Lord is doing, really, is teaching against legalism—the deadly sin of legalism. He was talking there to some of those who were in danger—having been influenced by the Pharisees—in danger of legalism. And you see it right here, if you will, in chapter 20: “For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.” Now, notice verse 2: “And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.” (Matthew 20:1-2) Underscore the word agreed. Williams’s translation gives it this way: “When he had contracted...” That is, they were saying, “What are you paying today?” And he says, “Well, I’ll pay so much.” And they say, “No, we want so much.” And he says, “Well, I’ll give you this much.” And they bargain back and forth. And finally they have a labor contract. It was a bargain. They had an agreement: “This is what I will pay for a day’s work. I will pay so much for so much work.”

B. Some Came with a Covenant

Now, that’s the first category of people who came that day. There were people who came with a labor contract—verse 2. They had a bargain, an agreement, a contract. But now, notice the second category of persons, if you will. Look, if you will, in verse 4—these are those others who come the third hour: “And said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you.” (Matthew 20:4) No agreement here, just, “You just trust me. Whatever is right, then I will give it to you.” Look, if you will, in verse 5—the same thing: “Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.” (Matthew 20:5) Look in verse 7, the last part: “And whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.” (Matthew 20:7) Now, in the first category, here’s a bargain; here’s an agreement. Those who came first said, “I want so much pay for so much work.” That’s a contract. The others, just a covenant, not a contract: “Just trust me; I will do right.”

Now the difference between these two groups is the difference, dear friends, between legalism and the difference in grace. You see, Peter—Simon Peter—occasioned this parable. Simon Peter was in danger of slipping into legalism. Notice chapter 19 and verse 27—go right back to chapter 19: “Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?” (Matthew 19:27) That is, Peter was saying, “Look, I want to know what I’m going to get paid. I’ve forsaken everything, and I’ve followed you. And so I want to know. I want some kind of a contract with you, Lord.” And, you know, legalism always demands its rights. It wants to bargain with God.

Now, let me tell you the trouble with legalism. The difficulty with legalism is not that it doesn’t get what it bargains for; the difficulty with legalism is it does get what it bargains for. That’s the problem with legalism. Jesus said, “Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.” (Matthew 6:2; Matthew 6:5; Matthew 6:16) These people who bargained with the owner of the vineyard, they got exactly what they bargained for. You see, the man who bargains with God may get what he bargains for, but he will cheat himself out of God’s best. God gives the best to those who leave the choice with Him. And that’s the reason that the legalists came in last in Matthew 19 and verse 30: “But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.” (Matthew 19:30) God does not give equal pay for equal work. God is not interested in hours; God is interested in hearts: not what you do, but why you serve.

Now, if you want to come to God as a hired hand, just come on, and God will treat you like a hired hand. If you want to be a hireling, God will treat Himself like a hirer. Let me give you a verse—Psalm 18:25–26: “With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright; with the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the froward thou wilt shew thyself froward.” (Psalm 18:25–26) Now, the froward means a person who is selfish and a person who is exacting, a person who has his self interests. God says, “If you act that way to me, then that’s the way I’m going to reflect my actions to you.” Now, dear friend, I could say, to the hireling, God shows Himself as a hirer. What God wants—the kind of service God wants in Bellevue Baptist Church, and the kind of service God wants in this community when you go out, is free, loving, joyful, spontaneous service that comes from the heart.

You know, the Pharisees were so careful to serve for what they would get out of it.
For example, in Matthew 23:23, our Lord talked about the way the Pharisees tithed, and He said, “For ye pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin.” Now, what does that mean? The mint was a little herb that grew outside their houses, and they would tithe the mint leaves: “One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine leaves—these are mine. Ten—that one’s God’s.” I mean, you have to be pretty much of a serious tither to count the leaves. But Jesus said that’s what the Pharisees did. They were so careful. But He said, “Ye...have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith.” (Matthew 23:23) Why were these Pharisees tithing? They were tithing because they felt it paid to tithe.

Now, dear friend, let me tell you, if you tithe because it pays to tithe, I want to tell you something: It just may pay, but it won’t pay as much as it would if you just tithed not for pay. But just trust the Lord—just trust the Lord. I mean, don’t try to get a bargain with God. You see, 2 Corinthians chapter 9 and verse 7 says, “Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity:”—don’t make a bargain with God—“for God loveth a cheerful giver.” (2 Corinthians 9:7) Jesus said, “Don’t let your left hand know what your right hand does.” (Matthew 6:3) Just give. I mean, don’t get so exacting about it. Don’t make bargains with God.

One man asked another man, “Do you tithe before or after taxes?” Well, that’s a spirit of a Pharisee—trying to figure that out. “Do you tithe before or after taxes?” This man said, “I always tithe before taxes.” He said, “You do? Why?” He said, “God gets more that way.” I like that, dear friend. Listen. You see, there’s just a spirit of not saying to God, “Now, God, what are you going to do? If I do this, what are you going to do? All right, we’ve got a deal, God?” God says, “Look, just forget all of that, and just trust me—just trust me.”

III. You Will Get Better Pay If You Will Let God Keep the Books
All right, here’s a third principle. The first principle was it’s always too soon to quit, never too late to start. Second principle is don’t make bargains with God, dear friend. To bargain with God is to cheat yourself. Number three: You will get better pay if you will let God keep the books. Now old Peter had been keeping books. Peter had said, “Lord, now we’ve left all to follow you. What are we going to get?” (Matthew 19:27) Peter had said, “One boat: all right, I gave a boat. All right, one fishing business: I gave a fishing business.” He said, “Now, Lord, here’s the record. Here’s what we’ve left for you. Now, Lord, what are we going to get?”

Now these people who came into the vineyard late in the day, they didn’t know what they were going to get; they just simply trusted the Lord. Let me tell you about a legalist. A legalist has his eye on the clock, and he has his eye on his fellow servants. He knows exactly how many hours he has served, and he knows exactly how many hours they
When I was a kid, one of the first jobs I had was as a soda jerk in a drugstore. I could cook hamburgers and make ice cream sundaes and the old-fashioned type of sodas. I worked at Albritton’s Drug Store at the corner of 40th Street and Broadway in West Palm Beach, Florida. That was our corner drugstore. I worked for Mr. Albritton. And I would come in there and work behind the counter and wait on tables just as a boy in junior high school. And then at the end of the day, I’d sweep out the drugstore and take those folding doors and bolt them shut all across the front that opened on the street. There was no air conditioning. It was just open to the street. And we always would close the drugstore at 10:30 at night. I could hardly wait for 10:30 to come. I’d have my eye on that clock, and I’d be watching those doors, because I knew anybody in the drugstore I had to wait on; and they might get in there at 10:29, and then I’d have to stay until they left. I’d always be watching the cars out front and watching that folding door. And I saw 10:30 come on the clock, and I ran over to those doors and began to put them in place and bolt them all down. And a car parked out there, and somebody came and looked through and knocked on the glass. They wanted in the drugstore. I said, “Too bad. We’re closed.” They got in the car and drove off.

And I turned around, and there was Mr. Albritton standing right behind me. He looked so grieved; he looked so hurt. He said, “Son, that’s the first time anybody’s ever been turned away from this drugstore who wanted to do business here.” Well, I could have crawled under the rug—I felt so ashamed. And I saw the difference: I saw the attitude that I had compared to the attitude that he had. I saw the love that he had for people, and for business; and I saw why he was such a wonderful businessman. I saw myself for what I was: a hireling and a clock-watcher.

I’ve seen people like that in the kingdom of heaven. I mean, they’re not interested in the vineyard; they’re not interested in God. They’re interested only in themselves. Now, my dear friend, you quit watching the clock, and get your eyes off of others; and just serve the Lord, and forget about the rest of it.

A. If You Keep Your Own Books, You May Overpay Yourself Some Time

Now, listen. You live by grace. Let God keep the books, and God will pay you a lot better than if you keep your own books. If you keep your own books, in the first place, you may overpay yourself some time; you may take credit for things that you ought not to take credit for.

One time, I heard a black preacher, who was an eloquent preacher, preaching. He so spoke to my heart. He was talking about pride in the ministry, and he said, “You preachers, you stand up there and preach on Sunday morning, and you give the invitation, and people come down the aisle to give their heart to Jesus, and you say, ‘Look what I did.’ He said, ‘How do you know you did that?’ He said, ‘Have you ever been dove hunting?’ He said, ‘You shoot a dove here, and he continues to fly for a while and falls in a field over there.’ He said, ‘That man that fell at your altar this morning,’ he said, ‘someone may have wounded him a long time ago. You think about it: Somebody witnessed to him; somebody prayed for him; somebody gave him the gospel a long time ago. And just because he happened to come forward when you were preaching, that doesn’t mean it was your ministry.’

B. If You Keep Your Own Books, You May Fail to Pay Yourself for Something You Weren’t Conscious of Doing

Sometimes, you see, we may pay ourselves for things that we don’t have any right to pay ourselves for. And sometimes, dear friend, we may fail to pay ourselves because we have done something that we were not even conscious of. You’re in Matthew chapter 20—just turn to Matthew chapter 25 and look with me in verse 34—this is so wonderful: ‘Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: for I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.’ Now, notice verse 37: ‘Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.’ (Matthew 25:34–40)

Now it’s a very interesting thing: Our Lord is going to come and reward His servants, and He’s going to say, ‘I thank you for doing this, and this, and this, and this, and this.’ And you say, ‘Lord, when did I do that? I don’t remember doing that.’ Did you know that many of the things we’re going to get rewarded for are things that we’ve forgotten and things we didn’t even know we were doing when we were doing them? Did you know that? I mean, let God keep the books.

I got a letter a while back from a young man. He said, ‘I want to ask you to forgive me, and I’m asking God to forgive me, for not thanking you sooner, but,’ he said, ‘it’s because of you that I know the Lord, and I’m now in the gospel ministry’—wrote me down in Alabama. I couldn’t remember anything about it. But he said, ‘At Merritt Island, Florida, I was walking home from school. You stopped and picked me up, put me in your car, told me about Jesus, and let me out.’ I could not remember anything that he said happened. Dear friend, if you’d ask me, ‘Did I ever do that?’ I would say, ‘I don’t even have the foggiest about it.’ But there was a time when I had witnessed to that young man. And the Lord says, “Thank you, Adrian.” I said, “When did that happen?” “Inasmuch as you’ve done it unto the least of these, you’ve done it unto me.”

Friend, you do not know. Sometimes we take credit for things we have no business taking credit for. Other times God sees things that we’ve done, we say, “When did I do that? When did that happen?” It’s just in our normal course of life.

One of the most incredible letters that I’ve received was another letter that I got a while back from a person who had visited our church—and this is what that person said. They told me how dejected they were, how in great despair and anguish of heart, and told me the terrible sorrow that had come into this man’s life. And this is a portion of the letter. He said, “Home alone in my apartment I made it through the afternoon and drove myself back for the evening service. Your message of Jesus saving Peter on the water must have been meant for me. It lifted my spirits. But as the service concluded with the baptisms and the song, a lot of old memories tore at my heart. I had a hard time leaving church that evening as the choir and the duet continued in song. I finally left. And by the time I got home, I was really depressed. My ship was very near the rocks. I laid down on my bed in anguish, crying my heart out, as I felt so alone and unloved. My thoughts drifted toward my closet, my shotgun, and the shells I had available. I rolled over on my back, looked up in despair, and cried out, ‘O God, help me! Please help me!’

“God answered quickly, just as Jesus answered quickly to Peter’s plea to save me. Instantly, on that bed as I lay there, the smiling face of a young lady appeared in my mind. This young lady is a member of our Sunday School group, which I met one Sunday earlier. You see, as I left church Sunday night and drove out of the front parking lot, a car stopped to let me onto the street. And as I was about to proceed, out of the corner of my eye I caught the glimpse of another waving hand in the car behind the stopped car. I looked and recognized this young lady. She smiled and waved again. I wanted to pull over and thank her for smiling, but I didn’t, because of the traffic.” And then, this is what this man said to me: “Through the smiling face of that young lady, God turned my thoughts toward my children, my mother, my relatives, my wife, and my friends. I wondered how they would ever understand the selfish act I was contemplating.” And a man’s life was saved by a smile—by a smile—right on our parking lot.

Remember that when you leave the parking lot today, okay? A man’s life saved by a smile. Now, my dear friend, God will say to her, “Thank you for saving a man’s life.” She’ll say, “Lord, when did I do that?” “Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, you’ve done it unto me.” Friend, you’ll get better pay if you let God keep the books. Just let God keep the books.
IV. God Is Not Fair, but He Is Always Just
Now, here’s a fourth principle I want to give you: God is not fair, but He is always just—God is not fair, but He is always just. Now, don’t ever say, “God, you’re not fair.” You have no right to say to God, “God, you’re not fair,” because God has no obligation to be fair to you. Do you know what fairness is? Fairness is a human concept. We want God to be fair. Why should God be fair? Do you know, when I say, “I want my fair share,” that says what? “I’ve got something coming”—doesn’t it? You see, I compare myself to someone else, and if that person gets more than I get, then I say, “That’s not fair.” My friend, God doesn’t operate on the basis of fairness. Fairness is a self-centered, egotistical, human concept. Fairness is based on the idea that I deserve something—and especially I deserve something if somebody else is getting something, and it’s not fair if I don’t get what they get. God is not fair. God is just. Justice is a holy attribute of God. God does what is right, not what is fair; and I hope you can see the difference. I’m not accusing God of dishonesty; as a matter of fact, I’m attributing to God the ultimate honesty. You see, God is a God of justice.

Now, if you’re looking for fairness, you’ll never plead for mercy. But if you’re looking for justice, then you say, “O God, I need mercy! I need mercy!” You see, only a person who sees that God is just says, “God, give me mercy.” When a person says, “God, you’ve got to be fair,” he’s saying, “Give me what I deserve.” But when a man sees that God is just, he says, “O God, I need mercy!” You see, justice is God giving us what we deserve; mercy is God not giving us what we deserve; and grace is God giving us what we don’t deserve. You got it? Justice is God giving us what we deserve—and we deserve hell. Mercy is God not giving us what we deserve, saving us from hell. And grace is God giving us what we don’t deserve—just paying us at the end of the day when we haven’t earned it.

Now, my dear friend, listen. God is not fair, but God is just. When you understand that God is just, then you can appreciate the mercy of God.

A lady went to the photographer to have her picture made. It looked just like her, so she didn’t like it. She went back to the photographer and said, “You’ll have to redo it.” He said, “What’s wrong with it?” She says, “It doesn’t do me justice.” He looked at it, and looked at her, and said, “Madam, you don’t need justice. What you need is mercy.”

Now, my dear friend, God is not a fair God; that is, it’s not that God owes you something and He’s unfair if He doesn’t give it to you. God is a just God. And this parable teaches because He can do what He will with what is His own, then if He gives you something, it’s out of His mercy.

V. Another Man’s Blessing Is Never Your Loss
I want to say one last thing: Another man’s blessing is never your loss—another man’s blessing is never your loss. Don’t get all bent out of shape if somebody else seems to be getting blessed more than you’re blessed. Let God go ahead and bless. The elder brother in the story of the prodigal son got all bent out of shape because the father was merciful to the younger brother.

Can I be a little personal right now? Did you know there are people sometimes who are longstanding members of the church who get bent out of shape because newcomers come in and seem to enjoy the blessings that they worked for for years? I can’t imagine anything worse than that, but there are people like that. They say, “Well, my goodness! I can’t even get a seat in my Sunday School class!” Did you know sometimes that people think they have seniority in the kingdom of heaven? “Well, we started early in the day. Who are these latecomers to the vineyard?” My dear friend, I want to tell you that seniority is not the rule in the kingdom of heaven. God operates by grace—God operates by grace. Another man’s blessing is never your loss.

Conclusion
I must complete this message, but let me say to you, dear friend, if you’re living in the eleventh hour, if you haven’t served the Lord, I want to ask you to come to Him today. Don’t despair. It’s never too late. But don’t presume. Come now to Jesus.
God Is Not Fair
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: January 23, 2005
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 20:1–15

“Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.”
Matthew 20:14

Outline
Introduction
I. It’s Always Too Soon to Quit but Never Too Late to Start
II. If You Bargain With God, You Will Cheat Yourself
III. You Will Be Very Wise if You Let God Keep the Books
IV. Don’t Look for Fairness; Ask for Mercy
V. Another’s Blessing Is Never Your Loss
Conclusion

Introduction
Take God’s Word and turn to Matthew chapter 20. Let me tell you about a friend I had. He’s a preacher. He’s now in heaven. He was “follicly challenged.” That means he was bald, combed his hair with a washcloth. He had a crew cut, and the crew bailed out. Great man of God. And he had a little saying: “God is good; God is fair: some get brains, and some get hair.” God is good, but God is not fair!

I want to talk to you about this subject of fairness now. On a human plane, fairness is a wonderful attribute, and we feel it inbred in us when we’re children. “Mamma, that’s not fair! She got more ice cream than I got.” Or, “This is not fair. I did the dishes last night.” “It is not fair. Why should she get the car tonight when she had it last night?” And, we demand fairness. On the job, if we don’t get the promotion and somebody else does, we say, “That’s not fair!” Somebody gets a raise, and we don’t: we say, “That’s not fair!” If somebody has a day off and we don’t get it, we say, “That is not fair.” And now, today, we have laws that make employers apply fairness across the board. Well, I’m glad that God cannot be sued, for if God could be sued, the Washington lawyers would have a field day suing God because of what they would call His “lack of fairness.”

Now, we’re in Matthew chapter 20, verse 1—these are the words of Jesus: “For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day”—now, it’s not a penny like our penny; that’s a day’s wages—“he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour”—now, they were working a twelve-hour day—“about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny”—that is, a day’s labor wages—“But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?” (Matthew 20:1–15) God is not fair, but God is good.

Now, you need to get the background of this passage of Scripture. There’s a man who has a vineyard. He needs some workers so he goes out early in the morning, at the beginning of the day, and hires some laborers. Then he goes out again at nine and hires some more laborers. Then, he goes out again at twelve and hires some more laborers. Then, he goes at three in the afternoon and hires some more laborers. And then, also, some at five, at the last hour before sunset. Now, payday comes—pay time comes. And he starts with those who came last, and he gives them a day’s wages. And then, the ones who have been working all day said, “Boy, this is going to be wonderful! Look! He gave those who only labored an hour a day’s labor. I wonder what we’re going to get.” And they got the same thing. A near riot broke out. The Bible says there was murmuring. (Matthew 20:11) They were disgruntled, and they felt discriminated against; and they voiced their grievance. Complaints were uttered. Others just murmured under their breath. Notice Matthew 20:11: “And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house.” (Matthew 20:11) These who were murmuring were those who had toiled for twelve long hours, and they ended at the end of the day saying, “It just isn’t fair!” And it wasn’t. But God is good.

I want you to learn tonight some incredible truths, some great truths that will see you through in life. And if you don’t learn these, I think you’re going to get your nose bumped on the spiritual highway.
I. It’s Always Too Soon to Quit but Never Too Late to Start

Truth number one: It’s always too soon to quit but never too late to start. Now, look in verse 6: “And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?” (Matthew 20:6) And they came at the eleventh hour. Now, he’s not talking here about deathbed repentance. He is not talking about burning the candle of life for yourself and then blowing the smoke in God’s face. Now, there is a deathbed repentance. God will save anybody if they’re drawing their last breath, if they call upon Him to save them. But that’s not what He’s trying to teach here, or what He is teaching here. Now, the thief on the cross was saved in the eleventh hour. Just before he died, he turned to Jesus and said, “Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.” (Luke 23:42) Now, don’t deliberately deny Christ and say, “Well, I’ll get saved in the eleventh hour” because you may never get to the eleventh hour. You may die tonight. You may die tomorrow. Your heart may get hard, as we preached last Sunday night. But what is He saying? He’s saying it is never too late to start; it is always too soon to quit.

Now, these people came into the vineyard, even in the eleventh hour, as soon as they were called. Now, what is the teaching here? It is better to start and to serve lovingly all day, but it is never too late to start. If there are some of you here and you feel like, you know, “I’ve wasted my life. I’m getting up in years. I’m sixty, seventy, eighty, ninety. It’s the eleventh hour for me,” I’ve got wonderful, wonderful news for you: our Lord is calling you into His vineyard. Listen, friend, it’s always too soon to quit, never too late to start. Does that speak to somebody’s heart here tonight? You’ve been sitting idle all of your spiritual life, and the Lord of the vineyard is calling you tonight.

II. If You Bargain With God, You Will Cheat Yourself

Second truth: If you bargain with God, you will cheat yourself. Look now in verse 2: “And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.” (Matthew 20:2) That means an agreement had to be made. That means there was some haggling. That means there was a contract. Actually, Williams gives it, “when they had contracted.” They were looking for a certain amount. I can just hear them saying, “What are you paying today?” And he says, “Well, I’ll pay you a penny a day.” And they say, “Well, no. We think we need more than a penny a day.” Let’s say the labor at that time for a laborer was ten dollars an hour, and he’s saying, “I’ll pay you 120 dollars for a day’s work.” And, they’re saying, “Couldn’t you pay us more than that?” He says, “No, I will pay you this much.”

†I heard about a man who applied for a job, and he asked his prospective employer, “What will you pay me?” He said, “I’ll pay you what you’re worth.” He said, “No deal. I just quit a job making more than that.”
But they're haggling back and forth. And finally, they agree. There's a contract. And they go into the vineyard. Now, they're going to the vineyard early, and there's nothing wrong with that. The earlier you go into the vineyard, the better it is. I was called into the vineyard early. God saved me at fourteen, called me to preach at sixteen. I've been pastoring since I was nineteen. It's all I've ever done. I would recommend it to these children here, these young people in the preteen choir: serve the Lord. And if you've been called early, praise God that you've been kept from much sinning. Praise Him for that! I praise God I've never known what it is to use alcohol or tobacco or to be morally impure with fornication. I'm so glad that God saved me from all of that. I'm so glad that God called me early in the morning into His vineyard. And if God has called you that way, thank Him. Praise Him that you have been saved from much sinning. But if God calls you late in the day, praise Him that He has forgiven you much. You see, listen, friend, to bargain with God is to cheat yourself.

Now, these people were bargaining with God, the ones who came early. There's nothing wrong with coming early. But they were trying to drive a bargain. The others came with what we would call a gentleman's agreement. Look at it in Matthew 20, verses 4 and 5: “And [he] said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard”—now, watch this—“and whatsoever is right I will give you”—no agreement here, just “Trust me. Whatever is right I will give you”—“And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.” (Matthew 20:4–5) And then, in verse 7: and these who came at the eleventh hour said, “We're here because no man has hired us.” “He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard”—now, listen to this—“and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.” (Matthew 20:7) Now, they were saying, “Whatever is right, I'll trust you with. I know that you will do right. We know that you will do whatever is right, and we trust you. We don’t ask for a contract. We just simply go into the vineyard to work.” Now, what our Lord is doing here is teaching the difference between service that comes out of legalism and service that comes out of love.

Now, in the chapter just prior to this I think we see the reason for this story that Jesus gave. In Matthew chapter 19, verse 27, Peter, who was about to slip into legalism, asked Jesus this question: “Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?” (Matthew 19:27) Now, he was saying, “Look, Lord, I want to make a deal with you. When we follow you, we want to know what we’re going to get paid.”

Now, legalism is always demanding its rights. It wants to bargain with God. The basis of the service is debt, not grace. The problem with legalism is not that it doesn’t get what it bargains for; the problem is it does get what it bargains for. They bargain for a penny, and they got a penny. Jesus said, “Those who pray to be seen of men have their reward.” (Matthew 6:5) Jesus said, “Those who give to be seen of men, they have their reward.” (Matthew 6:2) They make a deal, and they have a deal. The principle is that God gives the best to those who leave the choice with Him. If you bargain with God, you will cheat yourself.

In this story, those who bargained came in last. Look in verse 16: “So the last shall be first, and the first last.” (Matthew 20:16) You see, this is not equal pay for equal work. God is not interested in your hours. God wants your heart. God wants you to serve Him, trusting Him with a free heart, a joyful heart, an open heart, a liberal heart, saying, “O God, whatever you do, I know that you are good.” Now, God can treat you two ways: He could treat you like a hireling (you bargain with Him), or He can treat you like a servant.

Now, the Pharisees were legalists, and they tried to bargain with God. And they lived lives of legalism. Just go over to Matthew 23, and look in verse 23 about the Pharisees. Jesus said, “Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done”—that is, “you ought to tithe”—“and not to leave the other undone.” (Matthew 23:23)

Now, let me tell you how meticulous the Pharisees were. Some of you ladies have a little mint plant in your backyard, and you go and pick a few leaves off to put in the iced tea. And I like that. That smells good, and it just adds a little extra flavor and buoyancy to iced tea. But now, the Pharisees were so careful. If they had a mint plant, and as they’re picking the leaves: “One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine—those are mine;; tenth—that’s God’s.” They were so careful that they do it exactly right. You would think that God commended them for it, but He didn’t. Jesus said, “Woe unto you because you’re legalists. You’ve left off judgment, mercy, and faith.”

I want to tell you something: it pays to tithe. But if you tithe because it pays, you have a problem. You don’t tithe because it pays—not a bargain with God. You give liberally and joyfully. And the Bible says in 2 Corinthians 9, verse 7: “God [loves] a cheerful giver.” (2 Corinthians 9:7) People say, “Give ‘til it hurts.” No, you give ‘til it stops hurting. You can cheerfully give.

III. You Will Be Very Wise if You Let God Keep the Books
Now, here’s a third principle: you will be very wise if you let God keep the books. Now, if you keep a record of your service—you know how many hours you’ve served, you know what you have done—you’re very foolish—rather than leaving the matter with God. You see, Peter had been keeping books. Peter had his eye on the clock. He said, “We’ve done so-and-so and so-and-so. What are we going to get paid?” The legalist always has his eye on the clock. He knows how many hours he has served. He knows what so-called “sacrifices” he’s made, and he really doesn’t have the vineyard in his mind. He doesn’t have his Master in his mind. He has himself on his mind.
When I was a boy, among other jobs that I worked on when I was in junior high school, I worked in a drug store. But that was kind of a drug store we had back yonder that had a soda fountain in it. And I cooked hamburgers—you didn’t know I could do that. I made ice cream sundaes. I did all of these things there in the soda fountain for Mr. Albritton. And, in the evening time, when it was time to close, which was eleven o’clock, I would sweep the floor. Now, we didn’t have air conditioning in that drug store. We had folding doors that opened right out to the street. And I had my eye on the clock—it is now 10:59. Eleven o’clock—closing time. I saw a car pull up outside. I went to the door. I began to fasten the door, bolt it down. They came and knocked on the door. I said, “We’re closed.” I turned around, and Mr. Albritton was standing right behind me. He said, “Son, I’ve had this store for x number of years.” He said, “That’s the first time a customer was ever turned away.” I felt about that high. Now, what was the difference? I was a legalist. I had my eye on the clock. I was not concerned about Mr. Albritton’s vineyard.

Now, listen to me, friend: you’ll get more if you let God keep the books. If you keep the books, let me tell you what the danger is. Number one: You may overpay yourself on some occasion. Sometimes we think we’re really doing great things, and we may not.

I heard a black preacher use a very poignant illustration one time. He was preaching to preachers, and he said, “Now, you preachers, you talk about all of those souls that got saved Sunday morning in your church. You might be prone to think they got saved because of your preaching.” He said, “Have you ever gone dove hunting, and a man in this field over here will shoot a dove but he keeps on flying and he lands in your field?” He said, “That man that fell at your altar this morning, someone may have wounded him a long time ago. Somebody witnessed to him. Somebody shared Christ with him. And you say, “Look what I did with my preaching.”

You see, sometimes you may take credit for something that you really don’t deserve credit for. And there are other times when you don’t even realize how you’ve been used of God, but God is using you in a very special way. And look, listen to Matthew 25. Now, just go forward to Matthew 25. Jesus is talking about those that He’s going to reward, and He said, “For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.” (Matthew 25:35–40)

There are people who’ve been serving the Lord, doing acts of kindness. They’re not keeping a record. As a matter of fact, they don’t have it in their books. They say, “Lord, when was that? When were you thirsty and I gave you something to drink? When were you naked and I gave you clothes? When were you in prison and I visited you?” You know, if we were to pay ourselves, if we would keep the books, we might overpay ourselves sometimes and underpay ourselves sometimes. Sometimes what we think is the most incidental thing, if it’s done out of loyalty, God blesses.

I told you a while back about a letter I received from a man. He said, “Forgive me for taking so long to write this letter, but I want to tell you how God used you in my life.” He said, “It was on Merritt Island where you used to pastor.” He said, “I was a long-haired surfer going down the road with my surfboard, and you stopped and picked me up. It was a hot day. And you talked to me about Jesus.” He said, “I laughed at you. I made as if it had no impact on me at all. You let me out.” He said, “I went on my way, but I was never ever able to forget what you said to me until I gave my heart to Christ.” He said, “Jesus saved me, and now I am pastor of a very wonderful church. And I just want to thank you.” Well, you see, look, I didn’t even remember it. I thought, “Do I remember now? I think maybe, vaguely, faintly, I remember picking that boy up.”

You see, sometimes the things we do we don’t put in the books and the things we think we have done God does not put in the books. But you will be wise to let God keep the books.

IV. Don’t Look for Fairness; Ask for Mercy

Now, here’s the fourth thing: don’t look for fairness; ask for mercy. Look in verses 14 and 15. The owner of the vineyard said, “Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?” (Matthew 20:14–15)

Now, the concept of fairness is based on the idea that I am owed something in comparison with others. I want my fair share. That’s what fairness is based on. But God doesn’t deal with fairness. Listen, God deals on the basis of justice and mercy. He said, “Look, it’s mine. I can do with it what I will.” You see, God is good. God is merciful. But you can only receive mercy after you agree with justice. Justice is God giving us what we deserve. Mercy is God not giving us what we deserve. Friend, grace, that we heard about, is God giving us what we do not deserve. And I’m so grateful for God’s grace. God showed grace to these people who came at the eleventh hour into the vineyard.

Now, if you serve God for fairness, you’ll get upset if somebody gets more than you, and you’ll get upset if they got it sooner than you, and you’ll get upset if somebody gets something that you don’t get. Now friend, don’t ever ask God for justice. If you get justice, you’ll be in a pickle. Ask God for mercy.

V. Another’s Blessing Is Never Your Loss

Now, here’s the fifth thing I want you to learn, and we’ll be finished: another’s blessing is never your loss. Because God blessed these at the eleventh hour, that doesn’t mean that those who came at the first hour somehow suffered loss. Look in verses 14 and 15 again: “Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?” (Matthew 20:14–15) When one serves for reward, it is not long before he is complaining that he is not sufficiently rewarded.

You remember the story of the prodigal son, Luke 15? One brother went off and wasted his father’s substance in riotous living. The other brother stayed home. That was fine. The other brother worked in the vineyard, and that was fine. But the other brother got all bent out of shape, and the reason he got bent out of shape is that when the younger brother came home, the father loved him, hugged him, put a ring on his hand, shoes on his feet, and barbequed the fatted calf. The older brother said, “This is not fair! I’ve worked for you all this time, and look how you’re treating this son of yours!” He couldn’t even call him his brother. Well, somehow this elder brother thought that his younger brother’s blessing was his loss. The father said, “Look,” to the older brother, “all that I have is yours.”

Don’t worry if somebody gets more than you get. Don’t worry if God is blessing someone more than He’s blessing you, supposedly. Don’t be a legalist. Legalism is the root of jealousy. And jealousy is the root of ingratitude. And ingratitude is the root of self-pity. And self-pity is the root of bitterness and envy. Thank God for what He does for you. Don’t drive a bargain with God. Now, we’re going to be much happier in this life if we take our eyes off of our brothers and sisters and put our eyes on the Lord Jesus Christ and be grateful for what He does.

You know, a lot of us have the elder brother syndrome, the legalist syndrome. I’ve pastored churches were people resent newcomers into the church. “These people are taking up all the room! That man is sitting in my seat!” And, they get upset when a newcomer comes in and shares in the blessings like those who’ve been laboring for ten, fifteen, twenty, thirty years in this church. What a pity that is when people feel that way! Some say, “You know, Bellevue is big enough.” Do you know what they’re saying? They’re saying, “I’ve got what I want. The rest can go to hell.” Now, they wouldn’t say it that bluntly. But when you say, “Look, we’re big enough,” you say, “Leave these eleventh hour folks out of the whole deal. These children are ruining the walls with fingerprints,” then we’ll repaint them, friend. Thank God for the children.
What I’m trying to say is this: someone else’s blessing is not your loss. There’s no seniority in the kingdom of heaven. Now, when we get to heaven, not everybody is going to have the same reward. You know, we sing that song, “Just give me a cabin in the corner of Gloryland.” Well, that may be all you’ll get. I’m serious. Jesus said, “Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven.” (Matthew 6:20) Some will have more than others or this verse doesn’t make sense. But how is that treasure laid up in heaven? By loving, free service.

Conclusion
Now, I want to close the message. But what about those of you who are living in the eleventh hour right now, those of you who are saved and you’re in the eleventh hour, you haven’t been serving the Lord? What I want you to do is to say, “Lord, how can I use these last days for you?” Don’t coast into the holy city. Finish the line; cross the line with your heart blazing, the torch held high for the Lord Jesus Christ.

Now, maybe you’re not even saved, and it’s the eleventh hour for you. And you’re saying, “You know, I’ve lived this way. I guess I’ll just have to die this way and miss heaven.” No, you don’t.

Billy Sunday was a famous evangelist in the twenties, the thirties, of the last century. He was mighty man of God. He was a former major league baseball player, a great athlete. But he was a drunkard, an alcoholic. God saved him, and God transformed him; and God used him as a mighty preacher of the Word of God. When Billy went to a particular city one time, they said, “Billy, there’s a man in this city who used to play baseball with you. We call him the ‘old-timer.’ Billy, why don’t you go by and talk to him about Jesus? If you were to talk to him, perhaps he’d get saved. We’ve talked to him, and it doesn’t seem to do any good.”

So, Billy Sunday went to talk to this man they called the old-timer, and Billy explained the gospel to him and said, “Old-timer, you remember we had a good time playing baseball, and we had a lot of fun. But old-timer, there were some things that I did that were wrong, and Jesus forgave me; and Jesus saved me, and He wants to save you.” And the old-timer said to Billy, “Billy, thank you for coming to see me. We did have some good times together. We were close friends. But I remember that day when you heard that gospel band on the street corner and they preached. I remember, Billy, when you went into the mission there and you gave your heart to Christ. Billy, you went that way, and I went this way. And now, my life is just about over.” Billy Sunday said, “Well, old-timer, God is merciful. It may be the eleventh hour, but come on in; come in and be saved.” The old-timer said, “Nope, it’s too late for me. I made my choice a long time ago.” Billy Sunday pled with the old-timer, but the old-timer shook his head and refused Christ.
Billy said, “In my mind, I saw a picture. The sun was sinking in the west. It was the bottom of the ninth inning. The old-timer was at bat. He had two strikes against him—the bottom of the ninth. The ball came across the plate big and soft. The crowd said, “Swing, old-timer, swing.” And Billy said, “He never even lifted the bat from his shoulder.”

Don’t be like that man. This may be God calling you. You may be one of those eleventh-hour people. Maybe today’s the first time you’ve ever really understood that God will save anybody, any time, any place who will call upon Him. It’s always too soon to quit. It’s never too late to start.
It Pays to Serve Jesus
By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 5, 1995
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 20:1–16

Outline

Introduction

I. Recognize the Justice of God
   A. One Group of Workers Agreed
   B. One Group of Workers Believed

II. Receive the Mercy of God

III. Rejoice in the Grace of God
   A. The Three Dangers of Being a Clock-Watcher
      1. The Danger That You'll Pay Yourself When You Don't Deserve to Be Paid
      2. The Danger That You Won't Pay Yourself When You Ought to Be Paid
      3. The Danger That You'll Begin to Resent Others

Conclusion

Introduction

Matthew chapter 20—the title of our message today: “It Pays to Serve Jesus.”

It pays to serve Jesus, it pays every day,
It pays every step of the way. (Frank C. Huston)

Now sometimes the devil will tell you, “It doesn't pay to serve Jesus. You're wasting your life, and you're spoiling your opportunities.” But, I want to tell you, it does pay to serve Jesus.

One of the former pastors of this church, Dr. Lee, preached a famous sermon that he preached more than 1,000 times, entitled, “Payday, Someday.” And, friend, if you serve Jesus, there’s a payday coming; if you serve Satan, there’s a payday coming. “Payday, Someday.”

I heard about a man who applied for a job. And, he talked to the prospective employer, and he said, “I'd like to have the job. What do you pay?” And, the boss said, “Well, we pay thus-and-such. Do you want the job?” He said, “No.” He said, “I really don’t.” The boss said, “Well, I’ll pay you what you’re worth.” He said, “I just quit a job making more than that.”

So, we worry sometimes and think about what we will be paid. That's what the parable that I have before you deals with—it deals with this factor: that it pays to serve Jesus.

Verse 1: “For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day...” —now, let me just pause right here and say I’m reading from the King James Version. And, a penny a day is really a day’s wages. Don’t equate that with today’s penny. Whatever you might want to put in there—say 100 dollars, if we’re talking about a laborer, perhaps; let’s say 100 dollars—“And when he had agreed with the labourers for [100 dollars] a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the lat unto the first.” That is, “start with the man who came at the eleventh hour, and pay him first.” “And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.” That is, “every person who came, even those who came at the latest hour, received a day’s wages.” “But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen” (Matthew 20:9–16).

Question: Does God give equal pay for equal work? Answer: No. You know, it’s a good thing that God can’t be sued, isn’t it? Can you imagine what the EEOC and Washingtonian lawyers would do? Can you imagine what would happen if God could be sued as an unfair employer? Why, the lawyers would have a field day!

Now here’s the story of a man who needs some workers in the vineyard. So, he goes out in the beginning of the day and contracts with certain workers, and they strike up a bargain; they negotiate. A price is named, and he sends them into his field to work. Then, at nine o’clock, he goes out, and he finds others; and, they’re hired. Then, at twelve o’clock, others come on. And then, at three o’clock, others come on. And then, at five o’clock in the afternoon, the last hour before sunset, the eleventh hour of the day, he gets others; and, they come, and they’re hired.

And, when pay time comes and the paymaster goes into the field to pay them, he begins with the last man, who worked only one hour, and gave him a day’s wages. The others said, “Well, boy! Now let’s see. He got 100 dollars. I worked 12 hours. I’m getting 1,200 dollars. I won’t work for several weeks. I’ll have it made.” He just began to figure backward. But, when he got his pay, he got the same thing this man got that had only worked an hour. Why, they begin to murmur. There was a near riot. They got disgruntled. They began to complain; they began to murmur. They uttered complaints under their breath. “Why,” they said, “I worked 12 hours in the heat of the day. I didn’t get any more than he got. That is not fair!”

Now come up close, and I want to tell you something: God is not fair. Does that shock you? God is not fair. God is just. Learn the difference. God is just. Fairness is something that humans demand. Do you know what fairness implies? That we’re owed something; and, if we don’t get it, then God is not fair. Do you know the only thing we’re owed is judgment? We ought to thank God that we don’t get that. You see, God is not fair; God is just.

There are three attributes of God that we’re going to talk about in this parable: God’s justice, God’s mercy, and what we sang about—God’s grace, God’s amazing grace. Now God is not fair. God is better than fair—God is just. A just God gives us what we deserve. That’s justice—what we deserve. Justice is God giving us what we deserve. I’ve told you this many times: Mercy is God not giving us what we deserve. Amen? We ought to thank God for mercy. Grace is God giving us what we don’t deserve—that is, the free loving gift of God. Now keep that in your mind. God is not fair; but God is just, merciful, and full of grace—not fair. Fairness implies that we’re owed something; and, if we don’t get it, then God is…that we…if somebody else has something, then whatever they have, we deserve the same, or God is not fair. God is just; God is merciful; and God is full of grace.

Justice is God giving us what we deserve. Mercy is God not giving us what we deserve. And, grace is God giving us what we don’t deserve. Now keep that in mind as we look in this parable, and it’ll help you to understand what we’re talking about right here.

Here is a wonderful, wonderful lesson on how it pays to serve Jesus. Now He ends this parable by saying, “Many are called, but few are chosen” (Matthew 20:16). That is, few are choice servants. Would you like to be a choice servant? Would you like to be a chosen one today—one that the Lord calls “choice”? Then pay attention.

Now what we’re talking about here today is not primarily salvation, but service. You don’t work your way to Heaven. Heaven is not a reward for the righteous; it’s a gift for the guilty. You don’t get into Heaven by doing labor and by doing work. He’s talking here about His servants—those who serve the Lord.

I cannot work my soul to save
That work my Lord has done.
But I will work like any slave
For the love of God’s dear Son. (author unknown)

Amen? So, we’re not talking about salvation here; we’re talking about service, and that is the issue.

As a matter of fact, if you really want to get this thing in its setting, go back to chapter 19. And, Simon Peter asked this question, in chapter 19, verse 27: “Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?” (Matthew 19:27). He’s talking about, “What’s it going to be at payday? We have forsaken all, and followed Thee”—they’re already saved—“We’re following You now, Lord Jesus. What is our payday going to be like?” “Payday, Someday.” Does it really pay to serve Jesus? Now in the setting of Peter’s question, Jesus gives this parable about the laborers in the vineyard. Three things I want you to think about, as you think about your payday, okay?

I. Recognize the Justice of God
Number one: You need to recognize the justice of God.

A. One Group of Workers Agreed

Look, if you will again, here in this passage of Scripture. And, you’re going to find out that you see the justice of God in verses 1 and 2: “For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard” (Matthew 20:1–2).

Underscore the word agreed. Williams translates it this way: “When he had contracted...” (Matthew 20:2). That is, there was some negotiation going on here. It wasn’t just a simple thing. There had to be an agreement. You can listen to them, as they negotiate: “We want some workers in the vineyard.” “Well, what does your master pay?” “Well, he’ll pay you so much.” “No, the going rate is thus-and-such.” “Well, I can’t work for that.” “Well, will you work for this?” “Yes.” “All right, we agree.” Do you get the idea? There was an agreement; there was a negotiation. That’s the way justice works. In justice, we are paid what we are due—no more, no less. We receive what we deserve. Now that’s one group of workers that went out—they negotiated; they agreed.
The key is that they agreed.

B. One Group of Workers Believed

But now, look, if you will, in verse 4, at the others who came late into the vineyard: “And [he] said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard,”—and watch this—“and whatsoever is right I will give you” (Matthew 20:4). No agreement—just, “Trust me”; just, “Trust me”; just, “Trust me.” Not a contract—a covenant; just, “Trust me.” “Whatsoever is right I'll do it” (Matthew 20:4).

Look in verse 5: “Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise” (Matthew 20:5). Likewise what? “Whatever is right. Just trust me.” Look, if you will, in verse 7: “They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard;”—watch it—“and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive” (Matthew 20:7). “Just trust me. I'll do what is right.” And, they said, in effect, “All right, we're going to work. We believe that you're a good master; you're a fair man. Whatever is right…”

Now here you have the difference between legalism and grace. Peter was in danger of slipping into legalism. Peter had been saying, “Well now, look, Lord, we've given up an awful lot for You. We've done this, we've done that, for You. What are we going to get?” Remember chapter 19 and verse 27: “Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?” (Matthew 19:27). “Hey, Lord, let’s do a little negotiation here.”

You see, legalism demands what is right. It wants to bargain with God; it wants to agree with God. The legalist wants to demand what is coming to him. Now listen to me carefully. The problem with legalism is not that it doesn’t get what it bargains for; the problem with legalism is that it does. They got what they bargained for. Jesus said of the Pharisees, “They have their reward” (Matthew 6:2; Matthew 6:5; Matthew 6:16). They get exactly what they bargained for.

Now the man who bargained with God may get what he bargains for, but he will cheat himself out of the best. Don’t try to drive a bargain with God. God gives the best to those who leave the choices with Him. You see, those in this parable who bargained came in last, not first. Matthew 19, verse 30—look at it: “But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first” (Matthew 19:30). Matthew 20, verse 16: “So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen” (Matthew 20:16).

You see, this is not equal pay for equal work. God is not interested in your hours; God is interested in your heart. God wants your heart—God wants your heart! Don’t negotiate with God. Just give Him your heart. Serve Him with a free reckless abandonment, and let God deal with you as He will, because God will deal with you as you deal with God. Now if you want to negotiate with God, go ahead. But, you’ll cheat yourself.

Put this verse in the margin—Psalm 18, verses 25 and 26: “With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright; with the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure;”—now, watch this—“and with the froward”—what on earth does the word froward mean? It means with “the vile, the base”—“thou wilt shew thyself froward” (Psalm 18:25–26). Now if you want to treat God like a negotiator—you want to negotiate with God—God says, “Okay, let’s get down and negotiate. That’s the way you want to be. I mean, if you want to live on the basis of grace, then I’ll show you grace. You want to live on the basis of justice, then I will show you justice.” What God wants is service that is joyful, free, spontaneous—that doesn’t negotiate, that doesn’t keep records. God is just—yes, He is. And, justice is where God gives us what we deserve.

You know, the Pharisees were so careful that they would get what they deserved. Jesus was talking to them, in Matthew chapter 23 and verse 23, about their tithing, and He said, “Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin,”—now, these are little mint garden herbs. They’d pick off every tenth leaf and give it to God—“and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith:”—these people were interested in legalism, not in love. And then, Jesus said—“these ought ye to have done,”—“you ought to tithe”—“and not to leave the other undone” (Matthew 23:23).

Now were the Pharisees blessed for their tithing? I want to submit to you that they were blessed. Jesus said, “This ought ye to have done” (Matthew 23:23). But, they were not blessed like they could have been blessed. Let me tell you, if you tithe because it pays, you’re going to miss a blessing. Don’t negotiate with God. Don’t tithe because it pays. Tithe because you love Jesus. Tithe because it’s right. Give because it’s right.

Second Corinthians chapter 9, verse 7: “Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver” (2 Corinthians 9:7). And, if you’ve been around church very long, you know that word cheerful is the word we get our word hilarious from. Are you a hilarious giver? Somebody says, “Well, give till it hurts.” May I give a suggestion to you? Give till it stops hurting—I mean, till you can give with joy. What you don’t joyfully give, God neither needs nor wants. Don’t negotiate with God. Don’t think, somehow, that giving is sort of a slot machine thing—sort of a quid pro quo—you put in, and you get out; you negotiate with God.

Now first of all, recognize the justice of God. If you want to negotiate with God, that’s your business, but I don’t recommend it—I don’t recommend it. I mean, God will deal with you as you deal with God.

II. Receive the Mercy of God

Now here’s the second thing. Recognize the justice of God. Then, receive the mercy of God. Now you cannot receive mercy until you recognize justice. You see, there is a door of mercy.

Now here’s a man who went out and hired these laborers in his vineyard. And then, he went out later into the labor pool, and he hired others. And, he hired some at the last hour of the day. And, what he was doing was… It wasn’t because he needed the laborers. He just saw these men standing there idle. His heart went out to them, and he hired them and paid them more than they were worth. Remember this: It’s always too soon to quit but never too late to start with God.

I’m talking to some of you now who—you’ve never been in the vineyard. I mean, you have never been saved. You don’t know the Lord Jesus Christ as your personal Savior. Most people are saved before they reach the age of 20; the great, great majority are saved before they reach the age of 20. But, I know that, through television and by the crowd that’s here this morning, I’m speaking to many of you who are past the majority of your years. Your salad days are over. Friend, you’re near the dessert. I hope it’ll be dessert. Your salad days are over. But, I want to ask you this question: Have you come into the vineyard? Have you been hired? Are you serving the Lord Jesus Christ? The door of mercy is open for you. You can come in.

I remember reading in the Bible about a man who was dying on a cross next to the Lord Jesus. He’d been a thief. And, he turned to the Lord Jesus—you talk about the eleventh hour—and he said to Him, “Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. And Jesus said unto him…Today shalt thou be with me in paradise” (Luke 23:42–43). Oh, the mercy of God! This man deserved Hell, but he receives mercy. And, he’s going to the same Heaven I’m going to—and I’ve served the Lord Jesus since I was a teenage boy. I came in early; he came in late.

Now this is not encouraging deathbed repentance. But, it is telling you, if you’re on your deathbed, you can repent. It doesn’t encourage you to put it off. Somebody has wisely said that story of the dying thief—it’s a story that’s recorded only once in the Bible: once, that no one may despair; but only once, that no one may presume. Oh, the mercy of God! I’m talking to some of you, and it’s the eleventh hour to you. I mean, you are just getting very, very close. You can come to Jesus.

Now if you came as a youngster like I did… and I’m so glad that I came as a youngster; I’m so glad I came to Jesus in my early teens. Let me tell you why: I’ve never been addicted to cigarettes. I don’t know what dope is like—I don’t want to know. I’ve never been drunk. I went to the marriage altar a virgin. I married a virgin—I’m glad I did. I’m glad I came early in the morning to the vineyard. I’m glad that God, by His infinite grace, has kept me. And so, if you came early, you can thank God that you’ve been saved from much sinning. But oh, if you come late, you can praise God you’ve been forgiven for much sinning. Isn’t that wonderful? He that’s forgiven much loves much (Luke 7:47).

You see, it’s just the door of mercy. After justice is established, then there’s room for mercy. God is not fair; God is merciful. He is just; and then, He is merciful. Do you want mercy today? You’ve lived your life without Him. Others have been in the vineyard. And, you say, “Well, it’s too late for me.” It’s not too late for you.

Some years ago, I was in the city of Jacksonville, Florida, preaching a revival meeting. I was with a brother, friend, named Ernie Harvey. And, Ernie and I were out visiting, and we prayed fervently, one morning, “Lord, lead us to this person that we feel needs You.” And, we prayed, and we got in the car, and, we drove, and drove, and drove, and got all turned around. And, we got into a section of town by the railroad tracks where there was a little, like a one- or two-room shack. We thought maybe that was the house. We went and knocked on the door, and an old man came out—had an unusual name: Mr. Pugh. I’ll never forget it. And, he’s kind of stooped-shouldered, white hair, beard—he came to the door.

And, we said, “Are you Mr. So-and-So?” And, he said, “No, I’m Mr. Pugh.” And, I thought, “Oh, how can this be? We so prayed that God would lead us, and we have been, all morning, looking for this house.” We said, “Well, at any rate, may we talk with you for a few moments?” The old man welcomed us in. We began to tell him about Jesus, and that old man said to me, “It’s interesting that you would come.” He said, “My daddy was a preacher of the gospel.” I said, “Is that right, Mr. Pugh?” I said, “Then you must be a Christian. Tell me about when you were saved.” “Well,” he said, “I’ve never been saved.” He was an old man. I said, “You’ve never been saved?” He said, “No, sir.” I said, “Well, Mr. Pugh, do you intend to die and go to Hell?” He said, “Oh, no.” I said, “Well, Mr. Pugh, you’re not getting any younger. You’re not...”

Here’s an old man. And, I said, “Sir, don’t you think you ought to get saved?” And, I remember going into that little house. The bedroom and the kitchen were in the same room—just a little, almost one-room house. And, we got down by the bed and prayed, and that man prayed and sobbed so loudly he shook that whole little frame house, as he prayed and asked Christ to come into his heart. And, I’ve thought about him so many times. I thought about how God guided us like an arrow right to that house. I know we were guided there. Even our mistake was God’s leading. But, that dear man, like the dying thief, came in the eleventh hour.
And, I want to tell you this morning, if you’re not saved, come—come. If it’s the eleventh hour, come. But, don’t presume, because the sun did set that day. And, when the sun set that day, there were no more laborers in the vineyard. And, a life-setting sun is coming for you. But, if you’re here today—you’re young—come to Jesus. Oh, I’m so glad I came to Christ as a youngster. I’m so glad I had a life to live for the Lord Jesus Christ. And, I wouldn’t take anything for my journey serving the Lord Jesus. I was thinking about it this morning, as I was praying. I said, “O God, You’ve been so good.”

Jim, thank you for that song, “Great is Thy Faithfulness.” I thought about it, as we sang it this morning, and I said, “O God, how great is Your faithfulness!” But, my friend, the God who hires laborers early in the morning is the God who keeps the door open till the eleventh hour. There’s the justice of God. Recognize the justice of God. And then, receive—the mercy of God.

III. Rejoice in the Grace of God
I want to say a third thing: Rejoice in the grace of God. Recognize the justice of God; receive the mercy of God; and then, rejoice in the grace of God. Now remember, justice is God giving us what we deserve. Mercy is God giving us what we don’t deserve—letting us come in at the eleventh hour. But then, grace is God giving us more than we deserve—what we don’t deserve. You see, He paid them all, except for those legalists, what they did not deserve.

You see, Peter had been keeping books on his service. Remember how this whole parable got started? Peter, in Matthew chapter 19, verse 27, says, “What am I going to receive? Here’s what I’ve been doing for You” (Matthew 19:27). See, Peter had been a clock-watcher. You know what a clock-watcher is?

When I was a teenage boy, I used to be a soda jerk in Albritton’s Drugstore on 40th Street and Broadway in West Palm Beach. Mr. Albritton hired me on there, and I’d work behind the soda fountain. Did you know your pastor knows how to fix hamburgers, and sodas—old-fashioned sodas—and cherry cokes, and all? I did all that stuff. I knew how to do all that. And, I’d work back there, and I’d sweep out the drugstore. We didn’t have air conditioning in the drugstore, but we had big folding doors that went across the front there that opened out on Broadway. And, we would close, on a certain night, at 11—stayed open till 11. Well, I was so tired by 11.

And, I remember, one time, it was 11. I had my eye on those big folding doors. I was so anxious to close those doors, so I could get out of there. And, I remember when I watched the clock; and, it was about one minute to 11, and I started folding those doors and putting those things down till those folding doors across the front would be all bolted in and locked. Just when I got it down, a car pulled up at the curb. A man got out, went and knocked on the door like that. He wanted in the drugstore. You know what I said? “Too late—too late. Can’t get in. We’ve already closed. It’s 11 o’clock.”

And then, I turned around, and standing behind me was Mr. Albritton. I’ll never forget it. That man drove off. He said to me, “Son,” he said, “that’s the first time anybody ever wanted to come in this store and buy something, and they weren’t let in.” I felt so bad. You know, I learned there, as a youngster, the difference between the owner and the hireling. You see, I had my eye on the clock; he had his eye on the customer, and on the business.

A. The Three Dangers of Being a Clock-Watcher

Now folks, what we need to learn is to serve the Lord with grace. You see, don’t keep books; don’t be a clock-watcher. If you do that, let me tell you three dangers, and I’ll be finished.

1. The Danger That You’ll Pay Yourself When You Don’t Deserve to Be Paid

First of all, there’s the danger—there’s the danger—that you’ll pay yourself some time when you don’t deserve to be paid. Sometimes when you think you’re really doing something very wonderful, God says it’s wood, hay, and stubble (1 Corinthians 3:12).

2. The Danger That You Won’t Pay Yourself When You Ought to Be Paid

Secondly, there a danger that you won’t pay yourself when you ought to be paid. You know, you might fail to pay yourself.

Matthew 25, verses 34 and following: “Then shall the King say unto them on His right hand, Come, ye blessed of My Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: for I was hungry, and you gave Me food: I was thirsty, and you gave Me something to drink: I was a stranger, and you took Me in: naked, you clothed Me: I was sick, and you visited Me: I was in prison, and you came to Me. Then shall the righteous answer Him, saying, Lord, when did we see You hungry, and feed You? or thirsty, and give You to drink? When did we see You a stranger, and took You in? or naked, and clothed You?”—that is, “Lord, I don’t remember that. I don’t remember that.” And, our Lord said—“Inasmuch as you have done it unto the least of one of these, you’ve done it unto Me” (Matthew 25:34–40).

What’s the idea? We serve the Lord sometimes just unconsciously, just being kind and loving, free—not keeping books. God is the One who is keeping the books. He says, “You can’t even give a cup of cold water in the name of the disciple and lose your reward” (Matthew 10:42).

I got a letter a while back from a man. He wrote me, and he said, “It’s long overdue that I thank you.” And, I said, “What for?” Brother Jim, he was down at Merritt Island. He said, “You…” Or, he had been at Merritt Island when we were down there. He said,
“One day,” he said, “I was a beach bum, a surfer, going along the road.” He said, “You stopped your car, picked me up, put me in the car, talked to me about Jesus, and sent me on my way.” He said, “I didn’t get saved, when you talked to me, but,” he said, “I never forgot what you said to me.” And, he said, “God has saved me, and God has called me to preach.” And, he said, “I’m pastoring a church,” and he told me about his church. He said, “Mister, I just want to thank you for being faithful.” And, the thing about it is, I don’t even remember. I wouldn’t have remembered it at all, except he wrote me the letter. “When saw we Thee hungry, and fed Thee? When did we see You thirsty? I don’t remember that” (Matthew 25:37).

3. The Danger That You’ll Begin to Resent Others

Sometimes you’ll pay yourself when you ought not to pay yourself, and sometimes you won’t believe that you deserve pay. You do. And, I’ll tell you something else: If you keep books—if you keep books—you’ll begin to resent other people, because you say, “It’s not fair that he has more than I have.”

That’s what the people in this parable said. They said, “God is not fair. Others have more than I have.” You see, when you look for fairness, you’re never satisfied, when you get what you get. You’re only angry you didn’t get it sooner, and more angry if somebody else gets more. Isn’t that true? But, when you see that God is just, merciful, and full of grace, then, if somebody else is blessed, their blessing is not your failure. You don’t have to become like the elder brother, who so resented the prodigal son coming home he wouldn’t even come in the house. The best sermon title I ever heard for him is this: “This Little Prig Stayed Home”—the prodigal elder brother who so resented the prodigal son.

Conclusion

Friend,

It pays to serve Jesus, it pays every day,
It pays every step of the way. (Frank C. Huston)

You know, many years ago, there was a man named Mr. Stead. He married a woman named Louisa. Mr. Stead lived in New York City, had a little daughter named Lily. Mr. Stead took Louisa and Lily to the beach. From New York they went to the beach. They were going to have a picnic. They were going to swim and build sandcastles. Mrs. Stead stayed up there to fix the picnic lunch. Mr. Stead and Lily went down the beach to build a sandcastle. When they were down there, there was a boy out in the water who was in difficulty, a teenage boy, and he began to scream for help. Mr. Stead was not a good swimmer, but he couldn’t let that boy drown. So, he made his way out into the water to try to save him. But, you know that sometimes a drowning person will panic and drown the person who tries to save him. And, both Mr. Stead and that teenage boy drowned and left Louisa Stead and little Lily by themselves to survive. They just tried to eke out a living.

One day, they were down to nothing. One night, Mrs. Stead said to Lily, “Lily, if God doesn’t give us something to eat, we’ll not have any breakfast in the morning.” And then, she looked down at Lily, and Lily had little ragged shoes on. And, she said, “And Lily, sweetheart, you need some shoes. We’re going to pray and ask God to give us groceries and some money to buy you some shoes.” And, they bowed their head, and prayed, and went to bed that night. The next morning, when Mrs. Stead woke up and got ready to open the front door, she pushed the front door. It opened with difficulty, and there was a scraping sound. She pushed it open; and, on the other side of the door, that had been holding the door shut, was a big box of groceries and an envelope with enough money to buy Lily some shoes. Mrs. Stead took those groceries and put them on her kitchen table.

And, after breakfast, she sat down, and she wrote these words:

’Tis so sweet to trust in Jesus,
And to take Him at His Word;
Just to rest upon His promise,
And to know, ‘Thus says the Lord!’

Jesus, Jesus, how to trust Him!
How I’ve proved Him o’er and o’er
Jesus, Jesus, precious Jesus!
O for grace to trust Him more!

They had their breakfast. After breakfast, they went downtown and bought some new shoes for Lily. And, Mrs. Stead came back, and sat down, and wrote these words:

I’m so glad I learned to trust Thee,
Precious Jesus, Savior, Friend;
And I know that Thou art with me,
Wilt be with me to the end. (Louisa M. R. Stead)

And, that’s how we got that song, “’Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus.”

You look at your pastor, and let me tell you something: Don’t bargain with God. Trust Him! And, whatever is right, He’ll do it, because it pays to serve Jesus.

Bow your heads in prayer. And oh, if you’re a teenager—you’ve not yet given your heart to Jesus—come early in the day. Don’t bargain with Him, but get in the vineyard, get in the field, and serve the Lord Jesus. And, if it’s late in the day for you—you’ve been standing idle; you haven’t been in the vineyard—the door is open. Maybe it’s high noon for you. Maybe you’re strong and virile, but you’ve been busy about other things. You need to get in the vineyard.

Justice means that, when we die, we’ll have to pay for our sin. We’ll die and go to Hell. But, mercy is that we don’t have to pay for our sins. And, grace is that God makes us perfectly righteous, when we put our faith in Jesus.

Would you pray a prayer like this, if you’re not saved: “Dear God…”—that’s right, just speak to Him—“Dear God, I know that You love me. I know that You want to save me. Lord Jesus, I want to be saved. I need to be saved. Come into my heart; forgive my sin; and save me today. In Your holy name I pray. Amen”?

Now look up here. If you prayed that prayer—if you prayed that prayer—in a moment, I want you to do something very wonderful. I want to say a word to those of you who are watching by television: If you’re watching today by television, there’s a number on the screen. If you’ll call that number, there’s somebody standing by who will pray with you, as you receive Jesus today. You don’t even have to give your name. I’m not asking you to buy anything or join anything. If you want to be saved, just call the number on the screen. A friend is standing by, right this moment.

And, in this building, in just a moment, there’ll be some friends standing at the head of each of these aisles. And, when we stand and sing an invitational hymn—and, by the way, up in that balcony, in the aisle-way around the balcony, there’ll be ministers standing around there—and when we begin to sing, whether it’s early in the day for you or late in the day for you, I want you to come.

I want you to know it’s late in God’s day, and the sun is about to set. Christ is about to come. You need to get in the vineyard. You need to be saved. Oh, you need to thank God for His amazing grace and say, “Lord, I just want to trust You to save me.” As soon as we begin to sing, I want you to leave your seat, and come forward, and tell the minister, “I’m trusting Jesus.”

Others of you who are saved and don’t have a church home, remember God’s plan for you is to serve in the vineyard, not to sit idle. You need to come and say, “I want to place my membership here and go to work for the Lord Jesus.”

So, if you want to be saved, if you trust in Christ, come and tell the minister that you’re trusting Christ. And, if you are saved and need a church home, come and tell him, “I want to place my membership here.” Let’s stand together, as we sing. You step out and come.
When God Cleans House

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: May 6, 2001

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 21:12–13

“And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychargers, and the seats of them that sold doves.”

Matthew 21:12

Outline

Introduction

A. A Primary House
B. A Pattern House
C. A Perfect House
D. A Permanent House

I. The Profaning of the Temple
II. The Purging of the Temple
A. A Whip of Chastisement
B. A Work of Confusion
III. The Purpose of the Temple
A. It Is a Place of Prayer
B. It Is a Place of Power
C. It Is a Place of Praise

Conclusion

Introduction

Would you take God’s Word and turn to Matthew chapter 21? And then, look up here, and let me ask you a question: Where does God live? I mean, if you wanted to write God a letter, do you have the address? Do you know the zip code? The truth of the matter is that God has been living in a series of different houses.

A. A Primary House

God’s first dwelling place was a man named Adam. That was God’s primary house. And, God lived in Adam. Adam was designed to be a God container, a house, a temple of God. And, God made Adam, and God dwelt in Adam. But then, Adam sinned, and God moved out of Adam, because we learn something about God: God will not live in a dirty house. And, the house was designed, and then the house was desecrated; and then, the house was desolated, and then the house was destroyed. God said, “In the day that [you eat], [you’ll] surely die.” (Genesis 2:17) So, God moved out of Adam.

B. A Pattern House
The second house that God moved into was not a primary house, but God moved into the temple, and that was a pattern house. The temple, called the “house of God,” where God dwelt in the holy place—and when I’m saying “temple,” I also include the tabernacle, because both were basically the same—the temple was just a more substantial tabernacle. And, the tabernacle was a temple in a tent, but both the same thing: a house of three rooms. Like Adam was a house of three rooms—body, soul, and spirit—the temple was a house of three rooms: the outer room, the outer court represented the body; the inner court represented the soul; and the innermost place, the Holy of Holies, represented the spirit. And, the temple was a pattern. It was just a great object lesson.

But, God lived there. He lived in that temple, in the Holy of Holies. God’s presence was there. Between the cherubim was the Shekinah glory of God. But again, this temple was sullied. It was dirty. It became a den of thieves, and God moved out of it. And, Jesus said, “Your house is left unto you desolate.” (Matthew 23:38) No longer was it God’s house. “Now,” He said, “it’s your house.” They went on with their religious ceremony, but it wasn’t God’s house; it was their house. They were having religion, but they didn’t have reality. It was a house designed. God said, “See thou make it according to the pattern.” (Exodus 25:9, Hebrews 5:8) It was a house desecrated. It became a den of thieves. It was a house desolated. “Your house is left unto you desolate.” (Matthew 23:38) And, it was a house destroyed. Jesus said, “Not one stone will be left upon another.” (Matthew 24:2; Mark 13:2; Luke 19:44; Luke 21:6) And so, God moved out.

C. A Perfect House
Now, God had a third house that He lived in—not a primary house, and not a pattern house, but a perfect house. That perfect house that God lived in was Jesus. Did you know Jesus was a house of God? He called Himself there, in the Gospel of John, a temple. And, He threw this challenge out to them in John, the second chapter: He said, “Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.” (John 2:19) He was talking about the temple of His body.

He was a perfect house. He was a house designed: “A body thou hast [given] me.” (Hebrews 10:5) He was a house. He was a house desecrated. You say, “No, not Jesus.” Yes, He was. This perfect house became desecrated. How did it become desecrated? He took my sin and your sin, and “He who knew no sin God hath made to be sin for us.” (2 Corinthians 5:21) And, that perfect house became desecrated. And then, when that perfect house became desecrated, that house became desolated. God moved out, and He had to cry, “My God, my God, why hath thou forsaken me?”
(Matthew 27:46; Mark 15:34) I’ll tell you why: God can’t live in a dirty house. And, Jesus was bearing our sin. And God, who cannot bear to look upon iniquity, moved out. And then, a house destroyed—Jesus knew that His body would be destroyed. That’s the reason He said, “Destroy this temple, and in three days [I’ll] raise it up.” (John 2:19) He was talking about the temple of His body. You see, there’s a pattern: a house designed, a house desecrated, a house desolated, and a house destroyed. And, God moved from a primary house to a pattern house to a perfect house.

D. A Permanent House

But now, there’s a permanent house that God lives in. And, where is God living? God has moved in not to move out any more. What is God’s permanent house? Well, you’re looking at it. Me. You. Go look in the mirror. First Corinthians chapter 6, verse 19: “What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God”—you’re the temple of the Spirit of God—“which [you] have of God, and [you’re] not your own? [You’re] bought with a price.” (1 Corinthians 6:19–20) God lives in you. And, He’s not going to move out again. Jesus said the Holy Spirit will come to “abide with you for ever.” (John 14:16) God has settled down. He’s stopped moving. He lives in us. Now, that’s a phenomenal thought—to think that God lives in us and He will not move out again.

In the Old Testament, God had a temple for His people; in the New Testament, He has a people for His temple. God lives in us. Paul told the Corinthians, “[You] are the temple of God.” (1 Corinthians 3:16) And again, 1 Corinthians chapter 6, verse 19: “What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost…which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price.” (1 Corinthians 6:19–20) So, you are a temple, and you need to understand this.

“Well,” you say, “if God won’t live in a dirty house, and I have sin in my heart and in my life, what does God do if He doesn’t move out? If He’s moved in to stay, what does He do?” I’ll tell you what He does. He doesn’t move out. He cleans house.

Now, what I want to talk to you about tonight is “When God Cleans House.” What does God do if you sully or desecrate the temple in which you live? Look in Matthew chapter 21, and let’s begin reading in verse 12: “And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.” (Matthew 21:12–13) And then, go, if you will—fast-forward to John, the second chapter, and read the parallel passage in John chapter 2, verse 13: “And the Jews’ passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: and when he had made a scourge”—that means, boy and girls, a whip—“of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables; and said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father’s house an house of merchandise.” (John 2:13–16) And, here our Lord cleansed the temple. Now, there are some great lessons there for us because it typifies what God is going to do to those of us who get sin in our hearts and in our lives.

Now, I want you to think about this subject tonight: “When God Cleans House.” When I, as a temple of God, let my temple, my body, become sullied, when things happen that steal away the glory from God, what will the Lord Jesus Christ do? Well, let’s look, first of all. Let me give you some points, and they won’t be on the image magnification, but write them down.

I. The Profaning of the Temple
First of all, go back to Matthew 21, and look at what I want to call, in verse 12, “the profaning of the temple”: “And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves.” (Matthew 21:12) Now, you say, “Pastor Rogers, does that mean that we ought not to buy our meal on Wednesday night? Does that mean that we ought not to have a bookstore in our church?” No, that isn’t what this refers to at all. By the way, this building is not the temple. This is a big sheep shed. Now, I’m grateful for it. This is not the temple. This is the temple—I am a temple;; you are a temple.

You know, it’s an amazing thing that there were people who will do things out there that they wouldn’t do in here. For example, a man may light up a cigarette out there; he wouldn’t light up one in here. I say, “Well, why wouldn’t you smoke in here?” He said, “Well, man, this is God’s house. I wouldn’t want to profane it.” You got it wrong. You are God’s house. There are people who will use language out there that they wouldn’t use in here. Well, why? If you’re going to desecrate anything, it would be far better to desecrate this pile of bricks than it would be this temple of God. Do you see what I’m saying? “[You] are the temple of God.” (1 Corinthians 3:16) Now, He’s not talking here about having a bookstore, or selling meal tickets, or something like that. This building is not the house of God in the classic sense. You are the temple of God—1 Corinthians chapter 6 and verse 19. And, we are a temple.

Now, what did the temple exist for? Well, the temple existed to give God the glory: “Therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit.” (1 Corinthians 6:20) There was a literal temple here. They were stealing away the glory that belonged to the Lord, and they were merchandising. The very coins had the image of Caesar on them. They were rendering unto Caesar the things that belonged to God.
Now, what is a carnal Christian? A carnal Christian is somebody who has made his temple a den of thieves. A carnal Christian is somebody—you, madam; you, sir; you, teen, whoever you may be—that has allowed your temple to become a den of thieves. What is a thief? A thief is somebody who steals away that which belongs to God. Now, you are created to give God glory. Anything in your heart and in your life that steals away the glory that is due to the Lord Jesus Christ makes your body a den of thieves. So, the temple can be profaned—verse 12.

II. The Purging of the Temple
But, not only is there the profaning of the temple; there’s the purging of the temple. Now, our Lord here cleansed the temple. And, just put your bookmark there and go back, or go forward, to John again, because this passage in John is even more explicit. John chapter 2, and let me show you how the Lord Jesus purged the temple. Look, if you will, in verse 15: “And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables.” (John 2:15)

Now, here’s what God did. He had two methods. Here’s what the Lord Jesus Christ did to purge the temple. And, all of this just an object lesson that we can understand here in our own lives.

A. A Whip of Chastisement
First of all, there was a whip. It was a whip of chastisement. He took cords and made a whip. Now, you think of the meek and mild Jesus. Jesus was meek and mild, but He was not weak and pale. Jesus was a man, a very robust man. He was the kind of a man who could fast for forty days and forty nights, eat with wild beasts. He was the kind of a man who could walk over those rugged hills in Galilee. He was the kind of a man that set His face like a flint, was not afraid of danger. I see Jesus as a perfect specimen, a rugged, muscular man. He didn’t look effeminate. He didn’t look like He just came out of a beauty parlor somewhere. He was a manly man. And, I can see Christ, in my imagination, with His whip in His hand. It’s what I want to call the “whip of chastisement.”

Now, with that in mind, I want you to go to Hebrews chapter 12 and look with me for just a moment, and I want you to see how God cleanses the temple. He’s not going to move out, but look, if you will now, and think of the whip in Jesus’ hands. And, go to Hebrews chapter 12, and look in verse 6: “For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth”—now, here is a picture of the Lord again with a scourge in His hand. He “scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.” (Hebrews 12:6) And—“If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sonsy for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all”—that is, all true sons—“are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons. Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live? For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure”—well, that doesn’t mean they enjoyed it. It means “after their own will, what they decided to do”—“but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness. Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous; nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby. Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees; and make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather let it be healed. Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.” (Hebrews 12:6–14) Now, I’m telling you, God is far more interested in your being holy than He is your being happy.

Now, let’s look at this whip of chastisement—the partakers of it. He says all true sons are chastened. Now, if you’re living in sin; if your so-called temple is a den of thieves; if your body, your life, is not giving glory to God, and God does not bring a whip to you, God does not bring the scourge to you, don’t boast about it. You know what it’s a sign of? You’ve never been saved. If you can live high, wide, and handsome, if you can continue in sin—if you’re living in adultery right now, there’s dishonesty in your life, there’s profanity in your life, pornography in your life, bitterness in your heart, resentment, pride, cantankerousness—and you can go on day after day after day, and God doesn’t chastise you, do you know what it means? You’re lost and on the road to hell. The Bible says, “Every son that God receives, He chastens. If you’re without chastisement, whereof all true sons are partakers, then are ye bastards and not sons.” (Hebrews 12:6,8) Now, that’s a word that we think is a gutter word, or an unclean word, but not in the way God’s Word is using it here. That means you were born out of wedlock. You’re not God’s true son. God did not sire you. God did not father you. God said, “You’re not my son. If you were my son, I would have chastened you. And, if you’re not chastened, it’s just simply a sign that I never sired you; I never fathered you.”

I’m telling you that you are to glorify God in your body and in your spirits. “Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost…which [you] have of God.” (1 Corinthians 6:19) Now, if you make your body a den of thieves—that is, if you allow things in your heart and in your life that steal away the glory from God—then God promises He’s going to chastise you.

Now, God’s put the whip on me many times. I believe He has you. And, we never have said, “Oh, wonderful! Praise God! Hallelujah! I’m getting a whipping!”

❖ My dad used to whip me, and I think most of us had fathers who, because they loved us, would chasten us. And, we didn’t have a woodshed, but we did have a pump house; and it was about the same thing. And, my dad was an expert at this thing. He’d get me by with his left hand around my left wrist. And, he could take off his belt in one movement, just like that. And, I’ve often thought, you know, my dad would have been put in prison for ten thousand years for child abuse if he lived today, but I could see the fire in his eye. He was a man of great patience, but there was a time when I crossed the line. And, I never really complained about getting whipped—that is, that it was unjust. He never knew half of it that I should have been whipped for, and so I still figured, you know, at the bottom line I was ahead of the game. But, as I’ve told you before, my dad used to say, “You know, I do this, Adrian, because I love you.” Well, I thought, “You know, I surely am his favorite. He loves me a whole lot more than he loves my brother.”

And, I learned something about that also—that when you’re being whipped, there’s a certain physics. You need to learn physics. Kids ought to be taught physics early in school. And, you learn the law of centrifugal force. And, you know, if your dad gets you by the left arm, and he has his right hand applying that belt, and you’re out there on the end catching the end of it, man, that’s where it stings. The thing to do, guys and gals, is get in as close as you can. Get in, and get him around the knees, and say, “Daddy, I love you! I love you! I love you! I love you!” It’s much harder. You get way out there on the end, you’re going to catch it. And really, is that not what chastisement is for—is just to bring us in close to the Lord? And, if you are being chastened, in all seriousness, just come to the Lord, and love Him. Say, “O God, I love you! I love you!” “Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: [but] afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them that are exercised thereby.” (Hebrews 12:11)

Now, I know that we have a lot of eggheads today who’ve got pudding between the ears that tell us that, you know, we ought never to have any corporal punishment. They’re not smarter than God. Of course, no one should abuse a child; no one should give a child physical damage. But, God knows exactly what we ought to do—that the rod of correction brings wisdom, and so forth. And, God does that for us. Do you think that God doesn’t love us? “Whom the Lord [loves] he [chastens]”—He loves us—“and scourgeth every son whom he [receives].” (Hebrews 12:6) So, don’t get the idea that Jesus was in a fit of rage when He did this. He was moved with anger, but it wasn’t rage and it wasn’t vindictiveness; it was righteous indignation. And, here’s the God of love with a whip of chastisement. That’s the first thing He did to cleanse the temple: a whip of chastisement.

B. A Work of Confusion

But, here’s a second thing: there was a work of confusion. Now, God is a God of love, but He used a whip. “Whom the [Father loves] he [chastens].” (Hebrews 12:6) And, God is a God of order. As a matter of fact, He said, “Let [everything] be done decently and in order.” (1 Corinthians 14:40) But, can you imagine what it must have been like that day in the temple when the Lord Jesus there begins to turn over the tables? I mean, the coins are running all over the temple floor. Can you imagine what it is when He’s loosing the animals, and letting the birds go, and driving everything out of the temple? Can you imagine? It was terrible. There’s chaos everywhere—animals running here and there, birds flying, coins going, people running from the whip. I mean, this is the temple; this is their holy house, and Jesus is bringing confusion.

Do you know He’ll do that to you? Sometimes we wonder, “Why is all this confusion in my life? I had everything so well planned.” And, God brings confusion. He upsets your plans. Nothing seems to make sense. He turns your tables over, and you say, “Why isn’t it working out?” Well, there could be a number of reasons, but one of them just may be that you’ve made your temple a den of thieves. And, He has two great ways to cleanse the temple: a whip of chastisement and a work of confusion.

Now, I want to say this: that Jesus never would have entered a pagan temple to do what He did. He wouldn’t have done that. He would never have entered the temple of Zeus or Bacchus or Aphrodite. He went into the temple of God to do this. And, you see, “whom the [Father loves] he [chastens].” (Hebrews 12:6) That’s the reason I want to say that if you’re living in sin, and you’re failing to give Him glory, and God doesn’t turn the tables over, and God doesn’t use the whip, you might just go back and ask yourself, “Have I ever been saved to begin with?”

III. The Purpose of the Temple

Now, I’ve talked to you about the profaning of the temple. I’ve talked to you about the purging of the temple. Let’s just go back to our passage where we started in Matthew 21, and I want you to think with me a little bit about the purpose of the temple. Why would our Lord do this? What is the purpose of the temple? Let me tell you what the purpose of the temple is. Why are you a temple of God? Now remember, this Old Testament temple was only a classic object lesson. God is trying to teach us something about the true temple, which temple we are. What is the purpose of the temple?

A. It Is a Place of Prayer

Number one: It is to be a place of prayer. Look in verse 13: “And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.” (Matthew 21:13) Now again, don’t think of this building as the place of prayer. Yes, we can pray here, but you are the temple. You are the place of prayer. Out of your life, out of my life, daily the sweet incense of prayer ought to be rising up. That’s the reason the Apostle Paul said in 1 Thessalonians chapter 5, verse 17 we are to “pray without ceasing.” (1 Thessalonians 5:17) You see, in the temple there was an altar of incense, and the priests were to keep that incense burning continually. And, that sweet smoke was just rising up into the nostrils of God. That’s only an illustration of my life and your life. I’m to be praying without ceasing. Now, that’s doesn’t mean I’m to be moving my mouth and making noise all the time, but it means that always out of my heart praise and prayer is to be rising to God. You say, “How can you do that, Adrian, if you’re trying to work out a mathematical problem, or you’re doing something that’s intricate that involves all of your attention, or when you’re asleep?” No, there’s an attitude of prayer. Right now while I’m speaking to you, my heart is praying—right now.

Let me give you an illustration. Perhaps there is a mother who has a sick child, and she’s been up with that child for two or three nights. The child has been feverish and sick. And finally, the child goes to sleep, and this mother says, “I must get some sleep.” So, she lies down to go to sleep, and she’s so tired horns can blare outside—it won’t wake her up. There can be noise on television, and it won’t wake her up. Somebody can slam a door—it will not wake her up. But, one whimper out of that child—she’s awake. You know why? Even when she’s asleep, she’s attuned to the needs of that child. And, that’s very much like what it’s like to pray without ceasing. Your heart is to be in constant communion with the Lord.

Does that seem weird to you, or strange? Then you explain what Paul meant when he said in 1 Thessalonians 5:17: “Pray without ceasing.” (1 Thessalonians 5:17) Now, it doesn’t mean that you’re verbally rattling off prayers, but you stay in communion with God. Your temple is to be a house of prayer. It is a place of prayer. Now, you say, “Well, you’re not supposed to pray about everything.” Oh well, then, why did Paul say in Philippians 4, verse 6: “In every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God”? (Philippians 4:6) Don’t make the mistake of dividing your life up into the secular and the sacred.

By the way, a good test of whether or not you ought to do anything is, can you pray about it? That’s it. Can you pray about it? Can you ask God to help you do it? Now, if you’re going to a film, you say, “Now Lord, I want you to go in this film with me. I want you to really bless me as I go see this film.” You say, “Oh man, I couldn’t ask Him to do that.” Well then, don’t go. You want to smoke a cigarette? You say, “Now Lord, I’m smoking this cigarette to your glory. Help me smoke this cigarette”; you feel silly. “You see, I’m reading this porno magazine, Lord. Help me to do it”—no, you feel silly. Friend, anything that you cannot pray about and ask God to enable you and help you to do, it is wrong. Does that make sense to you? You see, “whatever you do in word or deed, do all to the glory of God.” (Colossians 3:17) Why do we pray? We don’t divide life up into the secular and the sacred and say, “Now, that’s a God thing; I’ll pray about it. This is something else; I won’t pray about it.” No. “In every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.” (Philippians 4:6)

B. It Is a Place of Power
What is the purpose of the temple? Number one: It is a place of prayer. Your body is to be a temple of God, and it is to be a house of prayer. But, not only is it a place of prayer; it’s a place of power. Notice, if you will, in verse 14: “And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.” (Matthew 21:14) He healed them. There were those who were blinded by Satan and those broken by sin, and He healed them. Well, you say, “Adrian, does that mean, therefore, that I am to be healing the blind and straightening lame limbs?” Not in the physical sense. Jesus said, “Greater works than these that I do shall ye do.” (John 14:12) Now, all of the miracles of glory were only illustrations of the miracles of grace. “Greater miracles than these that I do shall ye do.”
(John 14:12)

Well, He raised the dead. What could be a greater miracle than that? Bringing souls to Jesus Christ, opening blind eyes, helping those who have been crippled and maimed by sin to be whole and wholesome spiritually. “Oh,” you say, “that’s just a copout because you can’t open blind eyes.” No, it’s not. Let me tell you something: if I had the kind of healing power that a lot of these fakers claim that they have—and really had it—and let’s say this morning in the morning service we had a person come down here, a paraplegic, hopelessly, from a human viewpoint, crippled—withered limbs, spinal cord severed—and I were to come down there and lay my hand on that person in front of all of you, and everybody knew this man’s condition—it was bona fide that way—and I were to say, “In the name of Jesus be healed,” and he stood up here whole, you know what would happen? You couldn’t put people in here tonight with a shoehorn. That’s right. They’d be here. I mean, because they might not be all that interested in having their sins forgiven, but boy, they sure would be interested in having their bodies healed, wouldn’t they? They would be interested in some sort of a ministry that would make them whole. There were crowds that followed Jesus for that.

Now, Jesus did not come primarily as a healer. If Jesus had come primarily as a healer, you tell me why, in the Gospel of John, when He went to the man at the Pool of Bethesda, and He healed him, why didn’t He heal everybody? Why not? Why didn’t He just heal everybody? He didn’t come as a healer. All of those miracles that Jesus did were prophecies of the greater miracles, where Jesus said, “Greater miracles than these that I do shall ye do, because I go to my Father.” (John 14:12)

Now, the Holy Spirit is going to come. I’m telling you something. If, in the same service that this man in the wheelchair is healed, a little eight-year-old boy comes—like I think I saw one this morning who may have been eight—gives his heart to Jesus, who pays any attention to that? That’s not going to make the newspapers. I want to tell you something: It takes more of the power of God to save an eight-year-old boy than it does to raise a paraplegic from a wheelchair. Now, you may not believe that, but friend, when God made this world, when He spoke worlds, universes, into existence, He just spoke, and it was so. He spoke, and universes dripped from His fingers. He just spoke it all into existence, no difficulty. But, in order for Him to save that eight-year-old boy, He had to die in agony and blood upon the cross. The only time God ever had difficulty, any pain, was Calvary. And so, I’m saying that the miracles of grace are greater than the miracles of glory. All of those miracles in the temple so long ago, they only prophesied and portended the greater miracles.

What is the purpose of the temple? It is to be a place of prayer, a house of prayer, and it’s to be a place of power. Is there power in your life? I mean, if God is at home in me, there ought to be power in my life. What is there about Adrian, or what is there about Joe that cannot be explained? The only part of us that cannot be explained is the only part we have any right to ask anybody to believe in. What’s the difference between you and the man that lives next door to you if there’s not something supernatural in your life?

C. It Is a Place of Praise

The temple is a place of prayer. The temple is a place of power. And thirdly, it’s a place of praise. Look, if you will, in verses 15 and 16: “And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?” (Matthew 21:15–16) It was a place of praise. You see, when Jesus Christ is alive in the temple (you), it’s going to be very obvious. And, when Jesus Christ is alive in you and God is working through you, there will be praise—not praise to you; there will be praise to Him. My life, if I’m a temple, if God lives in me, if He inhabits my humanity, then three things ought to be true about the man standing here, God’s permanent home: it ought to be a place of prayer, a place of power, and a place of praise.

Conclusion

†Last week, I was in Texas, and I saw The Houston Chronicle. On the front page of The Houston Chronicle was an unusual article. There was a color picture, and it showed a woman—a full-grown woman—and it was strange-looking picture. She had her ear on a man’s chest—up near his chest. It was on the front page of the paper. The man was not her husband, nor was he her son, nor was he related to her in any way, and yet she had her ear on his chest, and I’ll tell you why: the man that she had her ear up to his chest was a man who’d received a heart transplant, and the heart transplant that he had received was the heart of this woman’s son. And, she was listening to the heartbeat of her own son. And, when I saw that, I thought, “O my God, could you put your ear to my chest and hear the heartbeat of your Son?”

That’s what I want. You see, salvation is not getting man out of earth into heaven; it is getting God out of heaven into man. And, we become a temple of God. And, as He inhabits our humanity, He displays His deity.

There’s the profaning of the temple. We make it a den of thieves. How? By failing to give Him glory. There’s the purging of the temple. There is the whip of chastisement and the work of confusion. God doesn’t do that because He doesn’t love us but because He does. There’s the purpose of the temple: prayer, power, praise, when God is alive in us.

Now, do you see yourself as a temple of God? Do you? Well, I’m going to tell you something: if you’re truly saved, God has moved into you, never to move out again. But, I’ll tell you this much: He may not move out, but He will clean house. You believe that? “Whom the [Father loves] he [chastens], and [scourges] every son whom he [receives].” (Hebrews 12:6) Now, God does not willingly afflict, and God is not in the purpose of capricious chastisement. God loves you too much for that.
When God Cleans House

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: September 19, 2004
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 21:12–16

Outline

Introduction
I. The Profaning of the Temple
   A. A Whip of Chastisement
   B. A Work of Disruption
II. The Purging of the Temple
III. The Purpose of the Temple
   A. It Is to Be a Place of Prayer
   B. It Is to Be a Place of Power
   C. It Is to Be a Place of Praise
Conclusion

Introduction

Well, take God’s holy Word, and turn, if you will, please, to Matthew chapter 21, and in a few moments we’re going to begin to read from verse 12. Now, when you got saved, God came into you to live in you. You had become a temple of the living God. Where is God’s house? Is this God’s house? The Bible says God does not dwell in houses made with hands (Acts 7:48; Acts 17:24). You are God’s house. He lives in you. You are a temple of Almighty God. The Old Testament Temple was only a prophecy, only a pattern, for the believer. All of these things have a spiritual lesson that go far beyond simply Jewish ritual. Now, in the Old Testament—listen—in the Old Testament, God had a temple for His people; in the New Testament, God has His people for a temple. Say right now to yourself, “I am a temple of God.” Has that ever really entered your heart and mind?

You know what most people think getting saved is? They think that getting saved is going to Heaven. Well, that’s not getting saved. That’s the result of being saved. Salvation is not getting man out of Earth into Heaven; it is getting God out of Heaven into man. Do you understand that? When you get saved, God moves into you. You become a holy temple of God. Now, if you are a temple of God, are you a fit temple? I mean, can God be pleased to dwell in you?

Some college students had for their team mascot a goat. They didn’t have anywhere to keep the goat. And, some of the college boys said, “Well, he can stay in our room in the dwell in you forever. But, I'll tell you, while God might not move out, I'll tell you what God will do. God will clean house. You're that house, and God will do a work on you, a cleansing work, if you're truly His.

Now, look, if you will, in Matthew, chapter 21, verse 12: “And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves. And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David; they were sore”—very—“displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?” (Matthew 21:12–16).

God will not move out, but God will clean house. Three basic thoughts I want to lay on your heart today.

I. The Profaning of the Temple
First of all, the profaning of the temple. Look, if you will again, in verse 12: “And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves” (Matthew 21:12). What had happened to this glorious, wonderful temple in the Old Testament, which is a type, a prophecy, of the New Testament, was they had made it a den of thieves.

Now, He’s speaking to the moneychangers. The moneychangers were very clever and very dishonest. People would come to the Temple to worship God and to make a financial offering, but they had this Roman money, and they could not use this Roman money in the Temple. They had to use the kind of money that they worshiped God with in the Temple. So, when they came to the Temple, they had to go to the moneychanger, and he would change the Roman coins for Temple coins. So far, so good. But, here’s the way it worked. When they charged for selling, for making this transaction, they did not give an even transaction. It was not, as you would say, dollar for dollar, but it was $1.15, or whatever, for a dollar. And then, when the people would take this money into the church treasury, or into the Temple treasury, and leave it there, they would take it back out and sell it to somebody else, and all the time just raking off the profit. Pretty good deal, wasn’t it? I mean, for them it was a lousy, wicked thing that they were doing. They were stealing from the people. They had made the house of God a den of thieves. They profaned the Temple.

Now, what does the Temple exist for? The Temple exists for one purpose. Why are you here? Why are you saved? What is God’s plan for you? One purpose—and this is to glorify God. Now, put in your margin 1 Corinthians chapter 6, verse 19: “What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God.”—now, listen to this—“and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price:”—now, listen carefully—“therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Corinthians 6:19–20). Now, you don’t belong to you. Jesus suffered, bled, and died upon that cross for you.

When I saw the film The Passion, it broke my heart. And, while I had preached on the crucifixion of the Lord Jesus Christ many times, to see that graphically portrayed on the screen moved me deeply. And, the one thought that I had was this—not one thought, one thought among many, but perhaps the prime thought: “Adrian, are the things you are living for worth Jesus dying for?” Now, why did He buy us with a price? We’re bought with a price: “therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s.”

Now, what were these people doing? They were taking the tribute that belonged to God and they were using it for themselves. They were stealing away the tribute that belongs to God. Now, you’re bought with a price. Don’t you know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit?

Now, may I ask you a personal question? Don’t answer it out loud, but for God’s sake, answer it. Are your body and your spirit glorifying God? Are you truly a temple of God? “Well,” you say, “Pastor Rogers, yes, I glorify God in my spirit. God knows my heart. God knows that I love Him.” But, this scripture says, “Glorify God in your body, and in your spirit.”

Now, you can’t see my spirit. All you know about me you know from my body. “Well,” you say, “I know about you from what you wrote.” My body wrote that. You say, “I know about you from what you think.” No, you can’t tell what I think until my body speaks what I think. Friend, all you know about me—I don’t care what you think you know—the only thing you really know is what you see in my body, what my body expresses.

Now, may I ask you a question? Are you glorifying God in your body? Your body is out where people can see it. What about your eyes? Are your eyes glorifying God? The next time you want to know whether a television program is fit or not, just ask yourself this question: Is what I’m watching to the glory of God? The music that you listen to—ask yourself this question: Is this music glorifying God? Can you thank God for it? Can you say, “Lord, this is for Your glory”? The things that you take into your mouth, whether you be overeating, or using nicotine, or taking some terrible substance into your body, can you do that to glorify God in your body? Those of you who are smoking cigarettes, for example—I don’t want to pick on you, but you need to quit. You say, “I can’t quit.” That’s a lie. You can quit. Now, listen. It would be all right for you to smoke if you could light up and say, “Now, Jesus, this is for Your glory. This is...” You can’t do that.

You see, what you take into your mouth, what you see with your eyes, what you hear with your ears, what you do with your hands... Those of you who’ve been going down to the casino to gamble—and, I hope it’s very few of you—but do you think that God gave you those hands to manipulate a slot machine? Listen. Your feet—do you glorify God with your feet? Where are you going? Are you going to places that a Christian has absolutely no business going to?

Now, what does the Bible say? The Bible says that we sometimes can make our bodies profaned. Here was a temple in the time of Jesus, and what they had done, they had turned the Temple into a den of thieves. You say, “At least, I’m going to Heaven, pastor, because I may not be glorifying God in my body, but I am glorifying God in my spirit.”

One man told another man, “Look, I know I’m not living right. I know my eyes, my ears, my hands, my feet, I know they’re not right, but I am saved. And, remember the thief on the cross. He didn’t do anything for Jesus, and yet he went to Heaven.” The friend rightly said to him, “Sir, there’s a difference between you and the thief on the cross. He was a dying thief. You are a living thief. You are living a life that is stealing the tribute that belongs to Jesus Christ.” I am telling you that God saved you for one purpose, and that is to glorify Him.

Again, listen to the Scripture: “What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost...which ye have of God...?”—now, listen—“You are not your own; you are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s.” Your life is to be a life of perpetual glory to God. And, what is revival? Revival is when the glory of God rises up in us individually and then corporately. That’s the profaning of the temple.

II. The Purging of the Temple
Secondly, I want you to notice the purging of the temple. What did Jesus Christ do in that day? Look in Matthew 21, verse 12: “And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves” (Matthew 21:12). Now, put in your margin John 2, verse 15: “And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables” (John 2:15).

Now, Jesus will not live in a dirty house, but He will clean house. And, let me tell you how He does it.
A. A Whip of Chastisement

First of all, He does it with a whip. Now, you say, “This is the loving Jesus?” Yes. Jesus loves you as you are, but He loves you too much to leave you that way. And so, He takes a whip out. The Book of Hebrews tells us about this. Look, if you will, in Hebrews 12, verses 5 though 8: “And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:’”—listen to this now—“for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth...”—a scourge is a whip. Did your daddy ever carry you to the woodshed? Mine did. Do you know why? He goes on to say that—“whom the [Father] loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons” (Hebrews 12:5–8).

Now, what does that mean? It means that if you make this temple a den of thieves, and Jesus does not take a whip to chastise you, don’t boast about it. It’s a sign that you have never been saved. God will chastise His own. God will chastise you. Who are the partakers of it? Why, He says, “Look. All are partakers,” talking about all Christians. What is the promise of it? He says in verse 8 that it is going to come to you. And, if you don’t have it, if God doesn’t take a whip to cleanse your temple when you’re living in sin, you don’t belong to God. Now, you may sit in church. You may applaud the music. You may hear the sermon. But, God said, “I never fathered you. I never sired you. You have never been born from above. You are illegitimate. You’re not a true son of God.”

And, I want you to notice the purpose of it. The purpose of it is to make us holy before God. Look, if you will, in Hebrews 12, verses 10 and 11: “For they”—that is, our fathers—“verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure;””—that doesn’t mean they enjoyed doing it. That’s just old English. It means because they thought it needed to be done—“but he for our profit,”—that is, God chastens us for our profit—“that we might be partakers of his holiness...”—now, why would God chastise you? Because He wants you to be holy—“that we might be partakers of His holiness. Now no chastening for the present time seemeth to be joyous, but grievous; nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby” (Hebrews 12:10–11).

Now, no chastening for the present time is joyous. Did you ever say, when you were getting a spanking or a whipping, “Boy, this is wonderful! I’m having a great time”? Of course not! But, your father, your mother, had a purpose. They wanted you to grow up to be the kind of a child that they could be proud of and rejoice in. God has a purpose.
Now, some of you right now are being chastened. I mean, it’s as though God has a whip, and He is chastening you in so many ways. But, I tell you, dear friend, that that chastening is profit and not loss.

B. A Work of Disruption

Now, one way that God cleanses the temple is through chastisement. Another way that God will cleanse your temple is through disruption. Look, if you will, again in John 2, verse 15. I referred you to that before: “And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables” (John 2:15). Now, this is Jesus. God is a God of order, and Jesus is a Savior of love, and yet you see Him with a whip, and you see Him tearing up the whole thing. He’s letting the doves out of the cages. He’s taking the money of the moneychangers and throwing it on the floor. And then, He finds these tables, and He turns them over. He turns over this table. He turns over that table. He turns over this table. This is the Temple. And, here is the Lord Jesus Christ in the Temple, disrupting everything.

You know what Jesus will do to your plans? He’ll turn over your tables. He will turn over your tables. He loves you too much to let you succeed in your sin. He’ll take a whip and a scourge—that’s chastisement. And then, He’ll come into your life, and He will bring disruption. And, you’ll say, “Why doesn’t anything work out right for me?”

When my children don’t seem to be walking with the Lord as much as they ought, I pray for them. I don’t pray they’ll succeed; I pray, “Lord, let the chariot wheels drag!” Why? I don’t want somebody to have a well thought-out plan in life, and success, and prosperity, when there’s sin in their heart and in their life. I want Jesus to overturn their tables.

He’ll overturn your tables. Friend, you may have it all figured out. You say, “Well, why would He do that?” Well, use a little common sense. Do you think that Jesus would have gone into a pagan temple and done that? No, not at all! He goes into His own temple. “Ye are the temple of God.”

III. The Purpose of the Temple

Now, thirdly, I want you to notice, not only the profaning of the temple, and the purging of the temple, but the purpose of the temple. I bring you back again to the purpose for which you have been saved and bought with a price. And, what is the purpose of the temple?

A. It Is to Be a Place of Prayer

Number one: It is to be a place of prayer. Look in verse 13: “And [he] said unto them, It is written, My house shall be a house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves” (Matthew 21:13). Now, in the temple there was an altar of incense, and that incense was rising continually to God. And, the Bible teaches us clearly and plainly that incense rising from that altar of incense is a picture of our prayer continually rising to God; I mean, continually. Your house is to be a house of prayer. If you do not have prayer rising continually from your heart, you need revival. Now, I’m not just talking about, “Now I lay me down to sleep.” You have no greater calling than to make this house, this temple, that you are a house, a place, of prayer.

Now, it’s to come up continually. Luke 18 and verse 1: “And he spake a parable unto them to this end,”—now, listen—“that men ought always to pray, and not to faint” (Luke 18:1)—that is, not to quit praying. First Thessalonians 5, verse 17: “Pray without ceasing” (1 Thessalonians 5:17). You say, “How can you pray without ceasing? You have to sleep.” You can be in communion with God in your sleep. I wake up in the middle of the night praising God.

A mother may have a child who has been sick for a long time. And, finally, that child goes off to a fitful sleep. She’s been up, perhaps, a whole day, a whole night, two days, nursing that child. Finally, the child goes to sleep, and the mother goes to sleep. Her body is desiring rest and sleep. And, there can be all kinds of noise. Somebody can be playing the television. She pays no attention to it. The sirens may go by with a fire truck outside. She pays no attention. Somebody may come in and slam the door. She pays no attention. But, listen to me. One whimper from that child, and she’s awake. Why? She’s tuned, even in her sleep, to that child.

You ought to pray without ceasing; that is, out of your heart. The incense is to be rising all of the time. Do you find yourself just driving along, saying, “Jesus, I love You”? I do. “Lord, I love You.” When I go through life to do this thing or that thing—I have a task, a committee meeting, whatever it is—I want to pray about it. It was said of Dwight L. Moody, “He never made long prayers, but he was never long without prayer.” We are to pray without ceasing.

Listen. Philippians chapter 4, verse 6: “Be careful for nothing;”—that is, “Don’t worry about anything”—“but in every thing”—everything, everything—“by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God” (Philippians 4:6). You pray about everything.

Now, don’t divide your life between the sacred and the secular, because he says you’re to pray about everything.

Charles Stanley, a friend of mine, became the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Atlanta, Georgia. And, they were going through some difficulty when he first came, so he had the deacons and the Finance Committee there, and they had a real problem, and he said, “Gentlemen, let’s pray about it.” And, one of those businessmen said, “Now, listen,
It is to be a place of prayer. This is not something spiritual; this is business”—“this is business.” Now, what had he done? He had tried to separate the sacred from the secular.

You will never find the word secular in any concordance. “In every thing by prayer and supplication...let your requests be made known unto God.”

You want me to tell you a good test as to whether or not you can do something? Can you pray about it? Can you pray about it? Can you say, “God, help me to do this?” Some of you may be so foolish as to pray when you go to the casinos I mentioned before. But, friend, that is foolish. That is ridiculous.

We have people that we need to pray for. I prayed early this morning for my pastor friends around America. I prayed for the President. I prayed for spiritual leaders in America, and Joyce prayed with me. Now, you can’t pray for everybody, but God puts those upon your heart for whom you’re to pray. First Samuel chapter 12, verse 23: “Moreover as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the LORD in ceasing to pray for you” (1 Samuel 12:23). There’s no substitute: not intellect, not work, not emotion. There is no substitute for intercession and for prayer.

So, what is the purpose of the temple? It is to be a place of prayer. “My house is a house of prayer for all people” (Isaiah 56:7). Now, do you need revival? If you find it hard and difficult to pray, if prayer is not welling up and coming out, I can tell you your heart is not right with God. You have not used the temple for the purpose for which you are saved. You are to be a place of prayer.

B. It Is to Be a Place of Power

Number two: You are to be a place of power. Look in verse 14—Matthew 21, verse 14: “And the blind and the lame came to him”—listen—“in the temple; and he healed them” (Matthew 21:14). People who were blind and people who were broken, and He healed them. You say, “Well, Pastor Rogers, if I have the Lord Jesus in me, does that mean that I can lay hands on the sick and they will recover?” Well, that happens. I believe I’ve laid hands on the sick and prayed for them, and they’ve recovered. I believe I’ve seen God do miracles. But, all of those things were pictures and prophecies of the greater things. The incense is a picture of the greater thing, which is prayer. The healing of the blind and the lame is an illustration of the greater thing, which is soul winning. You say, “You just say that for an excuse, pastor, because you can’t heal anybody.” That’s not right. The Bible says of John the Baptist—and, by the way, Jesus said there was not a greater than John the Baptist, and the Bible says of John the Baptist—“John did no miracle, but many believed on Jesus through his word” (John 10:41–42).
I’d like to have the power to heal the sick. I don’t. But, I’m going to tell you something. God has given me a gift, and God has given you a gift. God has given me a command, and God has given you a command, that we might bring souls to Jesus Christ. What is the greater miracle? What is the greater miracle? Opening blind eyes? Straightening broken limbs? The greater miracle is when somebody is born again. Now, you say, “Well, that’s just rhetoric.” No, it’s not. Listen to me. When God made this world, how did He do it? Of His own will. From His fingertips came planets and satellites and myriads of galaxies. Of His own will He scooped out the oceans and heaped up the mountains. He spoke, and it was so.

A college boy asked his preacher, “Preacher, do you think there’s life on other planets? The preacher said, “No, I don’t.” He said, “Well now, preacher, wait a minute. If there’s no life on other planets, why did God go to all that trouble to make them?” The pastor said, “What trouble?” —“What trouble?”

It’s so! God spoke, and it was so! But, to save a soul, He put His darling Son on the cross in agony and blood. And, the only time God had any trouble, if we could say it reverently, was bloody Calvary. I’m telling you the greater miracle is the salvation of one soul. One little teenage girl that comes down this aisle this morning to give her heart to Jesus Christ is a greater miracle than all of the healings this world has ever seen.

C. It Is to Be a Place of Praise

Your house is to be a house, a place, of prayer. It is to be a place of power. And, friend, it is to be a place of praise. Look, if you will now, in chapter 21, verse 15: “And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful works that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were [very] displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou not what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?” (Matthew 21:15–16).

When your house becomes a house of prayer, and when your house becomes a place of power, ipso facto, as day follows night, it will be a place of praise. You will be constantly praising the Lord. Psalm 34, verse 1: “I, dear Lord, will constantly praise you; your praise will be continually in my mouth” (Psalm 34:1).

When you have given the temple of your body over to Him, praise will be rising up to God constantly. You can’t help it. You’ll be saying, “Thank You, Lord! Thank You! Praise Your name! You’re great! I love You, Jesus! Glory to Your holy name!” I don’t mean just in church. You say, “Well, I come to church to worship God.” Friend, you bring your worship to church. Seven days a week, 24 hours a day, night and day, your temple is a place of praise. Not only will you praise Him, but others will praise Him for you, because of you.
Conclusion

Now, don’t make this just a sermon. I’m asking you a question, and it’s a serious question right now. What is there in your life that would cause somebody else to praise God? What is there in your life that cannot be explained by your will, or by your manners, or by your education, or by your culture, or by your friendship? Where is the difference? Are you constantly praising God, and is your life causing others to say, “Hosanna to the Son of God”?

The profaning of the temple: stealing the tribute that belongs to Jesus. The purging of the temple: a whip of chastisement and a work of disruption. He’ll do that in your heart and in your life. The purpose of the temple: it’s to be a place of prayer; it’s to be a place of power; it is to be a place of praise.

I remind you one more time, I’m not talking now about the Old Testament Temple. That’s only a picture. That’s only a type. First Corinthians chapter 6, verse 19: “What? Don’t you know that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, which you have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore, glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Corinthians 6:19). And, friend, when we do that, that’s revival, would you agree? And, when we do that individually, then we’re going to do it corporately. And, this world will see a difference.
When God Cleans House

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: September 19, 2004
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 21:12–16

Outline

Introduction
I. The Profaning of the Temple
II. The Purging of the Temple
   A. A Whip of Chastisement
   B. A Work of Confusion
III. The Purpose of the Temple
   A. It Is to Be a Place of Prayer
   B. It Is to Be a Place of Power
   C. It Is to Be a Place of Praise

Conclusion

Introduction

Take your Bibles, please, and turn to Matthew, the Gospel of Matthew. In just a moment, we’re going to begin reading in verse 12. And, while you’re turning to it, may I ask you a question? What or where is the house of God? You may say, “Pastor, this is the house of God.” No, it’s not. It’s our meeting place. It’s a great big sheep shed, but it’s not the house of God. Where is the house of God? If you want to know, go look in the mirror.

The Bible teaches that we are temples of God. A temple is a place where God dwells with His Spirit. And, I’m a temple of God, and you are a temple of God. Now, when you got saved, God entered into you. And, if God is not in you, you’re not saved. So many people have the mistaken idea that salvation is getting man out of Earth into Heaven. Salvation is not getting man out of Earth into Heaven. We’re going to Heaven, but friend, that’s a by-product of salvation. Salvation is getting God out of Heaven into us. That’s what salvation is. Now, God comes into us to live in us. And, if our bodies are temples, and God lives in us, then what kind of a temple is He dwelling in? Is He dwelling in a dirty house? You know, God doesn’t like a dirty house. The title of our message today is, “When God Cleans House.”

Some college students had a goat for a mascot, and they had no place to keep the goat. And, two college students said, “Well, we’ll keep the goat in our room.” And, they said, “You can’t do that. What about the smell?” “Oh,” they said, “the goat can get used to that.” Now, college boys may live in a dirty dormitory room, but God will not move out. But, also, He will not live in a dirty house.

Now, the Old Testament Temple that we’re going to read about in a moment is but a blueprint and a prophecy of His New Testament temple, which is you. I remind you that, in the Old Testament, God had a temple for His people; in the New Testament, right now, He has a people for His temple. You are the temple of God.

Now, look, if you will now, in verse 12: “And Jesus went into the temple of God,”—that’s the Old Testament Temple now—“and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves. And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore”—or “very”—“displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?” (Matthew 21:12–16).

Now, if you’re a temple of God—and you are—what is the purpose of your life? Can I give you the purpose of your life? The purpose of your life and true revival are wrapped up in these two verses that I’m going to give you, 1 Corinthians chapter 6, verses 19 and 20. First Corinthians chapter 6—just put it in your margin—verses 19 and 20—Paul asks a rhetorical question: “What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you...and ye are not your own?”—now, listen—“For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Corinthians 6:19–20).

Jesus paid a fearful, awful price for you. To redeem you, Jesus hung in agony and blood upon a cross. When I saw the film The Passion, as many of you saw it, my heart was moved, and I had to ask myself this question: “Adrian, are the things you’re living for worth Jesus dying for?” I have been bought with a price. You, sir, have been bought with a price. You are not your own. You are a temple of God, a royal residence, and He is to live in you.

Now, what is the purpose of the temple of God? Plain English, what is your purpose, since you’re a house of God? You’re to glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s. How do you glorify God in your spirit? By worship. By praise. By meditation. By abiding. But, how do you glorify God in your body? Presenting your body a living sacrifice to Him (Romans 12:1).

Let me tell you something. All you know about me my body has revealed to you. You know what I look like. You know what I sound like. You know what I think. But, you can’t see what I think; but, when I speak, then you understand what I think. Or, when you read what I’ve written—what my hand, my body, has written—then you might understand what I think. When I cry, or when I laugh, then you can understand my emotions. Where I go, and where I do not go, that helps you to understand my character. Are you thinking with me now? All you know about me is what my body does. You can’t see my spirit. All you can see is my body. Now, if my body is to glorify God, then I have to ask myself this question: What do you see when you see me? What do you see when you see my eyes? Do you see me watching filth on television and Hell’s Box Office? What do you see? You hear me listening to obscene music with these ears? What do you see? Do you see me taking into my mouth that which will hurt my body: alcohol, nicotine, gluttony? That’s all you know about me—is what you see.

Now, the Bible teaches that everything you do you’re to do for the glory of God, and it’s to be seen in your body. Therefore, glorify God in your body. What about your hands? Can your hands glorify God playing a slot machine, and you say, “This is for Your glory, Lord. This is for Your glory,” as you pump in quarters, or whatever they pump in? Can you say that? Every place that your feet go, can you say, “Lord, I’m going here for Your glory”? Now, if it does not glorify God, you have misused and abused the temple of God.

I say it again. Now, you listen to me, and listen carefully. You have one purpose in life, and that is to glorify God. “You’re not your own. You are bought with a price. Therefore, glorify God in your body and in your spirit.”

You girls, the way you dress: does it glorify God? Go to the mall and see these kids walking down there with their bellybutton hanging out and some sort of a jewel in it. Good night! And, they’re wearing these jeans—half on, half off—they look like they’ve been sprayed on and then shrunk. Does that glorify God? Would you dress that way, young lady, if the Lord Jesus were your date? I’m saying that we need to take our bodies—our eyes, our ears, our hands, our mouth, our feet, the very way that we dress—and glorify God in our spirit and in our body. “What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost...which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Corinthians 6:19–20).

Now, I want you to think with me with that thought now, “When God Cleans House,” three basic thoughts. Very simple.

I. The Profaning of the Temple
First of all, I want you to see what I’m going to call the profaning of the temple. Now, many people don’t realize that they have profaned the temple of God, which temple they are. Now, let’s get the New Testament lesson and bring it into this day. Matthew 21, verse 12:
“And Jesus went into the temple...and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves” (Matthew 21:12). And then, look, if you will, in John. Put this in your margin. I’ll read it to you. Don’t you turn to it. John chapter 2, verse 15: “And when he”—that is, Jesus—“had made a scourge of small cords,”—the word scourge means, “whip”—“he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables” (John 2:15).

Now, what had happened is this. They had taken the house of God and turned it into a den of thieves. They were merchandizing the things of God. For example, what about the moneychangers? Well, in the Temple you had to use Jewish coin. You couldn’t use Roman coin. So, here’s a person who’s come a long way, and he needs to change his money into that which is acceptable in the Temple. Now, the Roman coin paid tribute to Caesar, but they were coming in there to pay tribute to God. So, they would go to the moneychanger, and the moneychanger would say, “You need a dollar? It will cost you $1.15 in Roman coin.” And so, they had a pretty good deal. And, they would take the money in, make that money exchange, rake off the profit. The person would go in there and bring the money into the Temple, the Jewish money. Then, they would go back and get that money, back out to the moneychanger, and sell it again. For them, it was a pretty good deal.

Now, there were doves and other things that God had commanded to be used in worship, but these people were crooks. They were misusing, abusing, the Temple of God. What they were doing was stealing away the tribute that belongs to Almighty God.

II. The Purging of the Temple

Now, what does God do when you do that? I mean, if you’re a child of God, if you are truly born again, what does God do?

A. A Whip of Chastisement

Write down “chastisement.” Jesus made a whip, a scourge, and He went into the temple with that whip, that scourge. Now, He is a God of love, and He loves you just like you are, but He loves you too much to leave you that way. And so, He takes a scourge. Put in your margin Hebrews 12—you might want to turn to it—verses 5 through 8: “And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him: for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.” Remember, Jesus made a scourge of cords, and the Bible says He scourgeth every son whom He receiveth. “If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers,”—that is, all the children of God are partakers—“then are ye bastards, and not sons” (Hebrews 12:5–8).

Now, what does this mean? Think with me for a moment about the partakers of this chastisement. Who does God chastise? Not the devil’s kids. If my wife, when our children were little, were to see some kids having a scrap in the front yard, doing some things they ought not to do, she would call our children in and chastise them. She didn’t spank the neighbor’s kids. That’s a good way to get in trouble. But, we have every right, God has every right, as we have every right, to chastise our own. And so, chastisement is one way that God does it.

Now, the promise of it, in verse 8, is that all true believers are going to be chastised. And, the purpose of it is to cleanse the temple. Look in Hebrews 12, verses 10 and 11: “For they”—that is, our fathers—“verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure;”—that means, “after their own will”—“but he for our profit,”—underscore that: “for our profit.” Not for our loss, but for our profit—“that we might be partakers of his holiness.” God does not necessarily want you to be healthy or happy. He wants you to be holy. And, God may chastise you by taking away your health or your happiness, if it can produce holiness. “Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous…”—when you were spanked as a child, or when your father took you to the woodshed, you said, “Oh glory! This is wonderful. Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!”—“No chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous; nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby” (Hebrews 12:10–11).

Now, you say, “Well, God loves me too much to chaste me.” You’ve got it backward. You’ve got it backward. As a matter of fact, if you defile the temple of God, which temple you are, and God does not take a scourge, and scourge you, it’s a sign that He doesn’t love you. It’s a sign that you’ve never been saved. It’s a sign that you’ve never been born again. Don’t get high, wide, and mighty, and begin to strut, and say, “Well, God never scourges me.” Well, listen. If you’re a Christian, and you’re saved, and you’re defiling His holy temple, bought with a price, He has every right to take a whip and scourge you. Say amen. Every right. Not because He doesn’t love you, but because He does.

B. A Work of Confusion

Now, there is a whip of chastisement. He made a whip. And, there is a work of confusion. Go back again to John 2, verse 15: “And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen;”—now, watch this—“and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables” (John 2:15). Now, not only is He a God of love, but He’s a God of order. God wants everything done “decently and in order” (1 Corinthians 14:40). But, see what He does. He brings confusion. He opens the cages and lets the doves out. He looses the sacrificial animals. He goes in there and takes the moneychangers’ money and throws it on the floor of the temple, and it goes rolling across. And then, He takes their tables and overthrows their tables. This is the Temple of God, and He Is bringing confusion to the Temple.

Has God ever done that for you—God brought confusion in your life? You see, these people had it all worked out just right. It was all set up, and Jesus ruined their plans. Has He ever stepped in and overturned your tables? When you let your body and your spirit become a den of thieves, He has every right to move in and overturn your tables.

Joyce and I pray regularly for our children that they might know and love the Lord, but we do not pray that they will succeed outside the will of God. As a matter of fact, I have prayed many times for various ones of my children, when I did not feel they were walking as close as they ought, “Lord, let their chariot wheels drag!” I wasn’t praying that they would sail through life. I’m praying just the opposite: that God will overthrow their tables.

What does He do? If you are a child of God, and you fail to glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s, what does He do? There’s a whip of chastisement. There is the work of confusion. This is what God does. It may be all well planned to you, but God will overturn your tables.

III. The Purpose of the Temple

Now, here’s the third thing I want you to notice. I want you to notice, not only the profaning of the temple, and the purging of the temple, but I want you to notice with me the purpose of the temple. Again, what is your purpose? What is my purpose? What is it? To sell insurance? To mow lawns? To raise children? To run a business? What is your purpose? Look at your pastor now. You have but one purpose. It’s to glorify God. To glorify God! To glorify God! “Therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Corinthians 6:20).

Now, what is the purpose of the temple, as we break it down?

A. It Is to Be a Place of Prayer

Well, first of all, the temple is to be a place of prayer. Look in verse 13: “And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer” (Matthew 21:13). You, as a temple of God, are to be a house of prayer.

In the Old Testament temple and in the tabernacle there was an altar called the altar of incense. And, they would burn fragrant incense from that altar, and the aroma was rising constantly toward Heaven. Incense, in the Bible, is a picture of the believer’s prayer. And, out of your heart, out of your temple, continually, is to be that sweet-smelling savor in the nostrils of God, of prayer.

Now, if your house is not a house of prayer—I don’t mean, “Now I lay me down to sleep” type of prayer; I mean, if the incense is not constantly rising to Heaven—you need revival. You cannot help but pray when your heart is right to God. And, that prayer is going to be coming up continually at all times. Let me give you some verses. Jot them in your margin. Luke 18:1: “And he spake a parable unto them to this end,”—now, listen—“that men ought always to pray;”—“always to pray,” “always to pray”—“and not to faint.” First Thessalonians chapter 5 and verse 17: “Pray without ceasing” (1 Thessalonians 5:17).

You say, “Pastor, I can’t pray without ceasing.” Yes, you can. Prayer does not have to be verbalized always for it to be prayer. You can live in the Spirit even when you’re asleep. I can wake up in the middle of the night and realize that I’d been communing with God while I was asleep, wake up and praise Him vocally, and go back to sleep. You say, “But, what if there are other things that concern me?” Well, they don’t keep you from praying—not the spirit of prayer.

Let me give you an illustration. Here’s a mother that has a sick child. And, that child has a fever, and that child hurts and aches, and that mother is up all night with the children, and maybe the next day, and maybe the next night. Finally, the child goes off to a fitful sleep, and the mother says, “Now I must sleep.” And, she lies down to sleep, and she falls into a hard sleep. And, there are noises outside. The car horns are honking; a fire truck may go by; children are playing; somebody slams a door. None of that awakens her, because she’s in a deep, hard sleep. But, one whimper from that child, she’s awake. What does it mean? Her heart, her mind, is tuned to that child. Your heart, your mind, ought to be tuned to God that way. It was said of Dwight L. Moody, “Ne never made long prayers, but he was never long without prayer.”

Now, the Bible says, in Philippians 4, verse 6, “Be careful...”—that is, “Don’t worry about anything”—“Be careful for nothing; but in every thing”—“everything,” “everything”—“by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God” (Philippians 4:6).

Now, friend, if you can’t pray about it, you have no business doing it. If you can’t ask God to help you at the casino, you have no business going there; if you can’t ask God to bless this cigarette, say, “Lord, I’m doing this for Your glory; bless it.” Listen. There are certain things you know you could not ask God to bless. And yet, this scripture says, “In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.”

“Well,” you say, “pastor, I have two sides to my life. I have my Christian life, and I have my other life. There, my other life means I don’t pray about those things; I pray about the spiritual things.” Ladies and gentlemen, when you get saved, everything is spiritual—everything is spiritual. You’ll not find the word secular in your concordance. Don’t get the idea that there are some things that you’re to pray about and other things that you’re to work out by yourself. I say it again, if you cannot pray and ask God to bless it, you have no business doing it.

Charles Stanley, my dear friend, came to the First Baptist Church of Atlanta, Georgia, many years ago. And, when he became pastor, the church was having financial problems. And so, he met with some of the leaders of the Finance Committee and the deacons, and they were trying to figure out what they were going to do. And, Charles Stanley said, “Well, let’s pray about it.” And, one of the men around that table said, “Now, pastor, we don’t need to pray about this. This is business.”

Think about that. I’m afraid that many of us do that. We try to divide our lives into the sacred and the secular, but you cannot do it. “Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.” There is to be coming out of the temple, which is you, that sweet incense rising up to God as you pray without ceasing. And, if you don’t intercede, you have sinned. First Samuel chapter 12, verse 23: “Moreover as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the LORD in ceasing to pray for you” (1 Samuel 12:23). Prayerlessness is a sin.

B. It Is to Be a Place of Power

Now, your temple, you are to be a place of prayer. Secondly, your temple is to be a place of power. Notice chapter 21, verse 14: “And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them” (Matthew 21:14). Here, after the Temple was cleansed, the mighty power of God was released in the Temple. The blind and the broken were touched by the power of God when the Lord was free to reign and to rule in His temple. And, friend, when you are right with God, when there is revival in your heart, there will be miracles in your life.

You say, “Now, wait a minute, pastor. Do you mean I’m to open blind eyes, and I’m to straighten crooked limbs?” Well, maybe so. I mean, I’ve prayed for the sick, and I believe I’ve seen them radically and dramatically healed, but God has not given me the gift of healing. But, I tell you, healing is not the greater miracle. Our Lord didn’t heal all; He healed some as an illustration of the greater miracle, the opening of blind eyes and the restoring of broken bodies spiritually.

You know, some people will say, “You know, if we were what we ought to be, we would be laying hands on the sick, and they would recover. Every service would be a miracle service as we see God do extraordinary miracles.” Not necessarily so. You don’t do miracles, necessarily, because you’re Spirit-filled. John the Baptist was filled with the Holy Spirit from his mother’s womb (Luke 1:41), and yet the Bible says John did no miracles. None! None! But, many believed on Jesus through what John said (John 10:41–42). I’d rather have the power to lead boys and girls, men and women, to Jesus Christ, open blind eyes and straighten twisted lives, than to heal physically. You say, “Pastor, you’re just saying that. You don’t mean it. That’s just an excuse because you don’t do it.” No, it’s not. Listen, my friend. The greater miracle is the opening of blind eyes spiritually and the setting forth of twisted lives to a straight path.

A college boy asked his pastor, “Pastor, do you think there is life on other planets? He said, “No, I don’t.” He said, “Now, pastor, there are billions and billions and billions of heavenly bodies. Don’t you think there’s life on some of these?” He said, “No, I really don’t. The college student said, “Well then, why did God go to all the trouble to make them?” The pastor said, “What trouble? What trouble?”

I mean, He spoke, and it was so. Universes dripped from His fingertips. All He had to do was speak, and creation was. He says, “Be,” and it was! That was no trouble for omnipotence. The only time God had any trouble, if I can say it respectfully, was when Jesus died on the cross. It took no special effort from God for God to create the universe, but in order to save your soul, the greater miracle, Jesus hung in agony and blood on the cross. Do you understand that? The greater miracle than opening blind eyes is the salvation of a 13-year-old girl who may come this morning down this aisle to say, “I give my heart to Jesus Christ.” Do you believe that?

C. It Is to Be a Place of Praise

But, I’m saying this: that your temple is to be a place of prayer. And, if your temple is a place of prayer, it will be a place of power. And, if it is a place of prayer and power, it will be a place of praise. You will be praising God, and others will be praising God as a result. Look, if you will, please, now in chapter 21, and notice in verse 15: “And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?” (Matthew 21:15–16).

Now, how do you glorify God? In your body and in your spirit, the temple that is called you. You make it a place of prayer. You see it as a place of power. And then, as night follows day, it will be a place of praise. You will be praising the Lord, glorifying God. Out of the temple of your body will come praise. Not only will you be praising the Lord—and, I hope you do that. Do you ever find yourself just driving along, saying, “God, You’re so wonderful!
Jesus, I praise You! Jesus, I love You!” and that praise is welling up, and welling up, and welling up, because you have been saved? And, because the prayer and the power is there, the praise is there—but, others see what God is doing; others see the miracles in your life in your temple, and they begin to praise God and say, “Hosanna!” Even little children can see it. Little children can recognize God in you.

Conclusion

Church, listen to me. Up in the balcony, sir, you listen to me. Over here, lady, you listen. Down here, you listen. I’m asking you a question. Does your life bring praise and glory to Jesus Christ? Answer that question. That’s a serious question. That’s not a rhetorical question. Answer it silently, but answer it honestly. Is your body a place of prayer? Is your body a place of power? Is your body a place of praise? You are the temple of God. “What? Don’t you know that your body is the temple of God, a temple of the Holy Ghost, which ye have of God; for ye are not your own; you are bought with a price. Therefore, glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God’s.”

That’s revival. When you, as individuals, begin to let your life be a place of prayer and power and praise—you, and you, and you, and you over there; yes, and you way in the back—when you allow your body to become that, motivated by your spirit, it’s going to happen to individuals, and, as night follows day, it will happen in our church. Don’t you long for that in your own life? You say, “Pastor, I really don’t.” Well, there’s nothing wrong with you that a good revival or a good old dose of salvation wouldn’t cure. You need to have this longing for God, to thirst for Him, as we sang, “As the Deer Pants after the Water Brooks.”

You say, “Pastor, I don’t have God in my life. You said that salvation was not getting man out of Earth into Heaven, but getting God out of Heaven into man. How can I get God into me? How can I become a temple of God?” Revelation chapter 3, verse 20—Jesus said, “Behold, I stand at the door and knock:”—in this service He’s knocking at your heart’s door. When you see a sunset, you hear a baby cry, you hear glorious music, that’s Jesus knocking at your heart’s door. You hear a sermon, He’s knocking, knocking, knocking, knocking. And then, the Bible says—“if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him” (Revelation 3:20). Do you want Him in your life? Open the door! Open the door! He’s not going to break it down. It’s not enough for you to slide an offering under the door or whisper a prayer through the keyhole. You open the door and say, “Lord Jesus, come into me. I want to be a temple of the living God.” And, I promise you, He will come into you.
The Cleansing of the Temple

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 5, 1995
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 21:12–17

Outline

Introduction
I. The Profaning of the Temple
II. The Purging of the Temple
III. The Purpose of the Temple
   A. A House of Prayer
   B. A Place of Power
   C. A Place of Praise
Conclusion

Introduction

We were in Matthew chapter 20. Would you find Matthew chapter 21 tonight—a very interesting episode: “The Cleansing of the Temple.” And, you may know that the temple in the Old Testament, and even in Jesus’ day, was a building that was a picture of the believer. The temple was a blueprint of the believer. There are great spiritual lessons as we study the temple. As a matter of fact, the book that I have just written deals with this truth, entitled The Power of His Presence. In the Old Testament times, God had a temple for His people. In New Testament times, He has a people for His temple. And, Paul said to the church at Corinth, “Ye are the temple of God.” And he asked this question in 1 Corinthians chapter 6, verse 19: “What? Know ye not that you are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? Don’t you understand that? You’re not your own. You are bought with a price. And therefore you’re to glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Corinthians 6:19).

I preached a sermon some time back on this subject: “Where on Earth Does God Live?” And, I told you that God has lived in a series of houses, and each of these houses was a temple. The first house was Adam, and God lived in Adam. And, Adam sinned, and God moved out. And then, God lived in that tabernacle and that temple that was erected there. The temple and the tabernacle were different forms of the same kind of building. It was a house for God to dwell in, and the Shekinah glory of God dwelt there. But, again, that temple was profaned. It was to be a house of prayer for all people, but they made it a den of thieves, and Jesus said, “Behold, your house is left unto you desolate” (Matthew 23:38). “It was My Father’s house, but now it’s your house.” That is, God moved out. The next temple that God lived in was the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. He was a temple of God. He said of Himself, in John the second chapter, “Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up” (John 2:19). They didn’t know that He was speaking of the temple of His body, and He was a perfect temple. And, He lived and walked among us, and the Godhead dwelt in Him bodily (Colossians 2:9). He was a house of God. And then, we crucified Him. And, actually, God the Father had to move out of that temple even. And, Jesus bore our sin on the cross, cried out, “My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46; Mark 15:34) because when a temple is desecrated, then it is desolated. And, Jesus became sin for us. And then, God moved into a new humanity, and the Church becomes the temple of God. The wonderful thing is this: that God moved into that primary temple, which was Adam; then He moved out. And then, He moved into that pattern temple, which was a building; then He moved out. Then, He moved into that perfect temple, which was the humanity of Jesus. And, when Jesus was on that cross, God the Father was separated from God the Son. But now, He has moved into us, and He has moved into us to stay in us. God has stopped moving. God has settled down. And, He has sent His Spirit to abide with us forever. There is nothing—absolutely nothing—that can separate me now from the love of God and the presence of God.

Well, if I am a temple of God, and God will never leave this temple, what happens when the temple gets desecrated, when the temple gets defiled? What happens is this: He will cleanse the temple. And, I want you to see, in chapter 21 and verse 12, what I’m speaking of: “And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves. And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany; and he lodged there” (Matthew 21:12–17).

Now, that has a wonderful lesson for us if we’re a temple of God, because remember that the Old Testament temple was an object lesson to teach us how God is to live in our hearts and in our lives. And, as we prepare our hearts tonight for the Lord’s Supper, there are three things basically that I want you to see.
I. The Profaning of the Temple

The first is the profaning of the temple. Now, that temple in that day had been profaned. They’d made it a den of thieves. The problem was not that they were buying and selling: that was perfectly acceptable. The problem is that a bunch of crooks and shills had moved in and had taken over the legitimate business of providing sacrificial animals.

Here’s the way they had worked it out. They said, “If you’ve come from a long place, and you want to worship in the temple, you’ve got to have a sacrificial animal.” Well, so far, so good. “We’ll provide an animal to you.” Nobody wants to sacrifice an animal that has cost him nothing. David said, “God forbid that I should sacrifice to the Lord of that which doth cost me nothing” (2 Samuel 24:24). So far, so good. But, when the people came, they had the coinage of the realm, and they said, “Now, we cannot use this money in the temple, so we have to change the money to temple money. So, we take your money that has the stamp and inscription of Caesar on it, and we will give you temple money. And, with the temple money you can buy the sacrifices.” And so, they had a very good rate of exchange, and they were doing quite well with it. So, they would take the temple money, exchange it for the money of the realm, the coinage of the realm. They would take that money with that superscription of Caesar. They’d put it over here. The people would take the temple money and use that to buy the sacrifice with, so they got the money right back again. And, somebody else would come, and they would do this again. And, the whole time they’re just raking off this profit. It was just kind of a form of religious extortion. It infuriated the Lord Jesus, because that house was to be a house that was to give glory to God.

Now, you say, “Adrian, what does that have to do with me if I am a temple?” Well, if you are a temple, you have one purpose. Do you know what I exist for? You say, “Well, you’re the pastor of the church, or you’re the husband to Joyce, or whatever it is you exist for.” No, I exist for one reason: to give glory to God. Do you know what you exist for? Not two reasons, but one and one only: “What? Know ye not that you are not your own. You are bought with a price. Therefore, glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s.” That’s what 1 Corinthians chapter 6, verse 19, tells us. We are a temple of God.

Now, anything that steals away the glory from the Lord Jesus Christ out of my life has become a thief. Anything that takes the glory that belongs to Jesus and steals it away is a thief in my life that steals the glory that belongs to the Lord Jesus. Now, a carnal Christian has made his temple a den of thieves. If there are things in your life that don’t glorify the Lord Jesus, that dissipate His glory, then you have made the temple of your body a den of thieves. The Old Testament temple existed to give glory to God. The Christian, as a temple of God, exists to give glory to God. So, in verse 12, you see the profaning of the temple.
II. The Purging of the Temple

Now, in verse 12 also, you’re going to see the purging of the temple. Look again, if you will, in verse 12, and the Bible says, “And Jesus went into the temple...and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple.”—now, here’s the purging of the temple—“and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves” (Matthew 21:12–13). And, in John the second chapter, we read that, not only did He overthrow the tables, but He took some chords and wove them together and made a whip. Well, let’s just turn to that. Turn to John chapter 2, and look in verse 15 with me, and you’ll see it, and you might be amazed that the Lord would do such a thing. Look, if you will, in verse 15: “And when he had made a scourge”—that means a whip—“of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers’ money, and overthrew the tables” (John 2:15).

Now, we see that in the Passion Play. I don’t know, are you going to have that scene in the Passion Play this year? You see the Lord Jesus. He comes in. He’s absolutely incensed. The zeal of His Father’s house has eaten Him up. He’s outraged. And, He drives out these who are making merchandise, who have become thieves in His Father’s house. And then, He just comes and He dumps over those tables. Now, He has a whip of chastisement and a work of confusion. You can’t imagine the confusion that was in the temple. I mean, animals, doves, and sheep, and oxen running everywhere, and people scouring for cover. Who is this? The Lord of love with a whip, the God of order messing up everything. I mean, the Lord of love with a whip, the God of order bringing confusion.

And, friend, that’s exactly what He’ll do when you profane your temple. A carnal Christian makes the temple of his body a den of thieves. And, when the Lord Jesus Christ gets ready to cleanse your temple, He has two methods. Number one: the whip; and, number two: He’ll turn over your tables.

Now, think about the whip of chastisement. Did you know that the Lord will take a whip to you? You say, “To me?” Absolutely! He loves you that much. Turn to Hebrews chapter 12, and let’s see how the Lord’s going to cleanse His temple. Go ahead and take your Bibles. Lick your fingers and turn to it—Hebrews chapter 12, and begin in verse 5: “And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him: for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth”—that word means, “uses a whip on”— “every son whom he receiveth. If ye endure [chastisement]”—“chastening”—“God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? But if ye be without [chastisement], whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons” (Hebrews 12:5–8). Now, what is that saying? God here speaks of this whip of chastisement, and He talks of those who are partakers of it, and He says, “When you are my child—when you’re my child—I will use the whip when it is necessary.”

So, suppose tonight that you have your name on this church roll, and suppose you’re living a life of open and flagrant sin. Does that mean that you’re getting away with your sin? Not at all! If God does not chastise you, if the Lord does not attempt to cleanse His temple, which is His, if He does not take that scourge and move in to cleanse His temple, do you know why? You’ve never been saved. God says, “Whom the Lord loves, He chastens.”

You know, sometimes people get saved, they give their hearts to Christ, they get baptized, and then trouble comes. They’re chastised. Do you know what? The devil says, “God doesn’t love you, or this wouldn’t be happening to you.” Wrong! God loves you, and that’s why it’s happening to you. That’s what the verse says: “Whom the Lord loves, He chastens.”

I’ve told you before, my dad, when he whipped me, used to say, “Son, I’m doing this because I love you.” I didn’t believe it then. I believe it now. Then, I thought, “Well, if you do this because you love me, you sure do love me a lot more than you love my brother. And, I’m your favorite.” But, he did do that because he loved me. He loved me too much to let me get away with some of the things that I endeavored to get away with.

And, God loves you too much to let you go on with carnality in the temple of your body that steals away the glory that belongs to God, that makes your temple a den of thieves. Now, if God does not chastise you, it doesn’t mean that you’re getting away with sin; it means you’re going to meet your sin at the final judgment. God judges us three ways: as sinners—that’s at the cross; as sons—that’s with chastisement; and, as servants—that’s at the Judgment Seat of Christ. And, there are three kinds of judgment. Now, thank God, I’m not going to be judged for my sin, because that was at the cross. That’s settled. I’ve settled that out of court. “There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus” (Romans 8:1). But, if and when I sin, God loves me so much that the same Lord Jesus, the loving Lord, the Lord of love, took a whip and cleansed the temple. And, He knows how to do it today. The Lord knows how to chastise those.

By the way, He did it for our profit, not for our loss. Go back again to Hebrews, and look at that. He says, if we have this kind of chastisement—and maybe you’re being chastised right now—here’s what He says He’s doing it for. Look in verse 11: “Now no chastening...”—this is Hebrews 12, verse 11—“Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous...”—some of you are going through deep grief. You don’t say, ‘Oh, happy day! I’m being chastised!’ I never did say, “Hot diggity dog! I’m getting a whipping!” when my dad got on to me. But, now I’m glad he did—“no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous,
The Purpose of the Temple

A House of Prayer

Look, if you will, in verse 13. The first purpose of your house as it is cleansed is this reason right here—verse 13: “And [he] said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer” (Matthew 21:13).

Now, one of the marks that your temple is not clean is that you don’t have a prayer life. One of the marks of the fact that your temple has been purged and no longer profaned is that the sweet incense of prayer is rising up continually from your temple. You have no greater calling than to pray. Luke 18:1 says, “Men ought always to pray.” First Thessalonians 5, verse 17, says, “Pray without ceasing” (1 Thessalonians 5:17). That means, pray when you feel like it, pray when you don't feel like it, pray until you do feel like it": “Pray without ceasing.”

Have you ever awakened some morning and didn’t feel like praying, so you thought maybe it would be just a waste of time, or wrong, if you prayed, and didn’t feel like praying? Your feeling doesn’t have a lot to do with it. You’re not more spiritual because you feel good.

There are mornings when I wake up that, very frankly, I don’t feel like praying. There are times when I preach when I don’t feel like preaching. I preach anyway. Do you know why? Because my feeling doesn’t have that much to do with it. It’s God’s Word. My heart is clean. It doesn’t matter how I feel. Sometimes I come out here to preach, and, folks, I’m telling you I can’t even think straight. I get one foot in a lard bucket, and I can’t get it out. And, my tongue gets all tongled up. And, things come out backward. And, you know, that’s the way it is. I think, “Well, you know, it’s going to be a bad morning.” And, Heaven comes down. And, I realize, “Well, Rogers, it’s not the way you feel. It’s not your emotion. It’s not whether you think you’re hitting on all eight, whether you got a good night’s sleep or not. It’s the power of God.”

It’s the same way in your prayer life. When you wake up some morning, and you have a dull headache, and you just, you know, maybe you ate sauerkraut and ice cream and rode on a roller coaster and then went to bed, and then you wake up the next morning, and you just don’t feel good, you say, “Well, I won’t pray. God won’t hear my prayer. I don’t feel good,” and then later on you take an Alka-Seltzer, and you’re feeling better now, and you say, “Well now, I’ll pray. God will hear my prayer now.” Do you think God’s in that little plop, plop, fizz, fizz? I mean, do you think that God’s in that? Is that what made you holy? No, it just made you feel better.

Look, you pray when you feel like it. You pray when you don’t feel like it. And, you pray continually. I spend my life in prayer. And, I have times when I pray, but I pray all the time—I mean, all the time. I sit on that seat and I pray. I write a letter for a friend: I pray. I pass a church: I pray for that church. I read a church bulletin: I pray for that pastor. I write a letter: I pray for the person that I’m writing a letter to. I’m about to make a conversation: I pray for the individual. And, out of my heart is going out prayer all the time.

Now, I don’t say that to brag, because I’m far from what I ought to be in my prayer life, but the Bible says we’re to pray without ceasing. The purpose of the house is to be a house of prayer. That’s what the Old Testament temple was. And, you’re a New Testament temple. And, God’s house is to be a house of prayer. And so, He takes that whip of chastisement and that work of confusion to bring you to the place where you need to be, which is to be a place of prayer.
B. A Place of Power

Now, secondly, it is to be a place of power. Look in verse 14: “And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them” (Matthew 21:14). Because there was prayer, there was power. Now, you say, “Pastor Rogers, does that mean that I’m to be healing those who are blind and crippled? Absolutely! Those who are blinded by Satan and broken by sin! The miracles in the Bible, the physical miracles, were illustrations of the greater spiritual miracles. And, beloved, that’s not an easy way out. I’m not trying to excuse us from not opening blind eyes or healing crooked limbs. I am telling you that as the Apostle John gave the miracles in the Gospel of John, he says, “These are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ...and that believing [in him] ye might have life through His name” (John 20:31).

John the Baptist—the Bible says he was filled with the Holy Spirit. He did no miracle, but many believed on Christ through his testimony. You read that in the last part of John chapter 10 (John 10:41–42). I’d rather have it said about me that I could lead people to Christ than I could raise the dead. I’m saying this, however: that when the temple is cleansed, it is a place of prayer. And, when it becomes a place of prayer, it becomes a place of power. And, those who are blinded by sin, blinded by Satan, and broken by sin are going to find through the temple of your life and the Holy Ghost of God that inhabits your temple that power. Now, you have to ask yourself this question: Is there power in your life? Now, Jesus did these miracles, but He said, “Greater works than these that I do will ye do” (John 14:12)—that is, leading people to Jesus Christ.

C. A Place of Praise

Now, here’s the third thing. When the temple is cleansed, it will be a place of prayer, it will be a place of power, and it will be a place of praise. Look, if you will, in verse 15: “And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did...”—oh, I love that. Isn’t He wonderful?—“when [they] saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?” (Matthew 21:15–16). When Christ is working in His temple, it will be so obvious, and people will see Him working, and they will give Him glory.

Do you know what the desire of my heart is? When people get to know Adrian, they’ll praise Jesus. That is the desire of my heart. When people come in contact with me, when people meet me, and have been around me, they will want to love and praise the Jesus that I love. I am a temple. And, the purpose of the temple—it is to be a place of prayer, a place of power, and a place of praise, where praise goes up to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Now, these people who were there, they couldn’t understand what was happening; these Pharisees—look, the chief priests and scribes—the Bible says they saw the wonderful things that He did, and the people praising, and, very frankly, folks, it confused them. They couldn’t explain it, but they could not deny it.

Conclusion
I’ll tell you something else I want about me that I hope you want about you. I want there to be a quality in my life that people cannot explain but they cannot deny; something they cannot explain apart from Jesus Christ, but they cannot deny that there is something there. The only part of me that I have any right to ask anybody to believe in is the part they cannot explain apart from God. What is there from my life and your life that is inexplicable apart from the power of Almighty God?

You see, we are a temple of God. There is the profaning of the temple by a carnal life and a carnality that steals away the glory that belongs to Him. There is the purging of the temple, as our Lord with a whip of chastisement and a work of confusion just comes in. The God of love and the God of order does that. Why? That the purpose of the temple—a place of prayer, a place of power, and a place of praise—might be made known. Now, folks, it doesn’t apply to this building; it applies to you—applies to you. You—you are the temple.

There are some of you who have habits that you wouldn’t practice in here, but you’d practice out there. You know what I mean? You go out there and barbeque your testimony. Now, you wouldn’t do that in here, but you do it out there. Well, why wouldn’t you do it in here? You say, “Oh, well, this is the house of God.” You’re the house of God. There are people who use language, they use language out there in the office, in the schoolroom. They wouldn’t use it in here. I say, “Well, why wouldn’t you use that language in here?” “Oh, this is the house of God.” No! This is the house of God. You are the temple of God. And, don’t you let any thief steal the glory that belongs to Jesus. If you do, He’ll take a whip, and He’ll turn over your tables.

“Well,” you say, “He hasn’t turned mine over yet.” Well, maybe you just don’t belong to Him. He didn’t cleanse a pagan temple. Your body, your life—you are to be a place of prayer, a place of power, and a place of praise. And, people, by the very presence of God in His temple, in your life, are to say, “Hosanna to the son of David.”
“The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.”

Matt 22:2

Outline

Introduction
I. The King’s Wonderful Invitation
   A. It Is a Royal Feast
   B. It Is a Rich Feast
      1. Today’s Godless Youth Are Rootless
      2. Today’s Godless Youth Are Restless
      3. Today’s Godless Youth Are Ruthless
      4. Today’s Godless Youth Are Remorseless
   C. It Is a Ready Feast
II. The King’s Wrathful Indignation
   A. Frivolity
   B. Mockery
   C. Hostility
III. The King’s Willful Determination
   A. The Marriage Will Be Furnished with Guests
   B. The Guests Will Be Furnished with Garments

Conclusion

Introduction
Find Matthew 22, and when you have found it, look up here—Matthew chapter 22. Some years ago, I received an envelope, and it was from the White House, and I wondered why would I be receiving an envelope from the White House. Ronald Reagan was the president. And, when I opened it up, it said that Joyce and I were invited to come to the White House for a state dinner. Ronald Reagan was entertaining the president of another country, and Joyce and I were invited to come to a state dinner at the White House. I had to read it two or three times because I thought I was reading somebody else’s mail, but sure enough, we were invited. And so, we got out some of our better clothes and went to Washington. And, I still acted a little bit, I’m sure, out of place. When we got there, we realized others were coming in limousines. We came in a yellow cab. But, we went in, and it was a wonderful time, never to be forgotten.

But folks, I have a more wonderful invitation for you today—not to be invited to some state dinner by some president or some king, but the King of kings and the Lord of lords has invited you to a banquet in the honor of His dear Son. And, it is my privilege today—my privilege, I say—to offer that invitation to you. It is my good fortune to tell you that you have been invited to come celebrate Jesus.

I. The King’s Wonderful Invitation

Now, I want you to read here in Matthew chapter 22 about the King’s wonderful invitation. Read the first three verses: “And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables”—now, let me just pause here and say that a parable is an earthly story with a heavenly meaning. He—“spake unto them…by parables, and said, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son, and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.” (Matthew 22:1–3)

Now, here is a story of a king, a mighty potentate, who has a son that he dearly loves, and his son is being married. And, they’re going to have a great and a grand and a glorious feast. And, the king says, “Go out and issue these special invitations, and invite these people to come.” Now folks, let me just pause right now and say one of these days, there is going to be a celebration like you have never seen or heard about, and you are invited to come. And, my prayer is that you will not be in hell when all of that is going on.

Now, listen to me. I don’t want you to miss it. Revelation chapter 19, verse 7 tells us it’s going to be a celebration. It says, “Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready”—“be glad and rejoice.” (Revelation 19:7) In other words, “Let’s have a party!” Now, this parable was given to the Jewish nation, but it has a personal, as well as a national, application. I want you to see why I say it’s a celebration.

A. It Is a Royal Feast

Look at this feast. Look, for example, in verse 2. It is a royal feast. “The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.” (Matthew 22:2) Jesus is the royal Son of heaven’s King. Now folks, listen to me. You will never, never settle the sin question until you settle the Son question. This is a king who made a marriage for his son. Did you know that the whole Bible is written to tell you about God’s Son?

If you’re making notes, put a few in your margin here. Psalm 2—that’s the Old Testament. Psalm 2, verse 7: “I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me”— listen. Jesus is speaking—“the LORD hath said unto me”—“Jehovah has said unto me”—“Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.” (Psalms 2:7) Islam says that God does not beget and He cannot be begotten. They need to read this verse: “Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.” (Psalms 2:7) And then, that same psalm says, in Psalm 2, verse 12: “Kiss the Son, lest he be angry.” (Psalms 2:12) And then, the Lord Jesus Christ, that very Son Himself, said in John 3, verses 16 and 17: “For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.” (John 3:16–17)

Who is that? That’s Jesus, the Son of God. And then, John 3, verse 36—listen to it: “He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.” (John 3:36) And then, over in Matthew chapter 17 and verse 5, God spoke out of the glory and said, “This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.” (Matthew 17:5)

What am I saying, folks? This is a royal feast, and it honors the King’s Son. Listen to me. If you have never given your heart to Jesus, if you have never bowed the knee to Jesus Christ, you’re not right with the Father if you’re not right with the Son. You cannot honor the Father without honoring the Son.

† You see, suppose I had a wedding for my son and I said, “This is going to be the finest wedding that Joyce and I can possibly afford, and we’re having everything ready,” and then we invite you to come. And, we say, “You’re a special guest. You’ve been invited to come.” And, you might say, “Well, I’m not coming.” I say, “Why not?” “Well, I don’t like your son. As a matter of fact, I don’t want to have anything to do with your son. And, besides that, I don’t think much of you, either.” Well, friend, what an insult! Now, this is what so many are saying to God the Father.†

This is a royal feast. This is a king who has said, “I invite you.” And, to dishonor the Son is to dishonor the Father.

B. It Is a Rich Feast

But, not only is it a royal feast; it is a rich feast. Look, if you will, in verse 4: “Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed”—do you know what he’s talking about here? Filet mignon. What he’s talking here about is prime rib. What he’s talking here about is the very best—“and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.” (Matthew 22:4) This is not only a royal feast; it is a rich feast.

The devil wants to hide your eyes from the riches that we have in the Lord Jesus Christ. The devil wants you to think negatively about God rather than to think positively about God. Friend, there’s no way that I could describe unto you the things that God wants you to have in the Lord Jesus Christ. The devil doesn’t want you to see that.

I think of what happened out in Littleton, Colorado, and I compare that to John 10:10, where Jesus speaks about the devil, and it says, “The thief cometh not, but…to [kill], and to [steal], and to destroy”—but Jesus said—“I [have] come that [you] might have life, and that [you] might have it…abundantly.” (John 10:10) The devil doesn’t want you to see that. The devil wants you to think negatively about God. Think of these kids out there. Do you know what their problem was with these young men? They thought negatively about God. Let me tell you the four marks of today’s youth without God.

1. Today’s Godless Youth Are Rootless
First of all, these young people are rootless. They have no belief. Nobody has told them to come celebrate Jesus. Nobody has told them, or they have not accepted it if they have heard, the joys that they could have in the Lord Jesus Christ. And, they are rootless.

2. Today’s Godless Youth Are Restless
And, because they are rootless, they are restless. They’re looking here, they’re looking there, for something to fulfill them, and they drift into groups like the goths and these other things.

3. Today’s Godless Youth Are Ruthless
And then, because they are rootless and because they’re restless, they become ruthless. It’s nothing for them to take somebody else’s life because they don’t love themselves. Don’t think it’s wrong for somebody to love one’s self; it’s wrong not to love yourself. Jesus teaches that I’m to love you as I love me. We’re to love others as we love ourselves. And, a person who does not love himself or herself is dangerous. And, these people, they don’t care about life—theirs or anybody else’s. And so, these who are rootless and restless become ruthless.

4. Today’s Godless Youth Are Remorseless
And, they’re remorseless. The Bible speaks of them as being past feeling. They’ll blow you away for a pair of tennis shoes and sit in court and grin about it. That’s a generation that doesn’t understand the riches that we have in the Lord Jesus Christ.

I’m telling you, friend, the devil wants you to think negatively about God. It began in the Garden of Eden. In Genesis chapter 3, verse 1, the Bible says, “The serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the L ORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?” (Genesis 3:1) The first thing that Satan said about God was a negative thing. “Has God said that you shall not eat of every tree of the garden?” (Genesis 3:1) He wanted Eve to think negatively about God. Friend, God is a loving God. God is full of grace. He’s not severe and cruel. As I said, He’s not some cosmic killjoy who, every time He sees someone having fun, moves in to break up the fun, break up the party; everything is a no-no. Well, that’s not our God. As a matter of fact, what God had said to Adam and Eve when God put Adam and Eve in the garden was a resounding “yes” to their joy and their pleasure.

Now, in Genesis 3:1, Satan says, “Did God say you shall not eat of the fruit of every tree of the garden?” (Genesis 3:1) What a lie that was! Genesis 2, verse 16: The Bible says, “And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat.” (Genesis 2:16) Ha! There was only one tree that they couldn’t eat of. God had given them Eden with all of its bounties, all of its beauties, all of its blessings, and the devil wanted them to think negatively about God.

That’s the reason I have entitled the message today “Come Celebrate Jesus.” Friend, I am inviting you, not to a funeral; I’m inviting you to a feast. Listen to me. The Bible says in Psalm 37 and verse 4: “Delight thyself also in the LORD; and he will give you the desires of your heart.” (Psalms 37:4) Psalm 84, verse 11: “The LORD God is a sun and shield: the LORD will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.” (Psalms 84:11) The Bible tells us over there in 1 Timothy 6, verse 17 that it is God “who giveth us richly all things to enjoy.” (1 Timothy 6:17) There is a heaven. There is a hell. I would be a Christian if there were neither heaven or hell just to know the Lord Jesus Christ in this life. Don’t you let the devil get you to thinking negatively about God.

C. It Is a Ready Feast

Now, think about this feast. Think about this invitation. It is a royal feast to celebrate heaven’s King. It is a rich feast, and it is a ready feast. Look again at this scripture in verse 4. He says, “All things are ready.” (Matthew 22:4)

†One thing I’ve learned: when Joyce fixes a meal for us and says, “Come,” we’d better come—we’d better come. I mean, when it’s on the table, when the food is hot, and she’s worked and done all of this, and she says, “Come,” it is time to come, and there is no need to wait. We don’t have to beg for it. We don’t have to pay for it. We don’t have to pray for it. We come, sit, and dine!†

Now, what is all of this saying? This is saying that you cannot honor the Father without honoring the Son.

†Ronald Dunn told a story. Actually, he heard it from a man in Scotland named George Duncan. But, George Duncan knew of this situation. There was a man—a Britisher, a very, very wealthy man. This man had one son. He loved his son with all of his heart. The son got in the Royal Air Force in World War II, was shot down, died. Then the man’s wife died. The man, incredibly wealthy, had no heirs, so he left his entire estate—all of it—to charity, to churches, to worthy causes. It was all to be auctioned off, according to his will, and given to all of these things. But, he had one of the world’s greatest art collections, and the art collection was also to be offered and auctioned as a separate entity. And so, people from all over not only the British Empire, but the world, came because this was priceless art and this was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to get this art.

And so, they were sitting there, but the auctioneer from Sotheby’s stood up and said, “Ladies and gentlemen, according to the will, this piece of art is to be auctioned first.” And, there it was sitting on a tripod with a spotlight on it. It was a portrait. It was a portrait of the man’s son. Most of the people out there did not even recognize him, the man’s son, and the painter was not a known painter. And, nobody bid on it except for one man, an old servant in the family. And, the old servant knew the boy and thought it would be nice to have a painting of the boy; and so, the old servant bid on that particular painting. Nobody else bid. The auctioneer brought down his gavel and said, “This piece is sold, and the auction is over.” And then, the lawyer stood up and said, “We could not tell you this before, but in the will it was stipulated by the owner of all of this that whoever bought this picture gets the whole lot with it.”

I thought about that, and I said, “That’s so true.” Friend, God is so much in love with His Son. He said, “When you get Jesus, you get everything.”

And so, here’s a feast. It is a royal feast. It is a rich feast. It is a ready feast.

II. The King’s Wrathful Indignation

Now, here’s a second thing I want you to see: I want you to see, secondly, the king’s wrathful indignation. Look, if you will, in verses 3 through 7 here. The king now is very angry. And, why is it? “[He] sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come. Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage”—that is, come celebrate Jesus—“But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth”—underscore that. That means he was full of wrath—“and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.” (Matthew 22:3–7)

Now, it’s unbelievable—it is inconceivable—that you would receive an invitation from heaven’s King to come celebrate Jesus and you would not come. But, these said, “No.” Do you know the three reasons they said, “No”? Well, look here, and you’re going to find out.
A. Frivolity
In verse 3: “They would not.” (Matthew 22:3) That’s just frivolity. They were careless about it. It doesn’t say they could not come; they just would not come. They’re like some today who will hear me through television, through tape, or in this auditorium. You’ll hear me say to you, “Come celebrate Jesus,” but you won’t do it. It’s not that you could not. It is merely that you will not. You will not give it a serious thought. May God have mercy on you! And, may you come to the Lord Jesus today and not do that!

B. Mockery
But, not only frivolity, but—notice the progression now—the next step is mockery. Look, if you will, in verse 5. The Bible says, “They made light of it.” (Matthew 22:5) You see, if a person denies the Lord long enough, he moves from frivolity to mockery. He begins to joke about holy things, to trample under his feet the precious things of God. He laughs his way into hell, but he can’t laugh his way out.

C. Hostility
And then, that frivolity and that mockery turns to hostility. Look, if you will, in verse 6, and see what happens there: “And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.” (Matthew 22:6) There’s a great hostility today against heaven’s King, the Lord Jesus Christ. And, how it breaks my heart to think of this hostility that is there. Your heart can get progressively harder and harder, and that’s the reason the Bible says in Hebrews 3: “If today you’ll hear God’s voice, don’t harden your heart.” (Hebrews 3:7–8)

Listen to me, precious friend. Listen to me, please. God is inviting you to celebrate Jesus. Don’t pass it by. Your frivolity will turn to mockery, and your mockery will turn to hostility; and your heart will get harder and harder. God will not be mocked, however. (Galatians 6:7) And, the Bible says that the measure of His grace is also the measure of His wrath. The grace refused is the wrath that will be given to those who say “no” to God’s Son. You see, the Bible says that God bid them to come. (Matthew 22:3) Not only is it an insult; it is insurrection. To refuse to come to Jesus Christ is a clenched fist in the face of Almighty God.

III. The King’s Willful Determination
Now, here’s the third thing I want you to see: I want you to see the king’s willful determination. We’ve talked about His wrathful indignation. But notice, thirdly, the king’s willful determination. Begin in verse 8, and look at it: “Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy”—now, listen to this. Verse 9—“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.” (Matthew 22:8–10)

Now, what does the king say? Listen. There’s the king wonderful invitation. Some refused it. There’s the king’s wrathful indignation. But, there is the king’s willful determination. Know what God is saying? God is saying, “There’s going to be a wedding party. I am going to do it. And, the wedding is going to be furnished with guests. If these don’t come, others will come.” And friend, I want to tell you this: if you don’t come to Jesus, somebody else will. And, your refusal is not going to shut heaven down, and your refusal is not going to end the party. We’re going to celebrate Jesus. You can be burning in hell, but we’re going to celebrate Jesus.

He says, “Go out—go out and invite them. The wedding will be furnished with guests.” (Matthew 22:10) Now, what does he say to his servants? Look in verse 9. He says, “Go!” Who are His servants? I’m looking at His servants. We’re servants of the King. And, what is the King saying? He’s saying, “Go!”

And, where should we go? Look at it in verse 9. He says, “Go to the highways!” Now, he doesn’t say, “the highway”; he says, “the highways.” All of us have different routes that we travel, but God has commanded us that we are to go into the highways—as we go, to share the Lord Jesus Christ. And, what shall we say? Look in verse 9: “Bid [them] to the marriage.” (Matthew 22:9) That is, every one of us are commanded by the King to go into the highways, and we’re to say to those that we see, “Come celebrate Jesus.” That’s what He’s telling us to do. We are to invite people to a celebration.

And, who should we invite? Look, if you will, in verse 10. Who should we invite? He says, “[the] bad and the good.” (Matthew 22:10) Now listen, the King is saying to me, “Adrian, go!” “Where should I go? What should I say?” “Tell them to come to the celebration.” “Who should I invite?” “Adrian, invite the bad and the good. Invite the down-and-out. Invite the up-and-out. Invite the poor. Invite the rich. Invite the young. Invite the old. Invite them all. There’s none so bad he cannot be saved; there’s none so good he need not be saved. Invite them all to come to the party.” That’s what I’m doing this week, that’s what you’re to be doing this week, because He’s saying this to His servants. And, listen to me, friend. Who should we invite? Everybody.

And, how many should we invite? How many? Look in verse 9, and I want you to see this. Invite “as many as ye shall find.” (Matthew 22:9) Some party! It’s not limited. There are some people who believe in a limited atonement. There are some people who just believe that a certain few can be saved, but that’s not what this story says. He says, “Go out into the highway. Tell them to come to the wedding. Find the bad. Invite them to come. Find the good. Invite them to come.” (Matthew 22:9–10) How many shall we invite? As many as you can find!

Now folks, that’s your job. That’s your responsibility in this day in which we live. And, who should go? Who is it? Who is He talking to? Look in verse 8; look at it: “Then saith he to his servants…” (Matthew 22:8) Now, look up here at me. How many of you today claim to be a servant of God? Let me see your hand. Hold it up if you’re a servant of God. All right. Now listen, do you think this is put in this Bible just to fill up space? Well, I’m telling you, friend, He says, “Go!” He said, “Go into the highways.” He says, “Tell them to come to the celebration.” He says, “Tell the good to come. Tell the bad to come. Tell as many as you can find to come.”

Do you know what bothers me, Brother Whitmire? I’ll tell you what bothers me. It is the hands around us—the hands. You know what bothers me? The down-stretched hands from heaven. As our Lord is saying, “Go, invite them to come to the wedding,” there are the upstretched hands in hell, those who are burning in hell, saying, “Send somebody to warn my brothers that they not come to this place.” (Luke 16:27) There are the outstretched hands of this world that need to hear about the Lord Jesus Christ. Then, “Somebody come tell us.”

I think of these young men out there at Littleton wearing these black trench coats, saying, “Heil Hitler!” Bill Bennett said this morning on television, “If there were some students in that high school who’d been carrying a Bible and saying, “Hail, the King of kings and the Prince of Peace,” they would have brought them in and rebuked them, but not, “Heil Hitler!” “Oh, everybody has a right to express themselves.” Well, friend, not only do we have a right; we have an obligation. I’m telling you, wouldn’t it have been wonderful if somebody had gotten these boys and led them to Jesus? They feel that they need to be loved. Nobody understands them. They were outcasts. Jesus is saying, “Go out. Find the bad, find the good everywhere you go, and tell them to come to the party, come celebrate Jesus.” That’s to whom He’s saying it. He’s saying it to His servants.

We’re going to be having a crusade this week. And, very frankly, the success or failure of the crusade is sitting right out here. Some of you are going to be at ballgames. May God pity you! Some of you are going to be sitting at home watching television. Others are going to be cutting grass. Others doing this thing or that thing—laid back. The Bible says, “A son that sleeps in harvest is a shame to his father.” (Proverbs 10:5) This crusade will only be successful to the degree that you go as the servants of Almighty God, that you, as a servant, you, as a servant, will go to the highways. Find your friends this week, and tell them to come—come celebrate Jesus. Hands: the down-stretched hands of heaven; the upstretched hands from hell; the outstretched hands of this world; and the folded hands of God's people. May God have mercy! Are you a servant of the Lord Jesus Christ? I’m telling you, folks, “a son that sleeps in harvest is a shame to his father.” (Proverbs 10:5)

Now, think about the king’s willful determination. Several things I want you to see
A. The Marriage Will Be Furnished with Guests

First of all, the marriage will be furnished with guests. Look again at verse 10: “So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good”—now, don’t miss this—“and the wedding was furnished with guests.” (Matthew 22:10) I want to say, again, your refusal is not going to shut heaven down, and you’re not going to stop the party. You may be in hell while the party’s going on, but the party will go on. The King has determined it. This is the King’s willful determination. So, that’s the first thing I want you to see, is that the party will be furnished with guests.

B. The Guests Will Be Furnished with Garments

But, here’s the second thing I want you to see: the guests will be furnished with garments. It’s very important that you see this as we come to the close this morning. Look in verses 11 and following: “And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he”—that is, the man without the wedding garment—“was speechless. Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few are chosen.” (Matthew 22:11–14)

Now, let’s look at that for just a moment. The guests are going to be furnished with garments. Here’s a man who came to the wedding. Think about it. He wasn’t frivolous about it because he came. He wasn’t full of mockery, nor was he full of hostility. He offered no excuses. He’s there at the wedding party. And, the king comes in, and he looks at the guests. And, there’s a man who’s not dressed right. He’s not wearing a wedding garment. And, he is bound hand and foot and cast away. The Bible says that when the king asked him, “How come you don’t have on a wedding garment?” the man was speechless. Why was he speechless? Because he had nothing to say. I mean, he couldn’t say, “I didn’t know that I was supposed to have on a wedding garment.” He couldn’t say, “I didn’t have time to get a wedding garment.” Nor could he say, “I could not afford a wedding garment.” And, why? In these weddings in that day, the wedding garment was furnished at the door.

Can you imagine? They said, “Go out into the highways. Find the bad and the good, and bid them come to the marriage.” Here’s a beggar down there, a poor, pitiful, penniless beggar. “Friend, how would you like to go to a banquet?” “Where? Any banquet would be fine for me.” “To the palace.” “To the palace? Me? What for?” “Well, the king is going to put on a feast like you’ve never seen before, and he wants you.” “He wants me, this filthy beggar? He wants me to come? Look at these rags.” “Oh, that’s all right. That’s all right. The king, who has invited you, is the king who will clothe you in splendor. You come—you come.” And there, at the door, the servant says, “Give me those rags! Give me those rags! There. Go to the royal bath, bathe. Take this splendid garment, and put it on, and come celebrate the king’s son.” And, there he comes.

But, I see this man. Evidently, he felt he was all right like he was. “No, thank you. I don’t need that. I prefer to wear what I have on.” And then, with a little indignation, he says, “Do you mean to tell me that I am not dressed well enough?” You see, he represents so many who think they’re coming to the party, but they have never been clothed with the righteousness of the Lord Jesus Christ. They still have on the rags of their own self-righteousness. Listen to Isaiah 61, verse 10: “I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation.” (Isaiah 61:10) When you come to the party, it’s not only that you’re bidden. I’m telling you that He will take your rags of self-righteousness, and He will clothe you with the precious righteousness of the Lord Jesus Christ, which was purchased by the shed blood of Christ on that cross. So, we can say,

My hope is built on nothing less Than Jesus’ blood and righteousness.

[...] Dressed in His righteousness alone,
Faultless to stand before the throne.

—Edward Mote

When you go to the party, friend, you’re going to be dressed just right, because when you accept this invitation that I’m going to give you today, the Lord is going to say, “Yes, and I’ll take your old rags of self-righteousness, and I’ll give you a garment white, clean, pure to come and celebrate Jesus.”

Conclusion

Now, here’s a question. Let me ask you this question: Would you sign this letter? Would you sign it? It’s addressed to the King of heaven:

“Almighty God, I was sitting in Bellevue Baptist Church on April 25, 1999. I heard Adrian Rogers, your servant. He preached a message out of your Bible from Matthew 22. He said that you want to honor your Son. He said there’s going to be a royal wedding, a marriage of the Lamb. He said it’s going to be a royal feast. He said it’s a rich feast. He said it is a ready feast. And, he invited me. But, very frankly, I am not coming. I don’t care to celebrate your Son. Count me out! Have me excused. I don’t want to celebrate Jesus.”

Would you sign that letter? Or would you, on the other hand, say, “Just as I am without one plea, O Lamb of God, I come to thee.” I’m telling you, friend, there’s going to be a party, and you’re invited. And, if you refuse, you have insulted heaven’s King and you’re guilty of insurrection and have done despite to the Lord of glory. He’s the One who has invited you, and He has a robe for you to wear when you come to the party.
The King Is Calling
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: July 10, 1983
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:1–14

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.”
Matthew 22:9

Outline
Introduction
I. The Setting
II. The Son
III. The Serving
IV. The Supper
   A. A Royal Feast
   B. A Rich Feast
   C. A Ready Feast
V. The Scoffing
VI. The Sentence
VII. The Saved
VIII. The Speechless
Conclusion

Introduction
Matthew chapter 22. Do you have your Bibles? Wonderful. If you didn't, bring one next time. If you don't have one and can’t afford one, come see me. I'll get you one—personally get you one—if you don’t have a Bible and can’t afford one. Everybody ought to have a Bible, and everybody ought to bring a Bible when they come to church. We don't come to church just to hear a speech, to make an oration, but to look, together, into the Word of God. Matthew chapter 22, beginning in verse 1. Tonight, the title of our message is “The King is Calling.” Now, we know the King is coming, but the King is calling.

“And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son, and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come. Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city. Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So the servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests. And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless. Then said the king to his servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few are chosen.” (Matthew 22:1–14)

Now tonight, God has given me a wonderful privilege, and that is to extend to you, on His behalf and on behalf of His dear Son, an indescribably wonderful invitation. It is my good fortune to tell you that you—yes, you—have been invited by the King of heaven to the wedding of His Son. And tonight, I have the good fortune to tell you about it, and I pray that you pray for me, as I tell you that the King has called to you. And our Lord is issuing to you, through this His servant tonight, the most glorious, wonderful, and indescribably magnificent invitation that you could possibly receive.

I. The Setting

Now, let’s look at this passage of Scripture—and in order to understand any parable, you have to kind of get the background and the setting. So, first of all, in verses 1 and 2, I want you to see the setting of this parable. And you remember what a parable is: a parable is an earthly story with a heavenly meaning.

Now, let’s look at the scripture: “Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.” (Matthew 22:1–2) So, this is a parable about a wedding. And, we’re going to see in a moment that this illustrates the fullness of salvation that we have in the Lord Jesus Christ. And the joy and real beauty of a wedding is used to illustrate the glory of eternity with Jesus Christ. The book of the Revelation does the same thing, and you might want to put in your margin “Revelation chapter 19 and verse 7”: “Let us be glad and rejoice…for the marriage of the Lamb is come.” (Revelation 19:7)

What a day—what a day that’s going to be! How wonderful it’s going to be! It is a time of great gladness and of great joy. “Let us be glad and rejoice…for the marriage of the Lamb is come.” (Revelation 19:7) There is going to be, absolutely, as surely as Adrian Rogers is standing in this pulpit, an event known as the Marriage Supper of the Lamb, and there’s no need whatever for you to be in hell when all that’s going on because, you, my friend, have been invited tonight.

Now, this parable, as we’re going to see, was addressed to the Jewish nation, and it has specific application to the Jewish nation. But while it was written nationally, it also has a personal application as well as a national application. It has an application for every person here tonight, for indeed, not only has the Lord invited the people that we call today “the children of Israel,” but God has invited every man, woman, boy, and girl upon the face of the earth to the setting—an Oriental wedding.

II. The Son

Now, the next thing I want you to notice: not only the setting, but the son. Look, again, in verse 2: “The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.” (Matthew 22:2) Now, the son, here, represents the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is the Son of God. Jesus Christ is the royal Son of the King of glory, and it is absolutely important that you understand who God’s Son is because your eternal destiny hinges on your relationship not only to God the Father, but to God the Son. You will never settle the sin question until first of all you have settled the Son question.

There are some people who have the idea that they can be right with God without being right with God’s Son. I talked with Bill Murray, who was the son—is the son—of Madalyn Murray O’Hair, the famous, or infamous, atheist. Bill Murray and I were in Washington to testify in some hearings on the matter of school prayer, and I watched Bill Murray. And I noticed a sadness in his life, in that there was something about this boy who had been raised in an atheistic home and now was telling everybody that he was a believer, that he believed in God, and that he believed that children ought to be free to pray in school. He and his mother were the principals in that famous Baltimore case that caused the Supreme Court to rule—seemingly, at least—against voluntary prayer in schools. We know the fact of the thing is that voluntary prayer, for the most part, has been removed from our school classroom.

Now, I watched him, and there was something that just didn’t seem to ring true. And I was on the subway with him—and I just know that when a man has Jesus in his heart, he has joy in his heart and he has life. My spirit was not bearing witness. I said to this young man, “Bill, I’m supposed to go back to Memphis; you’re supposed to go back to Houston. And I will cancel my plane reservations if you’ll cancel yours. And I want us to go to a hotel room, and I want to talk to you, son. Will you do it?”

He did. We went into a hotel room. And for several hours, with an open Bible, I talked to him about what it means to be saved and to know Jesus Christ as his personal Lord and Savior. And when I finished, I said, “Bill, have you done this?” “Oh,” he said, “yes, I believe in God.” I said, “Bill, I’m not asking you that. Have you asked Jesus Christ to come into your heart as your Lord and your Savior?” He said, “I believe in God. Isn’t that enough?” I said, “No, it’s not enough.” I said, “Is Jesus Christ the Lord of your life? Have you ever repented of your sin and received Christ as your personal Savior?” He said, “Not in that sense. I’ve not done it.” I said, “Will you do it?” He thought it over; he hesitated. He said, “No. No, I will not do that. I cannot do that.” He said, “If you say that ‘Jesus Christ is God, and I believe in God; and He is God,’ what difference does it make?” I said, “Bill, it makes a lot of difference. Jesus said, ‘No man [can come to the Father, but by me.’” (John 14:6) You cannot honor God the Father without honoring God the Son. And God is interested in His Son. God has said, ‘This is my beloved Son… hear ye him.’ (Matthew 17:5) No one comes through the Father except through Jesus, the Son.” We prayed; we agonized, and we wept. And that night, he did not say yes to Jesus Christ. He has, since that night. I praise God for that—that he is now testifying that he has had a born-again experience, receiving Christ as his personal Savior and Lord.

Now, I want to make something clear, dear friend: it is not enough that you say that you believe in God the Father. Let me show you some scriptures here. Look, if you will, in Psalms chapter 2 for just a moment. You know, there are some people who think that the idea of the Son of God is a New Testament concept. But look, if you will, in Psalms chapter 2: “The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed.” (Psalms 2:2) Do you know what another word for anointed is? Christ. The Greek word Christos is the New Testament counterpart of this Old Testament word anointed. A christened one is an anointed one, so let me read it this way: “The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against [Jehovah], and…his [Christ].” (Psalms 2:2) Now, skip on down to verse 12: “Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.” (Psalms 2:12) In whom? In the Son. “Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish.” (Psalms 2:12) There is no way that you can escape the fixes of hell and the wrath of God unless you know God’s precious, wonderful Son.

Let me show you this same thing in John, the third chapter. Turn to the third chapter of John for a moment. Look with me in some very familiar scriptures. Is there a boy or a girl who does not know John 3:16 by heart? But listen to it in the idea of the parable of Matthew 22. John 3:16: “For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him”—God’s Son—“should not perish, but have everlasting life”—that’s exactly what Psalm 2 has just told us. Listen to verse 17—“For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him”—through whom? Through God’s Son—“might be saved.” (John 3:16–17) Skip on down to John chapter 3 and verse 36: “He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.” (John 3:36) You might turn to Matthew chapter 17 and verse 5, where God spoke out of the glory and said, “This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.” (Matthew 17:5) You cannot honor the Father and deny the Son at the same time.

You say, “Well, I don’t understand that.” There may be some Unitarian-minded person, or someone else, who says, “I don’t understand the Christian doctrine of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. I don’t understand how God the Father and God the Son can be coequal and coeternal.” Well, friend, I’m glad there are some things about God that you can’t understand and that I can’t understand. As a matter of fact, I wouldn’t have any confidence in a God that I could understand.

Someone has said about the Trinity: “Try to explain it, you’ll lose your mind; deny it, you’ll lose your soul.” God says, “This is my…Son; hear ye him.” (Matthew 17:5) “Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way.” (Psalms 2:12) Back again in Matthew chapter 22—this is the parable about the Son of God. Verse 2 says, “The kingdom of heaven is like a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.” (Matthew 22:2) God loves His Son, and God wants a bride for His Son.

III. The Serving

Now, the third thing I want you to notice: not only the setting and the son, but I’d like for you to notice the serving. There were some servants, therefore, and verse 3 tells us about them: “And [he] sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come”—not the servants would not come, but the people would not come, to whom the invitation was given—“Again, he sent forth other servants, saying… Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.” (Matthew 22:3–4)

Now, who are these servants that the king is sending forth to invite other people to the wedding? Friend, you want to know who the other servants are? Look around. That’s us. The servants are soul winners who have been commissioned by the King of glory to go and invite people to this wedding. And I said tonight, I had a wonderful privilege that is mine, but it is not mine alone—it is yours also. And the great burning, crying need of the hour is not for more preachers to stand behind the pulpit, but for more people in the pew—laymen with the soul winner’s heart and a servant’s heart who will obey the King of heaven and go out and invite people to the marriage of His Son.

Now, listen to me. The great heart of God yearns—yearns—for people to come to this wedding. He has invited you. He wants you to come. And, therefore, it is our duty, it is our obligation, and it is our responsibility to invite all that we know to this wedding. You are never more like the Son than when you’re out winning souls.

Now, this month—I don’t know whether you’ve noticed the posters or not—but it’s built around the idea of hands. The first month, those hands were reaching up. The next month, those hands on that plaque and that poster were reaching inward. This month, they’re reaching outward. There are some hands that cause my heart to be concerned, that move me; they are the down-stretched hands of the Savior—the nail-pierced hands, as He stretches forth His hands to us, as He says, “Go, invite people.” But not only are there the down-stretched hands from heaven; there are the upstretched hands from hell. Did you know that the people in hell are concerned about soul winning? In the sixteenth chapter of the book of Luke, there’s a man in hell who said, “Send somebody to warn my brothers, lest they come to this place of torment.” (Luke 16:28) And in hell, there are hands that are stretched out, imploring us to go and to preach.

Friend, not only are there the down-stretched hands of the Savior and the upstretched hands of the lost, but there are the outstretched hands of the people without Christ—people who are stretching out their hands to you and saying, “Come over and help.” Now, they may not literally stretch their hands out, and they may not do it with their voice; but if you will watch, we’re living in a world of people who are hurting. And they are agonizing, and they are just like you. You came to Christ. You’re happy in Jesus. You’re glad that somebody told you about Jesus. And the world is filled with people just like you who are waiting for someone to go. The down-stretched hands from heaven, the upstretched hands from hell, and the outstretched hands of a lost world, saying, “Come over and help us.” And I tell you, the hands that really concern me are the folded hands of our members. We sit here—complacent, fat, sleek, well-fed, well-housed sheep. “This is a day of good tidings, and surely some mischief is going to come upon you if we hold our peace.” (2 Kings 7:9) One of these days, we’re going to face our Lord with bloody hands, unless we witness, unless we are the key servants to go out and tell them that the royal invitation has been issued from the King of glory.

There was a preacher who kept, in his study, a painting. The painting was of a shipwreck, and there were lifeboats out there. And there were sailors in the lifeboats, and there were people in the water floating around on bits of the boat and bits of debris. And the men in the lifeboats were reaching out, and, with their hands, they were grasping the hands of those in the water so as to pull them in the boat; and their hands were joined. A little boy came into the study, and he looked at that painting of those in the lifeboats reaching down to those in the water. And being a little boy, not understanding about shipwrecks, he said to his daddy—he said, “Daddy, are they trying to save those people by just shaking hands with them?”

I wonder about us—I mean, when souls are perishing. It’s all right, friend, to have friends. It’s all right to glad-hand people. It’s all right to welcome people and say, “We’re glad to have you here.” But I tell you, that person sitting next to you tonight may be lost and on the road to hell. And wouldn’t it be a shame—wouldn’t it be a crime—if all we do is shake hands with them rather than to rescue the perishing and care for the dying and we don’t so live, and don’t so pray, and don’t so witness that those people who sometimes occupy the seat next to us are going to die and go to hell because we really didn’t care, we were so anxious to get out during the invitation, or we let our mind gather wool when the preacher is pleading for souls, and we don’t pray, “God have mercy upon us”?

The servants are soul winners. The need of the hour is men and women with a servant’s heart who will hear things of heaven and go to the invitation.

IV. The Supper

Now, the fourth thing I want you to notice—I want you to notice the supper. Look again in verse 4: “Again, he sent forth the servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.” (Matthew 22:4) Now, the supper represents the joy of salvation. Remember, I’ve already told you that the book of the Revelation says, “The marriage of the lamb is come. Let us rejoice and be glad.” (Revelation 19:7) Now, if you’re not a Christian, listen to me, please. When I invite you to Jesus Christ, I am not inviting you to a funeral; I’m inviting you to feast. My dinner is now ready. There are some people who get the idea that in order to be saved they have to stop having joy. Notice what this feast is.

A. A Royal Feast

First of all, it’s a royal feast—a feast. The King of heaven has invited you to an occasion. You’ve been invited to the “White House.” And I want to tell you that I’m so blessed when an invitation comes to my desk with that kind of invitation on it, and there, it’s from the president of the United States. That impresses me. But, my friend, that’s insignificant. To think that the God of heaven—God—has invited you to a royal feast.

B. A Rich Feast

But not only is it a royal feast; it is a rich feast. He says—look at it: “My oxen and my fatlings are killed.” (Matthew 22:4) Do you know what that means? That’s not pork and beans, folks; that’s not tube steak. That’s the best. That is the best of the very best—a royal feast, a rich feast.

You remember the wedding feast in John, the second chapter, when Jesus provided the refreshments. They ran out of wine—not intoxicating wine. It’s not what it was now. But Jesus turned water into wine. And when the host, the master of ceremonies—when he tasted it, he said, “I’ve never tasted anything like this before.” Can you imagine what it’s going to be like when He prepares the whole meal, folks? I mean, the whole thing—from hors d’oeuvres all the way to the finish, from the dessert and the refreshments, as well as the feast.
C. A Ready Feast

Look at it again: “All things are ready”—verse 4—“come unto the marriage.” (Matthew 22:4) You see, friend, I’m not inviting you to something that you have to beg God for and perhaps He’ll save you and perhaps He won’t. It’s ready. It’s for you. He has prepared it. He sent me to invite you, and He’s told you to invite others. He wants you to come in so that the wedding may be filled.

Oh, the joy of salvation! I’m not about to tell you that if you come to Jesus Christ, you’re not going to have any troubles. You’re going to have trouble whether you come to Jesus Christ or whether you don’t, friend. “Man that is born of woman is…full of trouble.” (Job 14:1) But I’m telling you that if you come to Jesus Christ, regardless of what troubles come your way, you’re going to have “joy unspeakable…full of glory.” (1 Peter 1:8)

A man named Mr. L. B. Bridgers lost his family in a wild and tragic fire, but later on he wrote these words:

There’s within my heart a melody
Jesus whispers sweet and low:
Fear not, I am with thee, peace, be still,
in all of life’s ebb and flow.

Jesus, Jesus, Jesus,
sweetest name I know,
fills my every longing,
keeps me singing as I go.

—LUTHER B. BRIDGERS

This was after his wife and family were lost in a fire. Friend, tragedy may come to us. Heartache may come to us all. Sickness may come to us all. Sorrow may come to us all. But only joy comes to those who know Jesus Christ as their personal Savour. And His salvation, here, is a feast—a royal feast, a rich feast, and a ready feast—verse 4.

V. The Scoffing

But now, the next thing I want you to notice: not only the supper (verse 4), but I want you to notice the scoffing (verses 5 and 6). You would think that people would be thrilled to come to this supper, but notice in verse 5: “But they made light of it, and went their ways”—they scoffed; they sneered at it; they sniffed at it—“one to his farm, another to his merchandise: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.” (Matthew 22:5–6) It’s almost unbelievable, it’s inconceivable, that men would treat the King of glory—their Creator, their Ruler, their Sovereign—this way; but indeed, they did. And indeed, they do.
And I want you to notice the progressive steps of their unbelief. Look, for example, in verse 3: “And [he] sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.” (Matthew 22:3) That’s indifference. But now, notice in verse 5: “But they made light of it” (Matthew 22:5)—that’s mockery. And now, notice verse 6: “And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them” (Matthew 22:6)—that’s hostility. Do you see the progressive hardening of the heart? First of all, indifference to the call of God; secondly, mockery at the call of God; thirdly, hostility to the invitation of God. What is our Lord showing us in this parable? He’s showing us that when a man hears an invitation from the King of heaven, if he is indifferent to that invitation, if he does not receive that invitation, he doesn’t stay just where he is; his heart becomes increasingly harder. The Bible says in Hebrews chapter 3 and verse 7: “To day if ye will hear [God’s] voice, Harden not your hearts.” (Hebrews 3:7–8)

We used to tell a story about Mr. Fridtjof Nansen, who was an explorer from Oslo, Norway. Mr. Nansen went to the Arctic, and he left his wife there in Oslo. They did not have the modern means of communication—helicopters and radios and things—in that day. And this man, who was an explorer, went, and for over two years—thirty long months—she had not heard from her husband. She did not know whether he was dead or alive, perhaps frozen in some arctic waste. She sat and waited and prayed. But on a given day, as she sat by her windowsill, a little dove circled by her house and made his way down to that particular windowsill, that one windowsill in all of the earth that he was trained to come to, because he was a homing pigeon. And that dove lighted on that windowsill and pecked on the glass panes.

When she saw it, she threw open the window, reached out, and gathered that little feathery arrow into her hands, and she kissed that dove again, and again, and again. And she kissed it, and she looked down on its leg; and there was a little twill tied to the leg of that dove. And in there was a little tissue paper. With trembling hands, she unfolded that tissue paper and read these words: “All is well.” That’s all it said: “All is well.” But can you imagine the joy of receiving that message? Now, could you, in your wildest imagination, imagine Mrs. Fridtjof Nansen sitting there in her chair when that little dove would come and light and peck on her windowsill? Can you imagine her continuing to go on with her knitting, going on with her cooking, and not paying any attention to that little animal just gently pecking, wanting to come in? Or, even more, can you imagine her, in hostility, driving it away? I want to tell you, my dear friend, that the Holy Spirit is God’s dove sent from heaven to tell you that God loves you. There’s a message from God.

The Holy Spirit is gentle. Don’t ignore Him. Don’t drive him away. Don’t be indifferent to the calling of God. You may so insult the Holy Spirit—you may so drive the Holy Spirit away—that He will not speak to you again. God says, “My spirit shall not always strive with man.” (Genesis 6:3) I cannot believe that human beings would treat an invitation from glory the way these human beings treated that king in that day. And yes, I can believe it, because I’ve done enough witnessing to know that some will be indifferent, others will scoff and scorn, and some will be absolutely hostile. The Bible says, “The time will come when they who kill you will think they will do God a favor.” (John 16:2)

VI. The Sentence

Now, the next thing I want you to see, not only the scoffing, but I want you to see the sentence. Notice in verse 7: “But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.” (Matthew 22:7) Now, what is Jesus telling us in this parable? Is God a God of love? Yes, He is, but God is also a God of justice, He’s also a God of wrath, and He’s also a God of holiness. And you cannot trample under your feet the blood of His Son; you cannot do despite unto His Holy Spirit and not face the wrath of a holy God. (Hebrews 10:29) And so, here is God’s invitation that has turned to indignation.

Do you know why Jesus’ heart was broken as He sat upon the Mount of Olives? You see, you’re going to have to understand Matthew chapter 22 in the light of Matthew chapter 23. You see, Jesus knew that the people of that day that had stoned the prophets would crucify Him and they would reject the invitation of God’s King. He gave us this parable in Matthew chapter 22. And then, look, if you will, in chapter 23, and begin reading in verse 37. Here is what the Lord Jesus is saying, with salty tears forcing down His cheeks—remember that king destroyed their city: “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.” (Matthew 23:37–38) Jesus knew what was going to happen. This is why Jesus wept. Jesus prophesied not one stone would be left upon another. (Matthew 24:2; Mark 13:2; Luke 21:6)

In the next chapter of Matthew, in 70 AD, the words of Jesus were fulfilled. Titus, the Roman governor, came, and judgment fell. The streets of Jerusalem flowed with blood, like water runs down the gutters of Memphis, Tennessee, after a heavy rain. There were thousands upon thousands, upon thousands, upon thousands of crosses that were erected in that city. On every cross there was a crucifixion, as the Romans took the inhabitants to that city and nailed them on crosses. Don’t think Jesus was the only one nailed upon a cross. History tells us that there were so many crosses made that there were not enough trees to make any more crosses. They cut down the trees. The blood ran through the city. They destroyed the crops. Cannibalism stalked Jerusalem after the onslaughts of Titus so that people were killing and eating their own children and killing and eating one another. Jesus knew that it would happen. Jesus said, “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem! How often would I have gathered you, but you would not! You would not.” (Matthew 23:37; Luke 13:34) Chapter 22, verse 7 tells us that the king was wroth: “[The king] was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers.” (Matthew 22:7)

Now, Titus was a pagan, and Rome was a pagan government. Somehow we get the idea, because we are, quote, “a Christian country,” that somehow we’re God’s little darlings, and the Russians, or the Chinese, or the Cubans can’t do anything to us. Don’t you kid yourself. “Unto whomsoever much [has been] given, of [the same] shall…much [be] required.” (Luke 12:48) And there’s nothing to say that we might not suffer a holocaust in this country worse than anything that happened to the Jews in that day. We have had a word from God. There’s been more preaching in America than any other country. You can tune your radio, you can tune your television, you can go to your bookstore—you can, anywhere—Bibles are everywhere. I’m preaching on the radio, but I tell you, what we have in America, we have those, number one, who are indifferent; we have, number two, those who scoff; and we have, number three, those who are absolutely hostile. And the King of heaven sees it, and I wonder how long He’s going to hold back His judgment. “For unto whomsoever much is given, of [the same] shall…much [be] required.” (Luke 12:48) That is the sentence.

VII. The Saved
But now, I want you to notice the saved. Look, if you will, in verses 8 through 10: “Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage”—now, that’s what I’m doing; that’s what you’re doing. That’s what we’re up to. Anybody that we find, young or old, rich or poor, invite them to the marriage—“So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both good and bad: and the wedding was furnished with guests.” (Matthew 22:8–10)

Pay attention to me. You’re not going to stop God with what He’s up to, and God is going to build His Church. “I will build my church.” (Matthew 16:18) Every now and then, I hear people say, “Well, the Christian era is over, and the Church is on its way out.” That’s absolutely, totally ridiculous. If you won’t receive the gospel, somebody else will. And I want to tell you that if you refuse Jesus Christ, you’re not going to shut heaven down; you’re just going to shut you out; that’s all. “The wedding was furnished with guests.” (Matthew 22:10) “I will build my church.” (Matthew 16:18) People are going to be saved. And the fact that you do not come to this wedding doesn’t mean that there’s not going to be a wedding, and it does not mean that the God of glory is not going to have a bride for His Son. But the point is, why should you be lost while others are being saved? Why should you miss this blessing? Because anybody may be saved. You may refuse, if you will, but others are not going to refuse. And there will be many in heaven, and you can be one of them.

VIII. The Speechless
Now, the last thing I want you to notice: not only the saved, but I want you to notice the speechless. Look, if you will, in verse 11: “And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless”—the man was speechless—“Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.” (Matthew 22:11–13)

Now, here’s a strange man. He doesn’t fit in the first category of those who are, number one, indifferent; those, number two, who are mocking; and those, number three, who are hostile. This man was invited, and he said, “All right, all right, I’ll come,” and he came. And the king comes in and looks at him and says, “What are you doing here without a wedding garment on?” And you need to understand an Oriental wedding. In an Oriental wedding—and especially the wedding of a king—the wedding garment was provided by the host. In that day, you didn’t provide your own food, and you didn’t provide your own wedding garments. As you would come to the door, you would be given a beautiful change of clothing so no matter who you were, you would not appear before the king without a beautiful garment on.

Now, what happened to this man was this: that he had refused the wedding garment that was offered to him. He tried to get into the wedding without the wedding garment. Now, the Bible says, when the king said to him, “How did you come in here without a wedding garment?” he was speechless (Matthew 22:12); that means he had no excuse. He couldn’t say he didn’t know because the wedding garments were there at the door. He couldn’t say he had no time, for he had time then. He could not say that he didn’t have any money, for the wedding garment was free.

Now, there are some of you who are sitting in this church tonight who have never been saved, never been born again, and you think that the whole message has been to everybody else. You say, “Well, I’m not one of those indifferent, I’m not one of those mockers, and I’m not one of those hostile people. I’m going.” Well, I want to ask you a question: Do you have a wedding garment? Have you been clothed with salvation? You see, there are some of you who are going to be absolutely speechless when you stand before the King of heaven because you’re religious, but you are lost; you’re a church member, but you’ve never been born again. You’re dressed in the rags of your self-righteousness rather than the wedding garment of His righteousness.

Conclusion

Now, let me give you a verse of Scripture. Isaiah chapter 61 and verse 10: “I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness.” (Isaiah 61:10) Can you say that: “He hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe or righteousness”? (Isaiah 61:10)

When He shall come with trumpet sound,
Oh may I then in Him be found.
Dressed in His righteousness alone,
Faultless to stand before the throne.

—Edward Mote

Sad, indeed, it will be for those who go to hell who were indifferent to the gospel. Tragic, indeed, it will be for those who suffer eternity without Christ who made light of the gospel. Pitiful, indeed, it will be for those who will go to hell who were hostile to the gospel. But, doubly tragic, horribly pitiful, for those who sang in the choir, for those who served as deacons, for those who preached the gospel, for those who gave of their money, for those who acted as ushers and all of the rest of it, who were religious but lost, and somehow think that they can come to the wedding without a wedding garment.

I’m not trying to make you doubt your salvation, but I want to ask you a question: Do you know you’re saved? How do you know you’re saved? Because you walked down some aisle and shook hands with a preacher? That can’t save you. Because you’re baptized? That can’t save you. Because you’re a member of Bellevue? That can’t save you. You know the plan of salvation? That can’t save you. You’re not saved by the plan of salvation; you’re saved by the man of salvation, and His name is Jesus. You can know the plan. A lot of people know the plan; they’re not saved. I’m asking you: Do you have a wedding garment?

One of these days, you’re going to stand before Him, and the Judgment will be there, and the wedding of the Lamb will be there, and you will realize that you have utterly no excuse. You can’t say that you didn’t know because I told you so. You can’t say because you didn’t have time because you have time tonight. You can’t say, well, you didn’t have any money to buy a garment because the garment is free. The King of heaven has sent an invitation.

I’m finished, but let me ask this question: Would you sign this letter? Listen. Would you sign this letter to the King of heaven? That’s to whom it’s addressed: “While sitting in Bellevue Baptist Church on Sunday night, July the 10th, 1983, I received a very pressing invitation from your servant, Adrian Rogers, to the marriage of your only begotten Son. I pray thee, have me excused.” Would you sign that letter? “On July the 10th, 1983, I received a pressing invitation from your servant, Adrian Rogers, who invited me to the marriage of your Son. Have me excused. I don’t wish to come.”

You say, “No, I’d never sign it.” Well, friend, whether you sign it or not, you’ve done just as well if, tonight, you don’t give your heart to Jesus Christ.
The King Is Calling
By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: August 2, 1992
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:1–14
Main Scripture Verse: “And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.” Matthew 22:1–2

Outline
Introduction
I. The Setting
II. The Son
III. The Servants
IV. The Supper
   A. A Royal Feast
   B. A Rich Feast
   C. A Ready Feast
V. The Scoffers
   A. Indifference
   B. Mockery
   C. Hostility
VI. The Sentence
VII. The Salvation
VIII. The Speechless
Conclusion

Introduction
Take God’s Word tonight, and be finding Matthew chapter 22, would you, please? When you’ve found it, look up here—Matthew chapter 22.

You never know what you’re going to get when you open the mail. I went to the mailbox some time ago—actually, the year was 1986; the month was September—and I opened the mail. There was a very special envelope there, and up in the corner it said “The White House.” And when I opened the mail, it was an invitation, and this is what it said. It said, “The President and Mrs. Reagan request the pleasure of the company of Dr. and Mrs. Rogers at dinner on Wednesday, September 10, 1986, at 7:30 o’clock.” And then, in the left-hand corner, it said, “Black tie.” “Well,” I said, “Joyce, how about this? They want us to come to the White House to dinner.”
And I can tell you, we did go. And I can tell you, it was a very interesting affair. And we got there, and there was a long line of limousines. It was one of those state dinners, and those limousines were lined up and letting people out. And Joyce and I arrived in a rag-tag taxi. But once we got inside, no one else knew the difference, because I had a black tie just like everybody else and a beautiful wife by my side. It was a thrill, and I would be less than honest if I did not tell you that it was a thrill to go to a state dinner in the Rose Garden of the White House. But what I thrilled to at that time is nothing to be compared to what God has prepared for every one of us described here in this twenty-second chapter of the Gospel of Matthew.

And as God's envoy tonight, I want to issue to you the greatest invitation, I believe, that you'll ever receive. I want you to see what it says: "And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables,"—now, let’s just pause right there and say that, you know what a parable is? It's a story laid down alongside something else, and it's very close to the word parallel, so there's a truth here. And there's a story that parallels that truth called a parable. Someone has well described a parable as “an earthly story with a heavenly meaning.” That is, there's more than meets the eye in a parable. Now Jesus, the Master Teacher, taught often by parables—“and [he] said, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son, and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come. Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city. Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests. And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless. Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few are chosen.” (Matthew 22:1–14)

The King is calling, and He's calling you. I want you to see some things tonight as we look at this parable.
I. The Setting
First of all, I want you to see the setting of it. The setting in this parable is an Oriental wedding, and the Lord is saying that salvation is like a wedding. And, right out, I want to tell you, dear friend, that our Lord is inviting you to a feast and not a funeral when our Lord invites you to salvation. He’s saying that salvation is like a wedding, because, you see, a wedding is a thing of joy and rapture. And God has chosen this to illustrate the joys, the thrills, of knowing our Lord. As a matter of fact, when we get to heaven, one of the things that we’re going to enjoy in heaven is what the Bible calls the Marriage Supper of the Lamb. You can read about that in Revelation chapter 19, verse 7, where the Bible says, “Let us be glad and rejoice...for the marriage of the Lamb is come.” (Revelation 19:7) So, when I invite you to salvation, when I offer this invitation to you tonight, it’s not something that is morose. There’s something wonderful that’s going on, and there’s something even more wonderful that’s going to happen: the marriage of the Lamb. And, my precious friend, I don’t want you to be in hell when all of that is going on. I don’t want you to miss it.

Now in this parable here—and we’re just talking about the setting—Jesus is talking to the Jewish people, and He is warning them against refusing His offer of salvation. And so the primary application is to the Jew, but it is more than national; it can also be personal, and it is certainly universal. And there are certain universal principles that are here tonight.

II. The Son
And so I want us to see, as we jump right into it, I want us to see, first of all, the key person in this parable. Look, if you will, in verse 2: “The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.” (Matthew 22:2) Now the key in this parable is the son of the king, and it represents the Lord Jesus Christ, who is the royal Son of the King of heaven. You don’t have to be too bright or too intelligent to figure that out. And what this parable is teaching, my dear friend, is your eternal destiny—are you listening?—your eternal destiny hinges on God’s Son and your relationship to Him.

Now the problem is the sin question, but you cannot solve the sin question until you relate yourself to the Son question. You don’t have any chance of salvation—you have no hope of heaven—apart from the Son of God. The entire Bible was written to tell you about the Son of God: the Old Testament and the New Testament. The hero of the Bible is God’s Son. I was reading recently in Psalm 2 and verse 7 where God the Father speaks to the Lord Jesus and says, “Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.” (Psalm 2:7) And in prophecy, God the Father speaks of the birth of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and His incarnation: “Thou art my Son.” (Psalm 2:7) And He goes on to say in that same second psalm, warning the nations, “Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way.” (Psalm 2:12) That's the Old Testament, but it speaks of the Son of God.

And then you come to the New Testament, that classic passage, John chapter 3 and verse 16, where it says, “For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him”—in God's Son—“should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him”—through God's Son—“might be saved.” (John 3:16-17) And that's the reason the Bible says in John chapter 3 and verse 36, “He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life;”—but listen to this—“but the wrath of God abideth on him.” (John 3:36) There is no possible way that you can be right with the King without being right with the King's Son. That's what this parable is going to tell us. And, you see, when the Lord Jesus Christ was transfigured, God the Father spoke out of heaven, and God the Father said in Matthew chapter 17 and verse 5, “This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.” (Matthew 17:5)

Jesus is the Son of God, and being the Son of God makes Him co-equal and co-eternal with God. My son is like me. He's not a cow. He's not a bird. He's not a Buick. He's not a saxophone. He is my son. Therefore, because he's my son, he's of the same nature and essence as I am. Jesus Christ is the very Son of God. You say, “Well, I don't understand that. Do we worship one God or three Gods?” Friend, we worship one God who has revealed Himself as three persons for all eternity. Jesus did not become the Son of God at Bethlehem. He has always been the Son of God. If God is the everlasting Father, then an everlasting Father has to have an everlasting Son. You say, “I don't understand it.” Well, congratulations! I don't understand it either. As a matter of fact, I was reading recently in the book of Isaiah, where God says, “What are you going to compare me with?” (Isaiah 46:5) Somebody says, “What's it like?” It's not like anything. You say, “Well, I don't understand it.” Don't let that worry you. Einstein didn't understand electricity; neither do you. I heard Dr. Havner say one time, “I don't understand electricity, but I'm not going to sit around in the dark until I do.” Somebody has said, concerning the Trinity, “Try to define it, you lose your mind. Deny it, you lose your soul.” “This is my beloved Son.” (Matthew 17:5) There's a King. He made a supper for His Son.

III. The Servants
Not only do I want you to see the son, but I want you to see the servants. Look, if you will, in verse 3: “And [he] sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.” (Matthew 22:3) Do you know what the need of the hour today is? It is for servants who are willing to issue the wedding invitation. God is sending forth His servants. The servants are soul winners, but you'll not be a soul winner without a servant spirit. Do you want to be like Jesus? Do you? I don't believe that you're ever more like Jesus than when you're seeking the lost. Jesus Christ said of Himself in Luke 19, verse 10, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." (Luke 19:10) My dear friend, if you want to be like the Lord Jesus Christ, you need to be a servant, doing what the King of heaven wants you to do: going out and saying, "There's a supper, a royal supper, and you have been invited."

Look at your hands tonight. There are some hands, when I think about them, that bother me. Let me tell you what hands bother me, that cause me concern: the down-stretched hands of Almighty God, as He stretches out His hands in supplication to His Church; the nail-pierced hands, as the Lord says, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" (Isaiah 6:8) I'll tell you, some other hands that bother me are the upstretched hands from the very pit of hell, as there's a man described in Luke 16 who says, "I have some brothers who are not saved. Send somebody to warn them, lest they come to this place." (Luke 16:28) I'll tell you some other hands that bother me. They're outstretched hands. There are people who are saying, "Come over and help us. Give us the message." And I'll tell you, there are people in this world who would shout for joy to hear the message that puts some people to sleep in the pew: stretched-out hands, saying, "Come help us." But I'll tell you, the hands that bother me the most are the folded hands of God's people. We're not servants. We're not taking the message. We're not sharing the message of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I was reading the other day that in almost every city in America today there is a Buddhist temple. Have you ever seen a fat Buddha? I've got some Baptists I'd like to volunteer to be the idol: "Feed me, pastor." Friend, I don't care what else you do—I don't care how well you sing; I don't care how eloquently you teach; I care not how circumspectly you walk; I care not how sacrificially you give—if you're not endeavoring to win souls to Jesus Christ, you're not right with God. You say, "Well, God didn't call me to be a soul winner; God called me to be a preacher, a teacher; God called me to be a singer." There's nothing wrong with you that an old-fashioned revival or a good dose of salvation wouldn't cure. Friend, you are to be a servant, and a servant is to go with the message. And that servant is to say, "There is a King, and that King has made a marriage for His Son; and you have been invited."

IV. The Supper
Not only do I want you to see the son, and the servants, but I want you to see the supper. Look, if you will, in verse 4: "Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.” (Matthew 22:4) Now, as I told you as we introduced this, God likened salvation to a wedding, to a feast, not to a funeral. I want you to see what kind of a feast it is.

A. A Royal Feast

It is a royal feast—it is a royal feast. It is the King who’s made this feast. Don’t feel sorry, friend, if you’re excluded from this place or in that place. The King of heaven has invited you, and there’s no greater honor.

B. A Rich Feast

But not only is a royal feast, friend; it’s a rich feast. Look at it—look at it. He says, “I have killed my oxen and my fatlings.” What does that mean? Friend, that’s the best of the best. He’s talking about filet mignon. “I have killed my oxen, my fatlings.” Do you know what it would mean for a man to kill an oxen? You see, God loves us so incredibly. I was thinking this afternoon when I was thinking about this, at the wedding feast, when the Lord Jesus stepped in and just provided the refreshments, He didn’t provide the whole entrée—just the wine. And the master of ceremonies said, “Hey, I never tasted anything like this before.” Friend, you wait till you get to the marriage supper when He goes all the way from soup to nuts—I mean, when He does the whole thing. That’s just an illustration—just an illustration.

C. A Ready Feast

You see, my dear friend, it’s a royal feast. It’s a rich feast. And it is a ready feast. Look in verse 4. He says, “It’s all ready. All things are ready. Come to the marriage.” (Matthew 22:4) You don’t have to wait till tomorrow to be saved. As a matter of fact, the Bible warns you about boasting about tomorrow. (Proverbs 27:1) The Bible says, “Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.” (2 Corinthians 6:2) “To day, if ye will hear [God’s] voice, harden not your hearts.” (Hebrews 3:15; Hebrews 4:7)

I’ll tell you one thing about Joyce: She’s a great cook. She’s one of the finest homemakers the world has ever known. But I tell her she has this little pecadillo, this little idiosyncrasy: When she gets it ready, she says, “Come”—she means it. “Come! I mean, it’s ready! I’ve been in here getting everything ready. You’ve been in there watching television, reading the paper, doing this and that. It’s ready! That doesn’t mean, go wash your hands; it means they ought to be washed already. Come on! It’s ready—it’s ready!” How much more this royal feast, this rich feast, it’s a ready feast! And, my dear friend, if you sit in this church tonight as an unsaved man, an unsaved woman, and you postpone salvation, you’ve done great despite to heaven’s King. He says, “I have killed my oxen. I have killed my fatlings. I mean, dinner is served! Come—and come now!” And, my friend, what a libel it is to God to say, “Well, if I come, you know, I just have to pay such a price. I don’t know whether I want to be an ol’ Christian.” Are you kidding? Like one woman said, “You know, I’d like to have religion. I just dread the process.” Friend, I would be a Christian if there were no heaven and if there were no hell—there are both—but just to know the Lord Jesus Christ in this world.

You say, “Well, pastor, does that mean if I give my heart to Jesus Christ, if I trust Christ, I’ll not have any problems?” No, you’ll have problems. Everybody has problems. But, friend, the Christian—the Christian—has a vital relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ that turns his problems into blessings, eventually. L. B. Bridges lost his wife and family in a fire. And, Brother Jim, he wrote a song the same night, the same day, in which his family died in a terrible fire. We sing that song, and I love to sing it. You know what it says? Listen to it:

There’s within my heart a melody
Jesus whispers sweet and low:
“Fear not, I am with thee, peace, be still,
In all of life’s ebb and flow.”

Jesus, Jesus, Jesus,
Sweetest name I know,
Fills my every longing,
Keeps me singing as I go.
—LUTHER B. BRIDGES

V. The Scoffers

Friend, it’s a royal feast. It’s a rich feast. It’s a ready feast. But I want you see something else: Not only the supper, but I want you to see the scoffers. Look in verses 5 and 6: “But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.” (Matthew 22:5–6) It’s almost unbelievable that people would have done this. I mean, here’s a king, he makes a supper for his son, an exquisite supper to honor his son. He invites these people. Will they come? No, let me tell you what they do—and I want you to see these three steps here.
A. Indifference

First of all, there’s indifference. Look, if you will, in verse 3: “They would not come.” (Matthew 22:3) They just don’t come. That’s all. They’re just indifferent. “They would not come.”

B. Mockery

But now, wait a minute. I want you to see what happens to this indifference. Look in verse 5: “They made light of it.” (Matthew 22:5) An indifference now turns to mockery.

C. Hostility

But it’s not finished yet. I want you to see this evolution, this progression. Look, if you will, in verse 6, the last part of it: “And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.” (Matthew 22:6) Indifference, mockery, hostility: It will happen every time. When God the Father speaks to you, and you’re indifferent, you just don’t remain there. Either you’re going to respond to what God says, or your heart is going to get a little harder. You’re going to get a little further away from God. And where you have just simply been indifferent and walked out and refused the Lord Jesus Christ, after a while, in order to justify that indifference, you’re going to start making light of the things of God. You’re going to start saying things like, “Well, all they want down there at that church is your money. Old Rogers, he’s a hypocrite. That bla-bla-bla—this thing or that thing.” Or, “I don’t believe that Bible. It’s full of contradictions.” Or, “You know, this crowd, they can’t even get together.” And you begin to mock, to be flippant about things of God. Just keep on, and you’ll join that godless gang, that Christ-less clique, that would persecute the Church of the Lord Jesus. And there are plenty of them out there. And I heard a politician in this city speak of you and of me recently as “that fundamentalist bunch,” like somehow we’re part of the danger in this community because we say it’s wrong to kill little babies and because it’s wrong to live a certain sexual lifestyle. And you’re going to find that there comes to those who will not receive heaven’s King and honor the Son of heaven’s King, not only is there an indifference; there comes to be a mockery, and then an absolute antipathy, a hatred, to the things of God.

That’s what Psalm 1 is talking about. Have you ever looked at the progression of evil in Psalm 1? You see, he’s walking along with the ungodly. That’s just his way of life. And then, he stands in the way of sinners. Their ungodliness turns to activity. Now, they’re living a sinful life. And then, finally, he is seated in the seat of the scornful. (Psalm 1:1)

If you’re here tonight without Jesus Christ, if you’re listening by radio, or if, perchance, you get hold of a tape and you’re listening to this tape right now as you’re driving down the highway, if you are one who is indifferent, I beg you come to Jesus now. But if you are one, my dear friend, who's making light of the things of God, I want to warn you with all of the urgency, emergency, of my soul, you're in deadly danger. But if you're one that has hostility to the things of God, the rest of this parable is a warning for you. And I want you to listen to it very carefully, because here you see the progression of sin.

VI. The Sentence

Notice, first of all, there's the son. Then, there are the servants. Then, there's the supper. And then, there's the scoffing. Now, let's continue to read here and listen to the sentence. See what heaven's King does here in verse 7—look at it: “But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.” (Matthew 22:7) What is Jesus Christ teaching in this parable? He's teaching that a holy God will not continue to be mocked.

You say, “Well, I thought God is love.” God is love. He's infinite love, indescribable love, fathomless love. But the love of God is only part of the truth. The Bible also speaks of the wrath of God. And when you take of the truth, and make part of the truth all of the truth, that part of the truth becomes an untruth. My dear friend, God, who offers you a gracious invitation tonight, is a God who is a holy God, and He will not be mocked. And, according to verse 7, there comes a time when invitation turns to indignation. And here God is angry with the wicked who refuse the invitation to come to salvation.

I believe that Jesus told this parable in chapter 22 with a broken heart. Let me show you something very interesting. Just turn the page and go to chapter 23, and I want you to see what happened in chapter 23. Jesus is warning them about their city being burned; He's warning them about being destroyed. And Jesus now comes down from the Mount of Olives. He pauses. He looks down at that city, and copious tears begin to come down His cheeks. And this is what Jesus says as He convulses in sorrow. He says, “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.” (Matthew 23:37–39)

Now, go back and look at what Jesus said here in verse 7: “When the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.” (Matthew 22:7) What is Jesus talking about? Well, my dear friend, in just a few years, in 70 AD, the Romans were going to come. Judgment fell upon Jerusalem, and blood flowed through the streets of Jerusalem like water flows down the gutter after a hard rain. And thousands of crosses lined the city streets. They ran out of wood to crucify the Israeli people on—the Jews on. They cut off the city from food. Cannibalism stalked the city. Jerusalem was burned. And Jesus, when He gave this parable, He was the Son of God. He had come, but He was refused and rejected. And not only were they indifferent, and not only did they mock, but they came with hostility. And our Lord warned of the judgment that would come. You see the sentence in verse 7.

VII. The Salvation
But now, look in verses 8 and following, and you’re going to see the salvation; you’re going to see the saved. There are some who refused; they would not come. Does that stop heaven’s King? Not at all! Look, if you will, in verse 8: “Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.” (Matthew 22:8–10)

Now, get this, if you don’t get anything else tonight: My dear friend, heaven will be filled—heaven will be filled. You may refuse to give your heart to Jesus Christ; you may spurn the invitation, but others will come. And if you pass by your opportunity of salvation, that’s all right. You can do as you wish. You can die and go to hell. You may be lost, but others will be saved. And your refusal will not shut heaven down; it will only shut you out. There is an elect. There are people who will be saved. We don’t have to guess about it; we don’t have to doubt about it. My dear friend, God will have a Church for the Lord Jesus Christ, a bride for the Lord Jesus Christ. There are those who will come. And that blesses me to know that. And one of these days, dear friend, we’re going to sit, if we’re saved, with that company in heaven at the Marriage Supper of the Lamb, and we’re going to give Him glory and honor and praise, and feast there together. You can refuse if you want. You can be indifferent if you want. You can mock if you want. You can be hostile if you want. But I’ll tell you, dear friend, there are others who will hear the invitation. There are others out there in the highways and the hedges, good and bad, whose heart will leap with joy when they hear what they’ve been invited to—and they will come. Now the question is, why should some go to heaven and you go to hell—when God has invited you?

VIII. The Speechless
I want you to see how this story takes a strange turn here, though. I want you to see another category: Not only the scoffers, and not only the saved; but I want you to see the speechless. Look in verse 11: “And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he”—that is, the man without the wedding garment—“was speechless. Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.” (Matthew 22:11–13)

Now here’s another category of man. This man was not indifferent—he came. He’s not a mocker; he doesn’t make light of it. He certainly doesn’t kill the servants and treat them shamefully. He’s not hostile to the things of God. He comes to the wedding. And when he comes to the wedding, the king comes out, and there the man stands in his street clothes. And the king looks at him, and he says, “Why did you come in without a wedding garment?”

Now you have to understand how a king would have a wedding in this day. And in this day, when the king would invite somebody to a wedding, they may not be able to find the appropriate clothing to wear. You know, when Ronald Reagan says, “Wear black tie,” if you don’t have one, you’d better go out and get one. But in that day, it was different, dear friend. You couldn’t rent a tuxedo in that day. And so the king had the wedding garments all there. There was a servant at the door. When you would come to the door for the king’s feast, the king would say, “Here, this is for you. Put on this garment. And let us store your own clothes for you, and we’ll take care of them for you.” But when you go into the king’s feast, the king is the one who provides your dress; the king is the one who provides your clothing. And that’s the reason, when the king saw this man standing there in his street clothes without the wedding garment, he said, “Why did you come in like this? This is an insult to my wedding.” The man, the Bible says, was what? He was speechless.

Now, let me tell you why he was speechless: because there wasn’t anything he could say. He couldn’t say, “Well, I didn’t know that I was supposed to have a wedding garment,” because he would have been told that at the door. He could not say, “Well, I didn’t have time to get one,” because one was already there for him. He couldn’t say, “Well, I didn’t have enough money to buy one,” because the king had provided it. I mean, there was absolutely nothing he could say. “Why don’t you have a wedding garment?” He might have thought of 1,001 excuses, but he couldn’t give a reason—not one reason! It was his own fault. I can see him as he draws himself up haughtily and says, “Well, don’t you think what I have on is good enough?” Well, I’ll tell you what the king felt about it, and whether it was good enough—verse 13: “Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.” (Matthew 22:13)

Maybe this is the saddest of all. Maybe you sit here in this church tonight never having been born again. You see, you’re not indifferent, and you don’t mock, and you’re not hostile—you’ve just never ever received Jesus Christ as your personal Savior and Lord.
You're dressed in the rags of your own self-righteousness. I love what Isaiah chapter 61 and verse 10 says: “I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness.” (Isaiah 61:10) Has He done that for you? My dear friend, tonight our Lord is saying, “I want you to come to the marriage of my Son. And I’ll tell you what I’m going to do for you,” He says. “Before you come, I’m going to take the rags of self-righteousness that you have, and I’m going to give you a robe, where you can sing, “My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus’ blood and righteousness; dressed in His righteousness alone, faultless to stand before the throne.”

Conclusion
I’m finished, but let me ask you a question before we conclude the service. Remember I told you I went to the mailbox, and I opened the mailbox, and there was an invitation to go to the White House for a state dinner? I wonder if you would sign this. I want you to listen to it now. If you’re an unsaved person, if you’ve never received Jesus Christ, listen—listen. Would you sign this? “To the King of heaven: While sitting in Bellevue Baptist Church on August 2, 1992, I received an invitation from your servant, Adrian Rogers, to the marriage supper of your only begotten Son. I pray thee, have me excused.” Would you sign that? “Adrian Rogers, your servant, issued to me on August 2 a pressing invitation to the Marriage Supper of the Lamb, but I don’t want to come. I don’t want to honor your Son. I don’t want to have anything to do with it. I’m not coming.” Would you sign that tonight?

You say, “I wouldn’t dare sign it.” Well, you’ll do exactly the same thing if you walk out of this building without Jesus Christ tonight. You may not do it with a pen in your hand; but, friend, I’m telling you something: The God of heaven has made a marriage for His Son, and that God has invited you. And the Bible says, “Whosoever will may come.” (Revelation 22:17)
The Great Debate Between Church and State
By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: November 2, 1980
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:15–21

Outline
Introduction
I. We Are to Pay for Our Government
II. We Are to Pray for Our Government
III. We Are to Praise Our Government
IV. We Are to Preach to Our Country
V. We Are to Perform for Our Country
VI. We Are to Participate in Our Government
Conclusion

Introduction

Today I want you to take your Bibles and turn to Matthew chapter 22, and we’re going to begin reading in verse 15. The title of my message is “The Great Debate Between Church and State.” Matthew chapter 22 and verse 15: “Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk. And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teackest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?” Now, “to give tribute” means “to pay taxes”: “Is it lawful to pay taxes unto Caesar or not?” “But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Caesar’s. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar’s; and unto God the things that are God’s.” (Matthew 22:15–21)

It’s a constant amazement to me how relevant the Scriptures are to our times. Now, friend, when you read any passage of Scripture, if you really want to get something out of it, ask yourself these three questions: What did it mean then? What does it mean now? What does it mean to me personally?

Now, let me tell you what it meant then. They were trying, of course, to entrap the Lord Jesus Christ. They were either trying to get the Lord Jesus Christ to deny Caesar and say, “I’m not going to pay any tax money to Caesar; my kingdom is not of this world, and I couldn’t care less about all of that; just leave me alone,” and make him look like an insurrectionist and a seditionist and a person who was a rebel and so forth; or on the other hand, they tried to get him to bow down and worship an ungodly king, which Caesar was, and to give homage and worship to Caesar, which would have been something the Lord Jesus never would have done. And so they thought somehow they had him on the horns of a dilemma.

But, you know, “Never man spake like this man.” (John 7:46) He said, “Bring me the tax money; bring me that coin. Whose image is on it?” “Well,” they said, “it’s Caesar’s image.” He said, “All right, you pay Caesar, render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s; and then give to God the things that are God’s, that belong to God.” And as a result of that I believe that we have today written into our Constitution, the Constitution of the United States of America, what we call today the doctrine of the separation of church and state.

Now, how are we going to find the answer of the relationship of the church and the state, and the state to the church? Not from some hypocritical politician. Those are the ones that came to talk to Jesus, and Jesus said, “You hypocrites!” The Herodians were the political party of that day, and Jesus knew that they were hypocrites. Jesus knew that they had an axe to grind. Jesus knew that they didn’t really want the truth. You are not really going to learn the truth from some hypocritical axe-grinding politician, and neither are you going to learn the truth about the separation of church and state from the ungodly, the humanist, and the atheist, and these who hate God, hate Christ, hate the church, and hate the Bible. Don’t go to them for the truth.

Where are we going to learn the truth, and how are we going to get the answer for the great debate between church and state, unless we go to God’s Holy Word? Now I want to remind you that the framers of our Constitution were men whose lives had been soaked in the Holy Scriptures, and therefore they wrote this as the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America. And it says this—it’s very brief, very concise, and very plain—and I quote: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.”

Now that’s a very beautiful law. It says that Congress is not going to establish any church. There is to be in the United States of America no tax-supported church; there’s to be no state church, no government church. The government is not in the business of promoting some sectarian religion. That’s what it says. But on the other side, the state is never to put the bridle upon the church; the state is never to proscribe our right to worship God according to the dictates of our conscience and never to abridge our freedom of speech.
Now, that’s what it’s saying: that Congress is not going to establish any church, and Congress is not going to prohibit the free exercise of our worship. But let me say this: What we call the separation of church and state was never meant in their wildest dreams to mean the separation of God from the government. They knew better than that. As a matter of fact, when they declared their independence, they said, “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men…are endowed by their Creator”—“by their Creator”—“with certain unalienable Rights.” Dear friend, the government does not give your rights. God gives your rights; the government recognizes them. Do you understand that? Your rights do not come from the United States of America, and your rights do not come from the Constitution; your rights come from God. They knew that. They said, “We’re not even going to argue about that.”

And therefore you find out that our lives have been lived in the past in the heritage of a belief in God, and therefore, when Congress convenes to make our laws, first of all, they begin with prayer, and they pray to Almighty God for His instruction and His direction. We’ve written on our money, “In God We Trust,” and when we pledge allegiance to the flag, we say, “One nation under God.” Abraham Lincoln well said, “It is the duty of nations as well as men, to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God.” And Americans have felt that way for a long time.

Now, having said that, I have a two-point message in which I only have one point. All right now, I wanted to preach today on two things. First of all, I wanted to preach our duty to human government, and the second point was going to be our duty to Holy God. We may have to wait until this evening to get the second point, but I tell you that there have always been those who have not wanted God to rule in the affairs of men. There have always been those who did not want God to have anything to do with the American government, and they thought perhaps somehow that we could throw off the yoke and bondage of our God. Turn to Psalm chapter 2 for just a moment. I want you to see the idea that is rampant in the world today, and I think that the psalmist by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit summed it up quite well—Psalm 2, beginning in verse 1: “Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?” That is, something that they’re not able to do. “The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh.” (Psalm 2:1–4)

Now, when a man says he’s going to separate God from government, God just laughs at him. You can’t do it. The Bible says of the Lord Jesus, “The government shall be upon his shoulder.” (Isaiah 9:6) You cannot take God from government and expect to have a sane civilization any more than you could take the notes out of a piano and expect to have music. And these rights that we have, have come from God, and it is God that governs in the affairs of men.

Now Jesus said that we are to render unto Caesar—that is, to our government—the things that belong to our government. I want to mention six things that every Christian ought to give to his government—six things that every Christian owes to his government—as we ask ourselves what did it mean then, what does it mean now, and what does it mean to me personally.

Now Caesar is not our government today; the Constitution is our government. And, incidentally, what kind of a government do we have? Why, we don’t have a democracy as such; we have a republic. A democracy just simply means the rule of the people. But America is a republic. That means that it is a rule by law. We have a constitution, and when we salute the flag, we salute the flag “to the republic for which it stands.” There is a rule by law; we have a constitutional government. And so, therefore, what do we owe to our Caesar, to our constitutional government today? What does it mean to us personally now? I want to mention six things that every God-fearing Christian, in my estimation, ought to do.

I. We Are to Pay for Our Government
Number one: We are to pay for our government. That’s right, dear friend: Paying taxes is part of being a good Christian. Now, that’s what Jesus said in the scripture that I just gave to you, “Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar’s.” Let me give you some more tax scriptures. Turn to Romans chapter 13 for a moment—Romans chapter 13. All right, I want to begin reading in verse 6: “For this cause pay ye tribute also: for they”—that is, the government—“are God’s ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom.” (Romans 13:6–7) Now the word tribute could be likened to our income tax, and the word custom could be likened unto our sales tax. That’s the closest parallel I could make, but the Bible just simply says here in these verses that we are to pay our taxes. There’s no way that we can get out of it and be a good Christian.

Turn to Matthew chapter 17, if you will, and see here in Matthew chapter 17, beginning in verse 24: “And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money”—that is, the tax collectors—“came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?” Doesn’t Jesus pay taxes? Verse 25: “He saith, Yes.” (Matthew 17:24–25) Jesus is a private citizen who paid His taxes; and even though Jesus said, “My kingdom is not of this world,” (John 18:36) Jesus paid His taxes. We are to pay tribute; we are to give to Caesar the things that belong to Caesar. And, friend, that hurts.
I read the other day that you start in January and work till May—and from that time you’re working for the government: It takes you that long out of a year’s salary to make enough money to pay your taxes. About forty-two percent of all that we earn goes to taxes of some kind. I’m talking about forty-two percent of what we earn. And I know sometimes that’s very hard. One of the reasons that we’re being taxed so is because of the great extravagancies and the waste. And there are so many today who refuse to work for an honest living. And the Bible says, “If a man will not work, neither should he eat.” (2 Thessalonians 3:10) And there’s nothing that is as debilitating and takes the heart out of a nation as for half of the people to get the idea that they don’t have to work, because somebody else will take care of them; and for the other half of the nation to get the idea that it does no good to work, because they cannot enjoy the fruit of their productivity.

But even having said that, let me tell you something, friend. I’m still grateful to have an America to pay my taxes in. I really am. Did you know, dear friends, that most of the people in this world would gladly trade places with the most underprivileged people in America. We don’t have to build fences to keep people in. They’re still trying to get into this, the greatest nation upon the face of the earth. And, friend, it is our duty: Whether you agree with what the tax money goes for or not, there is no way that you can be a good Christian and cheat on your income tax, or get out of it. You are to pay tribute. The Bible is clear and plain on this point.

II. We Are to Pray for Our Government

It is our duty, number one, to pay for our government. It is our duty, number two, to pray for our government. Look, if you will, in 1 Timothy chapter 2, and turn to it quickly with me, because you need to mark it—1 Timothy chapter 2. And I’m going to show you right here where we have failed as a nation, and this is why we’re in the mess that we’re in—1 Timothy chapter 2, verse 1: “I exhort therefore, that, first of all,”—not secondly, thirdly, fourthly, but first of all—“supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceful life in all godliness and honesty.” (1 Timothy 2:1–2)

Do you want me to tell you why America is in the mess that she’s in? Because we have forgotten how to pray for our leaders. “Oh,” you say, “but, Brother Rogers, we haven’t had the right leaders. We need new leaders.” Let me tell you something, dear friend. It doesn’t matter what kind of leaders we have. If God’s people will pray, God will take care of us.

“Now,” you say, “you’re just being a Pollyanna; you don’t understand the situation.” Friend, you don’t understand the situation. Let me tell you, I don’t care who the king is, the Bible says that the king’s heart is—now you listen to this in Proverbs 21:1—“The king’s heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.” I tell you, Almighty God is the one who sets up kings and removes kings. (Daniel 2:21) The Bible says if we have some leader who is not right, God can change him, or God can remove him.

But I want to tell you that the biggest burden for the way this country is run does not lie in Washington; it lies in the prayers of God’s people. You ought to say amen. The Bible says, “If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face…then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.” (2 Chronicles 7:14) And there is a bigger burden that lies upon your shoulder than lies upon the shoulder of the President of the United States: to pray and to seek the face of God. How dare we elect any man to public office and then not pray for him? And whether we voted for him or not, he is our president, or he is our governor, or he is our mayor, or he is our alderman, or he is our sheriff, or whoever he is—and he deserves and needs our prayers. If we do not pray, we sin against Almighty God, and we're going to reap the results of it.

Did you know that the problem that we have in America right now with Iran is a prayer problem? Daniel spent some time in Iran as a young man—the prophet Daniel. It was then called Persia. And Daniel went to God and he had a very special prayer for his people that he wanted answered. Finally, an angel of the Lord came with an answer to Daniel’s prayer, but the angel said, “Daniel, your prayer has been in heaven for a long time, but the answer was slow in coming because…”—now, pay attention—“because the prince of Persia hindered me.” (Daniel 10:12–13) “The prince of Persia”: He wasn’t talking about an earthly man; he was talking about a demon spirit. I believe, dear friend, that we are not at war or at odds with some Ayatollah, “We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers…against spiritual wickedness in high places.” (Ephesians 6:12) And this, my friend, is a spiritual battle. We’re not going to outwit those people; we’re going have to out-pray those people. Believe in God. The battle is with the prince of Persia, who is not the Ayatollah, but a demoniacal spirit.

We not only are to pay for our government; we are to pray for our government—for kings and for all who are in authority—whether we voted for them or not. I don’t know who is going to be elected President of the United States; but I want to tell you, whoever it is—whether it’s Mr. Anderson, Mr. Carter, or Mr. Reagan, or someone else—he’s going to have my prayers and my love and my support, for he will be my president, and it will be my duty to pray for that man, whoever he is. I want to tell you that Paul said this. Nero was the Caesar, and yet Paul said to pray for him and for all who are in authority.
III. We Are to Praise Our Government

Now I want to say, thirdly, that it is our duty to praise our government when they do things that are praiseworthy. Turn to Romans chapter 13 for a moment, and look, if you will, in verse 7. Romans chapter 13 is about human government, and the Bible says, concerning human government, in Romans chapter 13, verse 7, “Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear;”—now, notice this last phrase—“honour to whom honour.” (Romans 13:7) Yes, it’s all right to honor one’s government. Yes, it’s all right to be patriotic. Don’t you let some world leader come along and tell you that no longer can we be red-blooded Americans. Don’t you let somebody come along and tell you that you cannot stand and sing with a quivering chin and a tear in your eye, “God bless America, land that I love.” You can give honor when honor is due. You can praise your country as well as pray for your country.

I was reading last night where the psalmist said in Psalm 137, verse 5, concerning his native land, “If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.” (Psalm 137:5) God puts a love for our families within our bosom. I love your children, but I love my children especially. I love all people on the face of the earth, but I love this my homeland especially. That’s normal. That’s natural. That is a God-given instinct. And patriotism, it may have gone out of vogue, but I believe, dear friend, that we ought to be good old red-blooded American patriots. And if that’s a crime, you’re looking at a criminal.

IV. We Are to Preach to Our Country

Not only should we pay for our country; and not only should we pray for our country; and not only should we praise our country, and give honor when honor is due; but, dear friend, I want to tell you that we need to preach to our country; we need to prophesy to our country. There are some people who tell us, because of the separation of church and state, that we who are Christians are not supposed to say anything, that suddenly, because we are saved and we belong to some church, we’re to be mute, we’re to be silent, we’re to be a distant franchise, we’re to be made to shut up. Oh no, dear friend, the Founding Fathers never meant that, because we belong to some church, or because there’s a man of God or a woman of God, we cannot preach and prophesy.

You study the Bible, and you’ll find out that a part of rendering under Caesar that which belongs to Caesar and that which is due to Caesar is for us to speak from the Word of God forthrightly and clearly and plainly. Nathan preached to King David and warned him about his sins. Elijah was the one who troubled Israel and spoke to King...
Ahab. (1 Kings 18:17) Eliezer spoke to King Jehoshaphat, (2 Chronicles 20:37) Daniel to Nebuchadnezzar, Moses to Pharaoh; and we need to speak to our government, whether it be local government or state government or federal government. They need to hear a “thus saith the Lord.”

Dear friends, if we are silent, God is going to hold us accountable. You think of the terrible sin of abortion in America today. I say sin, because it’s horrible, dear friend. That one thing alone is going to bring us down as a nation, if we don’t solve it. And many are sitting there saying, “Oh well, Brother Rogers, that’s just a little thing.” Do you think that the murder of the innocent babies is an innocent thing? I want to tell you that the raging waters of God’s wrath are furiously pounding against the dam of his mercy. You look at all of these little babies that were here today. Can you think of the crime of aborting those children, had it been done in the womb of their mother?

I want you to turn with me to a scripture—turn to Proverbs chapter 24 and verse 11 for a moment. We dare not be silent. Proverbs chapter 24, verse 11: “If thou forbear”—that is, “if you hold your peace”—“to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain; if thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?” (Proverbs 24:11) Dear friend, I can’t be silent, because God knows that I know that there is a crime, a sin, going on in America. And we as Christians have never been so disenfranchised that we cannot speak. If we fail to deliver those who are ready for death, doth not God know it? He does, and we must speak.

Martin Niemller was a pastor in Germany during World War II. He was a brilliant Protestant scholar, a preacher of the Word of God. He was thrown in prison for his faith. Later on, Pastor Martin Niemller said this: “First [the Nazis] came for the Socialists, and I did not speak out—because I was not a Socialist.” Then,” he said, “they came for the Trade Unionists, and I did not speak out—because I was not a Trade Unionist. Then,” he said, “they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out—because I was not a Jew. Then,” he said, “they came for me—and there was no one left to speak for me.”

I believe it’s time that God’s people spoke up. I believe it is time that God’s people opened the Word of God and the book of God, and as they have done from the foundation of this nation, say, “Thus saith the Lord God.” And a part of my duty as a citizen of this nation is to render unto Caesar the things that are due to Caesar: not only to pay for it, and pray for it, and to praise it; but to preach to it, and to prophesy to it. We need to be men and women of God. God give us some prophets in these last days.
V. We Are to Perform for Our Country

Now I want to say next that we’re to perform for it. Yes, we’re to be a part of obeying of the laws and ordinances of our nation. Turn to 1 Peter chapter 2 for a moment. Peter tells us that if we’re good Christians, we’re going to be good citizens. First Peter chapter 2, beginning in verse 13: “Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man”—that is, human laws—“for the Lord’s sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well. For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men.” (1 Peter 2:13–15) That means, dear friend, that if we Christians want our testimony to be what it ought to be, we’re going to keep human laws. Don’t call yourself a good Christian if you’re a lawbreaker at the same time.

Daniel Webster said, “Whatever makes men good Christians makes them good citizens at the same time.” And we are to obey every ordinance of man. You say, “Well, I don’t agree with that law. I think it’s foolish not to hunt game out of season.” You obey every ordinance of man. You say, “Well, I think the fifty-five-mile-an-hour speed limit is ridiculous; I’ve got a fuzz-buster.” You’ve got a fuzzy brain. You obey every ordinance of man for the Lord’s sake, or else the way of our faith is going to be evil spoken of.

We are to perform for our government, and the Bible says that the civil magistrate is a minister of God. The policeman is a minister; he’s God’s servant, and it’s about time we said a good word for our policeman. There may be some rare cases of dishonesty and brutality, but I’ll tell you one thing: I’d hate to have a job where I spend a lot of time in routine work and a little bit of it in stark terror. These people who lay their lives on the line for us, and they’re not paid that much for doing it: you think of the training; you think of the skills; you think of the devotion that it takes.

It’s time that we started understanding that as Christians we’re to be good citizens, and we’re not to have a rebellious spirit. And the only law that we can ever circumvent or go against is when the law of man comes in direct confrontation to the law of God. Then we must obey God rather than man.

VI. We Are to Participate in Our Government

Now, let me say, last of all, because time is getting away, we need to participate in our government. You need to vote. Now the Bible says you’re to render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s; and dear friend, in our government, our Caesar is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. If you say, “I’m so spiritual I’m just going to pray; I’m not going to vote,” then, dear friend, you are sinning against God—you are sinning against God. You owe to your government the vote—you owe it. You must render what is due.
Just as in that day they owed certain things to their government, in this day you owe certain things to your government. And when you vote, don’t you vote some party, don’t you vote some person, don’t you vote some policy; but you vote principle. You find out what’s right from the Word of God, and you vote that principle. You tell that politician, “I’m standing on principle, and, mister, the principle will be here when you’re dead and gone, or when you’re voted out. If you live by this principle, I’ll stand behind you; and I don’t care what sort of a halo you wear: If you’re not living by biblical principles, you’ll not have my vote.” It’s not a matter of parties. It’s not a matter of policies. It’s not a matter of personality. It is a matter of divine principle.

Oh, if you could understand the importance of one vote. In 1645, Oliver Cromwell became the leader of England by one vote. In 1649, Charles the First was executed by one vote. In 1776, America chose the English language over German by one vote. In 1839, Marcus Morton was elected governor of Massachusetts by one vote. In 1845, Andrew Jackson was saved from impeachment by one vote. In 1876, Rutherford B. Hayes became the President of the United State by one vote. In 1923, Hitler became the Fhrer of the Nazi party by one vote.

I’m only one, but I am one.
I cannot do everything, but I can do something.
And what I can do I ought to do.
And what I ought to do, by the grace of God, I will do.
—EDWARD EVERETT HALE (ADAPTATION)

Come Tuesday, you’d better get on your face before God, and you’d better be in that booth, and you’d better vote and render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar’s. Our government is a government by the people and for the people—and you’re the people. And if you won’t do it, you’re not rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar’s.

Conclusion
Now, ladies and gentlemen, these are serious times, and it’s time that those of us who are Christians begin to act like it, to stand up for America. I still say,

God bless America,
Land that I love.

Stand beside her, and guide her
Thru the night and with a light from above.
—IRVING BERLIN
The Separation of Church and State

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: August 31, 1994
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:15–22

Outline

Introduction
I. We Are to Pay Taxes
II. We Are to Pray for Our Government
III. We Are to Give Respect and Honor to the Government
IV. We Are to Speak Up and Give a Warning When a Warning Is Necessary
V. We Are to Obey the Civil Laws of Our Land
VI. We Are to Participate in the Election Process

Conclusion

Introduction

Would you take God’s Word and find Matthew chapter 22 and look up here for a moment. I want to talk with you about “The Separation of Church and State.” There’s a great debate between church and state today, and there’s a lot of confusion. And sometimes people try to cause confusion. In Jesus’ day, they did. Verse 15: “Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him”—that is, entangle Jesus—“in his talk” (Matthew 22:15). I want to say right now that that’s a very dangerous thing to do, to ever try to entangle Jesus. When anybody asked Jesus a straight question, He gave them a straight answer. But when anybody ever tried to entrap Jesus and ask Jesus a trick question, He generally answered the question with another question.

In verse 16, you’ll find their question: “And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men” (Matthew 22:16). Now this is sheer flattery. They don’t believe this. And later on Jesus is going to call them to their face hypocrites. Now a flatterer will say to your face what he will not say behind your back. And a hypocrite will say behind your back what he will not say to your face. And these were both. And so they’re coming, first of all, with flattery, but their motive is very evil indeed. Here was their question—verse 17: “Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?” Now it literally means to pay taxes to Caesar. “But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Caesar’s. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar’s; and unto God the things that are God’s. When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way” (Matthew 22:17–22).

You’ll not find a better statement on the proper approach to the separation of church and state, rightly understood, and in answer to these things, than the words of the Lord Jesus Christ. Now we’re coming up on an election day. We’re living in a nation that, in my estimation, is in a moral crisis. So therefore we need to ask this question: What are the rights and what are the responsibilities of a Christian with reference to the government? And we also need to ask this question: Where are we going to get the answer? Well, not from the politicians themselves, because many times—not always, but many times—they themselves have an axe to grind, and we cannot get a straight answer from some of them; not from the ungodly, because they do not know the humanists and the others. They do not have the wisdom. They do not have the insights. You’re not going to get the answer to these questions even from the philosophies of well-meaning religionists. The answer has to come, in my estimation, right from the Word of God.

And I’ve learned something in preparing to preach and study of the Word of God: that, when I look at a passage of Scripture, I ask basically three questions. Question number one is: What did it mean then? In other words, study it in its background, its context. Study the words, what the words mean. What literally happened? What did it mean then? And then, bring what it meant then into the century in which I live. What does it mean now? Not that the actual meaning has changed, but the application changes. How does that apply to my life right now—or, at least, to the situation right now? But then, I ask the third question: What does it mean to me personally? What did it mean then? What does it mean in today’s situation? And then, what does it mean to me personally?

Now we talk about the phrase separation of church and state. You may be amazed to learn that that’s not found in the Constitution of the United States of America. Those words, “the separation of church and state,” are not found in the Constitution. The framers of the Constitution were soaked in the Word of God. The First Amendment to the Constitution deals with the issue of the responsibilities of the church and the state in relationship to one another. Actually, this is what the First Amendment says: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.” Separation of church and state is not mentioned, per se. Many people think that’s written somewhere in the Constitution, but it is not. Here’s what the Constitution says: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.”

Now to the framers of the Constitution, they never felt that there should be a separation of God and government. As a matter of fact, they said, “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are...endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights.” And these rights were not given by the government, and therefore the government cannot take them away. And so, as a result of that, here in America we’ve not tried to separate our government from God until recently. As a matter of fact, we put “In God we trust” on our money. Now it would be virtually impossible to pass a bill to do that today. The ACLU and others would raise such a hue and cry that you could not do that today. Congress convenes its sessions with prayer. It would be virtually impossible, I think, to get that started today, had it not already been done with the traditions that we have. We have now placed in our Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, this statement, “One Nation under God.” I’m certain that there are those who would move heaven and earth to keep that phrase from being put into the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag today. And, indeed, there are those today who want that removed. But, you see, those who framed our Constitution, again, knew the Word of God, were soaked in the Word of God, and the American Revolution was born out of a spiritual revival.

Abraham Lincoln said, “It is the duty of nations as well as men, to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God.” Now, notice he said, “nations as well as men”; that individuals should look to God, and also a nation should look to God. And while our founding fathers believed in the separation of church and state, rightly understood, they did not believe in the separation of God and government. What does the First Amendment say? The First Amendment says there should be no state-mandated or state-supported churches. That’s what our founding fathers came to this land to get away from: where you and I would have to be taxed to support somebody else’s church, or there would be some official denomination, whether is be Baptist, or Methodist, or Episcopalian, or whatever. That would be the worst thing that could happen to the state, and it would be the worst thing that could happen to the church. It would inhibit both. And so they said, “Congress shall make no law concerning the establishment of religion.” Ungodly people have always wanted to separate, however, God from government.

Now I want to give you your responsibilities and your rights to your government. What are your responsibilities, rightly understood, according the Word of God, when Jesus said that we are to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and unto God the things that are God’s? What do we owe to Caesar? When I say, “Caesar,” I’m using that as a symbol for government, because Jesus was using the term that way to speak of government of His day.
I. We Are to Pay Taxes

Well, first of all, turn to Romans chapter 13 with me for a moment, if you will. And here’s the first thing we’re to do. And you won’t like this, but we’re to pay taxes—we’re to pay taxes. Nobody likes to pay taxes. But common sense tells us that you can’t have government without taxes. Romans 13, verse 1: “Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers.” And the word “higher powers” means, “established authorities.” “For there is no power”—that is, no authority—“but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God:”—now, Paul is saying that God established human government—“and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.” He’s not talking about damnation to hell. He’s talking about judgment from the civil authority. “For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same: for he”—that is, the magistrate, the civil authority—“is the minister of God to thee for good.” Now God has His ministers in His pulpits, and then God has His ministers in the places of civil authority. “But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he”—the civil magistrate—“is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil” (Romans 13:1–4).

Now, notice this: that this minister is not to make you good. He is to minister wrath, if you do bad. We often hear people say, “You cannot legislate morals.” That is, there is no law that can legislate morality. Well, there’s a tad, a smidgen, of truth in that. There’s not a law on earth that can make you good. There’s no law that can make you love me. And so therefore there have to be laws to keep you from killing me, and me from killing you. Because we cannot legislate morality, therefore we have to legislate against immorality. Only God can make us good. The minister, the civil magistrate, is not here to make us good; but he is here to restrain evil. He says, “If you do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.” Now the civil magistrate is the minister of the wrath of God. The preacher of the gospel is the minister of the grace of God.

Now, notice in verse 5: “Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake. For this cause pay ye tribute also:”—that is, somebody has to pay the bills—“for they are God’s ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour” (Romans 13:5–7). Now the scripture here makes it very plain that we’re to pay taxes. And no matter how holy you are, we have some people who think that, if there’s an unholy government, they ought not to pay taxes to that government.
I want you to turn to Matthew chapter 17 with me for a moment—just turn to it and look in Matthew chapter 17. You’re going to find out here that the Lord Jesus paid His taxes. In Matthew chapter 17, look in verse 24: “And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?” That is, doesn’t Jesus pay taxes? “He saith, Yes.” That is, Jesus pays taxes. “And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?” That is, who taxes who? We don’t tax the British. We tax the Americans. The people in Jesus’ time, they didn’t take tribute of strangers, but of their own people. “Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.” That is, He’s saying that a king is not going to tax his own children, but he’s going to tax those who are not part of his family.

“Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee” (Matthew 17:24–27). Jesus said, “Even though I am free, even though I am really, truly, the inheritor of heaven and earth, I am going to pay taxes.” And He did pay taxes. And you and I must pay taxes.

Now we ought to do all we can to hold the tax burden down. And someone has said that we work almost from January to June now to pay the taxes—we’re so deep in taxes. Taxes at all levels may exceed forty-two percent of all that we take in. A Frenchman said that France fell when the people of France got the idea that government was a cow to be milked rather than a watchdog to be fed. But don’t gripe too much about paying taxes. Friend, there are a lot of people who would love to come to America and be able to pay taxes here. We still have the greatest nation on the face of this earth. And most of the people of this world would trade places with the underprivileged in America just for the opportunity to be here and to pay taxes. Indeed, I’m not for higher taxes. But I’m saying that the Bible makes it very clear and plain that one of our responsibilities is to pay taxes.

II. We Are to Pray for Our Government
Another responsibility that you and I have is to intercede and pray for our government. And if you criticize the government without praying for the government, in my estimation, you’re very wicked. Turn to 1 Timothy chapter 2 for a moment—1 Timothy chapter 2. Just turn to the right in your Bible, and you’ll come to 1 Timothy chapter 2. And I want you to see again what Paul told Timothy about how we are to pray for those in government. I read here verse 1. Paul said, “I exhort therefore, that, first of all,”—now he’s talking here, not in chronology, but in importance—“supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour” (1 Timothy 2:1–3). And so we’re to pray. We’re to pray for kings even if they are wicked and ungodly—for rulers, presidents, governors, mayors, whomever—council people—whether they are right with God or whether they are not. As I told you a few Sundays ago, when Paul wrote this, Nero was the Emperor. He was the man who lived in the very depth of depravity. But remember this: When you pray, God moves. Proverbs chapter 21, verse 1, says, “The king’s heart is in the hand of the LORD, as rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will” (Proverbs 21:1).

So when we move God in prayer, God moves the heart of the king. And God can use him even when he doesn’t know he’s being used of God. And the greatest responsibility for America, therefore, does not rest upon the White House, or the Pentagon, but the church house and the people who know how to pray. And so we are to pay taxes and we are to pray for our government.

Joyce and I try to pray for America and for our government on Sunday mornings. Now we pray around the world. On Mondays, we pray Central America. On Tuesdays, we pray for South America. On Wednesdays, we pray for Africa. On Thursdays, we pray for Europe. On Fridays, we pray for the Middle East. On Saturdays, we pray for the Far East. On Sundays, we pray for America. And I pray on Sunday mornings for the pastors in this city. We pray for our children and preacher boys who have gone out from this church to minister. We pray for the government of America. We make that the time that we pray for this nation. God has commanded that we pray for kings and those who are in authority. And, very frankly, it’s easier to criticize than it is to pray, isn’t it? Really. It’s easier to make those smart remarks and those critical remarks than it is to pray. But if you criticize without praying, in my estimation, you’re very, very sinful.

III. We Are to Give Respect and Honor to the Government
Now, here’s a third thing you’re to do. You are to give respect and honor to the government. Now that may chaff a little bit, but the Bible says, in Romans chapter 13, that you’re to give “honour to whom honour” is due (Romans 13:7). Let me say a word about patriotism. Every so often when we talk about America, and say, “God bless America,” and when I preach about America, there will always be some super-spiritual type person that is just oozing with piousity, who says, “Oh, we ought not to love America; we ought to love all the peoples of the world. And we can’t just kind of drape the cross in the flag and think that we as Americans are God’s special people.” That’s not the point at all. The point is, just as I love my own family and have responsibility to them above other families, and I love this church and have a responsibility to it above other churches, I love this nation and have a responsibility to it above other nations. Patriotism is normal. It is natural. It is it is commanded in the Bible. Think of what the Psalmist said, in Psalm 137, verse 5, concerning his people. He said, "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning" (Psalm 137:5). Someone has well said,

_Breathe there the man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land?
—Sir Walter Scott_

We need some old fashioned, red-blooded, Christian, American patriotism.

IV. We Are to Speak Up and Give a Warning When a Warning Is Necessary

Now, here’s something else we need to do. I’m saying we need to pay taxes. We need to pray. We need to be patriotic and give honor where we can and where when it is proper. We’re not to honor wickedness, of course; but we can still love and honor our country, and honor those who do the right things when they do. Another thing that you and I need to learn to do: we need to learn to speak up and give a warning when a warning is necessary.

Now I want to be known not as a political preacher. I don’t want to be known as a political preacher. I don’t want to be known as a crusader against liquor, gambling, or pornography. I want to be known primarily as a preacher of the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. And you will find, if you’ve been here in this church very long—and I’ve been here about twenty-two years now—that my style is to study the Word of God, generally in some series, to open the Bible and preach it as it comes, just like we’re doing, coming right through the Book of Judges, or whatever. I believe that’s the way on a long haul to build a solid people and a solid church. You could come crusading for this cause or that cause, or come with some sensational topic here or there; but, by and large, great churches are built squarely and solidly upon Bible preaching: line upon line and verse upon verse.

But we as God’s people need to speak to the government and to our leaders. We dare not be silent. We need to sound the warning. Now that’s not our main cause. Our main cause is preaching the gospel. But God’s people dare not be silent. It’s Satan’s strategy to keep good people silent in evil times. And if you’ll study the prophets of God’s Word, Nathan spoke to King David, Elijah spoke to Ahab, Eleazar to Jehoshaphat, Daniel to Nebuchadnezzar, and Moses to Pharaoh. We said several weeks ago we need to tell every governmental official, whoever he is, nothing is politically right that is morally wrong—_nothing is_ politically right _that is_ morally wrong. Therefore we will talk about abortion.
We’ll talk about gambling. We’ll talk about these other things that people may not like. We’ll talk about the liquor business. We’ll do it. If they don’t like it, we’re not here to win a popularity contest. We still need to say what God’s Word says on these issues.

It’s a very interesting thing, if a preacher like myself stands up and preaches about, let’s take the subject of abortion, there are those, and plenty of them—you’d have to read my mailbag to know what I’m talking about—they’ll say, “Why don’t you stay out of politics?” But if you ask a politician what he thinks about abortion, he’ll say, “Well, that’s a church matter.” You see what they do? Now if you talk about it, they say, “Stay out of politics.” When you ask them to talk about it, they say, “That’s a church matter.” It doesn’t matter whether it’s political or a church matter, it’s wrong to kill babies. It’s wrong to do it. It’s absolutely, totally wrong. And we need to speak up, and without stutter or stammer.

V. We Are to Obey the Civil Laws of Our Land

Now, here’s something else that we need to do for our country, and what God demands of us as Christian citizens. We need to obey the civil laws of our land. Turn, if you would, to 1 Peter chapter 2, and see what the Word of God has to say about that. First Peter chapter 2—look in verse 13: “Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord’s sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well. For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: as free, and not using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God” (1 Peter 2:13–16).

Now, in plain English, that means that we’re to be good citizens; we’re to be law-abiding people. Daniel Webster said that whatever makes a man a good Christian makes him a good citizen—and that is true. And, therefore, when the policeman tells you to stop, you stop. When the policeman tells you to turn right, you turn right. He’s the minister of God.

And, by the way, it’s about time we said a good word for our policeman. We hear so much about police brutality, and we hear so much about dishonesty: the fact is that only about one percent of the police are a discredit to the uniform. And they live lives that are a mixture of routine and stark terror. And I take my hats off to them. I think they ought to be paid more. I’m grateful for them. I’m grateful for the policemen who are members of this church. And their acts of heroism so many times go unnoticed, and all they get is criticism. And I’m grateful for someone who will stick out his neck for me and help protect me. And if you don’t like policemen, the next time you get in trouble, why don’t you call one of these?
VI. We Are to Participate in the Election Process

Here’s something else that we’re to do. We are to participate in the election process. Now, don’t let anybody tell you that you can’t participate, that you can’t get a candidate, and be for a candidate. You know, it’s an amazing thing: if you’re a Christian, and you hold Christian values, they try to say, “Well, you ought not to say anything.” You say, “Well, why shouldn’t I say anything?” “Well, because you’re a Christian. Well, don’t you understand the separation of church and state?” Well, friend, when you got saved, you didn’t get disenfranchised. When you got saved, it just simply means that you can exercise your liberty and your rights as a Christian from a new point of reference now. You have the Word of God, and that ought to help you as you vote and as you select a candidate.

You see, let’s talk again about the Constitution. The Constitution, a very wonderful instrument, says, for example, the government cannot break into your house—illegal search and seizure. If you’re at home tonight, and there’s a knock at the door, and a policeman comes and he says, “Open up your house. We believe you’re harboring a criminal. We believe you’ve got drugs in here. We believe ta da ta da. We’re going through this house, and we’re going to look,” and you say, “No, you’re not. You’re not coming in this house. Not without a search warrant, you’re not coming into this house. The Constitution says you cannot break into this house. You can’t do that.” And that’s right. The government has not a right, lest they have a compelling interest, to just come into my house. They cannot just break in arbitrarily and come into my house.

Now, does that mean, because the government cannot break into my house, does that mean I can’t go out of doors? Now, think with me. Because they cannot come and break into my house, does that mean I can’t go out of doors? Of course not! Now because the government cannot establish a religion, does that mean that religious people therefore can’t talk or can’t exercise their faith as it pertains to government? That is the analogy. Do you get the analogy that I’m trying to make? The government has to keep its nose out of the church; but that doesn’t mean that the church cannot go out into society. They don’t have the right to come and meddle here. They can make no law concerning the establishment of religion. But that does not mean that you and I are to be silent. As a matter of fact, Jesus said we are to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar’s (Matthew 22:21; Mark 12:17; Luke 20:25). And what is our Caesar? Our Caesar is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. And if you and I don’t participate, we have disobeyed our Lord.

Someone has well said, “The scandal of our time is the bad citizenship of good people.” It’s totally inconceivable that God would have ordained human government and then told His people to stay out of it. If the godly and the righteous stay out, then who does that leave to make the laws and run the nation?
I’ve already voted, because on Election Day I will not be here. I have an out-of-town engagement, so I’ve already gone down and voted. And how did we vote? Joyce and I did not vote for parties, or persons, or politics, or policies even; we voted for principle. And we had to do some study. You need to be informed. Now those of us who believe the Bible, we’re characterized as being the Christian Right. You’ll hear that a lot: the Christian Right. The issue is not right or left; the issue is right or wrong.

Now you need to learn that it’s not some ideology. It’s just simply, what is truth? Is there a standard of truth? We spoke this morning about the time of the days of the judges. And, in Judges 17, the Bible says, “Every man did that which was right in his own eyes” (Judges 17:6). We need to find out, is there a basis of truth? Now we as Bible-believing Christians believe there is a God. We believe that God has spoken. We believe He has given us His Word, and therefore His Word is the standard and the measure of our practice. And, therefore, we vote accordingly.

Now there are people who don’t like that. They somehow say, because we’re Christians, we have no right to exercise our rights. Well, that’s their problem, not yours. And you can’t make yourself sick to make them well. You just simply go ahead and do what you need to do. And I want to say that you are wrong, in my estimation, if you do not vote. You’re to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar’s. Our Caesar—I say it again—is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

One vote—one vote—may make the difference. In 1645, Oliver Cromwell gained control over England by one vote. In 1649, Charles I of England was executed because of one vote. In 1776, one vote—one vote—gave America the English language rather than the German language as our native language. You ought to be glad for that, because none of us speak German. One vote. In 1839, Marcus Morton was elected governor of Massachusetts by one vote. In 1845, one vote saved President Andrew Jackson from impeachment. In 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency of the United States. In 1923, one vote saved President Andrew Jackson from impeachment. In 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency of the United States. In 1923, one vote saved President Andrew Jackson from impeachment.

Conclusion
Separation of church and state: if you mean we’re not going to have a state-mandated religion, yes. If you mean that we’re not going to have a state-supported church, yes. But if you mean the separation of God and government, I tell you that is a notion that our founding Fathers never even began to think of. They believed that this nation is a nation based on a Judeo-Christian ethic. And anybody who will read the history before the revisionist historians get hold of it will see that that is true.
Church and State

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: July 3, 1983
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:15–22

Outline

Introduction
I. We Must Pay Taxes
II. We Must Pray for Our Government
III. We Must Give to Those Who Are in Places of Responsibility Their Proper Respect and Honor
IV. We Must Speak Up and Sound a Warning When Our Caesar Is Wrong
V. We Must Obey the Laws of Our Government
VI. We Must Participate in the Election Process
   A. There Must Be No Rival
   B. There Must Be No Rebuttal
   C. There Must Be No Refusal
Conclusion

Introduction

There’s so much confusion concerning this matter and the competition sometimes—the confrontation sometimes—between Christ and Caesar. Turn, if you will please, in God’s Word, to Matthew 22, and I want us to read in verse 15. If you did not bring a Bible with you, there, in the pew rack before you, most likely, is a Bible. Would you take it out and follow along with us in the Scripture? Begin now in verse 15: “Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk”—now friend, I want to tell you, when you take on the Lord Jesus to confuse Him, you’re in difficulty—“And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: [but] thou regardest not the person”—“for thou regardest not the person”—“of men”—now, thus far, this is all just sheer hypocrisy; they are flattering Him. And, you know what a flatterer is? A flatterer is someone who says to your face what he’ll not say behind your back, and a hypocrite is somebody who says behind your back what he’ll not say to your face. These people were both. So, they said—“Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money”—that is, “Show me the tax money”—“And they brought unto him a penny.
And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things [which] are God's. When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way” (Matthew 22:15–22).

Tonight, I want to speak to you about the rights and the responsibilities of the Christian concerning his government. And, where are we going to get the answer? Well, we’re certainly not going to get the answer from some politician who has an ax to grind. We’re certainly not going to get the answer from the ungodly and those who hate God, and Christ, and the Church, nor are we going to get the answer from the philosophies of some well-meaning but softheaded religionist. The answer must come from the Word of God. And indeed, it has.

What did the Framers of the Constitution mean when they wrote the Constitution concerning the relationship of Church and State? And what, indeed, did the First Amendment mean when it was later added? I want to remind you that the Framers of the Constitution of the United States of America were soaked in the Word of God, and those who added the First Amendment added that First Amendment in the light of Holy Scripture. Now, here’s what the First Amendment to the Constitution says that is so often quoted in the great debate between Church and State—it says this, and I quote: “Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof”—a marvelous amendment. This does not mean the separation of God from government. I hope that you understand that clearly and plainly, and I trust that, by the strength that God will give me, that I will be able to show you that not in their wildest imaginations did the Framers of the Constitution believe that this nation would be a nation without godly influence.

It was founded upon godly principles. When the colonists came to these shores, they came because of their Christian faith. When the Pilgrims landed in 1620, they came to these shores seeking religious liberty. The Mayflower Compact begins with these words: “In the name of God, amen.” In that Mayflower Compact, they wrote that the express purpose was—and I quote: “for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith.”

The American government is rooted in belief in God. We’re celebrating our 207th birthday. It was engendered by a statement called “The Declaration of Independence.” That Declaration of Independence has a Preamble; I trust that you’re familiar with it. In that Preamble, this glorious statement is given: “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are...endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights.” Now, notice what they said. They said, “We’ll not quibble about this. We’ll not argue about this. We will not debate this. This is self-evident.” What? First of all, they had a message about God: “There is a God.
He is a Creator." Secondly, they had a message about man: “Man did not evolve. He did not come out of the ooze and the slime of some primordial soup, but man was created by a God.” And thirdly, they said, “We’re not going to debate about this. There are certain rights that man has. The government does not give those rights. The government may only protect those rights. They are God-given rights of life, and liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.” And, when they said, “We hold this to be self-evident,” they meant this: that there was no sliding scale of morality, no relativism, no situational ethics. They said, “There is a fixed morality. There are definite rights and definite wrongs.” They believed that. That is the warp, the woof, the matrix out of which our nation was born. That’s what we’re celebrating tomorrow on the Fourth of July.

And, the Bill of Rights was never meant to forbid prayer in public schools; it only meant—and should mean—that there should be no state-mandated prayer and no one should be coerced to pray. And, we would fight for that with every ounce, and inch, and nerve, and fiber in our body. But, any good, red-blooded American believes, because of the liberty that God has given him and His law—that He is God—he has a right to pray any time, any place with any body, and the government is not to stand in the way. And, the government is not to prohibit the free exercise of our faith.

The great leaders of our nation, for the most part, have been men of faith. General George Washington was a devout man who went aside at Valley Forge, and knelt in the snow, and prayed God’s blessing upon that little ragtag continental army, who was fighting for the freedoms that we enjoy. A visitor going to Washington at the Continental Congress asked, “Which one is George Washington?” Someone said, “You can recognize George Washington because General Washington will be the tall man that gets on his knees when Congress starts to pray.” President-elect Abraham Lincoln said this after his election: “I leave now not knowing when or whether ever I shall return with a task before me greater than that which rested upon the shoulders of Washington. Without the assistance of the Divine Being who attended him, I cannot succeed. With that assurance, I cannot fail.” And, even Thomas Jefferson, whom we would not call a “Bible-believing Christian”—even the great Thomas Jefferson said that “the God who gave us life gave us liberty at the same time.”

And, we see in the songs that we sing the heritage of our nation—these songs that we, the people, have adopted...something of our spiritual heritage. For example, “The Star-Spangled Banner” that we love says this:
Blest with vict’ry and peace, may the Heav’n rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: “In God is our trust” (Francis Scott Key).

And, as Jim has already pointed out in the marvelous national hymn that we’ve sung, that last stanza:

Our fathers’ God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing.
Long may our land be bright,
With freedom’s holy light,
Protect us by Thy [light],
Great God our King (Samuel Francis Smith).

Now, does that sound, ladies and gentlemen, like the Framers of our Constitution and our forefathers had in their mind the separation of God and government? They did not. It is for this reason that on our money we have printed these words: “In God We Trust.” It is for this reason that the Congress of our nation begins its sessions with prayers. It is for this reason that we stand and salute Old Glory and say, “One nation under God.” And, don’t you let the humanists, and don’t you let the materialists, and don’t you let the ACLU or any body else take away the heritage that is ours as Americans. You can thank God for this nation, and you can thank God for the way that she was founded. No other nation ever had such a beginning as this nation. And so, the First Amendment meant that there shall be no state-mandated, no state-supported churches. I do not want Uncle Sam to support this church. I wouldn’t take his money if he would give it. Friend, it would be the worst thing that could happen to the Church and to the State. But, I want Uncle Sam to stay out of the way when I stand in this pulpit to preach, and I want Uncle Sam to be quiet and to be silent when we assay to spread the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I want Uncle Sam to be true to our Constitution, “make no law respecting the establishment of a religion, nor no law prohibiting the free exercise thereof.”

Now, the ungodly have always wanted to separate not only Church and State, but God from government. The Bible prophesies this. Turn, if you will, to Psalm, the second chapter, verses 1–4: “Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves— and the idea here is obstinacy— “The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed”— that is, “against His Christ” — “saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the LORD shall have them in derision” (Psalm 2:1–4). And, America now, in these last days, is becoming the laughing stock of the nations because we’ve tried to break away from Almighty God, who has made us the nation that we are. And, the scream of the once great American eagle has become the twitter of a frightened sparrow, because God in heaven is laughing at our futile efforts to keep this republic going that was born in the heart and the bosom of God-fearing, God-believing people.

Now, what is the duty—what is the duty—of a Christian to his state? The Lord Jesus, when asked that question, “Is it right to pay tribute to Caesar?” said clearly and plainly, without stutter, stammer, or equivocation, that we are to “render...unto Caesar [that] which [is] Caesar’s; and unto God [that which is] God’s” (Matthew 22:21). Now, what do we owe to Caesar? Let me tell you what we’re to do as God-fearing Americans.

I. We Must Pay Taxes
And, I hate to start with this one, but I’m going to do it: we must pay taxes. That’s biblical. Turn, if you will, to Romans 13, and I want you to begin reading in verses 6–7. In that classic passage on the relationship of Church and State, our Lord makes it clear through the Apostle Paul that it is the Christian’s privilege and duty to pay taxes. In Romans 13:6, this is what Paul says: he says, “For this cause pay ye tribute also: for they”—that is, “the civil leaders”—“they are God’s ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom” (Romans 13:6–7). Now, what is the difference between tribute and custom? Tribute today is what we would call “income tax.” Custom is what we would call “sales tax.” They had it in that day; we have it in this day. Jesus said, “You are to pay tribute,” and Paul reaffirmed it: “tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom [is due]” (Romans 13:7). And, you will remember, when time came for Jesus to pay His taxes, Jesus had Peter to put his hook in the water—brought forth a fish. In that fish’s mouth was a coin; and Jesus took that coin, and Jesus paid His taxes.

Now, that doesn’t mean that we are to be in favor of a government that abuses the tax system. If our government abuses the tax system, then our government is going to fail. But, everybody knows it takes money to run government. Today, the last report that I had is this—and it may be worse than this now—but the last report is this: that it takes us from January to May to pay our taxes. That is, we work that long for the government before we start working for ourselves. And, if you put all taxes together, they are about 42 percent of the average income. And, I believe that no government can long last when half the people get the idea they don’t have to work because the other half will work for them, and the other half gets the idea it does no good to work because they cannot keep the reward of their labor. A Frenchman once said that “France fell when the French began to think of the government as a cow to be milked rather than a watchdog to be fed.” Our government is not a cow to be milked; it is a watchdog to be fed. And, the governmental officials, the Bible says, are ministers of God, and they must be fed (Romans 13:6–7). Just as you pay me as a minister, we must pay these others who are God’s ministers.

II. We Must Pray for Our Government

But, not only are we to pay our taxes without griping, and mumbling, and complaining about it—there are a lot of people who would like to live in America so they could pay the taxes that we pay—but I’ll tell you something else: we are to pray for our government. Turn to 1 Timothy 2 for a moment—1 Timothy 2:1: “I exhort therefore, that, first of all”—that is, before you go down to City Hall to complain; that is, before you write letters; that is, before you organize some counter-demonstration; that is, before you even vote—“I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour” (1 Timothy 2:1–3). We sin against our governmental leaders if we elect them and then fail to pray for them.

You say, “Well, should I pray for them if I don’t agree with the government?” You’d better pray for them all the more. You say, “Shall I pray for them if they’re wicked?” Yes. When this was written, Nero was king; Nero was emperor. And, Paul says, “Pray for Nero.” Why? Let me give you a wonderful scripture that you might jot in your margin right there. It’s Proverbs 21:1: “The king’s heart is in the hand of the LORD, [and] as...rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.” Did you know that God can move in the heart of a wicked king? God can rule in the heart of a wicked governor or leader of any sort. “The king’s heart is in the hand of the LORD, [and] as...rivers of water, he turneth it whithersoever he will” (Proverbs 21:1). The greatest responsibility in America does not lie in Washington, nor in Congress, nor in the Pentagon, nor in City Hall. The greatest responsibility lies upon us, as we get upon our faces and pray and pray and pray. God can change a ruler, and God can remove a king. The Bible says, “God setteth up kings, and He removeth them” (Daniel 2:21). We need to pray.

III. We Must Give to Those Who Are in Places of Responsibility Their Proper Respect and Honor

I’ll tell you what else we’re to do: not only should we pay for our government, and not only should we pray for our government; we are to give to those who are in places of responsibility their proper respect and their proper honor. It was not at all wrong for you to stand and give a standing ovation to our mayor; it is fitting that you should do so. Turn again to Romans 13; listen to what God’s Word says in verse 7: “Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour” (Romans 13:7). We are to give that honor; we are to give that proper respect. And I, for one, enjoy giving honor to those who lead us. I, for one, enjoy pledging allegiance to the flag. I, for one, enjoy patriotism.

There are those who tell us we’re not to wrap the Bible in an American flag. I would agree with them if they mean that somehow we’re to confuse our allegiance to the kingdom of heaven and the United States of America. Indeed, we cannot, we must not, we will not, we dare not do that. But, I’ll tell you something else: as you read the Bible, you’re going to find out that the Bible teaches patriotism and the Bible teaches love for one’s fatherland, just as the Bible teaches love for one’s family. For example, the psalmist said in the Book of Psalms, “If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning” (Psalm 137:5). In those days, they loved Jerusalem. In these days, I love my nation. And, I’m glad to be a red-blooded Christian who can stand up for Old Glory, and I still enjoy singing, “God bless America, / Land that I love” (Irving Berlin). And, the Bible says we’re to give fear to whom fear is due, and we are to give honor to whom honor is due (Romans 13:7). And, let us honor the great things that have made our nation the nation that it is.

IV. We Must Speak Up and Sound a Warning When Our Caesar Is Wrong

I’ll tell you a fourth thing that we, as Christians, owe to our Caesar: we need to speak up and sound a warning when our Caesar is wrong. I’m not talking about blind allegiance. I’m not talking about “my country, right or wrong, unless I have the last part of it.” When it’s right, I help to keep it right, and when it’s wrong, I help to make it right. We need to speak to our country; we need to address our country. God’s people dare not be silent. It is Satan’s strategy to keep good men silent in evil times.

Now, I know there are those who would tell me that I can stay in my little prison with stained glass windows and preach to you all I want, but I should not speak on what they call “political issues”—I should not speak on what political, moral issues have now become political issues. But, they’re wrong—dead wrong! And, you’re going to find out, in the Bible, God’s prophets and God’s people have always spoken not only about the government, but sometimes directly to the government. Nathan spoke to King David, and Nathan pointed his bony finger in the face of King David and said, “Thou art the man” (2 Samuel 12:7). Elijah (that we spoke about this morning) preached to Ahab, and he said, “I’m not the one who’s troubling Israel. It’s you and your house.”
Daniel preached to Nebuchadnezzar... There are some who would tell us, “Oh yes, that David... Nathan spoke to David because that was a theocracy.” There are some who would tell us, “Oh yes, it was all right for Elijah to speak to Ahab because that was a theocracy.”

Well, friend, I want to tell you, it wasn’t a theocracy when Daniel preached to Nebuchadnezzar. That was a pagan government, but it didn’t shut Daniel up. It wasn’t a theocracy when Moses preached to Pharaoh. And, we’re not to be quiet; we’re not to be silent. We’re to speak up.

And, I know there are some people who cringe when I mentioned this matter of abortion, but I cannot get it out of my heart. I want you to turn to Proverbs 24 with me for a moment, and I want you to look in verses 11–12. If you’d not yet marked it in your Bible, perhaps you should. God’s Word says, “If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain; If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth he not know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?” (Proverbs 24:11–12). That is, God says if we sit around and if we’re silent while this holocaust is going on, doesn’t God know it? Doesn’t God know it? And, this tongue is not going to be silent about this thing till it’s silent in death. We’re putting those little babies to death. We need to speak to our Caesar. We need to point the finger at our Caesar, and we need to say, “It is wrong!” People say, “Well, that’s what the Right says, and here’s what the Left says.” Friend, it’s not Right or Left; it’s right or wrong! It’s wrong to kill babies—it’s wrong; it’s wrong; it’s wrong; it’s wrong; it is wrong. And, all your sophisticated, silly arguments will not make it right. God in heaven knows—God in heaven knows.

We have a right and a responsibility to speak to our Caesar. And friend, if we don’t speak—and speak when we can, and speak when we ought, and speak when we should—we may not have the ability to speak one day. Martin Niemöller was a Protestant pastor in Germany when the Nazis were taking over an inch at a time. Niemöller said that “when they came for the communists, I didn’t speak up, for I wasn’t a communist.” And then, he said, “They came for the Jews, and I didn’t speak up, because I wasn’t a Jew.” Then, he said, “They came for the Catholics, and I didn’t speak up, because I wasn’t a Catholic.” And then, he said, “They came for the trade unionists, and I didn’t speak up, because I wasn’t in the trade union.” And then, he said, “They came for me, and by that time there was nobody left to speak up for any body.” We must speak to our government. There’s a time, dear friend, when we must cry and forbear not and let us voices be heard.
V. We Must Obey the Laws of Our Government

I'll tell you what else we need to do: we need to obey the laws of our government. Turn to 1 Peter 2—1 Peter 2—and look with me in verse 13: “Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord’s sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; Or unto governors, [for] unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well” (1 Peter 2:13–14). We are to obey the laws of our land. It was Daniel Webster that said, “Whatever makes a man a good Christian makes him a good citizen at the same time.”

The Apostle Paul taught that the policeman, for example, is a minister of God. Go back to Romans 13. We’re talking now about obeying the laws of our land. Romans 13, beginning in verse 1—look at it: “Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers”—that means “governmental authorities”—“For there is no power”—that is, “no authority”—“but of God”—that is, “that God allows.” And, even when Jesus was standing before Pilate, Jesus said to Pilate, “You don’t have any power except that which is given to you” (John 19:11). Jesus realized that even Pilate received his authority from God—“there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God”—now, listen to this—“Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou [not] then...be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same. For he”—now listen, the minister...excuse me...the magistrate and the policeman—“he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not”—now, what's that next word?—“he beareth not the sword in vain: for he”—the civil magistrate is what?—“[a] minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil” (Romans 13:1–4).

There are those who don’t think this young man ought to be put to death in Mississippi for the brutalization, the sodomizing, the torture, the death of that little girl down there. If he is guilty, if he’s been shown to be guilty and proven to be guilty, I want to say I clearly and plainly believe that capital punishment is taught in the Word of God—no ifs, ands, and buts about it. The Bible says, “[He that] sheddeth man’s blood, by [him] shall his blood be shed”—“[for] by man shall his blood be shed” (Genesis 9:6). And what God, through Paul, says in Romans about the civil magistrate is not Old Testament; it is New Testament.

All the people say, “Well, Brother Rogers, we are to turn the other cheek, and we are to render good for evil.” True, surely, right. In our relationships one to another, we’re not to take the law in our hands. Back up to Romans 12:19: “Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves”—that is, don’t take revenge yourself; don’t become a vigilante—“but rather give place unto wrath”—that is, just back up; get out of it if you can—“for it is written, Vengeance is mine”—“I’ll never do anything about it.” Is that what God says?—“Vengeance is mine; I will”—“I will; I will”—“repay, saith the Lord. Therefore”—just leave it to God—“if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire [upon] his head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good” (Romans 12:19–21). In my personal relationships, I am not to take revenge—I dare not; I must not. If I try to get revenge, I am stealing from God just as surely as if I put my hand in the offering plate and took some money out. “Vengeance is mine” (Romans 12:19). Don’t steal it. God will do a better job than you’ll do.

How does God do it? Now, go to the next chapter. You’re in chapter 12; now go to the next chapter. Look at it—verse 4: “For he”—the civil magistrate—“is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid...he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil” (Romans 13:4). Do you see it? God is not saying that people who commit murder are not to be judged. God is not saying that it’s unchristian to execute a murderer. God is saying, “Don’t you do it. I’ll do it, and I’ll do it through My government officials. He is my minister to execute wrath.” There’s no competition between those ideas. It’s a beautiful thing that God has clearly spelled out in His Word. I don’t mean to say, of course, that an execution is a beautiful thing; it’s a horrible thing. But, if we had more sure and swift justice in this land for white and black, rich and poor, we’d see, perhaps, a little more peaceability upon our streets. We need to obey and respect the civil laws of our land.

VI. We Must Participate in the Election Process
I’ll tell you what else we need to do—if you’re taking notes, this is the sixth thing that we owe to our Caesar—not only do we need to obey the laws of our land, but we, ladies and gentlemen, need to participate in the election process.

Now, when you study a passage of Scripture, I’ve told you before and I’ll tell you again, that for you to understand that passage of Scripture, you must ask three questions: What did it mean then? What does it mean now? And, what does it mean to me personally? Now then, it meant to render to Caesar. Well, we don’t have Caesar today. Caesar’s dead—he’s gone; he’s buried. So, I must ask myself, “What does it mean now?” It meant in that day that they were to render to their government the thing that was due to their government. It means today that I am to render to my government the thing that is due to my government. What is my Caesar today? My Caesar today is a constitutional government: “a government for the people, by the people, and of the people.” That is my government today. And friend, if I do not participate in that government—“a government of the people, by the people, and for the people”—I have disobeyed Jesus, who said I am to “render to my Caesar the things that are due to my Caesar” (Matthew 22:21). And, my Caesar, a constitutional government, says that I must participate in that government, because it is “a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.” That means, of course, that I should register and vote.

The scandal of our time is the bad citizenship of good people. It is inconceivable to me that God would have ordained human government—and He did—and then told His people to stay out of it. People say, “Now, don’t get mixed up in politics. Don’t get mixed up in all of that. You just go off over here, and live for Jesus, and leave the rest of it alone.” Well, if you do, who does that leave to run the government? If you take all the good people out of it, you take all of the godly people out of it, you take all of the praying people out of it, take the people with standards, and morals, and belief, and faith—take them out of it—and who does that leave? It’s inconceivable that God would have ordained government and then told His people to stay out of it. No, God’s people need to vote because that is rendering to our Caesar the thing that belongs to our Caesar.

And, when we vote... Let me tell you how to vote. People say, “Oh, don’t tell people how to vote.” Well, I’m going to tell you how to vote. Are you ready? Don’t you vote for a party. Don’t you vote for a person. And, don’t you vote for a policy, and don’t you vote for politics. You vote for principle—that’s how to vote. You find out what the principle is, and you stand by it. And, I’ve told you before, it’s not a matter of the Right or the Left; it’s a matter of right and wrong.

And, don’t you think that your vote doesn’t matter. I’ve studied some about the history of voting. Let me tell you the difference that one vote can make. One vote in 1645 gave Oliver Cromwell the control of England. One vote in 1649 caused Charles I of England to be executed. One vote in 1776 gave America the English language rather than the German language. How many of you can speak German? One vote in 1839 elected Marcus Morton Governor of Massachusetts. One vote in 1845 saved President Andrew Jackson from impeachment. In 1923—listen to this—one vote gave Adolph Hitler the leadership of the Nazi Party—one vote! That’s the reason I said this morning, “I’m only one, but I am one. I can’t do everything, but I can do something. And, what I can do I ought to do. And, what I can do and ought to do by God’s grace I will do.” I believe you’re wrong—let me put it even stronger—I believe you’re sinful if you haven’t registered to vote and you could and should. Now, we’re going to set up some booths around here this summer and help you to register...to get registered to vote. It is your Christian privilege, your Christian responsibility, your Christian duty to vote. We are to render to our Caesar the things that are due to our Caesar.
A. There Must Be No Rival

Now, Jesus said, “Render...unto Caesar the things [that] are Caesar’s”—and then, He said—“[render] unto God the things that are God's” (Matthew 22:21). Very quickly, let me show you what belongs to God. Turn to 1 Timothy 1; look in verse 17. See if you don’t love this verse: “Now unto the King eternal”—do you like that?—“the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen” (1 Timothy 1:17). Render unto Him the things that are His. What does this verse tell us? It tells us that for Him there can be no rival: He is the King eternal; He is the King immortal; He is the King invisible.

Friend, you didn’t vote Him in, and you’re going to vote Him out. He is King of kings and Lord of lords. I want to tell you something: I am going to respect and obey the laws of my land until the laws of my land bring me in direct confrontation with the laws of my God. And then, I’m going with the laws of my God, and I hope you will too. Is there a place for civil disobedience? Absolutely, beyond the shadow of any doubt. When the laws of man so directly, so overtly, so openly contradict the laws of our God and His Christ, then we must say, “Choose You.” What do you think? Should we obey God or man? We’re going to obey God. These early Christians, who were taught to render unto Caesar the things that were Caesar’s, did not render unto Caesar the things that were God’s. And, they told these early Christians, “Say these words: ‘Caesar Kurios’”—“Caesar is Lord.” They said, “No, we’ll pray tribute. We’ll pay taxes. We will obey your laws, but we’ll not worship that man. We will not do it. We will not say, ‘Caesar is Lord.’ There’s one King immortal, invisible, eternal—our God and our King. And, we’re not going to bow the knee to Caesar.” And, they put them to their death—no rights.

B. There Must Be No Rebuttal

Secondly, no rebuttal: “the only wise God” (1 Timothy 1:17). His word is final. That’s the reason that America must pray and say, “God, help us.” You see, dear friend, God doesn’t need America; America needs God.

Our fathers’ God to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing (Samuel Francis Smith).

He’s the One who must give us life. He’s the One who must give us wisdom. Our problems are beyond us. We must pray concerning America, “God, stand beside her and guide her through the night with the light from above, for You are the only wise God, smarter than all the wiseacres in the Pentagon put together.”
C. There Must Be No Refusal

There must be, dear friend, no rival, no rebuttal, and no refusal, because the Bible says, “To Him be honour and glory for ever and ever” (1 Timothy 1:17). When you get right down to it, dear friend, it’s not God and country; it’s not God and anything—it’s God, just God. “Render...unto Caesar the things [that] are Caesar’s; and unto God the things that are God’s” (Matthew 22:21).

Conclusion

Let’s pray. Father, we’re grateful for the way our nation was founded. Lord, we’re grateful for Your mercies in the past. And I, for one, dear Lord, am grateful for Your patience with us as a nation. And Lord, we deserve judgment, and those of us in this room deserve judgment, not perhaps for the things that we’ve done, but for the things that we’ve failed to do. Lord, we’ve not prayed, we’ve not spoken, we’ve not witnessed as we should, and we stand guilty tonight. And Lord, as pastor and people, as a congregation and as individuals, we bow our heads and we pray, O God, one more time, bless this country. God, as we turn from evil, you know, Lord, that there are things beyond our control. There are things that happen in the courtrooms—things that happen in City Hall and in the halls of Congress over which we have no immediate control except prayer. So Lord, we pray. And then, Lord, help us as we go back to our neighborhoods, to our offices, to our family, to let the love, and the beauty, and the gentleness of Jesus be lived out in our hearts and in our lives. For we pray in His wonderful, wonderful name. Amen.
One Nation Under God

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: July 7, 2002

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:15–22

“And he saith unto them. Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Caesar’s. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar’s; and unto God the things that are God’s.”

MATTHEW 22:20–21

Outline

Introduction
I. Our Duty to Human Government
   A. We Are to Participate in Our Government
   B. We Are to Pay for Our Government
   C. We Are to Pray for Our Country
   D. We Are to Speak to Our Government
   E. We Are to Show Patriotism for Our Country
II. Our Duty to Holy God
   A. There Can Be No Rival
   B. There Can Be No Rebuttal
   C. There Can Be No Refusal

Conclusion

Introduction

Well, I told you grace was wonderful, and if you have it in your heart, you know what we’re talking about. Take God’s precious Word and find Matthew chapter 22. And, when you’ve found it, look up here, and let me share with you what was recently in our paper. It says, “‘Single Dad’s Lawsuit Took Aim at Pledge.’ Los Angeles—He’s a suburban, single dad with degrees in medicine and the law who for the past few years has devoted his life to the cause advancing the separation of church and state. Michael Newdow, 49, also is an atheist. He did not like it when he heard that his daughter was being asked to recite the Pledge of Allegiance every morning at a public elementary school near Sacramento because it includes the phrase ‘under God.’ So he filed a lawsuit, taking the case to court on his own.” And, he goes on to say—he was interviewed on NBC’s Today Show—and he said, “We’re not supposed to have religion infused into our society by government.”

Now tonight, we’re going to talk a little bit about church and state, and I want to read, first of all, from the Word of God. Matthew chapter 22, beginning in verse 15: “Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk”—now friend, every time the Pharisees tried to trap the Lord Jesus, or entangle the Lord Jesus, it blew up and backfired on them—“And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth”—of course, they were lying when they said that. He did this, but they didn’t believe it—“neither carest thou for any man; for thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute”—that is, to pay taxes—“unto Caesar, or not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money”—that is, the tax money—“And they brought unto him a penny. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Caesar’s. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar’s; and unto God the things that are God’s. When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.” (Matthew 22:15–22)

Now, let’s talk a little bit about “One Nation Under God,” and let’s talk a little bit about church and state. It may surprise you to know that the phrase “separation of church and state” is not found in the Constitution of the United States of America. Did you know that? You can’t find it. Read it from beginning to end. The very phrase is not there. As a matter of fact, you won’t find the “church” anywhere in this document. But, we do have the First Amendment, and in the First Amendment of our Constitution, and through all of the Constitution, no restriction—listen to me—no restriction, none whatsoever—was placed on the church. All the limitations in the Constitution are placed upon the government. So, you say, “Well, what about the phrase ‘separation of church and state?’” Well, that came some eleven years after the Constitution was adopted and ratified. It came from Thomas Jefferson, who, in some correspondence, used that phrase “a wall of separation between church and state.” And, even when Thomas Jefferson used that phrase, he was not using that phrase to say that the church should stay out of government but that the government should stay out of the church.

However, in the past fifty years or so, the ACLU and other liberal and secular humanist organizations have tried to reverse the meaning of the Constitution—actually, to turn it upside down, to turn it on its head. And, if they had their way, they would like for all moral values, all religious symbols, in our public life to be removed from our public life, and they want to do that in the name of the First Amendment. The irony of all of that is that the First Amendment was written to keep people like that from doing just that very same thing. The Declaration of Independence, which is the intention of our Founding Fathers to found this nation, clearly recognizes God. And, it was adopted by the Continental Congress, and the members of the Continental Congress, of course, were elected by the people of the respective states; and so, therefore, this Declaration of Independence represents the consensus of the people at that time.

And, always in this Declaration of Independence, from that time to this, we find these references to God. I'll mention these. The Declaration of Independence speaks of the laws of nature and nature's God: “the Laws of Nature and of Nature’s God entitle them…” Another quotation: “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal.” Again, another statement in the Declaration: “They are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights.” And then, the Declaration closes with “a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence.”

Our Founding Fathers did not believe in the separation of God from government. Do you know what the first act of Congress was? Would you like to know? The first act of Congress was the printing of twenty thousand Bibles for the Indians. That was the first act of Congress. A Frenchman, some fifty years after the Constitution was written, came to the United States of America to find out what made America the great nation that she is and was, the republic that God gave us. This Frenchman, Alexis de Tocqueville, came in 1831. De Tocqueville came and went up and down the breadth, the highways and the hedges, of America, interviewed people, studied, read the documents, found something of the life of America, and this is what De Tocqueville said: “Religion in America takes no direct part in the government of society, but it must be regarded as the first of their political institutions…I am certain that they hold it to be indispensable to the maintenance of republican institutions”—now, when he says, “republican institutions,” he didn’t mean a party like the Republican Party; he meant a government by law—“This opinion is not peculiar to a class of citizens or to a party, but it belongs to the whole nation and to every rank of society.” I’m telling you, when this nation was born, it was born in the midst of religious revival. And, if you were to study the state constitutions of that time, all of them—all of them—recognized Almighty God, and today every state constitution recognizes Almighty God.

Let me give you an example of some of them. North Carolina: “We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations…” Well, let’s talk about New Jersey: “We, the people of the State of New Jersey, grateful to Almighty God for the civil and religious liberty which He hath so long permitted us to enjoy, and looking to Him for a blessing upon our endeavors…” Or, let’s think a little bit about Rhode Island: “We, the people of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, grateful to Almighty God…” What about New York? ”We The People of the State of New York, grateful to Almighty God for our Freedom, in order to secure its blessings, DO ESTABLISH THIS CONSTITUTION.” And, on we could go through all of the state constitutions. They all recognize Almighty God.

Samuel Adams, who was the father of the American Revolution and a signer of the Declaration of Independence, wrote, “The right to freedom being the gift of God Almighty.” Listen to that: “The right to freedom being the gift of God Almighty.” “The rights of colonists as Christians…may be best understood by reading and carefully studying the institutes of the great Lawgiver”—he’s talking there about Moses—“which are to be found clearly written and promulgated in the New Testament.” And so, he’s saying that we have the great Lawgiver, God Himself, through His prophets, and our Constitution was written on the basis of Judeo-Christian law.

Now, the most burning question today that we face as Americans is, really, is this one nation under God, or is this a secular nation without any fixed, moral absolutes that functions independent of any god other than human reason? If you want to frustrate a politician, let him spout a while about values and then ask him, “Whose values?” And then, he’s either going to have to say, “Well, my values,” or “your values,” or “God’s values.” You see, we make values relative if we do not have a fixed standard, and we have that fixed standard in the Constitution, that is rooted in the very Word of God.

Now, I want to remind you that the phrase “separation of church and state” is not in the Constitution at all. It can’t be found there in the Constitution. It was written, as we said, by Thomas Jefferson eleven years after the Constitution was written. Now, he was not even one of the Founding Fathers. As a matter of fact, he was out of the country when the Constitution was being debated. Now, Jefferson could not be called a Bible-believing Christian, but even Jefferson said this—and I want you to listen to what Jefferson wrote, and I’m quoting: “God, who gave us life, gave us liberty. Can the liberties of a nation be secure when we have removed a conviction that these liberties are the gift of God? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just, that His justice cannot sleep forever. Commerce between master and slave is despotism”—he’s talking here about something that must be done about slavery—“Nothing is more certainly written in the book of fate than these people are to be free.” Jefferson here was talking about freedom in America, and he said that the freedom that we must have in America comes from God. The God who gave us life is the God who gave us liberty.

Well, what did the First Amendment mean, therefore, when it says that “Congress shall make no law respecting [the] establishment of religion”? It meant that we will have no national church. Our national church will not be an Episcopal church, it will not be a Baptist church, it will not be a Methodist church. But, our Constitution is not hostile to religion, and our Constitution is not hostile to the Christian faith. John Adams said a very marvelous thing. He said, “Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other”—our Constitution. Listen to this; it’s a great statement: “Our Constitution was made only for a moral and a religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other.” If you have a democracy that results in a republic, that’s made up by laws, people who do not have a moral base, then wicked people are going to elect wicked people, and they're going to enact wicked laws.

So, what are the responsibilities—the rights and the responsibilities—of those of us who are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ and citizens of this great country? Where are we going to get the answers? Well, we’re not going to get the answers from politicians who often have an ax to grind. Where are we going to get the answers? We’re not going to get the answers from the secular humanists, and the ungodly, and the ACLU, and from Planned Parenthood. Where are we going to get the answers? We’re not going to get the answers from the philosophies of well-meaning religionists. The answers come from the Word of God, and I’ve just read to you from Matthew chapter 22 what Jesus said, which is the wisdom of the ages concerning a Christian in this society, really, or in any other society.

Now, Jesus said we’re to “render…unto Caesar the things [that] are Caesar’s; and unto God the things that are God’s.” (Matthew 22:21) When you want to understand the Bible, you ask yourself three questions. You are to, first of all, look at when it was written, and you ask yourself, “What did it mean then?” Then you ask yourself the second question: What does that mean today?—that is, how does it apply today? The meaning doesn’t change, but the application changes. Caesar is not our czar, is not our ruler. We live in a democracy. So, what does it mean, “Render unto Caesar”? What does that mean to an American today? What did it mean then? What does it mean to us today? And then, we ask the third question, and here’s really where the rubber meets the road: What does that mean to me personally? Now, if you want the Bible to burst aflame, you ask yourself these three questions: What did it mean then? How does it apply today? And, how does it apply to me personally?

Now, let’s ask about separation of church and state. Rightly understood, none of us would argue with the separation of church of state. Rightly understood, none of us would argue with the phrase “Congress shall make no law respecting [the] establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.” Our Founding Fathers did not mean for a moment the separation of God and government. And, that’s seen in the history of our country. Look on the money in your billfold, and you’ll find printed this phrase: “In God we trust.” Now, if the ACLU had their way, and People for the American Way and others, they would want to take that off of our coinage. You would find in this country a Congress that opens with prayer. Isn’t it strange that these congressional leaders can pray but our boys and girls in school can’t? Is that not strange? Is it not strange that you can go and visit the Supreme Court, as I have—the building of the Supreme Court in Washington, DC—and see there displayed on the walls the Ten Commandments, and yet we cannot have the Ten Commandments on our classroom walls? Is that not strange indeed? And, up until this time, there’s been no quibble about saluting our flag since this phrase was added: “One nation under God.” We’ve never quibbled about that before. But, now we have revisionists who would like to change everything.

I want to remind you, friend, that America was founded as a country that had spiritual and moral values rooted in the Judeo-Christian ethic. Abraham Lincoln said—listen to what Abraham Lincoln said: “I believe that it is the duty of nations as well as men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God.” Now, listen to that statement: “It is the duty”—not merely the privilege, but the duty—“of nations as well as men to own”—or, “recognize”—“their dependence upon the overruling power of God.”

Now, our Constitution, the Constitution of the United States of America, is opposed to state-mandated or state-supported churches, and I’ll be in the beginning of that fight. I do not want any state church, be it Baptist or any other thing. It would be the worst thing that could happen to the Church, and the worst thing that could happen to the state. What the framers of our Constitution believed in, and rightly so, was a free church in a free state. But, ungodly people have always wanted to separate God from government. Put in your margin “Psalm chapter 2”—beginning in verse 1: “Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed”—that is, against the Lord and His Messiah, His Christ—“saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the LORD shall have them in derision.” (Psalms 2:1–4)

And, God laughs at the Ninth Circuit Court in San Francisco, and all of these—this little atheist man who does not want to recognize God in government—who say, “Let’s cast their cords aside. We don’t want God in our ruling.” We have bought into that today, and we have tried to kick God out of our schools and out of our halls of legislation. And, what has been the result? We, today, have a nation that is baptized with salty tears, and we have become, in many ways, the laughingstock of other nations. And, the scream of the American eagle has become the twitter of a frightened sparrow. And, we felt that we could get along without God.

Now tonight, I want to talk to you about two basic things: number one, our duty to human government; and number two: our duty to holy God. And, I want us to see what the Bible teaches that we’re to do as Christians.

I. Our Duty to Human Government
What is our duty, and our privilege, and our responsibility to human government?

A. We Are to Participate in Our Government
Number one: We are to participate in our government. Now, if you don’t participate in your government, may God have mercy upon you! You are disobeying the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus said we’re to “render…unto Caesar the things [that] are Caesar’s.” (Matthew 22:21) What is our Caesar? Our Caesar is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Now, if you do not participate, you are not giving to your Caesar what is due because you are not participating in a government that is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. A wise man has said that “the scandal of our time is the bad citizenship of good people.” It is inconceivable that God ordained human government and then told His people to stay out of it.

Now, if that is true, who does that leave to make the laws and to run the nation? Now, we are going to participate, and our focus is not going to be upon parties, not upon persons, not upon politics, but principles. We are to be informed. I’ve heard it until I’m sick of hearing it—about the “Christian Right.” Now friend, it’s as if we’re choosing between right or left. No, we don’t choose between right or left; we choose between right or wrong. And, we just simply want to say what is right, and nothing is politically right that is morally wrong. And so, we do not separate ourselves from government any more than we separate God from government.

Now, the people of this church need to be registered to vote. We’re going to help you to register to vote. And, if you’re not registered to vote, I’ll guarantee you one thing: you are not going to vote. You say, “Well, my vote won’t make a difference.” In 1645, one vote gave Oliver Cromwell control of all of England. In 1649, one vote caused Charles I of England to be executed. In 1776—listen to this—one vote gave America the English language rather than German. How many of you speak German? All right, listen. In 1839, one vote elected Marcus Morton Governor of Massachusetts. In 1845, one vote saved President Andrew Jackson from impeachment. In 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency of the United States. In 1923, one vote made Adolf Hitler the leader of the Nazi Party—one vote. I’m only one, but I am one. I can’t do everything, but I can do something. And, what I can do and ought to do, that, by the grace of God, I will do. Your one vote makes a difference. Think how narrow that vote was in Florida in this last election.

Now, don’t let people make you believe because you’re a Bible-believing Christian that somehow you are disenfranchised. You are not! You know, some people think that we need to stay inside our church houses, sort of stain-glassed prisons, and not come outside.

Let me see if I can illustrate this. There is a law in our Constitution that keeps the government out of our homes. The government cannot burst into your home and break down the door and come in, or force their way in—what we call “illegal search and seizure.” Why? Because a man’s castle is his home, and that’s a part of our American way of life. But, because the government cannot kick down my door and come into my home, does that mean, contrariwise, that I cannot go outside? Of course not! Now, this is what the First Amendment means. It means that the government is to stay out of the church. It does not mean that the church cannot go out into society. That doesn’t mean that at all.

People say, “Well, what about prayer in public schools?” Listen. Why is it that people believe in freedom for everybody but Christians? Prayer is free speech. I believe that a red-blooded, free American can pray vocally anywhere, anytime, under the rules of decorum. You know, people say, “Well, it might offend somebody.” Well, friend, our children are offended every day by the things that are taught, the immoral sex education, the blasphemy, the blatant rock music with its sexual innuendoes and all of this. They’re offended every day. And, by the way, there’s nothing in the Constitution that keeps a person from being offended. If it offends people that we pray, so be it. The great danger is not that Christians pray. Friend, people say, “Well, if Christians pray, then you’re going to have to let the Islamists pray. You’re going to have to let the Buddhists pray. You’re going to let these others pray.” I don’t care if they pray. God can sort out the prayers. The great danger—the great danger—is not that the pagans pray; the great danger is that God’s people don’t.

Now, they say, “Well, we want to be neutral in our schools.” Well, how can you be neutral about religion? You can’t be neutral about religion. That’s like saying, “Well, we’re going to be neutral about food so nobody will eat. We’re going to be neutral about air so nobody will breathe.” No, there are some things you cannot be neutral about. Our faith is our bread. Our faith is our breath.

Now, this church cannot be identified with any political party, nor should we ever be. We need to be free from all political parties in that sense, so we can tell them all to repent and get right with God. The church must never attempt to use the power of the government for spiritual goals. The government is here to protect us, but it cannot improve us morally or spiritually. The government is here to restrain evil. God is here to make us good. The government must be free to do what it alone can do so the Church may be free to do what she alone can do. And, whenever church and state marry each other, the church is always the loser. And, if you marry a politician, you’ll be a widow in about four years.

What is the church here for? The church is here to minister God’s grace. The government is here to minister God’s justice. The church is to expose evil. The state is to restrain evil. The church is to carry out the Great Commission. The state is to preserve peace so it is possible for us to carry out the Great Commission in liberty and peace. The government is national. The church is international. It is worldwide. It is rooted in the Kingdom of God.

So, what are we to do? We are to participate in our government. And, don’t let anybody try to disenfranchise you or me because we’re Christians. You know, every now and then people get upset because I, as a preacher, talk about politics and I, as a preacher, talk about government. Why not? I’m an American. I pay taxes. I have every right. You have every right to speak out. This is our country. We’re not disenfranchised. We are to participate in our government.

B. We Are to Pay for Our Government

And, you won’t like the next one, but we’re to pay for our government. We’re to pay for it. We’re to pay taxes. Did you know that it’s biblical to pay taxes? That’s what they asked Jesus about: “Is it right to give taxes to Caesar or not?” Yes, we’re to pay taxes. Romans chapter 13, verses 6 and 7: “For this cause pay ye tribute also”—the word tribute doesn’t mean you’re a nice fellow, but it means “to pay taxes”—“for they are God’s ministers”—he’s talking about the governmental officials—“attending continually upon this very thing. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.” (Romans 13:6–7) Tribute would be like income tax. Custom would be like sales tax. We’re having a big debate about that in Tennessee right now today.

Again, in Matthew chapter 17, beginning in verse 24, talking about Jesus and His disciples: “When they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?”—“Doesn’t Jesus pay taxes?”—“He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free. Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.” (Matthew 17:24–27) It’s an unusual way of paying taxes. I can’t even catch a fish, much less one with a coin in its mouth. But, the point of this whole thing is here that Jesus paid taxes. He said, “Peter, use that coin”—it must have been a very valuable coin—“use that coin to pay taxes for you and for me.” Jesus paid taxes.

Now, of course, we all love to stand up against over-taxation. Somebody has said that “a nation is on its last legs when half the people get the idea they don’t have to work and the other half to get the idea it does no good to work because people take everything that they work for.” A Frenchman said that “France fell when the people began to think of the government as a cow to be milked rather than a watchdog to be fed.”

Our Founding Fathers were so wise. They said that government is to provide for the common defense and promote the general welfare. They did not say that the government is here to provide for the general welfare. The government is here to provide for the common defense. You and I can't raise an army. We can’t go around as a bunch of vigilantes, taking vengeance on people. We need a common defense. That's what government is for. We are to promote the general welfare. Give us a free country where people can earn a living but not put everybody on a welfare state, for the Bible says, “If [a man will] not work, neither should he eat.” (2 Thessalonians 3:10) We’re to pay taxes. And yes, we’ll grumble. Yes, we'll gripe. Yes, we'll try to keep taxes as low as we can. But, I’ll tell you, people are still standing in line trying to get into America, the greatest nation on the face of this earth.

C. We Are to Pray for Our Country

I'll tell you the third thing we’re to do: not only are we to participate and to pay, but we’re to pray. We are to pray for our country. First Timothy chapter 2, verses 1 through 3: “I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour.” (1 Timothy 2:1–3)

Do you pray for your government? Let me tell you something—if this makes you mad, you come up to me and apologize after the service and I’ll forgive you: if you don’t pray and you don’t vote, you lose your right to complain. Don’t you complain. You ought to be ashamed of yourself, a person that does not vote and a person that does not pray. We are to participate, and we are to pray. We’re to pray for our rulers even if they’re wicked. When this was written, Nero was the Emperor. A more wicked person would be hard to find. But, you still pray for them. If they’re wicked, pray all the more. Proverbs 21, verse 1: “The king’s heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.” (Proverbs 21:1)

We’ve often heard it said that wicked rulers are God’s reward for wicked people. And, I remember reading in the Bible about God’s ancient people who wanted something that was not best for them. The Bible said God gave them the desire of their heart and sent leanness into their souls. (Psalms 106:15) I sometimes think that we as America are suffering greatly because of the desire of our heart for wicked rulers. The greatest responsibility for America is not in the White House nor in the State House but in the church house, and your house and my house while we pray. Joyce and I make it a habit to pray every Lord’s Day for America and for our leaders. And, we pray for our president. We pray for our governor. We pray for our senators. We pray for our representatives. We pray for our mayors. We even pray for the Lakeland mayor where we live. We pray for the Germantown mayor, and the Bartlett mayor, and the mayor of this city, Memphis. And, we pray because the Bible says we’re to pray for these people.
That doesn’t mean that we agree with their politics always.

A man said to a politician, “I’m praying for you,” and he said, “Well, that’s right.” The politician said, “You’re to pray for all who are in authority.” (1 Timothy 2:1–2) He said, “Well, that’s not why I’m praying. It’s the other command that I’m following: ‘Pray for them that persecute you.’” (Matthew 5:44) But, we’re to pray.

Now, are you praying for this nation? America needs prayer.

D. We Are to Speak to Our Government

Now, not only are we, friend, to pay, and to pray, and to participate, but we’re to preach. We’re to speak to our nation. We’re to speak to our government. God has called us to be salt and light. Jesus said, “You don’t light a candle and put it under a bushel.” (Matthew 5:15; Mark 4:21; Luke 11:33) We’re salt. (Matthew 5:13) Salt penetrates, and salt irritates, and salt cleanses, and salt heals. And, God’s people dare not be silent. We need to know what the issues are, and we need to speak.

Study the Bible, and find out what the men of old did. Nathan was a prophet of God, and he spoke to King David and told him where he was wrong. Elijah was a prophet of God, and he spoke to King Ahab and told him where he was wrong. Eliezer was a prophet of God, and he spoke to King Jehoshaphat and told him where he was wrong. Daniel was a man of God, and he preached and spoke and prophesied to King Nebuchadnezzar. Moses was a man of God, and he spoke to Pharaoh and warned Pharaoh. And, we need to speak. We need to speak about abortion in America. We need to speak about the murder of the innocent. We’ve heard about abortion so long that now, when we hear about it, we just kind of give a sympathetic smile and hope that the pastor will move on to something a little more edifying.

I testified, when I was President of the Southern Baptist Convention, to a Senate hearing chaired by Senator Orrin Hatch, and I gave Orrin Hatch this passage of Scripture—Proverbs 24, verses 11 and 12: “If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain; if thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth he not know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?” (Proverbs 24:11–12) Yes, we’re to speak, and we will not, dare not, cannot, must not be silent in these days. Good people need to speak up. You need to speak to your neighbors, your friends, for our government.

E. We Are to Show Patriotism for Our Country

The next thing that we owe to our government is patriotism—not only preaching, but patriotism. I am a patriot. I love this nation. Patriotism is not wrong. Patriotism, the love of a country, just means, “love of your fatherland.” I expect my children to love me in my family. I expect family loyalty. And, we can expect national loyalty. Patriotism is a virtue taught in the Bible. The psalmist said in Psalm 137, verse 5: “If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand lose her cunning” (Psalms 137:5)—“If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, may my hand be palsied.” Yes, the Bible teaches patriotism. Sir Walter Scott wrote a note of true Christian patriotism when he wrote this:

_Breathes there the man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!_

—SIR WALTER SCOTT

A good, red-blooded Christian American will stand up for Old Glory, and he will sing with all of his heart “God Bless America.” If we don’t love America, who is going to love America? America is a God-blessed, God-founded nation. No nation ever had such a Christian beginning as America—none! And, God has blessed us these two hundred plus years. And, may God’s grace continue to shine upon America!

II. Our Duty to Holy God
Now, that’s our duty to human government. What is our duty to Holy God?

A. There Can Be No Rival
Again, 1 Timothy chapter 1, verse 17—here it is: “Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.” (1 Timothy 1:17) Now, some people say America doesn’t have a king, but our Founding Fathers believed that we did: “Protect us by thy might, great God our king.” We didn’t vote Him in, and we won’t vote Him out. He is the King eternal, immortal, and invisible, and therefore, there can be no rival. The early Christians, while they believed in rendering to Caesar the things that were Caesar’s and unto God the things that were God’s, they refused to render unto Caesar the things that are God’s. They refuse to say that Caesar is Lord: “Kurios Caesar.” They would not say that. They could have saved their lives if they’d only offered a pinch of incense to Caesar, but they would not do that. They would not say, “Caesar is Lord.” Our duty to Holy God is that He can have no rival.

B. There Can Be No Rebuttal
And then, there can be no rebuttal. He is the only wise God. What does that mean? It means His Word is final. When I have to figure out what is right or wrong, I go to the Word of God, and God’s Word is final. And, He’s the One who wants to guide America. That’s the reason we sing, “Stand beside her and guide her through the night with the light from above.”
C. There Can Be No Refusal

There can be no rival. There can be no rebuttal. And, there can be no refusal. “To Him be honor and glory,” (Revelation 5:13) the Scripture says. Now remember, we must “obey God rather than men.” (Acts 5:29) There may come a time when you and I must be civilly disobedient. We cannot always obey the government. The midwives, when the little babies were being killed in the time of wicked Pharaoh and in the times of Herod, would hide the little babies, (Exodus 1:17) and well they might. There may be a time when they will say to me, “Adrian, you cannot preach the Word of God.” I’m going to preach it anyway.

I’ve had the privilege of meeting with the past presidents of the United States, meeting with Jimmy Carter, and meeting with Ronald Reagan. I’ve had the privilege of meeting with both George Bushes, and I’ve had the privilege of meeting with William Clinton—one time. I was never asked back. And, I told him we’re not going to ordain homosexuals, we’re not going to lower the standard of God’s Word, and you’re not going to take away our tax exemption either. That was the last time I was invited. And, I wouldn’t have come that time if it had been any kind of an endorsement. And, I don’t say that boastfully, but there comes a time when we must say, as God’s people, “We will obey God rather than man. We’re going to do what’s right.” You know, they may come and confiscate our property one day. They may come and put us in jail one day. One day, we may face the firing squad. If we do, hallelujah! Hallelujah! There is a God. And, there is our duty to human government. And there is our duty to Holy God.

Conclusion

I believe in good government, but government is not the answer. All government can do, apart from God, is to make the world a better place to go to hell from. What we need to do is to preach the glorious gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Now, some people say, “Well, it’s worldly if you get involved.” No, a wise man once said, “To try to improve society is not worldliness, but love; to wash your hands of society is not love, but worldliness.” Yes, we will try to improve society, but above all, we’re going to preach the Lord Jesus Christ. And, as long as there’s breath is these lungs, I’m going to say, “May America ever be one nation under God!”

Copyright ©2022 Love Worth Finding Ministries, Inc. | Used by permission from the Rogers Family Trust. | www.LWF.org/ARLC
Is Jesus God?

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: November 2, 1986

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 22:41–46

"While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David."

MATTHEW 22:41–42

Outline

Introduction

I. The Attributes Jesus Possesses
   A. The Pre-existence of Jesus
   B. The Absolute Holiness of Jesus

II. The Adoration Jesus Receives

III. The Admission Jesus Gives of Himself

IV. The Activity Jesus Carries Out
   A. Jesus Creates All Things
   B. Jesus Sustains All Things
   C. Jesus Gives Life
   D. Jesus Answers Prayer

Conclusion

Introduction

I want you to take your Bibles tonight and turn to Matthew chapter 22. I will begin reading in just a moment in verse 41. The title of our message tonight is "Is Jesus God?" Matthew chapter 22, verse 41: "While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, saying, What think ye of Christ? —and by the way, no greater question could be asked with more solemn ramifications than one question: "What think ye of Christ?" (Matthew 22:42)—"whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool? If David then call him Lord, how is he his son? And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions." (Matthew 22:41–46)

It has wisely been said that "great minds discuss ideals. Average minds discuss events. Small minds discuss people." This, however, is not true when it comes to the person of Jesus Christ. When you discuss Jesus Christ, you can discuss nothing greater. Now, the Bible teaches that Jesus Christ is God in human flesh. Somebody wrote these words, and they sound very noble:

If Jesus Christ is a man
And only a man, I say
That of all mankind I will cleave to Him,
And to Him will cleave alway.

If Jesus Christ is a God,
And the only God, I swear
I will follow Him through heaven and hell,
The earth, the sea, and the air.

—Richard Watson Gilder

Those are beautiful words, but I don’t agree with them at all. If Jesus Christ is a man, and only a man, I’m not going to cleave to Him. If Jesus Christ is a man, and only a man, I’m going to reject Him as a fake, a fraud, and an impostor. Jesus Christ is more than a man. He is God, a very God.

It’s very important that you understand what I have to say because it is the story, the cornerstone, of Christianity. And, I want to give you four lines of evidence for the deity of Jesus Christ. I want you to jot these down. I want you to get the Scripture, and I want you to see clearly and plainly that Jesus Christ is the Son of God with power and God in human flesh. Here are the four lines of argument—here are four evidences—for the absolute deity of Jesus Christ.

I. The Attributes Jesus Possesses
Number one: I know that Jesus Christ is God by the attributes that describe Him in the Word of God. The attributes of the Father are found in the Lord Jesus. Now, for a moment, I want you to lick your fingers, and we’re going to take our Bible and do a Bible study. And, I’m going to compare with you the Jehovah of the Old Testament with the Jesus of the New Testament, and I’m going to show you that the Jehovah of the Old Testament and the Jesus of the New Testament are, in essence, the same—Jehovah in the Old Testament and Jesus in the New Testament.

One time I was in my yard, and a man with a briefcase came up and he began to talk to me about religion. I already suspected what organization he belonged to. But, I was out there in my grubby clothes, working in the yard, and he began to talk about religion and world events. And, I said, “Well, before we talk, I’d like to know what organization you belong to. What denomination, what background, are you?” He said, “Well, that doesn’t make any particular difference. Let’s just talk about religion.” I said, “Well, no, it makes a difference to me. I’d really like to know.” He said, “Well, no, I’d rather not.” I said, “Are you ashamed of what you represent? Tell me, who are you?
What is your background?” He said, “Well, I’m a Jehovah’s Witness. Does that make difference?” I said, “No, so am I.” He said, “You are?” I said, “Yes, I am.” He looked me up and down, and he said, “Well, I’ve never seen you over at the Kingdom Hall.” I said, “Oh, I don’t go to the Kingdom Hall. I go to the Baptist church.” He said, “You do?” I said, “Yes.” And, he said, “And you’re Jehovah’s Witness?” And, I said, “Yes, I love to talk about Jehovah and His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. And, I believe that Jehovah and Jesus are one, and Jesus said, ‘Ye shall be witnesses unto me.’ (Acts 1:8); so that makes me a Jehovah’s Witness.” He said, “I don’t think I understand you.” I said, “Let me show you something,” and I began to show him what I want to show you—how God equates the Jehovah of the Old Testament with Jesus in the New Testament.

Now, the name Jehovah is the name for the Almighty. It is used in the Old Testament over seven thousand times. Now, if you have a King James Version of the Scripture, the way Jehovah is translated is “LORD.” Pious Jews never spoke this name in audible terms. When they were reading the Scripture, when they came to the name, they would close their eyes and bow their head in worship. The congregation would do the same thing if they were reading the Scripture and just came to the name Jehovah. When a scribe was copying the Holy Scripture—remember, they didn’t have printing presses, but they would copy it—when he would come to the name Jehovah, he would get a brand-new pen just to write that name. Jehovah—that is, translated “LORD”—this is the name that God used for Himself when He was dealing with His people—His personal name. When God created everything, He used the name Elohim, but when He’s the God of redemption and the God of compassion, He uses the name Jehovah.

Now, I want you to just take your Bible, therefore, and let’s see something very interesting. Turn with me to Isaiah for a moment, in the Old Testament. And, by the way, this will be like a children’s Bible drill; and so, we’re going to have to work at it a little bit. Isaiah chapter 40 and verse 3—and I want you to see that the Bible describes the Lord in this way—Isaiah chapter 40, verse 3: “The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the L ORD”—now, remember the word “LORD” here is Jehovah— “Prepare ye the way of the L ORD”—or “Jehovah”—“make straight in the desert a highway for our God.” (Isaiah 40:3)

Now, that’s a very interesting passage of Scripture, but now let’s turn to the New Testament and see how that is applied. Turn with me, please, to Matthew chapter 3, verse 3, and you’re going to find out that these were the words of John the Baptist. Well, as a matter of fact, let’s begin in verse 1: “In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea, and saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.” (Matthew 3:1–3)
Now, who was John the Baptist talking about? Well, go down to verse 11. John said, “I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance, but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire. Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.” (Matthew 3:11–13) All right, who was the Lord whose way is being prepared? Who was that Jehovah that Isaiah was talking about and that John preached? It was none other but the Lord Jesus Christ.

Now, go to Isaiah chapter 44, and look with me in verse 6—Isaiah 44, verse 6: “Thus saith the LORD the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts”—literally, “the Jehovah of hosts.” Now, I want you to see what Jehovah says of Himself. Jehovah says—“I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.” (Isaiah 44:6) Now, Jehovah calls Himself “the first” and “the last.” Now, turn with me to the book of Revelation and see what the Bible has to say about the Lord Jesus. Look with me in Revelation chapter 1 and verse 17. John saw Jesus, and he said, “And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last: I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.” (Revelation 1:17–18) In the Old Testament, Jehovah is the first and the last. In the New Testament, Jesus is the first and the last.

Now, turn to Titus, if you will, with me, in the New Testament, and see what the New Testament had to say about this. Right after the book of Second Timothy, in Titus chapter 2 and verse 13—listen to it: “Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ.” (Titus 2:13) Now, Jehovah says, “Beside me there is no saviour,” (Isaiah 43:11) but here in the New Testament, Jesus Christ is called “the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ.” (Titus 2:13) It’s very clear that Jehovah is Savior and Jesus is Savior. And, actually, the name Jesus—do you know what it means? It literally means “Jehovah saves.” That’s what the name Jesus means. Jesus and Jehovah are the same.

Look with me, if you will, in Psalm 24 for a moment, here in the Old Testament. And, in Psalm 24, you’re going to find out that Jehovah is called “the Lord of glory.” Psalm 24 and verse 10: “Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts, he is the King of glory.”
(Psalms 24:10) But now, turn with me, please, to 1 Corinthians chapter 2 and verse 8, and we’re going to find out that while Jehovah is called “the King of glory” in the Old Testament, Jesus is called “the Lord of glory” in the New Testament. Paul said, concerning our Lord, “Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.” (1 Corinthians 2:8) Psalm 24 calls Jehovah “the Lord of glory.” (Psalms 24:10) The Apostle Paul calls Jesus “the Lord of glory.” (1 Corinthians 2:8) In Psalm 23 and verse 1, the Bible says, “The LORD is my shepherd.” (Psalms 23:1) It literally says, “Jehovah is my shepherd.” In John chapter 10 and verse 11, Jesus said, “I am the good shepherd.” (John 10:11) What I’m trying to say to you…and I could go on and on and on; as a matter of fact, take all of my preaching time comparing the Jehovah of the Old Testament with the Jesus of the New Testament. Now, I’m telling you, friend, I’m just giving you that bit of Jesus, and I’m showing you that the attributes of Jesus are the attributes of God Himself.

Now, turn with me, for example, to John chapter 1, and let’s look for a moment—the Gospel of John—and we’ll stop comparing Jesus with Jehovah verse by verse, but we’ll do something else. John chapter 1, and I want to begin reading in verse 1 and see how the Bible describes the Lord Jesus: “In the beginning was the Word”—“the Logos”—“and”—“the [Logos]”—“the Word”—“was with God, and the [Logos] was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men.” (John 1:1–4) Now, what does this tell us?

A. The Pre-existence of Jesus

This tells us that the Word, the Logos, Jesus—and by the way, there’s no doubt about the fact that the Word here is the Lord Jesus, and anybody can read and see very clearly and very plainly that “the Word” refers to Jesus—now, that Word was in the beginning with God and that Word was God. (John 1:1) That speaks of the pre-existence of Jesus. That means there never was a time when Jesus was not. Jesus was not a created being. When Jesus Christ was born, He was older than His mother and as old as His father. He was born of the flesh, but before He was ever born of the flesh, He existed eternally with God the Father. The pre-existence of Jesus is clearly taught.

B. The Absolute Holiness of Jesus

The absolute holiness of Jesus is clearly taught. Would you turn with me to John chapter 8 and look in verse 46? John chapter 8 and verse 46. They were questioning Jesus. They were drilling Jesus. They were criticizing and critiquing Jesus. And, Jesus looked at them, and this is what He said: “Which of you convinceth me of sin?” (John 8:46) Can you imagine that? Can you imagine anybody on this earth having the audacity and the nerve to say, “Is there anybody here who can convict me of sin?” I wouldn’t even challenge my friends that way, much less my enemies. But, Jesus did because Jesus is holy. You see, in Hosea chapter 11 and verse 9, Jehovah is called “the Holy One in the midst of thee.” (Hosea 11:9) But, in Acts chapter 3 and verse 14, Jesus is called “the Holy One.” (Acts 3:14) Jesus was absolutely sinless.

Now, what I’m trying to say is that Jesus was pre-existent. There never was a time when He has not been; therefore, He is God. I’m saying that Jesus alone is absolutely holy; and, therefore, He is God. Do you know one of the remarkable things about the life of Jesus, when you read the life of Jesus? Never one time do you ever see Him praying for forgiveness—not one time. Now, if Jesus is not absolutely sinless and absolutely holy, He’s an absolute egotist. No, but He never ever prays for forgiveness, for He never ever needed to be forgiven. That’s the first line of evidence I want to give you: the attributes of Jesus show us clearly that He is God.

II. The Adoration Jesus Receives
Now, the second line of evidence I want to give you to show you that Jesus Christ is God, a very God, is not only the attributes that He possesses, but the adoration that He receives. It can be shown in the Bible that His followers not only adored Him, but they worshipped Him. Now, pay close attention. If Jesus is not God and Jesus allows people to worship Him, Jesus is guilty of aiding and abetting the worse sin in the catalogue of sins, which is idolatry. For the Bible says, “Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only.” (Matthew 4:10; Luke 4:8) Now, if Jesus is not God, He has no right to be worshipped.

chapter 4 and verse 8: “And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.” (Luke 4:8) No one is to be worshipped except Almighty God. Jesus Himself said that.

Now, remember that Jesus said that, but now turn with me to Revelation chapter 22 and verse 8. Revelation chapter 22 and verse 8: “And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things”—there was a glorious angel that revealed some things to John. John was so impressed that he, in a moment of weakness and confusion, fell down to worship that angel—“Then saith he unto me”—this is what the angel said to John—“See thou do it not”—that is, “Don’t worship me”—“for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.” (Revelation 22:8A 9)

Now, not only did Jesus say that God alone was to be worshipped, but now the angel says that God alone is to be worshipped. Keep that in mind now, and continue to read with me. Turn to Matthew chapter 28 and verse 9. Matthew chapter 28 and verse 9: “And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and”—did what?—“worshipped him.” (Matthew 28:9) Do you see that? Do you see that? His disciples, at the climax of His ministry, understanding who He is, they fall down and worship Him, the same One who had said, “Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only.” (Matthew 4:10; Luke 4:8) The angel said, “Worship God. Worship God. Don’t worship me. Worship God.” And yet, Jesus allowed people to worship Him.

Turn to John chapter 20 with me for a moment. Thomas has been a doubter, and finally Thomas realized who Jesus Christ was. And, Thomas was so overcome realizing who Jesus Christ is eternally, he did something remarkable, and I want you to see it. In John chapter 20, well, let’s begin reading in verse 27: “Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My LORD and my God.” (John 20:27–28) Now, suppose Scotty comes and he falls down in front of me and he says, “My Lord and my God.” What should I say? I’d say, “Scotty, get up or we’ll both be in trouble”—isn’t that right?—“You for doing it and me for letting you do it.” But, you didn’t rebuke Thomas for doing that. Jesus commended Thomas for doing exactly what he did by saying, “My LORD and my God.” (John 20:28) Jesus received worship.

III. The Admission Jesus Gives of Himself
I say, the attributes assigned to Him show that He is God. The adoration received by Him shows clearly and plainly that He is God. Now, there’s a third line of evidence: the admission that He gives of Himself. He clearly and plainly admits that He is God by His own words.

Turn to John chapter 8 with me for just a moment and begin to read in verse 56, and you’re going to find out where the Lord Jesus Christ clearly says that He is God. John 8 and verse 56: Jesus is speaking again to those Pharisees and those who wanted to see Him crucified, and Jesus said, “Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad”—now, the Jews were always boasting that they were children of Abraham, and He said that “Abraham saw my day.” Well, they said—“Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?”—now, notice verse 58. And, if this verse is not underlined in your Bible, it needs to be—“Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am”—not “I was,” not that “I existed before Abraham was.” Of course He did, but that’s not what He says. He didn’t say, “I was before Abraham was.” Jesus said, “Before Abraham was, I am.” (John 8:58) When Jesus said that, that so infuriated them that they wanted to stone
Him. Look in verse 59—“Then took they up stones to cast at him.” (John 8:56–59)

Why did they want to stone Jesus when He said, “Before Abraham was, I am”? (John 8:58) Well, if you’ll turn to Exodus chapter 3, verse 14, you’ll find it’s very clear. Turn to Exodus, in the Old Testament, chapter 3. Moses has been called to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt, through the wilderness, into the Promised Land. Moses is saying, “Well, when I go to them and tell them I am the messenger, I’m the one who is to lead them, they’ll say, ‘Well, who sent you?’” And so, let’s look at the background there. Exodus chapter 3 and verse 13: “And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is his name?”—that is, “What’s the name of the one who sent you?”—“what shall I say unto them? And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.” (Exodus 3:13–14) Now, that was one of the most sacred names for Jehovah in all of the Bible. He said, “I Am,” not “I was,” not “I will be”—the great, eternal, self-existent God, who never had a beginning and never had an ending.

You say, “I don’t understand how God could be that way.” I don’t understand it either, but that doesn’t mean that I don’t rejoice in it. Proof things people don’t understand exist: I’ve been told that only ten people understand Einstein’s theory of relativity. I’m not sure about that because I don’t know who the other nine are besides me, but there are a lot of things we don’t understand. But, I’ll tell you this: God never had a beginning, and God never had an ending. And so, Moses said, “Who shall I say sent me?” (Exodus 3:13) And, the Father, Jehovah, says, “You tell them that I Am sent you.” (Exodus 3:14) And now, Jesus said, “Abraham rejoiced to see my day…and was glad.” (John 8:56) They said, “Have you seen Abraham? You’re not fifty years old.” And, Jesus said, “Before Abraham was, I am.” (John 8:58) And, He used the same word: “the self-existent One, the One who never had a beginning, the One who never had an ending.” No wonder they took up stones to stone Him, because, dear friend, either He was God or He was guilty of the most abject blasphemy that He could possibly be guilty of. Do you understand what I’m saying?

And, by the way, if the Jehovah’s Witnesses come to your door, and they bring the New World Translation of the Bible, and you find this verse, you’ll find it not translated this way in that Bible. They can’t allow it to be translated in their Bible that way. Now, they don’t translate it because of documentary evidence, or because of some of their manuscripts; they just force a translation. If I can remember what it says, it says something like this: “Before Abraham was, I have been.” That isn’t what the Greek says. It says, “Before Abraham was, I am.” (John 8:58) And, you can take any good Bible translation and put it down there and say, “Hey, friend, there’s something wrong here.”

No wonder they picked up stones to stone the Lord Jesus—because they did not accept His deity, and this was His own admission of deity.

Turn with me to John chapter 14 here for just a moment. Again, I want to show you by His admission He is God. John chapter 14, beginning in verse 8: “Philip saith unto him, Lord, show us the Father, and it sufficeth us”—Philip wanted to see God the Father—“Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me”—now, wait a minute. Did Philip say, “Jesus, show us yourself?” No, Philip said, “Jesus, show us the Father.” Jesus said, “Hey, I’ve been with you all this time. Don’t you know me?”—“Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Show us the Father?” (John 14:8–9)

Now, suppose I were to say to you, “Would you like to meet the resident of the United States?” and you say, “Yes, I really would,” and I say, “Well, I’ve been speaking to you the whole time”—you’d say, “Go get the fellow with the white jacket.” Right?

They said, “We want to see the Father,” and Jesus said, “I’ve been talking to you. How long you’ve seen me”—“He that hath seen me hath seen the Father.” (John 14:9)

IV. The Activity Jesus Carries Out

By His own admission, Jesus Christ is God. By His attributes, He is God. By His adoration, He is God. By His admission, He is God. One last thing I want to say: by His activity, He is shown to be God—by the very things He does. He does those things that God alone is able to do. Let me tell you what the Lord Jesus does—and I’m going to hurry and not make you turn to these verses.

A. Jesus Creates All Things

But, in John 1, verse 3, the Bible teaches, “All things were made by him” (John 1:3); and yet, the Bible says, “In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.” (Genesis 1:1) Well, who created the heaven and the earth—Jesus or God? The answer to that is “yes.” Colossians 1, verse 16: “For by him”—by Jesus—“were all things created.” (Colossians 1:16)

B. Jesus Sustains All Things

Not only did He create all things, but He sustained all things. Colossians 1, verse 17: “By him all things consist” (Colossians 1:17)—and that word consist means they “hang together.” Jesus is the glue of the galaxy. Hebrews 1, verse 3: Jesus, the Son of God, is “upholding all things by the word of his power.” (Hebrews 1:3)

C. Jesus Gives Life

He is the creator of all things. Jesus is the sustainer of all things. Jesus is the giver of life. John 1, verse 4: “In him was life; and the life was the light of men.” (John 1:4)
D. Jesus Answers Prayer
Jesus is the One who answers prayer. Jesus said in John chapter 14, verses 14: “If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.” (John 14:14) Now, tell me if the One who answers prayer is not God. “If [you] ask any thing in my name”—not “God will do it”—“I will do it.” (John 14:14) He is the One who answers prayer.

For there remains an eternal distinction in the Godhead: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. But, God the Father is God, God the Son is God, and God the Spirit is God. You say, “Well, I don’t understand the Holy Trinity.” Neither do I, but I believe it. Vance Havner said, “I don’t understand electricity, but I’m not going to sit around in the dark until I do.” Explain the Trinity—you’ll lose your mind. Deny it—you’ll lose your soul. I’m telling you something, friend—that God is the Great Unexplainable. He is the one God, the great God, the One in Three.

Conclusion
Thank you, choir, for singing that wonderful song, “Praise His Holy Name.” And, they’re going to sing it now in just a moment of time, but I want to remind you who Jesus is:

To the artist He’s the One Altogether Lovely.
To the architect He’s the Chief Cornerstone.
To the baker He’s the Living Bread.
To the banker He’s the Hidden Treasure.
To the biologist He’s the Life.
To the builder He’s the Sure Foundation.
To the doctor He’s the Great Physician.
To the educator He’s the Great Teacher.
To the farmer He’s the Lord of the Harvest.
To the florist He’s the Rose of Sharon.
To the geologist He’s the Rock of Ages.
To the judge He’s the Righteous Judge.
To the jeweler He’s the Pearl of Great Price.
To the lawyer He is the Advocate.
To the publisher He is Good Tidings of Great Joy.
To the philosopher He is the Wisdom of God.
To the preacher He is the Word of God.
To the sculptor He is the Living Stone.
To the statesman He is the Desire of All Nations.
To the theologian He is the Author and Finisher of Our Faith.
To the traveler He is the New and Living Way.
To the sinner He is the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world.
To the Christian He is forever the Son of the Living God, Savior, Redeemer, Lord, Everlasting Father, Mighty God, Prince of Peace.
The Signs of the Times and the Beginning of the End

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: December 28, 2003
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:1–3

Outline

Introduction
  A. The Setting of the Prophecy
  B. The Subject of the Prophecy
I. First Mark: The Deceptions of Counterfeit Christs
II. Second Mark: The Division of Continuing Conflict
III. Third Mark: The Disasters of Cataclysmic Consequence
IV. Fourth Mark: The Defamation of Committed Christians
V. Fifth Mark: The Distortion of Christless Cults
VI. Sixth Mark: The Disposition of Carnal Coldness
VII. Seventh Mark: The Discharge of Christ’s Commission

Conclusion

Introduction

Be finding Matthew chapter 24. Mankind alw anays wants to look into the future. We have the prognosticators, the guessers, the pundits, the so-called prophets, without divine inspiration, but the only book—the only book—that has a batting average of 1,000 is the Word of God. And, the next great event that we're looking for is the return—the literal, visible, bodily return—of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. And, may I tell you that this episode, the coming of Christ, is a major doctrine in the Word of God. It is mentioned no less than 1,200 times in the Old Testament, and then again 300 more times in the New Testament. God is telling us that this same Jesus who has come is coming again. And, we're going to study today the words of Jesus, as He leads us on a journey of prophecy, as we look to our age, and then through our age to His coming, and we're going to see from the Word of God the fate of Planet Earth. Now, it’s so important for our age, because those of us who are living in this age can say it and mean it: “The future is here.”

A. The Setting of the Prophecy

And, I want you to notice the setting of the prophecy that we’re going to read. Matthew chapter 24—let’s read the first three verses: “And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple." Now, don't you think Jesus had seen the Temple before? Why would the disciples be showing Jesus the buildings of the Temple? "And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives,"—and, by the way, the Mount of Olives looks down upon the Temple—“the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the [age]?” (Matthew 24:1–3). Now, when you keep this prophecy in mind, remember this is the setting.

Now, the Temple was absolutely magnificent. The Temple was the center of the Jewish life spiritually and socially. All of their hopes were based there in that temple. And, it sat there on Mount Moriah, the Temple Mount, like a mountain of gold—that’s what Josephus said—or like a mountain of snow there as it dazzles in the sun, as the sun rose from the east coming over the Mount of Olives. Well, why had the disciples come out and said, “Lord, look at this temple and the stones of it?” Why were they showing Him this?

Well, if you go backward in Matthew chapter 24, Jesus had made a prophecy in Matthew 23. Look in Matthew 23, beginning in verse 37. Jesus, coming down that Mount of Olives, begins to weep great salty, copious tears coursing down His cheeks as He looks at Jerusalem, and there is the Temple right before Him. He’s coming down the Mount of Olives, and He sees Jerusalem and the Temple, and here’s what He says: "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house..."—He was talking about the Temple—“Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord” (Matthew 23:37–39).

They could not believe that this temple would ever be desolate. And, it didn’t look like it would ever be desolate. But, to make matters worse, Jesus said of this temple, not one stone would be left upon another. They couldn’t believe this. If you have seen even the remnant of the Temple, the great stones that have been tossed off into the valley, you see these massive stones, and it didn’t make sense to these disciples at all. They said, “Jesus, You’re saying this place is going to be desolate? Not one stone is going to be left upon another? Well, Jesus, look at these stones.”

Ladies and gentlemen, I’ve seen some of those stones even in the foundation wall. Some of those stones are as big as this carpet here that I’m standing on—literally that big. And, if it were a stone, it would be that thick. How they even moved these stones into place I cannot conceive, because they did not have the tools of modern construction that we have. And, they said, “Jesus, look at this. Look at these stones.”
Now, Jesus had prophesied destruction, and it didn’t seem reasonable. The Romans were going to come and destroy Jerusalem, and there was already this fomenting there of rebellion against Roman rule, and Jesus also prophesied that. As a matter of fact, in Luke chapter 21 and verse 20, Jesus said, “And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh” (Luke 21:20). That is, “The Temple is going to be desolated. How are you going to know when this is going to happen? When you see the Temple compassed about with armies.” Well, 40 years after Jesus said that, a little longer than I’ve been the pastor of this church, the Roman army, under Titus, came, and they compassed Jerusalem, just like Jesus said, with armies all the way around the city. They said, “We don’t need to waste any lives going in there, and waste Roman soldiers’ lives. We’ll just build a circle around the city. They won’t be able to come in. They won’t be able to go out. They won’t be able to get any food.” Starvation stalked the city. “We’ll just wait them out.” Jesus prophesied all of this. It all happened.

The Romans were not destroyers of temples; the Romans were preservers of temples. And, Titus had given orders that the Temple, that Josephus described like a mountain of snow, was to be left untouched. But, somebody shot a flaming arrow, or something happened—one of the mishaps of war—and those great cedars of Lebanon began to burn, and this building went up in flames. And, it was layered with gold, and it was rumored that there were hidden subterranean chambers with treasures, and all of this just melted together and caved in on itself. The plunderers went in there with their mighty crowbars and prying equipment, and began to pry apart those stones one at a time, looking for treasure, collecting melted gold in the seams of those cracks.

And, what Jesus said that so many people thought was unthinkable—they said, “Lord, it’s just unthinkable. Look at these stones. Look at this. Do You understand what You’ve said?” Jesus knew exactly what He was saying. And, friend, I’ve been there many times to the Temple Mount, and if you look for Herod’s Temple, you can find other temples. I’ve seen the ruins of other temples. You will not find—listen to me—one stone left upon another; not one—exactly as Jesus said.

That ought to teach us something. We don’t live by reason. We live by revelation. Don’t try to explain away the prophecies of the Word of God. Now, this is the setting of this prophecy concerning the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. The setting is, they were questioning this.

B. The Subject of the Prophecy

Now, notice the subject of the prophecy. Look in verse 3: “And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us,”—number one—“when shall these things be? and”—number two—“what shall be the sign of thy coming, “—number three—“and of the end of the world?” (Matthew 24:3). The disciples asked three questions. First of all, when will this be? When will the temple be destroyed? Number two: What will be the sign of Thy coming? The word coming here is the Greek word parousia, and it means His coming in power and glory. That is, when are You going to set up Your kingdom? Lord, when are You going to take over and rule and reign? And then, last of all, what is the sign of the end of the world? The word world there literally means, “the end of the age.” They thought they were coming to the end of an old age, and the new age, the Messianic age, was about to begin. So they asked Jesus this question.

Now, these were Jewish Christians who were asking Him this question, and we’re going to see here the signs of the times as they deal with Israel and with the Church. Now, what Jesus does here, Jesus looks down through the tunnel of time, and Jesus gives them the signs of the times, the intervening days and ages between the time that they existed and when Jesus Christ is going to come again, and He gives them seven marks. And, that’s what we’re going to talk about today, okay? Now, here they are.

I. First Mark: The Deceptions of Counterfeit Christs
First of all, Jesus said the first mark is going to be the deceptions of counterfeit Christs—the deceptions of counterfeit Christs. Now, look in verses 4 and 5: “And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many” (Matthew 24:4–5). Jesus said one of the marks of the last days, the end of the age, and the continuing age, will be a time of great deception. And so, many people have been deceived, though the Bible warns us not to be deceived.

Let me give you an ancillary scripture, 1 John chapter 4, verses 1 through 3—here’s what the Apostle John said: “Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try”—or, “test”—“the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God: and every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world” (1 John 4:1–3).

Two thousand years ago, the spirit of antichrist was in the world. The word antichrist takes the word Christ and puts the prefix anti—a-n-t-i—in front of it. Anti means, “against” or “instead of.” It can mean either. And, it means really both. The Antichrist comes against the true Christ, and presents himself instead of Christ, and therefore there are many false Christs and many false messiahs. In the past 50 years, no less than 1,100 people have professed to be Christ. I’m amazed at what people will believe. Think, for example, of the Reverend Moon. Need I say more?

II. Second Mark: The Division of Continuing Conflict
Number two: not only is there going to be the deceptions of counterfeit Christs; number two, there will be the division of continuing conflict. Would you think that in 2,000 years man would have solved the problem of war, to make the world safe? As young as I am, I’ve heard so many promises of wars to end all wars, and to bring in safety, and to make the world safe from war. But, Jesus said that will never happen. Look in verse 6: “And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet” (Matthew 24:6).

Now, the world, from the time that Jesus made this statement to this present day, in two millennia, has been plagued by the specter of war, and wars are growing in number, and wars are growing in intensity. Since World War I, at least every month there has been an attempt to take over a country and bring about political, economic, racial, or religious change. You think about what’s going on in our day and in our age. Think of the conflict in the Middle East. Consider what is happening at this moment in Iraq. Consider what is happening in Iran. Consider what is happening in Afghanistan. Consider what is happening in North Korea. Consider what is happening in Red China, to name some places. In the 6,000-year recorded history of man, it is estimated that 600 million people have been killed in war, but Friend, half of those—half of those—have died since 1900. Half of those who’ve died, in 6,000 years, have died since 1900.

Now, we seem to find these things coming together in a climax. More wars have been seen by this generation, the generation in which we live, than any other generation: terrorism, hijackings, bombings, assassinations, sabotage, war. And, all of this seems to center ultimately in Jerusalem. Does the Bible have anything to say about that? It does indeed. Zechariah 12, verse 2: “Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem. And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it” (Zechariah 12:2–3). Continuing conflicts. Divisions.

III. Third Mark: The Disasters of Cataclysmic Consequence
Number three: The disasters of cataclysmic consequence. Skip on down now—Matthew 24—let’s jump in again: “For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be”—here they are, here the cataclysms—“famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows” (Matthew 24:7–8).

Now, Jesus, looking down through time, said there would be famine. You would think that perhaps man, with increased agricultural skill and genetic engineering, would be able to solve the problem of famine, but the problem of famine in our world is really twofold. Number one, there’s the failure of agriculture itself; and, number two, there is the bottleneck of distribution. Even when we have the food, we cannot get the food to the people who need the food. But, before long, we will not have the food. We are now living on Planet Earth from field to mouth. We don’t have granaries filled with food like we used to. A well-known biologist and sociologist has said—and I quote: “Planet Earth is no longer a sustainable society. With world population doubling twice in the past century, the world’s land is being worked so hard for food that one quarter of the soil is turning sterile and eroding away.” The Bible teaches that in the Tribulation, which may be just a few years away—Revelation chapter 6, verse 6—that you would pay 80 to 100 dollars for a quart of wheat, which would make about two loaves of bread. A famine is coming here upon this earth. China, for example, which was once a net exporter of grain, has become the number two importer of grain.

But, not only did Jesus speak of famine; Jesus spoke of plagues. Now, you would have thought that in 2,000 years we would do something about plagues. I can remember when I was a kid they said, “We’ve conquered polio,” and I thought, “Well, isn’t that wonderful? It won’t be long before every disease like polio, and smallpox, and these other things, we’ll know how to deal with those.” And then, along comes AIDS. And then, along comes SARS. And, along comes Ebola. And, along comes this thing and that thing. And then, to cap all of that off, biological and chemical warfare is a specter that we face. Jesus said plagues are going to be a sign of the day in which we live.

And then, He mentions earthquakes—earthquakes. Well, that ought to tell us something. Did you know there has been a dramatic increase in earthquakes in the last decades? Now, seismologists speak of something called plate tectonics. That is, there are these great plates, 70-mile-thick rock plates that float on the molten surface of the earth. And, these rock plates come together there at points where they meet. And, there is great pressure there. And, as these plates move just a little bit, then we see what we call an earthquake. It’s like a break-up of ice on the Great Lakes in the northern part of this continent. The New York Times states that there have been more macro earthquakes in the past 10 years than in the previous 100 years—more in the past 10 than the previous 100. Seismology historians have calculated that megalithic earthquakes have increased over 2,000 percent since Columbus discovered the New World. As many have died in earthquakes in the last 40 years than had died in the previous 120 years. Our own Commercial Appeal said this, and I clipped it out: “March 25, 2002: Northern Afghanistan; a magnitude 5.8; as many as 1,000 killed. January 26, 2001: India; magnitude 7.9; at least 2,500 killed. Estimates put the death total as high as 13,000. September 21, 1999: Taiwan, magnitude 7.6; 2,400 killed. August 17, 1999: Western Turkey, magnitude 7.4; 17,000 killed. January 25, 1999: Western Columbia; magnitude 6.1; 1,171 killed. May 30, 1998: Northern Afghanistan; magnitude 6.9; as many as 5,000 killed. May 10, 1997: Northern Iran; magnitude 7.1; 1,500 killed. Recently in Iran, a few days ago, 20,000, if the estimates are right, killed. January 17, 1995: Kobe, Japan; magnitude 7.2; more than 6,000 killed. September 30, 1993: Latur, India; magnitude 6.0; as many as 10,000 killed. June 21, 1990: Northern Iran; magnitude 7.3 to 7.7; 50,000 killed.”

Jesus said that in the ensuing age before He comes there will be earthquakes. It seems that Mother Earth itself is heaving in pain.

IV. Fourth Mark: The Defamation of Committed Christians
Now, number four: there’s going to be the defamation of committed Christians. We’re going to be defamed if we love the Lord Jesus. It’s one of the marks of the age. Look in Matthew 24, verses 9 and 10: “Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another” (Matthew 24:9–10).

Jesus said that religious persecution will increase at the end of the age, and it’s going to be centered on Christianity, those who follow the Lord Jesus Christ. This world does not mind religion, but it does resent the Lord Jesus Christ. Did you know that more Christians have died for their faith in the past century than all of the other centuries since Jesus Christ hung on the cross? It is estimated that more Christians were tortured and slain in 12 months of World War II than died under Rome in all of the early centuries. We think of those Christians who died when Jesus Christ ascended to Heaven and the Christians were persecuted under Rome. More people have died for Christ in our generation, in our age. Some authorities claim that over 50 million Christians were slaughtered in Russian and other communist countries because they named the name of Christ. Since the ascension of Jesus Christ, no generation has seen such worldwide persecution as is now in progress.

Open your eyes and look around. Bible-believing Christians are the whipping boys. Christian-bashing has become the favorite sport in newspapers, radio, and television. A while back, on National Public Radio, partially tax-funded, there was a man. His name is Mr. Codrescu. He complained about being handed a tract in downtown New Orleans about the Rapture. The tract was based on 1 Corinthians chapter 4, verses 16 through 17, and it talked about Christians going up in the Rapture (1 Corinthians 4:16–17). Here's what Mr. Codrescu stated—and I quote: “The evaporation of four million people who believe this crap would leave the world an instantly better place”—end of quote. This was broadcast over 300 stations to an estimated five million people, and shows the utter contempt that National Public Radio has for those who pay their salaries. Can you imagine this? It’s sad to see what is happening. But, this persecution in the last days will be turned to a white-hot heat, and I wonder how many Sunday morning benchwarmers will vacate themselves from Bible-believing churches. Now, there’s going to be a persecution of believers in the last days, and it’s going to separate those who are true believers from those who are cultural Christians.

V. Fifth Mark: The Distortion of Christless Cults

Number five: The distortion of Christless cults. Look, if you will now, in Matthew 24, verse 11: “And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many” (Matthew 24:11). G. K. Chesterton has pointed out that when a man ceases to believe in the one true God, it doesn’t mean that he believes in nothing; it means that he will believe in anything. Now, when the Bible speaks of a prophet here, it doesn’t mean a person who is, even, religious. The word here means, “somebody who speaks with authority.” It could be a philosopher. It could be a college professor. It could be a scientist. It could be a statesman. But, these are people today who want to shape and to mold society into its thinking, and they will deceive many.

It’s like it was in the days of Noah, when the Bible says, “God saw the imagination of men’s hearts was evil continually” (Genesis 6:5). The word imagination there does not mean, “daydreams,” but it speaks of carefully crafted philosophies. It’s a word that was used to describe the molding of a piece of pottery. These philosophers are trying to fit society into their mold. And, what all of this comes down to, really, is New Age humanism, when New Age humanism just takes the teaching of all the religions of the world and tries to syncretize them into its mystical system. Let me tell you what one of them said: “We honor the truth and beauty of all the world’s religions, believing that each has a seed of God, a kernel of the spirit that unites us.” Now, the New Agers believe that God revealed Himself in Jesus, but He also revealed Himself in Buddha and Krishna and a host of other people.
VI. Sixth Mark: The Disposition of Carnal Coldness

Now, let me give you the sixth sign that Jesus spoke about—and it is the disposition of carnal coldness. People are going to be cold-hearted. Notice again in Matthew 24, verse 12: “And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold” (Matthew 24:12).

Now, what brings about this cold-heartedness? It’s the teaching of these false prophets. These false prophets take away the moral base. When you have no moral base, when it’s all right to kill babies, when it’s all right to perform homosexual marriages, when it is all right to take away life from a person who has lost consciousness, or euthanize the aged, why is this all right? Because you have taken away the fixed standard of right and wrong. And, when you take away moral limits, you destroy the fire and the glow of true love, and you substitute that with the false fire of lust, and theology turns to me-ology. And, the Bible says, “Because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.”

When you have a bounding iniquity, when you have a crime wave—and, the word iniquity literally means, “lawlessness”—what do we do? We get unfriendly. Somebody knocks at your door and says, “Look, can I come in and use your phone? My battery is dead.” You say, “No, I’m sorry.” You see somebody on the road with a thumb up. You have an empty seat. You want to pick them up. You say, “Well, I’m afraid.” And, you find yourself hardening your heart. “Because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.” And, our society has replaced godly love with selfish protectionism and lust.

VII. Seventh Mark: The Discharge of Christ’s Commission

Number seven, the next mark—and I love this one: The discharge of Christ’s commission. Before Jesus left this earth, He gave us a commission, and the commission was that we were to take the gospel to all of the world, and we were to go into every nation with the gospel. Nowhere has the Bible ever taught that we were going to win everybody to Christ. The gospel was not given to save civilization from wreckage, but to save men from the wreckage of civilization. And, the Bible prophesies that there’s going to be the Master’s minority, that little flock that’s going to be saved. But, Jesus said we’re to take the gospel to the whole world.

Will that be done? Absolutely! It has been done. Matthew 24, verses 13 and 14: “But he that shall endure to the end, the same shall be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be...”—it doesn’t say, “ought to be.” He says—“shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come” (Matthew 24:13–14). And, Jesus said that in the ensuing time, from the time that He left till the time that He came back, there is going to be the proliferation and the preaching of the gospel worldwide—worldwide. Has this happened? Indeed it has! Friend, the gospel has been preached in all of the world—not to every person, but into all the world, to all the ethnic groups by radio, by television, by books, by tapes, by leaflets, and by crusades, the world has heard the gospel of Jesus Christ. This does not mean all, every individual, but it means all nations have heard the gospel. Dr. Bill Bright was a personal friend of mine, the founder of Campus Crusade for Christ. Before he died, he invited me to join a celebration of praise to give God all the glory for the fulfilling of the Great Commission in our age. And, he said—and I quote—“New Life 2000 has now been implemented in 220 countries, representing 98 percent of the world’s population. More than two billion people have been exposed to the gospel.” And, you think of the Jesus film alone. More than 850 million people have viewed the film, which has been dubbed into more than 400 languages, making it the most widely translated film in history. I participated in a hookup—and, I had the privilege of doing this recently last year—to broadcast through the Internet to every nation on Earth the gospel of Jesus Christ. Today, what I am saying, what I’m preaching, will be telecast around the world. The sun will not set on this message. It will go around the world. Through the Internet everybody on Earth has access, if they have a computer and are hooked into the net, to hear the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Now, Jesus says something very interesting. He says, “When all of these things begin to come to pass.” Look, if you will, in chapter 24 and verse 8. He says, “All these [things] are the beginning of sorrows” (Matthew 24:8). Now, what does He mean by that: “all these [things]”? When you see all the things that I’ve mentioned, when... You say, “Pastor, there have always been wars. There have always been famines. There’s always been persecution.” Yes, but Jesus said, “When you see all these things, all these things are the beginning of sorrows.”

Now, you look at that word sorrows. That word sorrows is the word for “birth pangs.” All of these things are the beginning of birth pangs. Now, those of us who are genuine fathers, like I am, you know what it is when your wife begins to talk to you about those birth pangs. You know, you see this thing happening. Somebody said, “Is your wife expecting?” I said, “No, it’s a sure thing.” You see this happening. But then, that time happens when she says, “Adrian, I think I felt something.” I said, “Whoooa.” And then, she says, “Yes, I felt something. There’s something stirring.” And then, you know that those birth pangs do what? When they multiply, and when they intensify, you know something’s about to come forth. Isn’t that right? When they multiply, and when they intensify, you know something’s about to come forth. Jesus said, “All these [things] are the beginning of [birth pangs].”

Conclusion

Now, we don’t have to wait on any signs for Jesus to come. He could come at any moment, and has always been willing to do that—and, I’m going to speak further about it tonight—but precious friend, listen to me. The wisest thing anybody could do would be to give his heart to Jesus Christ if we knew Jesus Christ was not coming in a thousand years. But, when we know that our Lord may come at any moment, and when our Lord has given us the signs of the times, and when our Lord has looked down through the ages and helped us to be aware, don’t you think that the wise thing to do would be to give your heart to Jesus Christ?

I love the Bible. We can trust the Word of God. And, you know, when I see all of these things, all of these things that Jesus said would happen, I don’t get stampeded when people say to me, “Well, if there’s a God, why are the earthquakes? If there’s a God, why the wars? If there’s a God, why the famines? If there’s a God, why the plagues?” Well, even if you don’t know why, I can tell you one thing. None of them took God by surprise. There is no fine print in this. I mean, God said, “There it is.” Jesus said, “This is what’s going to happen. Then shall the end come.” If you stand before God unsaved, you won’t be able to say, “I never knew,” or, “I never heard,” will you?
Signs of the Times

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: April 20, 1997
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:1–14

Outline

Introduction
I. Deceptions
II. Divisions
III. Disasters
IV. Defamation
V. Disinformation
VI. Depravity
VII. Declaration
Conclusion

Introduction

Would you take God’s Word and find Matthew chapter 24—Matthew chapter 24.

We’ve been thinking in these days about end-time prophecy, the Second Coming of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Now, let me tell you something, folks. We’re not talking about something that is incidental. We’re talking about a major doctrine in the Word of God. In the Old Testament the Second Coming of Jesus Christ is mentioned 1,200 times. And, in the New Testament there are over 300 direct prophecies that deal with the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. Now, if the Bible puts that emphasis upon end-time prophecy and His coming, so should we.

Now, we live in a world that wants to know the future, and man has always had an intense desire to prophesy and to look into the future, and so we have all kinds of so-called clairvoyants, and soothsayers, and prognosticators, and astrologists, and all of these who pretend to tell the future, but they make some colossal mistakes. The only book that bats 1,000 is the Word of God. The Bible says, “We have...a more sure word of prophecy” (2 Peter 1:19). And, I want to say about the Bible, many times people say that the Bible is up to date. Friend, the Bible is ahead of time, more than up to date; more than it fits in with today’s headlines, it fits in with tomorrow’s headlines when they have not yet even been written.

One of the great chapters on prophecy is Matthew chapter 24. Let’s look in verse 1: “And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple” (Matthew 24:1). Now, the Temple was a magnificent structure.
An ancient historian whose name was Josephus said that the Temple sat there on the mountain like a mountain of snow itself. It was indescribably wonderful and beautiful. But, why all this attention concerning the Temple? Because in the prior chapter, chapter 23, Jesus had said that temple would be destroyed (Matthew 23:38). And, Jesus said, not one stone would be left upon another (Matthew 24:2).

Now, Jesus was prophesying what the Romans would do 40 years later. Titus, the Roman General, came and surrounded Jerusalem with armies in order to starve out the Jews that were there inside Jerusalem. But, it would have been an unthinkable thing for Titus to have destroyed that temple, because the Romans were not destroyers of temples; they were preservers of temples. And, Josephus tells us that Pilate had given orders that the Temple was not to be burned, not to be destroyed. And yet, Jesus had said, not one stone would be left upon another. I want to tell you something, folks. It did not seem reasonable that the Temple would be destroyed.

That’s the reason we need to learn to live by revelation and not by reason — because what happened is this: During the warfare, somebody shot a flaming arrow or something into the Temple, and the Temple caught on fire. It was done inadvertently, but the Temple burned, and as it burned, the timbers and so forth caved in upon themselves and left a charred ruin. Now, you know that the Temple, parts of it were overlaid with gold, and there were all kinds of treasures on the inside. And, in the succeeding days and months and even years, people, wanting to loot and to find the gold in that temple, got their great pry bars and began to pry the stones apart one from another. And, when they were finished, not one stone was left upon another — exactly as Jesus had said.

So, the disciples have come out to Jesus and said, “Lord Jesus, look at this temple.” That’s verse 1. “And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down” (Matthew 24:2). If you were to visit Jerusalem today and go to the Temple Mount, you would say, “Yes, Lord. You were exactly, precisely, right.” You could visit the ruins of other temples, and they’re still there, but not the ruin of this temple; not one stone is left upon another.

“And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be?” — that is, “When will the temple be destroyed?” — “and what shall be the sign of thy coming.” — now, the word for coming there is parousia, and it literally means, “What is the sign when, Lord Jesus, You are going to take over? The word parousia means, “to take over, to be present, to rule, to reign, as a king.” “When, Lord, are You going to take your rightful kingdom?” And then, they asked the question, “And, what will be the end of the world?” Now, when he says, “the end of the world” — “and of the end of the world?” (Matthew 24:3)—the word for world there literally means, “age”; it’s the word, the Greek word, that we get our English word eon from. And so, they’re not talking about Planet Earth disintegrating, but, “When is this present age, this dispensation, going to come to an end? When is the Temple going to be destroyed? Lord Jesus, when are You going to come and rule and reign, and when will this present age end?” That’s the question that they’re asking. And, if you want to understand the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew, you have to understand the setting where they are asking this very important question.

Now, the Lord Jesus begins to answer this question. And, that’s what we’re going to do. Jesus gives them the signs of the times: what the age will be like between His first coming and His Second Coming, what we can look for, what will happen, and then what will be the convergence of these signs so that we can know that the Lord Jesus Christ is at the door.

Now, let me give you these signs. I’ll let them start with the letter d, so you can remember them, all right?

I. Deceptions

Number one: deceptions. That’s the first sign: deceptions. Look, if you will, in verses 4 and 5: “And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many” (Matthew 24:4–5). So, deceivers and deceptions are one of the marks of the last day. Put in your margin 1 John chapter 4, verses 1 through 3: “Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits”—that is, “test the spirits”—“whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:”—that is, don’t look for another messiah, don’t look for another Christ. The Lord Jesus Christ has come in the flesh. That’s the Spirit of God. Now, notice verse 3—“and every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world” (1 John 4:1–3). That is, there are many antichrists already in the world today. As we told you last week, an antichrist means, “somebody who comes opposing Christ and instead of Christ. The prefix anti—a-n-t-i—means, “instead of” and “against.” It means both of these things at the same time.

Now, has this prophecy been fulfilled? And, is it being fulfilled? Well, we’re told that in our generation—many of you here at least 50 years of age; not all, but many—in the past 50 years, no less than 1,100 significant persons have claimed to be Christ. In the past 50 years, they’ve claimed to be Christ and the Savior of the world. And, they go from the Rev. Moon—your familiar with Moon, the Rev. Moon, and the Moonies; he’s a self-ordained Korean evangelist. His followers believe that he has been chosen to fulfill Christ’s mission on this earth. They believe that our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ failed, and they believe that Moon is the twentieth-century messiah to do for us what the Lord Jesus Christ failed to do. Do you know what Moon and his followers believe? They believe that Jesus Christ failed, because He did not marry the ideal wife and raise up an ideal, perfect, generation to fill the earth with a perfect earthly family. They believe that the failure of Jesus was not primarily His failure, but it was the fault of the Jews, because they crucified Him. Now, they believe that America is God’s chosen people, and they believe that the cross that we sang about this morning was a horrible mistake, and that when Jesus was crucified, 4,000 years of preparation were put to waste and failed, because Jesus was coming to establish here on Earth that perfect, ideal society by getting married.

Now, here’s what Moon said. Let me quote from the false messiah Moon. Quote: “I want to have members under me who are willing to obey me, even though they may have to disobey their parents and the presidents of their own nations. And, if I gain half the population of the world, I can turn the whole world upside down. You must start over again your new life from the point of denying your past, family, friends, neighbors, and relatives.” You say, “Nobody would follow a man like that.” Thousands are following this deluded man who claims to be Christ. You know, it is an amazing thing what people will believe. Some people will believe there’s a spaceship in the tail of Hale-Bopp, and that if they commit suicide, they can follow their false messiah on into some glorious Heaven. It is amazing what people will believe. But, Jesus said these days will be marked by deceptions and false Christs. And, the Bible says we are not to believe every spirit.

That’s why you had better get a lock on the truth that is revealed in God’s Word. All right?

II. Divisions
Sign number two—sign number two. Not only are you going to find that you’re going to have deceptions, but write down this word—sign number two: divisions. Look in verses 6 and 7, if you will: “And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom” (Matthew 24:6–7). Here we’re talking about divisions. That is, people down though the centuries will never solve the problem of war.

Now, suppose that we lived in a world where there were no more wars. Then, Jesus would have been proven to be a false prophet. But, we have been plagued by the specter of war, and as we get toward the end of the age, we see more and more wars in number and intensity. Now, let me say that, from World War I to this present time, at least, there has been some every month; there has been an attempt, since World War I, once a month at least, on an average—an attempt to take over the government of some country either by war or by terrorism, or by political, or economic, or racial, or religious change. Our world is in a state of division. You think about what is going on in the world today. Did you know in the 6,000-year history of mankind people have died in wars; 600 million, it is estimated, have died in 6,000 years, in war. Now, listen to me. Half of those people have died since 1900. Since 1900, as half as many have died in war as died in the entire 6,000-year history of mankind.

See what is happening in our world today. You see the spreading terrorism, sky- jackings; you see bombings, you see assassinations, you see sabotage, on every hand. You and I, when we go through the airport today, we have to be searched—bodily searched. We have to take everything out of our pockets just to walk through that magnometer that sees if we are carrying any particular contraband upon us. We’ve seen what has happened recently in the Balkans, and we see what is happening in Zaire. We see what is happening at this very moment in the holy city, Jerusalem. It’s a fulfillment of prophecy. Zechariah chapter 12, verses 2 and 3—listen to it: “Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem. And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people” (Zechariah 12:2–3). Folks, that scripture is being fulfilled before our very eyes. Go home, get your newspaper, and read it.

III. Disasters
Our Lord says, first of all, there will be deceptions. Secondly, there will be divisions. Now, here’s the third sign: there will be disasters. Look, if you will, in verse 7 of this same chapter, the last part of verse 7: “And there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers”—or, “in different”—“places” (Matthew 24:7).

Now, our Lord Jesus looked down through the corridor of time, and the Lord Jesus knew that man with all of his wit and wisdom, with all of his ingenuity, with all of his agricultural know-how, would not be able to solve the food problem. He knew that famines would spread across the earth. Did you know that today, in this so-called modern society, we are living in a time of unprecedented famine? This is for two reasons. Reason number one is agriculture itself. We have raped the lands. The topsoil is gone—and we’ll talk about that later on—but a second reason for famine is not only agriculture, but war. Now, He’s just talked to us about war. And, even where there are places where we have the foodstuffs, we cannot get the foodstuffs to the people because of the divisions in those countries. And so, it’s a compounded problem. One well-known biologist said this. Listen to this quote. It’s staggering. He said, “There is not the slightest hope of escaping a disastrous time of famine, from this moment onward.” He said, “There’s no hope. It’s going to come.” He’s not a Baptist preacher now. He said, “It is shockingly apparent that the battle to feed man will end in a rout.” That is, we’ll lose the battle. Not just lose it slowly; it will end in a rout. Another has said—and I quote: “Planet Earth is no longer a sustainable society. With world population doubling twice in this century, the world’s land is being worked so hard for food that one quarter of the topsoil is turning sterile or eroding away.”

Now, that takes us back to the sixth chapter of the Book of the Revelation. In the sixth chapter of the Book of the Revelation, the Bible says the day will come when it will take a day’s wage to buy a quart of wheat—a day’s wage to buy a quart of wheat. Put in there Revelation chapter 6 and verse 6, and listen to it: “And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny” (Revelation 6:6). Now, a measure of wheat is a little less than a quart. The word penny is a denarius. It was used as a day's wage. And so, it would take, in the days that are coming, from 80 to 120 dollars to buy a quart of wheat.

Now, are we seeing the potentiality for that prophecy being fulfilled? I was reading recently The Monetary and Economic Review, and here’s what it says. It says, “In 1966,”—that’s last year, 1966—“the U.S. and much of the world witnessed record lows in grain supplies, along with record high prices. The world grain stock”—that’s wheat—“dropped to the lowest level ever last year.” And then, here’s what this article went on to say: “Whether by drought, flood, hurricane, hail, fungus, disease, or bugs, the results are the same.” It is estimated that 80 to 90 percent of the U.S. honeybees that make honey and pollinate food plants have been killed. The world now lives on a field-to-mouth process for food. Unless there are bumper harvests that come in soon and continue to make up for the food deficit, people worldwide will begin to starve.

Now, let me talk to you about China. At one time, China was an exporter of grains. This has been reversed. China is now the number two importer of grains. They’re even buying rice from Arkansas and from the Mid-South. China is known for its rice. The Russian government put out this alert—quote: “An emergency situation in the agriculture sector has developed following major declines in grain and livestock output.” Decades ago, the United States had several years of reserves set aside for times of emergency. Today we have only a matter of months in reserves in grain. I read in the newspaper the other day of a devastating famine in North Korea going on right now. They are cooking grass, and boiling grass, and stripping bark from trees. And, the world doesn’t know what to do with it. Shall we help this communist country? Will they allow us to help them? And, how shall we help them?
Then Jesus said, not only will there be famines; He also said there would be pestilences. Well, would you think that in the last days that man would be able to solve the matter of pestilences? What is the pestilence that comes to your mind more than anything else? It’s AIDS, is it not? And, that is a pestilence we don’t know what to do with it. I’m not talking now about some rhetoric from some person who doesn’t know what he’s talking about. But, the US News and World Report article recently said—and quoting microbiologist and Nobel laureate David Baltimore concerning AIDS—“It is today a crisis for the US more deadly than many wars of modern times. In just four more years, the disease will have killed more Americans than the Vietnam and Korean wars combined. It will probably be the most important health problem of the next decade, and going into the next century,” he went on to say, “it threatens to undermine countries.”

But, not only famines, not only pestilences, but earthquakes, Jesus said, would be a part of the signs of His coming and the end of the age. There has been a dramatic increase in earthquakes in the last days. Now, seismologists, those who measure earthquakes, have explained what is happening by what we call plate tectonics. That is, that the land masses of this earth are floating on semi-solid, semi-molten earth beneath, and these crusts of the earth, which are as thick as 70 miles, are resting on this semi-molten, seething center of the earth. And, as these landmasses, these plates, get close to one another, there’s incredible pressure that’s built up underneath, and they sit there for only so long, and then they begin to slip. And, when they slip, giving way to this pressure, of course, that’s an earthquake. And, these places where they are joined together are called faults. And, it’s very much like the ice breaking up that we are seeing in the North, in these Great Lakes. And, when they break loose, it means, not only has there been an earthquake, but more earthquakes are likely to follow.

The New York Times said that several decades ago there had not been one solitary measurable earthquake in Colorado, and since then more than 3,000, in Colorado alone, have been recorded. Time magazine states that there have been more macro earthquakes in the past ten years than in the previous 100 years. And, seismologists and historians have calculated that megalithic earthquakes have increased over 2,000 percent since Columbus discovered America. Now, it is a verifiable fact that more people have perished in earthquakes in the past dozen years as have perished in the past 120 years.

Now, Jesus said that these earthquakes are coming. In 1976, in a disaster of such proportion that the only greater disaster I believe would have been the flood of Noah, more than one million died in China in a great earthquake. Now, look, if you will, in verse 8. Jesus talks about these disasters, and Jesus says, “All of these are the beginnings of sorrows” (Matthew 24:8). And, the word for sorrows here literally means, “birth pangs.” It’s as though Mother Earth is heaving in pain, and our world is pregnant with judgment. “All these are the beginnings of sorrows.” When you see these things, you know that a birth is about to come forth.

IV. Defamation

And now, let me mention the next sign—number four: write down, “defamation.” Look, if you will, in verse 9 of this same chapter: “Then they shall deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake” (Matthew 24:9). So, he’s talking about believers now, those who take the name of the Lord Jesus. They are going to be defamed. Did you know this world has room for almost every religion except that of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ? The persecution is going to center in the name of Jesus. The world does not mind religion, but it resents Jesus, because Jesus said, “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (John 14:6).

Did you know that more Christians have died for their faith—listen to me—in this century than all the other centuries since the beginning of our faith? More Christians have died. In 12 months, in World War II, it is estimated that more Christians were tortured and slain than died under Rome in all of the early centuries—in just 12 months. Some authorities claim that over 50 million Christians were put to death and slaughtered in Russia and other communist countries when communism, the red devil of communism, was moving as it has. And, if you are astute at all, you know that Christian-bashing is a favorite sport today now in newspapers, radio, and television.

Let me give you an example of that which happened on National Public Television—that is, National Public Television, not even private television. Last year, one of the most listened to programs on NPR is called “All Things Considered,” and the host of that program was talking. Somebody had given him a tract concerning the Second Coming of Jesus Christ when he was in New Orleans. That tract was based on 1 Thessalonians chapter 4, which speaks of the Lord coming with a shout, and the voice of the archangel, and the trump of God, and the dead in Christ rising, and the rest of us being caught up (1 Thessalonians 4:16–17). Now, here’s what this man said on the air in public television—quote: “The evaporation of four million people who believe in this...”—and he uses a four-letter word for excreta; I’ll not repeat it from the pulpit; listen to it—“The evaporation of four million people who believe in this [blank] would leave the world a better place.” This is public television. He says, when we’re gone, if we’re gone, good riddance—good riddance. Now, this is what Jesus is saying: “You are going to be hated of all people for my name’s sake.”

And, the devil now is getting more and more blatant in his persecution of Christians. A young man was given a skateboard by his granddad. Dan Moore purchased the skateboard for his seven-year-old grandson. He got this skateboard from a Californian skateboard manufacturer. When they were unpacking the skateboard, a leaflet fell out. It looked like a gospel tract, and the title of the leaflet was “Let’s Make A Deal,” and on the front was a smiley-faced devil talking to someone that he calls Flame Boy, and he is explaining to Flame Boy—this devil is—what happened when he was banished from Heaven. Now, this is in a skateboard for kids. Quote: “First of all, they set up a bunch of dumb rules. And then, they imposed a really strict dress code. I’ll wager that people must be quite bored up there,”—that is, in Heaven—“but, hey, that’s what they get for being good.” And, he says, “Flame Boy, even a dimwit like you can see that Hell is by far the best place to retire. Just look at all the fun to be had.” And, in this tract was a place for the child to sign his name, a contract, by which he would give possession of his soul to the devil for eternity.

Now, can you image a child getting a hold of something like that? Folks, that’s what we’re up against. Our children are watching Star Wars, and the god in Star Wars is what? The Force. And, one man recently wrote—he, by the way, is on one of nearly 1,000 Star Wars sites that are on the Internet. He said, “It would be natural that my generation would latch on to the story,” said Jason Ruspini, webmaster of the unofficial Star Wars homepage. He goes on to say, “They were much more attractive and appropriate than the ancient myths of Judeo-Christian theology. How could these draconian and antiquated stories possibly compete with the majesty and scope of the Star Wars universe?”

V. Desertion

Now, there will be defamation of Christians. I must move on. Look at the fifth sign. There will be desertion. Look, if you will, in verse 10 now: “And then many shall be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another” (Matthew 24:10). When this persecution begins, then true Christians will stand true to the Lord Jesus. And, He says they that endure to the end will be saved (Matthew 24:13). But, many are going to be leaving their churches. Why will they leave? Because they will not be able to stand the heat. Do you know we have today churches that are full of empty people? People have never committed to the lordship of Jesus Christ. And, when the persecution begins, they will leave like rats leaving a sinking ship, because some churches have been filled with a gospel with no Hell, no judgment, no cross, no repentance, no lordship. They have become glorified country clubs with steeples on top.

And then, when this begins, they are going to leave. This is what the Lord Jesus said. Look, if you will, in verse 10: “And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.” There’s going to be a contention within the churches. Real unity is in the Lord Jesus.
VI. Disinformation
I must leave that point and go on the next because of time. There will be disinformation. That’s the next sign. Number six. Look, if you will, in verse 11: “And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many” (Matthew 24:11). Now, what’s the difference between a false prophet and a false Christ? A false Christ is definitely religious. A false prophet just means somebody who speaks with authority; he will become a philosopher of this day. Now, there are so many strident philosophies and humanistic philosophies that are in the world today. Humanism stresses the rights of mankind. A true prophet stresses the rights of Almighty God.

Now, we’re up against New Age humanism today. And, I don’t have time to get into that, but I must hurry now. Disinformation—our world is awash in disinformation, with many false prophets who seem and claim to speak with authority.

VII. Depravity
The next sign, number seven, is depravity. Look, if you will, in verse 12: “And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold” (Matthew 24:12). And, when you have these false prophets who are preaching self-interest rather than the rights of Almighty God, you’re going to lose your moral anchor. And, we have a generation today that no longer believes in a fixed standard of right and wrong, because of these false prophets. And, because of that, the moral anchor is gone, and they go down, down, down, down, down, into a swirling sewer of depravity. For further information, read any newspaper. The Bible speaks of man who drinks iniquity like water. And, the word iniquity here in the Bible is the word lawlessness. It speaks of violence and the lawlessness that will be a sign of the last days.

VIII. Declaration
I wish I had more time for that, but I must move on. Write down the next sign. And, the next sign, the last sign—and I love it—it is declaration—declaration. The gospel will be preached around all of the world. Look, if you will, in verses 13 and 14: “But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.” Listen. There will be faithful people who will believe in the Lord Jesus right on to the end of the age. Listen: “He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.” He’s not saying that you’re saved because you endure; He’s saying that you endure because you’re saved. You want to know who the saved people are? Those who endure. And then, He says this: “And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations;”—that means, all tribes, all ethnicities—“and then shall the end come” (Matthew 24:13–14).
Now, these other things will exist throughout all of the age, but then He says there’s coming a special sign at the very end. This is the last one. This is the coup de grace. This is when the gospel is being preached around the world. This was impossible in all other ages except our age, and now it has come to pass in our age. You think about what is happening in this generation. Through radio and television and books and tapes and leaflets and crusades, all of the world has heard the gospel of Jesus Christ. Not every person, but all nations, all ethnicities, have heard. I just received a missive from Bill Bright, a dear friend of mine, who asked me to come and help celebrate the closure of the Great Commission in getting the gospel of Jesus Christ around the world. And, he said—and I quote—“New Life 2000 has now been implemented in 220 countries representing 98 percent of the world’s population. More than two billion people have been exposed to the gospel; 850 million have seen the Jesus film alone.” I remember several years ago when Billy Graham set up the most massive telecasting that has ever been done from the Caribbean. And, in all nations around the world they heard the gospel of Jesus Christ. And, our own ministry, Love Worth Finding, is being heard in some 70 foreign countries around the world, even in the Middle East, and broadcasting into China. Around the world through broadcasting the gospel of Jesus Christ is being preached.

Now, notice what our Lord is saying. Our Lord is saying here, “And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come” (Matthew 24:14).

Conclusion

Now, ladies and gentleman, what does all of this mean? What does this mean to me? What does this mean to you? Let me tell you what it means. It means, first of all, you can trust the Word of God. It means secondly, that Jesus Christ is coming. The end of the age is coming, and we’d better bring people to Jesus Christ. Thirdly, it means that those of us who know and love the Lord Jesus Christ ought to be moving one step higher. And God’s people said, “Amen.”
The Signs of the End of the Age

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: March 20, 1988

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:1–14

“And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?”

Matthew 24:3

Outline

Introduction

I. The Setting of This Prophecy

II. The Subject of This Prophecy
   A. The Signs of the End of the Age
      1. Counterfeit Christs
      2. Continual Conflicts
      3. Costly Calamities
         a. Famines
         b. Pestilence
         c. Earthquakes
      4. Condemned Christians
      5. Contentious Churches
      6. Cynical Coldness
      7. Continuing Courage
      8. Completed Commission
   B. What This Prophecy Means
      1. It Means the Word of God Is True
      2. It Means That Those of Us Who Are Christians Should Take Hope
      3. It Means That We Should Get Busy Sharing the Gospel
      4. It Means If You Don’t Know the Lord, You Ought to Get Saved

Conclusion

Introduction

Matthew chapter 24—turn to it, and look up here. And, while you’re finding it, may I remind you that mankind has always wanted to be able to look into the future, to know what the future holds? We have many forecasters, many prognosticators, many fortunetellers, many soothsayers, many false prophets, but they all have one thing in common: they cannot forecast the future; they all fail. Even our local weathermen fail sometimes. I heard we were going to have snow last Friday or Saturday, and they failed—I'm glad. I heard of a weatherman who had to leave one city and go to another because the weather didn’t agree with him. Many times, it doesn’t agree with them, and they’re wrong. But, the Bible bats 1,000. God’s Word is never wrong on the subject of prophecy.

One of the most amazing, startling, and revealing prophecies in all of the Word of God is found in Matthew chapter 24, and this prophecy comes from the lips of the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. I read in Matthew 24:1: “And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?” (Matthew 24:1–3). I want you to notice three things about the prophecy that is contained in Matthew 24.

I. The Setting of This Prophecy
First of all, I want you to notice the setting of this prophecy. The Bible says that the disciples had come to Jesus, and they’re going to show Jesus the magnificence of the temple. Well, why would they do that? Jesus knew the temple as well as they. Jesus had been in the temple many times. Why were they pointing out the magnificence of the temple? Well, if you’ll go back to the 23rd chapter, you’ll find out that Jesus had said to them, “This temple (your house) is going to be left desolate” (Matthew 23:38). They couldn’t believe it. This magnificent temple—how could this temple be left desolate? Josephus, the historian, said it sat there upon Mount Moriah like a mountain of snow. And, when the sun would come up over the Mount of Olives and gleam on that façade, it was indescribably beautiful, and it looked like it would be there forever. The Jews thought of this as the very dwelling place of God. This temple was the very center of their society, but Jesus said it would be left desolate. They said, “Well, Lord, look at this place. How can this be?” Well, then, to make matters worse, Jesus said in the first few verses of Matthew chapter 24—He said, “I’m going to tell you something else: not only is it going to be left desolate; it’s going to be destroyed. There will not be left one stone upon another” (Matthew 24:2).

Now, this seemed highly unlikely. Why? Because they were living under Roman occupation. The Romans were lovers of temples, and they were also builders of temples; and they were also preservers of temples. They were not vandals. They didn’t come in and destroy temples when they conquered; they preserved the temples. And, you can visit around the world and see many of the temples that were extant in the time of the Roman Empire and see how the Romans left them. They did not destroy them. If they were destroyed, they were destroyed later on by earthquakes and vandals. But, Jesus said, “Not one stone will be left upon another” (Matthew 24:2).

Forty years later, Titus, the Roman general, came because of rebellion in Rome...rebellion in Jerusalem. He and his army surrounded Jerusalem, as Jesus said that the armies would do in Matthew chapter 21. They cut the city off from food. Inside, starvation stalked the streets. Mothers even cooked and ate their own children. It was terrible. And then, when the city was weakened, they stormed the city. But, Titus had given orders, “Do not—do not—destroy the temple.” But, somehow—perhaps a flaming arrow, some arsonist—someone set fire on the temple. The great cedars of Lebanon began to burn, and the gold and the precious metals in that temple melted and ran down between the cracks. Also, there were rumors of hidden treasure and great resources—vast secret chambers full of gold and treasure—in the temple. When the temple burned and the ruins were left, then others came and took great pry bars and actually pried every stone apart looking for treasure and seeking the gold that had run down in the crevices, and the prophecy of the Lord Jesus Christ was fulfilled minutely.

I have visited Jerusalem many times, and I can tell you, my friend, while the western wall remains, which is the outer parameter of the platform upon which the temple sat, not one stone is left upon another—not one—exactly as Christ said that it would happen. It was an unlikely prophecy, but it came to pass. It was unreasonable that it should happen, but it came to pass. We’d better learn right away that we do not live by reason but by revelation. And secondly, we’d better learn, dear friend, that we don’t have to say that a thing seems likely or not for it to come to pass if the Bible prophesies it. Now, that’s the setting of this prophecy.

II. The Subject of This Prophecy
Now, I want you to notice the subject of this prophecy. The disciples came to the Lord Jesus, and they asked Him a pertinent question here in verse 3: the Bible says, “As he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came [to] him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be?”—that is, “When is the temple going to be destroyed?” And, secondly—“what shall be the sign of thy coming?” (Matthew 24:3). Now, look at the word coming. It’s not the normal word for coming, like you’d come to town or you come home. But, it is the word Parousia, and it actually means “the sign of your presence.” And, what they meant by that is “when You come to rule and to reign.” The Lord Jesus, they knew, was the Messiah. He was the One who was to rule and reign, and they said, “Lord, when are You coming—that is, coming to take over? When are You coming, Lord, for Your rightful place? What is the sign of Your coming?” That was the second question they asked. And then, here’s the third question, which was the subject of this prophecy: and they said, “And what is the sign of the end of the world?” (Matthew 24:3). Now, what it literally says is not, primarily, “the end of the world,” but “the end of the age.” And, some Bibles are translated that way—and correctly so. What is the sign of the end of the age? They felt, “Well, if the temple is going to be destroyed, certainly the age that we know it is coming to an end.” What are the signs of the end of this age—things as they are now? When is the new age going to begin? When is the new dispensation going to begin?

A. The Signs of the End of the Age

Jesus answers that first quest…that last question first, and that’s going to be the subject of our study this morning. What are the signs of the end of the age? And so, we want to continue to read here and see what these signs are, and I want to mention eight of them—I want to mention eight. Jesus is saying that there’s going to be an indeterminable period of time—an intermediate period of time—between the time that He was there with them on the Mount of Olives and when He comes again. And, Jesus describes the course of this age and the precourses of the end of this age, and I want you to see them. As I say, there are eight of them.

1. Counterfeit Christs

The very first I want to mention is counterfeit Christs—counterfeit Christs. Notice in chapter 24:4: “And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you”—that is, “Be very careful. You can be easily deceived”—“Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ”—the word Christ means “Messiah”—“and shall deceive many” (Matthew 24:4–5). Now, the Lord Jesus said, therefore, that the end of the age will be marked by counterfeit Christs. We would say, “antichrist.” You know that the word anti means “against Christ,” but it also means “instead of Christ.” The prefix anti means “instead of” and “against.” And, there are going to come many who, of course, will be against Jesus, but the way they will be against Jesus is they themselves will say that they are Messiah.

You say, “Pastor, has this been fulfilled? Are there many false Messiahs?” Dear friend, in recent days, in the past 50 years, no less than 1100 different religious leaders have claimed to be the Christ, the Messiah, of the world. You say, “Can you give me a pertinent example, one that I can understand?”

Let’s think about the Reverend Moon—the Reverend Moon. We call his followers “Moonies.” Of course, it is the Unification Church. He is the self-ordained Korean evangelist. His followers believe that he is here to fulfill Christ’s mission on earth. They believe that he is a 20th-century—or, back up—he is the 20th-century Messiah. The Moonies believe that Jesus Christ failed. They do not believe that He succeeded. They believe that the cross was a horrible mistake—that for 4,000 years, the world had been preparing for the coming of the Messiah, but the Jews ruined God’s plan when they crucified the Lord Jesus Christ; and now, God has to start over again. And, guess who He chose? The Reverend Moon. And, they believe that what Jesus should have done—rather than be crucified, He should have sought out an ideal wife; He should have been married and started a new race of people. And so, the Lord is starting all over again with the Reverend Moon.

Now, that might seem almost humorous, except when you see what Moon requires of his followers—and I quote (here’s what he said): “I want to have members under me who are willing to obey me, even though they may have to disobey their own parents and the presidents of their own nations. And, if I gain half the population of the world, I can turn the whole world upside down.” And then, he said to his followers, “You must start over again your new life from the point of denying your past. Deny your families, friends, neighbors, and relatives.” Now, the tragedy of this is that the Reverend Moon has found many deluded followers. You’ll see them on street corners of every major city, and they pay a price that sometimes puts modern-day Christians to shame.

2. Continual Conflicts

Second sign: Not only counterfeit Christs, but continual conflicts. Notice verses 6–7: and Jesus said, “And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom” (Matthew 24:6–7). Now, Jesus said continuing conflicts are going to be a sign of the end of the age. Now, there have always been wars and rumors of wars, but now wars are growing in number; they’re growing in intensity, and they are growing in devastation. An expert, Richard Sanger, has said this: “Since World War II, at least every month there has been an attempt to take over a country and to bring about political or economic or racial or religious change.”

Think of the wars—just think of them that are going on right now. Think what is happening this very day in Israel. I listened to the news this morning…with an uprising in Bethlehem where our Lord was born. Think what is happening in Afghanistan. Think what is happening in Ireland. Think what is happening in South Africa. Think what is happening in Central America, as American boys are now down there again in greater number in Central America. Think all over the world of the uprisings and the wars. Ted Koppel, the ABC commentator on Nightline, told his audience not long ago, “While we’re sitting here talking, there are more than 39 wars going on simultaneously in the world”—39! Never has there been a generation that has known the terrorism, the hijackings, the bombings, the assassinations, the sabotage, and the open hostility that we know. Continual conflict, Jesus said—a sign of the end of the age.
3. Costly Calamities

The third sign that I want to mention is what I’m going to call “costly calamities.” Jesus mentions these in the latter part of verse. Jesus goes on to say: “and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places” (Matthew 24:7). Now, Jesus lived in a very small part of the world. He never traveled outside of Palestine. He did not have the knowledge that we have of world conditions.

a. Famines

But, Jesus looked down through the tunnel of time, and Jesus omnisciently forecast that there would be famines in the last days. Those of us who know what is happening in the world today know that the experts tell us that we are on the threshold of a great unprecedented famine in the land of Ethiopia. The Ethiopians have known a famine not so long ago. We breathed a sigh of relieve, and we thought, “Well, perhaps there has been some requiting of that famine.” But, now we are told that it is inevitable that new famine will come. Which of us has not turned his head and looked away, not hardly able to bear to look at the little babies with their distended stomachs, their bloated bodies, the flies swarming on them, and those gaunt little faces—mothers gnawing at dry breasts? And, we think, “How can this be? How can this be in our world where there is so much?” My dear friend, the problem is not only with the production of food; it is with the distribution of food. You see, war always causes famine for two reasons: number one, the means of production are put into military production; and number two, that the means of communication and distribution are always inhibited by the hardness of men’s hearts. And, famine follows war like night follows day.

Let me tell you what some men have said. Dr. Paul Ehrlich of Stanford University, an expert, said, “There are whole areas of the globe today where the people who are alive will die of starvation tomorrow”—vast areas, not just in incidental people or villages. He went on to say, “There is not the slightest hope of escaping a disastrous time of famines from this moment onward.” And then, he said, “It is shockingly apparent that the battle to feed mankind will end in a rout.” That is, there won’t even really be a battle.

Lester Brown, whom the Washington Post called “one of the world’s most influential thinkers of 1982,” and who is President of the Worldwatch Institute, said—and I quote: “Forget about using the word crisis when talking about world production of food. Crisis suggests a severe but temporary shortage. The correct word is now climax, meaning ‘a final and irreversible shortage.’” It’s not just that we’re going to try to work our way through it; he’s saying we can’t. He went on to say, “Planet Earth is no longer a sustainable society. With world population doubling twice this century, the world’s land is being worked so hard for food that one quarter of the topsoil is turning sterile and eroding away.”

In the face of this, the United Nations has created what they call a “World Food Bank.” Their estimate is that one-half billion people will die from famine in the next five years. Can you imagine one-half billion dying of starvation in five years? They went on to say that at the end of the century, another one billion will die of starvation. Now friend, you put those figures together, and you have almost 25 percent of the world’s population—one out of four—dying of starvation. Now, the Lord Jesus said that would be one of the signs of the end of the age. He mentioned the costly calamity of famine.

b. Pestilence
And then, He mentioned the costly calamity of pestilence. We would have thought that with modern ingenuity and high-powered drugs, penicillin and the rest, that we would not have to worry about pestilence. I take from my illustration one pestilence that stares us in the face right now. It’s like we’re looking at the end of a loaded gun, and it is AIDS. Which of us does not shiver—which of us does not think seriously—about the specter of AIDS? I read recently in U.S. News and World Report this quotation: “AIDS today is a crisis for the modern United States, more deadly than many wars of modern times. In just four more years, the disease will have killed more Americans than the Vietnam and Korean wars combined. It will probably be the most important public health problem of the next decade and going into the next century,” warns microbiologist and Nobel Laureate, David Baltimore. And then, he said, “It threatens to undermine whole countries.” Entire countries will cave because of this pestilence. And, we stand around and ring our hands, but we are helpless.

c. Earthquakes
Thirdly, our Lord not only warned about famines and pestilence, but He warned about earthquakes. As I told you last Sunday night, there has been a dramatic increase of earthquakes in these last days. Seismologists now have a theory called “plate tectonics.” They believe that there are about a dozen landmasses or plates that cover this globe, and these plates are about 70-mile-thick rock crust. And, they bump up to each other, and they rub against each other. And, as the molten core of the earth begins to move and pulsate, there is a desire for movement, but the edges are stuck one to another. But, when the pressure comes strong enough and hard enough, it slips. And then, when it slips, there’s what is called an “earthquake.” Now, there may be a little slippage, or there may be a great slippage, but every slippage is only a prognostication and a forecast of more to come. In the reading I was doing, they said the way to understand this is like understanding the breakup of an ice flow on a great lake, like one—Lake Michigan or something—up in the north. When the ice begins to break up a little bit, you know that it’s going to break up more. You know that more is coming.

For example—for example—The New York Times reported that 20 years ago there was no recorded earthquake in Colorado, but we had one. And, since then, there have been 3,000 measurable earthquakes. That is, what begins will increase. Time Magazine states that there have been more macro-earthquakes in the past ten years than in the previous 100 years.” And, seismology experts have shown us that there have been more megalithic earthquakes since the time of Columbus to this time. As a matter of fact, they have increased 2,000 percent. And, it is absolutely verifiable that as many have died in earthquakes during the last dozen years as have perished in the previous 120.

Now, Jesus said that earthquakes are going to be a sign of the last days. As a matter of fact, there was an earthquake that hit Red China in 1976. The figures have never been released by the Red Chinese, but outside observers believe that at least a million Chinese died in 1976—one million. If that is true, that’s the greatest disaster to hit mankind since the flood of Noah. And friend, that’s in our age. That’s just a little more than a decade ago. God’s alarm clock is going off all around us. God is saying that earthquakes are a sign of the last days.

And, Jesus says here in verse 8: “All [of] these are the beginning of sorrows” (Matthew 24:8). Now, the word for sorrow here is the word for birth pains. They are the beginning of travail. You know that when a woman is getting ready to give birth to a baby, first of all, there are little, minute pains—a pain here, and then a long time, and another pain. “Was that a birth pain or was that something else?” “Well, we’ll see.” But then, the birth pains get stronger, and they get closer together. And then, they get stronger; and then, they get closer together. And, when this happens, you know that you’re coming to the climax, that the birth is due. And, that’s what Jesus is saying. Now, you see, when we preach on these things, someone will say, “Well, look, we have always had false Messiahs. We have always had wars and rumors of wars. We have always had famines, and earthquakes, and pestilences.” But, what is our Lord saying? When you see an intensification, when you see a multiplication, when you see a convergence of these signs, you know—you know—that the end is near.

4. Condemned Christians
Now, let me give you another sign in verses 10: “And [many] shall…be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another” (Matthew 24:10). Well, let me back up to verse 9: “Then”— I skipped verse 9; let me read it—“[And] then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake” (Matthew 24:9). Now, who is the Lord speaking to? He’s talking to His disciples, and they are representative of the Christians who are going to be hated in the last days. The fourth sign, therefore, is condemned Christians. Christians are going to be condemned, and Christians, many of them, are going to be put to death. There will be an increase of religious persecution—primarily of Christians. Now, not all religious people are going to be persecuted. Primarily, those who are going to be persecuted are Christians. You say, “How do you know?” Because Jesus said it will be “for [His] name’s sake” (Matthew 24:9). Do you see that? “For [His] name’s sake” (Matthew 24:9)—in verse 9. You’re going to be persecuted because of the name of Jesus.

Now, you can leave the name of Jesus out and get along real well in the world today. You can go pray at a ballgame. You can pray at the Rotary Club or anything else. Just don’t pray in the name of Jesus, and nobody will mind it at all. You can just say, “Your religion is as good as mine,” and put our arms around everybody else and say, “Everybody’s all going to heaven, just different ways,” and everybody will like it fine. But, when you stand up and say, “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is [no] other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12), my dear friend, then the persecution will begin.

Have you ever noticed that on television, radio, in the newspapers today, that the favorite indoor sport is Christian bashing? Have you noticed that? I mean, everybody today—they would not dare speak of any other group. They would not dare speak of any other ethnic group or religious group as they speak of Christians—and especially Bible-believing Christians. Listen, folks: it is estimated that more Christians were tortured and slain in 12 months during World War II than died under all of the Neros in the 1st Century. In Seoul, Korea, in our time, 10,000 Christian martyrs have paid for their faith with their lives. Authorities claim that over 50 million died under the hands of the communists in the Communist Revolution in Russia and other places. More people have died for Christ in this generation than have died in any other generation.

Now, I wonder—I wonder—if the noose tightens more and real persecution begins in the United States, I wonder how many Sunday morning benchwarmers will fall away. I wonder how many here in this place, when persecution begins, will follow the Lord Jesus Christ. We have people, very honestly, who think they do God a wild favor when they get to church on Sunday morning, once in a while, and especially if they drop a few bucks in the plate: “O God, You’re so fortunate to have me.” But, what… To them, the church is little more than a country club with a steeple on top. Do you know the Lord Jesus Christ? Do you love the Lord Jesus Christ? Jesus spoke of those hothouse Christians who would fall away when persecution began.

But, dear friend, it has begun. And, I want to tell you that people have died for the name of Jesus and the cause of Christ, and we need to understand that persecution is coming. Now, it’s a sign of the last days.

5. Contentious Churches

I want to mention a fifth sign, and that fifth sign is what I’m going to call “contentious churches”—“contentious churches.” Now look, if you will, in verse 10: “And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another” (Matthew 24:10). Now, I believe—and it breaks my heart to say this—but I believe He’s talking about the religious world. He’s talking about when persecution arises, that one brother will turn in another brother; one brother will spy on another brother. There will be denominations and churches divided by squabbles and church fights. Denominations will be at one another’s throat. And, rather than working together and praying together and loving one another, we will be divided, betraying one another. It will break the heart of our God. It causes angels to weep. It sets back the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. That’s the reason I want our church to be characterized by love—that when people see us, they will say, “Behold how they love one another.” Contentious Christians, contentious churches—one of the signs of the last days. I ask you, do you see that today? Oh, just look around. That’s what you see today.

6. Cynical Coldness

But, let me mention the sixth sign, and it’s what I call “cynical coldness”—not just any kind of coldness, but cynical coldness. Our world will be filled with cynics as a result of all of these other things. Look, if you will please, in verses 11–12: “And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold” (Matthew 24:11–12). I put 11 and 12 together—verses 11 and 12 together—because I believe they belong together.

Now, a false prophet may be in the world of religion, but not only in the world of religion—he may be in the world of politics; he may be in the world of philosophy; he may be in the world of economy; he may be in the world of education. A false prophet is somebody who says, “I have the answer,” and he speaks with authority. These are not necessarily religious false prophets, but these are those who are saying, “This is the way to survive. This is the way to live. This is the thing to do.” And, all of these false prophets have two things in common: number one, they don’t have the answer; but, number two, their answers are some way, somehow, centered in mankind and what man can do in self-expression, self-gratification, “me-ism,” “live for number one,” and “take care of yourself.” Now, my friend, this is rampant in the world today. A true prophet speaks to the glory of God. A false prophet ultimately speaks to the glory of man.

Now, what is going to happen is this: people will substitute the Word of God. False prophets will arise. And, as a result of false prophets, the Bible says that “iniquity shall abound” (Matthew 24:12). The word iniquity is really the word lawlessness. That is, there will be no fixed standards. We will not be living by the Ten Commandments, and the Beatitudes, and the Golden Rule, and the laws of the Lord Jesus, and the teachings of our Lord and Savior. There will be… Lawlessness will abound. There will be no more laws. There will be no more fixed standard. “Iniquity [will] abound” (Matthew 24:12). And, when that happens, the fire will go out in the hearts of mankind, because they will hate one another and betray one another. And, we’ll be afraid to even to walk the streets of our city.
Which of you would like to take a stroll through downtown Memphis this evening unescorted, whether you’re male or female? You’d be afraid to do so. Many of us are afraid to walk in our own neighborhoods after dark. Is it not true? What happens is this: we put bars on our windows, double deadlocks on our doors, and we stay inside while the criminals are on the streets. Is that not true? You see, the non-criminals are in the prison; the criminals are walking the streets. And, the Bible says, “The love of many [will] wax cold” (Matthew 24:12). We don’t even want to open the door. We peep out through the curtains to see who is there. “Don’t open the door, children, to a stranger. Little boys, little girls, don’t speak to that man. He may be a child molester.” You see this hatred, this fear, that is in the hearts of men. It’s an amazing thing that we’ve come to. This was in our paper the other day, in The Memphis Commercial Appeal. A woman—a woman—wrote Ann Landers, and this is what she said: “Dear Ann Landers, a few days ago, I took my 15-year-old daughter and three of her friends to a rock concert. I decided on the way that instead of fighting the traffic both ways, I would buy a ticket, and stay, and see the show. I consider myself fairly open-minded, but I was shocked senseless by what I saw and heard. The language of the kids around me was unreal. Every other word started with ‘F’ or ‘S.’ When one of the rock stars appeared in a g-string, the crowd went wild. That fellow was ninety-nine and seven-eighths percent naked. The audio was turned up, and the audience went crazy. My eardrums began to pop, but no one else seemed to mind. In fact, they loved it. Then, the kids around me started to light up joints”—that is, marijuana—“People all over the place began to throw firecrackers. I swear, Ann Landers, I have never been so petrified in my life—not only for me, but for every person in that building. There were broken bottles all over the place and several fights going on. The police were nowhere to be seen. I lost track of the number of people who had to be carried out. Some were unconscious; others were hysterical. I saw two couples having sex right out in the open. Others were taking off their clothes all over the place. When the concert ended, there was an incredible stampede. I was afraid if I fell, I would be stomped to death. I prayed for strength to stay on my feet. On the way home, still shaking, I told my daughter she would not go to another rock show as long as she lived in my house, no matter how old she was, and I’m going to stick to it.” Now folks, it is an amazing thing to me that this kind of thing could take place. What has happened is this: that lust has been substituted for love, and iniquity doesn’t exist. It abounds in America today. We live in a world gone wild.

7. Continuing Courage

But, I want to mention the seventh sign of these last days: not only cynical coldness, but, thank God—here’s a good one—continuing courage. There will be those who will stay true to the Lord Jesus Christ. Look in verse 13: “But he that shall endure unto the end…shall be saved” (Matthew 24:13). Now, don’t ever get the idea that our Lord says,
“If you can endure, I will save you.” That is not what He’s saying. He says, “You want to know who the real Christians are? You want to know who’s saved? See who endures. Those who endure—those are the saved ones.” And, thank God, they will be there. Thank God, there will be the Master’s minority. Thank God, there are the faithful few. Thank God, there are those who will sail through bloody seas, but they will march under the blood-stained banner of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Thank God for these who are the courageous ones, and courage will continue.

Our Lord will not leave Himself without a witness. The Lord Jesus said, “Upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it” (Matthew 16:18). And, my dear friend, if you think that I have written this morning to discourage you, you need to understand what Jesus said when He said, “Ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars…[let not your heart be] troubled” (Matthew 24:6). What Jesus is saying is, “Don’t get blown out of the saddle when all of these things come to pass. Those who are saved—those who know Me—they will endure, and they will make it.”

8. Completed Commission
The last sign I want to give you, because I’ve run out of time, is a completed commission—the completed commission. Notice here in verse 14: “And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come” (Matthew 24:14). Our Lord gave us the commission to preach the gospel to every nation. Ladies and gentlemen, this is the only generation that can say that that has been done. It has been done not primarily because of our missionaries going, though that’s one of the reasons, but the major reason it has been done has been shortwave radio, and television, and modern printing, and communication. And, the gospel has girdled the globe. Not every person has heard, but every nation has heard the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. And, Jesus had the audacity to look to the future and say, “This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all [of] the world” (Matthew 24:14). And, my dear friend, it has been done.

B. What This Prophecy Means
Now, you put these signs together, and you tell me if you do not have a feeling in your heart that the birth pangs are getting closer and closer and more and more intense. And, we have every reason to believe that we are living in the closing moments of this present dispensation and this age. That means several things to me.

1. It Means the Word of God Is True
Number one: It means the Word of God is true. Only a true prophet could have prophesied as the Lord Jesus did.
2. It Means That Those of Us Who Are Christians Should Take Hope

Number two: It means that those of us who are Christians should take hope and take courage. I have not given this to discourage you. Frankly, I'm very encouraged. I'll say, "Bless God, it's getting gloriously dark!" Amen. For Jesus said, "When [all of] these things begin to come to pass, then look up...lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh" (Luke 21:28).

3. It Means That We Should Get Busy Sharing the Gospel

I'll tell you a third thing it tells me: it tells me that we had better get busy sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ. The real proof that you believe these things is not whether you have it in your notebook but whether you have it in your heart. We need to get our heads out of the clouds of prophecy and on the pavement of soul winning and begin to win...warn people to flee from the wrath to come and to be saved.

4. It Means If You Don't Know the Lord, You Ought to Get Saved

I'll tell you fourth thing it means: it means, my dear friend, if you don't know the Lord Jesus Christ, you ought to get saved. I mean, soon, you ought to give your heart to the Lord Jesus Christ. And oh, He'll save you. He wants to save you, and He will save you.

Conclusion

I'd like every head bowed, every eye closed, no one stirring now. And, I want you to begin to pray for those around you—those around you who may or may not know the Lord Jesus Christ. Just pray for the person to your right, the person to your left—no one moving, no one stirring.

Now, I want to ask you a question: How many in this building today could say, "Brother Rogers, if the Lord Jesus Christ were to burst through the blue this morning, if the Lord Jesus were to come today, I know that I know that I know that I'm saved. I'd be ready for Christ to come, and He would take me and receive me unto Himself. I know it not because of any good that I have done but because I have repented of my sin; I've trusted Christ as my personal Savior, and God's Spirit bears witness with my spirit that I'm a child of God"? If you can say that and mean it out of your heart, your conscience bearing witness, would you slip up your hand? Hold it up. Thank God—many of you. Praise the Lord. Now, take it down.

For those of you who could not lift your hand, I want to tell you, dear friend, that the next service, you'll be able to lift your hand if you'll do what I'm going to ask you to do right now, and that is to say, "Lord Jesus, come into my heart, forgive my sin, and save me." The Bible says, "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:13). Would you pray a prayer and say, "Lord Jesus, I need You. Come into my heart. Save me, and help me, Lord Jesus, never—never—to be ashamed of You"? The Bible says, "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Romans 10:13). Father, I pray that many today will say yes to Christ. In His precious name I pray. Amen.
The Signs of the End of the Age

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: March 20, 1988

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:1–14

“And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?”

MATTHEW 24:3

Outline

Introduction
I. The Setting of This Prophecy
II. The Subject of This Prophecy
   A. Counterfeit Christians
   B. Continual Conflicts
   C. Costly Calamities
      1. Famines
      2. Pestilence
      3. Earthquakes
   D. Condemned Christians
   E. Contentious Churches
   F. Cynical Coldness
   G. Continuing Courage
   H. Completed Commission
Conclusion
   A. It Means the Word of God Is True
   B. It Means That Those of Us Who Are Christians Should Take Hope
   C. It Means That We Should Get Busy Sharing the Gospel
   D. It Means If You Don’t Know the Lord, You Ought to Get Saved

Introduction

Matthew chapter 24—turn to it, and look up here. And while you’re finding it, may I remind you that mankind has always wanted to be able to look into the future, to know what the future holds. We have many forecasters, many prognosticators, many fortunetellers, many soothsayers, many false prophets, but they all have one thing in common: They cannot forecast the future; they all fail. Even our local weathermen fail sometimes. I heard we were going to have snow last Friday or Saturday, and they failed—I’m glad. I heard of a weatherman who had to leave one city and go to another because the weather didn't agree with him. Many times, it doesn't agree with them, and they're wrong. But the Bible bats one thousand. God's Word is never wrong on the subject of prophecy.

One of the most amazing, startling, and revealing prophecies in all of the Word of God is found in Matthew chapter 24, and this prophecy comes from the lips of the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. I read in Matthew 24:1: “And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?” (Matthew 24:1–3) I want you to notice three things about the prophecy that is contained in Matthew 24.

I. The Setting of This Prophecy
First of all, I want you to notice the setting of this prophecy. The Bible says that the disciples had come to Jesus, and they were going to show Jesus the magnificence of the temple. Well, why would they do that? Jesus knew the temple as well as they. Jesus had been in the temple many times. Why were they pointing out the magnificence of the temple? Well, if you'll go back to the twenty-third chapter, you'll find out that Jesus had said to them, “This temple—your house—is going to be left desolate.” (Matthew 23:38) They couldn't believe it. This magnificent temple, how could this temple be left desolate? Josephus, the historian, said it sat there upon Mount Moriah like a mountain of snow. And when the sun would come up over the Mount of Olives and gleam on that façade, it was indescribably beautiful, and it looked like it would be there forever. The Jews thought of this as the very dwelling place of God. This temple was the very center of their society. But Jesus said it would be left desolate. They said, “Well, Lord, look at this place. How can this be?” Well then, to make matters worse, Jesus said in the first few verses of Matthew chapter 24, “I’m going to tell you something else: Not only is it going to be left desolate; it’s going to be destroyed. There will not be left one stone upon another.”

Now this seemed highly unlikely. Why? Because they were living under Roman occupation. The Romans were lovers of temples. And they were also builders of temples. And they were also preservers of temples. They were not vandals. They didn’t come in and destroy temples when they conquered; they preserved the temples. And you can visit around the world and see many of the temples that were extant in the time of the Roman Empire and see how the Romans left them. They did not destroy them. If they were destroyed, they were destroyed later on by earthquakes and vandals. But Jesus said, “Not one stone will be left upon another.”

Forty years later, Titus, the Roman general, came because of rebellion in Jerusalem. He and his army surrounded Jerusalem as Jesus said that the armies would do in Matthew chapter 21. They cut the city off from food. Inside, starvation stalked the streets. Mothers even cooked and ate their own children. It was terrible. And then, when the city was weakened, they stormed the city. But Titus had given orders, “Do not—do not—destroy the temple.” But somehow—perhaps a flaming arrow, some arsonist—someone set the temple on fire. The great cedars of Lebanon began to burn, and the gold and the precious metals in that temple melted and ran down between the cracks. Also, there were rumors of hidden treasure and great resources—vast secret chambers full of gold and treasure—in the temple. When the temple burned and the ruins were left, then others came and took great pry bars and actually pried every stone apart looking for treasure and seeking the gold that had run down in the crevices; and the prophecy of the Lord Jesus Christ was fulfilled minutely.

I have visited Jerusalem many times; and I can tell you, my friend, although the Western Wall remains, which is the outer parameter of the platform upon which the temple sat, not one stone is left upon another—not one—exactly as Christ said that it would happen! It was an unlikely prophecy; but it came to pass. It was unreasonable that it should happen; but it came to pass. We’d better learn right away that we do not live by reason, but by revelation. And, secondly, we’d better learn, dear friend, that we don’t have to say that a thing seems likely or not for it to come to pass, if the Bible prophesies it.

II. The Subject of This Prophecy
That’s the setting of this prophecy. Now I want you to notice the subject of this prophecy. The disciples came to the Lord Jesus and they asked Him a pertinent question here in verse 3. The Bible says, “As he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be?”—that is, “when is the temple going to be destroyed?”—“and”—secondly—“what shall be the sign of thy coming?”

Now, look at the word coming. It’s not the normal word for coming, like you’d come to town, or you come home. But it is the word parousia, and it actually means “the sign of your presence.” And what they meant by that is “when you come to rule and to reign.” The Lord Jesus, they knew, was the Messiah. He was the One who was to rule and reign, and they said, “Lord, when are you coming?”—that is, coming to take over. “When are you coming, Lord, for your rightful place? What is the sign of your coming?” That was the second question they asked.

And then, here’s the third question, which was the subject of this prophecy—and they said, “And what is the sign of the end of the world?” Now what it literally says is not primarily “the end of the world,” but “the end of the age.” And some Bibles are translated that way—and correctly so: “What is the sign of the end of the age?” They felt, “Well, if the temple is going to be destroyed, certainly the age that we know it is coming to an end. What are the signs of the end of this age—things as they are now? When is the new age going to begin? When is the new dispensation going to begin?”

Jesus answers that last question first—and that’s going to be the subject of our study this morning: “What are the signs of the end of the age?” And so we want to continue to read here and see what these signs are; and I want to mention eight of them—I want to mention eight. Jesus is saying that there’s going to be an indeterminable period of time—an intermediate period of time—between the time that He was there with them on the Mount of Olives and when He comes again. And Jesus describes the course of this age and the precursors of the end of this age—and I want you to see them. As I say, there are eight of them.

A. Counterfeit Christians

The very first I want to mention is counterfeit Christs—counterfeit Christs. Notice in chapter 24:4: “And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you...”—that is, “Be very careful. You can be easily deceived”—“Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ;”—the word Christ means “messiah”—“and shall deceive many.” (Matthew 24:4–5) Now the Lord Jesus said, therefore, that the end of the age will be marked by counterfeit Christs. We would say “antichrists.” You know that the word anti means “against Christ,” but it also means “instead of Christ.” The prefix anti means “instead of” and “against.” And there are going to come many who will be against Jesus, but the way they will be against Jesus is they themselves will say that they are Messiah.

You say, “Pastor, has this been fulfilled? Are there many false messiahs?” Dear friend, in recent days, in the past fifty years, no less than 1,100 different religious leaders have claimed to be the Christ, the Messiah, of the world. You say, “Can you give me a pertinent example, one that I can understand?” Let’s think about the Reverend Moon—the Reverend Moon. We call his followers Moonies. Of course, it is the Unification Church. He is the self-ordained Korean evangelist. His followers believe that he is here to fulfill Christ’s mission on earth. They believe that he is the twentieth-century Messiah. The Moonies believe that Jesus Christ failed. They do not believe that He succeeded. They believe that the cross was a horrible mistake—that for four thousand years, the world had been preparing for the coming of the Messiah, but the Jews ruined God’s plan when they crucified the Lord Jesus Christ; and now God has to start over again. And, guess who He chose? The Reverend Moon. And they believe that what Jesus should have done, rather than be crucified. He should have sought out an ideal wife; He should have been married and started a new race of people. And so the Lord is starting all over again with the Reverend Moon.

Now that might seem almost humorous, except when you see what Moon requires of his followers. Here’s what he said: “I want to have members under me who are willing to obey me, even though they may have to disobey their own parents and the presidents of their own nations. And if I gain half the population of the world, I can turn the whole world upside down.” And then he said to his followers, “You must start over again your new life from the point of denying your past. Deny your families, friends, neighbors, and relatives.” Now the tragedy of this is that the Reverend Moon has found many deluded followers. You’ll see them on street corners of every major city, and they pay a price that sometimes puts modern-day Christians to shame. Counterfeit Christs.

B. Continual Conflicts

Second sign: not only counterfeit Christs, but continual conflicts. Notice verses 6 and 7: and Jesus said, “And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.” (Matthew 24:6–7) Now Jesus said continuing conflicts are going to be a sign of the end of the age. Now there have always been wars and rumors of wars; but now wars are growing in number, they’re growing in intensity, and they are growing in devastation. An expert, Richard Sanger, has said this: “Since World War II, at least every month there has been an attempt to take over a country and to bring about political or economic or racial or religious change.”

Think of the wars—just think of them that are going on right now. Think what is happening this very day in Israel. I listened to the news this morning about an uprising in Bethlehem where our Lord was born. Think what is happening in Afghanistan. Think what is happening in Ireland. Think what is happening in South Africa. Think what is happening in Central America, as American boys are now down there again in greater number in Central America. Think all over the world of the uprisings and the wars. Ted Koppel, the ABC commentator on Nightline, told his audience not long ago, “While we’re sitting here talking, there are more than thirty-nine wars going on simultaneously in the world”—thirty-nine! Never has there been a generation that has known the terrorism, the hijackings, the bombings, the assassinations, the sabotage, and the open hostility that we know. Continual conflict, Jesus said, is a sign of the end of the age.

C. Costly Calamities

The third sign that I want to mention is what I’m going to call costly calamities. Jesus mentions these in the latter part of verse. Jesus goes on to say, “And there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.” (Matthew 24:7)
1. Famines

Now Jesus lived in a very small part of the world. He never traveled outside of Palestine. He did not have the knowledge that we have of world conditions. But Jesus looked down through the tunnel of time, and Jesus omnisciently forecast that there would be famines in the last days. Those of us who know what is happening in the world today know that the experts tell us that we are on the threshold of a great unprecedented famine in the land of Ethiopia. The Ethiopians have known a famine not so long ago. We breathed a sigh of relief, and we thought, well, perhaps there had been some abatement of that famine. But now we are told that it is inevitable that new famine will come. Which of us has not turned his head and looked away, not hardly able to bear to look at the little babies with their distended stomachs, their bloated bodies, the flies swarming on them, and those gaunt little faces—mothers gnawing at dry breasts? And we think, “How can this be? How can this be in our world where there is so much?” My dear friend, the problem is not only with the production of food; it is with the distribution of food. You see, war always causes famine for two reasons: number one, the means of production are put into military production; and, number two, the means of communication and distribution are always inhibited by the hardness of men’s hearts. And famine follows war, like night follows day.

Let me tell you what some men have said. Dr. Paul Ehrlich of Stanford University, an expert, said, “There are whole areas of the globe today where the people who are alive will die of starvation tomorrow”—vast areas, not just in incidental people or villages. He went on to say, “There is not the slightest hope of escaping a disastrous time of famines from this moment onward.” And then he said, “It is shockingly apparent that the battle to feed mankind will end in a rout.” That is, there won’t even really be a battle.

Lester Brown, whom The Washington Post called one of the world’s most influential thinkers of 1982, and who is president of the Worldwatch Institute, said—and I quote—“Forget about using the word crisis when talking about world production of food. Crisis suggests a severe but temporary shortage. The correct word is now climax, meaning ‘a final and irreversible shortage.’” It’s not just that we’re going to try to work our way through it; he’s saying we can’t. He went on to say, “Planet Earth is no longer a sustainable society. With world population doubling twice this century, the world’s land is being worked so hard for food that one quarter of the topsoil is turning sterile and eroding away.”

In the face of this, the United Nations has created what they call a World Food Bank. Their estimate is that one-half billion people will die from famine in the next five years. Can you imagine one-half billion dying of starvation in five years? They went on to say that at the end of the century, another one billion will die of starvation. Now, friend, you put those figures together, and you have almost twenty-five percent of the world’s population—one out of four—dying of starvation. Now the Lord Jesus said that would be one of the signs of the end of the age. He mentioned the costly calamity of famine.

2. Pestilence

And then He mentioned the costly calamity of pestilence. We would have thought that with modern ingenuity and high-powered drugs, penicillin and the rest, that we would not have to worry about pestilence. I take from my illustration one pestilence that stares us in the face right now. It’s like we’re looking at the end of a loaded gun, and it is AIDS. Which of us does not shiver—which of us does not think seriously—about the specter of AIDS? I read recently in U.S. News and World Report this quotation: “AIDS today is a crisis for the modern United States, more deadly than many wars of modern times. In just four more years, the disease will have killed more Americans than the Vietnam and Korean wars combined. It will probably be the most important public health problem of the next decade and going into the next century,” warns microbiologist and Nobel Laureate, David Baltimore. And then he said, “It threatens to undermine whole countries.” Entire countries will cave because of this pestilence. And we stand around and wring our hands, but we are helpless.

3. Earthquakes

Thirdly, our Lord not only warned about famines, and pestilence, but He warned about earthquakes. As I told you last Sunday night, there has been a dramatic increase of earthquakes in these last days. Seismologists now have a theory called plate tectonics. They believe that there are about a dozen landmasses or plates that cover this globe, and these plates are made of about seventy-mile-thick rock crust. And they bump up to each other, and they rub against each other. And as the molten core of the earth begins to move and pulsate, there is a desire for movement, but the edges are stuck one to another. But when the pressure comes strong enough and hard enough, it slips. And then when it slips, there’s what is called an earthquake. Now there may be a little slippage, or there may be a great slippage, but every slippage is only a prognostication and a forecast of more to come.

In the reading I was doing, they said the way to understand this is like understanding the breakup of an ice floe on a great lake—Lake Michigan or something—up in the north. When the ice begins to break up a little bit, you know that it’s going to break up more. You know that more is coming.

For example, The New York Times reported that twenty years ago there was no recorded earthquake in Colorado. But we had one. And since then, there have been three thousand measurable earthquakes. That is, what begins will increase. Time magazine states that there have been more macro-earthquakes in the past ten years than in the previous hundred years. And seismology experts have shown us that there have been more megalithic earthquakes since the time of Columbus to this time. As a matter of fact, they have increased two thousand percent. And it is absolutely verifiable that as many have died in earthquakes during the last dozen years as have perished in the previous 120.

Now Jesus said that earthquakes are going to be a sign of the last days. As a matter of fact, there was an earthquake that hit Red China in 1976. The figures have never been released by the Red Chinese, but outside observers believe that at least a million Chinese died in 1976—one million! If that is true, that’s the greatest disaster to hit mankind since the flood of Noah. And, friend, that’s in our age. That’s just a little more than a decade ago. God’s alarm clock is going off all around us. God is saying that earthquakes are a sign of the last days.

And Jesus says here in verse 8, “All these are the beginning of sorrows.” (Matthew 24:8) Now the word for sorrow here is the word for birth pains. They are the beginning of travail. You know that when a woman is getting ready to give birth to a baby, first of all, there are little, minute pains—a pain here, and then a long time, and another pain. “Was that a birth pain, or was that something else?” “Well, we’ll see.” But then, the birth pains get stronger, and they get closer together. And then, they get stronger; and then, they get closer together. And when this happens, you know that you’re coming to the climax, that the birth is due. And that’s what Jesus is saying.

Now, you see, when we preach on these things, someone will say, “Well, look, we have always had false messiahs. We have always had wars and rumors of wars. We have always had famines and earthquakes and pestilences.” But what is our Lord saying? When you see an intensification, when you see a multiplication, when you see a convergence of these signs, you know—you know—that the end is near.

D. Condemned Christians

Now, let me give you another sign in verses 9 and 10: “Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.” (Matthew 24:9–10) Now, to whom is the Lord speaking? He’s talking to His disciples, and they are representative of the Christians who are going to be hated in the last days. The fourth sign, therefore, is condemned Christians. Christians are going to be condemned, and Christians, many of them, are going to be put to death. There will be an increase of religious persecution, primarily of Christians. Now not all religious people are going to be persecuted. Primarily, those who are going to be persecuted are Christians. You say, “How do you know?” Because Jesus said it will be for His name’s sake. Do you see that? For His name’s sake—in verse 9. You’re going to be persecuted because of the name of Jesus.

Now you can leave the name of Jesus out and get along real well in the world today.
You can go pray at a ballgame. You can pray at the Rotary Club or anything else. Just don't pray in the name of Jesus, and nobody will mind it at all. You can just say, “Your religion is as good as mine,” and put our arms around everybody else and say, “Everybody's all going to heaven, just different ways,” and everybody will like it fine. But when you stand up and say, “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved,” (Acts 4:12) my dear friend, then the persecution will begin.

Have you ever noticed that on television, radio, in the newspapers today, that the favorite indoor sport is Christian bashing? Have you noticed that? I mean, everybody today, they would not dare speak of any other group. They would not dare speak of any other ethnic group or religious group as they speak of Christians—and especially Bible-believing Christians. Listen, folks. It is estimated that more Christians were tortured and slain in twelve months during World War II than died under all of the Neros in the First Century. In Seoul, Korea, in our time, ten thousand Christian martyrs have paid for their faith with their lives. Authorities claim that over fifty million died under the hands of the communists in the Communist Revolution in Russia and other places. More people have died for Christ in this generation than have died in any other generation.

Now, if the noose tightens more, and real persecution begins in the United States, I wonder how many Sunday morning benchwarmers will fall away. I wonder how many here in this place, when persecution begins, will follow the Lord Jesus Christ. We have people, very honestly, who think they do God a wild favor when they get to church on Sunday morning, once in a while—and especially if they drop a few bucks in the plate: “O God, you’re so fortunate to have me.” To them, the church is little more than a country club with a steeple on top. Do you know the Lord Jesus Christ? Do you love the Lord Jesus Christ? Jesus spoke of those hothouse Christians who would fall away when persecution began.

But, dear friend, it has begun. And I want to tell you that people have died for the name of Jesus and the cause of Christ, and we need to understand that persecution is coming. Now it's a sign of the last days.

E. Contentious Churches

I want to mention a fifth sign, and that fifth sign is what I'm going to call contentious churches—contentious churches. Now, look, if you will, in verse 10: “And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.” (Matthew 24:10) Now I believe—and it breaks my heart to say this—but I believe He's talking about the religious world. He's talking about, when persecution arises, that one brother will turn in another brother; one brother will spy on another brother. There will be denominations and churches divided by squabbles and church fights. Denominations will be at one another’s throat. And rather than working together, and praying together, and loving one another, we will be divided, betraying one another. It will break the heart of our God. It causes angels to weep. It sets back the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

That’s the reason I want our church to be characterized by love, that when people see us, they will say, “Behold, how they love one another!” Contentious Christians, contentious churches: one of the signs of the last days. I ask you, do you see that today? Oh, just look around! That’s what you see today.

F. Cynical Coldness

But let me mention the sixth sign, and it’s what I call cynical coldness—not just any kind of coldness, but cynical coldness. Our world will be filled with cynics as a result of all of these other things. Look, if you will, please, in verses 11 and 12: “And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.” (Matthew 24:11–12) I put verses 11 and 12 together because I believe they belong together.

Now a false prophet may be in the world of religion; but not only in the world of religion, he may be in the world of politics; he may be in the world of philosophy; he may be in the world of economy; he may be in the world of education. A false prophet is somebody who says, “I have the answer,” and he speaks with authority. These are not necessarily religious false prophets; but these are those who are saying, “This is the way to survive. This is the way to live. This is the thing to do.” And all of these false prophets have two things in common: number one, they don’t have the answer; but, number two, their answers are some way, somehow, centered in mankind and what man can do in self-expression, self-gratification, me-ism: “live for number one” and “take care of yourself.”

Now, my friend, this is rampant in the world today. A true prophet speaks to the glory of God. A false prophet ultimately speaks to the glory of man. Now what is going to happen is this: People will substitute the Word of God. False prophets will arise. And as a result of false prophets, the Bible says that “iniquity shall abound.” The word iniquity is really the word lawlessness. That is, there will be no fixed standards. We will not be living by the Ten Commandments, and the Beatitudes, and the Golden Rule, and the laws of the Lord Jesus, and the teachings of our Lord and Savior. Lawlessness will abound. There will be no more laws. There will be no more fixed standard. “Iniquity shall abound.” And when that happens, the fire will go out in the hearts of mankind, because they will hate one another and betray one another. And we’ll be afraid to even to walk the streets of our city.

Which of you would like to take a stroll through downtown Memphis this evening unescorted, whether you’re male or female? You’d be afraid to do so. Many of us are afraid to walk in our own neighborhoods after dark, is it not true? What happens is this: We put bars on our windows, double deadlocks on our doors, and we stay inside while the criminals are on the streets, is that not true? You see, the non-criminals are in the prison; the criminals are walking the streets. And the Bible says, “The love of many shall wax cold.” We don’t even want to open the door. We peep out through the curtains to see who is there. “Don’t open the door, children, to a stranger. Little boys, little girls, don’t speak to that man. He may be a child molester.” You see this hatred, this fear, that is in the hearts of men. It’s an amazing thing that we’ve come to.

This was in our paper the other day, in the Memphis Commercial Appeal. A woman wrote Ann Landers, and this is what she said: “Dear Ann Landers, A few days ago, I took my fifteen-year-old daughter and three of her friends to a rock concert. I decided on the way that instead of fighting the traffic both ways, I would buy a ticket, and stay, and see the show. I consider myself fairly open-minded; but I was shocked senseless by what I saw and heard. The language of the kids around me was unreal. Every other word started with f or s. When one of the rock stars appeared in a g-string, the crowd went wild. That fellow was ninety-nine and seven-eighths percent naked. The audio was turned up, and the audience went crazy. My eardrums began to pop, but no one else seemed to mind. In fact, they loved it. Then the kids around me started to light up joints”—that is, marijuana. “People all over the place began to throw firecrackers. I swear, Ann Landers, I have never been so petrified in my life, not only for me, but for every person in that building. There were broken bottles all over the place and several fights going on. The police were nowhere to be seen. I lost track of the number of people who had to be carried out. Some were unconscious; others were hysterical. I saw two couples having sex right out in the open. Others were taking off their clothes all over the place. When the concert ended, there was an incredible stampede. I was afraid if I fell, I would be stomped to death. I prayed for strength to stay on my feet. On the way home, still shaking, I told my daughter she would not go to another rock show as long as she lived in my house, no matter how old she was, and I’m going to stick to it.”

Now, folks, it is an amazing thing to me that this kind of thing could take place. What has happened is this: that lust has been substituted for love, and iniquity doesn’t exist. It abounds in America today. We live in a world gone wild.

G. Continuing Courage

But I want to mention the seventh sign of these last days: not only cynical coldness, but, thank God—here’s a good one—continuing courage. There will be those who will stay true to the Lord Jesus Christ. Look in verse 13: “But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.” (Matthew 24:13) Now, don’t ever get the idea that our Lord says, “If you can endure, I will save you.” That is not what He’s saying. He says, “You want to know who the real Christians are? You want to know who’s saved? See who endures. Those who endure, those are the saved ones.” And, thank God, they will be there. Thank God, there will be the Master’s minority. Thank God, there are the faithful few. Thank God, there are those who will sail through bloody seas, but they will march under the blood-stained banner of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Thank God for those who are the courageous ones—and courage will continue.

Our Lord will not leave Himself without a witness. The Lord Jesus said, “Upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.” (Matthew 16:18) And, my dear friend, if you think that I have given this message this morning to discourage you, you need to understand what Jesus said when He said, “Ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled.” (Matthew 24:6) What Jesus is saying is, “Don’t get blown out of the saddle when all of these things come to pass. Those who are saved, those who know me, they will endure, and they will make it.”

H. Completed Commission

The last sign I want to give you, because I’ve run out of time, is a completed commission—the completed commission. Notice here in verse 14: “And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.” (Matthew 24:14) Our Lord gave us the commission to preach the gospel to every nation. Ladies and gentlemen, this is the only generation that can say that that has been done. It has been done not primarily because of our missionaries going—though that’s one of the reasons—but the major reason it has been done has been shortwave radio, and television, and modern printing, and communication. And the gospel has girdled the globe. Not every person has heard, but every nation has heard the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. And Jesus had the audacity to look to the future and say, “This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world.” And, my dear friend, it has been done.

Conclusion

Now, you put these signs together, and you tell me if you do not have a feeling in your heart that the birth pangs are getting closer and closer and more and more intense. And we have every reason to believe that we are living in the closing moments of this present dispensation and this age. That means several things to me.

A. It Means the Word of God Is True

Number one: It means the Word of God is true. Only a true prophet could have prophesied as the Lord Jesus did.
B. It Means That Those of Us Who Are Christians Should Take Hope

Number two: It means that those of us who are Christians should take hope and take courage. I have not given this to discourage you. Frankly, I'm very encouraged. I say, “Bless God, it's getting gloriously dark,” amen? For Jesus said, “When these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.” (Luke 21:28)

C. It Means That We Should Get Busy Sharing the Gospel

I'll tell you a third thing it tells me. It tells me that we had better get busy sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ. The real proof that you believe these things is not whether you have it in your notebook, but whether you have it in your heart. We need to get our heads out of the clouds of prophecy and on the pavement of soul winning and begin to warn people to flee from the wrath to come and to be saved.

D. It Means If You Don't Know the Lord, You Ought to Get Saved

I'll tell you fourth thing it means. It means, my dear friend, if you don't know the Lord Jesus Christ, you ought to get saved. I mean, soon, you ought to give your heart to the Lord Jesus Christ. And, oh, He'll save you. He wants to save you, and He will save you.
Earthquakes

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: October 6, 1985

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:3–8

“For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.”

MATTHEW 24:7

Outline

Introduction
I. The Earthquake of Redemption
II. The Earthquake of Resurrection
III. The Earthquake of Revival
IV. The Earthquake of Retribution
V. The Earthquake of Return
Conclusion

Introduction

All right, take God’s Word, please, and turn to Matthew chapter 24, and we’re going to begin reading in verse 3. Matthew 24:3–8 says, “And as he sat upon the mount of Olives,”—he now refers to the Lord Jesus Christ—“the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows.”

The Lord Jesus Christ now is giving the signs of the times. He’s telling about God’s alarm clock that is to jolt us away, and to warn us, and to prepare us for the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

And, he mentions many things. He mentions, for example, false Messiahs. The word Christ there means “Messiah,” not people coming to pretend to be Jesus—oh, no; people coming who say that they are God’s anointed messenger. Never, never, never have there been so many false Christs and false Messiahs who are prophesying, preaching, and have their followings around the world. I was talking to the staff the other day. I am amazed that people will not believe in Jesus Christ, and even more amazed at what they will believe in. It is indeed amazing. But then, the Lord Jesus Christ went on to say that not only were these false Christs a sign of the end time, but wars and rumors of wars. This jittery old world is sick of war, and yet it seems that the war clouds are looming dark. And, now the world is divided into two camps. We have taken the war from the earth to the very skies, and we talk about “Star Wars,” and it’s like some Shakespearian tragedy. We know that every day we come closer and closer to a nuclear holocaust, it seems: wars and rumors of wars.

And then, the Lord Jesus went on to say not only that but there are going to be pestilences and famines. Let’s talk about famines here in verse 7. Our heart goes out. Folks, I don’t know how you feel about it, but it’s gut-wrenching to me to watch those little children in Northern Africa, those little emaciated bodies. I think, “My God, my God, could this be happening in the twentieth century?” But, the Lord Jesus Christ looked down through the corridors of time, and with a telescope of prophecy Jesus Christ knew that the end times would be a time of unprecedented famine. And, ladies and gentlemen, it doesn’t seem that it’s going to get better. It’s going to get worse.

And then, our Lord mentions pestilences, all kinds of numbing diseases that are going to come. You would think, in this day of modern medicine and heart transplants, that we would have conquered disease. Now, this thing called AIDS is upon us. And, they tell us now that it is going to become a worldwide epidemic, and really no one is all that safe. Of course, the way to be the safest is to obey the Bible, and to live in a monogamous marriage, and to keep oneself pure. So many people are talking about what we can do to stop this epidemic. That would be a good place to start: just by living according to the standards of God’s Holy Word.

And then, the Lord Jesus went on to say that, not only would there be false Christs, not only would there be wars and rumors or wars, not only would there be famines, and not only would there be pestilences, but the Lord Jesus said that there’s one sign that we all need to be aware of, and it is “earthquakes, in divers places” (Matthew 24:7).

I was reading Newsweek this past week, the September 30 edition, and it speaks of the disaster in Mexico. This is the opening paragraph, and it says something like this: “During the first few moments there was remarkably little alarm. Earth tremors were common enough in Mexico City. As a matter of fact, the previous weekend most had endured a moderate earthquake without bothering to leave their beds. But the upheaval that week was different: downtown buildings began to vibrate wildly, their walls and girders groaning from the stress. Metal lampposts swayed and bent like rubber in their sockets in the shuddering streets. Telephone and electric wires snapped, windows shattered and huge chunks of concrete smashed murderously onto the pavement below. Underground gas lines ruptured in large areas of the city, some erupting in geyser-like flames. Like thousands of other residents, Teresa Mendoza raced from her home in a panic. "It was absolutely dark from the dust and the smoke," she later recalled. "Everybody was crying—men, women, and children. They were saying it’s the end of the world." And, that’s the way this article begins here in Newsweek, September 30.

And, indeed, earthquakes are in the headlines. After this, there was a tremor in California. After this, another in Japan. "Earthquakes, in divers places" (Matthew 24:7).
The question comes: “There have always been earthquakes. There were earthquakes in Jesus’ time. Are there more earthquakes? Are they getting more serious?”

John Wesley White, in the book Re-entry, gives these statistics. To me they’re startling. He said, in the fourteenth century, there were 137 major earthquakes. In the fifteenth century, there were 174 major earthquakes reported. In the sixteenth century, 253 major earthquakes reported. In the seventeenth century, 378 major earthquakes reported. In the eighteenth century, 640 major earthquakes reported. In the nineteenth century, 2,119 major earthquakes, and in the twentieth century, over 3,000 major earthquakes have been reported. Why is this? There are some physicists who believe that the earth is wobbling on its axis. You see, there is the North Pole, and the magnetic field. There are certain ions that line up with the true magnetic center of the north. And, there seems to be a movement of these ions from the true North Pole, which makes the scientists and physicists believe that there has been a polar axis shift.

Now, they tell us that a shift like this occurs about once every 5,000 years. The last time a polar axis shift took place, according to some physicists, was back in the time of Noah, during the flood. They tell us that we are due for another polar axis shift, and when that happens, when the earth seems to wobble just a little bit, this is going to cause an increase not only in the frequency but the intensity of earthquakes. And so, dear friend, we are seeing earthquakes in this century. I did a little research, and I found out that over one million people have lost their lives to earthquakes in the twentieth century—one million people have lost their lives in the twentieth century to earthquakes.
And, every tremor that we feel, every earthquake that we feel, every time Mother Earth seems to shudder, it just reminds us of greater earthquakes and greater tremors that are to come.

The Bible predicts an earthquake is coming that is going to be so violent that it is actually going to level the mountains, and it is going to be felt worldwide. Dr. Charles Richter, who recently died—as a matter of fact, just died a few days ago—said this—and I quote: “No place is safe from earthquakes. We can predict confidently that where earthquakes have occurred in the past they will occur again perhaps soon and as population increases they will be more destructive.” A geologist, Lloyd Cluff, recently warned a conference of 300 scientists at Stanford University that all evidence indicates continuous activity in earthquake zones with eminent possibility of major shocks. That is, the supposedly solid earth beneath us is inwardly a seething mass of motion, quivering and pulsating.

Now, these scientists warned of earthquakes, and earthquakes that are coming upon us, but the Bible is way ahead of them. Now, dear friend, an earthquake unleashes immense, almost measureless, power. One physicist said that an average major earthquake is 100,000 times more powerful than the atomic bomb that destroyed Hiroshima; not just twice as powerful, but 100,000 times more powerful, is one major earthquake.

Now, as I studied the Bible, I found out that the Bible has quite a bit to say about earthquakes. As a matter of fact, God seems to use earthquakes in a very strange way. God seems to use earthquakes as a demonstration and as a reminder of His mighty power. As a matter of fact, if you'll study the Bible, you'll find out that almost all of the major spiritual events in the Bible have been inaugurated with an earthquake. It's remarkable. I'm going to show you that in just a little bit. It is almost as though earthquakes are God's way of saying amen. When God wants to do something earthshaking in the spiritual world, He generally says amen with an earthquake in the physical, material world. I believe that earthquakes are God's exclamation points. I believe that earthquakes are God's alarm clock to jolt this world awake.

Now, I believe you'll believe it too if you'll just simply take the Bible and go with me today as we look at the earthquakes. We want to see how God has used earthquakes in the physical, material world when God has done something dramatic and earthshaking in the spiritual world.

I. The Earthquake of Redemption

For example, we're in Matthew chapter 24; turn to Matthew chapter 27, and look, if you will, in verse 50: “Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost. And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent” (Matthew 27:50–51). That is, after the death of the Lord Jesus Christ there was a mighty earthquake. It is as though the heart of Mother Earth was broken by the death of her Lord, the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, I want to tell you, if the death of Jesus doesn't break your heart, you have a heart that's harder than the rocks. When Jesus died, the earth shivered, shook, and quaked. I wonder, has the death that shook the world disturbed your hard heart? I pray God it has.

II. The Earthquake of Resurrection

There was what I want to call the earthquake of redemption, but not only the earthquake of redemption; the earthquake of resurrection. Look, if you will, in Matthew chapter 28 now, verses 1 and 2: “In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow: and for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men” (Matthew 28:1–4). When the Lord God came out of that tomb, when Jesus was resurrected and came forth, the Bible says that that was accompanied by an earthquake. The resurrection of Jesus Christ shook Mother Earth. What was God saying? I believe that when God shook the earth at Calvary, He was saying, “This is an earthshaking event. There’s power in the death of My Son.”

I believe when God shook the earth at the resurrection of Jesus Christ, He was saying, “There’s power here.” He was illustrating in the material world the power that is there in the spiritual world: what the apostle calls “the power of his resurrection” (Philippians 3:10).

III. The Earthquake of Revival
But now, let’s continue. You’re in the Book of Matthew. Let’s go to the Book of Acts for a moment, and look in Acts chapter 4 and verse 31. Not only are you going to see the earthquake of redemption, and the earthquake of resurrection, but you’re going to see the earthquake of revival. You’re going to see God’s mighty spiritual power. You’re going to see God pouring out his Holy Spirit upon that infant church. And, look, if you will, in Acts chapter 4 and verse 31 right now: “And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness” (Acts 4:31)—the earthquake of revival. These people were not Quakers; they were earthquakers. I mean, folks, when they prayed, things happened.

We get in our average Baptist Church, and we pray, “Lord, shake this place.” If He did, most of us would die of fright. But, listen, folks. Literally—not figuratively, literally—the place was shaken. Now, what was God saying? God was saying, dear friend, there’s power in the death of Jesus Christ, wonder-working power in the blood of the Lamb. When Jesus Christ came out of the grave, God is saying there is power in His resurrection. When the Holy Spirit descended upon that infant church, God is saying here is a dynamite power that can shake the world; here is a power that can not only shake this world but make Hell’s foundations quiver, because there is what I want to call revival power. There is also redemption power, and resurrection power. God said amen with an earthquake.
IV. The Earthquake of Retribution

Now, you take your Bible and turn to Revelation chapter 6, and let’s look. I want to show you something else: not only the earthquake of revival, but the earthquake of retribution. When God gets ready to judge the world, God sends earthquakes as His alarm clock and as His reminder. Revelation chapter 6 and verse 12 says, “And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood” (Revelation 6:12). I thought about what this lady said there in U.S. News and World Report when she said, “It was dark, and we couldn’t see, because of the dust and the clouds that were there.” Look, if you will, in Revelation chapter 8 and verse 5: “And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake” (Revelation 8:5). Look, if you will, in Revelation chapter 11 and verse 13: “And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven” (Revelation 11:13).

And then, look, if you will, at the mightiest earthquake, in Revelation chapter 16 and verse 18: “And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great” (Revelation 16:18). Now, what does this tell us? This tells us, ladies and gentlemen, that the greatest earthquakes are in the future, and that God is going to shake this world in judgment.

I believe that the military might of Soviet Russia is going to be destroyed most likely with an earthquake. Turn to Ezekiel chapter 38, and look with me. God teaches that in the last days there’s going to be a Soviet invasion of Israel. The Soviets—the Great Northern Bear, Russia—are going to come down and invade Israel in the last days. Now, the Bible scholars generally agree that the invading force that is spoken of here in Ezekiel chapter 38—I’m talking about conservative Bible scholars—refers to modern Soviet Russia. Notice in chapter 38—Ezekiel 38 and verse 8—God says, “After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people, against the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them” (Ezekiel 38:5). That is, there’s coming a time when Israel is going to be re-gathered, and not only are they going to be re-gathered; they are going to be dwelling in confidence and in safety.

Well, when would that be? Well, let’s look again, if we will, in verse 16. God says to this invading force coming out of the North, “And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the latter days,”—in other words, this was a prophecy that Ezekiel was giving of a time way off—“and I will bring thee against
As a matter of fact, it may be this that will be the catalyst that will cause Antichrist to turn against Israel. He will be so envious and so jealous of the glory that God is getting.

Turn to the Book of Zechariah with me for a moment—Zechariah chapter 14. Let me show you a sweet and a blessed earthquake, if you could call an earthquake sweet and blessed—Zechariah chapter 14, and I begin to read now in verse 1. It speaks of the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. It says, “Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.” That is, it’s going to look like a dark day for Jerusalem. It’s going to look like Antichrist and his armies are about to destroy God’s chosen people. But, notice verse 3. It says, “Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives…”—then Jesus Christ comes for the Church. That’s the Rapture. We’re going to be caught up, and we’ll meet the Lord in the air. We’ll go to a honeymoon with Jesus in the skies, and down here on Earth will be the Great Tribulation. The storm clouds of Armageddon will gather, Russian will be judged, and Antichrist will be in power. It looks like he’s about to destroy Jerusalem. It looks like there’s no hope. This time Jesus Christ comes, not for His saints, but He comes with His saints. And, notice what the Bible says—“Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives…”—folks, I want to tell you, it’s a thrill to think that one day our dear Lord’s feet are going to stand on that Mount of Olives. Zechariah 14:4 says, “And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.” That is, dear friend, there is going to come a tremendous earthquake, and the Bible says, in verse 5, “And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee" (Zechariah 14:1–5). At first, He comes for us. And then, we come with Him.

V. The Earthquake of Return

Dear friend, the most earthshaking event of all time is the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. That’s what I want to call the earthquake of return—when Jesus Christ comes again. What a day that’s going to be when His blessed nail-pierced feet touch that mountain! And, the Mount of Olives splits in two as a reminder of the mighty power of the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

Now, I hope you’ve caught the theme. There’s power in the death of Jesus. And so, God sent an earthquake to say so. There’s power in the resurrection of Jesus, so God sent an earthquake to say so. There’s power in the coming of the Holy Spirit, so God sends an earthquake to say so. There’s power in the Tribulation judgments, so God sends an earthquake to say so. There’s power in the Second Coming of Jesus, so God sends an earthquake to say so.

Conclusion

Now, did I not tell you at the beginning of this message that you can look in the Bible and see that when God is doing something significant in the spiritual world that he says amen with an earthquake in the physical material world? Now, folks, you can just follow—it is an amazing thing to see God doing something amazing and fantastic in the spiritual world, and then God saying amen with an earthquake in the physical, material world. I do believe, therefore, that the earthquakes that we’re seeing now, that are becoming very severe, and perhaps to get more severe, are reminders of the soon coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. I want to remind you that Jesus said that one of the signs of His coming is “earthquakes, in divers places” (Matthew 24:7).

Now, one last verse I want you to turn to is Hebrews chapter 12 with me for a moment—Hebrews chapter 12, and let’s look in verse 25: “See that ye refuse not him that speaketh.” When God speaks, pay attention. “For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape,”—that is, if those people who refused what Moses said, if they escape not, and refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape—“if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven.”—that is, listen. If God speaks, you ought to pay attention. I mean, if the people who refused what Moses said were punished in Hell, how much more when God Himself speaks? Now, get the argument. Listen—“whose voice then shook the earth:”—that is, when God gave the Ten Commandments, when Moses was up on Mount Sinai, when God gave His law, and when God spoke, Mount Sinai trembled. There was an earthquake at the giving of the Ten Commandments. That’s what the Bible says. When God spoke, His voice then shook the earth. But now, notice. Continue in Hebrews 12:26—“but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven” (Hebrews 12:25–26)—not just the earth, but the heaven.

I was reading in my study about earthquakes, and I read about a man in South Carolina during an earthquake. He said that everything that had been stable to him started to move. The great buildings that he had depended on, their walls were wobbling, and so he said he couldn’t depend upon those for stability. He said he went outside to get in a meadow, but he said the ground was heaving and undulating, and there was no stability there. He said he went to the great trees of the forest and he looked at the trees. He said the trees were swaying like grain in a field, and there was no stability there. He was there by the shore in South Carolina. He said he looked there at the ocean, and he said even the sea was like a bowl of water being shaken; there was nothing that was standing still. All of the things that he had depended upon for stability were moving. He said it was the most terrible feeling that he had. He couldn’t find anything that was standing still. It was at nighttime, and he said he looked straight up, and the stars were not moving. He said the stars were standing still, and it gave him a faint glimmer of hope.

But, I want you to notice what God says here. God says, “The time is coming when I’m going to shake not only the earth, but Heaven also.” I mean, everything is going to be shaken.

Now, this is yet to come. Why is God going to do that? Well, look in verse 27. It says, “And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain. Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear” (Hebrews 12:27–28). Now, folks, listen. If an earthquake doesn’t make you reverence the great God, I don’t know what would—I mean, when you see the mighty power of God unleashed in an earthquake. Now, God says, “When I spoke to Moses to let people know that I meant business, I shook the earth. Now,” He said, “there’s coming a time when I’m going to shake not only the earth but I’m going to shake the heavens. I’m going to shake everything that can be shaken. Everything that is not nailed down is going to come up. And then, everything that is nailed down is going to come loose. Everything that is made is going to be shaken that can be shaken. But then,” He said, “we have a Kingdom that can’t be shaken.”

Now, folks, I want to ask you a question. There’s no doubt about it but what Mother Earth is going to suffer great earthquakes in the future. And, you know, we’re right on top of a major earthquake fault. Don’t you know that? I don’t mean to frighten you, but I just want to ask you, do you have a good place to stand when all that happens? Do you have a firm place to stand? Do you know what the Bible says in Psalm 46:2? “Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea,” for the Lord of hosts is with us. God is going to shake everything that can be shaken, so that the things that cannot be shaken will remain.

Do you know where I’m standing tonight? You say, “Well, I see you, pastor. You’re standing up there on the platform.” I want to tell you where I’m standing. I’m standing on the Rock of Ages. And, friend, it doesn’t tremble. You may tremble on the rock, but it will never tremble under you. Do you have a place to stand? Is there something in your life that cannot be shaken? Your bank account can be shaken. Your health can be shaken. Your family can be shaken. Your job can be shaken. But Jesus never fails.
Will the Church Go Through the Tribulation?

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached:  February 26, 1978

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:21

“For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.”

MATTHEW 24:21

Outline

Introduction
I. The Period Described
II. The Purpose Designed
   A. To Prepare the Jews
   B. To Punish the Gentiles
III. The People Designated
IV. The Promise Declared
V. The Power Derived

Conclusion

Introduction

We’re speaking tonight on this subject: “Will the Church Go through the Great Tribulation?” Turn to Matthew chapter 24, and let’s look in verse 21. Some of the most terrifying scriptures or words to ever fall from the lips of Jesus are these that I’m about to read in Matthew chapter 24 and verse 21. Jesus said, “For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.” (Matthew 24:21)

Now, the Lord Jesus Christ was Truth incarnate, and Jesus Christ was not given to exaggeration. And, Jesus Christ speaks of a time so terrifying, so horrible, so awesome, that there’s absolutely nothing in all of history to be compared to this time that He calls “the Great Tribulation.”

If you were here with us last Sunday morning, you will remember that we preached on the horrors of the Great Tribulation. And, we took the book of the Revelation, and we opened the seven seals; and out of each of the openings of these seals came a new horror of the Tribulation. And, I wish we had time tonight to recapitulate and to sum up and redescribe the horrors of the Great Tribulation, but we would never get finished if we did that. And so, I want us to think just a little bit about this period called “the Great Tribulation.”

I. The Period Described
First of all, I want us to think of the period described. Now, this is a unique period. All Christians have tribulation. Jesus said, “In the world ye shall have tribulation.” (John 16:33) But, this period is not the general tribulation that Christians have; it is a unique time. There is nothing like it. It will be seven years of hell on earth.

Now, I wish we had time tonight to tell you why we know that the Tribulation period will be seven years in length, but we have not the time. If you were interested in pursuing this further, would you check out the tape The Countdown in the Holy Land? And there, you’ll discover why the Tribulation period is seven years in length. But, simply, the period described—this first point will be very brief. It is a unique period. There is nothing like it in all of biblical history or secular history.

II. The Purpose Designed
Now, the second thing I want us to notice: not only the period described, but I want us to notice the purpose designed. Why would there be such a thing as a Great Tribulation?

A. To Prepare the Jews
As you study the Great Tribulation, you’re going to find that it is basically Jewish in character. The Tribulation is the last seven years of God’s dealing with the nation Israel before they are destroyed as a spiritual leader-nation in all of the world. And, it will take seven more years of Jewish history to purge this nation, to prepare this nation for the receiving of their Messiah, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Let me give you some scriptures now to back that up. So, lick your fingers, and turn, first of all, to Deuteronomy chapter 4, and we’ll begin reading in verse 39. Here in the dawn of God’s history with Israel, the prophet Moses makes a prediction. Deuteronomy chapter 4, and I begin reading in verse 29: “But if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul. When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are come upon thee, even in the latter days, if thou turn to the LORD thy God, and shalt be obedient unto his voice…” (Deuteronomy 4:29–30) Now, God is saying, in the latter days, out of tribulation, the Jews will turn to Him, and they will seek Him with all of their heart; and, at that time, they will be heard of the Lord.

Turn now, if you will, to the prophecy of Jeremiah—Jeremiah chapter 30—and we’re going to see something of the same thing. Jeremiah chapter 30, and begin reading with me in verse 4: “And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel and concerning Judah. For thus saith the LORD; We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace. Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness? Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob’s trouble”—now, let me say that sometimes people speak of “spiritual Israel,” and there is a sense in which the Church is spiritual Israel; but when the Bible uses the word Jacob, it always refers to fleshly Israel, natural Israel, the Jews as we know them. And, God calls this time, this great time of tribulation, “the time of Jacob’s trouble.” But, notice again the last part of verse 7—“but he shall be saved out of it. For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the L ORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him: But they shall serve the L ORD their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them. Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the L ORD; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid. For I am with thee, saith the L ORD, to save thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet I will not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.” (Jeremiah 30:4–11)

This scripture and this magnificent prophecy from Jeremiah makes it abundantly clear to my mind that the Tribulation period is a time to prepare the Jewish people to receive David’s Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, to serve Him. It is a “time of Jacob’s trouble, but he shall be saved out of it.” (Jeremiah 30:7)

Now, turn, if you will, to the prophecy of Daniel—Daniel chapter 12—and we’ll read again in verse 1. Again, the prophecy very clearly, very evidently, speaks of the Great Tribulation. In Daniel chapter 12 and verse 1: “And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people”—whose people? Daniel’s people. Who is that? The Jews—“and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.” (Daniel 12:1) Here God is speaking of the elect, who are going to be delivered from the Great Tribulation. That’s what Jesus meant when He said, “And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect’s sake those days shall be shortened.” (Matthew 24:22)

B. To Punish the Gentiles

And so, the period described is a period of Great Tribulation. But, the purpose designed, number one, is to prepare the Jews to receive the Lord Jesus Christ, the Messiah—but not only to prepare the Jews, but to punish the Gentiles. It is a time of God pouring out
His wrath upon this world that has spurned Him, that has laughed at Him, that has ridiculed Him. And, man has said, “We don’t want any God to rule over us. Let us burst His bonds asunder; let us cast His cords away from us.” (Psalms 2:3)

All right, I want you to notice some scripture now. Turn to Isaiah chapter 24, and I want you to begin reading with me in verse 6. And, you’re going to find out that not only is God preparing the Jews, but He’s getting ready to punish the Gentiles. Isaiah chapter 24, verse 1: “Behold, the LORD maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof. And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him. The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the LORD hath spoken this word. The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish. The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant. Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left. The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh.” (Isaiah 24:1–7) And, God goes on here to describe this terrible, horrible period of time that’s coming upon the Gentiles.

Turn again to the prophecy of Jeremiah, this time Jeremiah chapter 25—and I regret that we don’t have time to elucidate on these passages but just barely to read them in order to get in what we wish to get in before we go off the air—Jeremiah chapter 25, and I begin reading in verse 30: “Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he shall mightily roar upon his habitation; he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth. A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations”—that’s the key; just underscore that—“the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh; he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth. And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung upon the ground.” (Jeremiah 25:30–33) “The LORD hath a controversy with the nations.” (Jeremiah 25:31)

And so, what is the purpose of the Great Tribulation? From these scriptures that we’ve read to you, it seems quite obvious to me that, number one, He’s preparing the Jews to receive the Messiah and, number two, He is punishing the Gentiles for their
III. The People Designated

Now, we've talked about the period described; that's the when. We've talked about the purpose designed; that is the why. But now, let's talk about the people designated; that is the who. Who will be going through this Great Tribulation? Well, it's obvious that Israel will be in the Great Tribulation, for it is the “time of Jacob’s trouble, but he shall be saved out of it.” (Jeremiah 30:7) It's obvious that the Gentiles—that is, the unsaved, as the Bible describes them—will be going through the Great Tribulation. But, I want you to notice in these scriptures, and in all of the scriptures that deal with the Great Tribulation, there is not one scripture that mentions the Church as being in the Great Tribulation.

For example, turn with me, please, to the book of the Revelation, if you will, and let's notice God's outline of the book of the Revelation. Now, every passage of Scripture has a key to understanding it, every book has a key to understanding it, and in the book of the Revelation, the key is hanging right on the front door. And, there is one verse in the book of the Revelation that, if you do not understand this one verse, in my estimation, you will not understand any of the book of the Revelation. It, to me, is the key to the entire book of the Revelation. It's Revelation chapter 1, verse 19. God is commissioning the Apostle John to write the book of the Revelation, and God gives John his own outline of the book of the Revelation.

God says to the Apostle John, “Write the things which thou hast seen”—that's point number one—“and the things which are”—that's point number two—“and the things which shall be hereafter.” (Revelation 1:19) The book of the Revelation is clearly divided into three sections: the things John had seen, then “the things which are,” and then “the things which shall be hereafter.” What had John seen? Well, if you study Revelation chapter 1, John had a vision of Jesus Christ coming in power and great glory, and he wrote that. And so, the first division is complete. And now, John moves, in chapters 2 and 3, to the second division of the book of the Revelation, and that is “the things which are.” And, John brings seven messages to seven churches.

Now, seven, in the Bible, is a symbolic number, which stands for perfection, or for fullness or completeness. Now, these were seven literal, actual churches, but they represent all churches of all times. And, as you study chapters 2 and 3, you will read the word church over and over and over again—“the church,” “the church,” “the church.” But, notice there are three divisions in the book of the Revelation: the first division, “the things which thou hast seen”; the second division, “the things which are”—that is the Church Age. Ladies and gentlemen, we're living in the Church Age. That's “the things which are.”

But now, I want you to notice something remarkable. Turn to Revelation chapter 4, and notice verse 1: “After this”—and literally, the Greek means “after these”—“After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.” (Revelation 4:1) It’s quite obvious, from Revelation chapter 4, verse 1 on through the end of the book, we have entered into—the book of the Revelation—“the things which must be hereafter.” Let me sum up: “the things which thou hast seen”—chapter 1, a vision of Jesus in glory; “the things which are”—the Church Age, chapters 2 and 3; “the things which must be hereafter”—chapter 4, verse 1 and on through the end of the book.

Now, it’s remarkable to me, beginning in chapter 4, verse 1, that we hear this kind of language: “the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.” (Revelation 4:1) Remember John was a part of that early church; he is our brother in the Church Age. But, I want you to notice how, symbolically, John is lifted out of this earth. He’s taken up to heaven, and then “the things which must be hereafter” begin. And, it is with Revelation chapter 4, verse 1 and on through the end of the book that we see the horrors of the Great Tribulation. And, while the Church is mentioned over and over again in the early chapters of Revelation—chapters 2 and 3—from chapter 4, verse 1 through the end of the book you do not hear the Church mentioned again—no more mention of the Church.

Someone says, “But the Bible mentions the saints.” Yes, but remember, in the Old Testament, the Jewish people are called “saints”; that word simply means “holy ones.” Christians are saints, but Old Testament Jews were saints also. But, the Church is mentioned no more. You will find that the Tribulation is a time dealing with Israel; you will find that the Tribulation is a time of God’s punishing of the Gentiles. But, I do not believe that you will find a mention of the Church in all of the book of the Revelation during that time known as the Great Tribulation.

IV. The Promise Declared

Now, to the contrary, I want you to notice not only the people designated, but I want you to notice the promise declared, that God has given the Church. I want you to notice that the Lord has specifically, in my estimation, promised to keep the Church from the Great Tribulation.

Look in 1 Thessalonians chapter 1 for a moment. All right, in 1 Thessalonians chapter 1, read verses 9 and 10: “For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God. And to wait for his Son from heaven”—do you know what I’m doing right now? I’m waiting for Jesus—“to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.” (1 Thessalonians 1:9–10)

Now, what is “the wrath to come”? “The wrath to come” is not hell; that’s not what he’s talking about here, not in my estimation. Remember here in Revelation chapter 6 where the seals begin to be opened and the Tribulation horrors are poured out upon the world. Look in Revelation chapter 6 for just a moment, and beginning in verse 15: “And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?” (Revelation 6:15–17)

Now remember, “the great day of his wrath is [coming],” (Revelation 6:17) and “the great day of his wrath” is the Tribulation. But, go back again now, in 1 Thessalonians 1 and verse 10, and find out what the saints are doing. They are “[waiting] for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.” (1 Thessalonians 1:10)

Now, while we’re in the neighborhood, turn to 1 Thessalonians chapter 5 for a moment, and let’s read verses 1 through 5: “But of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night”—and, incidentally, a thief in the night comes as a surprise, does he not?—“For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief. Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.” (1 Thessalonians 5:1–5) And so, the Lord is saying that these things pertain to the unsaved but they do not pertain to those of us who are saved.

Look in verses 9 through 11 of that same chapter: “For God hath not appointed us to wrath”—that’s not what God has in mind for His Church. Do you think the Lord wants to pour His vials of wrath out upon His bride, upon His Church? Oh, it is indeed true that our Lord allows us to go through tribulation. “In the world ye shall have tribulation.” (John 16:33) It is true that the Lord allows the devil to torment us. It is true that the Lord allows the wicked to persecute us. It is true that because we have these human frames, we suffer sickness, moan, groan, and woe. But, it is not true that Almighty God would pour out His wrath upon His beloved—“For God hath not appointed us to wrath”—I want you to notice again; I’m reading here verses 9 through 11—“For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him. Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.” (1 Thessalonians 5:9–11) Now, he’s saying that the thought of our Lord rescuing us is a comforting thought and it’s an edifying thought, so how we thank God for this!

Then, I want you to notice, in Revelation chapter 3, I want you to notice the message to the church at Philadelphia, the church of brotherly love—Revelation chapter 3 and verse 10. God is speaking to this wonderful, marvelous New Testament church, and God says to this church, “Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.” (Revelation 3:10) Now, the Lord speaks to the church at Philadelphia, and He says to this church: “You kept my Word, and now I’m keeping you—I’m keeping you from this hour of temptation that’s coming on all the earth.”

Someone says, “But, Brother Rogers, that’s a message known as to the church at Philadelphia. Dare we abrogate that message? Dare we take that message to ourselves?” Well, I want you to look, as we continue to read—look in verse 13: “He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the church.”—not simply, “what the Spirit saith to the church at Philadelphia,” but “what the Spirit saith unto the churches.” (Revelation 3:13) These were messages to individuals, but they were messages to all churches, and for the church at Memphis, Tennessee, as well as for the church in Philadelphia, in Asia Minor. “Hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.” (Revelation 3:13) “I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation.” (Revelation 3:10)

Now, there are some, in the last days, who have come with a new message; they say that our message is a new message. They say that Christians have been expecting to go through the Great Tribulation, and they believe that the Church will be raptured after the Tribulation.

Now, we have some terms that are technical terms—there’s the premillennialist, postmillennialist, and the amillennialist. They’re hard to say and harder to understand. But, a premillennialist believes that Jesus is coming prior to the Millennium. The Millennium is the thousand-year reign of Jesus Christ upon this earth.

A postmillennialist believes that Jesus is coming after the Millennium—that is, that the world is going to get better and better and better until we have one thousand years of perfect peace, where men “beat their swords into plowshares…their spears into pruninghooks.” (Isaiah 2:4; Micah 4:3) “The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as waters that cover the sea,” (Habakkuk 2:14) and then Jesus will come. That is, we’re getting better and better. Folks, there ain’t many of them left, the postmillennialists. All right, they have failed to understand that scripture that says, “In the last days perilous times shall come.” (2 Timothy 3:1)

All right, but there are the premillennialists, the postmillennialists, and then there are the amillennialists. And, if you put a in front of anything, that means “no.” For example, amuse means “not to think.” Did you know that most people are amusing themselves into hell? They refuse to think. See, “a-muse.” Muse is “to think.” You go to a museum to think. Most people had rather watch television than go to a museum. They want to be amused rather than mused. And, you put the prefix a in front of something, it means “no.” Amillennialist is “no-millennial”; he just believes, somehow, all that is just to be spiritualized away.

I remember hearing Dr. Lee preach on one occasion; he said, “I went to the doctor. He said, ‘Stick out your tongue and say, ‘Ah.’” He said, “I won’t do it.” Dr. Lee certainly didn’t believe in amillennialism. He wouldn’t stick out his tongue to the doctor and say “Ah.”

Well, but there are those today who are premillennialists who believe Jesus Christ is coming—and, incidentally, I’m premillennial, in case you have not guessed it—those who believe that Jesus is coming prior to the Millennium—that is, we must have the Prince of Peace before we can have peace on earth. Still, this camp is divided—of the premillennialists. There are the pre-Tribulation premillennialists and the post-Tribulation premillennialists. There are some premillennialists who believe that Jesus is coming before the Millennium but after the Tribulation. Other premillennialists believe that Jesus is coming before the Millennium and also before the Tribulation.

Now, I happen to be a pre-Tribulation premillennialist; I believe that Jesus is coming prior to the Tribulation. But, there are some today, and some fine Christians—and I’m not ridiculing them; they love the Lord—who believe that the Lord is coming after the Tribulation for His Church and that the Church will be raptured after the Tribulation. And, here’s one of the scriptures that they often use. Would you turn, please, to 2 Thessalonians, the second chapter? Beginning in verse 1: “Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him”—that is, by the Rapture—“That ye be not soon shaken in mind”—some of you are still turning, and I’m reading. All right, sometimes you get ahead of me. You know, I’ve always had a fear of preaching and not being able to find the book in the Bible. Wouldn’t that be awful? All right. But, I beat you this time. All right, 2 Thessalonians, the second chapter—“Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him, That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition; Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God”—do you realize we’ve already run out of time? But, we’re going on for a few minutes. I didn’t realize that; I thought I was talking faster. You’re just not listening fast enough. All right—"Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God. Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time. For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way. And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming: Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.” (2 Thessalonians 2:1–12)

Now, this is a highly technical passage of Scripture, but some say that Paul is saying that Jesus cannot come until the antichrist is revealed. And, they say that Paul was saying to these Thessalonians, those people at Thessalonica, that they were unduly alarmed that Jesus was ready to come. And, they’re saying that these saints were expecting Jesus at any moment, and Paul is writing to tell them, “Cool it. He’s not coming at any moment. He cannot come except, first of all, there is an apostasy—’til people turn from the faith—and ’til, secondly, the man of sin is revealed.” And, they say that Paul said that before Christ comes, the antichrist must first come, and before the Church is taken out, the antichrist must be revealed. And, they get that from this passage of Scripture. I think that it teaches just 180 degrees the opposite. I think that it teaches that the antichrist cannot come until the Church is taken out.

Now, it hinges on some interpretation. Now, Paul says in verses 1 and 2: “Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him”—well, we all agree that He’s coming; we all agree that we’re going to be gathered—“that ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us.” (2 Thessalonians 2:1–2) Now, evidently, someone had written a serious letter to the church and signed Paul’s name to it. And, Paul said, “It wasn’t from me, and don’t get all shook up about it”—if I can use that phrase in Memphis, Tennessee—“Don’t be all shaken. Don’t be ‘soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.’” (2 Thessalonians 2:2) Now, what does this phrase “the day of Christ” mean? Some say that it means the Rapture of the Church, and they make it synonymous with “our gathering together unto him.” (2 Thessalonians 2:1) But, literally, it is “the day of the Lord,” although it’s translated in the King James “the day of Christ.” The best translation is “the day of the Lord.” And, the day of the Lord is the Tribulation. It is a dark day—a day of noise, a day of battle, a day of gloom, a day of judgment, a day of horror. And, these Christians at Thessalonica were shaken because someone had said, “The day of the Lord is at hand; the Tribulation is about to begin.”

Now, certainly, they wouldn’t have been shaken if the Rapture were at hand. They wouldn’t have been troubled if Jesus were at hand. That would not have troubled them. But, they had thought that they were going to escape these things, that God had not appointed them to wrath. And now, someone has written a serious letter, someone has intimidated them, and said that the Tribulation has already started and the day of the Lord is at hand. And, the Apostle Paul says, “No. The day of the Lord—the Tribulation—cannot begin until the antichrist is revealed. But,” he says, “something else is going to have to happen: there’s going have to be a falling away.”

Now, in verse 3 we read, “Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away.” (2 Thessalonians 2:3) Now, what does this word “falling away”—apostasia or, transliterated, “the apostasy”—mean? Well, some people say that it means “a turning from the faith.” But, let me tell you, it is translated some fifteen times in the Bible. Three times it may be translated “an apostasy,” like “a turning from the faith,” but eleven times it is aptly and correctly translated “a departure.” I believe what Paul is saying here is that the day of the Lord can’t come unless there’s a departure—unless some folks check out, unless some folks are gone, unless the calling away comes first. Now, the word “falling away” is unfortunate. I think it could just as well be translated, and correctly translated, “The Day of Judgment cannot come unless there first comes a catching away”—a catching away, or a departure—“and that the man of sin be revealed.”

Now, you see, there must be a departure before the man of sin can be revealed, because there’s something that’s keeping the man of sin—and the man of sin is the antichrist—there’s something that is keeping him from being revealed. You see, John tells us that the spirit of antichrist is already in the world. (1 John 4:3) And, do you know I believe, though I cannot prove it, that the antichrist is alive on earth now? I believe that. And, I believe he’s ready to take over, but there’s something restraining him; there’s something holding him back. And, what is it that’s holding him back? Well, let’s look and see what it is. He says here in verse 6: “And now ye know what withholdeth that he”—the antichrist—“might be revealed in his time. For the mystery of iniquity doth already work”—oh, the spirit of lawlessness is already in the world, even in Paul’s time—“only he who now [restrains] will [restrain], until he be taken out of the way.” (2 Thessalonians 2:7) There is a Great Restrainer.

Now, who is that Great Restrainer? I believe that He is the Holy Spirit living in the Church, the One whom Jesus said “may abide with you for ever.” (John 14:16) He cannot be taken away from me because He abides with me forever. And, if the Restrainer is to be taken out and He cannot be taken away from me, I must go away with Him because He is in me. And, I believe, ladies and gentlemen, that the only thing that keeps the floodtide of lawlessness from spewing out like a broken sewer upon this world is the Church of the Lord God.

You will find, as you study the Bible, that before God brings judgment, He takes His own out. And, God took Lot out of Sodom before He burned it with fire and brimstone and incinerated that wicked place. God put Noah in the ark before He sent the flood. God took Rahab out of Jericho before that city was destroyed. There is a principle that God takes His own out before He pours out His wrath and judgment because, ladies and gentlemen, “God [has] not appointed us to wrath.” (1 Thessalonians 5:9) And so, I believe here that the Lord is going to take His people out.

Look, if you will, in Luke chapter 21, verse 34, for a moment—I’m reading verse 34: “And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth. Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.” (Luke 21:34–36) There are some who are going to be counted worthy to escape all these things, and they’re going to stand before the Son of man.

V. The Power Derived
Now, let me just add the last point, because time has definitely gone from us. We have talked about the promise declared—that the Lord promises to take His people out. In my estimation, He does. But now, I want you to notice the power derived. I want you to see the power that is derived from looking for a pre-Tribulation Rapture.

First of all, there is the power that comes from a constant expectancy of Jesus. Did you know, ladies and gentlemen, that if I believed that the Church had to go through the Rapture, I would not be expecting Jesus tonight, nor would you? I wouldn’t be looking up; I’d be looking around. I wouldn’t be looking for Christ; I would be looking for antichrist. Don’t you understand that? But, the Bible teaches that Christians are to be expecting Jesus at any moment.

Look at these scriptures. Turn to Matthew chapter 24 for a moment, and look in verse 36: “But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.” (Matthew 24:36) But, I want to tell you, ladies and gentlemen, that if the Church goes through the Tribulation, I would be able to put it on a calendar when Jesus Christ was coming. All I would have to do is wait until the middle of the Great Tribulation, when antichrist appears in the temple, shows himself that he is God, and count down three-and-a-half years—forty-two months, 1,260 days—and Jesus would be here. But, don’t you see that if I believe that, if we’re going through the Tribulation, then
I cannot be expecting Jesus Christ to come at any moment? But, Jesus said, “But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.” (Matthew 24:36)

Notice verse 38: “For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, And knew not until the flood came.” (Matthew 24:38–39) I want you to notice verse 42: “Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.” (Matthew 24:42)

And, somebody may quibble and say, “Well, we don’t know the hour, but we can tell the day or the week.” That’s mere quibble; that’s missing the point altogether. “Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.” (Matthew 24:42)

Look in verse 44: “Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.” (Matthew 24:44) “Be ready,” “be ready,” “be ready”—not, “Get out your little chart and start counting the years.” “That day and hour knoweth no man.” (Matthew 24:36; Mark 13:32) Oh listen, ladies and gentlemen. Turn to Mark chapter 13, if you will for a moment, and begin reading in verse 32: “But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father. Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. For the Son of Man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning: Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping. And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.” (Mark 13:32–37)

We are to be ready, ladies and gentlemen. Jesus Christ may come at any moment. But, those who believe in a post-Tribulation Rapture tell us that the coming of our Lord is not imminent and we are not to be looking for our Lord. Well, I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, if I’m not looking for my Lord, if I’m not waiting for the Son from heaven, if I’m not “looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Savior Jesus Christ,” (Titus 2:13) then it ceases to be a blessed hope to me.

Now, if I were in the Tribulation, it would be a blessed hope. But, I mean, right now, it’s not a blessed hope. I would say not, “Welcome Tribulation, welcome death”; I would say, “The ones who die are the fortunate ones.” I would say, “Even so, come coffin.” I would stop looking up; I would start looking around. Oh, but, my friend, there is a purifying hope when we know that Jesus may come at any moment. That’s the reason the Bible says in 1 John chapter 3, verse 3: “that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.” (1 John 3:3)

I must live today as though I would give an account tonight to my dear Lord. And, I’m going to meet Jesus. I may meet Him tonight. Oh, “little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, [you] may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.” (1 John 2:28)

Conclusion

Now, I must conclude, but let me say this: If the Lord decides that I’m wrong and He wants to come after the Tribulation, He has my permission. I am not on the program committee; I’m on the welcoming committee. And, I want you to know that whenever my Lord does it and whatever He does, that’s fine with me. But, I want you to know what I believe about this.

But, I’m going to tell you something, ladies and gentlemen: whether I go before the Tribulation or whether I go through the Tribulation, I’m going with Jesus. How about you? How about you? I’m telling you, whatever we’re talking about, we’re talking about some great and some terrible things. And, these are not times to be living lightly, carelessly, deliciously; these are times to be living and keeping with the urgency and the emergency of the days. And, our Lord said, again, and I say to you, “For ye know not what hour.” (Matthew 24:42)
Israel and Prophecy

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: Merritt Island

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:34

“Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.”

MATTHEW 24:34

Outline
Introduction
I. The People
   A. It is the Geographical Center of the World
   B. It is the Religious Center of the World
   C. It is the Prophetic Center of the World
   D. It Will Be the Economic Center of the World
II. The Problem
III. The Prophecies
IV. Our Preparation
Conclusion

Introduction
What a joy it is to be here this morning! And God is doing great things in our church, and we praise Him for it. And while you’re here in this auditorium, down in the gymnasium, which we’ve turned into another auditorium this morning, we have, I suppose, five-hundred-plus young people who are down there saying, “Worthy is the Lamb” and praising the Lord Jesus Christ. I’m talking now about teenagers—junior high school, high school, and college-age young people—down there in a youth rally. So, if you’re here this morning, and you look around, and you say, “There are not many young people in this church,” you’re just looking in the wrong place. Down there at the other end of this building, it’s freighted with young people. And we thank God for what is happening there.

And if you know any teenagers, young people, who are not in these eleven o’clock Jesus rallies, you ought to tell them about it and tell them that for the next five Sunday mornings we’re going to be having these special rallies, follow-up on the Freddie Gage Crusade. And they’ll be held in the gymnasium, so we ask all of the teenagers to come at 9:30. So, I got to preach to them this morning at 9:30. For those of you who are guests and visitors and don’t know, we have two morning worship services. And believe it or not, we had even a larger crowd at 9:30 this morning than this crowd here. Plus now we have that group down there in the gymnasium.

And so, we praise God for what He’s doing, and for the mighty moving of the Holy Spirit. And, you know, it feels good to me to be able to stand here now and preach. I haven’t preached for a while, and I’m afraid I’m going to get rusty. And so, I’m just thrilled today for the joy and the privilege of preaching. And this is the first time, really, I’ve had a chance to say much since we’ve been back from the Holy Land. Those of you who know us know that we had the joy and the privilege of traveling for ten days in the Holy Land. I look out in the faces of many of you who went with us. And so, this morning I want to speak on this subject: “Israel and Prophecy.” Now, if you’re not a student of prophecy, I just hope this won’t be too much over your head. I’m going to try and keep it simple. But I think if you’re not a student of prophecy, you ought to be a student of prophecy.

You know, God the Father loves prophecy. One-fourth of all of the Bible is prophecy. So, if we preach the Bible, one out of every four sermons ought to be on prophecy, amen? We ought to be preaching prophecy. And when you preach prophecy, there are those who say, “Oh, he’s just riding a hobby.” Dear friend, God the Father loves it. We ought to love it. The early church loved it. They called the Second Coming of Jesus the “blessed hope.” I’ll tell you, not only do I love it because God loves it and the early church loved it; I love it because the devil hates it. If the devil had his way, we’d never preach Bible prophecy. There are two books in the Bible that the devil especially hates: one is the book of Genesis, and the other is the book of Revelation. Do you know why? Because it is in Genesis his doom is pronounced and in Revelation his doom is executed. The devil tries to make us think that the book of Genesis is myth and the book of Revelation is mystery. He doesn’t want us to understand either one of those two books, and he tries to get us to discount both of those two books.

But let’s come back to our subject. I want you to think of some things this morning that start with the letter “p” so it will be a little easier to remember.

I. The People
First of all, we’re talking about Israel and prophecy so let’s talk about the people: Israel. Jesus said in Matthew 24: “This generation shall not pass”—this people, this race, this stock, this breed shall not pass—“[until] all these things [shall] be fulfilled.” (Matthew 24:34) Israel is a miracle nation. Now, if you want to understand the Bible, one good way to understand the Bible is to understand the Jew. The destiny of the nations and the destiny of the world depends upon what happens to the Jew. The Jew is God’s yardstick. The Jew is God’s measuring rod. The Jew is God’s plan. The Jew is God’s outline. The Jew is God’s blueprint. As the Jew goes, so goes the world. Understand this—understand what God is doing with the Jew—and you can understand just about where we are in prophecy.

And why am I so interested in the land of Palestine? Why go back again and again and again? Because you see, dear friend, this is where the action is. And not only is it where the action is; it’s where the action is going to be. The kids say, “Tell it like it is.” Dear friend, the Bible does better than that. The Bible tells it like it will be—I mean, like it will be. And God says that this land is the land of destiny.

A. It Is the Geographical Center of the World

You see, it’s the geographic center of the world. Ezekiel 5:5 says, “[I’ve] set [thee] in the midst of the nations.” (Ezekiel 5:5) It’s been called the “navel of the earth,” the “hub of the earth.” It’s the confluence of three great continents, the ancient crossroads, the ancient trails. It’s the land bridge that Russia wants now in order to get down to the Mediterranean, to get down to this warm-water port. It links these continents together. It’s in the very center of the earth. It’s the geographical center of the earth.

B. It Is the Religious Center of the World

More important, this is the religious center of the earth. It was here in Palestine that we had the Garden of Eden. Not only was it there, but it was in the Garden of Eden that man fell. It was in this land that God spoke to Abraham and called Abraham into this land. It was here, in this general area, that God gave the Ten Commandments. It was here that the Lord Jesus Christ was born. It’s here that Jesus Christ taught. It’s here where Jesus Christ bled, suffered, and died. It’s here, in the land of Palestine, from which Jesus arose and where He ascended and went back to heaven. And it’s to this place that Jesus is coming again. So certainly, it’s the religious center of the world.

C. It Is the Prophetic Center of the World

And it’s the prophetic center of the world, for the Bible teaches and prophesized that one day the Lord Jesus is coming back and when He touches on the earth that His feet are going to touch upon the Mount of Olives. And when His feet touch that Mount of Olives, there’s going to be a great earthquake. We don’t even have time to get into that. But the Bible teaches that the Lord Jesus is literally, visibly, actually, going to reign from Jerusalem, rule for a thousand years from Jerusalem. So, it is the prophetic center of the earth.

D. It Will Be the Economic Center of the World

And actually, it’s going to become the economic center of the earth. You know, the richest oil deposits in the world are in the bosom of Abraham’s land. But the wealth there is nothing compared to the wealth in the Dead Sea. Did you know that the Dead Sea men have looked at and said, “Oh, what a horrible, hideous thing! The Dead Sea, nothing can live in it”? Did you know that for centuries God has been pumping wealth, wealth, wealth—mineral wealth—into the Dead Sea, and that the mineral wealth in the Dead Sea now is greater than the combined wealth of Russia, United States, and Great Britain put together—just the wealth in the Dead Sea? You say, “I don’t believe it.” Well, then you’re uneducated. You go and do a little study. Israel now is beginning to learn how to mine this wealth, to get it out—the potash.

You see, we’re facing a colossal famine. One man who knows says there’s not the slightest chance that we can avoid famine of colossal proportions from 1975 onward in the world. And what would we want if we were going to try to avert famine? Fertilizer. Where does fertilizer come from? Potash. Where’s the potash? In the Dead Sea. Bromides, all of the salts and the minerals that are there. It’s going to be, soon, the economic center of the world. And so, when we talk about these people, we’re talking about a chosen people. And when we talk about this land, we’re talking about a promised land.

Let me say right away when I talk about the Jew as being a chosen person, God didn’t chose them because they’re better than other people. They are neither better nor worse. “All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.” (Romans 3:23) And there’s no difference between the Jew and the Greek, for all have sinned. They are no better, no worse. But God chose them for a purpose. And what is the purpose? God said concerning this people, the Jew, that “through you all the nations of the world are going to be blessed.” (Genesis 12:3) You see, God didn’t chose them as a reservoir in which He was going to pour His blessings, but God chose them as a pipeline through which to pour His blessings. Do you understand? And, therefore, it’s through the Jew that we have the great doctrine of one God.

It is through the Jew that we have the prophets, the inspiration, the Bible. It’s through the Jew that Messiah came, the Lord Jesus Christ. It is through the Jew that the gospels were written, the New Testament. And the apostles were Jews. And here we have, in the last days, there’s a time coming when the Jew is going to evangelize the world. Did you know that? In the Tribulation there are going to be 144,000 Apostle Pauls preaching the gospel around the world. And a great multitude are going to be saved through the Jews because God said, “In thee shall all [the nations] of the [world] be blessed.” (Genesis 12:3) And so, these are the people, important people, the Jews. Keep your eye on the Jew. Frederick the Great one time asked his chaplain—he said, “Give me proof that the Bible is the Word of God.” The chaplain answered in one word. He said, “The Jew.” Just study the Jew.

II. The Problem
All right now, the people. Now, I want you to notice the problem—because, let me tell you something, friend, there is a problem over there. And what is the problem? Well, the Jew is living in the land of Palestine, and so is the Arab—living in the land of Palestine. And Arabs say, “It’s our land.” The Jew says, “It’s our land.” Now, how are you going to reconcile it? Who’s right? You look at it in human terms, and you can’t figure it out. The Jew moved away. Whether he was driven out, dispersed, makes no difference. He moved away. For centuries the Arabs have been living there. Suddenly the Jews come back. The British say, “All right, we’re going to turn it over to Israel.” The Arab says, “You can’t do that. That’s our property. My father lived there. My grandfather lived there. My great-great-grandfather lived there. That’s ours.” And they say, “No, it’s ours.” And so, a war ensues. And if you were an Arab, you’d be a part of that war. If you were a Jew, you’d be a part of it. Either way, you can argue from either side. How are you going to answer this problem? Dear friend, this problem is not going to be answered any way except from the Word of God. I mean, you can’t answer it apart from the Word of God. But the only way I know the answer is through a study of the Bible.

Now, how do I know to whom the land belongs? I can tell you clearly and plainly to whom that land belongs: it belongs to the Jew. Now, how do I know? The Bible. Let me show you. Look in Genesis chapter 17 for just a moment. Now, in Genesis chapter 17, let’s start in verses 6 and 7. The Lord is talking to the progenitor of the Jews, Abraham, and God says in verse 6: “And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee”—well, that’s been fulfilled, hasn’t it? And God says—“And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed”—God says, “This is a covenant, Abraham, not only between me and thee, but with your children—“after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant”—now, there are some people who will say, “Oh, this covenant’s going to be broken. Don’t pay any attention to this. This is just Old Testament history. This doesn’t relate to 1972.” Well, you underscore that part that says “an everlasting covenant”—“everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee”—now, notice what God said to Abraham. God said—“And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger”—what land was that? Well, He answers—“all the land of Canaan”—Canaan: that’s Palestine; that’s the Promised Land, the Middle East. “All the land of Canaan,” God says, “I’m going to give to you”—“for”—what kind of a possession?—“an everlasting possession.” (Genesis 17:6–8) Now, God says, “Abraham, I’m going to give you this land. It belongs to you.” Who has the right to give anything away? God. God created the earth. God said, “Abraham, I’ve chosen you. I’ve called you. This land is your land. I’ve given it to you.” Now, of course, Abraham had to die, so God said, “Abraham, I’ve given it to you and to your children.”

Now, here’s the problem. Abraham had several sons. One of his sons was Ishmael, and Ishmael was the progenitor and the father of all the Arabs. The other son was Isaac, who was the forebear, the progenitor, the father of all the Jews. All right. Now, the Arabs say, “Okay, Abraham’s our father. We own the land.” The Jews say, “Abraham’s our father. We own the land.” And so, you have two brothers here arguing.

Well, how are you going to settle that? Well, again, you have to settle it the only way I know of: it’s to settle it from the Word of God. And what does the Word of God say about it? Well, look in chapter 17, verse 19: “And God said, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him. And as for Ishmael”—that is, the father of the Arabs—“I have heard thee: Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly; twelve princes shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation”—but watch it—“But my covenant will I establish with Isaac.” (Genesis 17:19–21) And so, to whom does the land belong? God says, “The covenant belongs to Isaac.” God gave the land of Palestine to Isaac and to his descendants, who are the Jews of today, and the land belongs there.

Now, it’s not because I’ve said so and not because God has no plan for the Arab. As a matter of fact, God has a great and a wonderful and a marvelous plan for the Arabs. And the Bible prophesizes a time when they are going to come to know the Lord Jesus Christ as their personal Savior, as the Bible prophesizes a time when many Jews are going to turn to the Lord Jesus Christ. But let me say that the problem is not a new problem. The problem didn’t begin in 1948. The problem is four thousand years old. And God has given the answer to this problem in the Word of God.

III. The Prophecies
Now, let’s think of some prophecy, the third “p.” First “p,” people; second “p,” problem; third “p,” prophecy. Let’s think of some prophecies that God has to say is going to happen to the Jew. Now, you see, God has given prewritten history. God has told us before it comes to pass what’s going to come to pass. First of all, God prophesied that the Jew was going to rebel. They were going to disobey His laws. God gave the Jew a law, but he defiled the law. God gave him a land, and he despised the land. God gave him a Lord, and he denied the Lord. And so, he got in bad trouble. And God said, “Because of this, punishment is coming.”

Look in Leviticus 26 and see what God said is going to happen to these dear people and see if it happened. See if the Bible is true. Now, you just go along with me, you people who say, “Oh, prove that the Bible is true.” Well, friend, keep your ears open this morning. You’ll have all the proof you need. Now listen, in Leviticus 26, starting in verse 27, God tells how they are going to “walk contrary.” Notice in verse 27 He says, “And if ye will not for all this hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me; then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins.”
Now, skip down to verse 31: “And I will make your cities waste”—well, that’s happened. Friend, I’ve tramped over a lot of waste cities in the past few days—“and [I will] bring your sanctuaries into desolation”—where once that great temple of Herod stood is nothing now but a Muslim mosque, the mosque of Omar; and those beautiful sanctuaries are in desolation—“and”—then—“I will not smell the savour of your sweet odours”—no more are they making temple sacrifices—“And I will bring the land into desolation: and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it. And I will scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you: and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste.” (Leviticus 26:31–33) Now, ladies and gentlemen, that has been fulfilled right down to the minutiae. God has done exactly what He said He would do.

Let’s go on and skip a few verses and look at the rest of these verses. Look in verse 36: “And upon them that are left alive of you I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword; and they shall fall when none pursueth. And they shall fall one upon another, as it were before a sword, when none pursueth: and ye shall have no power to stand before your enemies. And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up. And they that are left of you shall pine away in their iniquity in your enemies’ lands.” (Leviticus 26:36–39) Has that been fulfilled? You study the history of the Jew and you will see that the Jew has fled. He’s been scattered to the four quarters of the earth. The land of his enemies has eaten him up, and he has suffered persecution and atrocities under Nebuchadnezzar, under Alexander the Great, under Nero, under the Turks, under Hitler. Hitler, it’s said, killed six million of them. With my own eyes I’ve seen bars of soap made out of human Jewish fat. With my own eyes I’ve seen lampshades made out of human skin and seen shirts—buckskin shirts—made out of human skin stripped from the back of Jewish prisoners. Terrible! Can you imagine them hiding in cellars and garrets and attics? And even the sound of a shaking leaf would cause terror in their heart. It has been exactly as God has prophesied.

But oh, the prophecy’s not finished. God says after this—He says, “I’m going to re-gather you.” God says, “I’m going to bring you back.” Now, notice what He says: “You’re going to rebel. I’m going to scatter you. The land’s going to be desolate.” This has all been fulfilled. But then, God says, “In the last days, I’m going to start bringing you back from all the countries of the world.” Look in Isaiah 11, and let’s start reading in verse 11: “And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea”—even God knew there would be some in New York City—“and from the islands of the sea. And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.” (Isaiah 11:11–12) God says, “I’m going to gather them now. In the last days, I’m going to bring them back.”

Incidentally, did you read recently in the newspapers over the last several weeks where Russia has finally decided to let those Jews that live in Russia go back? Have you read that in the newspaper? And they said, “If you want to go, you can go.” And did they want to go! I read recently where Israel now is negotiating for Boeing 747s to fly them back from Russia. Isn’t that interesting? Does the Bible have anything to say about that? Certainly! Isaiah 43, verse 6 says, “I will say to the north, Give up,” (Isaiah 43:6) and they’ll come from the north. You see, God has spoken to the Jew, and God has spoken to the Russian. And God says to Russia, “You can’t keep them. Give them up.” The north part, that’s Russia. And she’s giving them up, and they are coming back.

By the way, I’m going to preach tonight on this subject if God continues to lead: “When the Russian Bear Meets the Lion of Judah.” That’s going to happen. And I’m going to be preaching tonight on that subject. When Russia meets her demise, when Russia meets her Waterloo, when Russia gets it in the land of Palestine, Russia’s not going to rule the world. Russian Communism will not rule the world. There’s not the slightest chance that Russia will rule the world. And neither will the United States. God has a plan, and God’s plan is being fulfilled. But I want you to be here tonight and hear this message, and you’re going to see what happens to Russia when Russia invades Palestine, as she’s getting ready to do. If you don’t believe she’s getting ready to do it, read your newspapers. See the deal she’s making with the Arabs. She’s getting ready to double-cross the Arabs. They don’t know it. They think that they are standing with Russia’s power, Russia’s might. One of the biggest, dirtiest double-crosses that’s ever going to take place is what Russia’s going to do to the Arabs, and especially Egypt. We’ll talk about that some tonight.

But let me say, dear friend, that God is bringing them back; He’s re-gathering them. People laughed about it. They mocked. They said, “This will never happen.” For eighteen centuries, they mocked. But on May 14, 1948, the Republic of Israel was reconstituted, and Israel is now a nation. I mean, you can’t explain it. When other people are spread abroad, they are assimilated, they are gobbled up, they disappear. I mean, you don’t hear any more about the Hittites, and the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, and all of these other ancient people. But this Israelite, the Jew, he’s still here. For God says, “This generation shall not pass away.” (Matthew 24:34) You just can’t imagine what happened.

Listen, Israel was a British Mandate in 1948. The British said, “Okay, we’ll back off. We’ll let this tiny state become a nation.” Before this time it was against the law for them to even be caught carrying a gun. Now, watch it. There are 650,000 Jews and forty million Arabs who have sworn by all that they know to be holy that they will drive Israel into the sea. How do you like those odds—650,000 against forty million? And here’s a little fledgling nation that had no air force, that had no navy, that had nothing, so to speak of. They had no guns except what they could smuggle in and hide. They had no tanks except what they could take trucks and put boilerplate on the sides—airplanes, Piper Cubs, and this sort of a thing. But yet, here they are waiting. The document is signed, and the war begins. Why, they put a gun in a trench; then they put two black broomsticks, and then another gun. Here are the kinds of tanks they had. They put rocks in fifty-five-gallon drums and rolled them down the street at night to make the enemy think the tanks were coming. Those are the kind of tanks that they had. This is history that I’m talking about.

Why, I told some of you a long time ago about a battle that I call the “Battle of the Bees.” When the war started and the Arab legions swept from the east toward Tel Aviv, they came through some groves, and in those groves were thousands of beehives. You know, it’s the land of milk and honey, so you understand the bees. The bees were there in these thick groves. They didn’t know it. This Arab legion came through those groves and knocked over those beehives, and the bees swarmed out by the millions and stung them from the crown of their head to the sole of their feet. In consternation, they dropped their modern weapons and fled. The Israelis had no weapons and just walked in and picked up these brand-new weapons.

Now at the same time, from the north, Syria, Iraq, Lebanon, are coming across the Jezreel Valley, which is where the Battle of Armageddon is going to be fought eventually—coming across there when they got in the middle of this huge valley and were struck with a strange dysentery and a sickness. Nausea made them so weak they couldn’t even stand up. And here came the Israelis with their weapons and took all of them without attack. Sick, couldn’t fight—how do you explain that? Friend, you can’t explain it. There’s one record where four hundred Jews captured twenty thousand Arabs. Now, how do you explain that? You can’t explain it. Don’t say, “Oh, they’re smarter; they’re wiser.” They are not. The hand of God has been upon them. Our guide, whose name was Miriam, fought in that war in 1948. She was a twenty-two-year-old girl. She said, “They put a gun in my hand. I’d never held a gun before”—an old rusty gun. They said, “You shoot anything that moves.” She said, “Thank God I never had to pull the trigger.” “You shoot anything that moves”—never had a gun in her hand before.

We stayed in a town called Sfat way up on a mountain—the city set on a hill. And she told how there were 1,300 of the Israelis there in that town with their children and their babies, and they said, “Get the children out of here.” And they said, “We’re not going to get the children out. If we keep our children here, we’ll fight better.” They left their children there surrounded by seventeen thousand of the enemy. They had to sneak out at nighttime for food. They were hemmed in on the mountaintop, nowhere to go. It looked like they were going to be picked off one at a time, but somehow two hundred young Israelis broke through the lines and with no guns or anything started to walk down the main street of the little town of Sfat singing at the top of their voice praise to God. When the Arabs heard it, it frightened them to death. They said, “The war must be over. We’ve lost.” They fled, and the city was taken with a song. With a song! How do you explain that? You can’t explain it, except God said, “I’m going to bring them back. I’m going to put them in their land, and they will no more be cut up.” That’s what God said.

You read the last verses of Amos. God said, “I’m going to put them there. I’m going to plant them there.” (Amos 9:14–15) Why? Because God has a purpose, and God is moving the nations of this world as checkers on a chessboard. Jesus said in Matthew 24, verse 34: “Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.” (Matthew 24:34) That’s really what the word generation means: this “nation,” this “stock,” this “breed,” this “kind.” Think about the Six-Day War. How do you explain the Six-Day War? Israel was outnumbered eighty to one, and yet they won the war in six days.

All right, we’re talking, dear friend, about prophecy. God says, “I’m going to judge. I’m going to scatter you. You’re going to be persecuted.” They were. God said, “I’m going to bring you back.” They have been. God says, “I’m going to plant you.” They are. But listen, dear friend, prophecy is in the making right now. The Bible prophesizes that Israel, in the last days, is going to make a covenant and a contract with a ten-horned nation, a nation federated under ten kingdoms. Did you hear me? A federation. Not a nation, but a federation of ten nations. Israel is going to make a covenant in the last days with them. The Bible teaches this very plainly.

You see, you’ve heard me preach for a long time—haven’t you?—that the face of Europe is going to be unified under ten kings. Haven’t you heard me preach that? All right, did you read your newspapers this morning? Do you understand what’s happened now? Do you understand now that the face of Europe, the old Roman Empire, is now unified under ten nations, just as the Bible said that it would be? I don’t even have time to get into that much, but look, if you will, in Revelation chapter 17 for just a moment. I just want to point out several verses. Look in Revelation 17, verse 12: “And the ten horns which thou sawest”—now, a horn in the Bible is a symbol of power; like a horn that grows on an animal, not the kind of horn you play in a band—“And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet”—that is, when John wrote this, these kings were not in existence—“And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.” (Revelation 17:12)

Now, one hour does not mean sixty minutes. That isn't what it means. In the Bible the term “an hour” may mean “a determined period of time.” For example, when Jesus was being crucified, He said, “This is your hour. My hour has not yet come.” (Luke 22:53; John 2:4) Jesus didn’t mean, “You've got sixty minutes; then I'm going to have sixty minutes.” Jesus meant, “This is your time; my time has not yet come.” There's coming a time when there are going to be ten nations, and they're going to receive power as kings one hour with the beast. The beast is the antichrist.

Now, notice what the Bible says in verse 13: “These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.” (Revelation 17:13) These ten nations that you're reading about in the newspaper this morning—go home and read your newspaper—they're going to have one mind. And out of these ten nations is going to come another leader. He's going to root up three of these nations, and then he's going to take over these nations; and he is going to eventually become the world dictator. The Bible calls him “the son of perdition.” The Bible calls him “the man of sin.” The Bible calls him “the beast.” The Bible calls him “the antichrist.” The Bible calls him “the wicked one.” He's going to come with deceitfulness and wonders and lies. He's going to be energized by the devil. He is going to have the power of influence and the economy in the world under his control.

And then, the Bible says that he's going to make a covenant with Israel, and he's going to say to Israel, “Relax. I'll take care of you.” And they'll say, “At last, we don't have to worry about Egypt. We don't have to worry about Syria. We don't have to worry about Jordan. We don't have to worry about Russia. We don't have to worry about Libya. We don't have to worry about these things. At last, our benefactor has come! Oh, thank God, thank God, our benefactor has come!”

You see, Jesus said, “I've come in my Father's name, and you'll not receive me. If another should come in his own name, him you shall receive.” (John 5:43) You know what they're talking about over there in Israel? Messiah—when Messiah comes. I asked our guide, “Do you think the Temple will be rebuilt?” She said, “When Messiah comes, he will rebuild the Temple”—“when Messiah comes.” Oh, they're looking for a person who is going to deliver them from the yoke of bondage.

And the stage is set. Now, you read your headlines today, and your headlines say, “Ten Sign European Treaty.” And then, it goes on to tell about how Western Europe unites. But here's a clipping that I clipped even before yesterday's headlines. I wish you were close enough to read it. Do you know what it says? “Israel Signs Agreement with Common Market.” This was even before the ten had come into their form. Let me just read the first paragraph: “Luxembourg. The European community and Israel Monday signed a five-day preferential trade agreement”—now, watch it—“which Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said had a significance beyond its economic content in providing the basis for deeper political relationships.” The stage is being set. And already the little nation Israel is looking over to united Rome and saying, “Rome will protect us. We’re going to have trade now, but we’re going to have a deep political commitment.” You watch it, my friends. The stage is set. I wish I had more time to preach on this, but let me just simply say that we are right now entering into the birth pains of Armageddon.

IV. Our Preparation

One last word, and I’ll finish. The last word is “p,” which is our preparation. Look, if you will, in Luke 21. I want to read starting in verse 29: “And he spake to them”—Jesus spoke to them—“a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees”—now, you know that, in Bible symbolism, that a fig tree is a symbol of the Jew—“And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree”—in other words, keep your eye on the Jewish nation—“and all the trees”—the rest of the nations—“when they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.” (Luke 21:29–31) This is what the Lord said. The Lord said, “You watch that fig tree. You watch Israel. Just as when you see a literal fig tree start to bud and the leaves start to come out, you say, ‘Oh, summer is close,’” God says, “when you see the budding of the fig tree my people Israel, when you see these things begin to come to pass, then,” God says, “you know that the kingdom of heaven is near.” And then, our Lord gives a warning in verse 34: “And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.” (Luke 21:34–35) As a snare it’s going to come. What is our Lord saying? Our Lord says, “Keep your eye on the fig tree. Watch when the fig tree starts to bud and blossom. When you see these things start to come to pass, get ready and take heed because that day’s coming like a snare.”

And there are going to be many people in that day that are not going to be ready. They are going to be caught up with surfeiting and the cares of this world. They’re going to be interested in movies, and football, and games, and rodeos, and houses, and clothes, and cars, and things, and parties, and education, and the things of this world. And when Jesus comes, it’s going to be too late. Well, I know He’s coming as a thief in the night, but the Bible says, “Ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.” (1 Thessalonians 5:4) The Rapture of the Church, I believe, is near. And I believe one of these days—and it may be sooner than we think; it may be this afternoon—we’ll hear that cry, “Behold the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.” (Matthew 25:6)
Conclusion
This is a great time to be living. It’s a great time when we can open our newspapers and see prophecy being fulfilled before our very eyes. What a time to be living—in the closing hours of this dispensation, living in the valley between the blood-drenched slopes of Calvary and the sun-lit peaks of glory! If I did not know the Lord Jesus Christ as my personal Savior, I would not go twenty-four hours without Jesus for one million dollars. I mean that. Christ may easily come in the next twenty-four hours. You couldn’t pay me a million dollars to put down my Christianity now and pick it up twenty-four hours later. And yet some of you, for far less than that, will deny the Lord Jesus day after day after day. “What should it profit a man, if he…gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?…what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?” (Mark 8:36–37)
The Days of Noah

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: March 26, 2000

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:35–39

“But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.”

Matthew 24:37

Outline

Introduction
I. Days of Secular Philosophy
II. Days of Scientific Progress
III. Days of Social Plagues
IV. Days of Sexual Perversion
V. Days of Selfish Prosperity
VI. Days of Solemn Preaching
VII. Days of Sudden Panic
Conclusion

Introduction

Be finding, please, Matthew chapter 24. In a moment, we’re going to begin reading in verse 36—Matthew chapter 24.

I’m told that a man asked another man on the street, “Do you know what the two biggest problems in the world are today?” The man said, “I don’t know, and I don’t care.” He said, “You have them both.”

The two great problems in the world today are what? Ignorance and indifference. Now, there are some things that we cannot, should not be ignorant of, and dare not be indifferent to, and that is the Second Coming of Jesus Christ, the end of this age as we know it. And, I want to speak to you on that subject today, and we’re going to call the message “The Days of Noah.”

Now, history is coming to a climax. It would be wrong—as a matter of fact, it would be blasphemous—for me to set a date and tell you when Jesus Christ is coming. Number one: I could not do it because I don’t know, and you don’t know, and no one knows. But, the Bible does teach us that we can know what the days will be like when Jesus comes again. Jesus said they will be like the days of Noah.

Read with me Matthew 24, and begin in verse 35, Jesus speaking of that time: “Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. But of that day”—speaking of the climax of all things—“But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only”—but now, notice in contradistinction to the fact that we do not know the day and the hour—“But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be”—as it was, so shall it be. That’s what verse 37 says. Now, notice Jesus’ explanation in verse 38—“For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that [Noah] entered into the ark. And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.” (Matthew 24:35–39) Now, “eating…drinking, marrying and giving in marriage” (Matthew 24:38) speaks of indifference. “And [they] knew not” (Matthew 24:39)—that speaks of ignorance. Indeed, these are the two major problems—ignorance and indifference—that will mark the last days just before Jesus comes.

Now, if we want to know what the days of Noah were like, we have to go back to some chapters in the Word of God, specifically Genesis chapters 4, 5, and 6. So, for the rest of the message would you open your Bibles to the first book of the Bible, Genesis, chapters 4, 5, and 6? And, I’m going to be selecting some verses from these chapters to show you what the days of Noah were like. And then, we’re going to apply the days of Noah to our day, and we’re going to understand why this age is ripe for Jesus Christ to come again. I have picked out of these chapters seven signs, seven marks, of the days of Noah, and I would like for you to jot them down on a piece of paper; and I’ll give you the scripture for them. But, what are the days of Noah? And, how do they compare to the days in which we live today?

I. Days of Secular Philosophy

First of these seven signs is this: the days of Noah were days of secular philosophy. They were days of secular philosophy. Genesis chapter 6, verses 5 and 6: The Bible says, “And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth”—now, watch this next phrase—“and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. And it repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart.” (Genesis 6:5–6) Now, look at the word imagination. The word imagination, Dr. John Phillips, who happens to be a member of this church, has told us, comes from a Hebrew root that means “to fashion as a potter.” Actually, they were trying to mold society by philosophy. And, here’s what Dr. Phillips says: “Men fashioned wicked philosophies, espoused filthy causes, made fashionable vile sins, and endeavored to pour society into their mold.”

Now, New Age philosophies today are rampant. We have those, some of them, in pulpits that were founded by Bible-believers but no longer holding to the faith. They teach strange doctrines. They deny the Bible. They mock at the blood atonement. They do not recognize the Lordship of Jesus Christ. And, once great denominations, many of them, have gone the way of all flesh, and we see today a floodgate of vile and wicked philosophies today.

The faith that was delivered to Adam—and Adam understood the blood atonement because God made for Adam coats of skin—and the truth that the martyr Abel died for, and the truth that was revealed to Enoch the prophet was now rapidly receding over the horizon. We live in a day and an age like that.

Secularism today in America and in the world has taken over the arts. It has taken over the sciences. It has taken over philosophy. It has taken over education. And, our days are so much like the days of Noah. There’s only one acceptable bigotry in the world today. Do you know what it is? It is you can still be bigoted against a Bible-believing Christian. A Bible-believing Christian today is the whipping boy of modern society.

II. Days of Scientific Progress

What were the days of Noah like? Number one: They were days of secular philosophy. That cuts across the board in America and in the world today. The second mark of Noah’s day: not only secular philosophy, but scientific progress. Now, you may not have thought that the days of Noah were days of scientific progress, but the days of Noah had reached a zenith in knowledge and achievement. If you will read the early chapters of the book of Genesis, you will find that in those days, there were men—great men, Nephilim—they were called in the Hebrew “men of renown.” (Genesis 6:4) They had prodigious intellects. And, many of you may think that back in those days, they were plowing with sticks and that they did not understand. But no! This was a day of great scientific achievement, maybe in many ways greater than our day and in our age.

For example, they had great cities. Look in Genesis chapter 4, verse 17: “And Cain knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare Enoch: and he builded a city” (Genesis 4:17)—now, not just a village, but here is a metroplex, a metropolitan city, teeming with life. There was an industrial revolution. Look, if you will, in Genesis, chapter 4 and verse 22: “And Zillah, she also bore Tubalcain, an instructer of every artificer in brass and iron” (Genesis 4:22)—an industrial revolution. They were into metallurgy. They were making now tools and machinery. And so, you have urban centers. You have an industrial revolution. Man, who had been driven from Paradise because of his sin, is now trying to create an artificial paradise of wit and wisdom and fire. He’s building his own technological paradise.

If you think that these were days without scientific progress, think for a moment again. Think of how God instructed Noah to build the ark. Think of that ark. That ark was an engineering miracle. It was 450 feet long. That’s longer by far than a football field—150 feet wide, forty-five feet tall, a three-story vessel. Those who are oceanographers and sailors tell us that it was built to about the same proportion and size of many modern ocean-going liners. That boat had to be built with specifications, engineering strong enough to withstand the greatest storm history has ever recorded. And, that ship went through all of that fearful storm. It was a day of technological advance.

Now, what is our day like? Well, think of our day. My father’s day began with a horse and buggy. It ended up with the splitting of the atom. In our lifetime, we’ve seen men walk on the moon. We’re so pushed back the frontiers of science that we’ve lost all ability to be surprised. We’re now tinkering with genetic engineering. That holds all sorts of awesome and frightening implications, potentiality, as scientists now are actually trying to alter and manipulate man’s gene pool.

I was reading just this past week about a new implant technology where the scientists are now able to take a mini computer, inject it under your skin, and therefore you can have an onboard computer that will do many things. The interesting thing is that this company, which has gotten a trademark and also a patent, calls this mini computer “Digital Angel.” So, you can have an angel in you of a different kind. And, what they’re going to do with this is—it’s tamper-proof. What they mean by that is that you will have your identity with you always so that you can do e-commerce (electronic commerce). And, by having this computer on board, now, when this is put into you, if that happens to you, global positioning satellites will be able to track you wherever you are from a distance no wider than this pulpit that I am speaking from. This little computer will be empowered electromechanically by your muscle movements. And, what it is is a joining of man and machine.

Now, law enforcement will be able to use this to track criminals. They will know where they are. If you’re in an accident, they’ll be able to find you. If you’re in distress, your doctor can monitor your heart. He will know all about your blood pressure and other vital functions. The article that I read said this: “Your doctor will know the problem before you do.” And, they said, “Already we’ve received many requests from around the world for this product.” A contractor for the U. S. Army has been looking into this because, they say, “We’ll be able to track troop movements. We’ll be able to know the whereabouts of all of our soldiers, and we’ll know about their health.” Of course, this will help in a cashless society. Your identity will be on board. If you want to cash a check, you can do it. Digital Angel will be there—a very useful method of control. I think the most frightening thing about the article that I read was in the World Net Daily, from Dr. Peter Zhou. He is the chief scientist, and here’s what he said. Listen to it. Here’s a quote: “We will be a hybrid of electronic intelligence and our own soul.” So, you’ll have electronic intelligence and your own soul together—sort of a hybrid.

Now, they’re also working on virtual reality. Do you know the chief moneymaker on the net today is pornography? And, the pornographers are doing billions of dollars of business on the Internet. And, you need to guard your children very carefully—very, very carefully—in this matter. And businessmen, of course, need to guard your own eyes and your employees'. But, they’re working now on something called “virtual reality.” That is, you will not be able to tell the difference between the real world and the electronic world. And, they’re working on now—would you believe?—virtual adultery so that you can actually interact with the machine in a disgraceful way.

III. Days of Social Plagues
The days of Noah were days of secular philosophy. They were days of scientific progress. The days of Noah are here again. Now, here’s the third mark of the day of Noah: they were days of social plagues. They had not reached utopia. They had not taken this scientific knowledge and turned it into good. Notice in Genesis chapter 6, beginning in verse 11: “The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence. And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.” (Genesis 6:11–13)

The days of Noah were days of great violence, and our day is a day of great violence today. In my lifetime, I have seen wars after wars after wars. Some of you have lived through two world wars, World War I and World War II. But, we live in a day where there are minor wars and rebellions and upheavals everywhere, skyjacking and kidnapping and guerrilla warfare, and needless murder and assault. Our murder rate soars. Organized crime, in some ways, is a bigger business than the United States government. And, people are filled today with violence and a spirit of revenge like never before in recent times.

But, it was true in the days of Noah. Look, if you will, in Genesis chapter 4 and verse 23: “And Lamech said unto his wives, Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lamech, hearken unto my speech: for I have slain a man to my wounding”—that is, “I got in a fight. I killed him. He wounded me”—“and a young man to my hurt. If Cain shall be avenged sevenfold, truly Lamech seventy and sevenfold.” (Genesis 4:23–24) Here was a man who was eaten up with a spirit of revenge, and he’s picked out and put in the Bible as typical of many who are so filled with the spirit of violence and revenge.

Did you know that since 1960 there has been a 560 percent increase in violent crime? Just since 1960—560 percent. Most of us live behind closed, bolted, and locked doors at night. The social engineers have done their work, and they’ve told us that if we would relax about sex and not get so uptight about it, we could do something about sex crimes. And yet, violent crimes against women today are epidemic. We’ve been told that we are too tough on criminals; we should relax and go easy on them. And now, we don’t have enough space to warehouse the criminals. We’ve been told that our churches are too old-fashioned, that we have to modernize and liberalize and rationalize and compromise. And, these churches have compromised themselves right out of business. We’ve been told we don’t need prayer in the schools, that we should take the Ten Commandments off the walls and as a substitute we can put in values clarification and substitute “Thus saith the mind of man” for “Thus saith the Word of God.” And, we’ve reared a generation of young people with refined intellects and undisciplined emotions.

Think of the mayhem that’s in the schools. It’s almost laughable, if it weren’t so sad, that they’re putting metal detectors in the doors of the schools. Very frankly, friend, when I went to school, that couldn’t even be conceived of. Since 1990, there has been a two hundred percent increase in teen suicide. And now, we’ve got a group of people telling us we need to legalize drugs. God have mercy!

Friend, this day was a day—in Noah’s day—it was a day when society was coming unraveled. It was a day of a multiplicity of marriages. There was a plague of divorce in Noah’s day. Look in Genesis chapter 6, verses 1 and 2: “And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them, that the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose.” (Genesis 6:1–2) Bible commentators tell us that when Jesus said they were “marrying and giving in marriage,” (Matthew 24:38) they were not talking about regular marriage—one man for one woman ‘til death to them part—but a multiplicity of wives. We know that Lamech, this man that we mentioned before, had introduced polygamy into society. Look in Genesis chapter 4 and verse 19: “And Lamech took unto him two wives: the name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah.” (Genesis 4:19) Now, God wants one man for one woman ‘til death do them part. Again, when I was a youngster, divorce was rare, and it was a mark of shame. We’re seeing now so much juvenile crime, and much of it roots in broken homes.

Think, today—we’re talking about social plagues—think, today, of the crime against the unborn little babies. Now, we have something called “partial birth abortion,” where a baby is all but delivered, the head alone remains in the birth canal, and scissors are put into the base of the skull of that child, and then a catheter sucks the brains out of that head to collapse it so that this child, ninety percent born, is then born dead—dead on arrival.

Senator Bob Smith of New Hampshire recently said this—and listen: “Unfortunately, the dirty little secret is that large amounts of cash are changing hands. Abortion clinics and wholesalers are making a killing, literally, off of the sale of human baby parts.” They don’t want these little babies dismembered in the womb. They want them partially born so they can get the whole parts. And now, there’s an industry selling baby parts.
Representative Joe Pitts of Pennsylvania said—and I quote: “Now we know why the partial abortion procedure was developed: to give this industry whole baby parts.” It’s about as macabre as it can be, that little babies are being murdered. And, we have laws, in so-called “God-blessed America,” that allow such a thing. Are you surprised?

Let me tell you what a professor at Princeton—Ivy League Princeton… This professor’s name is Peter Singer. He, by the way, is the founding philosopher of the animal rights movement. And, Peter Singer says it’s not all that bad to kill a baby, especially if the baby is disabled or malformed. And, I quote him: “Killing a disabled infant is not morally equivalent to killing a person.” So, if a little baby is malformed, it does not have the status of a person. And then, again—and I’m quoting, and I’m not just quoting some yahoo from off the wall, though he is a yahoo. I’m quoting a professor of bioethics at the University Center for Human Values at Princeton University—he said this: “The life of a newborn baby is of less value than the life of a pig, a dog, or a chimpanzee.”

Now, that’s the world in which we’re living. Can you believe—I mean, can you believe—these things? You would say, “Pastor, surely that is not true.” But friend, these things are true.

IV. Days of Sexual Perversion
What were the days of Noah like? They were days of social plagues. God says the world has become corrupt. And then, number four, the days of Noah were days of sexual perversion. Notice Genesis chapter 6 and verse 5: “And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth”—now, watch this—“and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.” (Genesis 6:5) Well, this verse doesn’t mention what that evil was, how sick that imagination was, but Jesus gives us further insight. You might want to put in your margin, or even turn with me now to, Luke chapter 17, because I want you to see in Luke chapter 17 Jesus, again, is speaking of the days of Noah, but He does something very interesting: He links the days of Noah with the days of Lot, and He shows us in the days of Noah there had been a sexual revolution and they were days of great sexual perversion.

Luke 17, verses 26 and following: Jesus said, “And as it was in the days of [Noah], so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. Likewise”—now, underscore this—“Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.” (Luke 17:26–29) And, Jesus now links the days of Noah with the days of Lot. You know, if you know the Bible, that Lot was an inhabitant of the city of Sodom. The city of Sodom is the city we get the name sodomy from, which speaks of sexual perversion, the perversion of the Sodomites.

How does God feel about this sin? Well, if you can read black print on white paper, you don’t have to guess. Put these verses in your margin. Leviticus 20, verse 13: “If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.” (Leviticus 20:13) Now, that was the Old Testament economy under a theocracy. The death penalty is not allowed for this sin today, but it gives God’s heart and God’s mind about the matter. God says it is an abomination.

Now, we live in a time when there’s an epidemic that is bringing so many precious lives to a conclusion in the United States and, actually, is eating the heart out of Africa today. Well, these vile diseases, are they the judgment of God? Well, it’s really the built-in result of these sins. Put these scriptures down. Romans 1, verse 27: “And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly”—now, notice this next sentence—“and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet” (Romans 1:27)—that is, “fitting.” The New American Standard says, “the due penalty of their error.”

You know, sometimes people ask this question: “Is AIDS, for example, the judgment of God?” Well, you have to be careful when you answer that because some little children have AIDS, some hemophiliacs get AIDS. There are many ways to contract AIDS, but primarily, if we would got back to God’s plan concerning marriage, the AIDS epidemic would evaporate overnight. I mean, that’s it. The answer is so clear. They say it’s not preventable. It’s clearly preventable. Just put one man with one woman ‘til death do them part. That’s God’s plan. I mean, when everything else fails, just go back and read the directions.

“But,” you say, “pastor, what about little babies?”

Well, if a man steps off of a ten-story building—willingly does it—and he hits the bottom, that’s the due recompense of his error. Now, what if he has a little baby in his arms when he steps off? Will the innocent baby die also? Yes, because the innocent often suffer along with the guilty.

Yes, we know that the innocent people suffer. When God judges the world, He’s going to do it with a lot more specificity. God does not really have to judge this sin. God just leaves people to themselves. When people begin to say, “This is all right; not only is it all right, it is to be approved,” here’s what God does: Romans 1, verse 24—I just read verse 27, but read verse 24: “Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves.” (Romans 1:24) God just gave them up. Romans 1, verse 26: “For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature.” (Romans 1:26) And then, Romans 1, verse 28: “And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind” (Romans 1:28) — that is, a mind that cannot think straight. So, what does God do when people begin to justify this kind of violence? God just says, “All right, I give you up. I give you over.” The judgment is built into these sins.

“Pastor Rogers, are people born this way?” God would never cripple somebody and then blame them for limping. Well, you say, “But where do these urges come from?” They come out of the heart, which is wicked and sinful — the same urges that urge people toward incest, the same urges that urge people toward adultery, the same urges that urge people toward violence, the same urges that urge people toward drunkenness, the same urges that urge people toward kleptomania. “Yes,” people say, “I feel this way.” Of course they do! You say, “I was born this way.” Yes, we’re born sinners. We need to be born again. That’s what it’s all about.

My heart goes out to parents who have precious children who have gotten into this lifestyle because Hollywood has so glamorized it and television now has tried to normalize it. And, if you say anything, do you know what they’ll tell you about television? They say, “If you don’t like it, turn it off.” You know what that’s like? That’s saying, “If you don’t like the crime on the streets, stay inside.” That’s like saying, “If you don’t like the pollution in the air, don’t breathe.” Friend, the streets belong to us, the air belongs to us, and the airwaves belong to us. They get the idea that they’re there to pollute the airwaves. They have no more right to pollute the airwaves than they have to pollute the air that I breathe. But, what has happened in Noah’s day, Jesus said, “As it was in the days of Lot, it’s going to be in those days when I come again.” And, this sin had been made fashionable.

V. Days of Selfish Prosperity

Now, let me give you the next mark of Noah’s day: they were days of selfish prosperity. Some think that surely God must be pleased with America because of the prosperity that we have in this nation. But, not every place is prosperous. America is prosperous, but not every place is prosperous. America is an island of prosperity and perversion ensconced in an ocean of need.

It was exactly the same in the days of Lot and in the days of Noah. Put this scripture down: Ezekiel chapter 16, beginning in verse 49. Ezekiel says to Israel, “Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good.” (Ezekiel 16:49–50) Now, notice how he describes Sodom. They were proud. I mean, sin that used to cower and hide now struts. But, he says, not only “pride,” but “fulness of bread.” They had more than they needed. And “abundance of idleness”—they had a short work week. Hardly needed to work at all in Sodom.

I can imagine two men of Sodom walking down the street. One of them says to the other, “You know, God teaches that the lifestyle of Sodom is wicked and vile. Do you think God is going to judge us because of the way we’re living?” “Well, I don’t think He’s going to judge us. Look how prosperous we are.” If they had a stock market, he would have said, “Look at the Dow Jones. Look at the NASDAQ. Look how we are doing. Surely God is smiling upon us.” But, the Bible teaches that at the very zenith, the very height, of their prosperity is when the fire and the brimstone came. And, God left Sodom with its smoking ruins, 2 Peter tells us, “as an [example] unto those that after should live ungodly.” (2 Peter 2:6)

May I tell you something, friend? God wants me to tell you not to let a soaring economy lull you to sleep and think that everything is all right. It is not! It is not! “As it was in the days of Noah—as it was in the days of Lot—so shall it be.” (Matthew 24:37)

VI. Days of Solemn Preaching
Now, let me give you the sixth mark of Noah’s day, as it was in the days of Noah: those were days of solemn preaching. God never sends judgment without first sending warning. In Genesis chapter 6 and verse 13: “And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.” (Genesis 6:13) God sent a preemptive warning. Before God sends judgment, God always sends warning. Noah not only built the ark; he preached.

Put in your margin “2 Peter chapter 2 and verse 5.” The Bible says, “And [God] spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person”—now, listen to this next phrase—“a preacher of righteousness.” (2 Peter 2:5) Noah was a preacher. He preached with the wrath of God in the foreground and the ring of hammers in the background. A contemporary—a near contemporary—was a man named Enoch. And, Jude verse 14 tells us that, “Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints.” (Jude 1:14) But, the preaching of these ministers in that day did not penetrate their hearts. Why? They were marrying and giving in marriage, eating and drinking. Their technology, their art, their culture, their entertainment—they had eaten of the fruit of the tree of knowledge, and they saw themselves as rich and increased with goods and had need of nothing.

Can you imagine what the newspaper columnists of our day would have done had they gone out to interview Noah? Can you imagine him being interviewed today? What a field day they would have had! Can you imagine the political cartoons that would be drawn about this narrow-minded fundamentalist called Noah? Can you imagine what the liberal clergy would have said about Noah? “Well, if Noah had heard anything about a flood, I can assure you it would not have been literal water.” That’s what they would have said. Our generation has been warned. There has been so much faithful preaching. And, the last days are days that are going to be marked by solemn preaching. Noah was a preacher of righteousness. And, God sent me here to warn you that the days of Noah are upon us.

VII. Days of Sudden Panic
Now, the last of these seven signs: they were days of sudden panic—just when everything seemed to be going fine. Jesus said, “eating...drinking, marrying and giving in marriage” (Matthew 24:38); that is, the round of life went on. But, Genesis chapter 6, verse 17: “And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh [upon the earth].” (Genesis 6:17)

Now folks, I don’t know how that day began. Maybe that day was bright and fair. Maybe the clouds began to gather. I don’t know what happened. But, I know that it came suddenly; it came cataclysmically. Perhaps the wind picked up and began to moan like a funeral dirge across the earth. And then, God had said to Noah, “Noah, come[—come] thou and [thy family] into the ark.” (Genesis 7:1) And, God brought Noah into the ark, and God shut the door. And, God shut Noah in; and God shut others out; and God shut the water out.

Suddenly the earth rocks, the heavens open, and the slough gates of heaven begin to pour great floods of water. And, water belches out of this earth, and the water begins to rise. And, those who’ve been laughing at Noah and those who’ve been mocking Noah now begin to wonder, “What is this?” There’s some indication that up until this time it had not rained, but that the earth was moisturized by a vapor, a canopy of vapor, that came. Those in the valleys begin to run to the high places. Those in the high places are seeking even higher places. After a while, when the water gets up to dangerous proportions, they come and begin to beat upon the door of that ark and say, “Noah, let us in,” but it was too late. God had shut the door. And, God shut the water out, and God shut these people out who laughed and mocked and scoffed. And, God shut His people in.

Can you imagine in that day a little boy, before it began to rain, coming to his father and saying, “Daddy, can I talk with you?” “Yes, Son, what do you want to talk about?” “Daddy, you know crazy Noah, the one everybody’s laughing about, the one that is building a big boat?” “Yes, Son, I know old Noah, crazy Noah. Yes, I know him.” “Well, Daddy, I was over there, and he stopped working on that boat, and he talked to me for a while, and he said God is going to destroy the world with something called a flood. Daddy, what is a flood?” “Well,” he said, “Son, I’m not sure exactly what a flood is, but don’t worry about it.” “Well, Daddy, Noah says that everybody that’s not in the ark is going to drown, and Daddy, Noah seems very sincere. He seems to know what he’s talking about. Daddy, frankly, I think we ought to go and ask Mr. Noah if we can get on board that boat.” “Now, Son, listen. Excuse me for laughing, Son, but wait a minute, Son. The reason I’m laughing is this: when I was a little boy, I went out there, and old Noah was building his boat back then. You wouldn’t believe it. And Son, the reason I’m laughing—I’m not making fun of you, Son—but I felt just like you did. And, do you know what, Son? I went home, just like you came home to me; I went home to my daddy, and I told my daddy what you’ve told me. Now Son, here’s the funny part: My daddy, your granddaddy, said that old coot had told him the same story. I mean, your daddy, your granddaddy, were frightened for a while about that old man Noah. Son, don’t you worry. Noah is a religious fanatic. Pay no attention to Noah.” And, as it was, so shall it be.

Conclusion

Look at me. I’m preaching to you the Word of God. I’m telling you there’s an Ark of Safety—His name is Jesus. And, if you will come to Him, put your faith in Him, I promise you on the authority of the Word of God, He will change you, He will transform you, He will give you “joy unspeakable and full of glory.” (1 Peter 1:8)

You say, “What if it costs me?” Well, when Noah drove that last nail into the ark, he may have had nothing left, but when he came out of the ark, he had inherited the earth. He went in a minority; he came out a majority. I’m telling you, folks, it pays to serve Jesus. And, if you’re not saved, you need to get saved—I mean saved, not just be a church member. You need to be born again. Jesus is the Ark of Safety, and if you’ll put your faith in Him, He will save you. Jesus may come this afternoon. As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be—eating, drinking, marrying, giving in marriage—and then the day came. (Matthew 24:37–38)
The Days of Noah

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: August 7, 1983
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:36–38

Outline

Introduction
I. The Mark of Advancement
   A. An Explosion of People
   B. An Explosion of Knowledge
II. The Mark of Apostasy
III. The Mark of Anarchy
IV. The Mark of Adultery
V. The Mark of Apathy
VI. The Mark of Announcement
VII. The Mark of Annihilation
Conclusion

Introduction

Now, Jesus said the time of His coming is a sealed mystery known to the Father alone. Even the angels of Heaven do not know. And, any man who says he knows when Jesus Christ is coming is lying, and he has almost crossed the threshold of the gospel, if he has not already done so. That day and that hour no one knows. But, on the other hand, there’s another side to that coin. Jesus is coming as a thief in the night, but the Bible says to those of us who are saved, “But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief” (1 Thessalonians 5:4).

Those of us who are saved may not know the time or the hour, but we shall know the season and the age in which we live. And, we can read the signs of the times. Now, the Lord Jesus gave us a great clue. The Lord Jesus said, “As it was in the days of Noah even so shall it be in the coming of the Son of man” (Matthew 24:37; Luke 17:26). As it was, so shall it be. As it was, so shall it be.

So, we’re going to look at the days of Noah today. And, I want you to take your Bible now and go back to Genesis chapter 6, and we’re going to see what the days of Noah were, because, as it was, so shall it be. I want to mention today for our Bible study and our message from the Word of God the seven marks of Noah’s age, the seven signs of Noah’s time, the seven things that were true in his day that indeed are true in our day and tell us... that Jesus Christ is coming soon. And, I believe that the Holy Spirit is writing in boxcar letters across the horizon, “Be prepared for the coming of the Lord.” The coming of the Lord draws nigh. “As it was in the days of Noah, even so shall it be in the coming of the Son of man.”

Now, what are these marks?

I. The Mark of Advancement

Well, first of all, there is the mark of advancement and achievement. Look, if you will, please, in Genesis chapter 6, verse 1: “And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them...” (Genesis 6:1). Skip down to verse 4: “There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them,”—now, watch this phrase—“the same became mighty men...”—“mighty men”—“...men of renown” (Genesis 6:4)—that is, men who had the ability to make a record for themselves. And, indeed they did. The days of Noah were days of advancement and days of achievement.

A. An Explosion of People

There was, for example, a population explosion. Verse 1 says that, “men began to multiply upon the face of the earth.” It was a vast population explosion. Up until this time people were reproducing, perhaps, at a small number. But now, suddenly the earth is just filled with people. People began to multiply. Great, vast numbers of people were upon the face of the earth.

Does that remind you of our day? I want to tell you, we are in the middle of an unprecedented population explosion. Did you know that 200,000 babies are born every day on Planet Earth? Two hundred thousand are born every day. Did you know that next year at this time Mother Earth will have 75 million more inhabitants—75 million more people living on the globe? And, if our Lord tarries, and we reach the end of this century, we will be gaining a billion new inhabitants every five years. Now, there are only a few more than four billion on the face of the earth now. And, we will be gaining a billion every five years if our Lord tarries. Can you imagine the problems, the crowding? Already half the world is going to bed hungry. And, our world will be facing unprecedented problems in these last days.

B. An Explosion of Knowledge

And so, there was an explosion of people. But, not only that; an explosion of knowledge. And, I want you to go back to Genesis chapter 4 for a minute and look with me in verse 22: “And Zillah, she also bare Tubalcain,”—now, watch this—“an instructer of every artificer in brass and iron” (Genesis 4:22). Now, don’t get the idea that these people who lived back in Noah’s day were ignoramuses, that they had not yet arrived. They knew how to go down into Mother Earth and more. They knew how to build their furnaces and make brass. They knew how to build their foundries and make tools and machinery. These people had a high level of civilization way back here in Noah’s day.

Now, if you don’t believe what I’m saying is true, you think of Noah’s ark. Think of the ark, friend—the engineering marvel of Noah’s ark. Noah’s ark that Noah built was over 450 feet long. A football field is only 300 feet long, 150 feet wide. Now, the ark was three stories high. And, can you imagine a ship this size that had to weather a storm like that storm, the worst storm that the world has ever known? And, Noah’s ark rode it out, and not one drop of water came through.

Now, imagine that. Do you think you could build one? Of course you could not! If you were given such an assignment, you would call all of the engineers and all of the scientists together, and say, “How do build the ship?” They built it in Noah day, but Noah didn't build it by himself—not a ship of that size. Nor did just his sons help. They couldn't do it by themselves. There were many people who helped him to build it. That’s an interesting thing, but dear friends, many of the people who worked on the ark perished in the flood.

We just put some new flooring down here on this platform a few days ago, and a man was laying this wood up here on the platform. I said, “Did it ever occur to you that some of those carpenters who worked on Noah’s ark drowned in the flood?” Wouldn’t it be a shame for a man to help build a church building and die and go to Hell? Wouldn’t it be a shame? Wouldn’t it be a shame to work in the church, or do anything else, and then die and go to Hell?

But, what I’m trying to say is that the days of Noah were days of achievement, days of advancement, days of technological know-how. Now, compare that to our day. And, think of the vast knowledge explosion that we’re having. You know, Daniel said, “In the last days men shall rush to and fro and knowledge shall increase” (Daniel 12:4). The same thing is happening in our day. Our world is crammed with scientists. The microchip, the computer, is doing unbelievable things, and now computers are building what they call the computer’s computer. And, they are actually trying to build a computer that not only can compute but that can think. And, they say—many people—that they will be able to do it—a computer that can read.

Why, some of you here, some of you older folks, can remember the horse and buggy days! And, now we’ve unlocked the secret of the atom and sent a man to the moon! And, the space shuttle circles the earth at 17,500 miles an hour. And, now we are dabbling in genetic engineering with all sorts of fascinating and frightening possibilities. As a matter of fact, this sixth chapter of Genesis tends to teach that they produce a hybrid type of race; sort of monsters they produced upon the face of the earth. And, I wonder if we’re not on the brink of producing that same kind of thing in a laboratory now, as we’re producing test tube babies, and genetic engineering, and all of this business—playing God, dabbling in areas where we ought not perhaps to trespass.

II. The Mark of Apostasy

It was a time of advancement. It was a time of achievement. It was a time of ability. In the last days, the Bible says, knowledge shall increase, and men shall rush to and fro. But, the second mark of Noah’s day, not only was it a time a achievement; it was a time of apostasy—a time of apostasy. Go back and look, if you will, in Genesis chapter 6, verses 5 and 6: “And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually” (Genesis 6:5).

Now, look at that word imagination. It’s a very interesting word. John Phillips says that this word imagination comes from a Hebrew root which means, “to mold or to fashion as a potter fashions a vessel.” That is, a potter takes clay in his hands, and carefully and skillfully, artfully, and knowing what he’s doing, he fashions, he molds, he shapes that clay. Now, Vines says that’s the root to this word imagination. So, don’t get the idea that men back in this day were just daydreaming. When the Bible here speaks of the imaginations of men’s hearts, he’s talking about carefully fashioned, carefully molded, philosophies—wicked, vile, evil imaginations; the machinations, if you will, of man’s mind; the wicked, vile philosophies of his thoughts and his heart. And, they were evil continually, because “as a man thinketh, so is he” (Proverbs 23:7). And so, if their philosophy was wrong, you know that their mind, their acts, had to be wrong.

But, what they were doing in this day was trying to squeeze society into their mold. It was like a potter would fashion the pot. What they had done was to turn from the faith. The faith that had been delivered to Adam, and the faith for which the martyred Abel had died, the faith that the prophet Enoch had preached, was fast disappearing from the earth. And, these were days when men were not saying, “Thus saith the Word of God”; they were saying, “Thus saith the mind of men.”

Now, as it was, so shall it be. These days in which we are living are days of apostasy. “In the last days, men shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils, speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their consciences seared as with a hot iron” (1 Timothy 4:1–2). All you have to do to know that’s true right here in Memphis, Tennessee, is to look around. All you have to do is get out a card, write down just exactly how you would like to live, no matter how vile, how wicked, or how immoral, and write down what you would like to believe, no matter how foolish—and I can find a church in Memphis, Tennessee, where it doesn’t make any difference.

III. The Mark of Anarchy
Now, I want to give you a third mark of Noah’s day. Not only was it a time of advancement, not only was it a time of apostasy, but they were also days of anarchy. Look, if you will, in chapter 6 and verse 11. Do you have it? Genesis 6:11: “The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.” Does it remind you of anything? “And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them” (Genesis 6:11–13).

We live in a world that is filled with violence. Some of you remember World War I. Many of us remember World War II. And, some, including myself, see the gathering clouds of World War III. And, there are revolutions, uprisings, bombings—revolutions and guerilla warfare going on all over the face of globe. Only God knows what tomorrow’s newspaper may say, as nation invades nation, as nation lifts up sword against nation.

And, there is war all over the face of this globe. It’s nothing to pick up the newspaper and hear this person was shot, and this person was stabbed, and this person was raped, and this person was murdered. And, the ladies in our city are afraid to walk even in their own neighborhoods after dark. And, there are places in this city where men are afraid to walk by themselves. I’m not talking about in darkest Africa. I’m talking about right here in America; right here in Memphis, Tennessee. Violence. Violence.

And, communism is creeping onward and onward and onward. And, I want to tell you that violence is perfectly acceptable to the communist if it furthers their end. They are not at all opposed to violence. They are not opposed to peace. They are in favor of peace, in favor of violence, in favor of truth, in favor of lies, in favor of anything that will further communism. And, it is a regime, a bloody regime. And, don’t think that we who are Christians are going to escape, either. I want to tell you something, friend, talking about violence. And, this will shock you. I checked this statistic. I wanted to make certain that what I was saying is correct. It first came out at the Lausanne Conference on Evangelism that I attended earlier in the last decade—about 1974 I believe it was, that conference in Lausanne, Switzerland. More people—listen to me—more people have died for the cause of Christ in my lifetime than have been put to death in all of the centuries prior to that time.

Now, we think of those people who died at the stake, and those people who died being fed to the lions, and all that—we think of that as ancient history. But, I want to tell you, in our generation—in our generation—more people have shed their life’s blood for the faith than in all of the centuries and all of the generations from the time of Christ up to this generation. This is an age of unprecedented violence.

And, on top of that, we’re doing violence to our own children. Think of the child abuse. And, think of the murders of little babies, the grizzly, horrible, vile, wicked, sinful abortion business. There are more little babies taken than we ever lose in our wars. Little helpless, defenseless babies, murdered, murdered, murdered by their own mothers and by clinicians and people walking around with white jackets, and with an air of authority, knowing it all, talking about a little blob, a little mass—the fetus, they call them. A little baby! A little precious baby!

As it was, so shall it be. Days of violence. Violence stalked the land. As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the day of the coming of the Son of man. They were days of anarchy when a clinched fist was raised in the face of Almighty God.

IV. The Mark of Adultery

But, I want to say something else about those days. Not only were they days of advancement, and days of apostasy, and days of anarchy; they were also days of adultery—days of adultery. I want you to look, if you will, in Genesis chapter 6 and verse 2: “That the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose” (Genesis 6:2). They say, “Hey, you! Come over here.”

Now, I want you to notice how polygamy comes into the race. Go back, if you will, to chapter 4, verse 19: “And Lamech took unto him two wives” (Genesis 4:19)—“two wives.” Now, God had put man in the Garden of Eden, and God had performed the first ceremony, and God’s plan was one man to be married to one woman till death do them part. But, here was polygamy, a multiplicity of marriages, that may indicate what Jesus was talking about, in Matthew 24, when He says they were “marrying and giving in marriage” (Matthew 24:38).

There is nothing wrong with marriage. “Marriage is honorable, and the bed undefiled” (Hebrews 13:4). But, here are strange things that were happening. Bible expositors are divided about chapter 6, verse 2, the sons of God and the daughters of men. Some see the sons of God as angels, fallen angels, that “kept not their first estate” (Jude 1:6), but came down here and somehow cohabitated with men, and produced a race of monsters. Others say, “No, the sons of God were the godly line of Seth, and the daughters of men were the ungodly line of Cain.” But, whatever it was, we’re not going to take time to get into it, and I’m not sure that I could explain it if we did. But, whatever it was, it was a joining together of what God had put asunder, and it was a putting asunder of what God had joined together. They were days of sexual abnormality. The sexual revolution was going on in Noah’s day.
Now, here's an interesting thing. Jesus linked the days of Noah with the days of Lot. I want you to take your Bibles for a moment, and I want you to turn, if you will, to Luke chapter 17 and verse 26—Luke chapter 17, verse 26. Now, listen to this: "And as it was in the days of [Noah], so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.” Now, watch: “They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.” Now, notice the next phrase: “Likewise also”—in the same way also—“as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man be revealed” (Luke 17:26–30).

Now, Jesus Christ Himself linked the days of Noah and the days of Lot. Now, what were the days of Lot? The days of Lot were days of sexual perversion. Lot lived in Sodom. Sodom was known for its sexual perversion. Today, a sexual pervert is called a Sodomite. And, the Bible says that as God destroyed Noah’s world with a flood, God destroyed Sodom with fire and brimstone.

Now, there are those today who will try to explain sodomy. A psychiatrist will try to explain it away. I thank God for a godly psychiatrist. But, they’re not all godly. A sociologist may try to explain it away. I thank God for godly sociologists, but they’re not all godly. A preacher may try to explain it away. I thank God for a godly preacher, but they are not all godly. But, I want you to forget for a moment what preachers have to say, sociologists have to say, law enforcement people have to say, psychologists have to say, and medical people have to say, and let’s see what God says, okay? Let’s hear what the Word of God says. I want you to write down Leviticus chapter 20, verse 13. Listen to it: “If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them” (Leviticus 20:13).

"Are you saying, Brother Rogers—are you advocating the death penalty for sodomy?” No, this was in the Old Testament economy. This was when there was a theocracy. But, I am trying to show you the mind of God about this matter. God said that it is an abomination. Now, if you don’t agree with that, don’t write me a letter; don’t call me. Get on your knees and take it up with God. Argue with Him. It’s the Word of God. I just give you this, and I don’t say it, friend. That’s black print on white paper. And, it says that God destroyed them in the Noah’s day. He destroyed the world with a flood in Noah’s day, and Sodom and Gomorrah with fire and brimstone. And, the Bible says he left Sodom and Gomorrah as an example to those that after should live ungodly. They flaunted their sins in Lot’s day. They flaunted their sin in Noah’s day. They were men of renown. They were proud of their wicked, vile imaginations. They boasted in those things.
There are some terrible diseases that have erupted on the scene; some vile, horrible things. “Pastor, are those diseases the judgment of God?” Now, you may be surprised when I say this, but not exactly—not exactly the judgment of God. You see, the judgment of God comes for unsaved people at the end: the Final Judgment. The Bible says, “Judge nothing till the Lord comes” (1 Corinthians 4:5). When the Lord comes, He’s going to judge the world. And then, many, even many so-called moral people who don’t know Jesus are going to be cast into Hell. Not only the immoral, but the moral without Christ.

There is a built-in judgment to sin. I mean, when God created the world, God just created certain laws in the world. And, friend, you don’t break God’s laws; you break your neck. I mean, for example, there’s the law of gravity. If I get on a 10-story building and say, “I’m going to break the law of gravity.” I don’t break the law of gravity; I demonstrate the law of gravity. I break me. God’s law is just written there, you see.

Now, when you think that you’re going to flaunt God’s law as to how the human body is to operate, you think that God is going to give you a license to sin, you’re wrong—you’re wrong. Let me give you a verse of Scripture—Romans chapter 1 and verse 27—listen to this: “And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves the recompence of their error which was meet” (Romans 1:27). The Bible says, “which was fitting.” I mean, it’s just built in. I mean, you see, listen, friend. For every kick there’s a kickback.

You cannot sow wild oats and then pray for crop failure. Somehow, somewhere, there is a payday. And, it is not the judgment of God, as we are talking about the Final judgment of God; it’s just simply the way that the thing operates—like the law of gravity. “Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap” (Galatians 6:7). I don’t say this with bitterness. My heart goes out to people, whoever they are, wherever they are, who are caught up in sin, and who are suffering.

God help us to have a heart of love and compassion and pity. But, I want to tell you something, friend. As it was in the days of Noah, as it was in the days of Lot, even so shall it be in the day of the coming of the Son of man. And, see what is happening. You see, dear friend, adultery, abnormality, aberration, flaunting the laws of God, a sexual revolution. And, God says, “It’s almost closing time, sirs. It’s almost closing time.”

Now, I want to give you another mark of Noah’s day. But let me just say this practically. Don’t get the idea that God’s a killjoy. Don’t get the idea that God doesn’t want you to have fun. And, don’t get the idea that God doesn’t want you to enjoy sex. God made sex for you. And, “marriage is honorable, and the bed undefiled.” One of the greatest joys that God gave to the human race is the pure use of the pure love of a man for a woman. And, those who keep God’s law concerning sex enjoy more sex and enjoy sex more than those who break God’s laws. I want to tell you something: ‘The joy of the Lord, it maketh full, and bringeth no sorrow with it.’ No kickback, you see. ‘The joy of he Lord, it maketh full, and bringeth no sorrow with it.’ There’s no bad aftertaste to joy—no aftertaste, like there is to sin.

V. The Mark of Apathy

Now, let me give you another mark of Noah’s time. Not only was it a time of adultery and abnormality and aberration, sexually, but it was a time of apathy. Look again, if you will, in Genesis chapter 6 and verse 3—and there God says, “My spirit shall not always strive with man” (Genesis 6:3). What a frightening verse that is! Look at it. The Lord said, “My spirit shall not always strive with man.” That means that God’s Spirit had been seeking. Oh, the gentle, precious Holy Spirit of God had been warning, had been wooing, had been speaking, to them. But, their hearts were like stone; their hearts were like steel. They were so proud of their art, their culture, their achievement. They had drunk at the wells of knowledge. They had eaten from the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. They were so satisfied. They were so filled with themselves. They were materialists. That’s what Jesus said about the days of Noah and the days of Lot. What occupied their minds? Marrying, giving in marriage. Buying and selling. Eating and drinking. All of these things, rightly used, are fine, but where is God?

Now, we say that communism is wrong, because it is a form of dialectical materialism. But, I want to tell you that capitalism without God is just the other side of the coin. Both of them are materialistic. I’m a capitalist. I believe in it. I believe that, because it recognizes the right and the ownership of private property, it gives a proper incentive to the work ethic, that if a man won’t work, neither should he eat. But, I want to tell you that capitalism and communism without God are both materialism. And, that’s what’s happening to this world. We stick out our chests. We’re talking about how wonderful everything is, how the economy’s on the upturn, and the jobless rate is going down, and all that. Friend, it doesn’t excite God. What’s going to get the attention of God is when our devotion to Jesus Christ is up and our sinfulness goes down. We have a little mini-recession, and we all get on our face and say, “Oh, God!” And then, it turns up, and we forget God and go merrily on our way. And, the booze begins to flow. God have mercy on us!

I want to tell you, this was an apathetic crowd. God’s Holy Spirit spoke, but they would not listen. The Bible says they married, they gave in marriage, they ate, they drank, and they knew not until the flood came. That is, they were mocking, laughing, dancing, amusing their way right into oblivion, and they didn't even know it. So apathetic! Does it remind you of any age? I tell you, dear friend, this is a day and age of apathy.

VI. The Mark of Annunciation
I must hurry on. I want to mention the next mark of Noah’s time. It was a time of announcement, admonition, alarm, for God had given them warning. Look, if you will, please, here, for God says, in chapter 6, verse 13, “And...said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come” (Genesis 6:13). Verse 17: “And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth” (Genesis 6:17). God warned, and God used Noah as His preacher. The Bible says that Noah was a preacher of righteousness. Enoch was a prophet of God, the father of Methuselah.

By the way, do you know why Methuselah lived as long as he lived—969 years? Because his name means, “When he is gone, it shall be sent.” God warned. When Methuselah dies, the flood is coming. And, the flood came—you can study that in your Bible—the day Methuselah died. Nine hundred and sixty-nine years he lived. Why? Because of the love and the longsuffering of God. “God is longsuffering and not willing that any should perish” (2 Peter 3:9). God kept extending his life, but nonetheless, God gave a warning, and one day the flood came. And, the Bible says, “Likewise the day of the Lord shall come” (Matthew 24:37; Luke 17:26).

Why hasn’t Jesus yet come? The love and the longsuffering of God. God is warning. God is sending His prophets. God is sending His preacher. You leave me out of it. I’m telling you there are other preachers across the world who are preaching the gospel of Jesus as it has never been preached, on radio, on television, on satellite, by billboard, by books, and yet this is a generation that goes merrily on its way, for the most part. Days of apathy. Somebody said, “The problem in America is apathy. But, who cares?”

VII. The Mark of Annihilation
Next: Days, not only of announcement, but days of annihilation. Look again in verse 17: “And, behold, I, even I, [will] bring a flood of waters upon the earth to destroy all flesh” (Genesis 6:17). Now, friend, listen to me. God is not in the business of saving civilization, contrary to popular opinion. He’s not in the business of saving the whole world. He’s not going to save the world. “Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, that leads to life” (Matthew 7:14). God is taking out of this world a people for his name: the Master’s minority, a faithful few, the little flock (Luke 12:32). And, He’s bringing them into the ark of faith. God is going to judge this world, as surely as I’m standing here.
Conclusion

Now, I know if they’d have gone out to hear Noah preach, do you know what the newspapers would have done? Well, number one, they would have drawn a classic political cartoon of old crazy Noah. And, I’ll tell you, when they described Noah, I’ll tell you exactly how they would have described him. Number one: they would have called him a fundamentalist. Sure, they would have. I’ll tell you what else they would have done. They would have said he was a bigot because he says the ark is the only way. And, they would have said, “Noah is a bigot.” And then, they would have said that he is not for social progress, and he is bad for everything, and so forth. And, they would have found all kinds of problems for old crazy Noah. But, God destroyed that world with a flood. And, I don’t have time to mention that, except I want to say this: that Noah went into that ark a minority; he came out a majority. He may have spent all on that ark, but when he came out, he owned the world. It pays to serve Jesus.
It’s Not Over Yet—The Christ of Christmas Is Coming Again

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: December 12, 1993
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:36–42

Outline

Introduction
I. Mark # 1: A Disastrous Breakdown in Sexual Morals
II. Mark # 2: A Dramatic Breakthrough in Scientific Progress
III. Mark # 3: A Devilish Breakout of Secular Philosophy
IV. Mark # 4: A Dangerous Breakup of the Social Fabric
V. Mark # 5: A Divine Breaking of Sudden Judgment

Conclusion

Introduction

Praise the Lord. Be finding Matthew chapter 24. We begin in verse 36, in just a moment. And when you've found it—Matthew chapter 24, beginning in verse 36—look up here, and I want to tell you something. The title of the message is this: “It’s Not Over Yet—The Christ of Christmas is Coming Again.” That's what it's all about. “It’s Not Over Yet.” You know, in sports, when our team is behind, we say, “It’s not over till…”—what? “Till the fat lady sings.” But friend, I want to tell you, “It’s not over 'til the trumpet sounds.” Isn’t that right? Till Jesus comes. You see, the birth of Christ is a part of it. There is the cross. There is the crown that follows the cradle. And we’re looking forward to the coming or our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Now some people are going to miss the Second Coming of Christ. And do you know why they’re going to miss it? They’re going to miss it because of the same reason that some missed His first coming. His first coming was so clearly and plainly prophesied. The angel said that Mary would conceive in her womb a child. She did. The angel said He would be the Son of the Highest. He was. The Bible said very clearly and plainly that His name would be called Jesus. It was called Jesus. All of these prophecies of the angel were, actually, literally fulfilled. Were they not? Of course they were. And that same angel, that same day, said He would rule upon the throne of David. That same angel said that. Now why should we take the first part of that literally and not take the last part of that literally? It doesn’t make any sense.
Christ is coming back to this Earth just as literally as He came the first time. And yet, His Second Coming will be so far different. The first time He came, there was no room for Him in the manger. When He comes again, He’s coming to inherit the world. When He came the first time, He came to a crucifixion. When He comes again, He’s coming to a coronation. When He came the first time, He came to a tree. When He comes again, He’s sitting upon a throne. When He came the first time, He stood before Pilate to be judged. When He comes again, Pilate will stand before Him to be judged. He came the first time in shame. He comes again in splendor. He came the first time to redeem, and thank God He did. He’s coming again to reign as King of kings and Lord and lords. And the One who came as a humble servant is coming back again as the Holy Sovereign, the Lord of lords and the King of kings. It’s not over yet. The Christ of Christmas is coming again.

Now the question comes to us: “When will He come?” Look in the Scripture, if you will—verse 36: “But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took them all away, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left. ..Watch, therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come” (Matthew 24:36–42).

Now what is our Lord saying? The Lord says if we try to set a date for the Second Coming of Jesus, it is next to blasphemy, because that’s a day known only by the Lord God Almighty. Not even the angels know that date. But He said, “I’m going to tell you what the conditions are going to be like when my Son comes again, when Jesus comes again. It’s going to be like the conditions that existed in Noah’s time before the flood.” We have three chapters in the Bible that tell us what the conditions were like in Noah’s day, just before the flood, and they are very easy to read. In Genesis chapter 4 and 5, and then, those days climax in Genesis chapter 6.

Now turn there for just a moment—Genesis chapter 6—and let’s just look at the days of Noah. Because, our Lord said, “If you want to know what the days are going to be like when I come again, they’re going to be like the days of Noah.”

History is like a broken phonograph record: It just keeps repeating itself. I’ve been fascinated by the Hubble telescope. I’ve been watching the astronauts. I can’t take my eyes off of that. But friend, let me tell you something: There’s something that fascinates me more than the Hubble telescope, and it is God’s Word. Because, we can see far more through this than they’ll ever see through that. They’re trying to discover, somehow, the origin of everything. Friend, we have a book that tells us not only of the origin, but the destiny of everything. Thank God for the Word of God. And those of us who are Christians, we don’t have to be stumbling in darkness. We hold in our hands the Word of God. There is no excuse whatsoever for ignorance. For, Jesus said, “As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be” (Matthew 24:37).

May I give you five signs of the days of Noah? And I want you to ask yourself, as you put your Bible in one hand and your newspapers in the other hand, if we indeed are not living in the last days of Noah or days as those days were. Here are the marks:

I. Mark # 1: A Disastrous Breakdown in Sexual Morals

Mark number 1: a disastrous breakdown in sexual morals. Look in Genesis chapter 6, if you would, and verses 1 and 2: “And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth”—and, by the way, there was a population explosion—“and daughters were born unto them, that the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all whom they chose” (Genesis 6:1–2). And Jesus, in the Scripture that I read to you, said it was a day of marrying and giving in marriage. Exegetes and commentators say that this does not speak of normal marriage. It speaks of one person marrying over and over again—a multiplicity of marriages.

Go back, if you would, please, to look in Genesis chapter 4, and verse 19: “And Lamech took unto him two wives” (Genesis 4:19). He wasn’t satisfied with God’s plan: one man for one woman “‘til death do them part.” Here was a man who already is casting aside God’s laws. And as you read “the days of Noah,” you’re going to read that men were living, looking at women, lusting after women, choosing whom they would. Immorality was rampant. Sex was blatant.

When I was a boy, divorce was unusual and a mark of shame. In our day, the divorce rate has exploded. In the last 50 years, it has doubled, tripled, and quadrupled, and then doubled again. We have children being raised today never knowing what a godly home is. Many people today don’t even take the benefit of marriage before they bring children into the world, and we wonder why we’re having so much crime on the streets. There was a sexual revolution in the days of Noah. It was a time of disastrous breakdown in sexual morals.

Now I want you to put this verse in your margin, and it is the book of Luke chapter 17, beginning in verse 26. And here’s what I want to show you. Listen carefully. Jesus said that the days of Noah and the days of Lot are linked together. Now who was Lot? Lot was a man who lived in Sodom. Now listen to this Scripture—Luke 17, verse 26: “And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.” Now we’ve already heard that in Matthew, but now listen to this: “They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. Also...”—are you listening?—“Also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built; but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all” (Luke 17:26–29).

Now what was Sodom known for? Sodom was known for the sin of sodomy. That’s why we call it sodomy. What does God feel about that? Leviticus chapter 20, verse 13: “If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them” (Leviticus 20:13). In the Old Testament economy, this was a sin, a crime so heinous that it was worthy of capital punishment. People ask about the vile diseases that we are battling today. There’s a big debate. Are these vile diseases? Are they the judgment of God? Let me tell you what they are. They are the built-in result of transgressing God’s law.

Now let me read to you from Romans chapter 1 and verse 26: “For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections”—that’s what God said: He said, in the Old Testament, an abomination; in the New Testament, He says, vile affection—“for even their women did exchange the natural use for that which is against nature...”—listen—“against nature;”—verse 27—“and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working that which is unseemly”—now, listen to this—“and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error”—that payback of their error—“which was [fitting’” (Romans 1:26–27). The New American Standard says: “the due penalty of their error.”

Now you say, “Has God judged them?” They have judged themselves. This is a built-in kickback of sinning against nature. Someone says, “Well, it can’t be the judgment of God, because little children sometimes get AIDS.” We had a man here, not so long ago, who went to the Mississippi River Bridge with a baby in his arms and jumped off the bridge. Because the baby was innocent, does that mean what the man did was right? I mean, people are somehow so foolish in their reasoning. Oh, my dear friend, the tragedy of sins like this, that not only affect and infect the perpetrator, but other people who indeed are innocent.

How does God deal with a generation that will not deal with this kind of sin? It frightens me to say this, but God leaves them alone. Romans 1, verse 24: “Wherefore, God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonor their own bodies between themselves” (Romans 1:24). God just says, “All right, go ahead.” Verse 26: “For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections” (Romans 1:26). Romans chapter 1, verse 28: “And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind” (Romans 1:28).

We have a generation today that has a reprobate mind. The filth on television, the stench, is unimaginable. Do you know what they tell us? Do you know what they have the gall to tell us? Do you know what they say? They say, “If you don’t like it, turn it off.” Have you ever heard that? Sure. “If you don’t like it, switch the channel.” There is a problem, my friend. The airways do not belong to them; they belong to us. That’s like saying, “If you don’t like crime, don’t go outside. Stay in your house, if you don’t like what’s going on in the streets.” That’s like saying, “If you don’t like cigarette smoke, don’t breathe.” They think that somehow they have a right to pollute the airways and tell us, “If you don’t like it, don’t watch it.” It doesn’t belong to them; it belongs to us.

But God says, “If that’s what this generation wants, help yourself.” God gave them up. God gave them over. Is God judging us? Friend, we are judging ourselves and receiving the due recompense, as the Word of God says. What were the days of Noah like? They were days of a disastrous breakdown of sexual morals.

II. Mark # 2: A Dramatic Breakthrough in Scientific Progress

Secondly, they were days of a dramatic breakthrough in scientific progress. Look, if you will, in Genesis chapter 6, and verse 4: “There were giants in the earth in those days”—now, that doesn’t mean, I don’t believe, that these were men who were 10-feet tall. It speaks of a strange breed of men. The Bible calls them men of renown—“There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bore children to them, the same became mighty men who were of old, men of renown” (Genesis 6:4). These moral pygmies were intellectual giants, and there was a breakthrough in Noah’s time of scientific knowledge. And they began to find the secrets that were in nature and unfold them.

Don’t get the idea that they were plowing with sticks, back in those days. Go back, if you will, to chapter 4, and look, if you will, in verse 17: “And Cain knew his wife; and she conceived, and bore Enoch: and he builded a city” (Genesis 4:17). Look, if you will, in verse 22: “And Zillah, she also bore Tubal-cain, an instructor of every craftsman in bronze and iron” (Genesis 4:22). The Iron Age was here a long time before the flood. There was an industrial revolution. There were craftsmen with tools and skills. And there was a veritable explosion of knowledge.

Use your mind, my friend. Noah built the ark. Can you imagine that ark, in that day? 450-feet long—longer than a football field. That ark, it was 450 x 150 x 45-feet tall. It had a cubic capacity of 3 million cubic feet. It was built to the same proportions as a modern ocean liner. Noah had to have the technological knowledge to build that ark to withstand the most severe storm the Earth has ever known.
That was back in the days of Noah. There was an explosion of knowledge, in those days. There is in this day. We’ve come from the horse and buggy to man walking on the moon. We have unleashed the power of the atom. We’ve pushed back the frontiers of knowledge in an incredible way. And now one of the most horrifying prospects is facing us; and that is genetic engineering, with unimaginable and grotesque horrors. The late, great Dr. Vance Havner said this: “Scientifically, we’re in graduate school, but morally and spiritually, we are in kindergarten.” Civilization is like a chimpanzee playing with matches in a room full of dynamite. Some fanatic may push a button and bury millions in a furnace of molten steel. A disastrous breakdown in sexual morals; a dramatic breakthrough in scientific progress. Are we there?

III. Mark # 3: A Devilish Breakout of Secular Philosophy
Here’s the third sign: There was a devilish breakout of secular philosophy. Look, now, in chapter 6, verses 5 and 6: “And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth”—now watch this—“and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually” (Genesis 6:5–6).

Now here is a breakout of secular philosophy. Now look at the word imagination. Do you see it? That does not mean daydreams. John Phillips, who’s spoken from this pulpit, said this: that the word imagination comes from a Hebrew root relating to pottery. And the word means “to fashion something as a potter would.” Men espoused filthy causes. They made fashionable vile sins. Like a potter fashioning a vessel, they tried to pour society into their mold. In Noah’s day, their imaginations, their philosophies, took the place of the Word of God. They were substituting Thus saith the mind of man for Thus saith the Word of God.

We have many who are doing that today, even in pulpits across America. I was reading about some entomologists down in Florida who are doing some crossbreeding, and they bred a termite with a praying mantis. And now what they have is a bug that says its prayers before it devours your house. Jesus spoke of hypocrites like that, who, for a pretense, made long prayers and then devoured widows’ houses. We live in a day where there’s a breakout of secular philosophy. You look at our day and our age: Secularism has taken over in the arts, in the sciences, in philosophy, in education.

IV. Mark # 4: A Dangerous Breakup of the Social Fabric
Let me give you the fourth mark of Noah’s day: Not only was there a devilish breakout of secular philosophy, but there was a dangerous breakup of the social fabric. Look in verse 11. Look at it: “The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence” (Genesis 6:11). Corrupt. We in the Mid-South are watching our society grow corrupt. We have gone from being the Bible belt to the gambling girdle of America. Right here, in the Mid-South. And the government seems to be in favor of gambling. The only way they can take those millions of dollars out of Mississippi is to have millions of people lose. That’s the only way they can do it. The only way one person can win in the lottery is for millions to lose. And for the government to be in that business makes the government in the business of producing losers. Corrupt.

Gambling is not like legitimate business, which is win-win. Gambling is illegitimate business. It is win-lose. Don’t you see the difference? Oh, how we had people to pull the veil over our faces today!

Look again, in verse 11. Look at it. It’s so clear. It’s so plain. The Bible says that there was violence in that day (Genesis 6:11). We have entered the age of violence. Even in our generation we’ve seen two World Wars, and some of you are living who remember World War I. Many others remember World War II. And now it looks like we’re looking down the face of a loaded canon. All around our world there are countless minor wars. The implosion of the evil empire did not stop it: rebellions, and uprisings, and violent upheavals. And the crime rate is rising on our streets at an alarming speed. And there are kidnappings, and guerrilla warfare, and needless murders, and assaults. Read what’s happening in the murder rate in our own city. Citizens are afraid to walk in their own neighborhoods after dark. Great sums of money are being drained away by organized crime, and violence is the order of the day. “From the White House to the schoolhouse,” they’re saying.

What can we do? “As it was in the days of Noah” (Matthew 24:37). Go back to Genesis chapter 4, and look in verse 23—Genesis 4, verse 23: “And Lamech said unto his wives”—this man with a multiplicity of wives said unto his wives—“Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lamech, hearken unto my speech; for I have slain a man who wounded me, and a young man for hurting me. If Cain shall be avenged sevenfold, truly Lamech seventy and sevenfold” (Genesis 4:23–24). “Seventy and sevenfold” (Genesis 4:24). What’s he saying? “I am going to be a mass murderer.” That’s what he’s saying. I’m going to do it. And the Bible says that this was the spirit, the age of Noah. As it was, so shall it be. This man, this violent thug, the first one recorded in history: not only was he violent, but he knew how to brag about it. I wonder if they had rap music in that day?

Noah’s day was an age of violence, murder, unprovoked slayings, and atrocious crimes. Ours is a sadistic age. Little children in America now have to be walked to school by their parents. And the moms and dads turn the child over to the teacher, but then, they wonder what’s going to happen in the classroom. We live in our homes with our doors bolted and shut, and bars on the windows, and alarm systems. And while the criminals are on the streets unincarcerated, the people are locked behind their own doors, locked up. Many of our women are afraid of being attacked in broad daylight.

Now these people who fashion these philosophies—you know, these imaginations—they told us we need to listen to them. They told us if we would just relax about sex, then we wouldn’t have any more sex crimes. That’s a joke. Then, they told us we’ve been too tough on criminals. We need to go easier on the criminals. The rate of violent crime has exploded. They told us that our churches are too old-fashioned, that we’ve got to modernize, and liberalize, and rationalize, and compromise. We’ve about compromised ourselves out of business. They told us, in our schools, that we needed to boot out the Ten Commandments, Bible reading and prayer, and bring in values clarification. We’ve raised a generation of young rebels with refined intellects and undisciplined emotions. And violence and suicide are both growing exponentially in our schools. And now—God have mercy on us—one of our national leaders tells us we need to legalize drugs: that will lower the crime rate. I can tell you something else that will lower the crime rate. Legalize murder, and that won’t be a crime anymore. It would go right down, wouldn’t it?

How foolish we are! How silly we are! You legalize drugs, and we’ll have a generation of young people gagging, and choking, and strangling on that forbidden fruit. The problem is we have forgotten the Word of God. Society is in pandemonium. Do you know what the Bible says? The Bible says, if a man refuses to work, he ought not to eat (2 Thessalonians 3:10). Do you know what the Bible says? The Bible says that women ought to dress in modest apparel, and take care of their children (1 Timothy 2:9). Do you know what the Bible says? The Bible says don’t steal (Exodus 20:15). Do you know what the Bible says? The Bible says, don’t get drunk—period (Ephesians 5:18). Do you know what the Bible says? The Bible says you should sleep with one woman, your own wife. That’s what the Bible says. And we wonder why we’re in a mess like we’re in. You don’t have to be a rocket scientist to figure it out. There was, friend, in Noah’s day, a dangerous breakup of the social fabric. As it was, so shall it be (Matthew 24:37).

V. Mark # 5: A Divine Breaking of Sudden Judgment
Now here’s the last of these five signs that I want to give to you: There was a divine breaking of sudden judgment. Look, if you will, in chapter 6 and verse 3: “And the LORD said, My spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years” (Genesis 6:3). That means that God had been striving with them. That means that God had been warning them. That means that God had tried to penetrate their hard hearts, but their hearts were too hard. I mean, after all, they had eaten of the fruit of the tree of knowledge. They had their technology.
had their art. They had their culture. They had their entertainment. They were rich, and increased with goods, and had need of nothing, in their own eyes.

We are standing on the brink of judgment, and, while we have a form of godliness, we deny the power thereof. We have been chloroformed with a false religion, and modern Americans are willing to dance, and laugh, and mock, and amuse themselves, in the face of judgment. God’s Holy Spirit spoke then, but He would not continue to be mocked. Chapter 6 and verse 13: “And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence” (Genesis 6:13). Verse 17: “And behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth” (Genesis 6:17). Who believes in capital punishment? God does. God does. “I, even I, will bring a flood upon all the earth.”

But before God brings judgment, God always brings warning. Noah was more than a boat builder. Noah was a preacher of God’s Word. In 2 Peter chapter 2 and verse 5, the Bible calls Noah “a preacher of righteousness” (2 Peter 2:5). And not only was there Noah, that preacher of righteousness, but there was the prophet Enoch. Jude, verse 14: “And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints” (Jude 1:14). God said to Noah, “Noah, build an ark.” And in obedience, Noah built the ark.

Had the newspaper people gone out there, that day, to interview Noah, what a time they would have had. You can be certain they would have called him a calamity howler. You can be certain they would have called him a fundamentalist. They would have called him a sensationalist. They would have called him a bigot. Make no doubt about it. I know what they would have said about Noah. Noah would have found himself in the political cartoons of his day. He would even have found himself in the funny papers. But that generation had been warned. Never has there been a generation that has heard more Bible preaching than this generation, and never has there been a generation that’s done less with it.

Always, before God sends judgment, God sends a warning. I wonder, the day of the flood, I wonder: Did that day dawn bright and fair like this morning? Or, I wonder: Were the storm clouds rolling and boiling on the horizon? I don’t know. But I know this: that the flood came. Noah’s in the ark. A man turns up his face and sees those dark clouds, and a splotch of water hits him on the face. And then, another drop, and then, another drop, and then, torrents of rain. And then, the earth rocks, and great fissures open up in the earth, and the water that’s in the belly of the earth begins to bubble up and ooze up. The waters begin to rise. Those in the valleys head for the mountains. The water continues to rise, and those on the mountaintops begin to try to make their way to the ark. But the door is shut. The age of grace has passed for that generation. They have been warned. The door is shut. There was a sudden breaking of sovereign judgment, and God judged them.

I’ve often thought about Noah. Have you ever thought about the time he spent on that ark? The money, the labor, the ridicule? Can you imagine somebody building an ocean liner out in the middle of the desert? The ridicule that he got? But listen, friend. When Noah drove that last nail into that ark, it may have been the last thing that he had on this earth. But when Noah came out of the ark, he had inherited a new world. When Noah and his family went into that ark, they went into that ark a minority. When they came out, they came out the majority. And everything that Noah lost, he received back. Indescribably, he received it all back. “Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth” (Matthew 5:5).

Jesus Christ is our ark of safety. You listen to me. The Bible does not teach that we’re going to save this world. This world is condemned. Water, the first time; fire, the second time. Even Pentecost did not save Jerusalem. We’re not trying to save civilization from wreckage. We’re trying to save men from the wreckage of civilization. We’re trying to bring men, women, boys, and girls into the ark of safety—Jesus Christ. That ark was a picture of Jesus. And as the floodwaters and the rains beat upon that ark, Noah was safe, because he was on the inside. And everybody here, this morning, is either on the inside or the outside of the Lord Jesus Christ. And God sent me here to tell you to come on the inside—to come on in. There’s room for you. And whosoever will may come. I’ve preached as best as I know how. I have told you, “As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be” (Matthew 24:37). We’ve been warned, but we’ve been invited.

Conclusion
Come to Jesus. Friend, Christmas is not over yet. It’s not over until Jesus comes. And those little dimpled feet that lay in the straw in Bethlehem’s manager will be those nail-pierced feet that will touch the Mount of Olives, when He comes in a blaze of His glory. “Even so, come, Lord Jesus” (Revelation 22:20). Could this be the year that Jesus will come? “As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be” (Matthew 24:37).

Father, I pray that many will come to Jesus, today, and be saved. In His wonderful name. Amen.
The Days of Noah and the End of the Age

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 21, 1999
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 24:36–42

Outline

Introduction

I. Sexual Perversion
II. Scientific Progress
III. Secular Philosophy
IV. Social Plagues
V. Sudden Pandemonium

Conclusion

Introduction

Take God’s Word and turn to Matthew chapter 24. We're talking about “The Days of Noah and the End of the Age.” One of the most blessed truths that I know of is this: that Jesus Christ may come again at any moment. We’re not waiting for any scripture to be fulfilled. And just as surely as He came the first time, He’s coming the second time. Many missed the glories of His first coming because they did not believe the Word of God and were not prepared. And many will miss His Second Coming for the same reason. However, His Second Coming will be so far different from His first coming.

The first time He came, there was no room for Him in the manger. When He comes again, bless God, He is coming to inherit the earth. When He came the first time—and we'll see it in the Passion Play—He came to a crucifixion. Thank God, hallelujah, when He comes again, He is coming to a coronation. When He came the first time, He hung on a tree. When He comes the second time, He will sit upon His throne. We see a scene in the Passion Play where Jesus the Messiah stands before Pilate. When He comes again, Pilate will stand before Jesus. He came the first time, and they mocked Him, and He stood before them in shame. When He comes again, He will come in dazzling splendor. And I can hardly wait. He came the first time to redeem us. And, thank God, He did. But He is coming the second time to rule over us—to rule and to reign. He came the first time as a humble servant. He is coming again as the holy sovereign, the King of kings, the Lord of lords, the blessed and only Potentate (1
Now Jesus Christ Himself, in Matthew chapter 24, spoke of the course of events that would lead to the end of the age. And then He climaxes this passage, beginning in verse 36, speaking of His coming, and He said, “But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.” If anybody tells you they have a date that they will say, “This is specifically when Jesus Christ is coming again,” they have crossed over—or at least they’re very near—the borderline of blasphemy. No one knows the day, the hour, when Jesus will come again. But we can know the times and the seasons. Notice that this is conjoined by the word, “But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.” Now “the Son of man” is just Jesus’ terminology for Himself. It speaks of His humanity. “For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, the other left. Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come” (Matthew 24:36–42).

Now the only hope for this old, sin-cursed world is the Second Coming of Jesus. And we know that He is coming. We don’t know exactly when He is coming, but we know that the days in which He comes will be like the days of Noah. So Jesus is saying, “If you want to know what the days will be like”—not the day, but the days—“study the flood. See what it was like in the days of Noah”—that is, the days before the flood. “See what conditions existed then, and compare them, and see if you may be living in the last days.”

Now, take your Bibles and go back to Genesis 4, and we’re going to look at the days of Noah. In Genesis 4, 5 and 6 we have the days of Noah. And I want to give you, perhaps, five signs of the days of Noah, five conditions that were in the days of Noah, that, in my estimation, greatly parallel the days that are with us today, because history is like a broken phonograph record: it just seems to keep repeating itself. And so here are the five marks of Noah’s day. We’re talking about the days of Noah and the end of the age. And I want you to see how the days of Noah, the times of Noah, so exactly parallel our day today so as to warn us to be ready for the soon coming of our Lord.

I. Sexual Perversion

The first mark of Noah’s day is what I want to call sexual perversion—sexual perversion. Chapter 6, if you will, verses 1 and 2: “And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them, that the sons of God saw... the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose” (Genesis 6:1–2). And verse 5: “And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth” (Genesis 6:5).

Now there was a breakdown in the basic laws of marriage. Jesus said, in the scripture that I read, that they would be marrying and giving in marriage. That, commentators tell us, speaks not of simply marriage, but a multiplicity of marriages, many people having more than one marriage. We know, for example, that there was a man named Lamech who introduced polygamy into society. Look, if you will, in chapter 4 and verse 19: “And Lamech took unto him two wives” (Genesis 4:19). Now Jesus said very clearly, in the Gospels, that God’s plan was one man for one woman until death do them part (Matthew 19:4–6; Mark 10:6–9). But here we see in the days of Noah times of sexual immorality, sexual perversion. The restraints had been removed from society. And in Noah’s day the Bible says wickedness was great. That was, this immorality was rampant; sex was blatant.

When I was a boy, divorce was very, very unusual. If someone had a divorce, it was always accompanied with a sense of shame. But not in today’s society. We’ve seen, in our day, the divorce rate has exploded. And in the past fifty years, divorce has doubled, then tripled, and quadrupled, and doubled again, and our land is being flooded with a generation of children that have not know what it is to grow up in a home, a basic home, where one man and one woman are married and stay married all of their life like the home that I had the joy and the privilege of growing up in. And this is one of the great contributors to what we call juvenile delinquency. And a juvenile delinquent, so many times, is just a child trying to act like his parents. Crime comes out of broken homes. Not always, but many times.

Now I want you to see something else. And, by the way, since 1960, there has been a 400 percent increase in illegitimate births. Now if I had said ten percent, it would have been alarming, but since 1960, 400 percent. There are no illegitimate children; just illegitimate parents. Now the days of Noah were days of sexual perversion. Not only perversion of God’s laws concerning marriage, but perversion of God’s basic laws concerning sex.

Put in your margin Luke chapter 17, and read verses 26 and following. Here Jesus is linking the days of Noah with the days of Lot. Now, listen to it very carefully—verse 26: “And as it was in the days of [Noah], so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.” Now, watch this—verse 28: “Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed” (Luke 17:26–30).

Now we’re talking about sexual perversion, and Jesus says, “As it was in the days of [Noah],” and then Jesus links the days of Noah with the days of Lot. What were the days of Lot? The days of Lot were the days that were marked with the sin of sodomy, homosexuality. “Pastor Rogers, is that a sin?” Yes. “Don’t you know that it’s politically incorrect for you to say that?” Yes. “Do you know that it is biblically right for you to say that?” Yes. I want you to hear what the Bible says. Leviticus chapter 20, verse 13: “If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them” (Leviticus 20:13). In God’s economy—not in today’s economy, but in God’s economy—in Old Testament law, the sin of sodomy was a sin adjudicated by God as worthy of death. And God calls it abomination.

I was reading in today’s newspaper about the number of deaths in sub-Saharan Africa. So many of these deaths are attributed to AIDS. And AIDS is attributable, in a large degree, to sodomy and homosexuality. It is a built-in result of these sins—the sin of sexual perversion. Whether it be heterosexual perversion, or homosexual perversion, sexually transmitted diseases are a built-in judgment.

I want you to listen again to the Book of Romans 1, verse 27. Here God describes the sin of sexual perversion. Listen to it. This is the Word of God. Hear the Word of God: “And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet” (Romans 1:27)—receiving in themselves the payback, that recompense of their error, which is fitting. The New American Standard says, “the due penalty of their error.”

Now it’s so obvious that God links these sexual diseases with sin. Somebody says, “Now, wait a minute, Pastor Rogers. AIDS cannot be the judgment of God, because sometimes little children get AIDS; sometimes hemophiliacs get AIDS; sometimes surgeons may come in contact with the disease. Are you trying to tell me that God is judging their sin?” No, what they’re receiving in their bodies is the kickoff that sometimes comes from sin and infects other people. The Bible says that the sins of the fathers are visited upon the children to “the third and fourth generation of them that hate me” (Exodus 20:5; Deuteronomy 5:9).

If a man decides that he is going to commit suicide, and he steps off a building to commit suicide, he receives in himself what he has done. Now if he picks up a little child, and puts that child in his arm, and steps off the same building, the child will die. The child is innocent, but the child still is suffering from that man’s awful, vile decision.
What does God do with this sin—this sin of sexual perversion? Does God step in and straighten everybody out? No, God gives a warning. God’s Word is clear and plain, black print on white paper. God says it is an abomination. God says it is unseemly. But men in Noah’s day, and men in our day, flaunt the laws of Almighty God. So how does God deal with them? Well, I’ll tell you what God does. God leaves them alone. Romans 1, verse 24: “Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves” (Romans 1:24). God just gave them up. He says, “All right, there you go!” Romans 1, verse 26: “For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections”—God calls it “vile affections”—“for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature” (Romans 1:26). So here in two verses we have God saying “God gave them up”—Romans 1:24 and Romans 1:26. And then Romans 1:28 says, “And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind” (Romans 1:28). Now, what is “a reprobate mind”? That is a mind that is unable to distinguish right from wrong.

We live in a sex-saturated society. My wife is in Georgia today. She was over there for a women’s conference, and she stayed to visit with our Gayle and Mike and our grandchildren. So I was at home last night. So I said, “Well, I’ll just turn on television. I’ll watch television a little bit.” Folks, I’ll tell you, I, just sitting there with that thing in my hand, I am amazed, I am grieved at the filth, the debauchery, the inane, vapid, vile garbage that is being pumped into the living rooms of America’s society. And you know what they’ll tell you? They will tell you, “Hey, preacher, if you don’t like it, turn it off.” That doesn’t work!

Let me tell you why. That’s like saying, “There’s crime in the streets, and if you don’t like it, stay in your house”—same philosophy. Friend, the airwaves don’t belong to the pornographers; they belong to the people. Or that’s like people who want to pollute the air with their cigarette smoke. They say, “Hey, if you don’t like it, don’t breathe”—“don’t breathe.”

By the way, I was walking through the Atlanta airport the other day. It’s an interesting thing. If you smoke, I know you want to quit, so I hope you won’t think I’m making fun of you too much. I know you want to quit. Sure, you do. I was walking through them. They have a room now where they put everybody in there where they can smoke together. Have you seen that room? It was the funniest thing. I walked past there, and all these people in there, and that room was just blue with smoke. And up there on the back wall was the Marlboro man on a horse, out of doors. That man’s suntan, with that white hat on, I thought, “Is that not a joke? There’s that guy out there in the wide-open spaces, and all of those people in there treating themselves with cancer.” It was an amazing, amazing thing.

But those kinds of people say, “Look, I have a right to pollute the air.” They don’t have a right to pollute my air. They don’t have a right to pollute your air. And people don’t have a right to pollute the airwaves. That belongs to society together. What were the days of Noah like? They were days of sexual perversion.

II. Scientific Progress

Number two: not only were they days of sexual perversion, but the days of Noah were days of scientific progress. Great inventions were being made. There was a great advance in knowledge. The Bible teaches us that in the days of Noah there were men of renown. Secrets were being wrested from the earth. Look, if you will, in chapter 4 and verse 17: “And Cain knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare Enoch: and he builded a city” (Genesis 4:17). Don’t get the idea that these people were rural hicks. There’s nothing wrong with being rural. And if you’re rural, I’m not calling you a hick. Don’t write me a letter. But don’t get the idea that these were just agrarian people out there. They had great metropolitan areas. Look, if you will, in verse 22: “And Zillah, she also bare Tubalcain, an instructer of every artificer in brass and iron” (Genesis 4:22). There was an industrial revolution. There were new and cunning divisions. And man, who was driven from the paradise of Eden, now is trying to create his own paradise with fire and wit and wisdom.

Just think of the technological advance that there had to be in order to build the ark. You couldn’t build an ark. Noah built an ark. Those who have studied tell us that the ark is about the proportion of today’s modern seagoing vessels—ships, great ships. The ark was 450 feet long. That’s longer than a football field: 150 yards by 45 yards. It had a capacity of three million feet. That ark had to withstand the greatest storm this world has ever known. It was a great engineering feat. Can you imagine the stresses and the strains that were upon this ship? Noah built that ship.

Now there was a great technological advance in the days of Noah. And we’re seeing that in these last days in our own society. We’ve come from the horse-and-buggy days—some of you who are in this building tonight remember the horse-and-buggy days—to the splitting of the atom, man walking on the moon. We’ve pushed back the frontiers of science to where we’re afraid of what we know. We’re talking about genetic engineering. We’re talking about cloning human beings. We’re talking about all kinds of strange and esoteric devices. And we no longer can be amazed at anything that happens. A science called virtual reality is coming upon us. Our children are becoming—some of them—road kill on an information superhighway. The late, great Dr. Vance Havner said this: “Scientifically, we’re in the graduate school. But morally and spiritually, we’re in kindergarten.” And then Dr. Havner said, “Civilization is like a chimpanzee playing with matches in a roomful of dynamite.” And then he said, “Some fanatic may push a button and bury millions in a furnace of molten steel.”

III. Secular Philosophy
What were the days of Noah? The same as our days. They were days of sexual perversion. Our day is a day of sexual perversion. They were days of scientific progress. Our day is a day of scientific progress. Number three: they were days of secular philosophy. Look in chapter 6—Genesis 6, verses 5 and 6—and listen to it: “And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth,”—now, watch this—“and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. And it repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him in his heart” (Genesis 6:5–6).

Now the faith that Abel had died for, shed his blood for, the faith that was delivered to Adam, has been receding from the earth. The word imaginations here is a very interesting word. Our own Dr. John Philips, who’s a member of this church and a great Bible scholar, said this: that the word imaginations comes from a Hebrew root relating to pottery. And he said, “You can look at this verse and read it this way: what they were doing was molding society into their form.” He said—and I quote—“To fashion, as a potter. Men fashioned wicked philosophies and espoused filthy causes, made fashionable vile sins and endeavored to pour society into their mold.”

What they had done in the days of Noah is to substitute the mind of man for the Word of God. And we know that that is true in today’s society. We live in a day today that is called postmodern; that is, people don’t even argue today about what is right or what is wrong. Everybody is right, and everybody is wrong, because we’re all supposed to create our own truth. In Noah’s day, secularism had taken over the arts and the sciences, philosophy and education.

And so, what were the days of Noah? The days of Noah were days of sexual perversion. The days of Noah were days of scientific progress. The days of Noah were days of secular philosophy. Now the only acceptable bigotry today is against Christians; to discredit Bible Christians. You can be bigoted against a Bible Christian and be politically correct today. “As it was in the days of [Noah], so shall it be” (Luke 17:26).

IV. Social Plagues
Sign number four: the days of Noah were days of social plagues. Look, if you will, in chapter 6 and verse 11: “The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence” (Genesis 6:11). We live in a day of violence. Our children are given violent toys to play with. Violence, gore, and blood fill the television screens. Our world is a swamp of discontent where the mosquitoes of hate are breeding. And you read the newspaper about skyjackings and kidnappings and guerilla warfare and needless murders and assaults on the streets of our cities. These things are daily occurrences. And even in our fair city of Memphis people are afraid to walk on the streets at nighttime. And vast amounts of money are being drained out of society by legalized crime, as well as illegal crime. I say, “Illegalize crime.” I’m about to get off on a tangent. All right, look, if you will, here in Genesis chapter 4 and verse 23. We’re talking about the days of Noah: “And Lamech said unto his wives, Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lamech, hearken unto my speech: for I have slain a man to my wounding, and a young man to my hurt.” That is, “I got in a battle. I killed him, but he wounded me.” And then he says, with a sense of vengeance, in verse 24, “If Cain shall be avenged seven-fold, truly Lamech seventy and sevenfold” (Genesis 4:23–24). Lamech was going to go on a crime spree. He was going to get vengeance. He is filled with violence, and he is becoming a violent thug. And the thing about Lamech here: not only did he commit murder, but he is bragging about it. He is violent. He is filled with violence. And he is filled with pride over his violence.

The days of Noah were days of violence, murder, unprovoked slayings, atrocious crimes. And I read about the anniversary of the Jonesboro massacre in the newspaper today. What a heartache! Ours is a sadistic age. Our people are living behind locked doors and barred windows while the criminals are on the streets. People are locking themselves behind iron bars. Since 1960, there has been a 560 percent increase in violent crime. Now if I said violent crime had doubled, that would be shocking. But we listen to these statistics, and we somehow have become almost numb to them.

These secular philosophies that we’ve just talked about, they’ve done a good job on us. They told us that if we would relax about sex and wouldn’t get upright about it, things would be better. And yet sex crimes are on an increase. They told us that we’ve been too tough on criminals and we need to go easy on them. And the rate of violent crime exploded. They told us that churches are too old-fashioned, that we must modernize and liberalize and rationalize and compromise. And now those churches are closed. They told us that in our schools we have to kick out God and the Ten Commandments, and bring in values clarification. And now we have to put policeman in the halls of our schools. They told us that we need to legalize drugs in order to deal with them. Those same people would tell us we need to put out fire with gasoline, I’m sure.

Now we need to go back and read the Bible. The days of Noah—the days of Noah—were days, folks, of social panic.
V. Sudden Pandemonium

Last of all, what were the days of Noah like? They were days of sudden pandemonium. Look, if you will, in Genesis chapter 6 and verse 3: “And the LORD said, My spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he is also flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years” (Genesis 6:3). God’s Holy Spirit had tried to penetrate their heart. God had spoken to them. God had given them His Word. He had warned them and warned them, and Noah preached for 120 years with the wrath of God in the foreground, the ring of hammers in the background. These people married, giving in marriage. They ate, they drank, they prided themselves in their technology, their art, their culture, their entertainment. They had no need of God, and yet the flood came. They mocked the idea of Noah. They mocked the idea of the flood.

Look, if you will, in verse 13 of this same chapter: “And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth” (Genesis 6:13). Now God is a God of love, but God did bring judgment. The Bible says, in 2 Peter chapter 2, verse 5, the Lord “spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly” (2 Peter 2:5). Noah warned them. They would not listen. I can imagine if Dan Rather had gone out to interview old Noah, what a day they would have had! They would have talked about Noah as a religious fanatic. He would have been—he, Noah, and his boat. They would have had political cartoons in the prominent newspapers. There would be jokes about Noah in the funny papers. Preachers who preached about the flood coming would have been called a calamity howler.

Not this Sunday, but last week, or two weeks ago, there was an article by our local religion editor, who talked about warning people about the Second Coming as something that is ludicrous, something that is funny. To talk about the Second Coming of Jesus is to be known as a fundamentalist, a sensationalist, a bigot. And yet the Bible says the flood came.

Now God is a God of mercy, but friend, the raging water of God’s wrath is furiously pounding against the dam of His mercy. The flood of God’s wrath is coming upon this world. “As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the day of the coming of the Son of man” (Luke 17:26) Look in verse 17: “And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die” (Genesis 6:17).

Now I don’t know what it was like the day the flood came. I don’t know whether that day dawned bright and fair. But I do know that there came a time when the earth cracked open and great water belched out of the earth. I do know that there was a time when the heavens were loosed and the rain began to come. God had called Noah into the ark. In chapter 7 and verse 1, He says, “Noah, come into the ark” (Genesis 7:1). And God shut Noah in. And God shut these other people out. And for those people, the day of grace had passed, and the Day of Judgment had come.

And it’s so much like our day. Put this scripture down—2 Peter chapter 3, verses 3 through 7: “Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the father fell asleep, all things continue as they were form the beginning of creation.” That is, “Why hasn’t Jesus come? Our fathers and our grandfathers, they’re in the grave, and preachers have been preaching about the Second Coming of Jesus.” And then Peter goes on to say, “For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water: whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished.” What he’s saying is, the God who made heaven and earth, and divided the land from the water, then is the same God that sent the flood. And then he makes an application to those folks living in Memphis, Tennessee in 1999: “But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word…”—the same word of God that created the heavens to begin with—“by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men” (2 Peter 3:3–7).

God has promised He will never destroy the world with water again, but He has promised that He will destroy it with fire. And this world is reserved with fire. And, actually, the Greek scholars tell us that this word “reserved unto fire” literally means, “stored with fire.” “As it was, so shall it be.” God is not fickle. God is not forgetful. God is faithful.

Conclusion

Now, let me just close the message by giving you a little word of encouragement. I want you to think of the time and the money and the labor that Noah spent building this ark. The Bible tells us very little about it, but you know it was a monumental task. Think of the ridicule that Noah must have endured. And when he drove the last nail in that ark and went into that ark, he may have gone in penniless. I know he left everything that he owned outside that ark. But when he came out of that ark, he inherited a new world. When he went in, he went in a pauper; when he came out, he was very wealthy. When he went into the ark, he went in a minority; when he came out, he came out the majority. And I’m telling you, folks, that everything that we spend to get out the gospel we will receive back with multiplied interest. The Bible says, “Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth” (Matthew 5:5).
God, Give Us Faithful Men
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: June 5, 1994

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 25:21

"His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord."

MATTHEW 25:21

Outline

Introduction
I. What Are Some Areas of Faithfulness?
   A. Faithful to Your Family
   B. Faithful to Your Finances
   C. Faithful to Your Friends
   D. Faithful to the Fellowship
   E. Faithful to the Faith
II. Why Should You Be Faithful?
   A. Jesus Christ Is Faithful to Us
      1. Faithful in Failure
      2. Faithful in Temptation
      3. Faithful to Keep Us from Falling
III. How Should You Be Faithful?
   A. Be Faithful in the Small Things
   B. Be Faithful in the Secret Things
   C. Be Faithful in the Sacred Things
Conclusion

Introduction

I want you to take God’s Word tonight, if you will, and be finding the Gospel of Matthew—Matthew chapter 25 and verse 21. Tonight, we’re talking about faithfulness. The title of the message: “God Give Us Faithful Men.” Now, what do we mean by faithfulness? Well, we mean integrity. We mean loyalty. We mean steadfastness. We mean dependability, fidelity. All of these things are faithfulness. When our Lord comes, I want Him to say, in the words of Matthew chapter 25, verse 21, “His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.” (Matthew 25:21)

I heard about a dog that had his tail cut off, and they buried the dog’s tail and thought they were done with it. But the dog found it and dug it up and brought it back in his mouth. They were horrified, took it away from him, and buried it deeper. He dug it up again and did that three times in a row. He was faithful to the end.

I want to ask you a question. Are you faithful? I mean, can you be counted on? Do you know what Proverbs says in Proverbs chapter 25 and verse 19? “Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.” (Proverbs 25:19) That’s Proverbs 25 and verse 19. Today there is a serious lack of genuine integrity and faithfulness among men. Men’s words seem to mean little today, whether it’s a marriage contract, or a business contract, or a treaty between nations.

I was reading in a news magazine about a Gallup report. They surveyed and found out something that was appalling. It was sickening. Forty percent—that’s almost fifty percent of Americans—admit to calling in sick when they’re not sick, shortchanging a customer, pilfering, stealing on the job, cheating in examinations in school. And then Mr. Gallup said, “It is my view as a survey researcher that we are facing in this nation a moral crisis of the first dimension. The great problems of our time, I believe, are moral and spiritual rather than political and economical.” That is a mouthful. That is true. We are facing a crisis. God give us faithful men!

My wife and I many years ago visited Yellowstone National Park. We were fortunate to stay in the old lodge just outside the geyser known as Old Faithful, and just as far about from our room as I am from you, Bob Sorrell, or maybe just a little further, was that geyser. Every sixty-five minutes—you could set your watch by it—it would spew water 170 feet in the air. Now there were other geysers there in the park that were more spectacular, but everybody loved this one. You know why? It could be counted on. It was given the name Old Faithful. God give us faithful men!

I want to give you a verse—1 Corinthians chapter 4 and verse 2: “Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.” (1 Corinthians 4:2) Now, friend, that’s not just a desire. That is a requirement. What God is saying is this: Faithfulness is the basic, rudimentary, fundamental ingredient of character. You will not know God’s blessing apart from faithfulness. Put this verse down—Psalm 31, verse 23: “O love the LORD, all ye his saints: for the LORD preserveth the faithful.” (Psalm 31:23) Do you want God to watch out over you and take care of you? God preserveth the faithful.

Friend, faithfulness is God’s requirement for your stewardship. Faithfulness is God’s measurement for your blessing. One day, I say, you are going to stand before God, I’m going to stand before God, and the reward, or the lack of it, is going to be according to our faithfulness. I want to hear Jesus say to me, “Adrian, well done, thou good and faithful servant.” (Matthew 25:21; Matthew 25:23) All the men here tonight, I want to ask you this question: Are you a faithful man? Are you faithful to your wife? Are you faithful to your children? Are you faithful to your employer? Are you faithful to your government? Can you be counted on? Do you have integrity?

I. What Are Some Areas of Faithfulness?
Well, let’s check up. Let’s talk about some areas of faithfulness.

A. Faithful to Your Family
Let’s go back to the family. Are you faithful to your family? The Marines, Brother Bill, have a motto: semper fidelis—“always faithful.” That ought to be the motto of every married man: “always faithful.” Adultery is the ultimate act of unfaithfulness. When you marry a woman, you make a solemn vow to keep yourself to her and her alone. But you don’t have to commit the physical act of adultery to be unfaithful. Some have love affairs with their work, with sports, and other things.

Kids need a dad who will be faithful. You know, one of the major problems that I’ve found in talking with teenagers is they have bitterness. They have resentment. Much of that resentment is directed not toward the mother, but toward the father; and it is directed to the father over the matter of broken promises, a dad that does not keep his word. Be careful what you tell your children. In a weak moment to get them out of the way, we'll promise them anything. They'll ask, “Can we do this? Can we do that, Daddy, next week?” “Yes, sure, fine.” And then you forget. But they don’t forget. They don’t forget when they grow up. As a matter of fact, be very careful, because what you say we might do, they hear that as saying we will do. “Can we go fishing next week?” “Well, we might do it.” They start packing the fishing gear right there. They are waiting, believing in Dad, and then one promise after another promise after another promise is broken.

Maybe as dads, if you want to restore your relationship to your teenage son, maybe one of the best things you could do is to go back and search those times when you have broken your promises to that boy and go to him and say, “I remember, and thus and thus and thus a time I promised you something, and I didn’t do it. I’ve asked God to forgive me, and I want you to forgive me.” And then ask him this question—and I’ve asked my own sons this question, and my daughters: “Have I ever made a promise to you that I’ve failed to keep? If so, I want you to tell me, because I want to repent. I want you to believe that your dad is a faithful man.” We need to be faithful with our family.

B. Faithful to Your Finances
We need to be faithful with our finances. Listen to this verse. Men, listen to it. Luke 16, verses 10 through 13. Jesus said, “He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.” Now, listen to what Jesus said as He follows that statement. That statement is the premise. And now, listen to the therefore: “If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon,”—now, what is that? What is unrighteous mammon? Money, finances. “If you’ve not been faithful in finances”—“who will commit to your trust the true riches? And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man’s, who shall give you that which is your own? No servant can love two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.” (Luke 16:10–13) Mammon, again, means “finances, money.” You just can’t do it. One God is enough for everybody. What Jesus Christ is saying is how you handle your money is an indication of how you would handle spiritual treasure.

Did you know that God may be withholding a blessing from you that He wants to give you because He’s first tried you with money—God has given you money—and you haven’t been faithful with that money, and therefore God cannot give you spiritual blessings? Listen to it. The Bible says in this verse—listen to it—“If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?” What are the true riches? That is spiritual power. That is insight into the Word of God. That is answered prayer. That is fellowship with Jesus Christ. That is “joy unspeakable and full of glory.” (1 Peter 1:8) If you have those things, you are truly rich. But God gave you money, and you weren’t faithful with that. So, why should God give you the true riches?

Do you know what most of us think? Here’s what most of us think. Most of us have it 180 degrees wrong. Most of us think, “You know, if I’ll just get right with God; if I’ll live like God wants me to live; if I get right spiritually, then God will bless me materially.” That’s what most of us think. Most of us think that if we’ll get right with God spiritually, God will bless us materially. But the Bible says, “If you are not right with that which is material, I can’t bless you spiritually.” We just get it backwards. God gives us a test. God gives us money. God gives us things. God may be withholding a blessing from you, sir, because you’ve not been faithful in the earning, the giving, the saving, and the spending of your money. Are you faithful?

Let me tell you what the Bible says you ought to do if you’re a member of Bellevue Baptist Church. First Corinthians chapter 16, and verse 2: “Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.” (1 Corinthians 16:2) That was Paul’s instruction to a church at Corinth, telling them how to bring their money to God’s house on God’s day, that God’s work will be done in God’s way, upon the first day of the week. “Lay by him in store.” It is not emotional; it is methodical. You are to give proportionately, as God has prospered you.
C. Faithful to Your Friends

We need some men who will be faithful to the family. We need some men who will be faithful in finances. I’ll tell you something else that’s needed today: some men who are faithful to their friends. Did you know that if you have friends, you are exceedingly blessed? The Bible says in Proverbs chapter 17 and verse 17, “A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.” (Proverbs 17:17) Proverbs chapter 18 and verse 24: “A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.” (Proverbs 18:24) Do you have friends? Your friends will fail. Your friends will stumble. Your friends will forget. Your friends will sometimes do you wrong. But if you have a friend, thank God, be a friend to your friend. Be a faithful friend.

One man got up late at night. He was thinking about his friend and he wrote these words. And I want you to listen. He took the idea from 1 Corinthians 13 that speaks of love, and here’s what he wrote to his friend: “During the past few months, I have read and reread the thirteenth chapter of 1 Corinthians. I hope I have not violated these verses by writing them into friendship, but I think you will see the message that I see in them.”

Now as I read what he wrote to his friend, I want you to think about your friend and see if this is the kind of a friend you are, sir, to your friend: “Friendship is slow to lose patience. It looks for a way of being constructive. It is not possessive. It is neither eager to impress others, nor does it cherish inflated ideas of its own importance. Friendship has good manners and does not pursue selfish advantage at the other’s expense. It is not touchy. It does not keep account of slights or gloat over the mistakes of the other. A friend does not make himself big by making the other small. On the contrary, it is glad. Friendship is glad when truth prevails. It knows no limits to its endurance, no end to its trust, no failing of its hope, and in this it can outlast anything. True friendship stands when all else has fallen.” Do you want to be that kind of a friend? Are you a faithful person? Then that same man who wrote these words said, “Here is a creed to my friend. I owe you loyalty, even to my hurt. But I do not owe you my agreement. I owe you tolerance and encouragement and recognition of your gifts. I owe you a part of me. I owe you a part of me: my time, my thoughts, my possessions, and my vulnerability. I owe you serious consideration of your admonishment of me. I owe you forgiveness. A friend who truly forgives doesn’t need to forget.” I want to be that kind of a friend. I want to have that kind of a friend.

I want to ask you a question. If I were to ask you tonight to sit down and write letters to five people—write five people that you know that you could count on, five people that you say this is a faithful man, write a letter to five people—would anybody write you a letter? Are you known as a faithful man? Fidelity, dependability, integrity—it is missing.
D. Faithful to the Fellowship

We need to be faithful to the family, faithful in our finances, faithful to our friends. I'll tell you something else that we need to be faithful to: to the fellowship, to the church of the Lord Jesus Christ. And I'm talking specifically to those of you who are members of Bellevue Baptist Church. You need to be faithful to this particular church. Romans 12, verse 5: “So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.” (Romans 12:5) I belong to you, and you belong to me. And don’t say, “It’s none of your business, Pastor, what I do.” It is plenty of my business. And it is plenty of your business what I do. We are members one to another, and we owe to one another a fearful loyalty. The Bible teaches that we are to be faithful to the fellowship, and that means the attendance of the fellowship. Hebrews 10:25 says we are not to forsake “the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is.” (Hebrews 10:25)

Do you know what is happening in America today? Something that I have not seen in years past as I have been a pastor. There are people today who claim to be Christians, who know and love the Lord Jesus Christ, who do not belong to and are not faithful to a local fellowship. Such a thing was unheard of, un-thought of, in the Bible. To be a Christian meant that you were faithful to the fellowship that you attended when the gathering gathered together; that you were there. If you stopped attending, they assumed that you were lost; that you were an apostate; that you went back on God.

Now people say, “Well, I believe in Christianity, but I am not necessarily a member of a local church. But I’m a member of the universal church.” That’s like saying, “Well, I believe in football.” I say, “What team do you play for?” “Well, I’m just a part of the NFL.” “And you’re not part of any team?” I mean, it’s foolish. We need to be faithful to the church.

Very frankly, some of you deacons are not as faithful as you ought to be. Some of our teachers are not as faithful as they ought to be. Some of our committee people are not as faithful as they ought to be. And the average member is not as faithful as they ought to be. We have joined the cult of the comfortable and we come when it pleases us. If something interrupts us, we say, “Oh well, it’s all right.” Friend, I believe we ought to be in the house of God on a regular basis, bringing our prayers, and our tithe, and our Bible, and our love, and our influence to the house of God faithfully week after week after week. What do we have, what do we do, that is more important than being a part of the blood-bought Body of the Lord Jesus Christ, the local, visible expression of the Body of Christ? And the Bible says we are not to forsake “the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is.”

Let me tell you what you say when you come to church. You say two things. You say, number one, “God is important to me.” I'll tell you what else you say: you say to your brothers and sisters in Christ, “You are important to me.” It is very important. You don’t just simply go to impress. You go to bless one another. The Bible says we are to exhort one another, and so much the more, as we see the day approaching. (Hebrews 10:25)

E. Faithful to the Faith

Again, here is something that you need to be faithful to. You need to be faithful not only to the fellowship, but faithful to the faith—I mean, to the Word of God. There is a battle today for the Bible. In 2 Timothy chapter 1, verses 13 and 14, the Apostle Paul had to tell Timothy, “Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Jesus Christ. That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.” (2 Timothy 1:13–14) I see a generation of young people today—not necessarily in this church, because I think our young people are a cut above the average—but as I go in and out among people, there is no conviction. They don’t know the great truths of the Word of God. They don’t stand for the faith that was once for all delivered unto the saints. (Jude 1:3)

And whose responsibility is it? You say, “Well, Pastor, it’s yours to stand in the pulpit and teach us.” No, it is yours, mister, as a dad to instill that faith into your children, and to be faithful to the faith, and to teach these young people what the Word of God says, and to make certain you know and you can pass it onto your son. Read Deuteronomy chapter 6 and see what God commands of the fathers when you get home.

Now, you think about it. We’re only one generation away from paganism. It’s like running a race, a relay race. If you drop the baton, then the race is over. Friend, we’ve got to pass it on to this next generation. Give us some men who are faithful to the faith.

William Booth founded the Salvation Army. Do you know what William Booth said that the chief danger of the twentieth century would be? He said it would be religion without the Holy Spirit, forgiveness without repentance, salvation without regeneration, and heaven without hell. That’s what is being preached today in pulpits across America.

II. Why Should You Be Faithful?

Now, why should we be faithful? I mean, what is the motivation? Let me give you some reasons why you ought to be a faithful man—faithful to your family, faithful with your finances, faithful to your friends, faithful to the fellowship, faithful to the faith. Why?

A. Jesus Christ Is Faithful to Us

Well, number one, friend: Jesus Christ is faithful to us. I mean He is faithful to us.

1. Faithful in Failure

For example, which of us has not sinned? Who has not failed and stumbled? But thank God for 1 John 1, verse 9: “If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.” (1 John 1:9) How I need that verse! I needed it this week. I failed big time. You say, “What did you do, Pastor?” I’m not going to tell you. Maybe I ought to tell you, because your imagination would be worse. But, oh, just simply say, “My God, I’m sorry. I failed,” and to have the precious blood of Jesus to cleanse. And He’s never failed to do it. All my Christian life He has been faithful to me. I love it when Bernita sings that song, “He Has Been Faithful to Me.” Faithful in failure.

2. Faithful in Temptation
Why, He’s been faithful in temptation. Are you tempted? I am every day! But thank God for 1 Corinthians chapter 10, verse 13, that says, “There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may able to bear it.” (1 Corinthians 10:13) Thank God for that! I wouldn’t, I couldn’t make it. I couldn’t stand. I would fall. I would fail were it not for the faithfulness of God to help me in time of temptation.

3. Faithful to Keep Us from Falling
Friend, He is faithful to keep us from falling. Listen to 1 Thessalonians chapter 5, verses 23 and 24: “And I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of out Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is he who calleth you, who also will do it.” (1 Thessalonians 5:23–24) We don’t keep saved by holding on to God. We are kept because He holds on to us. He preserves us faithful to the end.

I hear people sometimes get up in a testimony meeting, and they talk about walking with the Lord, and then they end their testimony something like this: “And, brethren, pray for us that we’ll hold out faithful to the end.” Well, I think I know what they mean, but I always kind of smile a little bit when they say that. I kind of picture Noah’s Ark and eight pegs out there sticking out of Noah’s Ark, and Noah and his wife and his family holding on to those slimy pegs, the boat rocking like this. Rather than being on the inside of the ark, they’re out there holding on to the ark. And Noah says, “Mrs. Noah, Honey, pray for me that I’ll hold out faithful to the end.” He never would have made it. But, friend, thank God that God said, “Noah, come into the ark.” When he came in, God shut the door. And God that shut the water out shut Noah in. He may have fallen down inside that ark, but he never fell out of it. Friend, faithful is He who calls you.

See, it’s not that we hold onto Him—though we ought to—but something even better is that He holds on to us. One of these days, as we preached this morning, our Lord is going to step out of the glory. One of these days, Jesus is coming. We look for His coming, and we long for His coming. Do you know what He said to the Philadelphian church? Revelation chapter 2, verse 10: “Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.” (Revelation 2:10)
You know, I’m along in my ministry right now where my great goal is to finish well. You know, it doesn’t matter how far ahead you may be in a race—if you quit running, you’ll lose it, no matter how far ahead you are. Here is the grizzled old warrior, the Apostle Paul. He is in prison. He has been preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ. They can’t make him let up, back up, or shut up, so they put him in prison. And he’s writing to his son in the ministry, young Timothy. And this is what he says to Timothy in 2 Timothy chapter 4, beginning in verse 6: “I am now ready to be offered,”—what he means here is, “I’m ready to be a sacrificial lamb; I’m ready to be offered”—“and the time of my departure is at hand.” That is, “I’m getting ready to leave this world.” And then he says, “I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.” (2 Timothy 4:6–8)

I want you to see the old Apostle Paul now. His eyesight is gone. He is probably having to dictate this letter to a stenographer, an amanuensis, as they call them. And then they say, “Well, Paul, do you want to sign? And Paul takes his palsied hand and he says, “You see what big letters I’m writing with. But it’s me, Paul.” Then there comes a knock at the door. “Paul, the time has come. Hate to tell you this, Paul, but we’re going to cut off your head. The executioner has got his ax sharpened. Come with me, Paul. We’re going to take that last walk.” And he unlocks that cell door. Out comes Paul, the greatest Christian who ever lived.

You know, I don’t know how to picture Paul. I picture him in my mind sort of a balding man, little bald pate, a little horseshoe hair cut, little spindly legs, kind of humpbacked, squinty eyes, his body all scarred. He has been shipwrecked. He has fought with wild beasts. He has been stoned and left for dead. He has rotted in jail. He has fasted. He’s walking out there, and they lead him out, and there’s that old block there. They’re going to execute him. There’s that lethal weapon. That ax is going to take off his head. They lead him down to the Tiber River that will soon drink his blood. Paul is just kind of humming. The guard says, “Are you singing?” “Yeah, I didn’t know you were listening. I was just humming a little song, one that Jim Whitmire taught me.” “Well, what’s the name of it? Never heard that, Paul.” “Oh, it’s just a little tune: ‘It Will Be Worth It All When We See Jesus.’” And they say, “Well, all right, Paul, kneel down. Are you afraid?” “Oh, no, I’m not afraid. I die daily.” “What?” “Yeah, I’ve been doing this for a long time. I die daily. Listen man. I’m wanting to go and be with Jesus.” “Well, Paul, you’re strange.” “Paul, do you have any last words?” “Oh, yes, brother, I’ve got some last words.” “What are they?” “Jesus Christ is Lord.” Down comes that ax, and off goes that head.

The next scene is in heaven. There are Paul and Jesus. “Welcome home, Son!
Good to see you, Paul!” “Lord Jesus, before you say anything, I want to tell you, Lord, thank you for saving me. Thank you, Lord, every time I sinned, you forgave me. Thank you, Lord, that you kept me by your grace. Thank you, Lord, that you delivered me out of temptation. Thank you, Lord. And, Lord, I want to tell you something else. I’ve made mistakes. I’ve failed. But, Lord, I was faithful to the fight. I was faithful to the faith. And I was faithful to the finish.” And I can hear Jesus as He says to him, “Paul, well done, good and faithful servant.”

Don’t you want Him to say that to you? I do. I want Him to say, “Adrian, you have been my man. You have been faithful.” Why should we be faithful? Because He is faithful.

III. How Should You Be Faithful?
Let me just talk to you for a little bit about how to be faithful, and I’ll be finished.

A. Be Faithful in the Small Things
First of all, you need to be faithful in the small things. Here is what separates people. Listen to this verse in Luke chapter 16 and verse 10: “He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.” (Luke 16:10) All big things are made of little things. Your body, for example, has various members, and these members have various parts, and these parts have smaller components, cells, and these cells are made up of molecules. Everything that is big is made of something that is small. The ocean, vast as the ocean is, the ocean is made up of drops, and the drops are made up of molecules, and the molecules are made up of atoms. You can’t have anything big without having something small. Time—all of the millions and billions of years that may have been or ever will be—is made up of the ages, and the ages are made up of the years, and the years are made up of the days, and the days are made up of the hours, and the hours of the minutes, and the minutes of the seconds and the microseconds. If you’ll be faithful in the small things, the big things will take care of themselves.

Learn to be faithful in life. Do you know what the big things in life are made out of? Little acts, little words, little thoughts. You can’t have the much without having the little. If I would say anything to you preacher boys who are here today, be faithful in the small things. Use integrity in the small things. Wilbur Chapman, mightily used of God, said this: “The rule that governs my life is this: Anything that dims my vision of Christ, or takes away my taste for Bible study, or cramps my prayer life, or makes Christian work difficult, is wrong for me, and I must as a Christian turn away from it.”

Do you know what we need to do as dads, men? We need to train our children to be faithful in little things. And, moms and dads, I want to say this: When you bring them to church on Sunday morning, teach them to bring their pennies to give to Jesus. I mean it costs us more money to give them an envelope than it does what we get back in it. But you teach them. You say, “You moneygrubber! You want the money from those little kiddies?” You bet I do! I want them to bring those pennies to Jesus. And I’ll tell you why. You teach that boy or girl to bring his pennies to Jesus Christ on Sunday morning, one day he may give a million, two million, dollars to the cause of Christ, because he learned to be faithful in that which is least so he can learn to be faithful in that which is much.

You see, you take the men in the Bible that have been used of God—they’ve been faithful in small things. People come to Bellevue Baptist Church, and they look around and say, “Wow!” I had a country preacher stand up here the other day and say, “You could stack a lot of hay in here.” Friend, I want you to know I pastored a church, if we had a crowd like is in the choir tonight, I would have said that was one of the biggest crowds we had all year. I got just as much joy pastoring that church as I do pastoring this church. There are no small churches. You be faithful in that which people call small.

David, before he went out against Goliath, slew a lion and he slew a bear. And that’s the way he knew he could take care of Goliath. He said, “The God that helped me with that lion, and God that helped with that bear, is the God that’s going to help me with you, and I’m going to make you a foot shorter at the top.” (1 Samuel 17:36) Listen. David was a man who knew how to be faithful keeping his father’s sheep, in the small things, and therefore he could be king over Israel. Most of us are going to fail not in the big thing; we’re going to fail in the small thing.

A man was an executive in a company. They were going to move him up and make him one of the chief executives. And the board had already talked about it. It was a monumental advancement. The owner of this company just happened to be behind this man in the cafeteria line at the company cafeteria and he saw that man take a pat of butter—a pat of butter, you know what that is, a little square of butter; I think probably about three cents on the register—put it on his tray, and put a slice of bread on top of it so the cashier wouldn’t see it. He didn’t know that the CEO was right behind him, but he saw that. The CEO went back to the board and said, “We’ve got the wrong man. He doesn’t have integrity.” And for three cents he lost multiplied thousands and thousands of dollars.

Now if humans would do that, how much more would the heavenly Father, who wants to advance you and bless you, say, “I can’t bless him: He doesn’t have integrity in the small things.” God give us faithful men!

B. Be Faithful in the Secret Things

Be faithful in the small things. And be faithful in the secret things. What you are in secret is what you are—nothing more or nothing less. I’m talking to some men—you travel a lot, you go into these motels, and now in almost every motel there’s a television. In that television are these R-rated and X-rated films. Nobody is in there but you. Oh, no, I’m wrong. Jesus is in that room. Jesus is in that room! And, friend, what you are in that room when your wife is not there and your children are not there and your boss is not there, that is what you are. And you don’t have to keep on making up your mind whether or not you’re going to watch that filth. Say, “My mind is settled. I have made a covenant with my eyes. I will not do it. My heart is fixed. I will live for God.” Be faithful, friend, in the small things. Be faithful in the secret things. And thy Father which seeth in secret will reward thee openly. (Matthew 6:4, 6, 18)

I was just looking the other night on television at the Sistine Chapel. It’s been cleaned and refurbished. Michelangelo painted the Sistine Chapel. And I read somewhere of an account of Michelangelo who was up there in a corner painting over a place no one else could see, and they said, “Hey, forget that. Nobody else can see it.” He said, “I know it’s there.” Do you paint the corners of your life that nobody else can see?

C. Be Faithful in the Sacred Things
And be faithful, dear friend, in the sacred things: the small things, the secret things, the sacred things. Be faithful to meet with God.

Conclusion
Do you know how you have faithfulness? Not by resolution, not by gritting your teeth; the Bible says in Galatians chapter 5 and verse 22, “The fruit of the Spirit”—now your Bible says—“is…faith” (Galatians 5:22)—but that could be translated, “The fruit of the Spirit is “faithfulness.” Just abide in Him. Come to Him. Be committed to Him. Surrender to Him. Yield to Him. And God will make you faithful. God give us faithful men!
Roll Call at the Cross
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: March 16, 1986
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27

"Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children."
MATTHEW 27:25

Outline
Introduction
I. Self-Righteousness Crucified Jesus
II. Hypocrisy Crucified Jesus
III. Cowardliness Crucified Jesus
IV. Ignorance Crucified Jesus
V. Hardness Crucified Jesus
VI. Indifference Crucified Jesus
VII. Skepticism and Cynicism Crucified Jesus

Conclusion

Introduction
Would you take God's Word and turn to Matthew chapter 27? Just leave your Bibles open there and let me say a word before we look into that chapter. In a sense, we're going to deal with that entire chapter in these few moments. We have been selecting a verse here and a verse there. And, that chapter deals with what I call "the dirtiest deed ever done," and that deed was the crucifixion of the very Son of God. And, I believe the twenty-seventh chapter of the Gospel of Matthew is one that every Christian ought to read with frequency to emblazon into his heart and to etch upon his mind and soul and consciousness the agony that Jesus went through. But, I want to tell you, if you had the imagination of a poet, the mind of a philosopher, the hand of an artist, and the tongue of a great singer, then you could not imagine, describe, or depict the horror and tragedy that was enacted on that hill that we call Calvary, the place where Jesus, the Son of God and the Mighty Maker, died for man the creature's sin.

I want to use for a title for my message this morning "The Roll Call at the Cross" because I want us to see who crucified Jesus. Now, who did crucify Jesus? "Well," you say, "pastor, the Jews crucified Jesus." Well, let me remind you that His apostles were Jews. The disciples were Jews. "Well," you say, "the Romans crucified Jesus." Well, the Roman soldiers were carrying out orders. "Well," you say, "we crucified Jesus." Now you’re getting closer to the truth. The truth of the matter is that we all had a part in the crucifixion of Jesus. We sing that song: “Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?” And that’s a good question to ask.

Dr. R. G. Lee went to Israel for the first time—to the Holy Land. He went to that place so many of us love to go, that place called Calvary. When he stood there, the person who was giving the lecture asked this question: he said, “Have any of you ever been here before?” And, Dr. Lee put up his hand. “Oh,” he said, “when were you here before?” He said, “Two thousand years ago.” He was there, and I was there. We were there because our sins crucified Jesus. Ours were the hands that slapped Him. Our spit was the spit that defiled His face. Our sins were the nails that nailed Him to that cross. Our hard hearts were the hammers that drove those nails.

Now, I want us to look into the twenty-seventh chapter of the Gospel of Matthew, and I want us to see not only who, but more specifically what crucified the Lord Jesus. And, as the roll is called at the cross, I want you to listen, I want you to pay attention, because if you listen carefully, you’ll hear your name called. For we were there as Jesus was crucified.

I. Self-Righteousness Crucified Jesus

Verses 1 and 2: “When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: And when they”—that is, the chief priest and the elders—“had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.” (Matthew 27:1–2) Now, who were the elders and the scribes? These were the religious people and the self-righteous people who crucified Jesus. What crucified Jesus? Self-righteousness crucified the Son of God. Religion crucified the Son of God. Now, when the Bibles says “the scribes, the chief priests, the elders, the Pharisees,” these people who, as NewSong says, “pushed Jesus, hounded Jesus, crowded Jesus to the cross,” I want to remind you they were very religious and, outwardly, very moral.

Now, what would a church full of Pharisees be like? Have you ever thought about that? What if every member of Bellevue Baptist Church—all sixteen thousand members of our church—were Pharisees? What would our church be like? Well, I'll tell you one thing: you couldn’t get them in the building. They’d be here every Sunday, and the building would be packed. Even on Wednesday night there would be an overflow crowd. I’ll tell you something else: you wouldn’t have to plead for workers. You’d have a church full of workers, and they would be as busy as they could be. I’ll tell you something else: if you had a church full of Pharisees, the treasury of this church would be running over with money, because they would all tithe. Do you know how careful they were to tithe? Why, friend, they tithed mint. Any of you ladies have a mint plant outside your door?
You put that mint in your iced tea, and it tastes good, doesn't it? They would tithe mint, and they would count the leaves: “one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten—and that one goes to God.” They would count the leaves on the mint plant. That’s how particular they were. You talk about religion! Why, folks, they wouldn’t even eat an egg laid on Saturday. If they got a tack in their shoe, they’d pull it out, lest they be accused of carrying a burden on the Sabbath. If they were bitten by a mosquito, they would not slap that mosquito on Saturday, lest they be accused of hunting on the Sabbath. What would a church full of Pharisees be like? They would all attend, they would all give, they would all serve, they would all die and they would all go to hell. I mean, they were religious. But, Jesus said, “How can ye escape the damnation of hell?” (Matthew 23:33) Pharisees—it was a religious crowd that crucified Jesus. People talk about getting religion, but I hope you get more than that. Religion never saved anybody.

Most of the people in America don’t need religion. They need to turn from religion to Jesus Christ. There are a lot of people in this auditorium and in every auditorium who don’t think they need to be saved. They hear this Baptist preacher stand up and preach, and they think that the gospel is for the thief. They think the gospel is for the murderer. They think the gospel is for the pervert. They think the gospel is for the drunkard. But, they don’t think the gospel is for them because, number one, they are religious and, number two, they’re moral. But, I want to tell you, it was a religious and moral crowd that crucified the Lord Jesus, and self-righteousness is a cardinal sin against a holy God. Jesus said, “Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.” (Matthew 5:20) Self-righteousness crucified Jesus, and if you think that you’re going to slip into heaven without being born again, then you’re grossly ignorant of two things: number one, you don’t know how holy God is; and number two, you don’t know how sinful your heart is. Jesus told a self-righteous Pharisee, Nicodemus, “[You] must be born again.” (John 3:7)

II. Hypocrisy Crucified Jesus

Self-righteousness crucified Jesus, but for that sin Jesus died. I’ll tell you what else crucified the Lord Jesus: hypocrisy crucified the Lord Jesus. Look, if you will also now, in verse 3: “Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself”—now, this is not repentance towards God; it is remorse. He—“repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter’s field, to bury... strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.” (Matthew 27:3–8)

Judas was one of those there in the crowd of the cross. Judas was one of those who hounded Jesus to the cross. Judas was one of the twelve disciples, and he was a hypocrite—there’s no doubt about it. Judas, while he pretended to be a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ, had a heart that was filled with covetousness. The Bible tells us that he was covetous. The Bible tells us that he was a thief. And yet, he pretended to love the Lord Jesus. He betrayed Jesus with a kiss. And, that tells me something else: that everything hypocritical in the world has crucified the Lord Jesus. And, if this congregation is like any congregation, there are hypocrites in the church and hypocrites in this congregation. Sometimes people say, “Well, there are hypocrites in the Church.” I say, “Do tell. Do tell.” There always have been; there always will be.

The Bible clearly and plainly prophesies hypocrites. Paul said, “In the last days there will be those who will have a form of godliness, but they will deny the power thereof.” (1 Timothy 3:5) And, I want to tell you, friend, a hypocrite does not prove the Bible false; a hypocrite proves the Bible true. How? Because the Bible prophesies it. Now, if there are no hypocrites, then the Bible is not the Word of God. For the Bible clearly and plainly tells us that they shall come. And, a hypocrite does not disprove Christianity; it proves the validity of Christianity.

Why? Well, men only counterfeit that which is real. A hypocrite is a counterfeit Christian. Every counterfeit proves the worthwhileness and the validity of the thing that it counterfeits. Men don’t counterfeit gum wrappers. They counterfeit hundred-dollar bills, fifty-dollar bills. Why? Because it is the counterfeit that proves the worthwhileness and the validity of the real. Every counterfeit Christian you will see, on the face, is a confirmation of the worthwhileness, the validity, and the value of a genuine Christian. Don’t you let some hypocrite—don’t you let some Judas—keep you from the kingdom of heaven. If you let a hypocrite keep you out of heaven, then you’ll spend eternity in hell with that same hypocrite. And, if you can’t stand hypocrites, you’d better get saved. And, don’t let some hypocrite keep you from coming to know the Lord Jesus Christ.

And, the man who says he doesn’t want to be a Christian because of hypocrites, in my estimation, he himself is the biggest hypocrite of all. That’s like a man saying, “I won’t go to a doctor when I am sick because some doctors are quacks”; “I won’t go to a lawyer when I’m in trouble because some lawyers are shysters.” It’s like a man saying, “I’m going to throw away all of my money because some money is counterfeit.” He doesn’t do that in life. He doesn’t do that in ordinary situations. He himself is a dirty rotten hypocrite because he knows what he’s doing is not logical, and he knows it.
III. Cowardliness Crucified Jesus

What crucified the Lord Jesus? Self-righteousness crucified the Lord Jesus, but for that sin Christ died. What crucified the Lord Jesus? Hypocrisy crucified the Lord Jesus, but for that sin Jesus died. I want mention a third thing that crucified the Lord Jesus. Look, if you will here, in chapter 27 and verse 2: “And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.” (Matthew 27:2) Then, look in verse 11: “And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.” (Matthew 27:11) Then, look in verses 24 and following: “When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it. Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children. Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.” (Matthew 27:24–26)

Now, who was Pilate? Pilate was the Roman governor. Pilate was the one who had been given control and charge over that part of the Roman Empire. Pilate was a ladder-climbing, fence-straddling, pussyfooting politician, and Pilate was put in a dilemma. Pilate knew that Jesus Christ was just. He even tried to wash his hands of it, and said, “I have nothing to do with the death of this just person: see ye to it.” (Matthew 27:24) How did Pilate know that Jesus was just? Well, whatever else, Pilate was no fool. You don’t get to be a Roman governor by being a fool. Pilate knew humanity. Pilate knew the minds of men. He knew what motivated men. And, the Bible tells us in verse 18 of this chapter that Pilate “knew that for envy they had delivered him.” (Matthew 27:18)

Now, Pilate knew that Jesus was not really guilty. Yes, Pilate knew that the charges against Jesus were trumped up. He knew that it was for envy that they had delivered Him. Furthermore, not only did Pilate know this and the voice of reason tell this, but the voice of conscience had told him this. Pilate said, “I find no fault in him.” (John 19:4,6) That is, Pilate not only knew the wrong motives of those who brought Jesus, but Pilate also knew the character of Jesus Christ. He knew purity when he saw it. He knew honesty when he saw it. He knew justice when he saw it. There are enough people that stood before Pilate, the Roman governor. Pilate was no fool. He said, “I find no fault in him.” (John 19:4,6)

But, in verse 19, you’re going to find out that God spoke to him another way, also. Pilate’s wife said to him, “Listen. Don’t have anything to do with the crucifixion of this man. I’ve suffered many things in a dream this night because of him.” (Matthew 27:19) That is, God especially sent a loved one. God gave that loved one a message from heaven in a dream—a vision, or whatever it was—and she warned Pilate. There was a revelation from heaven. There was a reason in his heart and in his mind. There were these things, dear friend, that spoke to Pilate. I want to ask you a question: Why didn’t Pilate, therefore, come out on the side of Jesus Christ? I’ll tell you why: Jesus Christ claimed to be a king. The scribes and the Pharisees knew they had Pilate in a tight place. They had him between a rock and a hard place. They said to Pilate, “Listen, we want Him crucified. If you don’t agree to crucify Him, we’re going to Caesar, and we’re going to tell Caesar that you’ve lined up with another king. And whosoever calls himself a king is not a friend of Caesar.” At that moment, Pilate had to make a decision. This is the reason why I call him a “fence-straddling politician”—because you know what motivated Pilate? You know what caused Pilate to act? It was his job. He had a soft job, and he didn’t want to lose it. And, what buttered his bread determined his conduct. Are you listening to me? Pilate was faced with a decision, and furthermore, on top of that, the Bible says he was willing to please the crowd. He didn’t want a tumult to be made. He didn’t want there to be any uproar. He didn’t want there to be any dishevel. He wanted to have it easy. And so, he is a moral coward. He’s afraid of what others are going to think. Cowardliness crucified the Lord Jesus Christ.

I’m going to give an invitation at the end of this message. I’m going to ask some of you to get up out of your seat, and I’m going to ask you to come down here openly, publicly, unashamedly, and take a stand for the Lord Jesus Christ. And, at that moment, a battle is going to begin in the mind of some of you. The devil will whisper in your ear, “Don’t you go down there and make a fool of yourself. After all, you’ve got to go back to your family, friends, and job. Don’t stand up for the Lord Jesus Christ.” But, I want to remind you, friend, that it was cowardliness that crucified the Lord Jesus Christ. And, Jesus said, “Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.” (Mark 8:38)

Dear friend, listen, there is no way that you can slip into heaven incognito. There is no way that you can be a moral coward and get into God’s glorious heaven. Jesus clearly, plainly, unmistakably, definitely, and unerringly said, “If you deny me, I’ll deny you. You confess me; I’ll confess you.” (Matthew 10:32–33) Poor Pilate! You have to pity Pilate. Pilate thought that he could remain neutral. He thought that he could wash his hands. He thought that he would not decide, but his indecision was the worse decision. Pilate, historians tells us, died a few years later in exile, a suicide. Those lily-white politician hands that he sought to wash white were now moldering in the grave. That gavel that he fondled in his hands was held by somebody else. Those robes adorned somebody else’s back. And, I want to ask him, “Pilate, where are your friends now? Pilate, where’s your salary now? Pilate, where’s your popularity now? Pilate, where’s your pain now that you’re in the grave?” Jesus stood before Pilate, but I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, the time is coming when Pilate will stand before Jesus. And, right now Jesus Christ is in your hands, mister. One of these days you're going to be in His hands.

IV. Ignorance Crucified Jesus
What crucified Jesus? Self-righteousness. What crucified Jesus? Hypocrisy. What crucified Jesus? Cowardliness crucified the Lord Jesus. I want to mention another thing that crucified the Lord Jesus. Look, if you will, in verse 20 of this chapter: “But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.” (Matthew 27:20) Now, who was Barabbas? Barabbas was a criminal. The Bible tells us that he was a thief, a rebel. That is, he was a murderer. He was a wicked, vile human being. Now, Pilate is trying to get off the tenterhook; and so, Pilate says, “Listen, I’ll make a deal with you. You’ve got Barabbas here, and you’ve got Jesus here. I’ll just release one of them, and you can choose.”

Now, the chief priests and the scribes began to work that crowd, and they began to say to that crowd, “Listen, when Pilate asks which one is to be released, now you say, ‘Crucify Jesus, and release Barabbas.’ Remember that it’s Barabbas that we want released, and it is Jesus that we want crucified.” Now, the chief priests and the scribes, they’re influential people. I mean, they’re educated people. They’re learned people, and they’re working the crowd, the rabble, those people out there, and they’re giving them the wrong information.

Now the time comes, and Pilate says, “Whither of the two shall I release unto you? Barabbas? What shall I do with Jesus who is called the Christ?” “Crucify Him!” (Matthew 27:21–22) You say, how could they do such a thing? They’ve been told to do it. The chief priests and the scribes had persuaded them to do it. “Well,” you say, “then they’re not to blame. They were ignorant.” Let me tell you something, friend: if they did not know, they should have known. They could have known, they would have known, had they looked to God.

Now, you listen to me. You will never ever come to the judgment bar of God and plead innocent because of ignorance. Ignorance crucified the Son of God—people who did not know, people who were led astray. Yes, it is true that those who deceive them will have the greater damnation. Yes, it is true, in this world of false prophets and Christ-deniers, that those who lead others astray will have the worst damnation. But, I want to tell you, dear friend, that spiritual ignorance is a terrible, horrible, and willful sin against God. Any man can know who wants to know. Jesus said, “If any man will come unto me I will in no wise cast him out.” (John 6:37) If you want to know the truth about Jesus Christ, He, my friend, will speak to you today. What crucified Jesus? Ignorance crucified the Lord Jesus.
V. Hardness Crucified Jesus

Now, I want you to look again, if you will, in verse 27 of this same chapter: “Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.” (Matthew 27:27) They stripped Him and put on Him a scarlet robe. And, when they had plaited a crown of thorns, they put it upon His head, and a reed in His right hand. And, they bowed the knee before Him, and mocked Him, saying, “Hail, King of the Jews! And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him.” (Mark 15:18–19) When the idea here is a reed, don’t get the idea of a piece of soft weed, or something like that. It literally is a bamboo club. They beat Him on the head. And, after that, they mocked Him. They took the robe off Him, and put His own raiment on Him, and led Him away to crucify Him.

Do you know what they did to Jesus? They blindfolded Jesus and played blind man’s bluff with Him. They got Him in a circle and spit in His face. And, they would slap Him. They would feed Him with their fist. And then, while He’s blindfolded, they shoved Him to another one, and He would strike Him. And then, they’d shove Him back to another one. And, as He’s stumbling there in the midst of them, they would say to Him, “Hey, you’re a prophet. Tell us who hit you,” and they’d hit Him. And, He reels back and forth. They reach out, and they take Him by the beard, and they snatch the beard from His face. Isaiah says they “plucked off the hair.” (Isaiah 50:6)

Can you imagine that? When they had finished with the Lord Jesus, beating and mutilating Him, Isaiah says you could not tell He was a human being. It was hard to tell whether He was animal or human. The pictures that we have in Living Pictures, Brother Jim, hanging on the cross, they’re kind. You would not want to see what Jesus looked like after that beating. And, after the blood is streaming down His face, His teeth are loosened, His face is just raw flesh where there used to be a beard. His eyes are swollen shut, and His head is lacerated with a crown of thorns. Why did they do that? Now, it is true that they were commanded to crucify Him, but why the rest of it? I’ll tell you why: they were cruel, hardhearted, and brutal people in whose hearts the milk of human kindness had curdled. They were insensitive, brutal, mean, vicious, and vile. They took joy and pleasure in inflicting pain. Hardness crucified Jesus, and cruelty crucified Jesus.

“Well,” you say, “pastor, there are none like that here today.” I hope not, but I have seen it; and it breaks my heart to see it. And, it’s even hard to admit it, folks: we live in a world of hardhearted people. And, I believe the child molesters, the dope pushers—I believe, dear friend, those whoremongers—I believe there are people today who have hearts so hard that they would enjoy crucifying the Son of God afresh today. These are just the opposite of the self-righteous. But, I want to tell you something: for that sin He died. I care not what sin you may have committed—if you’ll come to Jesus in repentance and faith, He will forgive you. Hardness crucified the Son of God.

VI. Indifference Crucified Jesus

But, wait a minute. What else crucified the Son of God? Look, if you will, please, now in verse 36, and look at it here: “And sitting down they watched him there.” (Matthew 27:36). Who is “they”? This is the crowd. This is the marching, milling multitude. These are not the ones in the judgment hall. These are not the ones who lacerated His back. These are not even the rabble that cried for His crucifixion, necessarily. These are the passersby. The Bible speaks of them: “All they that pass by wag their heads at Him.” (Matthew 27:39; Mark 15:29) And now, they’re sitting there, and they’re just watching Him; they’re looking at Him. Lamentations asks this question: “Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?” (Lamentations 1:12) You see, Jesus Christ was crucified outside the city gate on the Damascus road, a thoroughfare. It was a spectacle. They came to see it. After all, it was interesting, if not entertaining, that somebody is going to suffer capital punishment, the Galilean prophet. And so, they sit down, and they are watching Him, just watching Him. What crucified Jesus? Indifference crucified Jesus.

Now, they did not hold the hammer. They did not hold the lash. Sitting down, they watched Him there. They were spectators. They’re very much like some people who will come to church this morning and sit in a comfortable pew, and take a Bible, and follow the scripture, and take a hymnal and sing the song, and just behold the whole thing. You know, for so many people in America, coming to church is a spectator sport. I mean, there are a lot of you who somehow think that you’ve done God a favor by coming and sitting in an auditorium, listening to a preacher, and listening to a choir.

“Sitting down they watched him there,” (Matthew 27:36) and they got up and went on their way. Luke tells us that they “smote their breasts.” (Luke 23:48) Maybe you’ll get a tear in your eye when the choir sings something. But, I want to tell you, friend, it makes more than a pious gesture to save a soul. There was a crowd—indifferent, never took a stand. Jesus Christ said, “He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.” (Luke 11:23)

I want to read some words that were written, really, about another city, but I’m going to insert the name Memphis in this:

When Jesus came to Golgotha, they hanged Him on a tree,
They drove great nails through hands and feet, and made a Calvary;
They crowned Him with a crown of thorns, red were His wounds and deep,
For those were crude and cruel days, and human flesh was cheap.

When Jesus came to [Memphis], they simply passed Him by.
They would not hurt a hair of Him, they only let Him die;
For men had grown more tender, and they would not give Him pain,
They only just passed down the street, and left Him in the rain.
Still Jesus cried, “Forgive them, for they know not what they do,”
And still it rained the winter rain that drenched Him through and through;
The crowds went home and left the streets without a soul to see,
And Jesus crouched against a wall, and cried for Calvary.
—G. STUDDERT-KENNEDY

Do you know what the writer of that poem was saying? That Jesus Christ had rather have you out and out against Him than to be so indifferent that you try to remain neutral, just indifferent. Jesus leaned against the wall and cried for Calvary. “Sitting down they watched him there.” (Matthew 27:36) Are you going to be, mister, a man that will come into this service this morning, listen to this sermon, listen to this music, hear this preacher, and watch and behold, and go out and not be changed? Indifference crucified the Son of God.

VII. Skepticism and Cynicism Crucified Jesus

One other thing I want to mention this morning. Look, if you will, in verses 39 and following: “And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads, And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.” (Matthew 27:39–40) Notice what they do: “Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days” (Matthew 27:40)—they misapplied His word. “If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross” (Matthew 27:40)—they minimized His death. Notice these people: “Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel”—friend, just underscore that word if. That’s the word that will send your soul to hell—“If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God. The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.” (Matthew 27:41–44)

Skepticism crucified Jesus. Cynicism, skepticism, crucified Jesus. These were the skeptics. “He says He’s the Son of God. He claims to be a miracle worker. Then let Him come down from the cross. Let Him prove it. Do a miracle. Do something, and convince us. We want to see.” And, Jesus did no miracle for that crowd. Friend, they were asking the wrong question anyway. They shouldn’t say, “If you’re the Son of God, come down from the cross.” They should have gone and stood before that empty tomb and said, “If you’re the Son of God, come out,” amen? But, they were cynics. Do you know what a cynic is? A cynic is somebody who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing.

“Well,” you say, “pastor, they can’t help it. Are you trying to tell me that a man is a sinner because he’s a skeptic?” No, I’m telling you, mister, he’s a skeptic because he’s a sinner. I’m telling you that the problem is in his dirty, rotten heart. And, the Bible says, “[Beware]...lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief.” (Hebrews 3:12) It never comes out of the head; it comes out of the heart. Skepticism, cynicism, crucified the Lord Jesus, but for that sin He died.

Conclusion

Now, we’ve had a roll call at the cross, and if you’ve been honest, I think you’ll have to agree that you crucified Jesus. I crucified Jesus. Our sins were the nails and our hard hearts the hammers that drove those nails. Self-righteousness crucified Jesus. Hypocrisy crucified Jesus. Cowardliness crucified Jesus. Ignorance crucified Jesus. Hardheartedness crucified Jesus. Indifference crucified Jesus. Skepticism and cynicism crucified Jesus. But, for those sins He died. I want you to look in verses 21 and following for just a moment: “The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas. Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.” (Matthew 27:21–22)

Imagine a Roman dungeon keeper. He walks down a long narrow corridor of the Roman jail with a flickering torch in his hand. He comes to a tightly barred door now because this is where a very important prisoner is. He unbolts the double locks. He pushes the door open and thrusts the torch inside. Back in the corner of that cell, like a quivering animal, is a man on a mat of straw. His face is the very mirror of evil. The guard says to him, “Barabbas, get up! Let’s go!” Barabbas, who is a hard man, begins to weep. He begins to plead. And, he crouches further back in the corner. He says, “Please, no! I don’t want to go!” And, the guard, with a look of disgust and a tone of sarcasm in his voice, says, “Barabbas, quit sniveling! Get up! You’re not going to die! You’re the luckiest man I’ve ever seen! I don’t understand it, Barabbas, but if there was ever a man that deserved to die, it’s you. But, there’s a man named Jesus who is taking your place. Come here, Barabbas! I want to show you something.” And, he takes Barabbas outside, and they look through a window. And, he says, “You see over there on that hill? You see over there on the place of a skull? Do you see, there, crosses: one, two, three? Barabbas, do you see the middle cross? Do you see it? Barabbas, take a good look at it because that’s the one we made for you. You see the One on that cross? He’s taking your place. He died as your substitute.”

My friend, I want to tell you, He took the place of every man, woman, boy, and girl who ever lived—for you. Ignorance—for that sin He died. Hardheartedness—for that sin He died. Cowardliness—for that sin He died. Hypocrisy—for that sin He died. Skepticism—for that sin He died. And, “though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.” (Isaiah 1:18)

And, your sin will be pardoned by Christ or punished in hell, but it will never be overlooked.
Seven Attitudes That Crucified Christ

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: August 6, 2000
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:1

Outline

Introduction
I. Self-Righteousness Crucified Jesus
II. Hypocrisy Crucified Jesus
III. Cowardliness Crucified Jesus
IV. Ignorance Crucified Jesus
V. Hardheartedness Crucified Jesus
VI. Indifference Crucified Jesus
VII. Skepticism Crucified Jesus
Conclusion

Introduction

Turn to the Gospel of Matthew 27. It’s the first book in the New Testament—toward the end of that book, Matthew 27. Tonight, as we think about our Lord’s Supper, we’re going to think about the cross. We’re going to think about the attitudes that were in the hearts and minds of people who nailed Jesus on that hellish machine that we call the cross. Matthew 27, verse 1, says, “When the morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death” (Matthew 27:1). And I want to say without stutter, stammer, apology, or equivocation, the dirtiest deed that was ever done was the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. And the greatest tragedy ever enacted was enacted upon that hill called Calvary. And yet that dirty deed and that tragedy was allowed, even planned, prophesied, by Almighty God for our redemption.

What a day that was when the Son of God—think of it, the very Son of God!—God the Son hung on the cross, when darkness veiled the glowing face of the sun, when demons howled in glee, when the earth quaked, shook, rocked and reeled! Jesus died upon that cross. As we come to the Lord’s Table tonight, I want you to think one more time about Calvary. It’s easy to become blasé about Calvary. It’s easy to see the three crosses there on our church property, and think how beautiful they are, and fail to understand the ignominious shame, the heartache, the utter despair, the blackness of midnight within the heart of the Son of God.

Consider the anticipation of the cross. Jesus was born in the shadow of the cross. Jesus knew that He had come to die. And even as Jesus was in Joseph’s carpenter shop, every crossbeam in that carpenter’s shop would remind Him of a rugged cross upon which He would die. If outside that carpenter’s shop a rose happened to grow, every thorn on that rosebush would remind Him of that crown of thorns. Jesus lived in the shadow of the cross. A prophetic psalm speaks of Jesus with these words: “I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up” (Psalm 88:15).

People wish they knew the future. You ought to thank God that you don’t know the future. Suppose you knew that in a year and a half you’re grandson, your child, your wife, your husband, would be killed in an automobile accident—no ifs, ands, and buts about it—how would you live the next year and a half, anticipating that time? Jesus lived His life knowing that He would die upon the cross.

Consider the sufferings in Gethsemane. Few things move my heart like Gethsemane, where Jesus, the Son of God, actually pled with the Father, and said, “Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me” (Matthew 26:39). Don’t get the idea that Calvary was a charade, that Jesus was a superman, that He swaggered to the cross. Does it offend you for me to tell you that Jesus shrank from the cross? He did not want to die. It was not the physical death, but it was Jesus taking my sin, your sin, our sin, upon Him and becoming sin Himself. So great was His suffering in Gethsemane that His sweat literally was drops of blood as the minute capillaries ruptured because of the great duress and stress on the body of our Lord Jesus Christ. He almost died prematurely before He ever got to the cross in Gethsemane. Thank God that He prayed, because He loved you that much, “Father...not my will, but thine, be done” (Luke 22:42).

Consider the indecencies that Jesus suffered there as they scourged the Lord Jesus Christ. Few men could walk away from a scourging. Do you wonder that He stumbled under the cross? They stripped Him. They stretched Him up until His back was smooth as silk. A psychopathic, barrel-chested lector, dungeon keeper, probably a volunteer for the task, because he enjoyed the pleasure of scourging those who were scourged; a whip like a cat o’ nine tails—bits of bone, lead, and glass embedded in the thongs—wrapped around the body of Jesus. These were cruel and experienced men. They knew how to whip a man within inches of death, how to flay the skin from the ribs and the back without disemboweling the person who is being whipped. The shock, the loss of blood, the pain, was incredible.
Consider what they did to the Lord Jesus Christ as they put upon His head a crown of thorns, long spikes that pierced the nerves there in the temple area, a very sensitive area, then they beat that crown further down as they smote Him with clubs, battered His face. They actually, with their fists, played blind man’s bluff with Him, blindfolded Him, shoved Him from one Roman soldier to another, who would hit Him with their fists in the face. Then they reached up and snatched the beard from His face. Isaiah tells us that His face was so marred that, rather than looking like a human being, He looked like some kind of an animal. You could not tell that His visage was that of a human (Isaiah 52:14). The artists have been kind that have painted Jesus on the cross. They stripped Him of His clothing. The pure One, the modest One, is hanging naked on a cross: no loincloth like we see in our depictions of the crucifixion; not crucified on a green hill far away but on a garbage heap outside Jerusalem. There the Son of God is stretched on that cross. Experienced hands mercilessly twist His arms out of joint. Those searing nails are put through His wrists and through His feet. They knew where to strike the median nerve. They knew where to send the most pain. And every nerve in those arms and in those feet became a pathway for pain to travel. And then Jesus is lifted up between heaven and earth. There with flies in the gaping wound, there in shock, there in dehydration, Jesus is suffering upon that cross.

But even deeper than those physical sufferings and that shame and mockery is the fact that Jesus suffered alone on that cross. His disciples had forsaken Him. The crowd was jeering Him, the demons were baying at Him like hounds from hell, but then God the Father had to turn His back upon God the Son. And Jesus had to cry out from that cross, “My God, my God,”—He doesn’t call Him this time Father, but “my God”—“why hast thou forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46; Mark 15:34). Why? Because He’s now become the sin bearer, and God had to treat Him as He would treat us. And God would forsake us, so He must forsake His Son.

If there were ever a time when God would have been tempted to have been lenient, it would have been when His Son was upon that cross. But the Bible tells us, in Romans 8, that God “spared not His own Son, but offered Him up freely for us all” (Romans 8:32). Jesus baptized His soul in hell for us. Jesus, on that cross, suffered in a finite period of time what we would suffer in an infinite period of time, because He, being infinite, suffered in a finite way what we, being finite, would suffer in an infinite way. The sins of the world were distilled upon Jesus. The eternities were compressed upon Jesus.

Never take the cross lightly. Never be blasé about your redemption. Never cease to love Him. Never cease to praise Him. Never be ashamed of Him. Don’t let anybody put you to shame about someone who loves you that much. Always be bold for your faith as you march under His bloodstained banner.
They put Him to death. But who crucified Jesus? “Well,” you say, “the Roman soldiers crucified Jesus.” Well, they drove the nails. You say, “Pilate crucified Jesus.” Well, he allowed them to do it. You say, “Well, the Jews crucified Jesus.” Well, they hounded Pilate to put Him to death. But the truth of the matter is that we all crucified Jesus. He died for our sins. And what we’re going to do tonight is we’re going to look at some attitudes that crucified Jesus, and find out that these attitudes, perhaps, are in our own hearts. The twenty-seventh chapter of the Gospel of Matthew tells of many who were there at the crucifixion. And as we look at those who crucified the Lord Jesus Christ, we’ll see ourselves. As we look at the roll call of the cross, and see who was there, I believe that you’ll find out that you were there when they crucified our Lord. I want to mention some attitudes that crucified Jesus.

I. Self-Righteousness Crucified Jesus

For example, self-righteousness crucified Jesus. Look in verses 1 and 2: “When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor” (Matthew 27:1–2). The chief priests, the elders—these were the religious leaders—scribes, Pharisees, priests, they crucified Jesus.

This world doesn’t need religion. Religion can be one of the cruelest things in the world. This world needs Jesus. There’s a difference. Christianity is a vital relationship with Jesus Christ. Have you ever thought about what a church full of Pharisees would be like? They’d all be here on Sunday. They would all tithe. They would all work. They would all go to hell.

Self-righteousness crucified the Lord Jesus. There may be some self-righteous people in this congregation tonight. You think you’re going to heaven, because you’re religious. May I tell you again, it was a religious crowd that crucified Jesus Christ—a self-righteous crowd. I’ve said it many times: The worst form of badness is human goodness when human goodness becomes a substitute for the new birth.

II. Hypocrisy Crucified Jesus

Self-righteousness crucified Jesus. I’ll tell you what else crucified Jesus. Hypocrisy crucified Jesus. Continue to read: “Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and bought again thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself” (Matthew 27:3–5).

There’s no doubt about it: Judas was a first-class hypocrite. Have you ever heard people say that they don’t go to church because of hypocrisy? This morning, on the radio, I listened to a story concerning someone who said they refused to go to church anymore because of hypocrites. Judas was a hypocrite, but there were eleven other disciples that were not hypocrites. There have always been hypocrites. There always will be. But I want you to know that I’d rather spend a few years with some of the hypocrites in church than spend all eternity with all of the hypocrites in hell. I’m not going to let any hypocrite keep me from Jesus Christ.

Judas was a covetous man. He loved silver more than he loved Jesus. He sold Jesus for thirty pieces of silver. Verse 5 tells us that his sin destroyed him. “He cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.” That’s only part of the story. Acts 1 tells the rest of the story: “Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out” (Acts 1:18). How do you put all of that together? He hanged himself, and then he fell headlong, and his bowels gushed out.

What happened is that, I believe, that Judas, in anguish of soul and despair of mind, understanding what he had done, in remorse, and yet not in repentance, as he cast that filthy money back into the temple, went out and found some scraggly limb, perhaps hanging over a cliff, and with trembling fingers formed a hangman’s noose, put that noose around his neck to try to get away from the torment, and stepped over that precipice, and stepped from the hell within him to the hell beyond him, and he hung himself. And that body is there hanging, dangling from that limb, one day, two days, three days, longer. The skin begins to crack. The gases build up. He’s like an overripe melon. After a while somebody comes and sees that disgusting thing hanging from the tree and with a sword cuts it down. He falls down headlong, hits the ground, and splits open, and his bowels gush out.

You say, “Pastor, that’s not a pretty scene.” No, I don’t mean for it to be pretty. Sin is not pretty. Judas, where are your friends now? Judas, where’s your silver now? Judas, where’s your inordinate ambition now? Judas was a hypocrite. Maybe there are some hypocrites here tonight. You know that you’ve never been saved. You know that your heart is not right with God. When are you going to stop playing the game? If you don’t, you’re going to join Judas in hell.

III. Cowardliness Crucified Jesus
Self-righteousness crucified Jesus. Hypocrisy crucified Jesus. But let’s continue the roll call. Cowardliness crucified Jesus. Look, if you will, in verse 11 now: “And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest. And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?” (Matthew 27:11–13). And then skip on down to verse 24: “When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it. Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children. Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified” (Matthew 27:24–26).

Now, why did Pilate do that? Well, the people had threatened Pilate. They said, “Pilate, if you don’t allow us to crucify Jesus, we’re going to report to Caesar that you have cozied up to a man who claims to be king, and there is no king but Caesar.” And Pilate was a fence-straddling politician. Whatever buttered his bread determined his conduct. He had a soft job, a cushy job, and he was afraid of losing it.

Very frankly, it was fear, it was cowardliness, that caused him to crucify the Lord Jesus. He pretended to be neutral, but you can’t be neutral about Jesus. You can’t just say, “I find no fault in him” (John 19:4, 6). If you find no fault in Him, and don’t follow Him, you are doubly at fault. You cannot be neutral to Jesus. You don’t tip the hat; you bow the knee to the Lord Jesus. Indecision is the worst decision of all.

Pilate tried to keep his job, but history tells us that he soon lost his job. That gavel that he fondled was in another hand. Those white hands that he’d washed, that fondled that gavel, were clasped in death. The truth of the matter is he most likely died a suicide. That’s what tradition tells us. But it was fearfulness—a fear of losing his position, a fear of what it might cost him—that helped Pilate to crucify the Lord Jesus Christ.

In Revelation 21, verse 8, the Bible tells us of those that will be in hell. And do you know what leads the list? The fearful. “But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death” (Revelation 21:8). What a list! What a litany of people! But fear is number one.

There are some of you tonight, I will give an invitation and ask you to come forward and confess and acknowledge Jesus Christ as your personal Savior, but fear—fear of public opinion, fear of the crowd, fear of the loss of face, fear of whatever—will keep you from acknowledging Jesus Christ. Are you a coward? Are you ashamed of Him? Are you trying to keep some position? Some aura of respectability? Cowardliness crucified Jesus. It sent Pilate to hell. It will send you to hell.
IV. Ignorance Crucified Jesus
I'll tell you what else crucified Jesus: Ignorance crucified Jesus. Look in verse 20: “But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus” (Matthew 27:20). Now, here’s the multitude, the hoi polloi, the rank, the file: they screamed for the blood of Jesus. They pled for the release of Barabbas. Ask them, “Why are you doing this?” “I don’t know. Our leaders say we ought to. The chief priests and the elders, they say we ought to. If they say we ought to, then we ought to.” That is, out of sheer ignorance. They conformed to public opinion. They conformed to the crowd.

I think, perhaps, the biggest religion in America today is the cult of conformity. You say, “Well, Pastor Rogers, you don’t hold them guilty for being ignorant, do you?” Of course I do! Ignorance is not innocence. A person does not know that he still is not innocent, because God is ready to reveal Himself to any hungry heart. And so don’t let your ignorance of the fact, to say, “Well, I don’t understand it,” lead you to think, therefore, that you are excused. If you want to know God, you can know God.

I was witnessing last week to a woman as we were on a train—a precious, young, black woman—and she said, “Well, how can I know these things are true?” And I gave her John 7:16–17, where Jesus said, “My doctrine is not mine, but his who sent me. If any man will to do his will,”—that is, God’s will—“he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.” These people did not know, but they should have known.

V. Hardheartedness Crucified Jesus
What else crucified Jesus? Hardheartedness crucified Jesus. Go down to verse 27 and look at it: “Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him” (Matthew 27:27–31).

These soldiers are actually making sport of Jesus. They are brutalizing Jesus. They actually played a game with Him called the game of the kings. You go to Jerusalem, you can go now and see those pavement stones in Pilate’s courtyard. Actually the game is there on the floor where they’ve chiseled out in the floor the part of the game where they play with the prisoners and they taunt them. These were hardhearted men.

Can you hear the story of the cross, and it not move your heart? Can you sit in a building like this, and hear the description that this preacher, or any other preacher, would give of Jesus dying in agony and blood, and not be moved? Then you're guilty of the crucifixion of Jesus. Hardheartedness. Our sins were the nails that put Him on the cross, and our hard hearts are the hammers that drove those nails. I beg you in the name of Jesus, don't play games in the light of Calvary. Don't make light of the cross. Hardheartedness crucified Jesus.

VI. Indifference Crucified Jesus

I'll tell you another attitude that crucified Jesus—and it was indifference. Look in verse 36. The Bible says, in verse 36, “And sitting down they watched him there” (Matthew 27:36). Now he's talking here about the general crowd. They see Him. They sit down. They watch Him there. They're not fighting Jesus. They didn't hold the hammer. They did not supply the nails. They did not spit on Him. They just simply watched Him. They were impressed. The Bible says they even smote their breast (Luke 23:48). But it takes more than a pious gesture to save a soul. They may even have shed a sentimental tear. But they never lined up with the Lord Jesus.

I believe there are more like this than any other group: semi-indifferent. You sing the songs. You sing “Amazing Grace.” You listen to the preaching. You may say, “Hmm, hmm, hmm,” but you never come out for Jesus Christ, never stand up for Jesus Christ. Maybe you’re impressed. You watch, but you truly, ultimately, are indifferent.

Somebody wrote a poem, and it moved my heart the first time I heard it; still does today. Here’s what it says:

When Jesus came to Golgotha, they hanged Him on a tree
They drove great nails through His hands and feet, and made a Calvary.
They crowned Him with a crown of thorns, red were His wounds and deep,
For those were crude and cruel days, and human flesh was cheap.

When Jesus came to Birmingham, they simply passed Him by.
They would not hurt a hair of Him, they only let Him die;
For men had grown more tender, and they would not give Him pain,
They only just passed down the street, and left Him in the rain.

Still Jesus cried, “Forgive them, for they know not what they do,”
And still it rained the winter rain that drenched Him through and through;
The crowds went home and left the streets without a soul to see,
And Jesus crouched against a wall, and cried for Calvary.

—G. A. STUDDERT-KENNEDY
Jesus had rather have you out and out against Him than to be indifferent, to ignore Him.

VII. Skepticism Crucified Jesus

Last of all, I want to say there’s another attitude that crucified Jesus—and it is skepticism that crucified Him. Look on down in verse 39: “And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross. Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God. The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth” (Matthew 27:39–44).

This is skepticism. And skepticism today is crucifying Jesus. They misquoted His words, “Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up” (John 2:19). He was talking about the temple of His body. They mocked His deity: “If thou be the Son of God...” They minimized His death: “Save thyself”—not coming to grips with the fact that He had come to die.

We live in an age of cynicism and skepticism. Somebody said, “A cynic is somebody who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing.” Skepticism crucified the Lord Jesus. Listen to me. Men are not sinners because they’re skeptics; they’re skeptics because they’re sinners. Unbelief never comes out of the head; it comes out of the heart.

Conclusion

Now these are attitudes that crucified the Lord Jesus Christ. They are all right here in this chapter. And I think many of us would understand that perhaps some of those attitudes are in our own heart: skepticism, hypocrisy, cowardliness, hardness of heart, self-righteousness, whatever it may be. When we come to the Lord’s Table tonight, let’s ask ourselves, “Are we willing to crucify the Son of God afresh tonight? Are we willing to do that?”

Now the Bible says, when we come to the Lord’s Table, we’re to examine our hearts (1 Corinthians 11:28). That doesn’t mean that we’re to see whether or not we’re worthy to come. I could tell you, beyond any stutter, stammer, or equivocation, that we’re not worthy. None is worthy. We come by grace—by grace. But the Bible says if we take this supper unworthily—it’s an adverb—in the wrong manner, we’re guilty of the body and blood of the Lord Jesus (1 Corinthians 11:27). That means that we have reenacted Calvary. We’re guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord Jesus.
So we’re going to take some time. We’re going to look and see if any of these attitudes are in our own hearts, and then we’re going to deal with them. We’re going to understand what the Scripture says: “If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness” (1 John 1:9). And then we’re going to enjoy a meal with a friend whose name is Jesus.
Guilty of Love in the First Degree

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: July 18, 1976
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:22

Outline

Introduction
I. Life’s Great Question
   A. It’s a Pertinent Question
   B. It’s a Personal Question
   C. It’s a Pressing Question
II. Pilate’s Privileges
   A. He Was Confronted with Jesus
   B. He Was Convicted Concerning Jesus
      1. The Voice of Conscience
      2. The Voice of a Loved One
      3. The Voice of Jesus Christ Himself
III. Pilate’s Pressures
   A. The Pressure of Public Opinion and Popularity
   B. The Pressure of Possessions
   C. The Pressure of Pride and Power
IV. Pilate’s Perversity
   A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus
   B. He Tried to Shift the Decision
   C. He Tried to Simply Admire Jesus
   D. He Tried to Get a Diversion
V. Pilate’s Pronouncement and Protest
Conclusion

Introduction

All right. Take your Bibles, please, if you will, and turn to Matthew chapter 27, verse 22. I want to speak to you this morning on this subject: “Guilty of Love in the First Degree.” I heard a gospel song, and I think that was a line, or the title—I don’t know. I couldn’t tell you anything about the song or its melody, but I could never get that thought out of my mind: Jesus Christ was adjudicated guilty of love in the first degree.

I. Life’s Great Question

Notice, if you will, in Matthew chapter 27, and verse 22, life’s great question: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified” (Matthew 27:22).

A. It’s a Pertinent Question

A greater question could never be asked: “What shall I do with Jesus?” We’re not talking about another priest, another politician, another preacher, or another performer. We’re talking about Jesus, the Son of God. Answer this question right, and all is right. Answer this question wrong, friend, and all is wrong.

B. It’s a Personal Question

This question is a pertinent question, for it is about Jesus. This question is also a personal question: “What shall I do?” Now, I know there are some who would like to answer that question for others and others who would like to have someone answer it for them. But, the question is not, “Lord, what wilt Thou have others to do?” Or, not, “Lord, what will others have me to do?” But, “Lord, what shall I do with You?” And, “What do You want me to do for You?” It’s a personal question.

C. It’s a Pressing Question

And, not only is it a pertinent question—it’s about Jesus—and a personal question, but, my dear friend, it is a pressing question. It’s a question I’m going to put before you, right now. And, it’s a question that I’m going to demand that you answer before you leave.

And, by the way, you’re going to make a decision concerning Jesus before you leave, if you’ve not already done so. You’ll make a decision. Everybody will make a decision. You say, “Not me, Brother Rogers. You won’t get me to decide.” Well, you just decided not to decide, and that was your decision. You see, everybody’s going to make a decision. And, Jesus said: “He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad” (Matthew 12:30). And, you’ll leave this auditorium, this morning, having made some kind of decision, if you’ve not already received Christ. You’ll either say “yes” or “no.” You’ll walk under the blood, or you’ll walk out over the blood; but, you will be faced, in this message, with Jesus Christ.

Because, you see, in this strange murder trial—and, by the way, it was a strange murder trial, because the murder had not yet taken place—first, they judged Jesus, and then, they murdered Him. In this strange murder trial, God so arranged it that not only was Jesus on trial before Pontius Pilate, but the Lord arranged it so that Pilate was on Scripture passage, you see here that God has given us, in the passage of Scripture that we’re going to study, a wonderful lesson. Just as Jesus stood before Pilate, Jesus now stands before you. And, as Jesus was on trial before Pilate, Jesus is on trial before you.

But, not only that—just as Pilate will one day be in Jesus’ hands, you, too, will one day be in Jesus’ hands. And, just as Jesus was on trial, we’re going to be on trial before the Lord Jesus Christ. The Scripture that I gave to you is a question that Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, asked: “What shall I do with Jesus, who is called the Christ?”

Now, there are three or four things I want you to see, this morning, as we look at this wonderful passage of Scripture. And, by the way, we’ll not simply stay in the Gospel of Matthew, but we’ll look in all of the Gospels concerning the trial of Jesus Christ.

II. Pilate’s Privileges
The first thing I want you to notice are the privileges that Pilate had—the wonderful, glorious privileges that Pilate had.

A. He Was Confronted with Jesus
Pilate was confronted with Jesus Christ. It is not as though Pilate had never heard of Jesus Christ. Pilate came face-to-face with Jesus Christ. And, I suppose, the most uncomfortable fact that Pilate had ever faced was Jesus Christ. And, you, like Pilate, are going to be brought face-to-face, one more time, with Jesus Christ.

Now, when Pilate was brought face-to-face with Jesus Christ, he had to answer the question: “What am I going to do with Jesus?” He had Jesus on his hands. Jesus was inescapable. Jesus was inevitable. Jesus was unavoidable. Pilate had Jesus on his hands. And, the question that came to Pilate is: “What am I going to do with Jesus?”

B. He Was Convicted Concerning Jesus
But, I want you to notice the privileges that Pilate had concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, because not only was he confronted with Jesus, he was also convicted concerning Jesus. There were strong voices that spoke to Pontius Pilate concerning Jesus Christ. And, I want you to notice some of the voices that spoke to Pilate.

1. The Voice of Conscience
First of all, there was the voice of conscience. Look in Matthew chapter 27 and verse
18. We’re talking about the voice of conscience. And, the Bible says (concerning Pilate):
“For he knew that for envy they had delivered him” (Matthew 27:18). Now, Pilate was no fool. A man doesn’t get to be the procurator, the governor, of a province, under Rome, unless he had brains. Pilate was an understanding man. He was a thinking man. He was no fool. Pilate knew that Jesus Christ was on trial for trumped up charges. And, the Bible says there were no ifs, ands, or buts—no maybe about it. Pilate knew the reason that the Jews wanted Jesus Christ crucified. (I’m talking about the Jewish religious leaders when I say the Jews.) “He knew that for envy”—because they were envious—“they had delivered Jesus Christ” (Matthew 27:18). He had heard every accusation; he had listened to every witness, and his conscience thundered in his soul. Pilate heard the voice of conscience.

Pilate knew that every accusation against Jesus Christ was false. And, I tell you, this morning, if you will listen to what your conscience tells you—if you will listen to what your reason tells you—you will have to admit that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. For, Christ is that “Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world” (John 1:9). And, any man who will listen to the inner light that God has given him will say that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God.

2. The Voice of a Loved One

But, not only did he have the voice of reason and the voice of conscience, there was also the voice of a loved one. Pilate’s own wife had spoken to him. Look in Matthew chapter 27 and verse 19: “When he was seated on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him” (Matthew 27:19).

Now, not only did God speak to Pilate’s reason, and not only did God speak to Pilate’s conscience, but He also spoke to Pilate’s wife. And, Pilate’s wife spoke to him. You see, God was so good that He sent a messenger. He sent someone—one that Pilate loved and someone that Pilate trusted—to say, “Be careful. Don’t you be guilty of harming this One called ‘Jesus.’ He is a righteous man. He is a just man.” “Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him” (Matthew 27:19). And, God has put the prayers and the solemn entreaties of loved ones on your path to blockade your road to Hell.

3. The Voice of Jesus Christ Himself

But now, listen: Pilate heard the voice of conscience. He knew that Jesus was the Son of God. He heard the voice of reason. He knew men. He heard the voice of a loved one. But, there was another voice that spoke to Pilate that day, and it was the voice of Jesus Christ Himself.

Leave Matthew, and go to the Gospel of John with me, for a moment, and look in John chapter 18, and begin in verse 35—John 18, and verse 35: “Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?”—now, Pilate, like a good judge, is trying to determine what the charges are against the Lord Jesus Christ—“what hast thou done? Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king”—now, notice this clear declaration—“To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice” (John 18:35–37).

Jesus Christ gave Pilate a clear declaration. It seems that Pilate asked an honest question. And, you’ll find out something about the Lord Jesus Christ: Anytime anybody asked Jesus Christ a trick question, they never got a straight answer from Jesus. When they would try to trap Him, Jesus answered a question with a question. But now, Pilate has asked Jesus a straightforward question: “What have you done? What are the charges against You? Are You a king?” (John 18:35). And, Jesus gives a clear, bold declaration to Pontius Pilate. Pontius Pilate was not without a witness. Pontius Pilate had been spoken to. What privileges he had!

Listen: There was the voice of conscience. There was the voice of reason. There was the voice of a loved one. And, there was the voice of Deity Itself. Jesus Christ spoke to Pontius Pilate. And, Pilate was convicted. I believe, with all of my heart and all of my soul, that Pilate was convicted that Jesus was the Christ.

Now, Jesus is speaking to every one of you, today. And, as I read this Word to you, and as I read the words of Jesus to Pilate, they’re just as fresh and just as real to you, as though Jesus Christ were standing in this pulpit, this morning. And, you—every one of you—have heard the voice of conscience. You’ve heard the voice of reason. You’ve heard the voice of loved ones. And, you’ve heard the voice of the Word of God itself.

Pilate had some wonderful privileges; but he had no more privileges than everybody who is sitting in this auditorium, or those of you, dear friend, who are listening to me this morning on television.

III. Pilate’s Pressures

But, not only did he have some privileges—listen—Pilate had some pressures. Because, the devil doesn’t give up anybody or anything without a fight. And, I want you to notice the pressures that were on Pilate. Because, Pilate struggled to make a decision. And, why was it that Pilate would not adjudicate Jesus Christ innocent? Why was it that he would not do as his wife said and have nothing to do with that righteous man, so far as judging Him?

What were the pressures that were brought to bear on Pilate’s soul? May I tell you that I believe that Pilate is so representative of all mankind and that the same pressures that were brought to bear on him are the universal pressures that are brought to bear on every man, when he tries to answer this question: “What must I do with Jesus, who is called the Christ?”

A. The Pressure of Public Opinion and Popularity

The first pressure that Pilate felt was this: It was the pressure of public opinion and popularity. Turn to the Gospel of Mark, for a moment. And, we’re going to be in all the Gospels, so lick your fingers. And, look, if you will please, in Mark chapter 15 and verse 15; the Bible says: “And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified” (Mark 15:15). You just underscore that phrase: “willing to content the people” (Mark 15:15). He had to choose between the crowd and Jesus Christ. He had to choose between the pressures of public opinion, popularity, and Jesus Christ. And so, the Bible says, he chose the crowd, and he crucified Jesus Christ (Mark 15:15).

There are some of you high schoolers that, if you stood for Jesus Christ, you know it would go wrong with the crowd. There are some of you businessmen—you run with a dirty-talking, hard-drinking, double-dealing crowd. And, you know that if you took a stand for Jesus Christ, you know that you’d fall out of favor with that crowd. And, you know there’s a certain crowd that wants you to conform, that presses you in. And, the same pressure that Pilate felt, so long ago, you’re still feeling, this very moment.

B. The Pressure of Possessions

Now, secondly, not only did Pilate feel the pressure of public opinion and popularity, but the second pressure—and it was very real on him—was the possessions that he had. The pressure of possession, and position, and pleasure. Notice in John 19, verse 12. Turn to John 19, verse 12. The Bible says, in John chapter 19 and verse 12: “And from then on Pilate sought to release him.” That is, Pilate really wanted to let Jesus go. He really did not want Jesus to be crucified. “From then on Pilate sought to release him; but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar’s friend; whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar” (John 19:12).

Now, Jesus had said that He was a king but His kingdom was not of this world (John 18:36). But, the Jews said to Pilate, “Now Pilate, Caesar is the one who runs everything around here. And, if you let Jesus Christ go unpunished, we’re going straight to Caesar, and we’re going to report that you have become the friend of another king. And, everybody knows there is but one king, and his name is Caesar.” And, of course, it didn’t take Pilate long to figure out what would happen. If word got back to Caesar that Pilate had made friends with a man who claimed to be a king, then Pilate would lose his job.

Now, I want you to listen very carefully. Do you see what determined Pilate’s conduct? You see, he wanted to release Jesus, but there was a blackmail—there was a threat—hanging over his head. Whatever buttered Pilate’s bread determined his conduct. You see, he had a position; he had certain pleasures; and he had certain possessions that he didn’t want to lose.
Now, notice how he’s being squeezed into a mold. He’s been spoken to—there’s the voice of conscience; there’s the voice of reason; there’s the voice of a loved one; and there’s the voice of Deity. The Holy Spirit is thundering in his heart, in his mind, and in his soul. He’s really convinced, concerning Jesus Christ. There are the privileges. But now, there are the pressures. And, the pressures are getting hard. He wants to please the people. Everybody likes to be liked. And, he wants to please his superior. He wants to keep what he has. He doesn’t want to put anything in jeopardy.

You say, “Well, what does that have to do with me? I don’t have any king over me. I’m not going to lose my job.” No, but you’d be surprised how many… And, some of you may lose your job. Some of you may be working in places you have no business working. And, if you take a stand with Jesus Christ, that might be the end of that job.

But, you know why some men won’t give their hearts to Jesus? Let’s be frank. Have you ever heard anybody say, “All they want down there, at that church, is money?” Have you ever heard anybody say anything like that? “Money! Money! Money!” The truth of the matter is, I don’t preach enough about money. God is convicting me about that, so you can get ready. I don’t preach enough about money, because I’ve got to preach the whole counsel of God, and the Bible has a lot to say about money.

But, did you know that there are some men, who are so mean and so lowdown, that they’re afraid if they gave their heart to Jesus Christ it might affect their pocketbook? That’s the truth. They think that if they gave their heart to Jesus Christ it might affect their Sunday mornings, when they want to golf, and fish, and drink embalming fluid by the six-pack. And, they just have an idea that Jesus would, somehow, take away from them, rather than adding to them. And, there is a pressure—a tremendous pressure—of position, and possessions, that keep some men from coming to Jesus Christ and some women from coming to Jesus Christ.

C. The Pressure of Pride and Power

But, not only was there the pressure of public opinions and popularity, and not only was there the pressure of possessions and position, but there was a third pressure on Pilate, and a very real pressure that people are still feeling, in this day and this age. And, it was something that Pilate probably was not even aware of. But, it was the pressure of pride—the pressure of pride and of power.

Look, go back, again, to John chapter 19, and begin reading in verse 8. And, listen to Pilate, as he talks with Jesus: “When Pilate, therefore, heard that saying, he was the more afraid”—now, notice Pilate is really under conviction. His conscience is thundering in his soul. He was more afraid. And now, notice in verse 9—“And he went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, From where art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer” (John 19:8–9). Isn’t that interesting? Before, Jesus gave him a straightforward answer. He asked Jesus a question, and Jesus answered him. But, Pilate didn’t live up to the light that he had. Pilate let these other pressures work on him. And now, he asks Jesus a question. Not an answer—not a word—he got from Jesus Christ.

Doesn’t Jesus want him to know? Listen, my dear friend. Jesus wants anybody to know, and anybody who comes with an honest question is going to get an honest answer. But, notice: He “went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, From where art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer” (John 19:9).

Now, I want you to notice, as this man reeks with pride. Look in verse 10. Notice Pilate. Notice him, as he lets his chin jut out. Notice his arrogance. Notice his swagger: “Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me?”—“Ha, why,” he’s saying, “don’t you realize whom you are talking to? Don’t you know who I am?”—“Speakest thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above; therefore, he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. And from then on Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out” (John 19:19–12).

But, I want you to notice Pilate’s attitude. I want you to notice how arrogant he is. Notice as he swaggers. Notice as he says, “Don’t you know whom you are talking to? Don’t you know what a big man I am? Don’t you know what an important man I am? I have the power to release you.” Jesus said, “The only power you have is the power I let you have” (John 19:11).

Now, this morning, did you know that you have power to crown or crucify Jesus? Did you know that you have the power to say “yes” or “no”? But, don’t let that go to your head. You see, the only power that you have is the power He lets you have. You can, when the invitation is given, say, “I’m the captain of my faith. I’m the one who is running the show around here. Adrian Rogers, the Bible, Jesus Christ, or nobody else is going to tell me what to do.” And, you draw yourself up in your arrogance and sulk right out of this place to your doom, saying, “I’m the one who is running my life.” Me! Big me! That was Pilate’s problem!

Pilate had three pressures—tremendous pressures—that were squeezing him: public opinion, position, and pride. And, many a man has been escorted to Hell by these three enemies. And, pride, most of all, has escorted many to Hell, bound in the cold steel chains of ego that have been forged on the anvil of a hard heart.

IV. Pilate’s Perversity
Now, the third thing I want you to notice: Not only do I want you to see his privileges, and not only do I want you to see his pressures, but I want you to see his perversity. I want you to see what Pilate tried to do. I want you to see how Pilate tried to evade the issue. I want you to see all of the cunning things that Pilate did to keep from saying “yes” to Jesus Christ.

A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus

You see, Pilate had Jesus on his hands. He had to do something. As I say, you’re going to have to do something with Jesus. Pilate had the inescapable, unavoidable, inevitable Jesus on his hands. And so, I want you to notice three or four things that he tried to do. The first thing that he tried to do was simply to ignore Jesus Christ—just to ignore Him, just to hope that He wouldn’t have to answer the question at all. Look in John chapter 18 and verse 31—very interesting—John chapter 18, verse 31. Here’s what Pilate said, when the Jews brought Jesus to him: He said: “Take ye him, and judge him according to your law” (John 18:31). Now, what was he saying, in effect? In effect, he was saying, “Look, don’t bother me with that. You handle that. I’ve got more important things to do.” And, Pilate thought that maybe he could just simply ignore the whole issue.

Maybe you think, “Now look, Adrian Rogers, you just do whatever you want with Jesus, and I’ll do whatever I want with Jesus. Just leave me alone. You just, you do what you want with Him, but you leave me alone. But, friend, I’m presenting Jesus Christ to you. And, as Pilate had Jesus on his hands, you have Jesus on your hands. And, you may think that you have more important things to do, but, one of these days, those things that you think are so important won’t be so important. You may not walk down this aisle, but they’ll roll you down this one or another one at the funeral home, somewhere. And, some preacher, or somebody else, will stand over you and say a few words. And, it won’t matter, then, to you how much money you have in the bank. It really won’t even matter to you whether the part in your hair is straight, dear friend. Somebody else will comb it for you.

But, I tell you what will matter: What you’ve done with Jesus Christ is going to matter, then. Pilate said, “You take Him; you judge Him according to your own law.” So, first of all, Pilate just thought maybe he could ignore Jesus. But, that didn’t work, because the Jews said, “We want the death sentence, and we don’t have the right to execute the death sentence.” And, by the way, this morning, friend, you’re going to execute the death sentence, if you’re not careful. You’re going to crown or crucify Jesus.

B. He Tried to Shift the Decision

All right. Secondly, not only did Pilate try to ignore Jesus, but he also tried to shift the decision to somebody else. He tried to get somebody else to make the decision. Look in Luke chapter 23, for a moment—Luke chapter 23 and verse 6: “When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilaean. And as soon as he knew that he belonged to Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time. And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad; for he was desirous to see him for a long time, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. Then he questioned him in many words; but he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him. And Herod, with his men of war, treated him with contempt, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe”—and, notice verse 11—“and sent him again to Pilate” (Luke 23:6–11).

You see, Pilate was like a man that had a boomerang, and bought a new one, and killed himself trying to throw the old one away. He just, he couldn’t get rid of Jesus. He said, “Well, now, if Herod is ruling things up in Galilee, and Herod’s in town, send Him over to Herod. Let Herod judge Him. Let somebody else make this decision. I don’t want to make this decision.” Pilate sent Him to Herod, the king of Galilee, and Herod sent Him back.

You see, here is a decision that God has arranged so that it cannot be placed on the shoulders of anyone else. Your wife cannot make it for you. Your parents cannot make it for you. Your pastor cannot make it for you. Sin is a personal matter, and so is salvation. There are some of you who say, “Well, the little wife takes care of the religion in our home.” Well, then, the little wife is going to Heaven, and you’re going to Hell. Nobody can make this decision for you.

C. He Tried to Simply Admire Jesus

The next thing that Pilate tried to do: If he couldn’t ignore Jesus and if he couldn’t shift the decision, he did what some of you are going to try and get away with doing, this morning. He sought simply to admire Jesus.

Look in Luke chapter 23 and verses 14 and 15: Pilate “said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people; and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things of which ye accuse him. No, nor yet Herod; for I sent you to him, and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done by him” (Luke 23:14–15).

Now, Pilate tries to say some nice words about Jesus Christ and let it rest at that. “I’ve examined Him. There is nothing wrong with Him. He’s all right. I tip my hat to Him.” You see, what was wrong with Pilate? See, Pilate’s under tremendous pressure. He doesn’t want to take a side with Jesus. But, he doesn’t want to be against Jesus. He just kind of thinks that he can stay right in the comfortable middle. He thinks that he can say nice things about Jesus. He thinks that he can admire Jesus without acknowledging that Jesus Christ is the King of kings and the Lord of lords. He admired Jesus, but he did not stand with Jesus.

I want to tell you something, friend. And, I want to say it with love, but I want to say it with unction: I had rather be a pagan in the heart of some uncivilized country that had never heard the name of Jesus than to be a person who will sit in Bellevue Baptist Church, in an air-conditioned auditorium, on an upholstered seat, under a chandelier, who simply admires Jesus Christ. I mean that. The greater the light, the greater the judgment. And, the hottest part of Hell is reserved for those who admire Jesus but won’t stand with Him.

Now, if Jesus is a fake, and a fraud, and an impostor, why don’t you say so, get out of here, and quit playing church? But, if Jesus Christ is the Lord of lords and the King of kings, why don’t you stand with Him and live for Him? Don’t you tip your hat to Jesus Christ. Don’t you say nice things for Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ would rather have you out and out against Him than pretending to be on His side, flattering Him, without surrendering to Him.

D. He Tried to Get a Diversion

Pilate tried to ignore Him. “You judge Him.” Pilate tried to let Herod make the decision. But, Jesus came back. Pilate just simply tried to say nice things about Jesus Christ. But, that was not enough. And then, Pilate thought, well, maybe he could get a diversion.

And so, look, if you will, in Matthew 27. And, I’m reading beginning in verse 15: “Now at that feast the governor was accustomed to releasing unto the people a prisoner, whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. Therefore, when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus, who is called Christ? For he knew that for envy they had delivered him” (Matthew 27:15–18).

Old Pilate—you’ve got to give him credit for trying. Pilate says, “Well, maybe if I can get everybody’s mind on Barabbas, they’ll forget about Jesus.” And so, he’s trying some sort of a diversion. He’s trying to get everybody else interested: “Let’s let the Jesus issue drop for awhile, if we can. Let’s everybody think about Barabbas, and forget about this Jesus.” So, he brings up another question.

You’d be amazed, dear friend, how many of you are trying the diversion of sex, and liquor, and business, and education, and clothes, and car, and trips, and vacations, and yards, and flowers, and furniture, and everything else. Your mind stays so busy that you will not allow yourself to think. And, after this, the question: “What must I do with Jesus, who is called the Christ?”

V. Pilate’s Pronouncement and Protest

Now, we have noticed his privileges. We’ve noticed his pressures. We’ve noticed his perverseness, as he tries to twist and as he tries to, somehow, get himself out. Now, I want you to notice his pronouncement and his protest. I want you to notice—in Matthew chapter 27, verse 24—I want you to notice what he has the audacity to do. Notice in Matthew chapter 27, verse 24: “When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this righteous person. See ye to it” (Matthew 27:24). This was his protest, and this was his pronouncement: “I’m innocent. Don’t anybody blame me. You can take Him. You can crucify Him. But, my hands are clean”—this is what he said (Matthew 27:24).

But, I want you to know that oceans of water could not wash away Pilate’s guilt. Now, Pilate did not lay the lash upon Jesus’ back. Pilate did not spit in the face of Jesus. Pilate did not hold the hammer that drove those painful spikes into Jesus’ hands. He simply tried to remain neutral. He did nothing. And, eternity has exposed the utter folly, showing that Pilate’s indecision was the worst decision of all. For, Jesus had already said: “He that is not with me is against me” (Matthew 12:30). Pilate could not wash his hands of Jesus Christ.

And, as Pilate stood there with Jesus before him, he failed to realize that he, too, was before Jesus. And, when the gavel sounded that allowed Jesus to be crucified, there was another gavel that sounded in Heaven, and Pilate was condemned. Poor Pilate! He was so foolish! Because, it was not very long, as he sought position, that the gavel that he fondled was held in the hands of someone else. And, it was not long until his royal robes adorned the back of someone else. Pilate sought popularity, but the people rose up against him. He died in exile of suicide. Poor pitiful Pilate!

Conclusion

Pilate made the worst decision of all. And, the things he sought the most—position and popularity—he lost. But, worse than that, he lost his soul.

Bow your head with me in prayer. Every head bowed; every eye closed. Here’s the question—are you listening? Are you listening? Here’s the question: “What will you do with Jesus, who is called the Christ?” You’ve had some wonderful privileges. You feel some great pressures. You may try to get out of it, but you’re going to make a decision concerning Jesus. The question I ask you is: “What will you do with Jesus?” Neutral you cannot be. Someday your heart will be asking, “What will He do with me?”

Father, I pray that You will seal this message to our hearts, today. And, I pray that men, women, boys, and girls will say, “I will receive Jesus. I will accept Him. I will confess Him. And, I will live my life in His service.” Father, I pray that many, today, will say an everlasting “yes” to Jesus Christ, for we pray in His name. Amen.
Is Jesus God?

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: October 24, 1999
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:22

Outline

Introduction
I. His Attributes
II. His Adoration
III. His Admission
IV. His Abilities
   A. He Is Able to Save
   B. He Is Able to Subdue
   C. He Is Able to Secure
Conclusion

Introduction

Take your Bibles, please, and turn to Matthew chapter 27, and look in one verse here in just a moment, verse 22. The background is this: Jesus is on trial before Pilate. He’s standing before Pilate. One of these days, Pilate will stand before Jesus. Pilate has Jesus on his hands. Shall he allow Jesus to be exonerated or executed? Commended or crucified? And Pilate is a fence-straddling, pussyfooting politician, and whatever buttered his own bread would determine his conduct. But he asked a question. Look at it in verse 22: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified” (Matthew 27:22).

Now I ask you the same question, because as Jesus Christ was before Pilate, Jesus Christ is now, today, before you. And this question, therefore, is coming to you this morning, and I want you to listen to it carefully. What are you going to do with Jesus? It is a personal question. I’m not asking what somebody else is going to do with Jesus? I am asking you today, what will you do with Jesus? It’s a personal question.

And it is a present question. I’m not asking what you will do later on, or what you may have done. I’m asking you right now, today, presently, what will you do with Jesus?

And, furthermore, it’s a pressing question. I can tell you that you will do something with Him. You say, “No, I won’t.” Oh, yes, you will. You will do something with Him. You will accept Him or reject Him. You will crown Him or crucify Him. You will hear Him or ignore Him. But you will do something with Jesus Christ. It is a pressing question.

But here’s the thing I really want to put upon your heart. It is a pertinent question. I’m not asking what you’re going to do with some social event. I’m not asking what you’re going to do with some political personality. I’m not asking what you’re going to do with some idea. I’m asking what will you do with Jesus who is called Christ. That’s a pertinent question. Really, who is this Jesus?

You know, small minds, they say, discuss things. Great minds discuss ideas. Very small minds just discuss people. But that’s not true with the Lord Jesus Christ. Who is Jesus Christ? Let’s discuss Him.

I believe, and the Bible teaches, that Jesus Christ is God. Now, don’t miss that. I’m asking, what will you do with Jesus. Jesus is God. Now if Jesus is not God, I want to say that Jesus Christ is an imposter. If Jesus Christ is not God, He is an impersonator. If Jesus Christ is not God, He is an imitator. If Jesus Christ is not God, He is a pretender, because I’m going to show you from the Word of God, beyond any shadow of a doubt, that Jesus Christ Himself claimed to be God the Son, and the Son of God.

Now you can’t, therefore, just tip your hat to Jesus and say Jesus was a good man, or Jesus was a prophet. Oh, no. If Jesus Christ is not God, He is a fake, a fraud, an imposter, a deceiver. Now not only that, but He has deceived countless millions. He has blasphemed the Almighty. He has desecrated all that is sacred. He has falsely represented God the Father. He has scandalmized the truth of God. And He has invalidated the writing of the prophets—if He is not God. Don’t just come along and tip the hat to Jesus. Oh, no. Either you accept Him and bow the knee, or you reject Him. What will you do with Jesus?

One man wrote some high-sounding words, and they sound good; but I want you to listen to them carefully. He said,

If Jesus Christ is a man,—
And only a man,—I say
That of all mankind I cleave to him,
And to him will I cleave alway.

If Jesus Christ is a God,—
And the only God,—I swear
I will follow Him through heaven and hell,
The earth, the sea, and the air!
—RICHARD WATSON GILDER

Now that’s sounds good. But, friend, if Jesus Christ is a man, and only a man, He is a deceiver, a fake, a fraud, an imposter. He is one of three things: Lord, liar, or lunatic; Deity, deceiver, or demented. He’s one of the three. And you’re going to have to take your pick of those three this morning. And I’m asking you this question again: What will you do with Jesus Christ?

Now I said at the beginning that Jesus Christ is God, and I want to give you four lines of evidence that show the deity of Jesus Christ. Now this is not incidental. This is the fundamental doctrine of our faith: the deity, the Godhood, of Jesus Christ. Now I want you to get the four reasons that we believe that Jesus is God.

I. His Attributes

Number one: All of the attributes of God the Father are found in the Lord Jesus. All of the attributes of God the Father are found in the Lord Jesus.

Now I was in my front yard, and a man came up to me with a briefcase to talk with me about religious things. And so I said, “Well, I’ll be happy to talk with you.” I said, “What group do you represent?” He said, “Well, I just want to talk about the Bible.” I said, “Well, everybody has some affinity group. Where do you worship?” He said, “Well, that’s incidental. I just want to talk with you.” I said, “No, I’d just like to know where you’re coming from.” I already knew, but I said, “I’d just like to find out where you’re coming from.” I said, “What do you call yourself?” “Well,” he said, “all right, I’m a Jehovah’s Witness. Does that bother you?” I said, “Not at all. So am I.” He said, “You are?” I said, “Yes. And, by the way, I believe that Jesus is Jehovah.” He said, “Oh, no.” I said, “Oh, yes. Jesus is Jehovah, and I want to share some scriptures.”

Now when I say Jehovah, Jehovah is the name for God in the Old Testament. It is used some 7,000 times. In your King James Version of the Scripture, which I’m preaching from, that word Jehovah is translated “LORD.” When pious Jews were transcribing the Scriptures, they would never ever even pronounce that name audibly. When they came to that name, they would just bow their head, shut their eyes, and worship. When they would write the name in the Scripture, they would lay aside the old pen and get a brand new pen just to write that name, Jehovah—Jehovah. Now it was the personal name that God used when He was dealing with His people. It speaks of a covenant-keeping God whose name is Jehovah.

What I propose to show you today—and I want you to listen carefully—is that the Jehovah of the Old Testament and the Jesus of the New Testament are one and the same. Now I want to give you some Scripture. Take your pen. You won’t have time to turn to these, so I suggest that you jot them down, as I have.

First of all, Isaiah 40 and verse 3—here’s a prophecy concerning our Lord: “The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD…”—now that is the word Jehovah—“Prepare ye the way of [Jehovah], make straight in the desert a highway for our God” (Isaiah 40:3). Who’s He talking about? Jehovah, our God.

Now, see how this is fulfilled in the New Testament. Look in Matthew 3, verse 3.
Don’t turn to it. Jot it down. “For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet [Isaiah], saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight” (Matthew 3:3). John the Baptist, saying of Jesus, “Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.”

John was speaking of Jesus. Isaiah was speaking of Jehovah. And the same scripture is used. And, as a matter of fact, the Bible says that Jesus fulfilled this scripture.

Or let me give you another comparison. Isaiah 43, verse 11—God speaks of Himself, and here’s what He says: “I, even I, am the LORD...”—that’s the word Jehovah—“I, even I, am [Jehovah];”—now, listen to this carefully—“and beside me there is no saviour” (Isaiah 43:11). There is no Savior other than Jehovah. Do you have that? That’s plain—Isaiah 43, verse 11.

But now listen to Titus 2, verse 13—the Bible says we’re to be “looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ” (Titus 2:13). Hello. Listen. God says, “I am Jehovah. There is no other Savior.” And then we read, in Titus, we’re to be “looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Savior Jesus Christ.” Do you understand what I say—that the Jesus of the New Testament is the Jehovah of the Old Testament?

Let me give you another couple of the verses. Isaiah 44 and verse 6: “Thus saith [Jehovah] the King of Israel, and his redeemer the L ORD of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God” (Isaiah 44:6). Now Jehovah, the King of Israel, says, “I am the first and the last.”

Then in Revelation chapter 1 and verse 17 John the apostle has a vision of Jesus, and he says, “And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last” (Revelation 1:17)—“I am the first and the last.”

In the Old Testament, Jehovah says, “I am the first and the last.” In the New Testament, Jesus says, “I am the first and the last.”

David, alone, out guiding his sheep, under divine inspiration, picked up his harp and began to sing, in Psalm 23 and verse 1, “The L ORD is my shepherd” (Psalm 23:1), and actually uses the word again Jehovah: “[Jehovah] is my shepherd.”

Psalm 24 and verse 10—I love this: “Who is this King of glory? The L ORD of hosts,”—“the Jehovah of hosts”—“he is the King of glory” (Psalm 24:10).
But then what did the Apostle Paul say in 1 Corinthians chapter 2, verse 8? He speaks of the deity of our Lord, “which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified”—listen—“the Lord of glory” (1 Corinthians 2:8)—“the Lord of glory.”

Psalm 24:10: “Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts.” First Corinthians 2:8—Jesus is “the Lord of glory.”

Let me give you one more, and we could go on and on comparing the Jesus of the New with the Yahweh, or Jehovah, of the Old Testament. Exodus 20, verses 10 and 11, speaking of the Sabbath: “But the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; for in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it” (Exodus 20:10–11).

Now it is the Sabbath of Jehovah, but in Matthew 12, verse 8, “For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day” (Matthew 12:8).

So what I’m trying to show you, folks—are you listening?—when you are witnessing for Jesus, you are Jehovah’s Witness. The Jehovah of the Old Testament and the Jesus of the New Testament are one.

Now I’ve just used the Scriptures. You see, you need to understand the pre-existence of Jesus. Jesus did not have His beginning at Bethlehem. There never was a time when the Lord Jesus was not. Put this scripture down—John 1 and verse 1: “In the beginning was the Word…”—it’s the Greek word logos—“In the beginning was the logos, and the Word was with God, and the Word”—the logos—“was God” (John 1:1). Jesus is called the Word of God. And this scripture says He was in the beginning with the Father, and He was God. When He was born at Bethlehem, He was as old as His father and older than His mother—when He was born. There never was a time when He was not. Jesus always has been.

You say, “Well, Pastor Rogers, I don’t understand that.” Well, that doesn’t bother me that you don’t understand it. You can’t understand God. Can the finite understand the infinite?

I understand that Albert Einstein came up with the theory of relativity. It’s so complicated that only twelve men can understand the theory of relativity. I can’t vouch for that, because I’ve never met the other eleven, but it’s that complicated. Somebody asked Mrs. Einstein one time, “Do you understand the theory of relativity?” She said, “No, but I understand Dr. Einstein.” She knew him—she knew him.

Listen. I cannot understand the pre-existence of Jesus, but I believe it. “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God.” Listen. The absolute holiness of Jesus Christ is taught, and there’s only one who is absolutely holy, and that is God Himself. Hosea chapter 11 and verse 9—God says, “For I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee” (Hosea 11:9). “I am God, and not man.” There is no man that is inherently holy; only God.

Jesus Christ—John 8, verse 46—could look at His detractors, His enemies, those who were snipping at Him, and He could say, “Which of you convinces me of sin?” (John 8:46). I wouldn’t ask that to my friends, much less my enemies: “Which of you convines me of sin?” And the apostles, when they talked about the crucifixion of Jesus, said, in Acts 3, verse 14, “But ye denied the Holy One and the Just” (Acts 3:14). His absolute pristine holiness sets Him apart from all other individuals.

Have you ever noticed that in the Bible Jesus never once prayed for forgiveness? Think about it. He never once prayed for forgiveness. He taught us to pray, “And forgive us our debts, as we forgive those who sin against us, our debtors” (Matthew 6:12). He never did. Either that was consummate arrogance, or He was indeed absolutely holy.

II. His Adoration

So what have I talked about? First of all, we’re just giving you some evidence of His deity, and we’re talking about His attributes. But, secondly, let me give you another reason that I believe that Jesus is God. Now, don’t miss this. Folks, this is not incidental. The adoration that He received shows Him to be God. Jesus received adoration. Now, listen to me. Jesus allowed Himself to be worshiped. Now idolatry is the ultimate sin, to worship any other god other than Yahweh Jehovah, and yet Jesus allowed Himself to be worshiped. Jesus Himself knew that only God is to be worshiped.

Now, don’t miss this point. Satan tried to get Jesus to worship him. Satan said to Jesus, “I’ll give you the kingdoms of this world if you will bow down and worship me” (Matthew 4:8–9; Luke 4:5–7). Put this verse down—Luke chapter 4 and verse 8. Here what Jesus Christ Himself said: “And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve” (Luke 4:8). Worship is reserved for God Almighty only.

Now Jesus allowed Himself to be worshiped. Matthew 28 and verse 9: “And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him” (Matthew 28:9). The same One who said that God, and God only, is to be worshiped—and here He is allowing His disciples to worship Him.

Suppose I were to come over here and bow down in front of Mark and start worshiping Mark. Mark, what would you do? I’ll tell you what you’d do. You’d say, “Pastor, stop. If you don’t, we’ll both be in trouble: you for doing it, and I will be in trouble for allowing it.”

Look in Revelation chapter 22. You might turn to this one. John is on the island of Patmos. He’s getting a vision from an angel. And the angel is showing John all of these wonderful things, and John is just overwhelmed: “And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen,”—now, watch this—“I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God” (Revelation 22:8–9). Here’s an angel saying, “Don’t you worship me, John. Get up. I’m just a fellow servant. Worship God. Worship God. Worship God.” Now, friend, listen. If Jesus allowed Himself to be worshiped when He Himself said that God alone is to be worshiped, either He is guilty of ultimate arrogance and inculcating the most despicable sin of idolatry, or else He is God. There are no two ways about it—no two ways about it. The adoration that Jesus receives shows Him to be God.

III. His Admission

We’ve talked about His attributes. We’ve talked about His adoration. Let’s talk about His own admission. Here’s the third reason: Jesus is shown to be God by His own admission. An interesting thing: Jesus is having a discussion with the Pharisees. They could not accept the fact that He was God in flesh, and so, in John chapter 8, verse 56—jot it down. You can look these up later, but we’ve got a lot of Scripture to cover. Jesus said—“Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad.” Now Abraham had been dead for centuries, and Jesus said, “Look, your father, Abraham, the one that you adore, he rejoiced to see my day.” Verse 57: “Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?” And now, watch verse 58. Now if you don’t hear anything else in this message this morning, I want you to get this. This is John chapter 8 and verse 58: “Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily…”—now, listen. When Jesus says, “Verily,” you pay attention. When He says, “Verily, verily,” you’d better pay attention—“Verily, verily…”—He is saying it for emphasis—“Verily, verily, I say unto you,”—now, listen—“Before Abraham was, I am.” Don’t miss this. He didn’t say, “Before Abraham was, I was.” He didn’t say, “I got here first.” He is saying, “Before Abraham was, I am.” And when He said that, look in verse 59: “Then took they up stones to cast at him” (John 8:56–59). They’re ready to stone Him now because He said, “Before Abraham was, I am.”

Why did they want to stone Him? Because He said He was I AM. You see, listen. God called Moses to lead the Jews out of Egypt into the Promised Land, and Moses said, “Well, who shall I say sent me?” (Exodus 3:13). Now you have to understand that the Egyptians worshipped 2,200 different gods—2,200 gods—and so Moses has to go and say, “Which, who, is the true God? Who shall I say sent me?” Put this down—in Exodus chapter 3, verse 14: “And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you” (Exodus 3:14). “You want to know my credentials? The I AM sent me. Not I was, not I will be, but I AM.” There never was a time when He was not. There never will be a time when He will not be. He is the great, pre-existent, eternal God. This sacred name for God, I AM—the I AM, the I AM. And they said to Jesus, “Why, you haven’t seen Abraham. You’re not even fifty years old.” He said, “Look. Before Abraham ever got here, I AM.”—“I AM.”

I’m telling you, folks, that the Jehovah of the Old Testament is the Jesus of the New Testament. He Himself claimed to be. Jesus said to Philip—listen—John 14, verses 8 and 9: “Philip saith unto him, Lord, show us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Show us the Father?” (John 14:8–9).

Now, suppose you said to me, “Adrian, show me the President of the United States.” I’ll say, “Well, you’re looking at him. If you’ve seen me, you’ve seen the President.” You’d say, “Mark, you hold him; Jim, you go get the butterfly net.”

I mean, the unmitigated arrogance for him to say, “Philip, if you have seen me, you have seen the Father.” Not somebody like the Father—“You have seen the Father.” By His own admission.

IV. His Abilities

Last point: He is shown to be God by His abilities—by His abilities, His mighty abilities. I want to just mention three times in the Bible where the Bible mentions His ability, what He is able to do.

A. He Is Able to Save

First of all, He, because He is God, is able to save. Remember over there in Isaiah, Jehovah said, “Beside me there is no saviour” (Isaiah 43:11). But put down Hebrews chapter 7, verse 25, which says, “Wherefore he”—Jesus—“is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him” (Hebrews 7:25). I want to tell you today He’s able to save you. There’s no one that He’s not able to save. Anybody who wants to be saved can be saved.

You say, “Well, have I committed the unpardonable sin?” Friend, if you want to be saved, you can be saved. Anybody who wants to be saved hasn’t committed the unpardonable sin. You say, “Am I one of the elect?” Do you want to be saved? Just come on. Oh, who are the elect? I can put that in fifteen seconds. The elect are the whosoever wills. Whosoever will may come. “He is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him.” And, “Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Romans 10:13). Hallelujah! He’s able to save.

B. He Is Able to Subdue

Not only is He able to save, but He’s able to subdue. Philippians 3, verse 21, speaks of our Lord, “who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself” (Philippians 3:21). Friend, one of these days He’s going to make you like Himself. He’s able to subdue all things: every dust, every speck of dust, every mountain, every celestial body must obey His will.

C. He Is Able to Secure

He is able to save. He is able to subdue. And, furthermore, He’s able to secure. He’s able to keep you saved. Second Timothy 1:12—Paul says, “For the which cause I also suffer these things…”—Paul, when he had been beaten, put in prison, he said—“I suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto them against that day” (2 Timothy 1:12). He is able. He is able. What a mighty God we serve! Every need that you have He’s able to supply.

A missionary was going to the foreign field, and just as the missionary was getting on the ship a man handed the missionary an envelope, a sealed envelope, and said, “Put this in your pocket. Keep it with you. And if anytime overseas you ever come to a place where you don’t know where to turn or what to do, open this envelope.” And the missionary came home after having spent a lifetime on the foreign field. And he came home to give his report to his church, and he told about the trials and the temptations and the persecution and all of the perplexities. Then he reached in his pocket and pulled out that envelope, never opened—never opened.

Thank God. Thank God, friend. There never comes to the child of God a time where he does not have a Savior that he can come to and cling to. And He is able. Do you believe that? I hope you do. Oh, what a mighty Savior we have!

I love Him with all of my heart. To explain Him is impossible. To ignore Him is disastrous. To reject Him is fatal. What a mighty God! Human speech is too limited to describe Him. Your human mind is too finite to comprehend Him. The human heart is too small to contain Him. Jesus Christ is God.
Conclusion

Now I come back to our text. "What shall I do with Jesus?" What will you do with Jesus? You can crown Him or crucify Him. They said, "Let him be crucified" (Matthew 27:22–23). You can accept Him or reject Him. You can love Him or despise Him. You can believe Him or ignore Him. But you cannot be neutral. Pilate tried that, but he could not be neutral.

Jesus is in your hands today. You must do the right thing, because you need Him in life. In life, if there were no heaven and no hell, you need Jesus day by day. He is like blood to your body, air to your lungs. You need Him in life. You need Him in death. You’re going to die. You’ll need Him in death. You’ll need Him at the judgment. You’ll stand before God one day to be judged. What will you say then? “God, have mercy upon me. I didn’t have a chance.” He’ll show you this scene today. What will you say? “God, I didn’t understand.” He’ll replay the message today. Friend, every excuse that you have will falter and fail. And right now Jesus is in your hands. But at the judgment you’ll be in His hands.

I ask you again this question. It is a personal question. It’s a present question. It is a pressing question. It is a pertinent question. What will you do with Jesus? Would you accept Him as your Lord and Savior? If you will, I promise you, on the authority of the Word of God, He will forgive every sin. Secondly, He will come into you to give you strength and power, as He’s done to me for over half a century. Thirdly, He’ll use you as His instrument to live His life through you. Fourthly, when you die, or when He comes, He’ll take you straight to heaven. I promise on the authority of the Word of God.
Introduction
A. It’s a Personal Question
B. It’s a Pressing Question
C. It’s a Pertinent Question
I. The Voices That Confronted Pilate
   A. The Voice of Reason
   B. The Voice of Love
   C. The Voice of Conscience
   D. The Voice of God
II. The Values That Conformed Pilate
   A. Public Opinion
   B. Pride
   C. Position and Possessions
III. The Verdict That Condemned Pilate
   A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus
   B. He Tried to Shift the Decision
   C. He Tried to Simply Admire Jesus
   D. He Tried to Remain Neutral
IV. Jesus on Trial
   A. Friendly Witnesses
      1. John the Baptist
      2. Simon Peter
      3. The Apostle John
      4. Thomas
      5. The Apostle Paul
      6. Martha
      7. An Angel
      8. Almighty God
   B. Unfriendly Witnesses
      1. A Pharisee
      2. Caiaphas
Would you take God’s Word, please, and turn to Matthew chapter 27? In a moment, I’m going to read to you one of the most searching questions in all of the Bible and in all of the world. The title of our message tonight: “Life’s Greatest Question.” Here’s the question—Matthew chapter 27, verse 22: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?”—“What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?” (Matthew 27:22) This, ladies and gentlemen, in my estimation, beyond the shadow of any doubt or peradventure, is the greatest, most pertinent question that I could ask. And I want to tell you about this question.

A. It’s a Personal Question

It’s a personal question. I’m asking it to every mother’s child in this building. What will you do with Jesus Christ? It’s a personal question.

B. It’s a Pressing Question

Not only is it a personal question; it’s a pressing question. I’m going to press it upon you tonight, and I’m going to ask you to answer that question tonight. As a matter of fact, I’m going to require you to answer that question tonight. You say, “I’m not going to answer it.” Then you’ve already answered it, because not to answer this question is to do something with Jesus—and it is to ignore Him. Everybody is going to deal with this question tonight.

C. It’s a Pertinent Question

It is a personal question. It is a pressing question. It is a pertinent question because it deals with life and death, heaven or hell. Your eternal destiny hinges upon the way you answer this question: What shall I do with Jesus, who is called Christ?

Now, if you’re a Bible student, you’ll recognize the setting of this question—that Jesus Christ has finished His earthly ministry, and it is coming to a close. He has been arrested. He is now standing before Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, and the people are clamoring for capital punishment. They are saying that Jesus Christ ought to be crucified. Pilate doesn’t really want to crucify Christ so he says, “I’ll tell you what I’ll do, ladies and gentlemen. I have two prisoners here. You can chose one of them—Christ or Barabbas—and I’ll release one of them to you. Which one do you want me to release?” And they said, “Release unto us Barabbas.” (Matthew 27:20–21) And then, he said, “What shall I do then with Jesus who is called the Messiah?” And the people clamored and shouted, and they said, “Let him be crucified.” (Matthew 27:22) Now, at that moment, Jesus Christ was in Pilate’s hands. Are you understanding this? Pilate had to make up his mind what he was going to do with Jesus Christ. Jesus was before Pilate. But now, wait a minute. While Jesus was before Pilate, at that same moment, Pilate was before God. When Pilate was judging Jesus, God was judging Pilate. Jesus was in Pilate’s hands, but at the same time Pilate was in God’s hands.

Pilate is representative of every unsaved man, woman, boy, and girl in this place tonight, and I’m going to ask you to answer this question. Listen to me. You may have come in here and you’re not a Christian. You may have dreamed not at all that you’re going to make a decision, but I will guarantee you that you will make a decision. I am going to press a decision on you tonight, and Jesus Christ is in your hands tonight. Tonight, everybody in this building will walk out, I presume, and everybody will either walk out under the blood or over the blood. You will make a decision concerning Jesus Christ, and as I’ve already said, if you decide not to decide, that will be your decision. Nobody is going to get out of here tonight without answering this question in some way—this personal question, this pressing question, this pertinent question: What will I do with Jesus who is called Christ?

I want to warn you, what you do with Jesus is going to determine what God does with you. While Christ is in your hands tonight, you are in God’s hands; and as you judge Jesus, God will judge you. Now, I want us to look at Pilate because Pilate is representative of lost humanity. Pilate represents every unsaved man, woman, boy, and girl. And God has arranged it that way. Look back at this past trial, when Jesus stood before Pilate to be judged, and I want to remind you that this judgment, this trial, was a mockery of justice. Pilate is confronted here with Jesus, and he’s trying to make up his mind, “What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?” (Matthew 27:22)

I. The Voices That Confronted Pilate
There were strong voices that spoke to Pilate, voices that confronted Pilate.

A. The Voice of Reason
First of all, there was the voice of reason. If you’ll look there in verse 18, you’ll see something very interesting in Matthew chapter 27 and verse 18. It says this of Pilate: “For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.” (Matthew 27:18) Pilate wasn’t a fool. You don’t get to be the Roman governor by being a fool. Pilate knew men, knew the minds of men. He saw the cunning craftiness of the Jews and of these priests. And the Bible says in verse 18 that Pilate knew that it was because of envy that they had delivered Jesus Christ to the judgment. (Matthew 27:18) I am telling you that Pilate, in order to have Jesus Christ crucified, had to sin against his reason. He had to sin against common sense. He knew Jesus, and he knew those people.

Now, let me tell you something. Tonight you are going to accept or reject Jesus Christ. Tonight you’re going to crown or crucify Jesus Christ. Tonight you are going to confess or deny Jesus Christ. If you reject Jesus Christ, if you crucify Jesus Christ, as Pilate did so long ago, you will sin against reason. It stands to reason that Jesus Christ is one of three persons: Jesus Christ was either the Lord that He said that He was. Or else He was a liar who knew He wasn’t God and pretended to be. Or else He was a lunatic who thought He was God and wasn’t. Right? He was one of three. He was Lord, liar, or lunatic. He was Deity, deceiver, or deceived. He was one of the three. Each of you here tonight has to make up your mind because Jesus Christ is on trial before you. I ask you, do you believe the man called Jesus was a liar, or do you believe the man called Jesus was a lunatic, or do you believe that the man called Jesus was the Lord? There’s no other choice: Lord, liar, lunatic.

B. The Voice of Love

Pilate had the voice of reason that spoke to him. But there was also the voice of love that spoke to him. Look in verse 19: “When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.” (Matthew 27:19) Now, what does that mean? Somehow Pilate’s wife was in touch with God. Somehow in a dream she had had a message from God, and God sent a message to Pilate’s wife and told Pilate’s wife this: “Warn your husband, ‘Have absolutely nothing to do with these trumped up charges against Jesus Christ. Don’t do it. Don’t have any part of this thing. Back away from it, Pilate.’” And she, with a tear-stained face, a voice of concern and a voice of entreaty, spoke to Pilate.

Now listen, not only have you been spoken to by the voice of reason, but you have been spoken to by the voice of love. I daresay there’s not a person who’s not had a loved one to witness to you. Somewhere, sometime—it may have been your mother, your dad, a friend on the job, a Sunday school teacher—somebody has been sent to you to warn you and to plead with you and to beg with you, “Do not—do not—reject Jesus. Do not crucify, or have a part in the crucifixion of, Jesus Christ.” “Well,” you say, “I’ve never had a loved one to speak to me.” You’re going to have one right now because I love you, and I beg you in the name of Jesus—listen to me—have nothing to do with the crucifixion of Jesus. Do not—do not—turn Jesus Christ away. And do not turn a deaf ear to the entreaties of Jesus Christ.

A young man was getting ready to go out on the town; and he had his coat, and he had his things. He was going out to get drunk and to party. His mother had been praying for him so long. She laid a tract down beside his things there as he got ready to walk out of the house. As he picked up his gloves and his keys, he saw that gospel tract, and it infuriated him. That young man said, “Listen, Mamma. Today, when I got off the bus, somebody handed me a gospel tract. And now I’m getting ready to go out and have a good time, and you hand me a tract.” He said, “I’m sick of it. Where can I go where no one will give me one of these things?” And with a broken heart she said, “My son, you can go to hell, and no one will witness to you there.”

Some of you have wives who have begged you. Some of you have mothers who have pled for you and prayed for you. Some of you have dads and brothers and sisters. I beg you, dear friend, do not reject the voice of love.

C. The Voice of Conscience
But not only was there the voice of reason, and not only was there the voice of love; but there was another voice, an inner voice that spoke to Pilate. Pilate examined Jesus Christ, and he said after he examined Jesus Christ, “I find no fault in this man,” (Luke 23:4) Luke 23 and verse 4. Pilate saw that Jesus Christ was the sinless Son of God. I want to challenge you. Is there a man, is there a woman, is there a boy, is there a girl, is there anybody in this place or any place who can find fault in Jesus Christ? Absolutely, totally not! He was the sinless Son of God. And the conscience of Pilate, his conscience thundered in his heart that Jesus is the Son of God. He had heard every accusation. He had examined every witness. And the voice of conscience spoke to him.

Would you listen to that conscience in you? Would you listen to that inner light in you? The Bible says Christ is that “Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world” (John 1:9)

D. The Voice of God
And I’m going to say to everybody, before you answer the question of what you’ll do with Jesus, the voice of reason will speak to you. And I’m going to tell you, the voice of love has spoken to you. And I’m going to tell you that the voice of conscience has spoken to you. And I’m going to tell you, dear friend, that there’s another voice that speaks to everyone here tonight, and that spoke to Pilate so long ago. It was the voice of God Himself. Deity spoke to Pilate. In John chapter 18 and verse 36, Jesus is standing before Pilate, and Pilate said, “Are you a king?” (John 18:33) “Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.” (John 18:36–37) Now, at this time, Pilate asked Jesus a question: “Are you a king? Who are you?” And Jesus gave Pilate a straightforward answer—no equivocation, no stutter, no stammer. Jesus Christ Himself spoke to Pilate with all of the authority and the authenticity of Deity.

And I want to say it humbly, but, my dear friend, Jesus Christ is here tonight. You say, “Where is He?” He’s in me right now, and He’s in His Word. And when I give you this Word, when I preach this book to you tonight, it is as certain, it is as sure as if Jesus Christ were standing in this pulpit. I am only the Western Union boy delivering the message. The message is from heaven. Do you understand that? Everybody in this building has the voices to confront Him that Pilate had to confront Him so long ago. There was the voice of reason. There was the voice of love. There was the voice of conscience. And there is the voice of God Himself. And there’s nobody in this building who can go out and say, “I have not heard from God.” God has spoken, and the same God that spoke to Pilate so long ago is the God that has spoken to you to help you to answer this question, “What shall I then do with Jesus which is called Christ?” (Matthew 27:22)

II. The Values That Conformed Pilate
But now, wait a minute. I want you to see not only the voices that confronted Pilate, but I want you to see something else: I want you to see the values that conformed Pilate. Why was it that Pilate delivered Jesus to be crucified? There were several reasons.

A. Public Opinion
Number one: There was public opinion. The Bible says in Mark chapter 15 that Pilate wanted to please the people; he wanted to content the people. (Mark 15:15) He was afraid of what the people would think; and so, Pilate crucified Jesus to please the crowd. You say, “Would anybody here do that tonight?” Of course! There are some of you in this building tonight who are so afraid of public opinion that you’ll not come forward.

That’s the reason I ask you to come forward. That’s the reason I ask you to get up out of your seat and come and stand here. Dear friend, I want to tell you this: you’re not going to slip into heaven. You’re not going to bootleg a blessing. You’re not going to somehow please the crowd and please God at the same time. If you are ashamed of Jesus before the crowd, Jesus is going to be ashamed of you before the Father in heaven. (Mark 8:38; Luke 9:26) The Bible says, “Whosoever believeth in him shall not be ashamed.” (Romans 10:11)

I heard a story years and years ago about a young lady in a revival crusade. When the invitation was given, the Spirit of God was moving in that crusade, very much like the Spirit of God has been moving night after night here. She wept and cried. A personal worker went back to her. She was sitting in the back of the auditorium, and the personal worker said to her, “Would you come to the front and confess Jesus Christ as your personal Savior and Lord?” She said, “Oh, no.” She said, “There are too many people here. I can’t go up there in front of all of that crowd. Can’t I be saved back here?” And the personal worker said, “No, I’m sorry. If you want to be saved, you’ve got to come to the front.” She said, “Then I’ll not do it.” The next night, the invitation was given. Again her heart was smitten and stricken; and she knew she needed to be saved, and she was convicted that she needed Christ. The same personal worker went back to her and said, “Young lady, won’t you come to the front, and won’t you confess Christ as your personal Savior?” She said, “No, please, can’t I be saved back here?” And they said, “No, you cannot.” I know what you’re thinking, but you let me finish the story. The third night the same thing happened. She was under deep conviction. That personal worker went to her and said, “Young lady, would you please come to the front and acknowledge Jesus Christ as your personal Savior?” You know what she said? She said, “Oh, yes I will. I’ll go anywhere, I’ll do anything if I could just have peace with God.” He said, “Now you don’t have to come to the front. You can be saved back here.”

Amen?

Listen, friend, the Bible says, “Whosoever believeth in him shall not be ashamed.” (Romans 10:11) Pilate was willing to please the people. Do you know what the chief cult in America is? It is the cult of conformity. Its god is public opinion. And people are trying to follow what people think. Listen, friend. Listen. This crowd doesn’t care whether you go to heaven or hell. I’m talking about the unsaved crowd, the crowd you work with. Don’t try to please them. If you please them and displease God, you’ll go to hell. And if you please God, it doesn’t matter whom you displease. So give your heart to Jesus Christ.

B. Pride

But I’ll tell you there was another value that conformed him: not only was it public opinion; it was pride. You see, Pilate was a proud man. In John 19, Jesus has stopped speaking to Pilate because Pilate didn’t want to know the truth, so Jesus doesn’t speak to Pilate any more. Jesus gave Pilate a clear witness, and Pilate wouldn’t listen so Jesus quit speaking to Him. Pilate says in John 19, verse 10: “Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?” (John 19:10) And then, Jesus spoke to him and said, “You don’t have any power, except the power that’s given you of God.” (John 19:11) What’s wrong with Pilate here? Listen to this. Pilate said, “Don’t you know who you’re talking to, Jesus? Don’t you speak to me? Why, I am the governor. I can set you free. I can crucify you.” And it’s so plain here that Pilate is an egotist. He’s stuffed full of himself, and it is his pride. He won’t humble himself. He won’t come down from his perch.
There are some of you here tonight, though the voice of reason has spoken to you, and though the voice of love has spoken to you, and though the voice of God has spoken to you, public opinion and pride will keep you from coming to Jesus Christ. You can get an invitation like this in a service like this, and the devil will whisper in the ear of a man, a woman, a businessman, a doctor, a lawyer; he’ll say, “Listen, you’re respected in this community. Don’t you go down there and make a fool of yourself. Don’t go down there and make a spectacle of yourself. Don’t you humble yourself. You just maintain your dignity.” Pilate is saying, “Don’t you know who I am?” Many a man has been escorted to hell by ego and chained by the chains of pride forged on the anvil of a hard heart because they will not humble themselves and come to Jesus Christ. Don’t you let your abominable pride keep you there in the pew tonight if you need to come forward and give your heart to Jesus Christ. Pilate is in hell tonight because of his pride. So many people say, “I’m just not going to admit my need.”

C. Position and Possessions

But I tell you there was a third thing that conformed Pilate: not only was it public opinion and not only was it pride, but it was position and possessions. Now they came to Pilate, and they began to put the pressure on Pilate. And in John 19, verse 12, they said to him, “If you let this man go, you are not a friend of Caesar. He says that he’s a king, and ‘whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar.’” (John 19:12) They said, “Pilate, listen, we’re going to explain it to you, Pilate. We want you to adjudicate Jesus guilty; we want His blood. Now Pilate, you’ve got a soft job. You have possessions, and you have position. If you let Jesus Christ go un-crucified, we’re going straight to Caesar, and we’re going to tell Caesar this: that there’s another man down here who says He’s a king and you took sides with that other man. Now listen, Pilate, if you want to keep your job and you want to keep your possessions, you’d better turn your back on Jesus Christ.”

I’m going to tell you something else. I know enough about human nature to know that there are some people in this building tonight who would crucify Jesus for the same reason: position and possessions. Do you know, very frankly, why some people won’t come forward in a service like this? They think if they come forward, they’ll be expected to join a church; and if they join that church, that church will want some of their money. That’s right. It’s just that plain. It is just that simple. They say, “You know, if I go down there to that church, they will expect me to give.” And the reason that some people reject Jesus Christ is the same reason Pilate rejected Him so long ago. Pilate was a materialist, pure and simple, and what buttered His bread determined his conduct. He had a soft, cushy job, and he wanted to keep it.

Now, I want to tell you, friend, I’ve preached long enough to know that every time the question is asked, “What shall I do with Jesus?” there are three things that conform the hearts of men: one, public opinion; number two, pride; number three, position and possession. And these people think of these things, and they try to make a choice. This is what conformed Pilate so long ago.

III. The Verdict That Condemned Pilate

But now, listen. First of all, there were the voices that confronted him. Secondly, there were the values that conformed him. But thirdly, I want you to see the verdict that condemned him. Pilate had Jesus on his hands. Pilate had to do something with Jesus, just like I’m telling you tonight there’s no way that you can get out of making a decision. Pilate had the inescapable, unavoidable, inevitable Jesus Christ on his hands. There is no way you can escape dealing with Jesus any more than Pilate could so long ago. Now, Pilate tried to do the same thing that some of you are going to try to do.

A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus

First of all, Pilate simply tried to ignore Jesus. In John chapter 18, this is what Pilate said when the Jews brought Jesus to him. Pilate said, “Well, you take Him, and you judge Him according to your law.” (John 18:31) What was Pilate saying? “Don’t bother me with Jesus. I’ve got more important things to do.” They brought Jesus to Pilate. Pilate said, “You take Him; you judge Him.” That is, “I’m not going to have anything to do with Him. I’m simply going to ignore the Lord Jesus Christ.”

B. He Tried to Shift the Decision

But of course he could not ignore the Lord Jesus Christ, nor can you ignore Jesus Christ. He had to do something. And so, since he couldn’t ignore Jesus, he tried to do something else. He tried to put the decision on somebody else. In Luke chapter 23 and in verses 6 and 7, he found out that Jesus was from Galilee. And Herod was the king of Galilee; and so, Pilate had a great idea. He said, “I’ll just send Him up there to Herod. I’ll let Herod make the decision.” And so, Pilate said, “Take Him up there and let Herod judge Him.” (Luke 23:6–7) You know what Herod did? Herod sent him right back to Pilate.

† Pilate reminds me of a man who bought a new boomerang and killed himself trying to throw the old one away.†

He’s trying to get rid of Jesus, but he can’t do it. He’s trying to get somebody else to make the decision. And some of you will do the same thing. You’ll say, “Well, my priest takes care of that,” or “My pastor takes care of that,” or “My parents take care of that,” or “My wife takes care of the religion in my family. Let somebody else make the decision.” Dear friend, I’m telling you tonight that Pilate could not ignore Jesus, nor can you. Pilate could not shift the decision, nor can you.
C. He Tried to Simply Admire Jesus

I’ll tell you what else Pilate tried to do—and this is what many of you are going to try to do tonight in answer to this question: Pilate, therefore, just simply tried to admire Jesus. He tried to say some nice things about Jesus, as if that would suffice. And in Luke chapter 23, verse 15, Pilate said, “I find no fault in him.” (Luke 23:15; John 19:4,6) Now listen, friend, don’t pat Pilate on the back for that. Don’t give Pilate credit for that. I have nothing but utter, utter contempt and disrespect for Pilate who found no fault in Jesus but let Him be crucified.

Now, it’s not enough for you to tip your hat to Jesus. You need to bow your knee to Jesus. You understand what I’m saying? It’s not enough for you to say that Jesus is good. It’s not enough for you to say, “Well, I like Jesus.” It’s not enough for you to say that Jesus is a wonderful man. I’m not asking you tonight to say, “I think Jesus Christ is fine.” I’m asking you tonight, are you willing to take your stand for Jesus Christ and die for Him if necessary? He’s either Lord or He’s not. Now, if He’s not Lord, have nothing to do with Him; He’s an impostor. If He is Lord, bow before Him. I’d rather be a pagan, never having heard of Jesus Christ, than to say, “I find no fault in Him” and yet not surrender to Him.

D. He Tried to Remain Neutral

Listen to me, my dear friend. It is not enough to ignore Jesus. It is not enough to shift the decision. It is not enough to admire Jesus. I’ll tell you something else Pilate tried to do. You can understand this man was a clever man. You know what else He tried to do? He tried to remain neutral. And all of you remember the story here, Matthew chapter 27—you have your Bibles open there—look again in verse 22: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified”—now, watch verse 24—“When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made”—that is, “a riot was made”—“he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.” (Matthew 27:22–24) Now, what Pilate said is, “Look,” he said, “I’m going to remain neutral. If you want Him crucified, we’ll let Him be crucified. But I want you to know it’s not my fault.” And this pusillanimous, pussyfooting politician tried to wash his lily-white politician’s hands. But I want to tell you an ocean of water could not wash away the stain on Pilate’s hand.

Now, it is true that Pilate did not hold the lash that beat the back of Jesus. It is true that Pilate’s spit did not defile the face of Jesus. It is true that Pilate did not hold the hammer that drove those nails. But I hold Pilate guilty for the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, for his indecision was the worst decision of all. Let me tell you what Jesus said. Listen to me. Jesus said, “He that is not with me is against me.” (Matthew 12:30; Luke 11:23)

Now, everybody in this building tonight is either with Christ or against Christ. Now, Pilate let his gavel fall, and Pilate said, “Let Him be crucified,” trying to remain neutral. When that gavel fell in Pilate’s judgment hall, another gavel fell in heaven. And when Pilate adjudicated Jesus guilty, God adjudicated Pilate guilty. And I want to tell you something, dear friend: tonight Pilate is in hell. He died in exile, a suicide. And before long, other hands were fondling that gavel that Pilate had. Before long, another shoulder had that robe draped around it. And Pilate tonight is in hell. And eternity will testify that his lack of decision was the worst decision he could make.

Now, I’m going to tell you again—listen; you listen to me—there are some of you tonight who will try to ignore Jesus. There are some of you tonight who will try to shift the decision. There are some of you tonight who will try to flatter Jesus. And there are some of you tonight who will try to remain neutral. But I am telling you—and you listen to me—the question is before you tonight, and you must answer it: What will you do with Jesus, which is called Christ?

IV. Jesus on Trial
Now, let me take a few more moments, friend, and I want to forget that past trial. I want to put Jesus Christ on trial here tonight. May I do so? I’m going to put Jesus in the prisoner’s dock. And I’ll tell you what I’m going to do. I’m going to impanel all of the people here tonight as a jury, and I’m going to ask you to judge. What will you do with Jesus Christ? Now, as I said, His first trial was a mockery of justice, so I’m going to put Him on trial again.

A. Friendly Witnesses
And I’m going to let some people testify concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. And every testimony will come directly from the Word of God. Now, Jesus is in the prisoner’s dock. And I’m going to call some witnesses, and I want them to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

1. John the Baptist
First of all, I call John the Baptist. John, you were the first cousin to the Lord Jesus. As boys you grew up together. John, I want you to tell the jury, what think you of Christ? And I hear rugged John the Baptist say, as he looks at the accused, “Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.” (John 1:29) Thank you, thank you, John the Baptist.

2. Simon Peter
I want to call the big fisherman. Peter, you’ve never been hesitant to say what you think. Peter, on an occasion, you cursed and swore and denied Him. But in the light of eternity, Peter, tell us, what think you of Christ? And I hear Simon Peter saying, “Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.” (Matthew 16:16) Thank you for that testimony, Simon Peter. You may step down.

3. The Apostle John
Now I want to call the Apostle John—not John the Baptist, but the Apostle John. John, you’re a mystic; you’re an intellect. I want you to tell the jury, what think you of the accused? And John says, “We beheld Him, the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth.” (John 1:14) Thank you, Apostle John. I want you to step down.

4. Thomas
Thomas, they call you “doubting Thomas.” Thomas, you’re not easily persuaded. Thomas, you’re one of these guys who has to see it to believe it. Thomas, you tell everybody, what think you of Christ? I hear Thomas saying, “My LORD and my God.” (John 20:28) Thank you, Thomas. You may be seated.

5. The Apostle Paul
I want to call the mightiest intellect this world has ever known, other than Jesus Christ Himself: the Apostle Paul. Paul, you studied under Gamaliel. Paul, you’re a lawyer. You’re a religionist. You’re proficient in many languages. Paul, you tell us what you think of the accused. Paul says, “He is the firstborn of every creature, the image of the invisible God.” (Colossians 1:15) Thank you, Paul. Be seated.

6. Martha
Well, we’ve had all men to testify. Let’s bring a woman in. Martha, Martha, He stayed in your home. You were there with Him in moments of fellowship around the table. Martha, tell us what you think, with a woman’s instincts. Martha says, “I believe…thou art…the Son of God.” (John 11:27) Thank you, Martha, for that precious testimony.

7. An Angel
I’m going to do something that’s never been done in an earthly court. I’m going to summon to give a testimony now a holy angel. Angel, would you step out of glory? Would you come and tell us who this is? And I see the angel as he bows his head and covers his face with his wing and he says, “For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.” (Luke 2:11) That’s what the angels have to say about Him.

8. Almighty God
And now I want us to get very reverent because in this courtroom tonight, humbly, with a trembling heart and lips, I ask the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Universe, Almighty God, would you tell us what you think of this One? And the Father says, “Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.” (Mark 1:11)
B. Unfriendly Witnesses

Somebody says, “It’s a one-sided trial. You’ve just had His friends to testify. How about some people on the other side?” All right, let’s have some people on the other side.

1. A Pharisee

I want to call a Pharisee. Pharisee, you tell us, what do you have against this man? The Pharisee sneers, and he curls his lip; and he says, “This man receiveth sinners.” (Luke 15:2) Thank God He does—thank God He does.

2. Caiaphas

Caiaphas, you were the high priest. You condemned Him to death. What do you have against Him? “He said, ‘I’m the Son of God.’” (Matthew 26:63–65) Oh, I see, Caiaphas. Be seated.

3. Pilate

4. The Centurion

There was a centurion. You put a spear in His side. Tell us what you think of Him. And the centurion says, “Truly this was the Son of God.” (Matthew 27:54)

5. The Dying Thief

There was a thief who died next to Him on a cross. Dying thief, surely if a man were to tell the truth, he ought to tell it with his dying breath. What do you think of Him? And that thief says, “This man hath done nothing amiss.” (Luke 23:41)

6. Judas

Oh, dear friend, I want to call someone from the very pit of hell. Judas, you sold Jesus for thirty pieces of silver. You betrayed Jesus Christ with a kiss. Judas, stand here. Tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. Who is this, and what do you think of Him? And I see Judas as he says, “I have betrayed...innocent blood.” (Matthew 27:4)

7. A Demon

“Well,” you say, “you’ve called an angel.” Yes, I did. Let me call a demon now. I call a demon up from the very pit of hell. And I say, demon, I bind you and adjure you to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. Who is this? And I hear the demon say, “[We] know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.” (Mark 1:24) Even the demons confess that Jesus is Lord. My dear friend, the devils in hell believe and tremble. (James 2:19)
Conclusion

Now listen—listen. I’m going to ask you—you’ve heard the testimony; you’ve heard the friends of Jesus testify; you’ve heard the enemies of Jesus testify; you’ve heard men testify; you’ve heard women testify; you’ve heard voices long ago testify; you’ve heard this voice tonight testify; you have heard angels and demons; you have heard Almighty God testify—but now I’m going to ask you the question: Are you ready for it? Listen. What do you think of Christ? I’m asking you that question. I’m not asking your neighbor. I’m asking you that question now, not tomorrow. What do you think of Christ? And I’m going to ask you another question: What will you do with Jesus, which is called Christ? And I want to remind you that you will either accept Him or reject Him. Are you listening? You will either crown Him or crucify Him. You will either confess Him or deny Him. You cannot ignore Him. It is not enough to admire Him. You cannot shift the decision. Your pride will tell you, “Don’t make that decision.” Public opinion will tell you, “Be careful what you do.” Possessions and position will say, “Don’t risk me.” The voice of reason says, “Answer right.” The voice of a loved one says, “Answer right.” The voice of conscience says, “Answer right.” The voice of God says, “Answer right.” And answer you will. What will you do with Jesus?

I am telling you tonight, you will do something with Jesus. Everyone here tonight will say “yes” or “no.” You will receive Him; you will reject Him. You will honor Him or you will shame Him. You will crown Him or you will crucify Him. You will walk out under the blood or over the blood. But you cannot be neutral. You must do something with Jesus Christ. And if you tell me you will not decide, you just decided not to decide. And that’s the worst decision you can make, for “he that is not with me is against me.” (Matthew 12:30; Luke 11:23) I am telling you, long ago, long ago, Jesus was in Pilate’s hands. Tonight, Pilate is in His hands. Tonight, Jesus is in your hands. One of these days soon, you will be in His hands.
What Shall I Do with Christ?

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: April 16, 1995
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:22

Outline

Introduction

I. The Voices That Spoke to Pilate
   A. The Voice of Reason
   B. The Voice of Conscience
   C. The Voice of a Loved One
   D. The Voice of the Lord

II. The Values That Controlled Pilate
   A. Public Opinion and Popularity
   B. Position and Possession
   C. Pride

III. The Verdict That Condemned Pilate
   A. Friendly Witnesses
      1. John the Baptist
      2. Simon Peter
      3. The Apostle John
      4. The Apostle Paul
      5. Mary, the Sister of Martha
      6. An Angel
   B. Unfriendly Witnesses
      1. The Pharisees
      2. Caiaphas
      3. A Thief
      4. Judas
      5. The Roman Centurion
      6. A Demon
   C. Modern Witnesses
      1. Don Bramlett
      2. Ted Minor
      3. Ed Rollins
   D. The Supreme Witness

Conclusion
Introduction

We’re going to ask a question today, the question that Pilate asked, the Roman governor who delivered Jesus up to be crucified. He asked this question two thousand years ago, but the question is as fresh and as pertinent today as it was then. Here is the question: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified” (Matthew 27:22). “What then shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?” This question is a personal question. You, like Pilate, must answer it. This question is a pertinent question. We’re not talking about some other personality. We’re not talking about some denomination. We’re not talking about some idea. We’re talking about one who claims to be the Son of God. And this question is a pressing question. It is before you right now. And before you leave this congregation, if you’ve not already settled that question, you will make a decision concerning that question. Everybody in this building will answer one way or another; whether vocally or by their actions, they will answer this question: What shall I do with Christ?

Now Pilate had Jesus Christ on his hand, and therefore Jesus Christ was in Pilate’s hand at that day. And, today, Jesus Christ is in your hand. But the time came when Pilate was in Jesus’ hand, and the time will come when you will be in Jesus’ hand. Jesus was standing before Pilate, but at the judgment, Pilate stands before Jesus. Jesus is standing before you today, through the Spirit and through the Word. But, one day, as surely as I stand here, you will stand before the Lord Jesus Christ. And so this question is a very pertinent, a very personal, a very pressing question: What shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?

I. The Voices That Spoke to Pilate

Now Pilate had to do something with Jesus. He was faced with the inevitable, unavoidable Jesus Christ. And so are you. And I want you to know that Pilate did not make the decision that he made to have Jesus crucified, he didn’t make that decision without warning. There were some voices that spoke to Pilate. There were some voices that confronted him.

A. The Voice of Reason

For example, there was a voice of reason. The Bible says that Pilate knew that it was for envy that they had delivered Jesus to him (Matthew 27:18; Mark 15:10). Now Pilate was no fool. You don’t get to be the Roman governor by being a fool. And the voice of reason told Pilate that this whole thing was a charade. And I’m going to say something to you, sir. If you will use the voice of reason Pilate failed to use, you’ll give your heart to Jesus Christ. The voice of reason spoke to Pilate.
B. The Voice of Conscience

I’ll tell you something else that spoke to Pilate: not only reason, but conscience. Pilate looked at him, Pilate listened to all of the witnesses, and Pilate said, “I, having examined the evidence, find no fault in Him” (Luke 23:4; John 18:38; John 19:4, 6). His conscience reverberated through him, and he knew indeed, not only by reason, but by conscience, that Jesus Christ was who He claimed to be.

C. The Voice of a Loved One

But another voice spoke to Pilate. His wife somehow was in a touch with God, and his wife had a dream. And she came to Pilate, and she sent word to Pilate and said, “Have nothing to do with this man, because this just man, I’ve suffered many things in a dream because of Him” (Matthew 27:19). And God, through the voice of a loved one, had spoken to Pilate. And, again, I’m speaking to people, and the voice of reason has spoken to you. The voice of conscience has spoken to you. And the voice of a loved one has spoken to you. Maybe it’s your mother, maybe your dad, maybe your wife, maybe your children, maybe your pastor, maybe your Sunday School teacher, but God has sent to you a very special messenger in love to tell you to give your heart to Jesus Christ and to crown Him as Lord of lords and King of kings.

D. The Voice of the Lord

But you know the greatest voice that spoke to Pilate? It was the voice of God. He was face to face with Jesus Christ, and Jesus said, “Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice” (John 18:37). Jesus Christ and Pilate were face to face, and Pilate heard. Pilate had his ability. Pilate had his opportunity to give his heart to Jesus Christ. There were voices—voices that confronted him.

II. The Values That Controlled Pilate

But, friend, there were values that controlled him. I mean, it was very difficult for Pilate to give his heart to Christ. It was very difficult for Christ to be real in Pilate’s life. There were some values that were squeezing Pilate in. What were they?

A. Public Opinion and Popularity

Well, number one: public opinion. The Bible tells us that Pilate allowed Jesus Christ to be crucified because he wanted the crowd to be content. I mean, in order to give contentment to the crowd, the Bible says, in order to placate them, in order to keep a riot from being made, Pilate said, “Let Him be crucified” (Matthew 27:24–26; Mark 15:15; Luke 23:23–24). Do you understand? It was public opinion that was squeezing Pilate into a mold.
And some of you are afraid that, if you gave your heart to Jesus Christ, you would be laughed at, perhaps on the job, perhaps in your business, perhaps at the university, perhaps at the hospital. People would look down upon you. You’d be out of step with the crowd that you run in.

B. Position and Possession

But there was another pressure that conformed him, another value that conformed him; not only public opinion and popularity, but there was something else. It was position and possession. You see, Pilate had a cushy job. I mean, he had all of the lavish amenities that a Roman governor would have. And the Jewish council said—listen—“Jesus claims to be king, and if you don’t allow Jesus Christ to be crucified, we’ll send word to Caesar, and Caesar will deal with you. You will lose your position and your possession” (John 19:12). And Pilate made a decision to crucify Jesus Christ, because what buttered his bread determined his conduct. And there are people like that today who still would see that Jesus Christ is crucified before they would give up position and possession.

C. Pride

But I’ll tell you the main thing that conformed Pilate: not public opinion, not position, not possession, but pride. Pilate was an egotist, stuffed full of himself. He said to Jesus, “Why don’t you talk to me? Don’t you know that I have the power to crucify you or to release you?” (Matthew 27:13; Mark 15:4; John 19:10). I mean, the man is reeking with pride. Many a man, many a woman, today has been escorted to hell bound in the cold chains of pride that have been forged on the anvil of a hard heart.

III. The Verdict That Condemned Pilate

But see not only the voices that confronted him; see not only the values that controlled him; but see the verdict that condemned him. Pilate said, after all of these pressures, “All right, I am going to wash my hands of Jesus.” And in a mock ceremony he took a basin of water, washed his lily white, fence-straddling politician’s hands, held them up, and said, “I am innocent of the blood of this just man: see ye to it" (Matthew 27:24).

And it is true that Pilate did not spit in the face of Jesus. It is true that Pilate’s hands were not the hands that jerked the beard from His face. It is true that Pilate did not hold that club that battered and beat and bruised the face of Jesus. It is true that Pilate did not hold the hammer that drove those searing nails into the quivering palms of Jesus Christ. It is true that Pilate did not hold the spear that was rammed into His side. But eternity will show that Pilate’s decision not to decide was the worst decision of all, for Jesus Christ said, “He that is not with me is against me” (Matthew 12:30; Luke 11:23). And Pilate thought that by allowing the crowd to decide whether it would be Jesus or Barabbas that somehow he could wash his hands, that somehow he could be neutral of this whole thing. But his decision not to decide was the worst decision that he could make, because he decided against the Lord Jesus and allowed Jesus to be crucified. That first trial was a mockery of justice.

So, today, we’re going to put Jesus Christ on trial again. I’m going to empanel this choir and this congregation as a jury. I’m going to put Jesus Christ here in the seat of the accused, and we’re going to hear some evidence again. I’m going to ask you to listen to the testimony of people concerning Jesus Christ. The two questions are, “What think ye of Christ?” The second question is, “What shall I do with Jesus who is called the Christ?”

A. Friendly Witnesses

And so we’re going to bring some witnesses here this morning, and I’m going to ask them, “What think ye of Christ?” And these witnesses are going to give words to you out of the pages of Holy Scripture. Every testimony will be backed up by the inerrant, infallible Word of God as we go back into time.

1. John the Baptist

First of all, I want to bring this morning to testify a man called the forerunner of Jesus, a wilderness man, John the Baptist. John the Baptist, you were related by blood to the Lord Jesus Christ in some ways. John, you were the one who baptized Him. John, I want to ask you a question. What think ye of Christ? And I want you to hear that rugged individualist, John the Baptist, as he looks at the One in the prisoner’s dock, and this is what John has to say about Him” “Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world” (John 1:29). Thank you, John. I appreciate that testimony.

2. Simon Peter

I want to call now the big fisherman, Simon Peter. He was always ready to speak. Surely we can get Simon Peter to give a testimony. Simon Peter, tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. What think ye of Christ? I want you to hear the big fisherman as he says, “Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God” (Matthew 16:16). Thank you, Simon Peter, for that testimony. That’s a wonderful a testimony.

3. The Apostle John

You know whom I’d like to call now? I’d like to call the Apostle John. John, you’re a deep thinker. John, you’re a mystic. John, you spent three years in the presence of Jesus. What think ye of Christ? I want you to see the beloved Apostle John as he looks into the face of Jesus and he says this: “And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth” (John 1:14). What a wonderful testimony! Thank you, John. You may be seated.

4. The Apostle Paul
I want to call now one of the greatest intellects the world has ever known, a man who would have the equivalency, if he lived today, of a triple Ph.D., a man conversant in many languages, a world traveler, a scholar, a philosopher. Paul the Apostle, stand before this jury, and tell us what do you think of Christ. I see the Apostle Paul as he says, “[He] is the image of the invisible God” (Colossians 1:15). Thank you, Paul.

5. Mary, the Sister of Martha
Did I hear someone say we need a woman to testify? Mary, you and Martha had Him in your house many times. Mary, would you tell the jury the truth and the whole truth. What think ye of Christ? Mary looks at Him with loving eyes and says, “I believe you are the Son of God.”

6. An Angel
I’m going to do something that’s never been done in an earthly trial. I’m going to bring now an angel to testify, a holy angel out of the glory. Angel, with reverence we stand here and ask you, would you testify to this court what think ye of Christ? I hear the angel as he says, “For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord” (Luke 2:11). Thank you, holy angel.

B. Unfriendly Witnesses
Do I hear someone in the jury say, “But this trial is all so one-sided. All you’ve brought are His friends. Let’s hear the other side.” That’s good. Let’s hear those who clamored for His blood and wanted Him crucified. Let’s hear what they have to say.

1. The Pharisees

2. Caiaphas
Caiaphas, you were the high priest. You said He ought to be crucified. Tell us, Caiaphas, why. “He said, I am the Son of God” (Matthew 26:63–65). Oh, thank you, Caiaphas. You may be seated.

3. A Thief
Let me call a thief. He’s a street person, an insurrectionist, maybe guilty of murder, certainly in that day adjudicated worthy of crucifixion. You were there with Him on the

4. Judas
Judas, Judas, you betrayed Him. You sold Him for thirty pieces of silver. Judas, come up from the pit. Tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. What think ye of Christ? Hear Judas as he says, “I have betrayed innocent blood” (Matthew 27:4).

5. The Roman Centurion
I call one of the Roman soldiers, a centurion. You watched Him die. You placed Him on that hellish cross. You watched as they drove that spear into His side. What think ye of Christ? “Truly this was the Son of God” (Matthew 27:54).

6. A Demon
“But,” you say, “after you called an angel, why don’t you call a demon?” All right. Filthy demon, tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. What think ye of Christ? “[We] know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God” (Mark 1:24). Thank you, demon. Back to the pit where you belong.

C. Modern Witnesses
But somebody says, “But, pastor, these are people who lived so long ago. Don’t you have any modern witnesses who can speak?” Yes. Witnesses, will you take the stand, please? I have some here today who would like to tell you what they think of Christ, because, you see, He’s not dead. He’s alive. I’m going to ask, witness, if you’ll take the stand, give your name, and answer the question, What think ye of Christ?

1. Don Bramlett
Don Bramlett: “My name is Don Bramlett, and I know Jesus is alive today and still changing lives today, because I grew up in a home where my dad was an all-pro linebacker, but he was also a drunk, a reprobate, who mentally and physically abused my mom. We had everything the world would say is success. We had fame, we had fortune, and we had a house that four people lived in, but we didn’t have a home. And, you know, I had a mom who was a good lady, who did all the right things, but through a Bible study she learned that doing all the right things wasn’t going to get her to heaven. And trusting Jesus was the only way that Mom was going to be able to get to heaven. And after Mom trusted Jesus she immediately started praying for my dad, and then through her prayers two men came by our house and shared the Lord with my dad. And through their visit he started reading his Bible. And when Dad started reading his Bible, he came to a verse of Scripture, John 3:16, that we all know. And he came to the word whosoever, and that whosoever meant him, and Dad became a Christian that night.
Dad, you know, I immediately saw a changed man. He started coming home at 5:00 sober. He started telling my brother Andy and me how much he loved us. He would hug us and kiss us. And not only that: you know, even today we still hug and kiss each other and tell each other how much we love each other. But, because I wanted to be like my dad so much, I walked the aisle at church, was baptized, but my life had never changed. I didn’t have that personal relationship with Jesus. You know, I watched my dad for two years, and he shared a verse of Scripture with me. Second Corinthians 5:17 says, ‘Therefore if any man be in Christ, he’s a new creature. Old things are passed away. Behold, all things become new’ (2 Corinthians 5:17). And through that verse, I went to bed that night and I trusted Jesus as my personal Savior, and the Lord changed my life. And not only that, you know, now I want to become more like my Heavenly Father, not my earthly father. And, you know, I’ve had some problems, you know, since then, but I know I have the Problem-solver living inside of me.

The Lord has truly blessed me with a beautiful, loving wife, with two beautiful and wonderful children, two little girls, and if you don’t believe me, just ask their grandfather. He’ll back me up on that. And, you know, I’d like to close by just reading a quick paragraph. It says—I know this is Easter, but I believe we celebrate Christmas throughout the whole year—it says, ‘All I want for Christmas is for my family and me to have a very merry Christmas like the other two Christmases we’ve had. My dad was out drinking and fighting three years ago. We were all worrying about him and wondering when he would come back. While opening our presents, we were so miserable through those years. Now we have a happy and merry Christmas. After my daddy accepted Jesus in his heart, we have a lot to be thankful for. This is all I want for Christmas, and I’ve got it.’ I wrote that in the eighth grade, and now that’s why I know Jesus is alive.”

2. Ted Minor

Ted Minor: “My name is Ted Minor, and this is my wife Lily, and we’re here to testify of the faithfulness of Jesus Christ and His comfort. I’ve been saved for twenty-five years, but the supernatural powers of Christ that changed me at thirteen years old was so evident with something that happened to me four and a half years ago. Four and a half years ago, Lily and I lost a little daughter, two-and-a-half-year-old daughter, just out here on the fields, and I’m here to testify that Jesus Christ, that no one could give me the comfort, except He be the Son of God. You know, as I reached over and picked up, as a father would do, as I picked up my little daughter, it was a tragic accident, as I carried her in that van to the hospital, you know, before I even cried out to God, He was there. He was faithful. And as I held my daughter in my hands, I don’t know when the life left her, but as I held her in my arms, He was holding me in His arms. And, you know, the days after that, His comfort, not only His spiritual comfort, His body comfort and the body of Christ, and His faithfulness in His Word, kept us together strong. We had a strong marriage before, but it’s got us even stronger.”

Lily Minor: “As a mom, that night when I saw Joyce, her eyes were looking for me. She knew she was in trouble, and my arms couldn’t reach her. But I know that, even though mine couldn’t, Jesus lifted her and carried her home. I thought I would never smile, but God gave me something. He gave me His peace. He gave me His love, His grace that I can’t even tell you. Most of all, He gave me His joy, and I was able to smile again. I know that I know that I know, and I can promise you with everything that’s in me, Jesus Christ is alive, and He is the Son of God. We know that we’ll see Joy again.”

Amen. Thank you, witness.

3. Ed Rollins

Ed Rollins: “My name is Ed Rollins, and this is my wife Barbara, and we would like to testify that Jesus Christ is the risen Son of God. It was twenty years ago that I asked God to reveal Himself to me in a personal way, and, well, you see, at the time I was a young man with a new home in Germantown, a new car, two beautiful and healthy children, but I was living a lifestyle in the fast lane and going faster all the time, and had all but had destroyed our marriage. And it was Mother’s Day that I was sitting in church, and I asked God to send someone to show me the way. And it was two days later that I was having lunch with a friend in a restaurant at Interstate 240 and Poplar Avenue, and we were discussing how we should live a better life and change our lifestyle.

Nothing really was resolved, and as I was leaving the restaurant I was backing out, and I looked into the restaurant, and I saw a man whom I had never met but I recognized from the newspaper. I pulled my car back in and went in, and I said, ‘Pardon me. Are you Adrian Rogers?’ And he said, ‘Yes, I am.’ And I said, ‘I need to talk to you personally.’ So he was there having lunch with breakfast with his wife Joyce. We went to a separate table. I shared with him my problems. And he gave me his telephone number, and he said, ‘Call me in an hour. I’ll be home.’ I went home and told Barbara what had happened, and I called Dr. Rogers, and he asked me to come to his home. I did, and invited Barbara to go with me. When we got there in his study, he didn’t share a bunch of dos and don’ts of marriage, but what he shared with us was Jesus Christ, and he asked us to pray and to receive Christ into our hearts.

Our lives were dramatically changed, and I learned later that Dr. Rogers was to be at a meeting that morning, and that that morning his friend had forgotten to pick him up, and that he spoke audibly standing there in his kitchen, and said, ‘Lord, what would you have me to do today?’ and the Lord impressed on him to take Joyce to breakfast, and even where to take her. Was this a coincidence? No, it was no coincidence. It was just an answer of prayer from our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.”

Barbara Rollins: “I, too, would like to testify about our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I know that God is real, that Jesus is the Son of God, and that He died for our sins. And I know that He heals broken hearts and mends broken homes, and I am living proof, and my husband and my children are living proof that Jesus died on the cross for us, and that it was not in vain. And I’d like to take the opportunity to say, thank you, Jesus, for wearing that painful crown of thorns for me and for all those here who love you and know you.”

D. The Supreme Witness

Now, today, you’ve heard the testimony, the witnesses. You’ve heard the witnesses of Jesus’ friends. You’ve heard the witnesses of His enemies, those who clamored for His death. You’ve heard the witness of those who said, “He lives, and He changes lives.” But now in all reverence, in all humility, I want us to get very quiet and very still, because there’s one more witness I’m going to call today. I’m going to call today the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Universes, the One who sits upon the bench for eternity. I’m going to ask Almighty God, What think ye of Christ? And I want you to hear Him as He says, “This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased” (Matthew 3:17; Mark 1:11; 2 Peter 1:17).

Now, listen to this scripture, if you will, friend, from 1 John. Here’s what God says in His holy Word: “If we receive the witness of men,”—and we have—“the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son” (1 John 5:9–10). God Almighty out of the glory says, “This is my beloved Son.” And God has given us the written record. And God has given us the witness of the Spirit. But, Holy Father, forgive. We don’t want to be impertinent. But, Father, they nailed Him on a cross. They said He was blood-guilty. Father, what do you say? God the Father says, “He was guilty: guilty of love in the first degree, guilty of loving us and taking our guilt upon Himself.” But, God, what evidence do you give? God the Father says, “You want evidence? I will give you evidence. He is shown to be the Son of God with power, by the resurrection from the dead” (Romans 1:4). This is the testimony, rock-ribbed evidence. Jesus Christ came out of that tomb living, risen, victorious.

“Pastor, how do you know? How do you know? Perhaps they made up the story. Perhaps His apostles were knaves and liars.” Oh? My friend, a man may live for a lie, but few if any will die for a lie. These seal their testimony with their lives. Men lie to get out of trouble, not to get into trouble. But you could not keep them quiet, because they knew that He had been raised from the grave. And to silence them you might as well have told the sun not to shine. God says, “This is my beloved Son.” The evidence that He’s not just another religious teacher is that God raised Him from the dead. And the Book of Acts says He was shown alive “by many infallible proofs” (Acts 1:3).

Conclusion
Now you’ve heard the testimony today, and now I’m going to ask the jury to make a decision. I’m going to ask you now to make a solemn decision, because I remind you that Jesus Christ is in your hands, but I also remind you that one day you’ll be in His hands. He is before you today, but soon, and perhaps sooner than you realize, you’ll be before Him. Now, what can you do with Jesus? Well, you can crown Him or crucify Him. What can you do with Jesus? You can accept Him or reject Him. What can you do with Jesus? You can confess Him or deny Him. But you cannot ignore Him. You are face to face with the unavoidable, inevitable Jesus Christ, and you say, “Well, I will not decide.” You just decided not to decide, which was your decision. And Jesus said of your decision, in Matthew 12, verse 30, “He that is not with me is against me” (Matthew 12:30). You’ll walk out of this building today either under the blood or over the blood. You’ll trample His blood beneath your feet, or you’ll be under the blood for the forgiveness of sin. Don’t try to pull the trick that Pilate tried to pull. It didn’t work, and it never will work. The question is, What think ye of Christ? What shall I do with Jesus who is called the Christ?

Would you bow your heads? Imagine the ballot in your hand right now. Every head bowed, every eye closed. Is He guilty? Was He a fake, a fraud, an imposter, a liar, a charlatan, a knave? Guilty? Guilty of blasphemy? Was He guilty? If so, then in your heart and in your mind, mark the ballot: He’s guilty. But if not, if you believe the only guilt He was guilty of was love in the first degree, that’s His guilt, you believe He’s the Son of God, left heaven and came, suffered, bled, and died, was buried, and rose again, if you believe that in your heart and in your mind, mark your ballot that way. Have you done it? Remember the question is not, what will you do with the preacher, not what will you do with the church, not what will you do with the denomination. What will you do with Jesus? Have you decided? Guilty or innocent?

Now, here’s the test of your character. Are you willing by faith today to live by that decision? It would be better never to have heard of Him than to believe He’s the Son of God and refuse to bow the knee. He’s not looking for admiration. Don’t try to admire Him. Pilate tried that. Don’t tip the hat. You must bow the knee. Would you say right now, “Lord Jesus, come into my heart”? Pray a prayer like this: “Lord Jesus, I believe you’re the Son of God. I believe you died on that cross for my sin. And I believe that God raised you from the dead. I believe it. I believe the testimony that I've heard today. And now, Lord Jesus, I trust you to save me. And I'll not be ashamed of you. I'll confess you as my Lord.”
What Shall I Do with Jesus?

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: April 23, 2000
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:22

Outline

Introduction
I. The Voices That Confronted Pilate
   A. The Voice of Reason
   B. The Voice of a Loved One
   C. The Voice of Conscience
   D. The Voice of Jesus Christ Himself
II. The Values That Conformed Pilate
    A. Public Opinion
    B. Pride
    C. Position and Possessions
III. The Verdict That Condemned Pilate
    A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus
    B. He Tried to Shift the Decision to Someone Else
    C. He Tried to Simply Admire Jesus
    D. He Tried to Remain Neutral
IV. Jesus on Trial
    A. Bible Witnesses
       1. John the Baptist
       2. Simon Peter
       3. John the Apostle
       4. Thomas
       5. Martha
       6. An Angel
       7. A Pharisee
       8. Caiaphas
       9. The Centurion
      10. Judas
      11. Pilate
      12. A Demon
    B. Contemporary Witnesses
       1. Paul Kuhlman
       2. Steven Holley
       3. Debbie Gleason
    C. The Supreme Witness
Conclusion
What a great God we serve! Would you take God’s precious Word and find Matthew chapter 27. I want to speak to you today about the greatest question ever asked. And we’re going to find that question in a few moments in verse 22, but I want to give you the setting for that question.

You know that Pontius Pilate was the governor of Judea at the time Jesus was adjudicated and judged worthy of death, was sentenced to die upon that cross. And Pilate had Jesus before him, and he had to make a decision concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. And here is the great question that’s found there in verse 22. Pilate asked this question: “What shall I do…with Jesus which is called Christ?” (Matthew 27:22). I submit to you that no greater question could be asked than that question: What shall I do with Jesus?

Now at that particular time Jesus was before Pilate, being judged by Pilate. There’s coming a time when Pilate will stand before Jesus to be judged by Jesus. Pilate had Jesus on his hands and in his hands. Now Pilate is in the hands of Jesus.

Now, what does that have to do with all of us? Well, in a very real sense Pilate represents every man, woman, boy and girl upon the face of the earth who has asked the same question: What will I do with Jesus? As Jesus was before Pilate, Jesus is before you. As Jesus was in Pilate’s hands, Jesus is in your hands. But one of these days, as Pilate will stand before Jesus, so will you stand before Jesus.

So I’m going to ask you today to answer that question: What will you do with Jesus? And let me tell you about that question. It is a very, very important question.

First of all, it is a present question. Not just simply what did Pilate do, you’re going to answer that question today. What will you do? And it is not only a present question; it is a personal question. Not what is somebody going to do with Jesus, very personally, you’re going to decide what you’re going to do with the Lord Jesus Christ. And, thirdly, it’s a very pertinent question. Your destiny hangs on your answer to this question: What will you do with the Lord Jesus Christ? A very pertinent question. And it is a pressing question: you will answer. You say, “No, I’m not going to answer that question.” Oh, yes, you will. You will answer the question one way or the other. You say, “I’m not going to decide.” You just decided not to decide, and that was your decision. You’re going to answer that question. It is inescapable, unavoidable.

You will answer the question: What will you do with Jesus? Everybody in this room will accept Him, reject Him, confess Him, deny Him, crown Him, crucify Him. Nobody can be neutral today. You will do something with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Now I want us to see Pilate’s decision. I want us to see the tragic decision that Pilate made, and pray God that you’ll not repeat the awful thing that Pilate did.
I. The Voices That Confronted Pilate

Now, first of all, Pilate has Jesus there in front of him. Jesus is the unavoidable, inescapable, inevitable fact of life. And so here Pilate is faced with Jesus. And I want you to notice the voices that confronted Pilate on that day.

A. The Voice of Reason

First of all, there was what I want to call the voice of reason. Look, if you will, in verse 18. The Bible says of Pilate, “For he knew that for envy they had delivered him” (Matthew 27:18). Now Pilate was reading the hearts and minds of those who brought Jesus before him. They were crying out for the blood of Jesus. They wanted Jesus crucified. These were the religious leaders of that day. But Pilate was no fool. You don’t get to be the governor of Judea under the Romans by being a fool. He knew men, and he knew that for envy they had delivered Jesus. He knew that the charges were trumped up against Jesus.

And so, what voice, first of all, spoke to Pilate? It was the voice of reason. He knew better when he allowed Jesus Christ to be crucified. And the voice of reason had spoken to Pilate. And the voice of reason is speaking to you. If you will be reasonable, if you will do what Pilate did, examine the evidence and listen to the witnesses, you will have to say that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, worthy of all honor, glory, majesty, and praise. And so for a person to crucify Jesus, he must also crucify reason.

You see, C. S. Lewis has taught us this, that Jesus Christ is one of three persons. Here is a tri-dilemma. Here are the three options you have concerning Jesus Christ. We all know that Jesus is a fact of history. Now, who was Jesus? Was He a liar, someone who knew He was not God, but pretended to be, for some knavish reason? Do you believe that Jesus Christ is a liar? Or else, if He were not a liar, was He a lunatic, some mad man who thought He was God, but wasn’t—deranged, guilty of megalomania? Or was He the Lord? Was He who He said He was and claimed to be? Those are your three choices. Choose one: liar, Lord, or lunatic. What does reason tell you? The voice of reason confronted Pilate.

B. The Voice of a Loved One

But there’s another voice that confronted Pilate, and it was the voice of a loved one. Look in verse 19: “When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him” (Matthew 27:19). Now Pilate’s wife was somehow in contact with God, and God had spoken to her, and she went to warn Pilate. Is there anybody who has not had a loved one to speak to them about Jesus Christ—perhaps a father, a mother, a brother or sister? Is there some man here, you are hell-bound, but your loving wife, with tears, has pled with you to do the right thing concerning Jesus Christ?

C. The Voice of Conscience

You see, there were voices that confronted him: the voice of reason, the voice of a loved one. But I’ll tell you another voice that confronted him—and it was the voice of his own conscience. You see, Pilate’s conscience thundered within him. He knew that Jesus was innocent. Look in verse 23: “And the governor said…”—they were crying out for His blood, by the way—“And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified. When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands” (Matthew 27:23–24). He felt dirty. He felt grimy. He felt that somehow he was being soiled by this whole thing.

Pilate, in his conscience, knew that what he was doing was wrong, and so do many here today. You’ve never given your heart to Jesus. Reason says that you should. Loved ones say that you should. And your own conscience reverberates in your soul to tell you that you need to do the right thing with the Lord Jesus.

D. The Voice of Jesus Christ Himself

But there was another voice that spoke to Pilate, and that’s the voice that I really want to bear down on—and it was the voice of Jesus Christ Himself. Jesus spoke to Pilate. Put in your margin John chapter 18, verse 37: “Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice” (John 18:37). Pilate heard the voice of Jesus.

You say, “Well, Adrian, I may have heard the voice of reason, I may have heard the voice of a loved one, I may have heard the voice of my own conscience, but I’ve never heard the voice of Jesus.” Oh, yes, you have. You just heard it. I read it from the Word of God. It is as much the voice of Jesus Christ as if Jesus Christ were standing here in the flesh speaking to you. You say, “I’m listening to you, Adrian.” No, you’re not listening to me. I’m just the Western Union boy. I am delivering the message. It is Jesus who is speaking out of the pages of His Word, and you today have to face the voice of Jesus.

II. The Values That Conformed Pilate

There were voices that confronted him. But now, listen. There were values that conformed him. There were certain things, there were certain pressures on Pilate, that warred against his making the right decision. For example, what were some of those values that conformed him?

A. Public Opinion

Number one: public opinion. Look, if you will, in verse 20: “But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas…” (Matthew 27:20). Now there was a multitude, a crowd, that was clamoring for Barabbas, who was a criminal to be released, and for Jesus to be crucified. And Pilate was a pussyfooting politician. He was reading the polls. He wanted to do the thing that the crowds would want.

As a matter of fact, put in your margin Mark chapter 15, verse 15: “And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified” (Mark 15:15). Think about that: “willing to content the people,” allowed Jesus to be whipped and crucified. Public opinion. Public opinion. That’s what molded this man.

Did you know that when I finish this message this morning I’m going to ask you to make a public decision for Jesus Christ? I’m going to ask you not only to decide in your heart, but I’m going to ask you to do something publicly, outwardly, openly, unashamedly. And at that moment a pressure will come to you, and you’ll wonder, “Well, what will people think? Not only these church people, what will people think where I work, or where I go to school, or in my neighborhood?” And we’re so concerned about public opinion and wanting to please the crowd, that sometimes we crucify Jesus in order to please the crowd.

B. Pride

But I’ll tell you something else that conformed Pilate. And it was this matter of pride. Pilate was a very proud man. We read in John chapter 19 that Pilate “went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou?” In other words, “Where did you come from?” “But Jesus gave him no answer.” Now, listen to this: “Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?” (John 19:9–10). Now, here’s a man so full of himself, Pilate. He’s saying, in effect, “Why are you silent? Don’t you know whom you’re talking to? I am the governor. I can have you crucified. I can set you free.” It’s very obvious that Pilate is an egotist, stuffed full of himself. I love what Jesus said to him. Jesus said, “You don’t have any power, but that which was given you from above” (John 19:11). Thank God for that.

C. Position and Possessions

What was it that was squeezing Pilate? Well, obviously there was pride that was squeezing him in and molding him. But, you know, the main pressure that Pilate had upon him, it was the pressure of position and possessions. You see, Pilate had a soft job. He was the governor. And whatever buttered his bread determined his conduct. If Pilate did not make the politically correct decision, if he did not do the politically correct thing, he could lose his job.

Put in your margin John 19, verse 12: “And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him; but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar’s friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar” (John 19:12). Now Pilate said, “You know, they may go to Rome, or send a message to Rome, and say that I’m consorting with another king. And everybody knows that only Caesar is lord around here. And Caesar may get angry, and I may lose my job, or worse than that.”

And there are some of you, you’re afraid that if you gave your heart to Jesus Christ and did what you know that you ought to do, it may cost you. It may cost you a promotion. It may cost some of you material goods. “Well,” you say, “pastor, a man’s got to live.” No, a man’s got to die. And after that he’s got to face God.

III. The Verdict That Condemned Pilate

But, again, here is Pilate. He’s being molded. He’s being squeezed. There were voices that confronted him, and there were values that controlled him. But now I want you to notice the verdict that condemned him. What he did was he said, “Let him be crucified.” Now, why did he do this? Why did Pilate do this? And how did he do it? Well, we know that he had light. We know there was pressure upon him. But I want you to notice how he kind of fence-straddled, how he pussyfooted, how he tried to get through this thing.

A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus

First of all, he did what many in this building may try to do—and that was simply to ignore Jesus, just to somehow put Him off, put Him away. Read there in John chapter 18, verse 31: “Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death” (John 18:31).

Now, what does all of this mean? They brought Jesus to Pilate. They said, “Look, we want you to put this man to death.” Pilate said, “What’s He done?” “Well, He says, ‘I am the Messiah; I am God.’” Pilate said, “Oh, look. You take Him. You judge Him according to your law.” Now, what was he saying? He was saying, “Don’t bother me with this. I have more important things to do. I am not interested in making a decision concerning this person. You make the decision.”

Pilate thought that perhaps he could ignore Jesus. And perhaps there are some of you who have already tuned me out. You say, “That’s for all you folks over there. That’s for all you religious people. Don’t bother me with this.” You think that simply ignoring Jesus will answer the solution. That’s what Pilate tried to do. He tried to ignore Jesus. But Jesus was inevitable, unavoidable, inescapable. And the Jesus that you’re trying to ignore one day you will face in the judgment.

B. He Tried to Shift the Decision to Someone Else

Number two: not only did he try to ignore Jesus, but he tried to shift the decision to someone else. When he heard that Jesus was from Galilee, then he said, “Well, Herod rules up there in Galilee. Herod’s the King of Galilee. Just let’s let Herod make the decision.” And so read in Luke 23, verses 6 and 7: “When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilaea: And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time” (Luke 23:6–7). Herod was the King of Galilee, and Pilate said, “Well, that’s fine. I’ll just let somebody else decide this.”

May I tell you something? This is a personal question. Sin is personal, and so is your decision, and nobody can make this decision for you; your father, your mother, your rabbi, your priest, some politician—no one can make this decision for you. You cannot shift the decision to somebody else. You have a decision to make. And so, when Pilate sent Jesus to Herod, Herod just sent him right back to Pilate, and Pilate had Jesus on his hands again.

It reminds me of a man who bought a new boomerang and killed himself trying to throw the old one away. Jesus is right back to Pilate. There’s no way that you’re going to shift the decision.

C. He Tried to Simply Admire Jesus

Now, here’s something else he did, and this is the most despicable thing, I believe. He sought simply to admire Jesus. He thought if he could give some platitudes about Jesus, if he could say some nice things about Jesus, then perhaps it would be all right. Luke 23, verses 14 and 15: “[Pilate] said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him” (Luke 23:14–15).

Now, think about it. Pilate, who allowed Jesus to be crucified, who by his own words could have released Jesus or crucified Jesus, said this: “I find no fault in him.” And yet he allowed Him to be crucified. Do you know what he was doing? He was thinking if he could just say some nice things about Jesus, that would be enough.
Now, look up here and I want to tell you something. It would have been better for Pilate to have found fault in Jesus. Of course, there was none. But it would have been better for him to have fault in Jesus, or even to have thought that he found fault in Jesus, than to find no fault in Him and allow Him to be crucified. It would have been better for him to have been a pagan who’d never heard of Jesus than to say, “I find no fault in Him,” and then simply admire Him and then allow Him to be crucified.

Now many try this trick, many try this route, to say nice things about Jesus: “Oh, I believe that Jesus was a great man. Oh, I believe that Jesus was a great teacher.” My precious friend, listen to me. It is not enough for you to tip the hat to Jesus; you must bow the knee to Jesus. It is not enough for you just to say, “I find no fault in Him,” and think that therefore you’re all right, because if you find no fault in Him, and yet do not accept Him, acknowledge Him as your Lord and Savior, what kind of a knave are you?

D. He Tried to Remain Neutral

Now, last of all, the last thing that Pilate did that convicted him so much—and there was the verdict that condemned him—was that he attempted to remain neutral. He thought that he could just simply wash his hands of the whole matter. Look in verses 22 through 24: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified. When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water,”—now, watch this—“and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it” (Matthew 27:22–24).

What he thought was, “Look, I’m washing my hands of this whole affair. I am not saying yes. I’m not saying no. It is your decision. I am neutral.” You can’t be neutral about Jesus. When Pilate said, “I am neutral,” when Pilate said, “I will not make a decision,” that was the worst decision that Pilate ever made, because not to decide is to decide not to decide. Jesus said, “He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad” (Matthew 12:30). And I’m telling you that an ocean full of water could not have washed the sin from Pilate’s hands. And when the gavel fell in Pilate’s court, there was another gavel that fell in heaven. And when Pilate allowed Jesus to be condemned, Pilate was condemned. And I’m telling you today that you cannot be neutral concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. You cannot—you cannot.

IV. Jesus on Trial

Now the first trial of the Lord Jesus was a mockery of justice. So I’m going to put Jesus on trial again today. And I have had this chair put up here to represent the Lord Jesus.
He is in the prisoner’s dock. And I’m going to take you, this congregation, and impanel you today as a jury. And I’m going to ask you to make a decision that I have already called a pertinent, a personal, a present, and a pressing decision. I’m going to ask you to answer the question in verse 22: “What think ye of Christ?”

A. Bible Witnesses

You’re the jury. You’re impaneled as a jury. Jesus is in the prisoner’s dock, and I’m going to bring some witnesses, first of all, from Bible times, and the words of these witnesses will be taken directly from the Bible, the Word of God. I will not give you chapter and verse in order to save time, but I want you to listen as we call some witnesses and adjure them to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

1. John the Baptist

The first witness that I call is a man that Jesus said, “No one greater was born of woman than this man” (Matthew 11:11; Luke 7:28). His name is John the Baptist. “Now, John, you baptized Jesus in the river Jordan. You knew Jesus from boyhood. John, would you tell the court and tell the jury what think you of Christ?” Hear John the Baptist as he says, “Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world” (John 1:29). Thank you, John, for that testimony. You may be seated.

2. Simon Peter

Now I would like to call another who often spoke, sometimes thoughtlessly, but I’m going to ask you, Simon Peter, to be very careful. And I want you to tell the courtroom now, who is this? What do you think, Simon Peter, of the One here in the prisoner’s dock? I hear Simon Peter as he says, looking into the face of the Lord that he loves, “Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God” (Matthew 16:16). Oh, big fisherman, Simon Peter, thank you very much for that and for that honest testimony.

3. John the Apostle

And now I’m going to call a sort of a mystic, a man who has a pensive and thoughtful spirit, different perhaps from Peter. I call John the Apostle. John, you were with the Lord Jesus. Would you tell us what you think of Him? Hear the Apostle John as he says, “And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and of truth” (John 1:14). Thank you, John. Be seated.

4. Thomas

Thomas, you were a follower of His. For a while you had difficulty believing. Thomas, you saw the nail prints in His hands and in His side. Thomas, would you tell the court and tell the jury what you think of Christ? Thomas bows his knee, and he says, “My “LORD and my God” (John 20:28). Thank you, Thomas, for that testimony.

5. Martha
   Well, we've had the testimony of men. Is there not a woman who can testify? Martha, would you come tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth? This man spent many happy days in your home. You observed Him in all sorts of situations. Martha, would you tell the courtroom what you think of Him? Martha says, "I believe that you are the Son of God" (John 11:27). Thank you so much, Martha.

6. An Angel
   Well, but these are humans. Is there some other that we might call? Could we summon an angel? Put an angel here under oath. Angel, would you tell us who this is, holy angel? See the angel as he stands and looks into the face of Jesus and says, “For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord” (Luke 2:11).

7. A Pharisee
   Well, all right, but we've only heard from His friends. Can't we hear from some of His enemies? Can we hear from others why they allowed Him to be crucified? The Pharisees wanted Him crucified. Pharisee, wrap your self-righteous robes around you, and look at Jesus, and tell us why you want Him crucified. “This man receiveth sinners” (Luke 15:2). Aren't you glad He did? “This man receiveth sinners.” Is that all you have to say against Him? Pharisee, be gone.

8. Caiaphas
   Caiaphas, you were the high priest. You wanted Him crucified. Caiaphas, you tell us why you wanted Him crucified. “He said, 'I am the Son of God'” (Matthew 26:63–64). Oh, thank you, Caiaphas. Would you be seated.

9. The Centurion
   Let's call the centurion. You helped drive those scalding nails into His quivering palms. Centurion, tell us now. You watched Him die. The centurion says, “Truly this was the Son of God” (Matthew 27:54). And yet you helped nail Him to the cross. Be gone.

10. Judas
    There was one who betrayed Him, sold Him for thirty pieces of silver, an archfiend, a piece of human trash—no humanity is trash in the eyes of God, but the lowest of the low, Judas, who sold his Lord for thirty pieces of silver. Judas, would you tell us what you think of Him? Judas says, “I have betrayed innocent blood” (Matthew 27:4).

11. Pilate
    Pilate, you had Him crucified. Tell us what you think of Him. Pilate says, “I find no fault in him” (John 19:4, 6).

12. A Demon

“But wait a minute. You called angels. Why don’t you call a demon?” All right. I summon a filthy, dirty demon from the pit. Demon, I adjure you by God, tell the truth. “[We] know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God” (Mark 1:24). Back to the pit, demon!

B. Contemporary Witnesses

We’ve heard the testimony of His friends. We’ve heard the testimony of His enemies. We’ve heard the testimony of angels. We’ve heard the testimony of demons. But somebody says, “But wait a minute. Those were all from a different time, way back yonder. Aren’t there any contemporary witnesses?” Yes, there are. There are some contemporary witnesses. And I’m going to ask some of them to come right now and share a testimony and tell us today what you think of Jesus, which is called the Christ. Introduce yourself and tell the courtroom what think ye of Christ.

1. Paul Kuhlman

Paul Kuhlman: “Well, my name is Paul Kuhlman, and I was saved January 2, 1977. I was thirty-eight years old, and I was drinking my life away. Sober days were few and far between. And I went to a church service that night. I didn’t go because I wanted to; I went because I was trying to get some points with my wife and my family, because my conduct had been so poor over the Christmas holidays. And during the sermon I recognized my need for the Lord Jesus Christ. But during the invitation I did not go forward, because of pride and because of embarrassment.

When we got home, my wife and family went to bed, and I was in my family room by myself, and I got down on my knees and I prayed a very simple prayer. It went something like this: ‘Lord Jesus, please save me.’ And He did. And I would like to tell you some of the things that He did for me.

You know, the Bible says, ‘If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature’ (2 Corinthians 5:17), and the first thing that Jesus did for me was He took away bad habits that I had: the drinking habit, the smoking habit, filthy magazines, lewd and horrible language that I always used. And He took those right away from me.

The Lord Jesus gave me a new appearance. I looked like part of me was backward when I got saved, and He began to put some meat on my bones, and He removed the stains and the smells of the habits that I had had. And He put a new countenance on my face and a new spring in my step, and I really did become kind of a new person. I just looked really different.

And the Lord Jesus—you know, I used to hang around with people. Misery loves company, and I hung around with people that were very miserable—and the Lord Jesus gave me brand new friends, friends that loved me and undergirded me. And some of them are seated right in this auditorium today.

And the Lord Jesus gave me a new relationship with all of my children. And He gave me a new marriage in Christ. My wife and I will celebrate forty-one years in June. And that’s one other thing that the Lord Jesus did for me. He gave me a new destiny. Folks, I’m on my way to heaven, and I’m going to be there with the Lord Jesus Christ for eternity.

2. Steven Holley

Steven Holley: “My name is Steven Holley, and this is my wife, Lee. When we first married, I felt like having her would be fulfillment of everything in my heart, the void that was in my heart. It didn’t take long to realize that when you put the burden of your total happiness on an individual like your spouse, it wears down, and very quickly. It also didn’t take long for Satan, who’s very real, to make his way into our life and to wedge himself between us. In a very short period of time I started seeking out selfish desires, and Satan convinced her that it wasn’t worth hanging on to someone that was prideful and selfish like I was, so we broke apart.

I’ll tell you that the void in my life that was there before and then after we became separated was very real, and it ached even more, so I sought counsel. And I went to a man who very quickly turned me to the one true counselor: Jesus. Jesus is very real, in the fact that He was the keeper of my salvation from an early age. It was nothing more than just that. I figured it wasn’t that He wasn’t there for my day-to-day life. But then I began to trust Him in my day-to-day life. I started seeking His counsel in prayer and through His Word. And He made me realize that I alone allowed Satan into our home and to bind us up and to tear us apart, and I was responsible for it.

So He made me go and seek forgiveness of my wife and of God. And my wife would not, and could not, take me back at that time. And then Jesus counseled me in the way that I’d have to accept the possibility that our marriage was truly over. And, indeed, we did get a divorce. But Jesus was not through with us yet. He worked in me. He worked in my life. That promise He has of making you into a new creation He worked in me, and I was surprised. And little did I know that all along He was working in my wife’s life to take her out of the bondage of bitterness and anger. And after a full year, after our divorce was final, He brought us back and fully restored our marriage covenant. Jesus healed our marriage. And on top of that, because we heeded His counsel, He has blessed us and honored us with four wonderful little boys. Our marriage, our life, our family, is a testimony, a living testimony to the fact that if you are hurting or in need, Jesus is your counselor and your healer, and He will comfort you.”
3. Debbie Gleason

Debbie Gleason: “My name is Debbie Gleason. And there are not adequate words to express the awesome, incredible, never-ending and ever-faithful Jesus Christ and what He means to me. That was something I always thought I believed, but never did I believe it so strongly as when six years ago my husband, Joe, was diagnosed with colon cancer. And Joe’s incredibly strong faith and never-wavering belief that God is in total control kept us focused on eternal things. And through his four-year illness I never once saw him distraught or hopeless, because he knew that heaven was just ahead. I cannot say that it has been easy. It hasn’t. I cannot say that I understand why it happened. I don’t. And I can’t say that there’s not sadness in my heart. For there is. But there is one wonderful lesson I have learned through all this, and that is that no one or nothing can take away my joy, for its foundation is Jesus Christ.

I think back over the last weeks of my husband’s life, and he kept saying, ‘I just don’t think God is through with my life yet.’ And now I know what God was revealing to Joe. He wasn’t through. He still isn’t through with Joe’s life, for I know many, many times I have been, and I know others have been, strengthened by the way that Joe led his life and the way that God’s faithfulness saw us through Joe’s death. One of my favorite verses has become 2 Corinthians 4:17. It says, ‘For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight in glory.’ I know that my Jesus is faithful, for heaven is still ahead.”

“But, pastor, these are selective witnesses. Don’t you have any at random?” Yes, I do. Are there those in this auditorium this morning who would say, “I have found Him faithful and I love Him with all of my heart?” Would you lift your hand? Praise God! Hallelujah! Take your hands down. Thank you for that acknowledgement.

C. The Supreme Witness

But now I want us to get very quiet and very reverent, because I call a final witness. With great humility, I call to the witness stand Almighty God. God the Father, would you tell us, who is Jesus? “This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased” (Matthew 3:17; Matthew 17:5; 2 Peter 1:17). And, friend, that testimony is true—the testimony of God Himself.

And let me tell you what God the Father did. When they nailed Jesus up on that cross, and they put Jesus in that cold, clammy tomb, and they said, “He is worthy of death; crucify Him,” Almighty God reversed the decision of the court and raised Him from the dead, and He has been shown “to be the Son of God with power...by the resurrection from the dead” (Romans 1:4).

You say, “You believe that?” Yes, I believe it. I believe it. The early apostles believed it. Many of them died for their faith. Men may live for a lie. Few men will die for a lie. Men tell lies to get them out of trouble, not into trouble, but these people were so totally convinced that Jesus came out of that grave.

Conclusion

Now it’s time. You’re the jury, and you’re going to register your decision. Take out your invisible ballot. Take out your invisible pen. In a moment, you’re going to check a decision. “What will be the decision, pastor?” Very simply: to crown Him or crucify Him, to acknowledge Him or reject Him, to receive Him or deny Him. And you will make a decision, and you cannot wash your hands, and you cannot be neutral. You will make a decision today. Even to decide not to decide would be the worst decision you could possibly make.

Would you bow your heads in prayer? Heads are bowed and eyes are closed. Would you pray? Those of you who have already given your heart to Jesus, gladly you will reaffirm your decision right now. Oh, with thanksgiving you’ll reaffirm it. Those of you who’ve never yet done that, if you believe Jesus Christ to be the Son of God, if you believe these testimonies and these witnesses, and the witness from God Himself—and, “If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater” (1 John 5:9) is what the Bible says—would you say, “Jesus, I believe you’re the Son of God, and I believe you died for me on that cross, and I now receive you as my Lord and Savior; and because I believe it, and because I receive it, I will not be ashamed of you. Pilate let pride and public opinion stand in his way. Pilate let position and possessions stand in his way. They will not stand in my way. I will acknowledge you, Jesus, openly and publicly, as my Lord and Savior, regardless of the seeming cost. I will stand with you, my Lord, and I know you’ll stand with me.”

Father, I pray that many today will say an everlasting yes to Jesus Christ and not be ashamed of Him. In His dear name I pray. Amen.
What Will You Do with Jesus?

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: December 05, 1993
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:22

Outline

Introduction
I. The Question Pilate Asked
   A. It Is a Pressing Question
   B. It Is a Pertinent Question
II. The Voices Pilate Heard
   A. The Voice of Jesus
   B. The Voice of Reason
   C. The Voice of a Loved One
   D. The Voice of Conscience
III. The Things Pilate Did
   A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus
   B. He Tried to Put the Decision on Somebody Else
   C. He Tried to Admire the Jesus Without Worshiping Him
   D. He Tried to Simply Remain Neutral

Conclusion

Introduction

Take God’s Word and turn to Matthew chapter 27, and when you’ve found it, look up here. If you did not bring a Bible with you tonight, likely there’s one there in the rack before you. Take it out. The Book of Matthew is the first book in the New Testament—Matthew chapter 27—and when you’ve found it, look up here and let me tell you what I’m going to do tonight.

I. The Question Pilate Asked
I’m going to ask you tonight a question. It will be, I believe, the greatest question that could possibly be asked of you. It was the question that Pontius Pilate asked the crowd that day. We find it in verse 22: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?” (Matthew 27:22). “What shall I do with Jesus?”

Now, I’m going to ask that question of you. What will you do with Jesus? No greater question could be asked. You will remember that Pilate was the Roman governor. Jesus stood before Pilate to be adjudicated and then to be crucified. But, Pilate tried to thrust the
It is a pressing question: “What should I do...with Jesus which is called Christ?” Pilate had Jesus on his hands, and he had to make a decision.

Several things I want you to notice about this question tonight.

A. It Is a Pressing Question

The very first thing I want you to notice is that it was and is a pressing question, because just as Pilate had Jesus on his hands, you have Jesus on your hands. The fact of Jesus Christ is inevitable, and He is unavoidable. I will tell you with all of the emphasis, function, and emotion of my soul, you will do something with Jesus. It is a pressing question. You may ignore Him, but that’s doing something with Him. You may adore him: that’s doing something with him. You may crown Him, you may crucify Him, you may accept Him, you may reject Him, you may believe Him, you may doubt Him, but you will do something with Jesus, isn’t that right? You will do something with Jesus.

You say, “Well, I don’t even believe there is one called Jesus.” Pardon me—and I hope I don’t insult you—but you’re ignorance is showing. Only ignorance scoffs at the fact that Jesus Christ was a literal, historical figure. The Gallup Poll people who do the polls did a poll, and they found out that 91 percent of adult Americans, about 145 million of them, accept the fact that Jesus Christ was a person who lived in history.

Now, we have the Bible that tells about Jesus, but other history tells about Jesus. Flavius Josephus was a brilliant man who lived in the first century. He was a priest. He was a soldier. He was a historian. He was a military commander. He was a student. He was a diplomat. Josephus wrote a series of volumes called The Antiquities of the Jews, about 20 volumes. Flavius Josephus lived in the first century. Would you like to hear what this historian said about Jesus Christ? I’m talking about material outside of the Bible. He wrote this as he was talking about Pontius Pilate, and he said Pontius Pilate was the procreator about A.D. 36, and then Josephus includes this paragraph: “There was about this time Jesus, a wise man, for he was a doer of wonderful works, a teacher of such men as received the truth with pleasure. He drew over to him both many of the Jews and many of the Gentiles, and when Pilate, at the suggestion of the principal men among us, had condemned him to the cross, those who loved him at the first ceased not to do so, and the race of Christians so named for him are not extinct even now.” That’s what Josephus wrote in the first century. I’m saying that even the enemies of Christ, even those who do not accept His deity, even those who do not believe in Him, those who do not worship Him, accept the fact that Jesus Christ lived on this earth.

As a matter of fact, the great Albert Einstein, one of the greatest minds that the twentieth century has ever produced, said, “No man can deny the fact that Jesus existed.”
That’s what Albert Einstein said. What I’m saying to you is this: when I ask this question, “What will you do with Jesus?” it is a pressing question. There is the fact of Jesus, and the same Jesus that confronted Pontius Pilate so long ago is the Jesus that I confront you with tonight. He is a fact of history.

B. It Is a Pertinent Question

It is a pressing question. I’ll say something else about this question. It is a pertinent question. I’m not asking you about something that is incidental. Jesus is not just another man, just another Jew, just another teacher, just another priest, just another ruler, just another statesman, just another reformer. Jesus is different from all others who ever lived. Jesus was on trial then, and He still is. The issue today is just who is Jesus Christ. We know He existed. No one with any knowledge of history would doubt the fact that He existed—no one. But, who was He? Yes, it’s a pressing question, but is it a pertinent question?

Do you know why they wanted to crucify the Lord Jesus? John 19, verses 6 and 7—listen to it: “When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him. The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die,”—and then here’s the reason—“because he made himself the Son of God” (John 19:6–7). Now, they said, “Crucify Him, because He makes of Himself the Son of God.”

Now, we know that He existed as a person. The question comes, was He and is He the Son of God? That’s a pertinent question, because if He is not the Son of God, He needs to be dismissed and not respected at all. If He is the Son of God, He needs to be worshiped and adored. And, you are faced with three inescapable possibilities concerning just who He is.

First of all, you can say that He was an evil person. And, friend, if He is not the Son of God, He may have been an evil person. “Why do you say, Pastor Rogers, that He was an evil person if He’s not the Son of God?” Well, you see this. If He’s not the Son of God, He’s a liar, because He said He was the way, the truth, and the life, and no man comes unto the Father but by Him (John 14:6). If He was not the Son of God, He was a hypocrite, for He was preaching one thing and practicing another. If He was not the Son of God, He was a deceiver who promised forgiveness and eternal life that He could not deliver. Therefore, if He was not the Son of God, He was cruel and heartless, because He was building false hopes in the hearts of so many people. And, the man who is a liar, a hypocrite, a deceiver, and who is cruel and heartless, would be an evil person.

“Well,” you say, “I don’t think He was evil.” Then, you’ve come to a second possibility if He’s not the Son of God. Maybe He was not an evil person, but maybe He was deceived. Maybe He just thought He was the Son of God. Maybe He was guilty of megalomania. Maybe
He just somehow thought that He was someone that He was not. So, He was not a deceiver, but He Himself was deceived. Do you believe the One who gave us the Sermon on the Mount; do you believe the One who taught and loved as no one could love and teach was a madman? that He Himself was deceived? C. S. Lewis puts it this way—and listen to what C. S. Lewis said, one of the great literary geniuses of our time: “I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him. That is, I am ready to accept Jesus Christ as a great moral teacher, but I don’t accept His claim to be God.” And then, Lewis said, “A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things that Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. Let us not come up with any of the patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did not intend to. Jesus was either much more than a great teacher, or He was much less. To say that He was right in most of His teaching but wrong in His greatest theme is neither sensible nor honest.” Now, what C. S. Lewis is saying is this: that you cannot just tip your hat to Jesus Christ; either you have to reject Him or bow your knee to Him. You see, either Jesus was evil, who knew that He was not God and went around deceiving people, or else He was a madman who thought He was God and was a sheer fool.

Now, the third possibility is this—and we know that Jesus existed; we know He is a fact of history: either He was a liar, or else He was a lunatic, or else He is Lord. He’s one of the three: liar, lunatic, or Lord; deceiver, deceived, or Deity. What are you going to do with Him? You’re going to have to make up your mind, which is He? Because Jesus Christ Himself taught that He was God.

You say, “Where?” Turn to John chapter 8 and verse 24. This is the reason that I say this is a pertinent question. It could not be more pertinent. Listen to how pertinent it is. In John chapter 8 and verse 24, here are the words of Jesus: “I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (John 8:24). Your eternal destiny depends upon what you think concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, skip down to verse 56—John 8, verse 56. Jesus said to the Jews of that day who were confronting Him, “Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day and saw it and was glad.” Now remember that Abraham had been in the grave for centuries when Jesus said this. He said, “Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?” Now, here’s the key verse, verse 58. I hope it’s underlined in your Bible: “Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily...”—now, whenever He says, “verily, verily,” that means, “pay attention”— “Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am” (John 8:56–58).

Now, wait a minute, folks. “Before Abraham was, I am.” Read it carefully. He didn’t say, “Before Abraham was, I was.” He didn’t say, “I got on the scene before Abraham did.” He was saying, “There never was a time when I was not.” “Before Abraham was, I am.” What is “I Am”? “I Am” is the most sacred name for deity that the Jews had: the Great I Am. Remember when Moses said, “Lord, who shall I say sent me?” and Jehovah spoke to Moses, and said, “Moses, you tell them that ‘I Am’ sent you” (Exodus 3:13–14). What does that mean? Not “I was,” not “I will be”; just “I am.” He is the great, eternal, self-existent God. There never was a time when He was not. And, Jesus said to these people in that day, “Before Abraham was, I am.” And, He took the most sacred name for deity and took it to Himself. No wonder the Bible says they took up stones to stone Him. No wonder they wanted Him crucified. He said He was the Great I Am.

Now, this question concerning Jesus Christ is a very, very important question. It is a pressing question. You have Him on your hands. It is a pertinent question. Now, Jesus said that He and He alone could meet every individual’s need for forgiveness, for moral direction, for spiritual security, for inner peace, and He could bring to anybody who would trust Him eternal life. Now, either He can do that, or He cannot do that. Either He is the Great I Am and the Lord of Glory, or He is not. What an amazing life the Lord Jesus lived!

You think about the life of the Lord Jesus. Do you realize that Jesus never corrected, withdrew, or amended any statement that He ever made? I wish I could say that. Do you realize that Jesus Christ never apologized for anything He ever did or said? Never apologized! Never said, “I’m sorry.” Never said, “I am wrong.” And it was certainly not because people didn’t get angry with Him. Was He just arrogant? Do you realize that Jesus Christ never sought advice from anyone, that Jesus lived a modest life, raised in a carpenter’s home, and He confronted the scribes and the Pharisees and the Sadducees, but He never asked anyone for advice? That is arrogance! Jesus never asked for forgiveness. Do you realize that Jesus Christ didn’t have any strong points? For Him to have strong points, He would have to have weak points. He was altogether lovely.

Robert Clark has rightly given this assessment of the character of Jesus, and I want you to listen to it: “There was meekness without weakness, tenderness without feebleness, firmness without coarseness, love without sentimentality, holiness without sanctimoniousness, lowliness without lowness, truth without error, enthusiasm without fanaticism, passion without prejudice, heavenly-mindedness without forgetfulness, carefree-ness without carelessness, service without servility, self-exaltation without egotism, judgment without harshness, seriousness without somberness, mercy without softness.” What a person was the Lord Jesus Christ! As I said this morning, He could look at His enemies and say, “Which of you convinces me of sin?” Friend, this question concerning the Lord Jesus Christ is a pressing question. It is a pertinent question.
II. The Voices Pilate Heard

Now, Pilate had a lot of voices that confronted him concerning the Lord Jesus.

A. The Voice of Jesus

I want you to look in chapter 27 and verse 11: “And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest” (Matthew 27:11). Jesus had spoken to Pilate at first, and Jesus gave Pilate some straight answers to begin with. As I preached this morning, there was a time when Pilate began to judge Him, and Jesus never defended Himself. But, when Pilate inquired, Jesus answered. “Art thou the King of the Jews?” “Thou sayest.” I want to say to you tonight that the same Jesus who spoke to Pilate so long ago is speaking to you tonight. You say, “Well, I don’t see Him.” Well, friend, He lives in me, and I have His words in my mouth, and He sent me here tonight to tell you that He loves you. Jesus Christ is alive and well and living in His Church.

B. The Voice of Reason

Pilate heard the voice of Jesus. He also heard the voice of reason. Look, if you will, in verse 18. The Bible says, “For he knew that for envy they had delivered him” (Matthew 27:18). Pilate knew men. You don’t get to be a Roman governor by being a fool. Pilate knew human foibles. He knew human methods. Pilate knew that the religious leaders of that day were envious of the Lord Jesus. The voice of reason told him that what was happening was wrong. He knew that for envy they had delivered Him.

Now, if you will think tonight; I mean, if you will use the mind that God has given you—the Bible says, “Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD” (Isaiah 1:18)—you will know that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, for God will show you, and God will teach you. For a man to deny and refuse the Lord Jesus Christ, he really has to crucify his intellect. He is shown to be the Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead (Romans 1:4). The Bible teaches that He showed Himself alive by many infallible truths (Acts 1:3). The reasons that people give for not receiving the Lord Jesus Christ will not stand scrutiny.

C. The Voice of a Loved One

But, not only did he hear the voice of Jesus, and not only did he hear the voice of reason, but he also heard the voice of a loved one. Look in verse 19: “When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him” (Matthew 27:19). Pilate’s wife was in contact with God, and in the night hours, when she was asleep, God spoke to her. And, she spoke to Pilate, and she warned Pilate.
And, I would say that there are those of you who are listening to me tonight by radio, and those in this place tonight, not only has Jesus Christ spoken to you through the Spirit, and through His Word; not only has your mind spoken to you; but loved ones have spoken to you. Is there anyone here who has not been lovingly entreated by someone who said, “Listen. Don’t turn away from Jesus. Don’t refuse Jesus. Don’t spurn Jesus”? There are people here tonight whose wives have pled for them and prayed for them just as Pilate’s wife did. There are children here whose godly mother and father have wept over them and witnessed to them. Sunday School teachers and pastors and soul winners have spoken to you about the Lord Jesus Christ.

D. The Voice of Conscience

But, I’ll tell you, not only did the voice of Jesus speak, not only did the voice of reason speak, and not only did the voice of a loved one speak; the voice of conscience spoke to Pilate. Look, if you will, in verse 22: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.” Now, watch verse 24: “When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it” (Matthew 27:22–24).

What does this tell us? He knew in his heart that Jesus was not guilty of the things they had said about Him. He knew that Jesus was not a blasphemer. He knew that Jesus was not a madman. He knew that Jesus was not a liar. He knew that Jesus was innocent of the charges that had been made against Him. His conscience is thundering within his bosom, and he’s trying to wash his hands. I’ll tell you that if you’ll listen to that voice in your heart, the conscience that God has given you, again you’ll understand that you must do something with the Lord Jesus.

III. The Things Pilate Did

Well, what did Pilate do? What did Pilate do? I’m saying this question is a present question. It is a pertinent question. It is a pressing question. Let me mention some things that Pilate did that a lot of you are going to try to do, some who are listening to me on the radio.

A. He Tried to Ignore Jesus

The first thing he tried to do was just to ignore Jesus. As a matter of fact, in John chapter 18 verse 31, “Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law” (John 18:31). He says, “Don’t bother me with this. I’ve got more important things to do. I’ve got all my business to take care of. You take Him and you judge Him.” And, there are some listening to me who just say, “Pastor Rogers, I’ve got my business. I’ve got my family. I’ve got things that I’m interested in. Don’t bother me with this question.” Pilate tried to ignore Jesus, but he couldn’t do it.

B. He Tried to Put the Decision on Somebody Else

Then, Pilate tried to put the decision on somebody else. Luke chapter 23, verses 6 and 7: “When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilaean. And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time” (Luke 23:6–7). Now, Herod was running things up at Galilee. Pilate learned that Jesus was from Galilee. Pilate said, “I’ve got a perfect way out. I won’t have to judge Him. I’ll just let Herod judge Him. Herod is the king of Galilee.” And so, Pilate sent Jesus to Herod. But, Herod listened to Jesus and sent Him right back to Pilate. Pilate could not get Jesus off his hands. It was like a man who bought a new boomerang and killed himself trying to throw the old one away. Jesus just comes back to him.

C. He Tried to Admire the Jesus Without Worshiping Him

And then, Pilate does what many of you are going to try to do tonight. First of all, he tried to ignore Him. That was impossible. Secondly, he tried to put the decision on somebody else. You’re going to try to let your wife take care of the decision, or your children take care of the decision; you’re just going to put it somewhere else. The third thing that Pilate tried to do was just simply admire the Lord Jesus without worshiping the Lord Jesus. Luke chapter 23, verses 14 and 15: “[Pilate] said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one who perverteth the people: and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him” (Luke 23:14–15).

Now, what is Pilate saying? Pilate is saying, “I don’t find any fault in Him.” Well, at this point, what should Pilate have done? At this point, Pilate should have pressed in and tried to determine just who is this man—this sinless man, this perfect man, this miracle worker, this loving man—but he didn’t do that. Do you know what he did? He just simply said some nice things about Jesus. And, some of you might think that He would be honored if you would just say some nice things about Him. But, you can’t just say nice things about Him. I mean, if He’s not the Son of God, don’t say anything nice about Him. If He’s not God in the flesh, He’s a liar or a lunatic. Don’t try to flatter Jesus. As I say, you cannot tip the hat; you must bow the knee. This is the worst thing that Pilate could have done. It would have been better for Pilate to be an out-and-out pagan than to simply admire the Lord Jesus.
D. He Tried to Simply Remain Neutral

The last thing Pilate tried to do was just simply remain neutral. Look in chapter 27 again, and look in verses 22 and following: “Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.” Now, watch this: “When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it” (Matthew 27:22–24). And so, Pilate said, “Bring me a basin,” and he put his lily-white hands in that basin and tried to wash away his guilt with indecision. “I am innocent,” he said. But, oceans of water could not wash away that sin.

It is true that Pilate did not hold the lash that lacerated His back. It is true that Pilate did not swing the club that bruised His head. It is true that Pilate did not weave the crown of thorns. It is true that Pilate did not with that hammer drive those nails into His quivering flesh. But, this is also true: that he did not decide for the Lord Jesus Christ. He tried, by indecision, to wash his hands of the whole matter. And, history will record that Pilate’s indecision was the worst decision. And, when Pilate said, “Let him be crucified,” when that gavel fell on Earth, another cry rang through the universe. And, when Pilate allowed Jesus to be crucified, Pilate sealed his doom.

Now, one of the reasons that Pilate did not want to make a decision is this. They had warned Pilate, and said, “Pilate, if you do not allow us to crucify Jesus, we’re going to tell Caesar that you’re allowing another person who says He’s a king to exist in this land, and we have no king but Caesar. And, Pilate had a soft job, and what buttered his bread determined his conduct. And so, Pilate is trying to walk skillfully in this matter. He’s trying, on the one hand, not to say, “I believe that Jesus Christ is guilty.” He’s saying, on the other hand, “I don’t want to lose my job and take a side against Caesar.” So, he just simply says, “I will wash my hands of the whole matter.”

Is there someone here tonight who thinks that you can escape a decision that way? Let me give you a verse of Scripture—Matthew chapter 12 and verse 30—Jesus Christ said, “He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad” (Matthew 12:30). You absolutely, totally, cannot be neutral concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. You say, “I will not decide,” you just decided. What did you decide? You decided not to decide. You say, “I don’t have to decide.” You do have to decide. This question is a pressing, inescapable question. And, even a decision not to decide is to decide not to decide. “He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.” Jesus is a fact. He is a fact. He is Lord, liar, or lunatic. You must consider who Jesus Christ is. You say, “Well, I’m not going to choose.” No, you are free not to choose, but not to choose is a choice, and once you choose not to choose, which is your choice, then you're not free to escape the consequences of that choice. First, you make the choice, you choose, and then your choice chooses for you.

Now, at that time, Jesus was in Pilate’s hands, but today, Pilate's in Jesus’ hands. In that day, Pilate crucified Jesus, and crucified his own soul at the same time.

Conclusion

Now, the question is this: What will you do with Jesus? Now, pay attention. The question is not what are you going to do with Adrian Rogers. The question is not what are you going to do with the Baptist denomination. The question is not what are you going to do with Bellevue Baptist Church. The question is what will you do with Jesus Christ. The question is not what are you going to do with your neighbor that you think is a hypocrite. God knows about that hypocrite. The question is not how big a sinner you are or may not be. The question is not the sin question; the question is the Son question.

Now, what can you do with Jesus? You can accept Him or reject Him. Which will you do? If you do not accept Him, you reject Him. What can you do with Jesus? You crown Him or you crucify Him. You cannot be neutral. What can you do with Jesus? You confess Him or deny Him. And, everybody in this building tonight will do one of those things: accept Him or reject Him; crown Him or crucify Him; confess Him or deny Him. You’re free to choose, but you’re not free not to choose. Not to decide is to decide. You’re free to choose, but you’re not free to escape the consequences of your choice. The question is: What will you do with Jesus who is called Christ? Receive Him, and “though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be white as snow” (Isaiah 1:18). Reject Him, and no matter how much good you think you do, you’ll spend eternity forever separated from Him. Jesus said, “He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.”

Bow your head in prayer. Every head bowed; every eye closed. I ask the question again. I ask this question with a heart of love: What will you do with Jesus? It is a present question, not something to answer some other time. It is a pertinent question. It deals with the Son of God. It is a pressing question: you cannot escape it. It is a personal question: nobody else can answer it for you.

If you’re not certain that you're saved, let me help you to get it settled right now tonight where you are. Would you pray a prayer like this? “God, I know that you love me, and I know that you want to save me. Jesus, I believe You’re the Son of God. I know that You existed. I know that You're not a deceiver. I know that You’re not an evil person. I believe that You’re the Son of God. I believe You carried my sins to the cross. I believe You paid my sin debt with Your own blood. I believe that God raised You from the dead. I believe that if I would trust You, You will forgive my sins, come into my heart, and make me a new person. I'm sorry for my sins. I turn from my sins. I open my heart. I receive You right now this moment as my Lord and Savior. Come into my heart. Forgive my sin. Save me, Lord Jesus.” Would you pray that prayer? “Save me, Lord Jesus.” Did you pray it? Ask Him from your heart. “Save me, Lord Jesus. Save me, Lord Jesus. I give You my heart. I yield my life to You as Lord and Master. Now, save me, Lord Jesus.”

Did you ask Him? If you did, I want you to pray this way: “Thank You for saving me, Jesus. I receive it by faith like a child, and that settles it. I don't look for a feeling. I stand on Your Word. I accept Your promise. You have saved me. I trust You. I believe on You. You’re now my Lord, my Savior, my God, and my friend. And, now, Lord Jesus, begin to make me the person You want me to be. And, help me, Lord Jesus, never to be ashamed of You. Give me the courage to make it public and to take a stand for You, because You died for me. In Your holy name I pray. Amen.”
The Crown
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: March 20, 1994

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:26–31

“And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!”

MATTHEW 27:29

Outline

Introduction
I. The Sacred Mystery of That Crown
II. The Solemn Misery of That Crown
III. The Shameful Mockery of That Crown
IV. The Saving Ministry of That Crown
V. The Sovereign Majesty of That Crown

Conclusion

Introduction

The Lord Jesus was crowned with thorns. It was not incidental; it was not accidental that Jesus was crowned with thorns. Though the crowning of thorns came out of a diseased mind—the crowning of thorns was a cruel mockery; it was a wicked act of hatred and rebellion—yet, in another sense, Jesus being crowned with thorns was a part of a drama that had been written before the world was swung into space. Jesus being crowned with thorns has a message, a message indescribably glorious and wonderful.

We’ve seen how Jesus came into Pilate’s judgment hall and Pilate tried to wash his hands of making a decision and allowed Jesus to be scourged. They took a vicious whip that cut His back to ribbons. Then, they tied Him to a whipping post. Men would have died, had they not been strong, from that scourging. When they’d finished, they put a scarlet robe on Him. They put a bamboo reed in His hand for a scepter. They took a crown of thorns and pressed it on His brow and then took clubs and beat Him on His head. No rubies in this crown—the only rubies there: the ruby red drops of the blood of the Son of God.

Take your Bibles. Turn, if you would, please, to Matthew chapter 27. I begin reading here in verse 26. It speaks of Pilate, and it says, “Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified. Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him." (Matthew 27:26–31)

Are you ready for some wonderful truths? Do you want to see why I said this was not incidental, not accidental, that God allowed this to happen, and though done by the hands of wicked men, yet a part of the magnificent plan of Almighty God? Several things I want you to notice:

I. The Sacred Mystery of That Crown

First of all, I want you to notice what I’m going to call “the sacred mystery of that crown.” Do you have it? The sacred mystery of that crown. In one sense, this was the random thought, the cruel jest, the hollow mockery of a psychopathic Roman soldier. And yet, on the other hand, there was a mystery here known in the heart and mind of God. What does a crown of thorns speak of? It symbolizes the curse that is upon humanity—on you, on me, on us all—because of sin. When God created mankind, God put mankind in a garden. And, in that garden, the Garden of Eden, there were no thorns, there were no thistles, there were no brambles. The first rose that ever bloomed was a rose that bloomed without thorns. And, when Adam picked blackberries, he didn’t have to fight brambles like we do to get to them. There were no thorns there.

You might put in the margin of your Bible “Genesis chapter 3.” And look, if you will, in verse 17. There our Lord speaks of the curse that came upon Adam and Eve because they sinned, they disobeyed God, and the Bible says as a result of that sin, God came into the garden. And, listen to what God said in Genesis chapter 3 and verse 17: “Cursed is the ground for thy sake: in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life”—now, listen to verse 18—“Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field; in the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread.” (Genesis 3:17–19) Thorns and thistles began to grow on Planet Earth. Until this time they had not grown. The thorn, the thistle, is the sight of the curse of sin upon humanity.

Put this verse down in your margin—Hebrews chapter 6 and verse 8: “But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected”—did you hear that?—“that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned.” (Hebrews 6:8) Jesus was bearing those thorns. Jesus was wearing that crown. Had Adam not sinned, thorns would never have grown on this earth. Jesus wore that crown because Jesus bore that curse. The thorns that Jesus wore on His head speak of the hardship, the sorrow, the death that comes with sin.

Are you having heartaches? Are you having sorrow? Do you know sickness? Can I tell you this—that the thorny pathway that we walk is because of sin; the bed of briars that we sleep on is because of sin? And, no matter how well you may be, or think you are, right now, and no matter how you may feather your nest, there’s a thorn in it; and sooner or later, you’ll find it. When you go out into the field to work, no matter what your occupation, you’ll be working in a thorny field, and your body will find, like the Apostle Paul, “a thorn in the flesh.” (2 Corinthians 12:7) You will know sickness; you will know suffering; you will know pain—because something has happened to creation.

Put this verse down—Romans 8 and verse 22: “For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.” (Romans 8:22) Why? There’s a curse upon everything, friend, because of sin. You want to know why we have confusion, frustration, suffering? Why? Look at every hospital and say, “Sin did this.” Look at every mental institution and say, “Sin did this.” Look at every twisted and warped body and say, “Sin did this.” Look at all heartache, pain, toil, and anguish, and you can write over it one word: sin. And, the thorn is the emblem, the symbol, of that sin. When Jesus died on that cross, He was crowned with thorns. He wore the crown because He bore the curse.

II. The Solemn Misery of That Crown

The second thing: not only do I want you to see the sacred mystery of that crown, but I want you to see the solemn misery of that crown. That crown speaks of suffering; it speaks of pain. That crown was placed upon His head, the temple, one of the most sensitive parts of the human body; it was placed there. These great spikes were put there. And then, on top of that, with a club they began to beat and batter the head of the Lord Jesus Christ. Those who paint and depict the Lord Jesus on the cross are kind. We would not want to see a picture that portrayed Him literally. His face was so brutalized you could not tell whether it was the face of a man or an animal. Remember, with their hands they had snatched the beard from his face. Can you imagine that? With their fists they had battered that face, loosened His teeth. Blood runs down His nostrils; it’s mingled with the filthy spittle from their mouths. They have taken a club, and with that club they have battered the Lord Jesus Christ. You would not want to see Him. Isaiah 52, verse 14 says this: “His visage”—that means, “His countenance”—“was so marred more than any man.” (Isaiah 52:14) That is, He didn’t look like a man. He didn’t even seem human there upon the cross. Why this? Well, Isaiah 53, verse 4 says, “Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows.” (Isaiah 53:4) There is the mystery of that crown. There is the misery of that crown.

Some years ago in New York City there was a mother who was hanging out her clothes. She was outside. A neighbor came screaming and said, “Your house is on fire! Your house is on fire!” She dropped her clothes, ran into that house—it was a raging inferno—and went to the crib where her little girl was, took that baby, wrapped that baby in a blanket, and came out to the front yard and laid that child upon the grass there as the house was consumed—no chance to get anything else. That mother’s face took the heat of those flames and was horribly scarred. Her hands were burned, gnarled, and could never ever again be the kind of hands that God created them to be. But, the little baby was not touched at all with that fire. Not a hair was singed.

That little girl grew up to be a beautiful girl, and when she was eighteen her high school class was having an outing. It was Senior Day. They were on the Hudson River on a boat, and the parents had been invited. And, this girl, because of her charm and her beauty, was the center of attention. At a certain moment, this girl’s mother passed by with her face hideously scarred, her hands gnarled and burned, and one of the high school girls, not thinking how cruel the remark would be, said, “Who is that hideous woman?” This girl said, “I don’t know.” Her own daughter said, “I don’t know who she is”—was ashamed of her mother.

The mother heard. Later on when they got home, the mother said, “Darling, come here. I want to tell you something. You’ve often asked me about the burns on my hand and the burns on my face, and I’ve never told you. And, I have not told you because I did not want to add to your sorrow and give you a burden to bear. But now, I’m going to tell you. When you were a baby, I went into a burning house and rescued you. Not a hair on your head was touched, but these scars on my face and these scars on my hand are there because I rescued you from the flames.” When that daughter saw that and heard that, she was smitten with shame and remorse. She took those two hands of that darling mother, put those hands together, brought them to her lips and wet them with her kisses. Then, she brought that scarred face to her lips and kissed that face over and over again and said, “Oh, my mother, can you ever forgive me?”

Well, friend, I had rather be that daughter, ashamed of her mother, than to be ashamed of Jesus, who wore that crown for me.

Oh, how could we ever—how could we ever—blush to speak His name or to own His cause? Jesus wore my crown. The sacred mystery: He bore the curse. The solemn misery: He suffered our hell. The Bible says in 1 Peter chapter 3, verse 18: “For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God.” (1 Peter 3:18)

III. The Shameful Mockery of That Crown
The third thing I want you to notice: that is what I want to call “the shameful mockery of that crown”—not only the mystery and the misery, but the mockery of that crown. What were they doing? Well, look, if you will, in verse 29: “And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him”—mocked him—“saying, Hail, King of the Jews!” (Matthew 27:29) Why were they mocking Him? Because of their rebellion. They were saying, “You’re not our King. You’re not a true King. We will not bow the knee to you.” What they were doing is this: they were ridiculing His right to rule. They didn’t put a purple robe on Him (that’s the sign of royalty); they put a red robe on Him (that’s the symbol of sin). They did not put a scepter in His hand; they put a reed in His hand. They did not put a diadem on His brow; they put a crown of jagged thorns on His brow. And, the homage that they paid Him was to spit in His face. Can you imagine that here is the Lord of glory and they spit in His face? May I tell you what the root of all sin is? Not that you do wrong that you ought not to do, or not that you fail to do what you ought to do—sin is refusing to bow the knee to your rightful King. These other things are the result of that. Do you know what sin is? Sin is rebellion. Sin is a clinched fist in the face of God.

Psalm 2—I want you to listen to the first three verses of Psalm 2, and you’re not going to understand what was happening here. In Psalm 2, verse 1: “Why do the heathen rage”—do you know what rage is? Rage is what you do when you don’t know the answer—“Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed”—that means “against His Christ”—“saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.” (Psalms 2:1–3) That is, what? We do not want Christ to rule over us. When Jesus Christ came into this world, Jesus Christ came into the Roman world of government, Jesus came into the Greek world of culture, and Jesus Christ came into the Hebrew world of religion. Those are the dominant thoughts, and they rejected Him. Rather than crowning Him with a diadem, they crowned Him with thorns.

Today the same thing is happening in the world of government. We’ve outlawed the Lord Jesus Christ in America—America that has had a Judeo-Christian foundation. We move from one dilemma to another, one crisis to another, and leave the One standing outside the door who is the only One who can unscramble the whole mess. And, in the world of culture, can you imagine standing up in one of our great universities today and saying that Jesus Christ is the answer? There’s room for humanism. There’s room for blasphemy. There is room for fornication, for sodomy, for adultery, but no room for the Lord Jesus Christ. And, the so-called “culture” of our today has dropped beneath the dignity of the beasts of the field.

And, in the world of religion we will not bow the knee to Jesus Christ. Many churches in the world today are glorified country clubs with steeples on top. And, the Lord Jesus Christ, crowned with thorns, is left standing outside the door. How many churches today are still preaching the book, the blood, and the blessed hope of the Second Coming of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ? You say, “Well, at least they were religious.” I remind you that it was a religious crowd that crucified the Lord Jesus Christ. Most of the people in America don’t need religion; they need to turn from religion to Jesus Christ. Friend, there was the mystery of that crown: He was wearing the curse. There was the misery of that crown: He suffered for us. There’s the mockery of that crown: men today, as then, refused to bow the knee to Jesus Christ. And today, you will either bow the knee or crown Him with thorns one more time.

IV. The Saving Ministry of That Crown

Here’s the fourth thing I want you to notice—and it is the saving ministry of that crown. This is not by happenstance. Why did Jesus wear a crown of thorns? Because God is teaching a lesson that He who knew no sin—that’s Jesus—God had made to be sin for us.

Second Corinthians chapter 5 and verse 21: “For [God] hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.” (2 Corinthians 5:21) What does that mean? It means that my crown of thorns, my sin, my curse, was put on the head of the Lord Jesus Christ and Jesus bore that punishment. Please listen to me. You’re a sinner, and as surely as you’re sitting there and I’m standing here, your sin will be punished. God is a holy God, and God has sworn by His holiness that all sin will be punished. God never has, God never can, God never will let one-half of one sin go unpunished. Your sin must be punished. There’s only one question: Who will bear that punishment—you or Jesus? That’s the only question. No sin is ever overlooked. Sin will be pardoned in Christ or punished in hell, but sin will never be overlooked. That’s the reason the Bible says in 2 Corinthians 5, verse 21: “Him who knew no sin”—that’s the Lord Jesus—“God hath made to be sin for us.” (2 Corinthians 5:21) He took our sin. He was crowned with our sin. He, the Lord Jesus, carried that sin to the cross.

Do you know where this happened? Do you know where Jesus Christ was crowned with thorns? Do you know the spot where that happened? May I tell you the spot where that happened? That was Calvary. It was Golgotha. It was Mount Moriah. You say, “What?” Yes, Mount Moriah.

Mount Moriah—what was Mount Moriah? Mount Moriah, the Temple Mount, and Calvary are all the same limestone ridge, all the same mountain. Centuries before Jesus Christ was born, God said to Abraham, who was the brightest star in the Hebrew heaven, “Abraham, I want you to take your son, your only son, the son that you love, the son of promise, and I want you to take your son to a place I will show you—not just any place, a certain place—and there you are to offer your son.” Isaac, by this time, was a strapping, strong, young man. Abraham and Isaac go to the place of sacrifice. Isaac knows they are going to make a sacrifice. He looks around, and he says, “Father, here’s the wood to burn the sacrifice. Here’s the fire to start the sacrifice. Father, we have everything. We’ve got the rope. We’ve got the knife. Father, where’s the lamb?” Abraham chokes back the tears because Isaac does not yet know, and he says, “[Son.] God will provide himself a lamb.” (Genesis 22:8) And, up that mountain we go. The wood is put in place, and Abraham now must say to his son, “Son, you must trust me. Oh, my son, you must understand I don’t understand; I just believe God. I’ve got to do this. I don’t know why. God will just have to raise you from the dead. But son, you’re the sacrifice. Put out your hands. I must tie you.”

And, that son, strong and strapping, who could have overcome this man well over a hundred years of age, willingly submits and becomes a picture of the Lord Jesus Christ. He stretches out there on that altar. Abraham lifts that gleaming knife into the sky to plunge it, when he hears a voice: “Abraham, Abraham, don’t harm the lad! I have provided a substitute.” And, Abraham looked over here, and here was a ram, a ram caught in a thicket—the Hebrew word means “a thicket of thorns”—his head caught in the brambles, in the thorns. And, God says, “Abraham, take that and sacrifice him instead.” And, that ram caught in a thicket, that ram crowned with thorns, became the sacrifice that day in the place of the one who should have been and would have been sacrificed. (Genesis 22:1–14) No wonder Jesus said, “Abraham…saw [my day], and was glad.” (John 8:56) God preached the gospel to Abraham so long ago. Why? Here’s one sacrifice; he gets up. Here’s another sacrifice crowned with thorns. And, that’s the saving ministry of the crown.

Listen to me. Abraham built many altars. You follow the life of Abraham, and you’ll find the trail is dotted with altars. But, he never built another altar after this episode. Why? This was the perfect altar because it pictured the perfect sacrifice. I’ll tell you something else, friend: after Jesus Christ died upon that cross, there’s no need for any other altar. “For by one [sacrifice] he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.” (Hebrews 10:14) And, to build another altar is blasphemy. It is finished. It is done. It is paid in full.

Jesus paid it all,
All to Him I owe;
Sin had left a crimson stain,
He washed it white as snow.
—Elvina M. Hall

He was bearing our curse. He carried our sins to the cross. He was bearing a crown of thorns—the wickedness, the vileness, the filth of our sin. The same sin that He drank from that cup He now wore on His head as He went to Calvary.
V. The Sovereign Majesty of That Crown

The one last thing I want you to see—and that’s not only the saving ministry of that crown, but I want you to see the sovereign majesty of that crown. Oh, the sovereign majesty of that crown! Do you think that Jesus died as a helpless victim? Do you think that Jesus died because things got out of control? Do you think that perhaps Satan was on the throne and Satan was doing all of this? Oh, friend, let me give you a verse now. Put this in your margin: Acts chapter 4, beginning in verse 27. The apostles are preaching after the resurrection of Jesus Christ, and they’re seeing now with eyes washed with tears and with revelation faith; and they are saying this, speaking to those who crucified Jesus: “For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together”—now, that’s for man’s side, but now look in verse 28—“for to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.” (Acts 4:27–28) Not incidental, not accidental—a drama fulfilled in the heart and mind of God. What am I saying? Friend, when Jesus wore this crown, He was the sovereign majesty, not a helpless victim. What God ordained ahead of time should be done. He was in perfect control.

Crowns have always been a symbol of authority. Charlemagne wore a crown. Historians call him Charlemagne the Great. He had an octagonal crown. On each side was a plaque of gold. Rubies, emeralds, and diamonds were encrusted on the crown of Charlemagne the Great. It was worth a king’s ransom. Richard the Lionheart, he had a crown, a crown that was so heavy that when he wore his crown, there were two attendants on either side to hold his head up straight. That’s how heavy the crown of Richard the Lionheart was. The Queen of England has a crown. If you’ve ever seen the crown jewels, you’ll understand how magnificent that crown is. Do you know the value of the crown that the Queen of England wears? Suffice it to say, you could replicate this building and all that we have with the value of that crown and still have plenty left over—that crown sitting upon the head of the Queen of England. Jesus, in the glory, wears a crown—a crown of peace, a crown of righteousness, a crown of glory.

But, as for me, He never wore a crown just like this one. Oh, the sovereign majesty of that crown—the rubies, I say, the drops of His blood! And, it speaks, by contrast, of the crown that He will wear. As we sang today, “Crown Him with many crowns, the Lamb upon His throne.” Jesus is the Rose of Sharon, and the Rose of Sharon blooms from this crown. Sharon’s sweetest rose, a rose of fragrance, a rose of beauty, whose petals are kissed with the sunshine of heaven, blooms from this crown.

When a little bird wants to build its nest, a place of safety, security, many times a little bird will build in the brambles for protection. And, that’s where I’m headed today. My security, my safety, my salvation, my all and all is found in a name, a name above all names, the name of One who wore my crown.

Conclusion

You have a choice today. Do you know what your choice is? You can bow the knee and honor Jesus or you can say, “Take that crown from off His head and put it on mine. I will bear my own curse. I will pay for my own sin. I will suffer and burn in hell because I refused to bow the knee to the One who loved me so.” And, that’s your choice. Jesus offers to you amazing grace, wonderful love, and you can be saved. There’s the mystery of this crown. There’s the misery of this crown. There’s the mockery of this crown. And, there’s the majesty of this crown. I, for one, want to bow my knee and say, “All hail King Jesus!” Hallelujah. What a Savior!
Attitudes That Crucify
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: February 9, 1992

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 27:1–44

“And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!”
MATTHEW 27:29

Outline
Introduction
I. The Attitude of Self-Righteousness
II. The Attitude of Hypocrisy
III. The Attitude of Cowardliness
IV. The Attitude of Conformity
V. The Attitude of Hardness
VI. The Attitude of Indifference
VII. The Attitude of Skepticism and Cynicism
Conclusion

Introduction

Turn in the Gospel of Matthew, if you would, to Matthew chapter 27, and we’re going to prepare our heart to receive the Lord’s Supper. Verse 29: “And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.” (Matthew 27:29–31)

The greatest tragedy and the greatest victory that the world has ever known has been the crucifixion of Jesus, the tragedy and the victory that took place on that hill called Calvary when the Son of God, the Lord Jesus, God the Mighty Maker, died for man, the creature’s sin. I want you to come with me tonight to Calvary, and I want you to consider cruel Calvary and think of the suffering of our dear, dear Savior that we’re going to remember tonight. I want you to think of His anticipatory sufferings because Jesus, from His youth up, knew how He was going to die. Psalm 88 and verse 15 quotes the Lord Jesus Christ as saying, “I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up.” (Psalms 88:15) That was not simply a statement of David; it was a prophetic statement of the Lord Jesus Christ. We think of the Lord Jesus Christ as He grew up in Joseph’s carpenter shop. Every time He saw a crossbeam in that carpenter shop, it could remind Him of that cruel cross upon which He would die. Every time the Lord Jesus Christ drove a nail in Joseph’s carpenter shop, it spoke to Him of those hellish nails that would be driven into His quivering palms. Every time the Lord Jesus saw a rose grow, He could look beyond that rose and see the thorns and be reminded of that crown of thorns that would rest upon His brow. He lived in the shadow of a cross. His anticipatory suffering.

I think of the Lord Jesus when He went alone to pray in dark Gethsemane. Nothing moves my heart more than thinking of Gethsemane, where Jesus was in such agony that He literally sweated drops of blood, where He cried out to God the Father and said, “O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me.” (Matthew 26:39) And, all of the sin of all of the world was distilled in that cup, and Jesus knew that the wrath of God that comes with that sin was in that cup. “Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me.” (Matthew 26:39) But, the silence from heaven said, “There is no other way.” And, Jesus said, “Nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done,” (Luke 22:42) and He drank that bitter cup, the dregs of it. Jesus drank it all—my sin and your sin—and our sin was in that cup. And, Jesus suffered there alone. The disciples were asleep; the city was asleep, but Jesus’ eyes would not close in sleep until they closed in death.

I think of the cruel mockery of death, where they hauled Him away to be tried, and the vile injustice that was done to Him. Never, never was there a greater miscarriage of justice than that mock trial that they gave to the Lord Jesus Christ. Finally, Pilate said, “Whether of the two will ye that I release unto you: Jesus or Barabbas?” They said, “Release unto us Barabbas.” He said, “What then shall I do with Jesus which is called the Christ?” And, they said, “Crucify Him.” (Matthew 27:21–22) And, Jesus lost an election to a common criminal.

I want you to consider the indecencies that began at that time. They stripped the Lord Jesus Christ naked. And, some psychopathic, barrel-chested Roman soldier who was probably a volunteer for the job took a long whip called a cat o’ nine tails and began to lacerate the body of Jesus with it. Ribbons of flesh would hang down. The whip would have little bits of bone and lead and glass in the very end. It would wrap around the body of the victim and tear away the flesh and sometimes disembowel the victim. Many times a person who had received a scourging like this was not able to walk. The Romans were skilled at this. They knew how to punish a man within an inch of death and still leave Him bleeding.

Then they put a purple robe upon the Lord Jesus Christ. They put a wilted reed in His hand. They pressed a crown of thorns down upon His tender brow. They spit in His face. And, they kneeled before Him, and they mock-worshipped Him, saying, “Hail, King of the Jews!” (Matthew 27:29; Mark 15:18; John 19:3) And then, they would take Him and pass Him from one to another while He was blindfolded and smite Him in the face. The blood trickles down His cheeks and from His nose and drips off His beard. And then, someone reaches up and takes a handful of His beard and rips it from His cheek. The Bible says that they plucked the beard from the Lord Jesus Christ. (Isaiah 50:6) They shoved Him from one to another and said, “If you are a prophet, prophesy. Tell us who it is who is striking you in the face this time.” (Matthew 26:68; Mark 14:45; Luke 22:64)

Then, they took the Lord Jesus and they laid on His back a roughhewn timber. The splinters are embedded into those wounds. The Lord Jesus starts up that hill called Calvary. He makes His way down the Via Dolorosa, the “Way of Sorrows,” going to Calvary. He is so weak from loss of blood, from the bruised battering that He has received, He stumbles. A whip cracks. He picks up the cross and tries again. Finally, He stumbles again under the load of that cross. Someone else is forced to carry it, as He comes to that hill called Calvary, and there they stretched the Lord Jesus out. And, a hammer drives those rough nails into those quivering palms, into those feet that never walked in sin, and every nerve in His body becomes a pathway for the feet of pain to travel upon.

No one has known suffering like the Lord Jesus suffered. The Bible says that His face was so marred by the beating and the abuse that it was hard to recognize Him as a man. (Isaiah 52:14) He looked like some sort of an animal. All of the paintings of the Lord Jesus that we see are kind because they still show the Lord Jesus with perhaps a little blood trickling down His face. How abused was the Son of God! But, my dear friend, the veil of the Temple was rent in twain. The earth began to split. The rocks began to split. The sun hid its face, and it was utter midnight when the Lord Jesus was on the cross. And, Jesus cried out, “My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46; Mark 15:34) The disciples had fled. And now, God the Father turns His back upon God the Son. When David walked through the valley of the shadow of death, he could say, “Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil.” (Psalms 23:4) But, when Jesus walked that lonesome valley, He walked it all alone, suspended between heaven and earth, crucified by men and forsaken by the Father, because He was bearing the sin of the world.

And, not only did the Lord Jesus Christ suffer physically at the hands of men, but on that cross Jesus Christ took the thunderbolts of the wrath of God. And, in a finite period of time, He, being infinite, suffered the infinite punishment that we would suffer had we died and gone to hell, because as the sins of the world were distilled upon the Lord Jesus, the eternities were compressed upon the Lord Jesus. And, Jesus baptized His soul in hell for me, for you. Jesus walked the burning corridors of the damned.

But, the question comes: Who crucified Jesus? “Well,” you say, “the Jews crucified Him.” Well, I want to remind you that His early followers were also Jews and He Himself was also a Jew. You say, “Well, the Romans crucified Him.” The soldiers crucified Him. But, I want to remind you that they were carrying out orders. You say, “Well, Pilate crucified Him.” Well, really, who did crucify Him? Yes, the Jews did. Yes, the Gentiles did. Yes, the soldiers did. Yes, Pilate did. And, so did I, and so did you. He bore our sins. It was for our sins He suffered. And, my dear friend, our sins put Him on that tree. Our sins were the nails that held Him there, and our hard hearts were the nails that drove those nails that made a Calvary and crucified the Lord Jesus.

But, I want us to look, not primarily at who crucified the Jesus, but, as we have the Lord’s Supper tonight, I want us to look at what crucified Him. Do you know, this twenty-seventh chapter of the book of Matthew is a very interesting chapter because here we see some attitudes that crucified the Lord Jesus Christ? And, I don’t want these attitudes to be in my heart and in my life. I call them “attitudes that crucify.” I want to mention seven of them. And, as I mention these seven attitudes tonight in Matthew chapter 27, I want you to listen very carefully. We’re going to have a roll call at the cross. It just might be that you’ll hear your name called. It just might be that you’ll have in your heart tonight some of the attitudes that nailed Jesus Christ to the cross. And, if you do, would it not be a thing unthinkable that you would take into your body, imbibe into your mouth and into your digestive system, these elements that represent His shed blood and broken body and yet have in your heart and in your mind the attitudes that crucified Jesus so long ago?

I. The Attitude of Self-Righteousness
The first attitude I want to mention to you is the attitude of self-righteousness. Look in verses 1 and 2: “When the morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.” (Matthew 27:1–2) Now, who were these? These were the religious leaders, the scribes, the Pharisees, the chief priests. These were people who thought that they were self-righteous, that they did not need to be saved. Oh, they had such punctilious laws! Why, they kept their Sabbath! If they got a tack in their shoe, they would take it out before Saturday lest they be accused of carrying a burden on the Sabbath. They would not lay an egg that was laid on Saturday. My dear friend, they would not kill a mosquito or a flea lest they be accused of hunting on the Sabbath day. It’s laughable, but that’s how religious they were. They were full of self-righteousness. They crucified Jesus Christ.

Have you ever thought about what a church full of Pharisees would be like? Think about it. What would a church full of Pharisees be like? Well, number one: They would all attend every service. Number two: They would all tithe. Number three: They would all work in the church. And, number four: They would all go to hell—self-righteous people. I wonder tonight, are you a self-righteous person? Have you ever truly been broken at the foot of the cross? You know, the Bible says, “If righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.” (Galatians 2:21) Self-righteousness crucified the Lord Jesus. Is there a shred of it in you tonight? Even a shred?

II. The Attitude of Hypocrisy
Let me tell you what else crucified Jesus, another attitude: it’s hypocrisy. Look, if you will, in verse 3: “Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.” (Matthew 27:3–5) There’s no doubt about it: Judas was first-class hypocrite. Judas sold Jesus for thirty pieces of silver. He was one of the twelve. He went with them. He had the approbation and the praise of the others. They made him treasurer. Who do you make treasurer? The one that you have the most confidence in, the one that you think has impeccable honesty, the one who is dependable. They made Judas the treasurer. But, he betrayed the Lord Jesus.

Hypocrisy crucified the Lord Jesus. As we take the Lord’s Supper tonight, I want you to look into your heart and see if there is any hypocrisy there. You don’t have to betray Jesus with a kiss—you don’t have to sell Jesus for thirty pieces of silver—to have hypocrisy in your heart. As a matter of fact, I have to keep asking myself this question because, you see, I am a preacher; I stand up and preach, and I say, “Do this, and do this, and do this. And, don’t do that, and don’t do that, and don’t do that.” And, I have to keep asking myself, “Adrian, do you practice what you preach? Do you believe what you say or are you pretending to be something that you’re not?” My dear friend, if there is in my heart tonight any pretense, to that degree I am a hypocrite and I have in my heart an attitude that crucified the Lord Jesus.

III. The Attitude of Cowardliness
I’ll tell you a third attitude that’s there in this chapter that speaks to my heart. Look, if you will, in verse 11: “And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.” (Matthew 27:11) Now, Pilate was no fool. Look in verse 18: “For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.” (Matthew 27:18) Pilate understood why these chief priests and scribes wanted Jesus crucified: they were jealous of Him; they were envious of Him. That’s why they had that malignity in their heart. And, you don’t get to be a politician without knowing the motives of men. He knew. He was no fool. But, did he stand up for the Lord Jesus? Well, look in verse 24: “When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it. Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children. Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus”—that is, he had had Jesus whipped with that cat o’ nine tails—“when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.” (Matthew 27:24–26) What attitude is this? It is cowardliness—cowardliness. Pilate knew who Jesus was. Pilate knew that Jesus was innocent. Pilate “knew that for envy they had delivered him.” (Matthew 27:18) But, Pilate was a pussyfooting politician. Pilate had rather be in league with Caesar than to stand up for the Lord Jesus Christ. Very frankly, he had a soft job, and what buttered his bread determined His conduct. He was a coward. He was afraid—for shame—to stand up for the Lord Jesus Christ.

Before I take the Lord’s Supper, I want to ask myself a question: “Adrian, are you willing to stand up for the Lord Jesus Christ when it might cost you something? Are you afraid of what the crowd might say about you, or what fingers might be pointed at you, or what you might have to suffer if you stand up for the Lord Jesus Christ? If you are, Adrian, you have in your heart an attitude that crucified Jesus, because self-righteousness crucified Him, hypocrisy crucified Him, cowardliness crucified the Lord Jesus Christ.”

IV. The Attitude of Conformity

And then, fourthly, I want you to look in verse 20: “But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.” (Matthew 27:20) Now, who are these? These are just people out there. They don’t know, hardly, their right hand from their left hand. And, Pilate now is going to give the people a choice. There is going to be an election: “Are we going to release the crook Barabbas or are we going to release Jesus Christ, who is claiming to be God, the Savior of the world?” Now, the chief priests and the elders go out there among the crowd and say, “Now, listen—listen. We are all together on this thing. Jesus is not on our side. Jesus is the bad one. Barabbas is the one that we need released. We know he’s an insurrectionist. We know he’s a murderer. We know he’s a thief and all that, but in this case—now listen—this is what we’re all going to do.” What crucified the Lord Jesus here? Conformity. They’re conformed to the world. They are squeezed in by public opinion. And, they are persuaded to go with the multitude. Look at it again there, if you would, in verse 20: “But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.” (Matthew 27:20)

Sir, you were in that multitude. Sir, why did you yell out, “Crucify Him! Crucify Him!”? “Well, everybody else was. I mean, they told us that was the thing to do. After all, they are our leaders, and we went along to get along.” Conformity. Now, the Bible says, “Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed.” (Romans 12:2) At high school, at college, in the restaurant, in the boardroom, on the playing field, do you have what it takes to stand alone, no matter what everyone else is doing? “Stand up, stand up for Jesus, you soldiers of the cross.” Conformity crucified Jesus. Do you have any of that attitude in your heart tonight? I want you to get rid of it before we have the Lord’s Supper.

V. The Attitude of Hardness
Then, I want you to look, if you will, also in verse 27. The Bible says here, “Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And when they platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and they mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they mocked him, they took the robe from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.” (Matthew 27:27–31)

You say, “Pastor, I would never do that.” No, I know you wouldn’t. But how could these soldiers do this? I tell you, dear friend, they were hardhearted. They were used to killing. They were used to hurting. They were used to maiming people. This was their business. They are professionals. They are so hard that they can play games with a suffering man. Hardness crucified Jesus. And, I have to think about this tonight. I wonder, do I have a hard heart? I wonder if the things that break the heart of God break my heart.

Is your heart tender tonight? Have you become calloused? Would you be able to sit here at the Lord’s Supper, perhaps, and let your mind wander off about something else? Would you be able to take these elements into your hand and harbor hatred in your heart? You’ve got a hard heart. And, while you may not hold that whip and while you may not spit in the face of Jesus, you have an attitude that crucified Him. It’s hardness that crucified the Lord Jesus. Would to God every one of us had a tender heart before the Christ of Calvary who suffered so for us!

VI. The Attitude of Indifference
And then, look, if you will, in verse 36. Here’s the sixth of these attitudes: “And sitting down they watched him there.” (Matthew 27:36) Now, He’s up there dying in agony and blood. They’re not spitting on Him. They’re not driving the nails in His hands. They weren’t Pilate, who adjudicated Him worthy of death. They’re just the bystanders. “Sitting down, they watched him there.” (Matthew 27:36) Luke, when he tells this story, says they “smote their breasts.” (Luke 23:48) But, it takes more than a pious gesture to save a soul. What is this attitude? It is indifference. Just spectators there, just watching.

How many like that come to a church—I mean, when we’re preaching the Christ of Calvary, when the pastor is tearing His heart out, trying to get souls saved, you’re passing notes to your boyfriend, your girlfriend, cooking up a business deal, thinking about this thing, or that thing, so indifferent to the things that really matter? “Sitting down, they watched him.” (Matthew 27:36) Indifference—an attitude that crucifies.

VII. The Attitude of Skepticism and Cynicism
And, last of all, look, if you will, in verse 39: “And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.” (Matthew 27:39) Friend, there was one man Jesus refused to save. Do you know who it was? Himself. They said, “If you’re the Son of God, save thyself”—“If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.” (Matthew 27:40) That was the wrong question. They should have stood in front of that tomb and said, “If you’re the Son of God, come out.” “If [you’re] the Son of God, come down from the cross. Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; himself he cannot not save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have them… The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.” (Matthew 27:40–44)

You say, “Pastor, I would never do what they did.” No, I’m sure you wouldn’t, but you may have the same kind of attitude that crucified the Lord Jesus. What was this attitude? Skepticism and Cynicism. Skepticism: “If you are the Son of God…” Cynicism: they mocked Him. Do you doubt the Word of God? Do you put an if by the promises of God? Are you cynical about spiritual things? I’ve seen cynics in churches. I don’t even know why they come. Somebody has said, “A cynic is a fellow who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing.”

Conclusion
As I looked at this chapter, I thought, “These are terrible attitudes.” But, Jesus suffered, bled, and died, and these are the kinds of things that put Him on the cross. And, when I come tonight to take the Lord’s Supper, I don’t want the things that crucified Him to find a place in my heart, and neither do you.
Bible Baptism
By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: June 8, 1997
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.”
Matthew 28:19

Outline
Introduction
I. The Method of Baptism
II. The Meaning of Baptism
III. The Motive of Baptism
   A. There Is a Master to Confess
   B. There Is a Message to Convey
   C. There Is a Mandate to Complete
Conclusion

Introduction
Would you be finding Matthew chapter 28, very familiar verses, verses 19 and 20. This has been called the Great Commission, but alas and alack, many times it is the great omission. We need to find out what the Lord Jesus Christ gave to the church when He gave the church her marching orders, her Great Commission.

Now, let me tell you about the ministry of the Lord Jesus. Jesus had a brief ministry, little more than three years—that's all—of public ministry. How did Jesus begin His ministry? Jesus began His ministry by being baptized by John in the river Jordan. How did Jesus conclude His ministry? Jesus concluded His ministry by commanding baptism.

Now, notice the scripture right here. He says in verse 18, “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power”—the word power literally means “authority”—“is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations,”—that literally means “disciple all nations”—“baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe…”—how many things?—“teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have…”—“requested you”? Is that what it says: “requested you, suggested to you”?—“teaching them to observe…”—how many things? All—“whatsoever I have commanded you.” Now, who said this? The One who says, “All authority is given unto me.” Now, folks, when you come to something like this, the only thing you can reasonably say is, “I’ll say, ‘Yes, Lord, yes.’”

Now, look at it again: “Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Matthew 28:18–20)—that is, literally, “the end of the age.” He is here today. He is still speaking. He is still saying the same thing. He has not changed. There’s no stutter, no stammer, no apology, no equivocation. It is there in the Word of God. We are to lead people to Christ. We are to baptize them and teach them to observe everything he has commanded us. Now that’s what the Word of God says. That is black print on white paper.

I want to talk to you about baptism today—not Baptists, baptism. Folks, I’m not one whit interested in Baptist baptism. If we have any Baptist doctrine, we need to get rid of it. And Presbyterians need to get rid of Presbyterian doctrine. And Methodists need to get rid of Methodist doctrine. And Episcopalians need to get rid of Episcopalian doctrine. And Assemblies of God need to get rid of Assembly of God doctrine. And Catholics need to get rid of Catholic doctrine. And all of us need to come back to Bible doctrine, is that not right? I mean, we need to understand what does the Bible say. This is a church, not a club, and we don’t make up our rules as we go along. Jesus has all authority. He is the One who tells us about baptism.

Now what I want to do is to ask you to look, therefore, into the Word of God. Now if I tell you something that’s not in the Word of God, challenge me on it. If I tell you something that is in the Word of God, then it’s not me that you’re listening to, really; it is God—the Word that we sang about this morning. I hope that makes sense to you. Let’s talk about the biblical method of baptism. What is the biblical method of baptism? Put in your margin Mark chapter 1, verses 9 and 10, and we’re going to find out how the Lord Jesus Christ, our example, was baptized. It says here, “And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.” Now, do you know how far that was? That was sixty miles, one way, to be baptized. You say, “Well, it’s a little inconvenient for me to get baptized. If I got baptized, I’d mess up my twenty-dollar hairdo.” Oh? Jesus came sixty miles from Nazareth to Jordan and was baptized of John in Jordan—not near Jordan, not by Jordan, but in Jordan. Jordan was a river. “And straightway coming up out of the water,”—now if he came up out of the water, where was He? Down in the water—“he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him.” (Mark 1:9–10) That’s why you see that dove back there in our baptistry. When that screen is up, you’ll see that dove, because it symbolizes the Holy Spirit.
I. The Method of Baptism

It is obvious that Jesus was baptized by immersion. Why did Jesus come all the way out to Jordan? Why was John baptizing in Jordan? Good question. I’m glad you asked it. Now, let me see if I can answer that question. Turn to John chapter 3 and verse 23, and you’re going to find out why John was baptizing in this particular spot. And the Bible says, “And John also was baptizing in Aenon near to Salim, because…”—“it was so beautiful there,” “because it was so convenient”? That isn’t what it says, folks; listen—“And John also was baptized in Aenon, near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.” (John 3:23)

Literally, the word baptized, as you’ve heard, means “immersed.” The reason that John went out there to the river Jordan was not for the scenery and not for the convenience. Folks, it just takes a lot of water to baptized. If I baptized the way some people do it, and call it baptism, I could baptize everybody in this auditorium with a washtub full and have plenty left over. But no, baptism takes a lot of water. Jordan was a muddy old river, and it wasn’t convenient, but there was water there.

I went to Kenya, and in East Africa went out past ostriches and zebras and wildebeests and gazelles out in a Land Rover out to the backside where this noble tribe of Maasai warriors were. I went out there with missionary Jim Hooten. He was leading those Maasai warriors to Jesus Christ. How was he going to baptize them out there? They took a shovel and dug a grave, lined that grave with polyethylene, and then on his Land Rover he hauled in water and filled that grave with water. And those Maasai warriors were laid in that muddy water, in that grave, symbolizing that they had died with the Lord Jesus Christ and were buried with the Lord Jesus Christ.

It’s not easy to baptize. I remember the first person I ever baptized. Her name was Willie Vereen. I led Willie to Christ in the first little church I pastored in Fellsmere, Florida. I went over to see Willie on a Saturday night and witnessed to her. She was a lovely lady, but she said, “Pastor, I want to be saved, but I just don’t know how to believe; I don’t know how to trust.” I said, “Well then, just trust Him.” She said, “Well, I want to, but how do you do it?” “I don’t know how to tell you to do it. Just do it. Trust the Lord.” She said, “Oh, I want to, but I just can’t trust.” I didn’t know what to tell her. I said, “Willie, I’m going to pray for you. I’ll see you tomorrow. You just tell the Lord. Ask Him to help you to trust Him. The next day, she came. Her face was like the noonday sun. She said, “Oh, Pastor, God saved me last night! God saved me last night!” She came forward.

I was a young preacher, only nineteen years of age, pastoring a church. I didn’t have any business pastoring that church, except that God had called me and told me to do it. I mean, as far as experience, I didn’t know how to baptize. I didn’t know how to lay hold of a person to baptize them. I didn’t know how to do it. You know, I paid no attention to my pastor when he was baptizing. But we didn’t have a baptistry in that church. Folks, we didn’t have running water in that church, much less a baptistry. And we didn’t have a restroom in that church. I mean, we had a floor and walls, and a two-by-eight to sit on, and a two-by-eight to lean back on, put together with an iron bracket. But God was in that church out there on the edge of the Everglades in Florida. We had a canal out there called Lateral A Canal, where they drained those sugarcane fields. We went out to Lateral A Canal, and I went out there, and our little church gathered. I went down that slippery, muddy bank, and Willie followed me down there. The water was about waist-deep in Lateral A Canal, and I remember it was cold, Brother Bob; for Florida, it was cold. I can still hear right now—when Willie’s feet hit that water, she said, “Oooohhhh.” It was cold. It wasn’t like we have today, folks. I mean, there were wiggle tails and everything else in that water; pollywogs, and maybe a moccasin or two. But we went out there and I laid that gracious lady back in that water and raised her up. I’ll never forget. Why do that? It would be so much easier to take a rose petal and put a little water on her head. Why do that? Why? For the same reason that Jesus went all the way to Jordan: because there was much water there. We had to find a place where there was water.

One time in my church in Florida I announced a baptismal service, and when I got there, the baptistry was empty. We had a pipe about as big as my thumb that filled that baptistry. Folks, it took forever and then a day to fill that baptistry. And I looked, and the janitor forgot to turn it on, and I said, “Oh, what are we going to do? We’ve got people who have come from out of town to see folks baptized.” I had an idea—I believed, divine inspiration. I called the fire department and said, “I’ve got an emergency: send a pumper truck over.” And, you know, they did it. And people thought the church was on fire. They saw that big fire engine out there and that hose running in there. We filled that baptistry up lickety-split with that big pumper truck, and I baptized those people.

Now, why go to all that trouble? Why, when we built this building, did we build this beautiful baptistry back here? Because Jesus said to teach them to “observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” Because it is not easy, but it is glorious; it is wonderful. We’re not looking for convenient religion. Listen, folks. It’s not a matter of convenience. Let’s just find out what the Bible says. Bible baptism is by immersion.

Now some people want to make it easy. You know, churches are getting so lax today I expect to see some churches start taking members in on the telephone and baptizing their photographs. Baptism is by immersion. The very word baptism is basically a translated Greek word. Baptizo means “to dip, to submerge, to immerse.” Rantzizo means “to sprinkle.” Luo means “to pour.” But God’s word that He uses, He says, “Take them and baptize them.” If you were to take the word baptize, it is a word that is transliterated, taken out of the Greek language, put into the English language, but the word literally, if it’s translated, means “to dip, to immerse.” That’s what the word means. And did you know that in the early years all Christians baptized the way we baptize—by immersion? As a matter of fact, if you go to Europe and you look in some of the great cathedrals that were built before the thirteenth century, you’ll find out they had baptistries like we have in our Baptist churches—I have gone and stood in some of those baptistries in these old cathedrals—because in the early years everybody baptized just like the Bible teaches us to baptize.

And so that is the biblical method of baptism. It is by immersion. That is the method. Now the method and the meaning of baptism are inextricably interwoven. The reason that the method is so important is, the method is necessary to the meaning, and the meaning dictates the method.

II. The Meaning of Baptism

Now we’ve talked about the method, and we’ve seen the Lord Jesus was baptized by immersion by John in the river Jordan. But now, what is the meaning? Well, the meaning is, baptism pictures the saving work of the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, take your Bibles and turn to Romans chapter 6, and look, if you will, in verse 4: “Therefore we are”—what’s that next word?—“buried with him by baptism into death:”—now, folks, baptism is a burial—“that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:”—so the Bible says—“knowing this,”—verse 6—“that our old man”—now, watch it. Our old man, old Adrian, that rascal—“is crucified with him,”—that is, with Jesus—“that the body of sin might be destroyed,”—that’s the old man I used to be—“that henceforth we should not serve sin. For he that is dead is freed from sin.” (Romans 6:4–7)

You see, what does baptism picture? Baptism pictures the gospel. What is the gospel? First Corinthians 15 tells us the gospel is this: that Christ died for our sins; He was buried; He was raised again the third day.” (1 Corinthians 15:1–4) Folks, that is the gospel: the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. Do you understand that? Do you understand that that is the gospel? What does baptism picture? It pictures the gospel. “We are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead...even so we also should walk in newness of life.” (Romans 6:4)

Can you understand why the devil would like to destroy that symbolism? If there is one message, if you were the devil, what one message would you want to take out of the church? The gospel. What one message would you want to obliterate? The gospel. What one message would you want to make sure was not seen over and over again? It is the gospel: the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.
Now some people say, “Well, the method is not important. It only pictures salvation. Any picture will do.” Suppose you’ve never seen my wife Joyce, and you say, “Adrian, do you have a picture of Joyce?” and I say, “I sure do,” and I pull out a picture, and there’s a racecar, or there’s a waterfall, or there’s a coffee table, and you say, “That’s Joyce?” “Well, any picture will do. It doesn’t make any difference.” “Well, you know, I didn’t know your wife looked like a racecar.” “I didn’t know she looked like a waterfall.” “I didn’t know she looked like a coffee table.” “Well, any picture will do.”

Hey, folks, baptism is a picture of a death, a burial, and a resurrection. I mean, God wants it to be clear; God wants it to be plain; and that’s the reason that we picture what Jesus did to save us. The devil would love to remove that from our church, but we want to keep it there.

Living, He loved me; dying, he saved me
Buried, He carried my sins far away;
Rising, He justified freely forever:
One day He’s coming—O glorious day!

—L. WILBUR CHAPMAN

That’s in baptism, my folks. It shows, first of all, that we believe that, and we identify ourselves with it.

Look in verse 5 here in Romans chapter 6: “For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death…” (Romans 6:5) When I go under the water, when I’m baptized, that says I am in the likeness of death. I die, the old Adrian dies, because when Jesus died, He died for me. When I trust Him, His death has my name on it. He died my death. He took my place upon that cross. So my death with the Lord Jesus Christ is pictured in baptism. That’s the reason, if you were baptized before you got saved, hey, folks, you weren’t really baptized. To be baptized before you’re saved is like having your funeral before you die. Baptism is a picture of your death.

Always in the Bible—always—baptism follows salvation: dying to the old way. Just put these scriptures down. I’m going to hurry through, because we’ve got to hurry, but just jot them down. Acts chapter 2, verse 41: “Then they that…received his word were baptized.” (Acts 2:41) You see, you’ve got to receive the word before you get baptized. That’s why we don’t baptize little infants. Acts 10, verses 46 and 47: “For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as we?” (Acts 10:46–47) In this transitional period, the mark that these Gentile believers had received the Holy Ghost was the ability to speak in foreign languages. It was a supernatural gift of God to confirm that the gospel was going to the Gentiles. When Peter saw that, he said, “Why, these can be baptized also, because they have received the Holy Ghost.” It’s necessary that you be saved and receive the Holy Spirit before you’re baptized.

Acts chapter 16, verses 31 through 33—Paul and Silas were in prison, there was an earthquake, the jailer came to them and wanted to know what he had to do to be saved, and Acts 16, verse 31 says, “And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house:”—that doesn’t mean they’d be saved because he believed; it means, “If they believe, they’ll be saved just like you’re saved”—“Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house. And they took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.” (Acts 16:31–33)

Now in all these scriptures I’m showing you, baptism follows belief. The Bible never says, “Be baptized and believe,” but vice versa, “Believe and be baptized,” because real baptism follows real salvation. It pictures what? Our death—verse 5. But it also pictures our resurrection with Jesus. Look in verse 4—this is Romans 6, verse 4: “Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.” (Romans 6:4) So when I went down beneath that water, that was a liquid tomb. The old Adrian died with Jesus. The old Adrian was buried. It was a funeral. The only mourner there was the devil. He hated to see me die. I am buried with Jesus. His death had my name on it. He died for me. I died with Him. Baptism says, “I believe that.” The old man is dead, and this world is crucified to me, and I’m dead to this old world. And then the Bible says that “like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.” Goodbye, old world! Goodbye, old man! Hello, new world! Hello, Jesus! Hello, resurrection life! And that’s what it’s about. When Jesus died, I died. When He arose, I arose. He did that for me, and I did that with Him.

But it also pictures the fact that one of these days—one of these days—I’m going to die physically, if Jesus tarries, and they’re going to lay me in the grave. I don’t want to invite you to my funeral. It wouldn’t be polite to invite you to something when I won’t be there. I’ll be up in heaven looking down on you. But my body will be in the good, clean earth until the trumpet sounds and the resurrection comes; and just like I came out of that baptistry when I was baptized, I’m coming up out of that grave. I mean, my body is going to be raised. And you see, what does baptism picture? Friend, it pictures Calvary, because we died with Him. It pictures Easter, because we rose with Him. It pictures the Second Coming, because one of these days we’re going to be raised up out of that grave to live with the Lord Jesus Christ in a resurrected body. Don’t you think the devil would like to take that picture out of the church?

Now, folks, that is the biblical meaning of baptism: the death, burial, and resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ.

III. The Motive of Baptism
Now, here’s the last thing—and listen quickly: not only the method, and not only the meaning, but the method and the meaning now are tied to the motive. Why be baptized? Three reasons.

A. There Is a Master to Confess
First of all, there is a Master to confess: the Lord Jesus. We are baptized in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. We take the name of Jesus. He is now our Master. The Bible teaches—look, if you will, in verse 6—“Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.” (Romans 6:6) You see, we have a new Master, a new life. I’m a new man with a new Master. I’m identifying myself with Christ. Do you know what baptism is? Baptism is your way of saying, “I am not ashamed of Jesus Christ. I thank God for what He did for me on that cross.”

Look up here. I don’t know whether you can see that or not, but you see that thing on my finger? That little piece, that’s the only piece of jewelry I have, except for this Seiko watch I’m wearing. I wouldn’t call that jewelry—but that’s it right there. Do you know what that is? That’s a wedding ring. Do you know who gave me that? Sweet Joyce. Do you know why I wear that? Because I love her and I’m not ashamed of her. I want everybody to know that I belong to one woman: her name is Joyce. Now this ring doesn’t make me married. I could be married and not have a wedding ring, or I could go down to the dime store and buy one and not be married. She didn’t buy this in the dime store. I don’t think. I’ll ask her. But now, listen, folks. Listen. What does that mean? That means I belong to Joyce. What does baptism mean? It means I belong to Jesus. I belong to Jesus. It doesn’t make me a Christian. It shows I’m a Christian. Friend, there is a Master to confess.

A little boy got saved in the children’s church, and they said, “Go over to big church and tell them you’ve been saved and you need to get baptized.” He didn’t understand baptism. He went to the big church. He told the pastor, “I’ve been saved. I need to get advertised.” That’s it. That’s it, folks. You’re getting advertised.

B. There Is a Message to Convey
Now there is a Master to confess. Listen. Secondly, there is a message to convey. Did you know that every time when you get baptized, you’re preaching the gospel? Every time when you get baptized, anybody who gets baptized, he’s preaching the gospel: the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. A Master to confess. A message to convey. It shows what happened when you got saved. It shows what Jesus did. Many times I’ve seen people get under conviction of sin and get saved because of a baptismal service. The very things that baptism pictures are what bring conviction in the hearts of people, and they say, “I need a Savior; I need somebody to have died for me; I need a new life; I need what that pictures.”

C. There Is a Mandate to Complete

But, last of all, friend, it is a mandate to complete. Now, listen. Go back again. It is a Master to confess. It is a message to convey. But it is a mandate to complete. Jesus said, “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:”—now, watch this—“teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:19–20)

Conclusion

What is your response to that? I’ll say, “Yes, Lord, yes.”
Don’t Let the Great Commission Become the Great Omission

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: April 16, 1993

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.”

MATTHEW 28:19–20

Outline

Introduction
I. God's Unlimited Power
   A. What Is Given to Him?
   B. Where Is It Given to Him?
      1. In Earth
      2. In Heaven
   C. Wherefore Is It Given to Him?
      1. It Is Universal in Scope
      2. It Is Individual in Application
II. God's Unchanging Program
   A. We Are to Make Disciples: Evangelism
   B. We Are to Mark Disciples: Enlistment
   C. We Are to Mature Disciples: Edification
III. God's Unfailing Promise

Conclusion

Introduction
Would you take God's Word and be finding Matthew chapter 28? In a few moments, I'm going to begin reading in verse 19. If you're familiar with your Bible, you know that this passage of Scripture is what we call "the Great Commission." The title of the message this morning: "Don’t Let the Great Commission Become the Great Omission." I think we're in danger of doing that. The late, great Peter Marshall described the modern Church as "a deep-sea diver equipped with all sorts of fantastic equipment to go down many fathoms deep." He said, "The Church is like that: bravely marching forth to pull plugs out of bathtubs." We have so much; we do so little. Yet our Lord has given His marching orders for the Church.

Now, when someone speaks, the occasion for which they say what they say has a lot to do with how important it is. For example, if you had a loved one who was just about to step over to the other side and go to heaven and they beckoned you to bend down because they wanted to whisper something in your ear that they felt was very important, indeed, you’d say, “I want to hear these last words of my beloved before he or she goes to heaven.”

Now, many of us believe that the words that I’m about to read to you were words that the Lord Jesus spoke to the assembled multitudes, upward of five hundred reported there in the book of 1 Corinthians, just before He stepped over into heaven. (1 Corinthians 15:6) These are His last words. How important they are! They are His marching orders for His Church. Listen to what the Lord Jesus had to say: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.” (Matthew 28:19–20) What an important passage of Scripture this is! And, I want you to listen to it.

There are three basic things that God is not only saying to people in ages past but God is saying to this congregation this morning, and not only to this congregation this morning, but to you as an individual. There are three major things that stand out to me as I look at this passage.

I.  God’s Unlimited Power

Number one: our Lord’s unlimited power. Do you see it? His unlimited power. He says, “All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.” (Matthew 28:18) Now, let’s break that down to three parts.

A.  What Is Given to Him?

First of all, what is given to Him? “All power.” (Matthew 28:18) Now, the word power here is not the word that means “power” like the power that a bulldozer has, but it’s the word for “authority.” Our Lord is saying, “All [authority] is given unto me.” (Matthew 28:18) That is, “I am sovereign Lord.” God has declared Him Lord. Angels have announced Him Lord. It is our responsibility and privilege to crown Him Lord. For He says, “All authority—all Lordship—has been given unto me.” (Matthew 28:18) It is the Lord who is speaking. We have a little saying, a little quip, that we use: “God said it, I believe it, and that settles it.” Well, friend, God said it, and that settles it, whether you believe it or not. He is Lord.
B. Where Is It Given to Him?
So, there’s the what of this. And then, I want you to notice the where of it. He says, “All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.” (Matthew 28:18)

1. In Earth
Let’s talk about the earth, first of all. Our Lord says, “I have sovereign power over all of the earth.” I don’t want you to think of Christianity, therefore, as the Western religion, much less to think of Christianity as the white man’s religion. God forbid! All nations, all kindreds, all tribes, all people belong to Jesus Christ. Say “amen.” They do.

2. In Heaven
On earth it all belongs to Him, and in heaven. “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven.” (Matthew 28:18) Actually, this word “in heaven” means “in the heavenlies.” You know, there in Ephesians chapter 6, where the Bible says, “We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, [and] powers…[and] spiritual wickedness in high places,” (Ephesians 6:12) that literally means “in the heavenlies.” It’s the same thing He’s talking about here. And, what is He saying? He’s saying not only here in the material realm that we can see, but in that unseen realm—that spiritual realm—Jesus Christ is Lord. Angels bow before Him. Demons cringe at the name of Jesus Christ. Our Lord has authority on the earthly sphere. On earth and in heaven, our Lord is sovereign. He is Lord.

C. Wherefore Is It Given to Him?
“All [authority]”—that’s the what—“is given unto me in heaven and in earth”—that’s the where. And now, notice the wherefore: “Go ye therefore” (Matthew 28:18–19)—“because I have the authority as your sovereign Lord to command you.” And, what our Lord is saying—listen: there is no power He cannot break; there is no place He does not belong; and there’s no person He cannot use. That’s what He’s saying. “All [authority] is given unto me”—“there’s no power I cannot break”—“in heaven and in earth”—“there’s no place I don’t belong.” “Go ye therefore”—“there is no person that I cannot use.” (Matthew 28:18–19)

1. It Is Universal in Scope
Now, our Lord is speaking to all of us, and what He says to all He says to each. You see, this is universal in scope. I told you before that most likely, our Lord gave this announcement and pronouncement before the five hundred plus who saw Him in His resurrection body, and He gave it, therefore, to all of them. This is to the Body of Jesus.

2. It Is Individual in Application
But, what He says to all He says to each. It is universal in scope, but it is individual in application. Now, you know the danger here today? You’re going to think I’m speaking to someone, and you’re going to think that the Great Commission was given to somebody else. You’re going to think that there are a certain select few—pastors, evangelists, and missionaries—that Jesus Christ was speaking to. I want to tell you something plainly: if you don’t understand that the Great Commission is given to you as a believer in Jesus Christ, I have failed this morning as a preacher.

Would you help me a moment? How many of you are here today? Would you lift your hand if you’re here? Let me watch. Some of you are not here. No, go ahead. Don’t be ashamed; just hold it up. I want to see how many of you are here. Now, if you have your hand up, I’m talking to you, okay? I’m talking to you. I am talking to you because Jesus Christ is speaking to you. He is not just talking “to whom it may concern.” He is speaking to you. This is a message to you.

There is no power He cannot break. There’s no place He does not belong. There is no person He cannot use. And, there is a wherefore: “Go ye therefore.” (Matthew 28:19) And, to fail is not simply to miss a blessing; to fail is a clinched fist in the face of God. To fail is high treason against heaven’s King. The French Foreign Legion used to have this motto: “If I falter, push me on. If I stumble, pick me up. If I retreat, shoot me.” Oh, that ought to be the marching orders as we sang “God Raise Up a Mighty Army.” God wants us to be a part of His salvation army. God wants us to be a part of His invasion army.

So, the very first note, the very first section, of this Great Commission is what I call “His unlimited power”: “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore.” (Matthew 28:18–19) He has authority to send us. He is our sovereign Lord.

II. God’s Unchanging Program
The second thing I want you to see: not only His unlimited power, but I want you to see His unchanging program. From the time that Jesus Christ left this earth to the time He comes again, He has but one program for His Church, and it’s right here in verse 19: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:19–20)

Now, we don’t have to guess at this. We’re to disciple all nations; we’re to baptize all believers; and we’re to teach all His commandments. It’s just that simple. You don’t have to be a rocket scientist to figure this out. The Church doesn’t have to say, “Lord, we really don’t know what you wanted us to do. We wish you had given us clear instructions.” Now, He says we’re in the business of making disciples. “Go…and teach all nations.” (Matthew 28:19) That literally says in the Greek language, “Disciple all nations.” So, when it comes to disciples, what are we to do?
A. We Are to Make Disciples: Evangelism

First of all, we are to make them. And, how do you make a disciple? You bring a person to a saving faith in Jesus Christ. You tell him of Jesus, who is mighty to save. That is evangelism. Now, the church that is not in evangelism, whether it be at home or abroad, is failing, not even worthy of the dirt, the ground, upon which it is built. “For a church to major in evangelism,” the late, great Dr. Havner said, “would be like a railroad majoring in transportation. We exist by evangelism as a fire exists by burning.” That’s why we’re here. The great heart of God is for souls, and the Bible says, “The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.” (Luke 19:10) And, if you’re not concerned about bringing people to Jesus Christ, you’d better examine your heart and see if you’re saved. I can tell you this: from the moment I gave my heart to Jesus Christ there has been—there is now—a desire to share Jesus Christ with other people.

Now, if Jesus Christ is real to you, if Jesus Christ is a blessing to you, would you not want to share it? People say, “Pastor, do you believe that people without Christ are lost?” I do. “Well,” you say, “they have their religion.” They may; but friend, salvation is in Jesus Christ and Jesus Christ alone. Now, if Jesus Christ is not the only way to heaven, Jesus Christ is none of the ways to heaven. Why do I say that? I say that because of this: Jesus Christ Himself said that He was the only way. Read it in John 14:6. Jesus said, “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.” (John 14:6) The Apostle Peter picks that up in Acts 4:12 and says, “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” (Acts 4:12) There’s no other way. Now, if Jesus Christ, therefore, is not the only way, He’s none of the ways, because if He’s not the only way, He is a liar, and a liar is nobody’s Savior. And, He said that He was the only way. If He is not the only way, He’s certainly not the Messiah of God because He’s a fake, a fraud, and an impostor.

You say, “Well, Pastor Rogers, that is narrow.” You can call it what you want, but friend, people without the Lord Jesus Christ are lost. “No one comes to the Father, but by Jesus Christ.” (John 14:6) It is our duty, it is our privilege, it is our mandate to tell them.

You say, “Well, what if they never hear? Are they lost if they never even hear?” I have a harder question than that: Are we saved if we don’t tell? You need to ask about it. Friend, if you can’t give your faith away, you ought to give it up. We talk about “keeping the faith.” We need to share the faith. If we believe what we believe, we are to make disciples of all nations, and that begins with your next-door neighbor; that begins with the members of your family. It begins in Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria, and the uttermost parts of the earth. It is the marching orders of the Church—evangelism. We are to make disciples.
B. We Are to Mark Disciples: Enlistment

But, not only are we to make disciples; we’re to mark disciples. We are to baptize them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Matthew 28:19)

That’s a part of it. What is baptism? Baptism is the outward declaration that “I belong to Jesus Christ.” Somehow in our day and age, we have minimized baptism. Never minimize baptism. Our Lord did not minimize baptism. Our Lord only had a ministry of about three years. That’s not a very long ministry—only about three years here on this earth. Now, He had a lot to do. But, how did Jesus Christ begin His ministry? By being baptized. Did He not? Of course He did—was baptized by immersion in the river Jordan. How did Jesus conclude His ministry? He commenced it with baptism. How did He conclude it? By commanding baptism.

Are you a baptized believer in the Lord Jesus Christ? Did you know that baptism is the outward symbol and mark that you belong to Jesus Christ? You say, “Does baptism save me?” No.

This ring that I’m wearing doesn’t make me married, but it’s the mark I’m married; it’s the sign I’m married. And, I want to tell all the world, especially any other woman who may be living, I belong to Joyce. I am set aside; I am set apart. There is a lady that I love, that I’m committed to. And friend, baptism is the mark. It doesn’t save you any more than this ring makes me married, but it shows that you’re not ashamed of the Lord Jesus Christ.

And, what is baptism? It is a picture, an element, a symbol of that which saves you. What saves you? The gospel. What is the gospel? Read it—1 Corinthians chapter 15. (1 Corinthians 15:1–4) This is the gospel: that Christ died for our sins, that He was buried, and that He was raised again the third day. That’s the gospel. Read it. There is no other gospel than the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ for our sins. He’s “[shown] to be the Son of God with power.” (Romans 1:4) He’s not just another religious leader, in that God raised Him from the dead.

What is baptism? Baptism is a picture of that. Romans chapter 6: “Therefore we are buried with him by baptism…that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life”—listen to this—“For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection.” (Romans 6:4–5) What is baptism? Baptism is the likeness of His death and the likeness of His resurrection. Anytime anyone is baptized, they are picturing, portraying, proclaiming the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. That baptistery becomes a liquid tomb. When that person’s arms are folded and they lay back in that tomb, they are being buried with Christ. They’re saying, “Lord Jesus, I believe you took my sin to the cross, and when you died, I died with you. Hallelujah!
sin debt is paid, and my sin is buried in the grave of God's forgetfulness." And, when you come up out of that water, you're saying, "O God, I believe that Jesus Christ was raised from the dead by the power of God, and I believe, through His resurrection, I have a new life. I have become a new creature, born to live a resurrection life." And, you portray that by being baptized.

Why should you be ashamed to be baptized? Many who are sitting in this congregation this morning may say, "Well, I belong to Jesus Christ, but I'm not going to worry about baptism; it's not all that important." Who are you to say what is important and what is not important? Don't you think the One who says, "All [authority] is given unto me" (Matthew 28:18) is the One who ought to say what's important and what's not important? Don't you think that the devil would love to remove the symbolism, the emblem, of the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ from the churches? You can’t bury a person with a few drops of water any more than you could bury them with a few grains of sand. “We are buried with him by baptism…that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.” (Romans 6:4) And friend, if you don’t have a new life, you have no business being baptized. Baptism is a symbol and an emblem of the new life that you have in the Lord Jesus Christ.

C. We Are to Mature Disciples: Edification

And so, what are we to do? What are the marching orders of the Church? What is His unchanging program? We are to make disciples; that is evangelism. We are to mark disciples; that is enlistment. We’re to get them into the New Testament church. Friend, are you a baptized believer of a New Testament church? You ought to be if you’re to be a part of the Great Commission. We’re to make them. We’re to mark them. And then, we are to mature them. We are to “[teach] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:20) It’s not enough to get them saved. It’s not enough to get them baptized. Then, we begin to teach them. We begin to pour the Word of God into these disciples because as we make them and mark them, then we mature them. After we have evangelism and enlistment, we have edification. And, they begin to “grow in [the] grace, and…knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.” (2 Peter 3:18)

You say, “Well, I don’t know. What should we teach them?” Teach them what He commanded you. “[Teach] them…all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:20) Well, what did He command you to do? To make disciples, to mark disciples, to mature disciples. You see, what is a New Testament Christian? He is a maker not of disciples; he is a maker of disciple-makers. Did you understand that? We’re not just simply makers of disciples; we are makers of disciple-makers. My evangelism is not complete when I simply win you to Christ on a street corner. I am to come on and stay by your side until you make a public profession of your faith in Christ, until you follow Christ in the water of believer's baptism. But, my discipleship and my obedience is not done then. I am to stay with you, to love you, to edify you, to enlist you, to teach you until you can begin to be a soul winner yourself. Then I fulfill the Great Commission—when I have taught you to obey what He commanded me. And, when I take a convert and turn a convert into a soul winner, then, friend, Christianity has begun to take off in such an incredible way.

You see, we wonder why we are not reaching the world for Jesus Christ. I’ll tell you why we’re not reaching the world for Jesus Christ: we have a generation of Sunday morning bench warmers who think they’ve done God a wild favor if they come to church on Sunday morning, but they have not learned that the Great Commission is given to them and they have an incredible and glorious responsibility.

Now, listen to me. If there were only five thousand believers in the world—I will preach this morning to five thousand people right in this building; put the two congregations together, it will be more than five thousand people—if there were only five thousand believers in all of the world—out of five-and-a-half billion people, only five thousand believers—just five thousand; that’s all we had to start with, just five thousand—and those five thousand became soul winners, and in a year each one won three and got them baptized and began to disciple them—now, is there anybody, who, if they really tried, were full of the Holy Spirit, and gave their heart to it, couldn’t win three people a year? I doubt it. Is there anybody who couldn’t do that: just three a year? Now, if we did that, and we had five thousand this morning, a year from now, in March, we’d have what? Twenty thousand. But now, our twenty thousand—not just twenty thousand; they’re twenty thousand makers of disciple-makers—so let’s say that our twenty thousand will win three and teach them to do the same. Well, all of a sudden, exponentially, we can see this thing has begun to grow. But now, the next year, incredible numbers! And the next year, astronomical numbers! And in ten or eleven years, every soul on Planet Earth is a Bible-believing Christian. Three a year. Incredible? Three a year!

See, our Lord knew what He was talking about, didn’t He, when He said we’re not just simply makers of disciples? We are to be makers of disciple-makers. When we win somebody to Jesus Christ, we make them, we mark them, we mature them, and they begin to start the process over again. That’s the Great Commission. That’s what our Lord has commanded us to do. What a thrill, what a privilege, what an obligation is ours!

III. God’s Unfailing Promise
Third thing—listen. First of all, there is our Lord’s unlimited power: “All [authority] is given unto me.” (Matthew 28:18) Secondly, there’s our Lord’s unchanging program. It’s never been canceled, never been abrogated. It is for you today. And thirdly, there is His unfailing promise. What is His unfailing promise? Look at it. He says, “And if you will do this”—“and, lo”—“behold”—“I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Matthew 28:20)—literally, “to the end of the age.” “I am with you.” (Matthew 28:20) What an unfailing promise!

How is the promise preceded? Well, the promise is preceded with His authority. He says, “All [authority] is given unto me.” (Matthew 28:18) How is the promise followed? By His presence. So you have His authority behind you, His presence within you, and the task before you. It’s not bad. His authority is behind you: “All [authority] is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18)—“and I am in you, and you are in me.” (Matthew 28:20) What a combination! “The authority of heaven and earth is mine, and I am with you. Now, go.” Isn’t that neat? Isn’t that wonderful? That’s the way it is. “All [authority] is given unto me…Go ye therefore.” (Matthew 28:18–19)

You say, “Pastor Rogers, Jesus Christ is not particularly real to me.” Oh, He’s not? Would you like for Him to be more real? Why don’t you get on the firing line, winning souls to Jesus Christ, and see if Jesus Christ does not become more real to you? You see, the lo depends upon the go. “Lo, I’m with you when you go.” How universal this is! All authority! All nations! All commandments! All the days of your life!

Now, we can’t all do it the same way. God is not calling every one of us to go overseas. God doesn’t want us all to be preachers—thank God for that! Boy, I’d hate to belong to a congregation full of preachers! God wants some of you to be businessmen. God wants some of you to be nurses, schoolteachers, athletes. We have an athlete here this morning, Chris Donnelly, free safety for Alabama, who made a Florida boy root for Alabama this year. But, he’s a disciple-maker, not ashamed of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Armour Meatpacking—have you ever eaten any Armour meat? Of course you have! He’s a great Christian. Somebody asked Mr. Armour one time, “What is your business?” He said, “My business is winning people to Jesus Christ.” They said, “No, no, what is your business?” He said, “I said, my business is winning people to Jesus Christ.” They said, “No, where do you go to work?” “Oh,” he said, “I pack meat to make a living, but my business is winning people to Jesus Christ.” That’s what I’m talking about. God may keep you in the same job, the same place, the same neighborhood, but you’re going to be a part of the Great Commission, bringing people to Jesus Christ. You say, “Well, I don’t have a lot of talent.”

Many of you have heard of Howard Hendricks. He’s preached from our pulpit. Howard Hendricks, one of the greatest exponents and expositors of the Word of God in America today, seminary professor at Dallas Seminary, was a little boy from a dysfunctional family. Howard said, “I used to sit on my front steps and cry a lot. And, I had an old dog that I’d kind of bury my face in his fur and cry, and he’d lick the tears off my face.” Howard said, “I thought it was because he loved me. He just liked salt, though. Just licking the tears off my face—he didn’t understand my heart was broken. But,” he said, “there was a man in our community. His name was Walt. He had a sixth-grade education. And,” he said, “Walt got a heart for the Lord, and Walt went to the church and said, ‘I’d like to teach a Sunday school class.’ They said, ‘Walt, we don’t believe you’re able to teach a Sunday school class.’ He said, ‘Well, I’d sure like to try.’” Howie said, “He was a big old tall guy, sort of an Ichabod Crane-looking character. And, they said, ‘Well, Walt, why don’t you just build a class? We’ll give you a room. You build a class.’” And, Walt began to walk around that neighborhood and find some little boys out there.” He came to Howard Hendricks, got down in the dirt and shot marbles with him, and then said, “Son, would you come to my Sunday school class?” Howie said, “Of course I’d come. A man was interested in me, who would shoot marbles with me. Of course I’d come!” He said, “He built a class—Walt built a class—of thirteen boys.”

Howard Hendricks, brilliant seminary professor, said, “I don’t remember a word that he taught in that class, but I remember this: that he poured his love into those thirteen boys.” Of those thirteen boys, eleven of them went into fulltime Christian service: two of them seminary professors, four of them pastors, six of them missionaries around the world. A man with a sixth-grade education, but he had the world on his heart.

You may never go overseas as a missionary, but you might be a missionary mamma and raise a boy to be a missionary, raise a girl to be a missionary. You might be a missionary businessman, raising money for missions. How do you go? You go with your prayers. You go with your money. You go with your input. You go with your life. You go as He tells you to go. But, He has told you to go, and He says, “If you will, I’ll be with you always right to the end of the earth. I’ll be with you in failure, and I’ll be with you in success. I’ll be with you in the good times; I’ll be with you in the bad times. I will be with you if you’ll only go.” That’s it.

Conclusion
And, I beg you today, people of Bellevue, that you don’t let the Great Commission become “the Great Omission.” And, I beg you to begin in your Jerusalem, which is right here, and begin with your next-door neighbor, or that person in the desk beside you, or that boy that you play ball with—whomever, wherever. Would you say to the Lord, “Anywhere, anytime, any cost”? We all ought to say that. And, don’t be afraid to say that. Don’t fear the Lord. Oh, He loves us so much. Look around. Just look at this congregation. I’m going to tell you something: in fifty years, most of you will be dead, including me. Fifty years—isn’t that right, doctor? Here’s a doctor here. That’s right—fifty years, most of us be dead. You say, “Not me. I’m young. I’m only twenty-one.” You might be dead tomorrow. I don’t know. You don’t. We don’t know. But, I mean, just a few ticks of a clock, and we’re gone.

What are you going to do? What on earth are you going to do for heaven’s sake? What do you want to leave behind? Aren’t you tired of just drawing your breath and drawing your salary? Don’t you want to be a part of something big? What could be bigger, what could be greater, than sharing the glorious gospel of Jesus Christ with those who’ve never heard? “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.”

(Matthew 28:18–20)
Missions Unlimited
By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 5, 1989
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20
Main Scripture Verse: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost

Outline
Introduction
I. God’s Unlimited Power
II. God’s Unhindered People
   A. The Command Is Universal in Scope
   B. The Command Is Individual in Application
III. God’s Unchanging Program
   A. We Are to Make Disciples
   B. We Are to Mark Disciples
   C. We Are to Mature Disciples
IV. God’s Unfailing Promise
Conclusion

Introduction
Take God’s Word tonight and open, please, to Matthew chapter 28—some very familiar passages that we’re going to read: Matthew 28:19–20. When you’ve found it, look up here. The great Presbyterian preacher, Peter Marshall, said that “so many twentieth-century Christians are like deep sea divers, encased in diving suits, structured and fitted to go down many fathoms deep, who bravely march forth to pull plugs out of bathtubs.” We do so little with so much. May I tell you lovingly but firmly that no matter what else you do—no matter how fervently you pray, no matter how faithfully you attend, no matter how liberally you give, no matter how circumspectly you walk, no matter how beautifully you sing—if you’re not endeavoring to bring souls to Jesus Christ on a regular basis, you are not right with God, okay? Amen or “oh, me”? You’re not right with God.

If you do not have the soul winner’s heart and the missionary’s heart—which are one and the same thing, really; there’s no difference—if you don’t have that kind of a heart, let me tell you what’s wrong with you. Number one: You are a disobedient Christian, because I just read a command from Jesus. And let me tell you, dear friend, worse than your disobedience to Christ, it is what is behind your disobedience to Christ that is so bad, for Jesus said, “If a man love me, he will keep my words.” (John 14:23) You’re guilty of a lack of love for the Lord Jesus Christ. You’ve given evidence that you’re not a follower of Christ, for He said, “Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.” (Matthew 4:19) You have shown that you are not abiding in Christ, for He said, “Abide in me, and you will bring forth much fruit.” (John 15:5)

Have you ever eaten any meat packed by the Armour meatpacking people? Most of us have. Armour is a familiar name to us. What many people don’t know is the founder of that company was an ardent Christian and a great soul winner. And somebody asked him, “What is your business?” They didn’t know that he was the meatpacker, but they weren’t prepared for his answer. He said, “My chief business is to lead men to Jesus Christ. I pack meat on the side to make a living”—“My chief business is to bring men to Jesus Christ.” And whether you’re a doctor, a banker, a lawyer, a butcher, a builder, a housewife, a student—no matter what else it is—that’s incidental to your call as a believer in Jesus Christ to bring men to Christ. Do you agree with that? Nod your heads. That’s most of us.

Now, listen. Beloved, we are called to be His witnesses. I want to speak to you tonight on “Missions Unlimited.” I have just read to you what is called the Great Commission, but sadly, with many of us, is the Great Omission. We are failing to do what Jesus told us to do. Now the time that Jesus gave this command is so very important. If you had a loved one who was about to go to heaven, and just before your loved one was about to take his exit from this world and step over into eternity that loved one called you to himself and said, “Listen, this is the thing that is on my heart more than any other thing, and before I step into the next world, I want you to hear this,” would you not give it heed? Would you not pay attention?

My dear friends, before our Lord ascended to heaven, these were His words. And I want us to look at them very carefully, because I am convinced that there is nothing to limit the Church of the Lord God from carrying out the Great Commission except our unbelief, our unfaithfulness, our ignorance, our fear, or whatever it may be. But truly, the Lord who commanded is the God who enables. And I want you to learn with me tonight four wonderful, wonderful truths as we look at Matthew 28:19–20.

I. God’s Unlimited Power
And the very first thing I want you to see is God’s unlimited power, mediated to us through Jesus Christ. Look at it again—verse 18: “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me.” (Matthew 28:18) Whether it be in your witness in your school, or whether it be your witness in a foreign nation, you’ve got to believe that, that Jesus has said, “All power is given unto me.” Now the word power that is in our King James Version of the Bible is a translation of the Greek word exousia, which means all “authority.” Some translations give it that way. Jesus has all authority. That means He’s Lord. God has declared Him Lord. Angels have announced Him Lord. We must crown Him Lord. That means His word is final. We don’t argue with it: no refusal, no rebuttal. “All [authority] is given unto me.” Ladies and gentlemen, what I am talking about now is not optional; it comes from the Lord, who has all authority.

That’s the what: authority. The where? Listen to it: “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth.” Now, on earth He has authority. That means He has authority to say to any one of us, “Go,” and we must go. To fail to go is not simply an omission or a failure; it is high treason against heaven’s King. We need to understand that He has authority on this earth. We talk about the world’s religion, as I said when we were singing a while back; but Jesus and His truth is not just one more of the world’s religions. It is not the Western religion. Or, worse, it is not the white man’s religion. It is the faith and the life for every creature. It transcends all barriers of language, culture, nationality, color, race, and rank. All authority on earth is His.

And all authority in heaven is His. When the Bible says, “All [authority]… in heaven,” it includes what we would call “the heavenlies.” It doesn’t just simply mean “up there, in the abode where God dwells,” but it means “in the spiritual realm.” There’s a spiritual realm called “the heavenlies.” It speaks of spirit creatures. When Jesus said that “all authority is given to me in the heavenlies,” it means that angels must serve Him, and it means that no demon power can stand before Him. I hope you believe that—that Jesus has authority in heaven and on earth. That’s the way to begin. There’s great security in that—when we know that we go with the power, the authority, of heaven behind us.

And when I say, “No demon spirit can stand before Him,” you see, He gives that authority to you. And the devil hopes that you don’t understand that; the devil hopes that you don’t know that. Many of us think we have arrived when we’re no longer afraid of the devil. No, dear friend, you haven’t come far enough yet. The question I want to ask is, is the devil afraid of you? Is the devil afraid of you? Demons trembled in the presence of Christ. And He says, “All authority is given unto me in the heavenlies. Go therefore.” And to a person walking in the Spirit, He has the authority of the Lord Jesus; He has the “authority to tread on serpents and scorpions,” (Luke 10:19) symbolizing demon powers.

II. God’s Unhindered People

Now, the second thing: Not only must you see God’s unlimited power; but therefore, as a result of that, you must see God’s unhindered people. It follows. Look, there’s an argument, a philosophy, here. Jesus said, “All power is given unto me in heaven and in Go ye therefore.” (Matthew 28:18–19) Do you get the idea? “I have the power. I’m giving it to you. You’re now unhindered.”

A. The Command Is Universal in Scope

When He said, “Go ye,” He was speaking to His entire body. This promise and this command is universal in scope. It happened just before Jesus ascended. This command probably was given to the five hundred brethren that are mentioned in 1 Corinthians 15:6 that saw Jesus alive after His resurrection. (1 Corinthians 15:6) The Great Commission is not a message for a select few—not merely for the pastor, the evangelist, the missionary; it is a message, a commission, to every blood-bought child of God. It is universal in scope.

B. The Command Is Individual in Application

But now, listen. It is personal and individual in application. God has a particular place for you to work. God has a particular place for me to work. He doesn’t call us all to the same task. God placed me here as the pastor of this church; and if that’s His will for me, then I’m in a wonderful place. If God put you in a business and that’s His will for you, then my place is no higher than your place, because, you see, there is no higher place than the will of God. Nobody can be in a bigger place than the will of God. And, dear friend, you are as much a servant of Christ, and you will get the same kind of a reward that I or any evangelist would get, if you, in your place, are there by God’s will, doing God’s purpose for you.

You say, “Well, it’s not God’s will where I am.” Then, find God’s will and get in it. But I want to tell you, what we call “secular work” is not a biblical term. There is no Christian who has a secular job. My dear friend, whatever we do, in word or deed, we’re to do all to the glory of God. (1 Corinthians 10:31) Every day is a holy day. Every place is a sacred place. And every act is an act of service by somebody who’s obeying the Great Commission, if he understands what the Bible is saying here. God doesn’t call us all to the same task; but we are all commissioned, we are all empowered, and therefore we are all unhindered in getting out the gospel. This command: universal in scope. This command: individual in application.

But I do believe this with all of my heart: that God is calling out of this church many of our college young people, and our high school young people, and our younger adults, and saying, “I want you to be career missionaries.” I don’t believe that God engineered all of the preachers to be in America. You preacher boys, it’s just not ipso facto that when you graduate from Mid-America Seminary, you’re to seek a church here. That may be His will. When I got out of seminary, I was torn in three directions. I did not know whether God wanted me to be a missionary, whether God wanted me to be an evangelist, or whether God wanted me to be a pastor. And, very frankly, I had a burning desire to do all three. And very, very easily, God could have made me a foreign missionary or a home missionary. All He would have had to have done, as far as I know, is to whisper in my ear. Or, God could have made me an evangelist. I suppose the thing I really wanted to do was to be an evangelist—I think every young preacher does. But God called me to be a pastor, and I believe I’m here by the hand of God.

But it is not automatic that our young people are just simply called to pastor churches—and here especially in the buckle on the Bible Belt where there’s a church on every corner and so many people who have never heard the name of Jesus in this world.

If you saw a heavy log that needed to be carried, and on one end of that log there were nine men and on the other end of that log there was one man, what do you think might be a wise thing to do? Don’t you think that some on one end of the log ought to go down and get on the other end of the log? I mean, we’ve bunched all the workers up together. That’s not necessarily the plan. It is not the plan of God.

III. God’s Unchanging Program

So, my dear friend, our Lord has unlimited power. Therefore, we are to be unhindered people. The third thing I want you to notice: The God with the unlimited power, who has empowered His unhindered people, has an unchanging program. Now we don’t need a new and a modern gospel for a new and a modern age. Did you read today in the paper where some scholars say that Jesus didn’t say He was coming again? Friend, let me tell you something. We have some smart alecks today who think that they have what it takes to judge this book. I want to tell you, Jesus said this book is going to judge us. He said, “The words that I speak unto you, they will judge you in that day.” (John 12:48) And it doesn’t change. If it’s new, it’s not true. Methods may change, but God’s program is always the same, whether we go on a sailing ship or a 747.

Here is God’s unchanging program—listen to it: “Go ye therefore, and teach”—that is, “disciple”—“all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.” (Matthew 28:19) Now the word teach here actually means “to disciple” or “make disciples of all nations.” And, by the way, God did not call us to make decisions, but to make disciples. A lot of what we call evangelism may not be evangelism.

And, actually, there are three things that we’re told to do in these verses, concerning the disciples.
A. We Are to Make Disciples

We’re to make them; that is, we’re to bring them to Jesus Christ. Yes, they are lost without Christ. Somebody will ask you, “Do you believe that those so-called ‘heathen’ are lost if we don’t tell them? Isn’t their religion as good as ours?” No! Jesus Christ is the only way. You can call me a bigot if you want, but I believe that with all of my heart. “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” (Acts 4:12) Jesus said, “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.” (John 14:6) The great question is not, “Are they lost if they don’t hear?” The great question is, “Are we saved if we don’t tell?” That’s the great question. How can we believe that Jesus Christ is the answer to this world’s hurts and the hope of eternal life and we be sinfully silent? The very first thing He tells us to do is to make disciples, to win them to Christ.

B. We Are to Mark Disciples

We are to make them; and then, we are to mark them. We are to baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Don’t minimize baptism. Baptism is the mark that you have entered into the Body of Christ. People are baptized as they become a part of a local church, and it’s so important that people openly and publicly say, “Look, I believe in Jesus Christ, and because I believe in Jesus Christ—because I believe that Jesus Christ died, was buried, and raised again—I want you to take me and I want you to put me in that watery grave. And when I go beneath the water, it is my way of saying, ‘I believe that Jesus died and was buried.’ And, bless God, I am dying with Him. And when I come up out of that water, it’s my way of saying, ‘I believe that Jesus was raised from the dead by the glory of God, and I believe that same Jesus has given me new life.’”

When Joyce and I took a mission trip last year, we went to Kenya. And in Kenya, we went with one of our fine missionaries out to the foothills of the Kilimanjaro, out there where the Maasai live—these warrior-like people, these tall warriors who think that God gave them all of the cattle: If anybody else has any cattle, they stole it from the Masai, and it’s all right for the Maasai to go and steal it back. They believe that God gave them all the cattle in the world. They drink blood and goat’s milk together—warm blood. They are fierce people. They’re a proud people. They are primitive people living in little mud huts. Joyce and I went out there to see the Maasai. What a trip that was, as we went out behind Nairobi about forty or fifty miles, and then turned off the road to a dirt road, and then followed that dirt road until there was no more road—to drive out there not in a wild game preserve, but just out in Africa past the wildebeests, past the flocks of gazelles, past the exotic birds. It’s interesting to look up and see a big flock of ostrich just going by, to see zebras and other wild animals just out there in that area. We drove and drove and drove.

Joyce, with her camera, kept saying, “Can I take some pictures of these Maasai?” And our missionary would say, “No, I don’t believe it’s wise. I don’t think you ought to take any pictures right now. Just wait a while.” And we’d come up to a Maasai village of the mud huts out there, and she’d say, “Can I take a picture?” He said, “No, just wait a while.” We kept on asking, “Why do you want us to wait?” He said, “That’s all right.” He said, “We’ll find the right time to take pictures.” When we got back, I found out why. I told another missionary about it. He said, “Yes.” He said, “They don’t like their picture taken, especially when you’re taking pictures like they’re something different, like they’re strange, like they’re some sort of an animal in a cage or something like that.” You’re wanting to come back and say, “Would you look at that?” And, of course, many primitive people feel that when you take their picture, you’re taking something from them, because whatever is there somehow gets on that paper. They don’t like that idea unless they know you, and love you, and trust you.

But he said there was one of these Americans who came over there and asked one of the Maasai warriors, “Can I take your picture?” And he said, “No.” He said, “Well, I’ll give you some money if you’ll let me take your picture.” He said, “No.” They’re very proud people. So he said, “Well, all right.” And when they got in the Land Rover and started to leave, this missionary turned around, through the rear mirror, and snapped a picture as they drove off. When they did, this Maasai warrior took his spear and threw it right through that rear window, right through that American’s chest, and went all the way down and through his leg. He almost died. Now I understood why the man said, “Just wait a moment, Joyce. Don’t take any pictures.”

But when we got out there—I mean, on the backside of nowhere, in the middle of what you would call dark Africa—Jim Hooten, our Southern Baptist missionary, said, “Here’s our headquarters.” It was a little green tent about this big he’d set up. And he said, “This is where we baptize.” And do you know what he showed me? He showed me a grave they had dug in the ground—just like a grave, a dirt hole in the ground, and they had lined it with plastic and filled it with muddy water. And he said to me, “In the last several months, we’ve baptized more than eighty Maasai right there.” Friend, to me, that’s missions. But I thought to myself, “Can you imagine putting a man in a dirt grave and bringing him up?” And I said, dear friend, to myself and others, “That is what baptism is.” It doesn’t matter whether you’re here or there or wherever you are; it’s a part of the Great Commission. We’re to baptize them.

And, by the way, if you haven’t been baptized, why not? What right do you have to call yourself a follower of Jesus Christ if you don’t obey Him? It’s not a suggestion.
C. We Are to Mature Disciples

We are to make them. We are to mark them. And we are to mature them: “teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” (Matthew 18:20) It’s not enough to win somebody to Jesus Christ. It’s not enough to get them baptized. We are to teach them what Jesus said. We’re to mature them in our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. And if we would really begin to obey the Great Commission, we’d see far more people saved than we do see saved. Primarily, we don’t need more Christians; we need better Christians. We need Christians who themselves become soul winners. Actually, we’re not to be makers of disciples; we’re to be makers of disciple-makers. We are to teach those that we win to do what He commanded us to do—and that is to win people. Your evangelism is not complete until the evangelized becomes an evangelizer: till you have taken that person, you have made that disciple, you marked that disciple, you matured that disciple, and now he’s set out to do the same thing; he is doing whatever Jesus commanded you to do. And that’s the way we get out of addition and we get into multiplication.

IV. God’s Unfailing Promise

Now, friend, what is the Great Commission? Unlimited power: “All [authority] is given unto me.” Unhindered people: “Go ye therefore.” Unchanging program: “Teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” And then, there is, my dear friend, an unfailing promise: “And, lo, I am with you”—hallelujah!—“lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” (Matthew 28:18–20) It literally means “to the end of the age; to the end of time as we know it.”

Think about it. This command is preceded by the promise of His power, and it is followed by the promise of His presence. You have the authority of Christ behind you. You have the presence of Christ within you, and you have the task of Christ before you. It’s a wonderful deal.

Dear friend, do you want to know the presence of Jesus? Many people say, “Well, you know, Christ is not as real to me, pastor, as you seem to say that He’s real to you.” Have you ever noticed two words go and lo? “You go; and, lo, I am with you.” Jesus is never more real to you than when you’re witnessing. Let me ask you a question, those of you who are soul winners, those of you who have witnessed: When you witness in the name of Jesus, don’t you feel very close to Him when you’re witnessing? Don’t you? And doesn’t your faith seem so strong? Isn’t there something about sharing the Lord Jesus Christ that makes His presence very real in your heart? That’s true in mine. I mean, when we get serious about obeying Him: “You go and make disciplesF and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the age”—His unfailing promise.

Conclusion

Now I said this is “Missions Unlimited,” and I want you to see why I said it was unlimited. I want you to think of how inclusive this is. He says, “all authority.” He says, “all nations.” He says, “all of his teaching, for all of the days, even to the end of the age.” Don’t get the idea that because we’re living at the end time we’ve run out of power and we’ve got to hold the fort till Jesus gets here. It’s time to stop singing “Hold the Fort” and start singing “Onward, Christian Soldiers.” Jesus said, “I am with you to the end of the age.” (Matthew 28:20) And there’s not a shred of Scripture that says we can’t have a mighty revival in this day and in this age—and in Memphis, Tennessee. Let’s get off the defensive; let’s get on the offensive, and let’s report for duty and quit running around pulling plugs out of bathtubs when we’re equipped to do something else.
Our Marching Orders
By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 05, 2000
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20

Outline

Introduction
I. God’s Unlimited Power
II. God’s Unchanging Program
   A. We Are to Disciple the Nations
   B. We Are to Baptize All Believers
   C. We Are to Teach All His Commandments
III. God’s Unfailing Promise
Conclusion

Introduction

Take your Bibles and found our quintessential missionary chapter, Matthew chapter 28. And that’s going to bring you to what is known as the Great Commission, and I don’t know how we could have a missionary conference without looking at it one more time. So to bring this World Mission Conference to a conclusion, let’s look at this verse that is the pivotal verse, Matthew 28, beginning in verse 18: “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the [age]”—or “the end of the world.” “Amen” (Matthew 28:18–20).

Now what we have here are the marching orders of our Lord and Savior, our Sovereign King. He’s given them to all of us and given them to each of us. Now people’s last words are often written down and recorded in history because we think they are especially important. But these are the last words that Jesus uttered before He ascended into heaven, and well might we listen to these last words. I will be brief tonight, and I pray God that He will help me to lay four things upon your heart tonight that you will not forget.

I. God’s Unlimited Power
First of all, I want you to think, as we think about this great world missionary enterprise that God has given us, I want you to think of God’s unlimited power. He says, “All power is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18). Now, what does that mean? Well, the word here is the word not for power like energy power, but it is the word for power like authority. And what He is literally saying is that, “I have all authority.” Plain English: He is Lord. God has declared Him Lord. Angels have announced Him Lord. We must own Him and crown Him as Lord. Now, as Lord, if He has all authority, that means His Word is final. I’ve often heard people say, “Well, God said it, I believe it, and that settles it.” Well, that sounds good, but God said it: that settles it, whether you believe it or not. He is Lord. He is absolute Lord.

Now, where is He Lord? He says, “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth.” Now, let’s think about on earth. On this earth, on this terrestrial globe, He has all authority on this earth. Christianity is a world religion. It is not the Western religion. Don’t buy into that. Much less is it the white man’s religion. This is, He is authority over all of the world, every creature. His gospel transcends every language, every culture, every nationality, every color, every race, and every rank of people in all of the world. He is Lord of this world. “All [authority] is given unto me on earth.” And He says, “in heaven and in earth.” Now when He says, “in heaven,” that literally means, “in the heavenlies”; that is, in the realm of the spiritual things, and that includes where the angels are; that includes the realm of the demons; it includes all spirit creatures. He is Lord over them. Angels must serve Him, and demons must bow before Him and cringe at His authority. I’m telling you, “If God be for us, who can be against us?” (Romans 8:31).

Now He’s saying this—look: “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth.” Wherefore—now we’ve talked about the what and the where; let’s talk about the wherefore. He has authority in heaven and in earth. What does that mean? Well, it means, friend, there’s no place He doesn’t belong, and there’s no power that can stand against Him. That’s what it means—“in heaven.” And there are no powers in the heavenlies, no demon powers, that can withstand Him, and there’s no place that He does not belong. His gospel is universal in scope.

Now, listen. It means there’s no place He does not belong. It means there’s no power that can resist Him and stand against Him. And it means there is no person that He cannot use. He says, “Go ye therefore” (Matthew 28:19). Not, “Go some of you.” “Ye”: it is plural; it is universal. Now I believe that probably He gave this Great Commission where He was being seen of 500 people (1 Corinthians 15:6). That’s spoken of in 1 Corinthians chapter 15, verse 6. But this is not a message for a select few. It is universal in scope, but it is personal in application. You can’t go like I can go. I cannot go like you can go. You go one direction. I go another direction. You go one way. I go another way. But, folks, what He has said to all He says to each, and you are included in this. And for you to fail to obey the Lord Jesus Christ in the Great Commission is high treason against your King. And we ought to have the motto of the French Foreign Legion. The French Foreign Legion motto is “If I stumble, pick me up. If I falter, shove me on. If I retreat, shoot me.” We are under commands.

II. God’s Unchanging Program

Now that’s the first thing I want you to see, is His great, unlimited power. Here’s the second thing I want you to see. I want you to see His unchanging program. It’s very simple. Our Lord has delineated it here, and friend, by and large, it has not failed; it just is not being tried.

A. We Are to Disciple the Nations

First of all, we are to disciple all nations. That’s what He says. Look at it here: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations” (Matthew 28:19). The word teach literally means, “to disciple” all nations. It literally means, “to make disciples” of all nations. That is, there’s no place that Jesus Christ does not belong. People say, “Well, leave them alone. They can’t be lost without Christ.” Yes, they are lost without Christ. There’s only way to heaven, and it’s through the Lord Jesus Christ. And people are asking, “Oh, are they lost if they don’t hear?” I’ll tell you a bigger question than that. Are you saved if you don’t care? Are you saved if you don’t care about these without the Lord Jesus?

B. We Are to Baptize All Believers

We are to disciple all nations; and then we are to baptize all believers: “baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost” (Matthew 28:19). There are many missionary programs that seem, for whatever reason, to omit baptism. Don’t you dare minimize what God has maximized and emphasized. How did Jesus begin His public ministry? By being baptized, identifying Himself with us. How did Jesus conclude His short public ministry? By commanding baptism right here. This is not some optional thing. We are to make disciples, and then we are to mark disciples. We are to baptize them in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost.

And we’re not talking about sprinkling people; we’re talking about baptizing people. The word baptize means, “to immerse.” You say, “Well, Adrian, what difference does it make?” Folks, it makes a lot of difference—a lot of difference.

Suppose you’d never seen a picture of my darling wife who was up here on the platform with me a little while back. You say, “Adrian, do you have a picture of Joyce?” “I sure do.” And I reach in my billfold and I pull out a picture of a speedboat, a waterfall, a hunting dog, a lighthouse. And you say, “Well, is that Joyce?” I say, “Well, any old picture will do.”

No, no. Baptism is the likeness of the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.
“We are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the death by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection” (Romans 6:4–5). That baptism is a liquid tomb which pictures the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ, which, sir, is the gospel. If there’s one message that the devil would like to take out of the church, it would be the gospel. If there’s one message that God wants preeminent in the church, it is the gospel. And every time anybody gets saved, God says, “You make a disciple out of them, and then you baptize them, you give a graphic illustration of what it was that saved them: the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.”

C. We Are to Teach All His Commandments

We are to disciple all nations. We are to baptize all believers. And then we are to teach all His commandments: “teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you” (Matthew 28:20). Well, what did He command us to do? He commanded us to go and make disciples. What do we do when we get somebody that we have won to the Lord Jesus and we baptize them? What do we do? We teach them to go and make disciples. Do you see the cycle? I win somebody to Jesus Christ, get him baptized: I’m not finished with him until I teach him how to win somebody to Jesus Christ and get him baptized. “I am commanding you to go into all the world. Now you teach them whatever I have commanded you.” So it is to go on and on and on and on.

We’re not merely makers of disciples; we are to be makers of disciple-makers. Now, listen to this. Not merely makers of disciples; we are makers of disciple-makers. He tells us to go and make disciples, and then He says, “You teach them to do all things whatsoever I have commanded you.”

So your evangelism is not complete when you get a person to assent to the fact that they trust Jesus. He didn’t tell us to make decisions; He told us to make disciples and get them baptized. We’re to make them. We’re to mark them. We’re to mature them. We are to teach them to do what He taught us to do. And then rather than growing by addition we grow by multiplication. We grow experientially. And when we begin to do that, then the church is going to grow in an incredible way.

III. God’s Unfailing Promise

Now we’ve seen His unlimited power. Now we see His unchanging program. I want you to see now, thirdly, His unfailing promise. Here’s what He says: “You go and do that,” and he says, “and, lo…”—that is, “pay attention”—“lo…”—“hello”—“lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the [age]” (Matthew 28:20). Now, don’t you tell me, “Oh, we’re living in the last days, so therefore we don’t have any more power. We’re just singing ‘Hold the Fort.’ No, friend, we need to stop singing, “Hold the Fort,” and start singing, “Onward Christian Soldiers.” “I am with you always, even unto the end of the [age].” God is not dead. God is not old. God is not sick. God is not infirmed. His power is not diminished. He still has power to “rescue the perishing, care for the dying, snatch them in pity from sin and the grave.” I believe that these are the greatest days for evangelism. And He says, “I am with you right to the end of the age.” It’s translated in the King James Version, “the end of the world,” but literally, “the end of the age.” He says, “I am with you.”

Now I want to tell you that the lo and the go are linked. “You go, and lo, I am with you.” Jesus Christ will never be more near to you than when you are out in missionary service serving the Lord. Those of you who’ve gone overseas, you will say, “Yes, that is true.” Those of you who go door to door, you who go out, whenever you’re sharing Jesus Christ, you’re going find that you have incredible faith. You’re going to find that you have a sense of anointing, because He is with you. He moves alongside of those who will follow Him and obey Him.

Now, listen. This command is preceded by the promise of His power. It is followed by the promise of His presence. I have the power: “All power is given unto me.” “You go, and, lo, I am with you always.” His authority will be behind you. His Spirit will be within you as the task is before you, and you’re to go.

Conclusion
Now I’m going to wrap this up, but I want you to notice the inclusivity of this great command. I want you to notice the alls that are in it. He says, “all authority, all power.” I mean, friend, who can stand against Him? “All [authority] is given unto me.” And then He says, “You are to go make disciples of all nations.” We’re to go everywhere with the gospel. Nobody is excluded. And then He says we are to teach all His commandments: “teaching them to observe everything whatsoever I have commanded you.” And then He says, “and I am with you all of the days. I’m with you right to the end.” That’s so inclusive.

And so this is our responsibility. It is our privilege. It is our joy. Let’s not let the Great Commission be the Great Omission. Let’s let this church be a Great Commission church. No church is worthy of the real estate that its buildings are built upon that is not endeavoring to share the gospel with the whole wide world. Now every now and then I hear people, they get so excited about world missions, and if they’re not careful they dismantle the local base in order to do world missions, and that’s foolish. Bellevue must continue to be strong. We must continue to grow. We must reinforce the home base. And we’re not going to reach the world by weakening the home base, but we are to be strong here. We’re to reach our Jerusalem, all our Judea, our Samaria, and the uttermost parts of the earth (Acts 1:8). And we’re going to continue to grow and glow, or we will dry and die. We will evangelize or we will fossilize. But we are not going to fossilize, and we’re not going to dry, we’re not going to die. We’re going to believe Jesus, who said, “All [authority] is given unto me.” And we’re going to follow Him right around the world till He comes. That’s what it’s all about. That’s what it’s all about. That’s the Great Commission. And God help us to do it.
State of the Church

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: January 14, 1996

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.”

MATTHEW 28:19

Outline

Introduction

I. Factors of a Mission Statement
   A. The Fellowship Factor
   B. The Focus Factor
   C. The Forcefulness Factor
   D. The Future Factor

II. What a Mission Statement Should Provide

III. Our Mission Statement
   A. Magnifying Jesus Through Worship and the Word
      1. Through Worship
      2. Through the Word
   B. Making Jesus Known to Our Neighbors and the Nations
      1. To Our Neighbors
      2. To the Nations
   C. Moving Believers in Jesus Toward Maturity and Ministry
      3. Toward Maturity
         a. Mature in Stature
         b. Mature in Stability
         c. Mature in Speech
         d. Mature in Service
      4. Toward Ministry

Conclusion

Introduction

Be finding a passage of Scripture that is the church’s marching orders: the Great Commission, Matthew chapter 28, verses 18 to 20. I believe you probably know this by heart, but listen to it. Matthew chapter 28—I begin in just a moment in verse 18. Now we’re going to be talking to you about our mission as a church, and you have been given—or will be given real soon—a mission statement. I’m going to ask that it be put over my head. But the mission statement that you’re going to see, that you have in your hand, comes out of this mission statement given by our Commander-in-Chief: “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” (Matthew 28:18–20) Notice the alls there. Verse 18: “all power.” Verse 19: “all nations.” Verse 20: “all things.” Verse 20: “always.”

What a comprehensive statement! And what incredible authority! It comes from our Commander-in-Chief, and His word is final. It is to be undisputed. It comes from our Lord. It comes to me. It comes to you. He has authority in heaven. Angels bow before Him. He has authority on earth. We must obey Him. No angel can refuse Him. Even demons must cringe before Him. His authority is in heaven and in earth. Now, what is the responsibility of Bellevue Baptist Church? Well, it is to live up to the command and to obey the command of our dear Lord and Savior.

Now we’ve given to you a mission statement, and you see that mission statement. It is right up there: “Bellevue Baptist Church exists for the purpose of magnifying Jesus through worship and the Word, making Jesus known to our neighbors and the nations, and moving believers in Jesus toward maturity and ministry.” That’s what we’re about, folks.

I. Factors of a Mission Statement

Now, why do we have a mission statement? Well, number one, we want to be obedient to Jesus. But let me tell you some factors that the mission statement gives to us.

A. The Fellowship Factor

Number one: there’s the fellowship factor—when we are together doing the same thing. Put this verse in your margin—1 Corinthians 1:10: “Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you.” (1 Corinthians 1:10) We all need to be on the same page. We all need to be in fellowship together. And when we all speak the same thing, there is no division; and when there’s no division, there is fellowship. When you’re all rowing the boat, you don’t have time to rock the boat.

Tommy Lasorda, the great manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, said this to those who played underneath him—the team, the Dodgers. He said this: “When you play for yourself, you win trophies; but when you play for the team, you win championships.”

Now what we want to do is to be successful not as individuals, but together. As Bellevue Baptist Church, we want to be in fellowship one with another. We want to speak the same thing. And therefore we have to have the same goal. Real fellowship is not coffee and doughnuts; real fellowship is serving Jesus Christ together in a common cause. There is the fellowship factor.

B. The Focus Factor
Then here’s another reason we need this mission statement. There is the focus factor. We all need to be focused. The Bible says in James chapter 1 and verse 8, “A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.” (James 1:8) We’ve got to be focused.

When I was a little boy, my brother and I used to get together and get a magnifying glass and get out in the hot Florida sun and get that thing just right. We would be able to make wood burn. We would be able to kill insects with that thing. Just to get the rays of the sun focused.

What is a laser? A laser is what? It is focused light. A laser beam light can burn through steel when it’s focused. And just think of all of the light that God has given to all of us. But we need to get that focus. You see, there is a difference in efficiency and effectiveness. Efficiency is doing things right; effectiveness is doing the right things right. And what we want to do is to bring the energies of this church and focus them together.

Now it’s true in the natural world; it’s true in the spiritual world. John Maxwell has said that approximately ninety-five percent of us have never written out our life’s goals, but of the five percent who have, ninety-five percent have achieved them. And then he gave this incredible illustration. He said in 1953, at Yale University, according to a survey, three percent of the graduating class had specific, written goals for their lives. In 1975, they went back and surveyed, and they found out that the three percent who had written down specific goals had accomplished more than the other ninety-seven percent put together.

C. The Forcefulness Factor
Now when we as a church find out what our mission statement is, there is a fellowship factor, there is a focus factor, and then there must be, as night follows day, a forcefulness factor, because when you get fellowship and focus together, then you get force. Look around us. Look at all of us in this building today. Can you imagine what kind of influence we could have for our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ if we began to get focused to do together what we ought to do? When I look at this congregation, I feel almost like Ben Franklin felt when he looked at the lightning and he said that is incredible power, if we could harness that power. And we need to harness the power that is here in this church.
D. The Future Factor

And then there’s the future factor. You see, a church that doesn’t have goals doesn’t know where it is going. Proverbs chapter 19 and verse 2 says, “He that hasteth with his feet sinneth.” (Proverbs 19:2) What does that mean? It means if you just go off not knowing where you’re going, you’re sinning. Proverbs chapter 24, verses 3 and 4: “Through wisdom is an house builded; and by understanding it is established.” (Proverbs 24:3–4) We need to have some goals; we need to have a purpose, if we want to have a successful future.

Now many of us are just simply coming on Sunday morning, attending the church, doing our thing, but we don’t really project ourselves out into the future for the glory of God. Now the future is in God’s hands, but that doesn’t mean that we are not to plan. The Bible is not against planning. The Bible says, “What man, intending to build a tower, doesn’t sit down first and see if he has what is sufficient to build it, or if he goes to war, to see whether or not he’s going to be able to finish the battle?” (Luke 14:28–31)

Now we need to look to the future. We’ve been talking about “A Bridge to the Future.” Someone has well said, “Where there is no faith for the future, there is no power in the present.” I believe that’s a good statement. Or as that eminent, well-known theologian Yogi Berra said, “If you don’t know where you’re going, you’re liable to end up somewhere else.” Makes a lot of sense to me.

You know, we’ve got a lot of kids today—I mean, kids in this church. We have some of the most wonderful young people. But don’t you think we ought to give them a future? I mean, don’t you think we ought to put a dream in their heart and in their lives? I read something the other day that made me so righteously indignant. I started to use another word. It was a statement by a television mogul, one of the high muckety-mucks in MTV, which is nothing but pornography set to music. And this man, his name, Bob Pittman—he was one of MTV’s founders, a past chairman—here’s what he said: “The strongest appeal you can make is emotionally. If you can get their emotions going, make them forget their logic, you’ve got them.” “Get their emotions going, make them forget their logic, and then,” he said, “you’ve got them.” And then he said—listen to this, parents: “At MTV we don’t shoot for the fourteen-year-olds; we own them.” That’s MTV. That’s a pretty big boast, isn’t it?

Well, I want to tell our kids, we’ve got a goal. We’ve got a dream. We’ve got a vision. We’ve got something worthwhile, something better than that, something for your future, something that you can tie into.

II. What a Mission Statement Should Provide

Now any mission statement, whether it be this one or any other, it has to have several things. Whether it be in the secular world or the spiritual world, it’s got to be specific. But for us, it’s got to go beyond that: it’s got to be biblical. And because it is biblical, it will be possible. I’m not just talking to you about the blue sky and wild dreams and all of that.

I read something here a few weeks ago about World War II. They were having difficulty with the Nazi submarines, and so they met, and one man said, “I have an idea. What we will do is just boil the ocean. It will make all the Nazi submarines float to the surface. Then we’ll get them.” Somebody said, “All right, how do you do that?” He said, “Well, I’m just a conceptualizer: the details are up to you.” Well, we’re not talking about those kinds of plans. We’re talking about something that is specific, but biblical, and therefore altogether possible by the anointing of God the Holy Spirit.

III. Our Mission Statement
Now, let’s look at the three mission statements that we have.

A. Magnifying Jesus Through Worship and the Word
Look at number one. Bellevue Baptist Church exists for the purpose, number one, of magnifying Jesus through worship and the Word. What is the purpose of the church? It’s to magnify Jesus. Ephesians 3, verse 21, says, “Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus.” (Ephesians 3:21) We are to magnify the Lord Jesus. We are to make visible the invisible Christ. Jesus Christ is the invisible part of the Christian, and the Christian is the visible part of the invisible Christ. This church is Jesus in this community. We are to magnify Him.

Now, how will we do that?

1. Through Worship
Number one: through worship. That’s why we’ve met here on Sunday morning. That’s why this incredible choir has rehearsed. That’s why these lovely ladies sang as they did. That’s why you sang. We are here to worship. The bottom line is not evangelism. The bottom line is worship. We get people saved, so they can worship, so they can know the Lord. I’m not saying that evangelism is not important, but why do people get saved? So they can worship and praise our Lord.

Our music department is really a worship center. The worst thing that could be said about any music is not that it’s off key, but that it’s sung to the wrong audience. We’re not in the entertainment business. We’re here to worship and give God glory. And I thank God, Brother Jim Whitmire, for the music program of this church. I thank God that we have more than three thousand enrolled in music programs. I’m so grateful that we start with the little children. We’ve got more than a hundred learning to play the violin for Jesus, 101 Strings, and we have children's musicals that will be done this week here at Bellevue Baptist Church. We have the Performing Arts Center. We have a marching band that will march with banners for Jesus in local parades. We have banners and banner ministries. We have pageants like the Passion Play and the Singing Tree and “Celebrate America.” Then we meet together, and our finest music program, beyond all of these other things, is when we as a congregation stand and sing. That is music when all of us together are giving glory to God.

And let me tell you something. You on the back row; you down here; you deacon; you Sunday School teacher; you staff member, you’re sinning, in my estimation, if you sit here on Sunday morning in a worship service and don’t sing praises to God. You ought to sing. You ought to glorify Him. “Let those refuse to sing, who never knew our God.” If you can’t do anything else, as Brother Jim says, make a joyful noise. Praise is not optional.

2. Through the Word
So we’re to magnify Jesus through worship. Then, as a church, we’re to magnify Jesus through the Word, because the living Word, Jesus, glorified and honored the written Word, and the written Word glorifies and honors the living Word, the Lord Jesus Christ. And therefore Bellevue Baptist Church has been and shall be a church with the pulpit central. And Bellevue Baptist Church is known for the ministry of the Word of God, and it begins in the pulpit. But then we have Bible classes. We have Bible classes for every age group. And unless you’re providentially hindered, you need to be enrolled in a Sunday morning Bible class here at Bellevue Baptist Church. Thank God for the big worship service. That is wonderful. But you need to be in a class where they know you by name, when they miss you when you’re absent, and when you can have that one-on-one fellowship and people can pray for you and care for you.

That’s another thing we do: to worship with the Word and to honor Jesus. First of all, we’re saying, through the pulpit. Secondly, through our Sunday School or Bible classes. Thirdly, through our bookstore. The bookstore for us is not a business. Of course, it needs to be done in a businesslike way. It is a ministry to get wonderful materials in your hand, and the sermons and the Sunday School are only to whet your appetite to go down deeper.

Then we as a church provide to you special conferences and seminars like we’re going to have tonight—special classes, special groups. Soon we’re going to have a women’s seminar called “A Flourishing Faith.” There will be three to four thousand women who will come to that wonderful seminar for women, teaching them how to have faith.

We want our children to learn the Word of God. That’s why we have a Vacation Bible School. That’s why we teach our children Bible memory. That’s why we have a new members’ class, the children’s new Christians’ class that my wife teaches. And last year we graduated 160 boys and girls from this class, first through sixth grade.

Thank God our Sunday School is growing. We have a Sunday School at eight o’clock. We have one going on right now at nine thirty. We have another that will go on at eleven. And you need to be enrolled in Sunday School. If you were not in Sunday School yet today, I invite you to stay over at eleven and get in a Sunday School. And thank God, one of the fastest growing areas in Bellevue’s Sunday School is the young adults and the young married adults. And that’s the reason we’re having to build—hallelujah—a new children’s building. Thank God for that! So far you’ve given over 3,600,000 dollars to the Love Offering. Isn’t that a hallelujah? Praise God! Give God a hand on that! I tell you, thank God! That’s wonderful! That will enable us to build a children’s building. We’re not in the business of building buildings. We’re not in the business of raising money. We’re in the business of teaching boys and girls, men and women, about Jesus Christ, and all this is simply a tool.

B. Making Jesus Known to Our Neighbors and the Nations

And so that’s our first goal up there. It is to magnify Jesus through worship and the Word. That’s what we’re about. But, secondly, we are here as a church to make Jesus known to our neighbors and to the nations.

1. To Our Neighbors

We are to make Jesus known to our neighbors. That’s why we have here at Bellevue Baptist Church a program known as Making Friends Forever. God tells us that we are to be friends to those who are lost. Jesus was a friend of sinners. Don’t ever let anybody criticize you for having unsaved friends. Jesus was a friend of sinners, and we ought to be. How are we ever going to reach them for Christ if we don’t begin to show love to them? We are the salt of the earth. You don’t put the salt in one barrel and the fish in another. Now that doesn’t mean you’re to run with them in their ungodly ways. It doesn’t mean that you’re to accommodate yourself to them and let them squeeze you into their mold. But we are to be able to reach out to lost people, to make friends, to bring them to the programs of the church, to make ourselves available to them in our homes, or wherever, so that we can win them to Jesus. And I think one of the finest forms of outreach evangelism that we have in making Jesus known to our neighbors is Making Friends Forever. If you’re not familiar with that program, you need to get familiar with it.

Rick Warren has said this: “Churches grow warmer through fellowship. Churches grow deeper through discipleship. Churches grow stronger through worship. Churches grow broader through ministry. And churches grow larger through evangelism.” “Pastor Rogers, how big is big enough for Bellevue?” Well, Bellevue will be big enough when all five and a half billion people on the face of the earth are saved. And we have to keep on growing. We want every church to grow. We don’t want other churches not to grow. We want everybody to grow and reach souls for Christ.

Now another program that we have in making Jesus known to our neighbors is not only Making Friends Forever, but Evangelism Explosion. We're training soul winners to learn how to systematically, kindly, wisely, share Jesus Christ. We call that EE, and it is a system, a wonderful school of evangelism, and we have one of the finest Evangelism Explosion ministries in the world, I believe.

Now, here's a third thing we're doing. We have an evangelistic note in every service.
Now that doesn't mean that we're just turning the Sunday morning service into an evangelism rally. Not so. We try to worship and feed the saints, but at the same time we give an evangelistic appeal, an invitation, to come and receive Christ as personal Savior and Lord, and we tell people how to be saved.

Another great way that we're making Jesus Christ known to our neighbors is the productions that we do, like the Singing Christmas Tree. How many people made professions of faith in the Singing Christmas Tree this year? Twenty-three hundred-plus people checked a card this Christmas season that they prayed to receive Christ as their personal Savior and Lord during that production. Thank God for that. And then the Passion Play will come. And again we will preach and present the Lord Jesus Christ.
Then again, “Celebrate America” will come. Jim Whitmire has told us that these performances are but just a giant fishhook.

We’re not in the entertainment business; but entertainment, if it holds attention so that you can preach the gospel of Jesus Christ, is a wonderful, wonderful tool. We’re about to have one of the finest ministries we’ve ever known in making Jesus known to our neighbors. Right now we’re calling it “Bellevue Cares.” And the young man sitting on the platform right there, Brother Phil Weatherwax, is going to be heading that program.
And that is going into the inner city, going into the outer city, going to the down and out, going to the up and out, in all kinds of services, in food, in clothing, in literacy, in medicine, in trailer parks, in apartment houses, wherever we can, on street corners, through sports, or whatever, to present Jesus Christ. And many of you have abilities and talents and gifts, whether you be medical people, or doctors, or teachers, or professors, or musicians, or coaches, that you can plug in through the ministry called “Bellevue Cares.”

Making Jesus known. This city is our responsibility. And we thank God for what every other church is doing, but we need to take the responsibility if nobody else was doing it. We will do it for our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

And then we have campus ministries. I’m so grateful for the ministry to all of the high schools, junior high schools, and colleges. At the University of Memphis, the Bellevue Christian Fellowship is a recognized campus ministry. We’re going into the medical center. We’re going into the nursery school. We must always keep a heart for the lost.
And a church that prays about missions overseas and does not win the next-door neighbor to Jesus Christ is a religious farce. We’re to care for the lost.
You say, “Well, I think we’ve got enough here this morning, Pastor Rogers.” I want to ask you a question. Let’s suppose you had three or four children, and you all go on a picnic, and then the children are lost. And you go out and find two of them, or three of them, and you say, “Look, the car is already full. We’ve got enough for fellowship on the way home. We can sing some songs on the way home. The car is already full. I mean, one more would crowd us a little bit. Let’s just go.” You can’t do that.

Do you know what we do when we say we’re not going to win any more souls? We’re saying to those who are lost, “You can just go to hell. We’re satisfied.” We can’t do that. We are to be making Jesus known to our neighbors.

2. To the Nations
But, secondly, we are to be making Jesus known to the nations. That’s the reason we have a missions program here at Bellevue Baptist Church and we send people around the world. This past year our people have been from Bellevue to Brazil to build a church, to South Africa to build a church, to Israel, to Romania, where we’re helping to build a seminary, to China, where we have sweet and precious members of our church, who are even there right now as I speak. By our church mission trips we’re making Jesus known to the nations. By our church giving we’re making Jesus known to the nations. Are you ready for a hallelujah? This past year this church gave over two million dollars to missions. Thank God for that! Hallelujah for that!

Then another way that we’re doing it is by sending missionaries. I have my own dear son who is in Spain right now. We have full-time missionaries in China, in Israel, in South America, in Spain, in Mongolia. When God measures a church, He doesn’t measure a church by its seating capacity, but by its sending capacity. And we exist to lay the burden of world missions on the hearts of people. Thank God for Love Worth Finding. Those of you who are watching Love Worth Finding today, thank you for watching. But let me tell you what you’re helping to do. You’re helping to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ across America, from sea to shining sea. But let me tell you where this program is now heard: Lebanon, Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Cyprus, Saudi Arabia, Iran, Iraq, the Bahamas, Bermuda, Brazil, Columbia, Guatemala, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Trinidad, Belize, Venezuela, Canada, Costa Rica, St. Martin, South Africa, Ethiopia, Guyana, Botswana, Mozambique, Mumbai, Nigeria, Rwanda, Swaziland, Uganda. Again, Zambia, Zaire, Zimbabwe, Kenya, Malawi, Lesotho, Australia, New Zealand, the Solomon Islands, Singapore, India, Western Samoa, the Philippines, Guam, Great Britain, Northern Ireland, and other places. Hallelujah! We exist to make Jesus known to our neighbors and to the nations.

C. Moving Believers in Jesus Toward Maturity and Ministry
Now, here’s the third reason we exist: to move believers in Jesus toward maturity and ministry.

1. Toward Maturity

Now we’re to be moving you, and all of us, to maturity. Put this verse down—Ephesians 4:13 and following: “Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man,”—and the word perfect there means “mature”—“unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: that we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive; but speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ: from whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, making increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.” (Ephesians 4:13–16)

Now that’s a long statement and hard to understand. Let me break it down.

a. Mature in Stature

What he’s saying in verse 13 is we are to be mature in stature. Look at it again: “…unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.” That is, we’re to grow up and be like Jesus. As one of our deacons, Morris Mills, said the other day, “The proof of this ministry is, are you becoming more like Jesus.” The proof of the ministry is not budgets and buildings and baptisms. The proof of the ministry is, are you becoming like Jesus Christ. We are to be mature in stature like Jesus.

b. Mature in Stability

We are to be mature in stability. Verse 14 says that we are no more like children blown about by every wind of doctrine. Some false cultist knocking at your door is not going to send you stampeding some other direction. You are going to be built on the solid rock of Holy Scripture, and you are not going to become victimized by apostates and cultists.

c. Mature in Speech

And then we’re to be mature in speech. Verse 15 says that we are to be “speaking the truth in love.” Do you know what Bellevue Baptist Church is known for? Speaking the truth in love. We don’t back up from the truth. We don’t apologize for the truth. There’s no stutter, no stammer, no apology, no equivocation for preaching the truth. But we want to do it in love. Truthless love is hypocrisy; loveless truth is brutality. We are to speak the truth in love. And mature people can do that.

d. Mature in Service

Mature in stature. Mature in stability. Mature in speech. And mature in service. Look in verse 16. Let me give you a paraphrase for verse 16, because it’s the hardest one to understand here: “Each part in its own special way helps the other parts so the whole body is healthy and growing and full of love.” Verse 16 speaks of the joints. Do you know what the Greek word for joint is? It is harmos, the word that we get harmony from. You see, when people are mature, they can work together in harmony. Little children don’t know how to work together in harmony. Mature people can work together in harmony.

And so, what are we going to be doing? We are going to be moving believers in Jesus toward maturity. They’re going to be mature in stature. They’re going to be mature in stability. They’re going to be mature in speech. They’re going to be mature in service.

2. Toward Ministry
Now the problem is that on Sunday morning we have a lot of big babies who need to grow up, isn’t that true? You know it’s true. And what is our goal? It is to move members to maturity, but also to move believers to ministry. Every member of this church, every one sitting here, is to be a minister. Our responsibility, our goal, our ambition, is to help you to discover, to develop, and to deploy your spiritual gift. Therefore, our new member classes, we call them Discovery Classes. Now when people join Bellevue, we expect them to go through these Discovery Classes. There are six marks of membership that we want our people to understand, and so we teach them.

What are the marks of membership? Worship, ministry, evangelism, fellowship, stewardship, and Bible study. And that’s the way we want to help that new Christian to begin to learn these six marks of membership.

Now another way that we help to move believers to maturity is through our Neighborhood Fellowships. Did you know that all over this city we have geographical Neighborhood Fellowships that meet once a month for a shared meal, if they wish, to pray for one another and to encourage one another?

Another way that we are moving our members to maturity is through our Women’s Ministry. Bellevue’s Women’s Ministry is an incredible ministry reaching literally hundreds of women. We have one of the finest programs called MOMS to teach young mothers. Our young mothers love it. They say, “I want some help on how to be a godly and a wise mother.”

We have a Men’s Ministry called Man to Man. This past year we had over five hundred of our men go to Promise Keepers rallies. We are now beginning to have special meetings for men to teach them how to lead their families, to love their wives, and to bless their children. One of the wonderful ways that we do that is a ministry called SonSeek that gets dads with their sons and with their daughters in an outing.

We have—and thank God for this—the activities ministry. And the activities ministry is to help mature believers in service. It’s more than recreation; it is re-creation. We have hundreds of sports teams. Every sports team has an assistant coach. That assistant coach is really a chaplain, to see if that boy, that girl, that man, that woman, knows Jesus; to lead them to faith in Christ. I asked them over there in the Activities Building, and they told me that last year in the Grace Building—Giving Recreation A Christian Emphasis, G-R-A-C-E—in that building, over ninety-two thousand people came through the Grace Building. Of course, many of them were repeats; but I’m talking about people just coming in the door of that Grace Building. Thank God for that. And it’s a laboratory where we work out what we have heard in the Word in Sunday School.

And then the Prayer Ministry in this church. I am a part of it. Many of you are a part of it. We have a specific time. When I get the call from the Prayer Ministry—mine comes on Monday morning—as soon as I’m finished with my prayer time, I call up Pat Caldwell on the phone and say, “Pat, how are you this morning? I’m turning the Prayer Ministry over to you.” She says, “Thank you, Pastor. What can I pray for you about today?” What a blessing that is to my heart to know! As a matter of fact, I have while I’m preaching this moment a band of men who say, “I will pray for you today.” And then the next day there will be some other men praying for me. And the next day there will be other men praying for me. And the next day other men. Men, many of them, fasting and praying for your pastor. Thank God for that.

Then we have these special seminars like we’re having tonight, “Investing for Life.” Then we have the wonderful retreats. Just recently in our winter retreat we had 251 students over in Gatlinburg. Revival broke out. A great number of them got saved. They had services that would last for hours of confession and love and repentance. There was a line, a long line of students, standing in line to call back home to ask Mom and Dad to forgive, to call friends to make reconciliation, to call people to say, “Thank you.” Real worship broke out.

I’m grateful for all these ministries. Some places you’ve got two options: take it or leave it. I’m grateful that we have many options for people.

Conclusion

Now, what do I want you to do? I gave you a card. We gave you a card. On that card is the mission statement of Bellevue Baptist Church: “Bellevue Baptist Church exists for the purpose of magnifying Jesus through worship and the Word. Bellevue Baptist Church exists for making Jesus known to our neighbors and the nations. Bellevue Baptist Church exists for moving believers in Jesus toward maturity and ministry.”

Now, are you a part of the church? Let me tell you something, folks. One thing that kind of rankles me is for a man or a woman who is not involved to say, “I belong to the church.” You don’t belong to the church. How could you say you belong to the church? Your time doesn’t belong here. Your money doesn’t belong here. Your prayers don’t belong here. Your energy doesn’t belong here. Your influence doesn’t belong here. You don’t belong to the church. Your name is just on the roll. I’m talking not about Adrian’s church; I’m talking about Jesus’ church. If you belong to the church, these things would belong to the church, isn’t that right?

Now what I want you to do is not just simply have your name on the roll. I want you to belong to the church. You say, “Pastor Rogers, I just thought it would be easy being a member of a church.” Well, you’re wrong.

One of the greatest advertisements ever written was written by Sir Ernest Shackleton. He put it in a London paper. Here is what it said. “Men wanted for hazardous journey. Small wages. Bitter cold. Long months of complete darkness. Constant danger. Safe return doubtful.” Sir Ernest Shackleton put that in the London newspaper because he was going to explore the South Pole. What kind of response did he get? He said, “It seemed as though all the men in Great Britain were determined to accompany us.”

We’re not asking for something small, something easy, something lazy. You know, there are people who will tell you, and the secularists will tell you, that the church is on its way out. Well, I want to tell you this: Bellevue is on her way out. She has been bought out by the blood of the Lord Jesus. She has been called out of this world to a specific purpose. She has been sent out by the Great Commission. And one of these days soon we’re going to be taken out when Jesus comes again. Thank God the church is on its way out. And I’m glad to be a part of a church.

What is the state of Bellevue Baptist Church? Well, we have to ask ourselves again, what is our business? And, number two, how is business? And when I tell the state of the church, I’m going tell you, I’m on a razor’s edge. On the one hand, it would be a great sin for us to be ungrateful for what God has done; but on the other hand, it would be a great sin for us to be satisfied with where we are now.

I believe God has brought us together for something good and something wonderful, and I want you, if you can prayerfully do it, to sign your name to that mission statement. And don’t give it to me. Put it in your purse, in your billfold, and keep it, and look at it, and see if you’re a part of what God is calling us together to do.
The Church’s Marching Orders:
The Great Commission

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date:  June 23, 1985
Main Scripture Text:  Matthew 28:18–20
Main Scripture Verse:  “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.” Matthew 28:19–20

Outline

Introduction
I. His Unlimited Power
   A. What?
   B. Where?
      1. In Heaven
      2. In Earth
   C. Wherefore?
II. His Unchanging Program
   A. We Are to Make Disciples: Evangelism
      1. It Is Universal in Scope
      2. It Is Individual in Application
      3. It Is Inescapable in Responsibility
   B. We Are to Mark Disciples: Enlistment
   C. We Are to Mature Disciples: Edification
III. His Unfailing Promise
Conclusion

Introduction
I want you to take your Bibles and turn to the Gospel according to Matthew chapter 28. We begin reading in verse 18—Matthew 28 and verse 18. That’s beautiful music, also, to hear the turning of those pages, isn’t it? All right, in verse 18: “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.” (Matthew 28:18–20)

I want to speak to you today on “The Church’s Marching Orders: The Great
Peter Marshall, in his own inimitable way, described the twentieth-century church this way. He said we are “like deep sea divers”—the members of these churches—“all dressed up, encased in diving suits, capable of going down many fathoms and staying down for a long time, bravely marching forth to pull plugs out of bathtubs.” Now, dear friend, we modern Christians are doing so little with so much. That early church did so much with so little. O God, help us to believe as they believed, that we might achieve as they achieved. And the thing, I believe, is wrapped up here in what is called the Great Commission, Jesus’ marching orders to His Church. The choir sang “Onward, Christians Soldiers,” and I pray God that something of that spirit will grip your heart today as we bring this message.

Now this is so important, because these words that the Lord Jesus gave are recorded in one form or another in all four Gospels. These are His last words, therefore, such important words. And they are words for you and me. I want you to pay attention, because they can dramatically change your life and change your eternity.

I. His Unlimited Power

Now the very first thing I want you to notice concerning Jesus and His Great Commission is I want you to notice His unlimited power—His unlimited power. Look, if you will, in verse 18: “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth”—“all power.”

A. What?

Now that word power literally means “authority,” and some Bibles translate it that way: “All [authority] is given unto me.” Now, you see, when a person has authority, that means he’s in charge. Who has the authority? The boss. When Jesus Christ is saying, “All [authority] is given unto me,” He was saying, “I am Lord.”

Now, we need to understand that the basis of all missionary enterprise is to understand the lordship of Jesus Christ. Without qualification, without equivocation, without stutter, without stammer, we must say, “Jesus Christ is Lord.” God the Father has declared it. Angels have announced it. The resurrection of Jesus has authenticated it. And we must crown Him Lord of all. And, dear friend, you’re not ready to do anything, to know, or to be anything, until you bow your head and say it and mean it: “Jesus Christ is Lord.” No refusal: He is Lord! No rebuttal: He is Lord! No rival: He is Lord! That is the what: all authority.

B. Where?

The where: in heaven and in earth. He is Lord. “All [lordship]”—“all [authority]”—“is given unto me in heaven and in earth.”
1. In Heaven

When He says, “in heaven,” He’s not merely speaking of the place where we’ll go one day when we die, but He is using a phrase here that Paul speaks of in Ephesians that he calls “the heavenlies,” “the heavenly places.” In the spirit realm, He is Lord. In that spirit realm, there are angels, and He’s the Lord of those angels. In that spirit world, there are demons, and He is Lord over those demons. And don’t you forget it. The Apostle Paul says in Ephesians 6:12, “For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers…against spiritual wickedness in [heavenly] places.” (Ephesians 6:12) But I want you to know there He is Lord—undisputed Lord. And angels must serve Him, and demons tremble at the name of Jesus, because Jesus Christ is Lord.

2. In Earth

Now, my dear friend, the what is His authority. The where: in heaven and also on earth. I mean, dear friend, He is Lord over this world. This is His world. It was made by Him. It is controlled by Him. It, one day, is coming back to Him. And one day every knee on earth shall bow and confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father. And if He is Lord, and He’s Lord on earth, then it means He’s your Lord. And what He is saying here, my dear friend, is for you to listen to and to obey. God is speaking to you, and your sovereign King is speaking to you. This is not a suggestion. This is not a request. It is a word from your sovereign King. He is Lord over His servants here on earth; and to refuse to obey Him is not merely to miss a blessing, it is to make you guilty of high treason against heaven’s King. He is Lord. Jesus Christ said, “Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?” (Luke 6:46)

C. Wherefore?

Now, listen, friend. The what: He is Lord. The where: heaven and earth. The wherefore—listen: If He is Lord—and He is—in heaven and earth—and He is—what does that mean? It means, ladies and gentlemen, there is no place that He does not belong, and there is no power He cannot break, and there’s no person He cannot use. He’s Lord. He’s Lord over the demons of hell. Somebody says, “Well, I’m not afraid of the devil.” That’s not the big question. The big question is, is the devil afraid of you? I mean, as you’re armed in the might and the power of the Lord Jesus Christ, who is with you, that’s the basis of all missionary enterprise: that Jesus Christ is undisputed Lord. “All [authority has been] given unto me in heaven and in earth.” He’s not Lord over Western religion. He’s not the white man’s Savior. Over every nationality, every race, every clime, the Lord Jesus Christ unfurls the banner of His undisputed lordship. “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth.” His unlimited power—that’s the first thing I want you to see.

II. His Unchanging Program

The second thing I want you to see is His unchanging program. Now, what is His unchanging program? Notice in verse 19: “Go ye therefore…”—now, the “therefore” refers back to His lordship, the fact that He is Lord: “because I am Lord”—“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” That is, “As sovereign Lord, I have commanded you.” Now, what is His unchanging purpose? The same as it was for Peter, James, and John so long ago, it is for us today, and it will be for those who follow us if our Lord tarries. He has no other plan. This is His unchanging purpose. This is His plan for humanity.

A. We Are to Make Disciples: Evangelism

Now this sentence has a main verb. The main verb is right here in verse 19: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations.” Now the word teach means literally “disciple” all nations. That’s the main verb. There are three participles that hinge on that main verb, and we’ll get to them in a moment. But I want you to notice the main verb in this clause. It is to “teach all nations.” Now the word literally means to “make disciples of all nations.”

Some of you have translations that give it this way: “Go and disciple all nations.” Now, notice he says make disciples. He doesn’t say make decisions.

Do you know the problem with twentieth-century Christianity? We have put an emphasis upon decision-making rather than disciple-making. So many times we’ll have, for example, an evangelistic crusade, and they’ll say, “Oh, we had so many decisions. Praise God!” Well, if you really want to see whether it was a success or not, come back a year later and find out how many disciples you have. You see, decisions are one thing; discipleship is another thing. Now I’m not against decisions, because every disciple begins with a decision. But, my dear friend, there are some who are making decisions who do not go on to become followers of the Lord Jesus Christ. A disciple is a follower of his master. That’s what the word discipleship means.

George Gallup of the Gallup Poll organization took a Gallup poll on the religion of people in America today. He found out something very interesting: Never before have we had more religious interest. More people are going to churches. More people are reading religious books and magazines. More gospel on the radio. More gospel on television. More people saying, “I am born again” than ever before. You say, “Wonderful!” Wait a minute—wait a minute. He also said that never before in history, so far as he could tell, has what people say that they believe so not affected their lives.
There’s no change in a lifestyle. They say that they believe; they say that they are apart; but, basically, their lifestyle is not changing. What an indictment to our churches! It is a fulfillment of the prophecy of the last time that men will “have a form of godliness, but they will deny the power thereof.” (2 Timothy 3:5) It is this matter of making decisions without making disciples. Our job is to make men followers of Jesus Christ. No man has a right to call himself a Christian who is not a disciple of Jesus, who is not a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Now, that is the main verb. We are to go and make disciples, because He is Lord. And then, there are three participles. The very first of these participles is going. Notice in verse 19: “Go ye therefore.” (Matthew 28:19) It literally says “going” or “having gone,” “therefore…” It is a participle. And that’s certainly a very important thing. We are to go. What this refers to is what we call evangelizing, evangelism, soul winning, bringing people to Jesus Christ, the making of disciples. We’re to go and make them.

1. It Is Universal in Scope

Now, every one of us is to do this. Look at it very clearly and very plainly, if you will. Verse 19 says, “Go ye.” You see that? That means it is plural. He’s not just speaking to one or two people; He’s speaking to a group. Bible scholars believe that this was most likely the time when He had those five hundred that Paul spoke about—above five hundred—in 1 Corinthians chapter 15. (1 Corinthians 15:6) That is, what He is saying, dear friend, is universal in scope. He’s speaking to every one of us. He didn’t just get the twelve. He didn’t just get the prophets, the preachers, the evangelists, the ministers of music. He’s speaking to you—He’s speaking to you. He’s speaking to you, folks. He’s speaking to every one of us. He’s speaking to those back then. He’s speaking to us. He’s speaking to those who will follow. My dear friend, this command is universal in scope.

2. It Is Individual in Application

But wait a minute. It is individual in application. We cannot go all the same way, nor should we. We cannot all be missionaries overseas, nor should we. We cannot all be pastors, nor should we. We cannot all be ministers of music, nor should we. We cannot all be door-to-door evangelists, nor should we, because God is the God of infinite variety, and God has given to every one of us individual spiritual gifts. God has given to every one of us individual opportunities. And God has a plan for everyone’s life. And God has placed every one of us in a sphere of activity with certain opportunities. And God has gifted us in different ways.

Now I may not go as you go. You may not be able to do what I do. But I want to tell you, dear friend, that while it is universal in scope, it is individual in application. Each one of us, in our own particular way, is to go, whatever it is that our Father tells us to do—and He will tell every one of us.

3. It Is Inescapable in Responsibility

The third thing—listen: universal in scope—go; individual in application—go; inescapable in responsibility—go. Inescapable. If you do not go, I want to tell you again, you’re not merely missing a blessing; you have a clenched fist of rebellion in the face of God. Inescapable. Let me tell you what is true about you if you’re not endeavoring to make disciples. If you’re not endeavoring to bring people to Jesus Christ, number one, you are guilty of disobeying your King; number two, your disobedience proves that you do not love Him, for Jesus said, “If a man love me, he will keep my words” (John 14:23)—isn’t that what He said?—number three, you’re guilty of not following Him, because, my dear friend, He said, “Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.” (Matthew 4:19) Isn’t that what He said?

Now, if you’re not fishing, you’re not following. “Follow me, and I will make you [to become] fishers of men.” If you’re not doing this, dear friend, you’re guilty of not abiding in Jesus, for Jesus said, “If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you,” (John 15:7) that you will “bring forth fruit, and…your fruit [shall] remain.” (John 15:16) I am saying there is an inescapable—inescapable—responsibility that is here. We are to go. As we go to the grocery store, as we go to school, as we go to work, as we go overseas—wherever it is—we are to take the good news that Jesus Christ is Lord. And, by the way, folks, He’s the only hope of this world. Remember that.

B. We Are to Mark Disciples: Enlistment

Now, listen—listen. There are three participles. We’re to make disciples. How are we to make disciples? Number one: We are to go: going. Number two: baptizing. Not only are we to make them; we’re to mark them. Baptizing here refers to putting them into a New Testament church. You see, when a person gets saved, when they become a disciple of the Lord Jesus Christ, then, the Bible says they are baptized by the Spirit of God into the Body of Christ: “For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body.” (1 Corinthians 12:13) Water baptism is the outward expression of that inward reality, and it is the authentic profession of faith in a New Testament church.

Now, when I preach, I’ll give an invitation for people to come forward and declare their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and that is a very wonderful thing. But I want to tell you something, folks. In the Bible, the real, true profession of faith in Christ is baptism. That’s the way a person professed his faith in Christ. That’s the way a person said, “I am not ashamed of the Lord Jesus Christ.” Baptism is so very vital and so very important. Every now and then, I hear people say, “Oh, well, baptism, that’s not all that important—if you’re baptized, or how you’re baptized.” My dear friend, Jesus Christ only had a public ministry of three years. He commenced that ministry by Himself being baptized—not that He was a sinner, not that He needed to be saved, not that He needed to show that He had been saved; but it was His way of identifying Himself with us to show that He would become the sin bearer; and that’s why He was baptized—to identify Himself with sinful humanity. We are baptized also to identify ourselves with our saving Lord, you see, and that’s why baptism is so important. He commenced His ministry by being baptized. He concluded His ministry by commanding baptism.

Baptism is not incidental. It is not accidental. It is fundamental. Jesus Christ, in all of the things that He could have said in these brief words, put baptism there. Do not minimize what God has so maximized. Baptism is that one sign, one symbol, which preaches the gospel over and over again. When you are baptized, you are buried with Him by baptism. It pictures the death of the Lord Jesus Christ. When you come out of that water, it pictures your resurrection with the Lord Jesus Christ. That baptism becomes a liquid tomb, and it preaches the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. And how the devil would love to steal that out of our churches!

“Well,” you say, “baptism is not necessary to salvation.” My dear friend, I want to tell you something. Baptism is necessary to obedience, and obedience is necessary to joy and fruitfulness in the Christian life. I’m going to tell you something else. I have sincere doubts about the salvation of anyone who says, “I know what He wants me to do, but I’m not going to do it.” Jesus said, “Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?” (Luke 6:46) I’m not saying that you’re saved by works, but I’m telling you, my dear friend, you’re saved by faith that works. And James says, “Faith without works is dead.” (James 2:20; James 2:26) And one of the commands is that we are baptized. Why? Because that places us into that body of Christ, that fellowship. It is the outward symbol of that inward reality.

Now I’m not saying if you’ve not been baptized you can’t go to heaven, because the minute a person believes in Christ that person is saved. But one of the proofs that that person has really believed in Christ is that he is willing to obey the Lord Jesus Christ.

C. We Are to Mature Disciples: Edification

Now, look. Not only are we to make them, and mark them, but we are to mature them. Go on and look. The first is going. The second is baptizing. And the third is “teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” Do you see it there in verse 20? That’s the third thing: We are to mature them. We’re to grow them up. We are to “[teach] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.”

Now, look at it very carefully. It does not say, “Teach them all things that I have commanded you.” It says, “[Teach] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” Do you see the difference? Do you know one of the problems in the average church is that we’re teaching but we’re not teaching people to observe? The words “teach them to observe” literally means “teach them to do; teach them to obey.” That’s what it means to observe. When you observe a law, that means you keep that law. When you observe a commandment, you keep that commandment. Do you know what is wrong with so many people? They are learning, but they’re not living the gospel. They say they believe the gospel, but they’re not behaving the gospel. They want to know why Jesus Christ is not real to them. Dear friend, Jesus Christ will never become real to you by learning.

As a matter of fact, people come and they listen to me preach, and take notes. And I’m glad that you take notes. I think you ought to take notes. If you went to a college class, you’d take notes. I think you ought to take notes. But pay attention. If you get your head full of facts, and you do not put those facts into action, not only will those facts not help you, but they will be used against you. Jesus said that servant that knew his master’s will, and did things worthy of strife, shall be beaten with many stripes. (Luke 12:47) The knowledge that you have that you do not live by will be used as Exhibit A against you at the Judgment Seat of Christ—that little notebook that you’ve got so full of facts. Friend, it would be better for you not to know the way of truth than, after you’ve known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto you. (2 Peter 2:21) What I’m trying to say is Jesus did not say that we are to teach them, but we are to teach them to observe.

Do you know why Jesus Christ is not real to many people? They are not obeying God’s Word. The Bible says, “If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.” (John 13:17) James says, “Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.” (James 1:22) Let me tell you how Jesus Christ can become real to you. Begin to obey Him, and He will be real to you. Jesus said in the Gospel of John, “He that has my commandments and keeps them, he’s the one who loves me: and the one who loves me will be loved of my Father, and I will manifested myself to him.” (John 14:21) Do you want Jesus to be real to you? Begin to obey Him, and He’ll make Himself real to you.

Now, listen. If you don’t hear anything else I’m going to say, I want you to hear this this morning: You will never know God by studying the Bible. It sounds almost blasphemous, doesn’t it? You will never know God by studying the Bible. You will know about God by studying the Bible. You will know God by obeying the Bible—when you begin to obey. “Teach them to observe these things, to obey these things.” And when you do that, this book will become a bright, living reality in your lives. And Christ will manifest Himself to you, and you will become His disciple indeed.

Now, what am I saying? Listen. Our job, our duty, our mandate is to make disciples. How? Make them, mark them, mature them—evangelism, enlistment, edification. That’s God’s plan. And, you know, folks, when we start obeying the directions, then we’re going to see things come together.

Howard Hendricks is coming to speak to us in our men’s conference. If you’ve never heard Howard Hendricks, he’s one of the most gifted, articulate, scintillating, entertaining, and pungent speakers you’ll ever hear. I heard Howard give this testimony of how Christ enlisted him. There was a man in Philadelphia, a great, big, tall, lanky drink of water. He only had a sixth-grade education. He went to the Sunday School superintendent and said, “I’d like to have a class, please.” The superintendent said, “We don’t have a class for you. If you want a class, go out and get one.” So he went out, this man, on the streets of Philadelphia, and began to walk up and down the playgrounds where boys were. He came to a little sixth grader named Howie Hendricks. He said, “Son, how would you like to go to Sunday School?” Hendricks said anything that had “school” in it reminded him of leprosy. He said, “I don’t want to go.” “Well,” he said, “what are you doing?” He said, “I’m playing marbles.” And that big, old, tall man got down there and shot marbles with that sixth grader—beat him in every game. Hendricks said, “I lost my marbles early.” And then he said, “Son, how about coming to Sunday School?” Howard Hendricks said, “I would have followed that man anywhere after he got down and played marbles with me like that.”

That man went on and walked through the streets of Philadelphia until he got thirteen boys in a Sunday School class. He taught those thirteen boys. Howard Hendricks said, “I don’t remember really anything that he said, but,” he said, “I remembered how he loved us, how he cared for us.” He said, “He used to come over and help me with my arithmetic, and he’d only gone to sixth grade.” He said, “We’d work on a problem.” Howie said, “I’d say, ‘Walt, I don’t think that’s the answer.’ Walt said, ‘I don’t either.’” They couldn’t figure it out together, but he loved Howard Hendricks. Howard said, of that class of thirteen boys that that man got by walking through the streets of Philadelphia—you listen to this—out of that class, eleven of them are in fulltime Christian service for the Lord Jesus: two of them are seminary professors—Walt could never even have graduated from a seminary, much less been a professor—six of them are missionaries serving Jesus Christ on the foreign field, and the rest of them are Bible-believing pastors—because a man with a sixth-grade education and a love for boys decided he’d put this scripture into practice and make some disciples, and stayed with some boys and loved them.

Some of you are Sunday School teachers, and you’re asked, “What are you doing?”
“Oh, I’m just a Sunday School teacher.” My soul, what an opportunity! What a privilege! And when we get serious about this matter, dear friend, of making disciples, number one, go out and win them to Jesus; number two, get them in a church, baptize them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost; number three, teach them not just facts, but teach them to observe.

III. His Unfailing Promise

Now, finally, and very quickly, look. First of all, there is His unlimited power. Secondly, there is His unchanging program. Thirdly, there is, my dear friend, His unfailing promise. What is His promise? Notice in verse 20, the last part—and He says, “And, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” Listen, friend. Do you want Jesus Christ to be with you? Do you want Him, as I said, to manifest Himself to you? I’m going to come back on what I said before. Do you want to know His presence in a real way?

Now, there’s a sense in which He is with us always—period—because He said, “I’ll never leave you, nor forsake you.” (Hebrews 13:5) But all of us know that there are times when we meet together in worship when He’s here with us in a very special way, right? Sure. “Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.” (Matthew 18:20) And we all also know something else: that when we get alone behind closed doors with Him in prayer, He seems to be even closer. Isn’t that true? I’ll tell you, sometimes in prayer it just seems like you can just reach out and touch Him—not always, but sometimes. But I want to tell you something, friend. And those of you who know what I’m talking about I think will say amen. Jesus Christ is never more real to me than when I am sharing Him with someone else. Isn’t that true? I never sense His presence more—His power more—than when I am preaching, or when I am individually, one-on-one sharing Jesus Christ; when I have obeyed Him; when I am endeavoring to make disciples. At that time, I know that He is with me.

Conclusion

How blessed we are, dear friend! Think of the alls in this passage of Scripture: “all power,” “all nations,” “all things I have commanded you,” “always I will be with you”! Hallelujah! Listen, friend. On one side of this command is the promise of His power; on the other side of this command is the promise of His presence. Do you want Christ to be real to you? Do you want to see Christianity become real in your life, in your church, in your home? Read the marching orders. The motto of the French Foreign Legion is this: “If I falter, push me on. If I stumble, pick me up. If I retreat, shoot me”—“shoot me.” Oh, my dear friend, we dare not retreat.

Someone asked Mr. Armour of the Armour meatpacking business, “Mr. Armour, what do you do? What is your business?” Do you know what he said? He said, “My business is bringing men and women, boys and girls, to Jesus Christ. I pack meat to make a living; but my business is bringing men and women, boys and girls, to Jesus Christ.” And I don’t care who you are—that, ladies and gentlemen, is your business.
The Last Words of Jesus

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 8, 1987
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20

Outline

Introduction
I. Our Lord’s Unlimited Power
   A. Authority in Heaven
   B. Authority on Earth
II. Our Lord’s Unhindered People
   A. This Command Is Universal in Its Scope
   B. This Command Is Individual in Application
   C. This Command Is Inevitable in Responsibility
III. Our Lord’s Unchanging Program
   A. We Are to Make Disciples
   B. We Are to Mark Disciples
   C. We Are to Mature Disciples
   D. We Are to Be Makers of Disciple Makers
IV. Our Lord’s Unfailing Promise

Introduction

Would you turn, please, to Matthew chapter 28? And, in a few moments, we’re going to read the last three verses in that wonderful chapter. But, let me ask you a question before we read those verses. I want you to use your imagination. I want you to imagine the deathbed of your father, or your mother, or your wife or husband, or perhaps somebody else that you love and respect more than any body else on the face of this earth. And, I want you to imagine now that they have about three or four minutes left on this earth, and you see their lips move. You notice that there is a look of deep concern on their face. You realize that they want to tell you something. Would you listen? Would you bend an ear? Would you want to hear the last word of your loved one—the person that you love, respect, and admire so much? Would you heed these words? Beyond a doubt, you would.

Now, listen to these words that I’m going to share with you, and they are the last words of Jesus before He went to Heaven. I want you to listen to these words—Matthew chapter 28 and verses 18–20: “And Jesus came and spake unto them saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world. Amen” (Matthew 28:18–20). Now, these are Jesus’s last words before He ascended into Heaven. They have been called “the Great Commission.” But, I’m sad to tell you that for many of us, they are not the Great Commission. We have failed to do what our Lord told us to do. And, as I’ve said before, to fail to obey Him is not merely to neglect a blessing; it is the sin of high treason against Heaven’s King.

And, I want to continue the thought that I had this morning: that every Christian is to be a missionary. And, I want us to look here at the marching orders of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and basically, I pray that you’ll see the same four things here that I see. And, I pray that God will enable me to lay them on your hearts.

I. Our Lord’s Unlimited Power

The very first thing that I want you to see—if you would be a missionary, if you would be a soul winner, if you would be a soldier of the cross—the very first thing that I want you to see is our Lord’s unlimited power. Notice His unlimited power—look in verse 18: “All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth” (Matthew 28:18). Now, the word power literally means “all authority.” Some translations give it that way—perhaps yours does. What Jesus is saying is, “I have all authority. I am Lord—L-O-R-D.” Now, God the Father has declared Him to be Lord. Angels have announced Him to be Lord. It is high time that His people crowned Him as Lord. “All [authority] is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18). That means that His word is final. There can be no refusal; there can be no rebuttal. Whatever Jesus said is it. “All [authority] is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18). Now, where is this authority given?

A. Authority in Heaven

Well, first of all, notice what he says: “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven” (Matthew 28:18). Now, that really means “the heavenlies.” What do we mean by “the heavenlies”—the sphere of the heavenlies? There is an unseen world, an invisible world—a world of angels and a world of demons. And, Jesus is Lord over that world. When Jesus said, “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven” (Matthew 28:18), it means that angels must serve Him. It also means that no demon can stand before Him. Jesus has authority over all of the demonic forces of Hell. Now, Jesus has authority in the heavenlies.

B. Authority on Earth

But, not only does Jesus have authority over angels and demons, but the Lord Jesus Christ also has authority on earth. Jesus has authority over all of the world. When Jesus, therefore, says to us on earth, “Go,” we must go. You see, He says, “I have this authority on earth” (Matthew 28:18)—“go ye therefore” (Matthew 28:19). Now, we’re in danger of making Christianity a Western religion. Even greater than that, we may be in danger of trying to make Christianity the white man’s religion. But, I want to tell you that Christianity is not a Western religion, and it’s not the white man’s religion. Jesus has authority over all of the world. It is every creature that must hear the gospel. And, the gospel of Jesus Christ must conquer all barriers of language, culture, nationality, color, and rank. All of this world is the subject of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Jesus has unlimited power.

II. Our Lord’s Unhindered People

Now, the second thing that I want you to notice is not only His unlimited power, but also, it follows as night follows day that there must be also His unhindered people. Notice, He says in verse 18: “All power is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18). Then, He says in verse 19: “Go ye therefore” (Matthew 28:19). Now, what does He mean? He means that because He has this authority and because He has this power—because He has power over angels, because He has power over demons, because He is Lord in Heaven and on earth—that God’s people, therefore, are absolutely unhindered in their missionary enterprise. What it really means is that there is no place He does not belong; there is no power He cannot break, and, therefore, there is no person He cannot heal—there is no place He does not belong; there is no power He cannot break, and, therefore, there is no person He cannot use. Think: He says, “All power is given unto me… Go ye therefore” (Matthew 28:18–19).

A. This Command Is Universal in Its Scope

Now, this command to go is universal in its scope. It was probably spoken to those 500 brethren that saw Him at one time after His resurrection. The context tells us that Jesus, just before He was taken up—the Bible tells us in 1 Corinthians chapter 15—that He was seen by 500 people at one time (1 Corinthians 15:6). Now, what does that mean when it says, “Go ye” (Matthew 28:19)? It is plural. It means that this is a message not for a select few; it means that it is a message for every mother’s child in this auditorium. As I said this morning, to say, “Christian” is to say, “missionary.” To say, “missionary” is to say, “Christian.”

B. This Command Is Individual in Application

It is universal in scope, but wait a minute—it is individual in application. We all don’t go to the same place. We all don’t go the same way. But, we are all to go. The question is not “if”—it is only “how.” God wants every person in this auditorium to be His witness. No one is exempt. You cannot hire somebody to do it for you. And, if you do not obey your Lord, then you will face Him one day at the Judgment Seat of Christ. It is universal in scope, but it is individual in application. I believe, however, that God is calling many of the youth of Bellevue Baptist Church—perhaps, some of this hundred going on this mission tour up to New York—to go into what we call “full-time missionary service.” Some of you need to go out under a mission board—our Southern Baptist mission board or another mission board—to serve the Lord Jesus Christ across the ocean, or in some remote place where others have not gone, or where others have gone and more help is needed.

If we saw people trying to carry a log, and there were ten people on one end of the log and one person on the other end of the log, then what would be the logical conclusion? That some people on one end of the log ought to go to the other end of the log and help those people. Here in America, we have too many people on one end of the log. I believe that simple reasoning would tell us that God wants us to share the ability, to share the love, to share the prayer, and to share the resources with a world that needs to know about the Lord Jesus. I’m telling you, dear friend, that God’s unhindered people must hear this message.

C. This Command Is Inevitable in Responsibility

It is universal in scope, individual in application, but listen to me now: it is inevitable in responsibility. If you refuse to hear the last words of our Lord—if you refuse what our Lord is commanding—then I’m going to tell you what it says about you. It says four basic things about you.

Number one: It says that you are a disobedient Christian, and that disobedience will be punished.

Number two: It says that you do not love the Lord Jesus, for Jesus said: “If a man love me, [he'll] keep my [word]” (John 14:23). And, I don’t care how much you sing in a church about your love for Jesus—if you disobey the Great Commission, then you are singing a lie. Jesus said: “If a man love me, he will keep my words” (John 14:23).

Also, dear friend, if you are not willing to obey, then you are guilty of not following Christ. You may call yourself a follower of Jesus, but you have no right to call yourself a follower of Jesus, because Jesus said, “Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men” (Mark 1:17).

I’ll tell you, fourthly, that if you are not doing it, you’re not abiding in Christ. You can talk about the deeper life, your Bible study, your quiet time, and everything else, but it is all just haughty talk, for Jesus said, “I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing” (John 15:5). That’s what Jesus said.

And, I’m telling you, dear friend, that God’s people are to be unhindered. Jesus said that there is no power in Heaven or in earth that can stand against Him; therefore, we are to go. Dear friend, it is universal in scope. It is individual in application. It is inescapable in responsibility.

III. Our Lord’s Unchanging Program

Now for the third thing I want you to notice. First of all, I talked about His unlimited power. Secondly, I’ve talked about His unhindered people. There is nothing, nothing, nothing that can stand between us and the Great Commission—except for our disobedience. Thirdly, I want you to see God’s unchanging program. His program has not changed throughout the years. It is very simple. Many of you have heard the Great Commission preached many times. Many of you say, “Oh, no, here comes his sermon on the Great Commission; I’ve heard it before.” Well, it’s high time that we hear what we’ve heard. It’s high time that we listen to what we’ve been listening to. And, it’s high time that we got it out of theory and into practice. What is His program? It is very plain; it is very simple.

A. We Are to Make Disciples

Number one: We are to disciple all nations. Notice in verse 19: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations” (Matthew 28:19). The word teach literally means “to disciple all nations.” That means that whoever they are and wherever they are, we are to get the gospel of Jesus Christ to them. We are to make disciples. That brings up a question: Are people without Jesus Christ lost? Is not their religion just as good our religion? Are we not meddling with people if we endeavor to go and make disciples of them? My dear friend, I want to tell you that any body on Planet Earth who does not know Jesus Christ as His personal Savior—any person of an age of accountability who dies without Christ—is going to die and go to Hell—any body. It bothers me to think about it. But, people without Christ are lost—I don’t care who they are; I don’t care what religion they have. The Bible says, “He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life” (1 John 5:12). Jesus said, “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (John 14:6). In Acts chapter 4 and verse 12: “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12). People are saved by Jesus, or they are not saved at all. There is no other way for people to be saved. If Jesus Christ is not the only way to Heaven, then Jesus Christ is none of the ways to Heaven.
If Jesus Christ is not the only way to Heaven, then He is a fake, a fraud, a liar, and an imposter, for He Himself said that He is the only way to Heaven. So many people keep asking this question: “Oh, are the heathens lost if they don’t hear?” I’d like to turn it around and say, “Are we saved if we don’t tell the love of the Lord Jesus Christ?”

B. We Are to Mark Disciples

Now, step number one: We are to make disciples. But, not only are we to make disciples; we are also to mark disciples. Notice again: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost” (Matthew 28:19). We are to baptize them; we are to mark them as disciples in the Lord Jesus. I preached this morning about how Philip baptized that Ethiopian eunuch. Never ever de-emphasize baptism. We have some people today who think that it is wonderful to get people saved, but they don’t think that it is necessary to baptize them. I want to tell you, dear friend, that Jesus commanded it in His dying words. Never minimize what Jesus maximizes. Never de-emphasize what Jesus emphasizes.

How did Jesus begin His ministry? How did Jesus inaugurate His public ministry? By being baptized. That’s how He began His public ministry. How did Jesus conclude His public ministry? By commanding baptism. Now, dear friend, what our Lord has so emphasized, we dare not de-emphasize. Baptism is a glorious picture of the death, burial, and resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. When Jesus was baptized, He was not baptized because He’d been saved. He was not baptized because He’d been a sinner and needed to be cleansed from His sins. Of course not—Jesus knew no sin. Why was Jesus baptized? When Jesus was baptized, He was identifying Himself with us. Jesus was saying, “This pictures what I’m going to do. I’m going to die. I’m going to be buried. I’m going to be raised again.” For baptism pictures the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. And, Jesus was identifying Himself with us and prophesying His death, His burial, and His resurrection. When we are baptized, we are identifying ourselves with Jesus. We are saying, “Yes, Jesus did die for me. And, when He died for me, I died with Him. When He was buried for me, I was buried with Him. When He rose for me, I rose with Him.” And, that baptism is a picture of the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

There are those people who tell us, “Well, it doesn’t make any difference if you are baptized,” or, “It doesn’t make any difference how you are baptized.” Well, then tell me, dear friend, why did Jesus command it? And, why did Jesus say, “Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven” (Matthew 5:19)? I thank God for the emphasis that this church places on baptism, because it is a Biblical emphasis.

And, if there is an ordinance that the devil would love to have obliterated, or disfigured, or maimed, or minimized, then it would be baptism. Why, every time when a person is baptized, they are preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ. That is why it is so important over and over and over again to symbolize the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus, because, my friend, that is the gospel. He was buried, and He was raised again on the third day. You cannot—you cannot—symbolize that with sprinkling. The Bible never teaches sprinkling for babies. I’m not talking about Old Testament ceremonies; I’m talking about Christian baptism. It is never by sprinkling; it is always by immersion. The very word baptism means “dip,” and all Christians were originally baptized that way. If you go over to the old world and see the cathedrals that were built before the 13th Century, ladies and gentlemen, they had baptisms just like a Baptist church. This matter of sprinkling people did not come out of the Bible; it came out of tradition, where people took the Word of God and warped and twisted it.

You say, “Well, what difference does it make, Pastor?” Well, I want to ask you a question: What difference does the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ make? It makes the difference of eternal life. I’m not saying that you have to be baptized in order to be saved, but I’m saying it symbolizes your salvation. And, that is the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. And, it must always stay in the focal point. It must always stay there in a place of emphasis, because our Lord has commanded it.
Jesus says we are to make disciples. And then, Jesus says we are to mark disciples.
We are to baptize them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. And, if you lead somebody to faith in Jesus Christ, not only should you lead them to faith in Christ, but you ought to lead them down the aisle of this church—or some other church—and get them to present themselves as a candidate for believer’s baptism. It’s a part of the Great Commission.

C. We Are to Mature Disciples
But, not only are we to make them, and not only are we to mark them, but we are also to mature them. Notice what He says: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you” (Matthew 28:19–20). It’s not enough that we dip them and drop them; we must teach them. That’s the reason why we have Sunday School here at Bellevue Baptist Church. That’s why we have neighborhood fellowships at Bellevue Baptist Church. That’s why we have Christian literature in the bookstore at Bellevue Baptist Church. That’s the reason why we keep preaching the Bible—that is to mature people in the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, we have an evangelism today that stops short of the Great Commission. People go out in crusades, and they just win people to Jesus. And then, they come back, and they say, “Look how many we won to Jesus!” Well, dear friend, in New Testament evangelism, they did not count decisions; they counted disciples. If you want to find out whether you’ve done any good, then come back.

D. We Are to Be Makers of Disciple Makers

Now for the fourth and final thing I want you to see. I’ve talked about His unlimited power: “All [authority] is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18). Come back a year later and find out how many disciples you have. You see, listen, Jesus said, “Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always” (Matthew 28:20). You see, listen, we’re not just to be makers of disciples, really; we’re to be makers of disciple makers.

Now, this is the way that the cycle is complete. I win somebody to Jesus. I get that person baptized. And then, I begin to teach them. What do I teach them? I teach him what Jesus commanded me—that is, to win somebody to Jesus, to get him baptized, and to get him to teach somebody else. And, the circle just keeps on going. We are to be makers of disciple makers. We don’t just get people saved, and that’s it. We get them enlisted in the church. It’s evangelism, enlistment, and edification. We make them, we mark them, and we mature them in the Lord Jesus Christ. Some of you who are Sunday School teachers—what a privilege you have to be a Sunday School teacher, to mature those who you’ve led to the Lord Jesus Christ. Sometimes I just have a yearning in my heart. I wish that I could just take a Sunday School class and get myself a group—a small group of people who I could work with, that I could just mature, and that I could disciple. What a thrill that would be! You Sunday school teachers—what a glorious privilege you have!

I remember hearing the great Howard Hendricks. Many of you know Howie Hendricks—one of the most effective Bible teachers, I believe, in America today. He told of how he was a little boy from a home where the home was broken, and he had several heartaches. There was a man—I believe that he said his name was Walt. He was sort of a big fellow—sort of an Ichabod Crane type of fellow. As I remember the story, this man didn’t even go but through the sixth grade. But, he went to the Sunday School superintendent and said, “Would you give me a class?” They said, “We don’t have a class for you, Walt, but there’s a room. You go get your own class.” And, Howie Hendricks said how he was up there in Philadelphia, and this big old gangly man named Walt came up. Howie said how he was shooting marbles, and Walt got down there in the dust and began to shoot marbles with them. He invited him to Sunday School. And,
Howie said, “If there was anything that had ‘school’ in it, then I didn’t want to go. But, this man was so kind and so loving that he got me in Sunday School.” He enlisted 13 boys. Howie Hendricks said, “I cannot tell you one thing that he said, but I can tell you this much: he loved me.” He said, “Of those 13 boys, 11 of them are in full-time service for the Lord Jesus Christ. Two of them are seminary professors, six of them are full-time missionaries, and three of them are pastors.” A man who had just been through the sixth grade—and they gave him a room. They just said, “Go out and build a class.” He went out loving boys and telling boys about Jesus.

Now, you can do that, dear friend—you can do that. You don’t have to go across the sea to be a missionary. But, dear friend, you can make disciples. You can make them, you can mark them, and you can mature them in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

IV. Our Lord’s Unfailing Promise

Now for the fourth and final thing I want you to see. I’ve talked about His unlimited power: “All [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth” (Matthew 28:18). I’ve talked about His unhindered people, because He has given that authority to us. He said, “as my Father hath sent me, even so I send you” (John 20:21). I’ve talked about His unchanging program—that is, we are to disciple all nations; we are to baptize all believers, and we are to teach all His commandments. Now, the final thing that I want you to see is His unfailing promise. Here’s His unfailing promise: He says that we are to teach them “to observe all things whatsoever [as I’ve] commanded you”—then, He says—“and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Matthew 28:20).

Now, you think about this great commandment that our Lord has given us. It is preceded by the promise of His power, and it is followed by the promise of His presence. His power goes before us, and His presence goes with us. His authority is behind us; Christ is within us. The task is before us. Why shouldn’t we go? Why should we be timid when Jesus has promised to go with us? But, I want you to notice that the “go” and the “go” go together. He says, “You go, and lo, I am with you” (Matthew 28:19–20).

Conclusion

I have found that Jesus Christ is never more real to me, never more dear to me, and never more near to me than when I am preaching or doing personal soul winning. I feel His presence and His power in a remarkable way every time that I’m out sharing Jesus Christ—it just seems like my faith is stronger than ever before. I’m so sure of what I’m saying because I am doing what He has commanded me to do. And then, He begins to pour His power and His life through me. Is Jesus Christ not real to you? Well, He’ll never be real to you as long as you are a benchwarmer, as long as you are a sermon-taker, and as long as you are a note-taker. When you get serious about the business of sharing Jesus Christ with other people, you are going to find out that Jesus Christ is going to be real to you. What a promise—what an unfailing promise! Have you ever noticed the “alls” in this passage of Scripture? Jesus says, “All authority.” Jesus says, “All nations.” Jesus speaks of “all” His commandments. And, Jesus speaks of “all” the days: “Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Matthew 28:20).

Many of us are familiar with the Armour Meat Packing organization. It was founded by a man who was a great, great Christian and soul winner. Somebody asked Mr. Armour, “What is your business?” He said, “My chief business is to lead men to Jesus Christ. I pack meat on the side to make a living.” That’s what every deacon in this church ought to say. That’s what every mother in this church ought to say. That’s what every teenager ought to say. Regardless of your business—whether you work in a service station or attend school—whatever you do, your chief business ought to be to bring people to Jesus Christ.

I want every head bowed.
There’s No Omission in the Great Commission

By Adrian Rogers

Sermon Date: March 19, 1995
Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:18–20

Outline

Introduction
I. We Are to Employ All Power
   A. The Description of the Power
   B. The Domain of the Power
   C. The Dispersal of the Power
      1. Power to Enlighten
      2. Power to Energize
      3. Power to Encourage
   D. The Demand of the Power
II. We Are to Evangelize All Nations
III. We Are to Edify All Believers
IV. We Are to Endure All Ages
Conclusion

Introduction

Matthew chapter 28. In a moment, I’m going to begin reading in verse 18.

Some years ago, I heard about a man who died, and someone asked his little boy, “What were your dad’s last words?” And, he said, “Well, Daddy didn’t have any last words.” He said, “Mama was with him right up to the end.”

Last words are important. And, if somebody just before they step over into glory is giving some last words, we ought to pay attention. We ought to pay double attention if these are the last words of our Lord before He ascends to Heaven. Listen to His last words before He ascended to Heaven: “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Matthew 28:18–20).

Now, I want you to take your Bible, and if you don’t mind marking in it, I want you to mark it as I have marked mine. I want you to look in verse 18 and mark all—“all power.”
Just put a circle around the word all. Then, go down to verse 19 and put a circle around the word all, which says, “all nations.” And then, go down to verse 20 and put a circle around all where it says, “all things.” And then, the last part of verse 20, a circle around the word always. Four alls there: “all power”—do you see it?—“all nations,” “all things,” and “always.” The title of our study this morning is this: “There Is No Omission in the Great Commission”—“There Is No Omission in the Great Commission.” This is an all-inclusive statement. Our Lord here is giving the marching orders for His Church. These are His last words, and He has left the marching order, the mandate, to me, to you, and it includes four alls.

I. We Are to Employ All Power

Now, first of all, I want you to see that you and I, as we go out to fulfill the Great Commission, we are to employ all power. Look again in verse 18: “All power is given unto me” (Matthew 28:18). Now, without this power the command to evangelize the world is indeed a mission impossible. And yet, with this power, it is a mission, not only possible, but probable and likely, because our Lord has given us every sufficiency that we need.

Now, if you think about those to whom He was speaking, now you think about it. He had a little handful of unlettered disciples fishermen and ordinary people—no college, no prestige, no money, no machinery—and He tells them, “I want you to evangelize all nations, the entire world.” It’s just a little handful. And, they’re to go out against the iron legions of Rome. They’re to go out against the sophistication and the intellectualism of Greece. They are to go out against the stiff-necked bigotry of Israel, and they are to be His witnesses to all the world.

I mean, how do you think they felt when He sent them out to do this? Well, without this power I think they would have felt like those cows who were out in a field one day grazing, and they looked up and a milk truck went past, and on the side of that milk truck it advertised the dairy, and then it told about the milk. It said, “Pasteurized, homogenized, fortified, vitamin-enriched milk from contented cows.” And, one cow said to the other, “It makes you feel inadequate, doesn’t it?”

I mean, when you think about what we are supposed to do. And, we are inadequate. But, our deficiency with His sufficiency is all that we need. And, that’s what Kay DeWitt sang about: little is much when God is in it. Our Lord says, “All power is given unto me.” And so, they went. And, the Book of Acts is a success story. It’s the story of the Church triumphant. I just love to read the Book of Acts. Those early Christians had something that swords couldn’t kill, that water couldn’t drown, fire couldn’t burn, jails could not hold. There was no power that seemed to be able to stand against them, because the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ was with them. “All power is given unto me.”

Now, I want you to notice four things about that power.

A. The Description of the Power

First of all, I want you to notice the description of it. Now, when our Lord uses the word power here, He doesn’t use the word dunamis; He uses the word exousia. You say, “What’s the difference?” Well, dunamis speaks of power that means, “might and force,” but the word that He uses here means, “authority.” And, what He literally is saying is, “All authority is given unto Me.” That is, He is absolute sovereign Lord. God has declared Him Lord. Angels have announced Him Lord. We must crown Him Lord. He says, “All authority is given unto Me.” And, where? “In heaven and in earth.” We’re going to talk about that, but our Lord has sovereign authority. Now, His word is final. What we’re talking about here is not a suggestion. We’re talking about a command from our sovereign Lord who has all authority to make it. That’s the description of this power.

B. The Domain of the Power

I want you to look at the domain of this power. Look at it. Look at it again in verse 18: “All power is given unto me in heaven.” Do you see that—verse 18? “All authority, all power, is given unto Me in Heaven.” Now, this literally means, “in the heavenlies.” What does that mean? That means, “in the spirit realm.” You know, the Apostle Paul said, in Ephesians chapter 6 and verse 12, “For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, and powers, and spiritual wickedness in high places” (Ephesians 6:12)—literally, “in heavenly places.” That’s literally what it says. There is a cosmic battle. There’s an unseen war going on. There are spirit beings. And, what our Lord says is this: “In that realm, in the unseen realm in Heaven, I have all authority.” And, angels must bow before Him, and no demon can stand against Him.

Do you believe that? I hope you believe that, because that, friend, is the basis, the undergirding thing for the missionary enterprise to understand: that our Lord has authority in the heavenlies. Angels serve Him. Demons quake before the Lord Jesus Christ. He has authority in Heaven and on Earth. What does that mean? It means that He has the right to say to every one of us, “Go to these people who live here on this earth.” He is Lord, and it means that His domain reaches to the darkest corner of the earth. The whole earth is to come under His sway. He is Lord over this earth. Christianity is not the Western religion, and, God help us, not the white man’s religion. It transcends culture, creed, race, face, place, time. He is Lord in Heaven, and He is Lord in Earth. He is sovereign Lord.
C. The Dispersal of the Power

Now, the description of it: it means authority. The domain of it: in Heaven and in Earth. I want you to think of the dispersal of this power. When did this power come upon the Church? He told them to go, but not to go until they had been endued with power from on high. In Acts chapter 1 and verse 8—and you might want to put it in the margin of your Bible—Jesus said, “Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8). It is foolish and wicked to try to evangelize without this power. And, you will not have this power until the Holy Ghost is come. Luke chapter 24, verse 49: “And, behold, I sent the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high” (Luke 24:49). Now, He did not take this fledging church and send them out to win the world until the Holy Spirit had come on the Day of Pentecost. He said, “You go to Jerusalem, and you wait, and you tarry until you be endued with power from on high.” And, on the Day of Pentecost, the Holy Spirit of God came and baptized that infant church with power, with the authority—the exousia and the dunamis—of Almighty God.

And, when did this happen? Well, after our Lord ascended. Jesus went up. The Holy Spirit came down. The disciples went out. And, the lost came in. That is the New Testament pattern: the dispersal of that power.

Now, today, you and I don’t have to pray for the Holy Spirit to come. He came on the Day of Pentecost in great power. What we today are to do is to be filled with the Holy Spirit of God. And so, we must be filled with the Spirit of God in order to witness. That power has been given.

1. Power to Enlighten

It is power to enlighten your mind. You want to be a soul winner across the street or around the world? You need to know where to go. You need to know what to do. You need to know what to say. The Spirit of God will guide you.

2. Power to Energize

Power to enlighten. Power to energize. You need energy. You see, I can preach the gospel, but He, the Holy Spirit of God, must impart the gospel. I need more than mere words when I preach. And, it is the Holy Spirit of God that gives that unction and that gives that power, not only to enlighten, but to energize. I read somewhere where a London scientist said there is enough power in a cube of sugar to destroy all London. That’s atomic power in a cube of sugar. But, it’s got to be released. I think of the power in this congregation. Just look around. Look at yourselves! The power is resident, inherent, but that power must be released in us.

You get these toys at Christmas, they say, “Batteries included.” Without the batteries they just don’t work. You have to go down to Walgreens to get the batteries, because many times they don’t come with batteries. But, friend, what good is any program that Bellevue has without the anointing, the power, of the Holy Spirit? There can be a program that’s very fine, just like a toy or an appliance, very fine, but it just won’t work without power.

3. Power to Encourage

Power to enlighten. Power to energize. And, power to encourage. These early Christians faced persecution, but they received power.

D. The Demand of the Power

Now, I’ve talked to you about the description of the power, the domain of the power, the dispersal of the power. What is the demand of this when our Lord says, “All authority is given unto me”? Well, He probably said this to the 500 who were gathered there after His ascension. But, what He says to all, He says to each. And, our Lord has the right to stand right before you, sir—just you—and tell you to do it. I mean, this is a demand upon you. And, to fail to obey is high treason against Heaven’s King. I don’t care who you are. I don’t care how much money you may give. I don’t care how faithfully you attend. I don’t care how circumspectly you walk. I don’t care how eloquently you may teach. If you’re not in the Great Commission business of bringing souls to Jesus Christ, you, sir, you ma’am, are not right with God, amen? It’s a good place for an amen or an oh me. If you are not a part of this world missions enterprise, you are not right with God.

They were taking an offering for missions, and one man said, “Well, I don’t believe in missions.” The usher said, “Well, take some out then. It’s for the heathen.”

Now, let me tell you something. If this doesn’t interest you, you’re in rebellion against our Lord. He says, “All authority is given unto me. Go ye therefore.” “All power.” There’s no omission in the Great Commission.

II. We Are to Evangelize All Nations

Now, not only are we to employ all power, but we are to evangelize all nations. Now, look at it again, if you will. Look, if you will, in verse 19: “Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost” (Matthew 28:19). Look at the word teach in verse 19: “teach all nations.” It literally means, “disciple all nations.” It literally means, “to make disciples of all nations.” It literally means, “to win them to Jesus Christ.” The word teach is the main verb. It is followed by three participles here. But, the main verb is to disciple all nations. That is, to bring people to Jesus Christ.

All people without Christ are lost. I hope you believe that. If they don’t know the Lord Jesus Christ, I don’t care what their religion may be. You can call me bigoted if you want to, but Jesus Christ is the only way to Heaven. He is the only way that a man can be right with God. “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12). That’s Acts 4, verse 12. And, Jesus Christ Himself said, in John 14:6, “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.” We are to evangelize all nations. Nobody is to be left out. Nobody is to be overlooked. They are lost without the Lord Jesus Christ.

Now, you might want to get in an argument with me, and you say, “Pastor, you’re going to tell me that man who’s never heard of Jesus is going to die and go to Hell forever if he doesn’t get saved?” That’s just what I said, and that is true! You say, “Well, I don’t believe it.” Well, that’s your problem. But, our Lord says there’s one way to Heaven, and it is through Him. And, we are to take the gospel to every creature.

Let me tell you something. The great question is not, “Are they lost if they don’t hear?” The great question is, “Are we saved if we don’t tell?” You think about it. I mean, how can we say that we believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, that He is our Lord and Savior, and we do not obey Him? Jesus said, “Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say?” (Luke 6:46). You say, “Well, Pastor Rogers, I am not a very good talker.” You don’t have to be a good talker. Little is much when God is in it.

A preacher friend of mine said that his hobby is bass fishing. He said he was back in the back of one of these big department stores, like Target or K-Mart or something like that, and he met a man back there. He didn’t even know the man, never seen him before. They were just back there in the fishing tackle place, and he just said to this man, “What’s a good bass lure?” Well, he said that the man came alive. He began to talk to him about bass lures. He began to talk to him about rods and reels and lines and bass and fishing places. And, he kept talking to him, and he talked and talked and talked. And, he said, “I got my stuff, and that man followed me out of the store all the way to my car, and he was talking about bass and fishing and lures.” He said, “All I did, I just asked him what’s a good bass lure?” Now, it was obvious that man was full of bass fishing. And, what’s down in the well comes up in the bucket, isn’t that right?—what a man is full of.

You say, “Well, I have difficulty talking about Jesus.” You know why? Because you’ve got nothing in the well. You let Jesus Christ be a bright, burning reality to you—I mean, you get saved and full of the Holy Ghost—you’ll have to backslide to keep from witnessing. I’m telling you the truth, friends. If you don’t witness, it’s because you must not know the Lord of glory. We are to evangelize all nations. You say, “You mean I'm to go across the ocean?” Why don’t you just go across the street? That’s the theme: “Across the Street and Around the World.” He’s going to call some to go around the world, but He calls every one of us to witness to those that we are around.

III. We Are to Edify All Believers

Now, here’s the third thing I want you to see. We are to employ all power. We are to evangelize all nations. And, we are to edify all believers. Look in verse 20: “Teaching them...”—who? The believers, the ones that we’ve won to Christ—“teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you” (Matthew 28:20).

Now, we don’t just win a person to Christ and then forget him. We’re not finished yet. We’re to teach what Jesus commands, and we’re to begin with baptism. Look at it: “baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost” (Matthew 28:19). You say, “Well, I don’t think the baptismal part is very important.” Oh, you don’t? Well, why do you think Jesus put it in there? I mean, who are you? Are you going to take the Word of God and just toss certain things out? You know, I hear people say, “Well, I just want to be a soul winner. I just don’t want to talk to them about getting baptized and getting into the church.” You don’t? Are you smarter than the Lord Jesus, who said, “I will build my church” (Matthew 16:18)? Jesus began His public ministry by being baptized. He commenced by being baptized Himself. He concluded it by commanding us to baptize others. Now, He only had a ministry of three years, approximately, and He commenced and concluded that ministry with an emphasis upon baptism.

Why is baptism so important? Does baptism save us? Absolutely not! It is faith in the Lord Jesus Christ that saves. Water, whether a spoonful or a tankful, can’t take away sin. Why then are we baptized? Because He says, “baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.” Our Lord has commanded it.

Baptism is the way that you declare that you belong to Jesus Christ; you’re not ashamed of Jesus Christ. I wear a wedding ring. That’s my one piece of jewelry right there. That’s the only piece of jewelry I have right there: that little ring. Do you know why I wear that? I wear that to let people know I belong to that girl sitting up there in that choir. I love her with all of my heart. I’m not ashamed of her. I am glad to be known as the husband of Joyce. I am not ashamed of her. I am quite proud of her—in the good sense of the word pride—and I love her with all of my heart. And, when you get baptized, it is your way of saying, “I am not ashamed of Jesus Christ. I want everybody to know that I belong to Him.”
And, baptism is by immersion. That’s the only kind of baptism there that is taught: water baptism in the New Testament. Why is it by immersion? Because it pictures the gospel of Christ. When you go under the water, the Bible says we are buried with Him by baptism. When you come up out of the water, the Bible says we are raised to walk in newness of life (Romans 6:4). That baptistry is a watery grave. It pictures the death, burial, and resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. That’s what it pictures. And, every time a believer gets baptized, he says, “I believe that Jesus died. I believe He rose again. And, I believe when I got saved I died with Him. And, when I come up out of that water, it pictures that I have a brand new life.” That’s what it pictures. That’s a funeral. The only mourner there is the devil. He hated to see you die.

Now, the water baptism is only a symbol of what saves you. The water on your skin can’t take away the sin out of your heart. This ring doesn’t make me married; it shows I’m married. It’s a declaration. And, that’s why you ought to be baptized as a believer in the Lord Jesus Christ, because He says, once we make them, we’re to mark them. Once we make disciples, they are to be baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

You say, “Well, why does it have to be by immersion? I just think I’d just like to baptize by sprinkling.” Well, just find where sprinkling is ever taught in the Bible for baptism. When Jesus was baptized, He and the John the Baptist went down into the water. Jesus was baptized by John into Jordan. When the Ethiopian eunuch was baptized, the Bible says they went down into the water, and he came up out of the water. The very word baptize—baptizein—means, “to immerse”—“to immerse, to place under.”

Well, you say, “Yeah, but now, Pastor Rogers, don’t quibble”—“don’t quibble. I mean, let’s just put a little water on the head and call it baptism. Any old picture will do.” Oh? Well, suppose you’d never met Joyce. You say, “Pastor, do you have a picture of your wife?” Yeah, I sure do. “Well, let me see it.” And, I bring out a picture of a fire hydrant, or a racehorse, or a motorboat, or Niagara Falls. And, you say, “Is that Joyce?” I say, “Well, any old picture will do.”

Now, let me tell you something, friend. If baptism doesn’t picture the death, burial, and the resurrection of Jesus Christ, what’s the sense of it? What’s the sense of it? It pictures salvation. It pictures the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Don’t change what God has put down there in the Word of God. And, if you’re not a baptized believer of the Lord Jesus Christ, you ought to get down this aisle, or some aisle some Sunday real soon, and say, “I want to make an appointment for my baptism. I have given my heart to Jesus Christ, and I want people to know that I am obeying Him.” You’re not being baptized in order to be saved, but because you have been saved you are to obey Him.
Listen. Listen to me, friend. We are to employ all power. We are to evangelize all nations. We are to edify all believers; teach them to observe all things whatsoever He has commanded us. What did He command us to do? He commanded us to go into all the world. Every time we get somebody saved we ought to say, “Now you’re a part of the Great Commission army. You are a baptized believer of the New Testament Church. And, now it is your responsibility to help us to reach everybody else.” You see, we’re not simply makers of disciples; we’re makers of disciple-makers. We are to teach.

That’s what making friends is all about. Any of you remember, “Making Friends Forever,” that program we have here in our church? We’re saying, not just get somebody saved, but get them saved, get them down the aisle, get them baptized, get them in a Sunday School class, and teach them to be a soul winner, to hear the call of God upon their life. Teach them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. What did He command us to do? He commanded us to go into all the world.

Every time we get somebody saved we ought to say, “Now you’re a part of the Great Commission army. You are a baptized believer of the New Testament Church. And, now it is your responsibility to help us to reach everybody else.” You see, we’re not simply makers of disciples; we’re makers of disciple-makers. We are to teach.

IV. We Are to Endure All Ages

Now, listen to me. And, we are to endure all the ages. Look, if you will, at the last part of verse 20: “Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you:”—now, watch this. Oh, this is sweet—“and, lo...”—that means, “pay attention”—“lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Matthew 28:20). Now, that’s what the King James says, “the end of the world,” but that word world there may be translated “ages.” That is, “I’m with you through all of the ages.” These 2,000 years, the Lord Jesus Christ is still with us.

Now, notice this Great Commission. It is preceded by the promise of His power. It is followed by the promise of His presence. See, over here He says, “All power is given unto me. You go.” Then, He says over here, “And, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” We have His power behind us; we have His Spirit within us; we have the task before us; and the Savior beside us. Hallelujah! Hallelujah! That’s what it’s all about. He says, “You go, and I am with you.”

You say, “Jesus is not real to me, pastor.” Are you a part of the Great Commission? Are you a witness? Are you a soul winner? Jesus will never be more real and near and dear to you than when you begin to obey Him. He says, “You go, and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the age.” He’s not going to just wind you up and forget you. In safety, He’s with you. In danger, He’s with you. In success, He is with you. In failure, He is with you. You’re not going to win everybody. A successful witness is sharing Jesus Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit, and leaving the results with God.
But, talking about results, I want to spend the last few moments of this message just helping you to get excited; and I’m so excited I can hardly keep it in, to tell you what is happening in our world today. According to those who are studying this, missiologists—listen to me—we in this day, in this age, right now are experiencing a greater harvest of souls, far greater than any that the apostles ever witnessed. Around the world this very moment there are massive victories taking place in the name of Jesus Christ. And, many Christians who sit in our churches on Sunday morning are unaware of it. Did you know that Christianity is growing three times faster than the world’s population? Did you know that? Did you know that there are massive victories? Did you know that every day 178,000 Christians come into the kingdom, make a profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ?

Twenty-eight thousand of these are in China, Red China. Twenty thousand a day are coming to Christ in Africa. Thirty-five thousand a day are coming to the Lord Jesus in Latin America. Christianity is the world’s fastest growing religion with a growth rate of 6.9. You compare that to the Muslim growth rate of 2.7, 2.2 for Hindus, and 1.7 for Buddhists. Listen to me. From the time of Christ when He gave this Great Commission up to the present time, more than 70 percent of that world evangelization has taken place since the year 1900. And 70 percent of that 70 percent has taken place since World War II. And, 70 percent of that 70 percent has taken place in the last 36 months. I’m telling you there is an explosion of people coming to the Lord Jesus Christ.

In 1900, Korea had few born-again Christians. Korea was looked upon as one of those lands that it is impossible to penetrate with the gospel of Jesus Christ. By 1986, about the first time I went over to Korea, the Korean population was 20 percent Christian. Today, it is conservatively estimated that in Korea 40 percent of those in South Korea are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ with more than 12.5 million believers.

Mongolia. We used to think of Mongolia as a place that could not be reached with the gospel of Jesus Christ. We have a young missionary out of this church right now, Stan Kirk, in Mongolia, and there’s a revival among the Mongolians coming to Christ.

In 1950, missiologists could surface about one million believers in what we call today Red China—1950. The Bamboo Curtain went up. Communism came in. Everybody said, “What’s going to happen to the church?” Remember, in 1950, there were one million. By 1980, they estimate more than 40 million. By 1992, more than 72 million. And, the Communists themselves are saying that by the year 2,000 there may be more than 100 million believers in China.

In India there are more than 85 million believers. There are 200 teams that are traveling across India today with a film called, “The Jesus Film.” The title of the film in India is, “The Man of Peace.” They’re showing that film, and they are reporting 100,000 decisions for Christ every month in India, people coming to Jesus Christ.

Jerry Rankin, who is the president of the International Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, has reported—our convention began in 1845, and we’ve been planting churches overseas—in the last six years the number of churches overseas has doubled; I mean, in the last six years—from 1845 up to six years ago, and then from six years to this time, that number of churches has doubled.

Dr. Rankin has estimated that there were 42,000 professions of faith among the Maasai tribe in Kenya. I’ve been to Kenya. I’ve been out there in those mud huts. I’ve been through those fields to see those tall beautiful people, the Maasai with their spears and their beads. Forty-two thousand of them have come to Christ. We have out of our church a young missionary, Bruce Schmidt and his wonderful wife there, Martha. They’ve been ministering among the Maasai. They’re saying now it looks like the entire tribe is going to come to Jesus Christ and be a Christian tribe.

God is on the march! Our International Mission Board reported this year, for the first time in the history of our convention, we had more than 300,000 baptisms overseas. I’m talking about Southern Baptist missionaries. And, Jerry Rankin said of those 300,000, that represents probably one million who’ve made a profession of faith in Christ who have not yet been baptized.

I picked up an article the other day. I was reading a religion report. I read about how an entire village in Russia came to the Lord Jesus Christ. A church from America sent 14,000 dollars over there to help the Russians in one of these areas of Russia, and a little village there. Two Southern Baptist missionaries, Larry Lindsey and Normal Little, went to these people in this little village and preached Christ, and asked, “How many of you would like to be a Christian? We’re going to invite you to come forward.” There were about 80 people in the village. All 80 of them came forward. They said, “You don’t understand. We’re talking about giving your hearts to Christ, being saved. Go back. We want to tell you one more time.” They told them again. They all came forward again. They said, “We want the Lord Jesus Christ.”

I was speaking to Dr. Bill Bright, one of the great Christian leaders in our world. He and I were on the phone this past week. He said, “Adrian, I’m so excited.” He said, “I’ve just gotten a report that in Modesto, California, in the last six months, 30,000 have been saved”—right here in the United States of America. Last week, my wife and I sat and watched Billy Graham preach the gospel around the world. I think many of you saw that thing. I mean, where more people are hearing the gospel at one time than any time in history: March 16 and 18, from San Juan, carried by satellite to 165 countries in 50 to 75 languages being interpreted at the same time, and millions are being swept into the kingdom. Jesus said, “Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age.”

We had the Romanians here last week, and Dr. Paul Negrut telling about what is happening there in Romania where once-communist dictator brutalized, that man Ceausescu brutalized, the Romanians. But now, there’s a thriving work in Romania. And, I have preached there in the Second Baptist Church of Oradea, the largest Baptist church in all Europe. It is growing by leaps and bounds.

Conclusion

Now, our Lord knew what He was about when He gave the Great Commission to the Church. And, our Lord says there’s no omission in the Great Commission. All power, all nations, all commandments, always: “And, lo, I am with you.” What a mighty God we serve!
The Possibility of Revival

By Adrian Rogers

Date Preached: February 7, 1993

Main Scripture Text: Matthew 28:19–20

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.”

Matthew 28:19

Outline

Introduction

I. God Has Not Changed

II. Men Have Not Changed

III. Our Resources Have Not Changed

Conclusion

Introduction

Folks, I want you to take your Bible and turn to a very familiar passage of Scripture: Matthew chapter 28. And, when you’ve found it, just look up here. I want to speak to you tonight on something that is on my heart, and I trust tonight that the message, as we prepare our hearts for the Lord’s Supper, will be one of encouragement. I think God’s people need encouragement, and I don’t know anything that can encourage more than the possibility—yes, the probability—of God doing a mighty, miraculous work in these last days in our world. I want to talk to you tonight about revival and the possibility of it—“The Possibility of Revival.”

Now, when we speak about revival, many people don’t even know what we’re talking about. Many of our young people have not even the faintest idea of what we mean when we say “revival.” They’ve never seen one. Few of them have ever heard of one. They may think a revival is an eight-day meeting in a church somewhere with a sign up front: “Revival Meeting.” That, my friend, may be getting ready for a revival, asking God for revival, but it takes more than nailing a sign up to have revival. Many people do not know what revival is, and many people who do know, when we speak of revival in these last days, merely give a sympathetic smile. They think that the gospel is wonderful for those who have it. But, very frankly, we have many Christians today who are living with a defeatist attitude. And, our favorite song is “Hold the Fort.” We are somehow in our sanctuary saying, “We want to last out and hold out until Jesus Christ gets here.” We’ve lost the spirit of militancy; we’ve lost the spirit of expectancy, and we really do not expect God in these last days to do anything wonderful and supernatural.

But, in the scripture that I asked you to read, Matthew chapter 28, the Lord Jesus says at the end of that chapter, verses 19 and 20—He tells us to go and make disciples, and then He says this: “and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” (Matthew 28:20) Now, that doesn’t mean “to the furthest reaches of the world”; it literally means, “I am with you to the very end of the age.” Do you have it? He’s not talking about geography here; He’s talking about chronology, and He is saying, “I am with you to the end of the age.”

Now, if any generation needed revival, ours does. I have never seen such an explosion of sin as I’ve seen in the last several years. It seems as though the floodgates of iniquity and debauchery, lasciviousness and vileness, have just broken loose. It seems today that the public whipping boy is the Bible-believing Christian. It seems today that if you were to say anything about anybody’s race, or anybody’s sexual origin or sexual desires, or anything like that, that you’d be drawn and quartered. This particular woman, this owner of the professional baseball team—what’s her name? Schott—is that her name? I think so. She gave some ethnic slurs, some racial slurs, so all the owners of the baseball teams, they rose up and said, “You know, that’s bad for business. That’s not politically correct speech.” Now, if you think that I am holding out for racial slurs, you’re very wrong. I don’t think that’s right; I think that’s wrong. But, have you ever noticed that you can blaspheme God and nobody seems to care? You can take God’s name in vain—you can take the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and drag it through the muck and the slime of the sewer—and that’s fine.

You see, today can you blaspheme God and get away with it. You just can’t blaspheme man. You can’t say anything bad about man. You can say anything you want about God. What we have done is to humanize God and to deify man. And, we’ve come to a generation where there is no fear of God. The vileness, the filth, on television is unbelievable, and it’s very hard to find anything decent and worthwhile to watch as you turn on the television. Most of it is vile, and that which is not vile is banal and vapid and not worth watching. We have a generation today that is feeding on garbage.

And then, on top of that, we look at the churches today: the coldness of our hearts, our indifference—it’s indescribable. The world has a thing called the Super Bowl, and many churches just call off services on Sunday night because they say, “Well, you know, everybody’s going to be watching the game so we just won’t have services”—the people who believe that football is more important than Jesus; more excitement over a television program or a sports event than the destiny of souls. And, I wonder, as a pastor, I wonder if oceans of blood, and rivers of tears, and seas of sweat will be the price that a holy God will require of this sin-soaked nation. I wonder that. Yet, I believe with all of my heart and soul that revival is possible, and I personally believe it is probable. And, I want to tell you why, and I want to encourage.

Now, you may say that we’re living in the last days. And so, therefore, in the last days, you may get a “last days mentality,” which is a defensive mentality, a lack of expectancy, just simply trying to hold out until Jesus Christ gets here. But, in the scripture that I gave you, our Lord told us to go and make disciples, and then He gave us a great promise. He said, “Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the [age].” (Matthew 28:20) And, in Acts the second chapter, the Bible says this: “In the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh.” (Acts 2:17) So, let me tell you why revival is possible—and, I believe, probable—in these last days.

I. God Has Not Changed
Number one: God is still sufficient to send revival. Now, times have changed, but God has not changed. God is not old. God is not sick. God is not tired. God is still mighty to save, and God’s grace is still sufficient. Now, we look at sin, and sin seems to be everywhere: in politics, in education, in entertainment, in the church. And, we say, “Because there’s such sin we cannot have revival.” My verse for you is Romans chapter 5 and verse 20. Listen to it: “Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound.” (Romans 5:20) Amen? Listen. “Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound.” (Romans 5:20) It is an insult to God Almighty to say we cannot have revival. God has not changed.

II. Men Have Not Changed
You say, “Yes, God has not changed, but men have changed. Men have gotten more wicked.” I beg to differ. Men are not more wicked today than they’ve ever been. Wickedness is more spread out today than it has ever been, and men have more to be wicked with than they’ve ever had. But, when you get right down to it, Adam was totally depraved, and you can’t get worse than that. God has never really had anything but sinners to work with. And, I have made a study of the history of revival, and I have found out that God—the great mighty God whose grace is greater than our sin—has moved in the midst of great wickedness in times past. We think perhaps we’re the only generation to know dark days. We think perhaps we’re the only generation to live in the midst of such filth as we live in, but there have been other dark days.

For example, Elijah was a prophet of God. He lived in dark days. Elijah did not like the politics of his day. You may not like the politics of this day. But, let me tell you who was king when Elijah was a prophet of God. His name was Ahab. And, let me tell you who his first lady was. Her name was Jezebel. And, here’s what the Bible says about Ahab and Jezebel in 1 Kings chapter 21 and verse 25: “There was none like unto Ahab, which did sell himself to work wickedness in the sight of the LORD, whom Jezebel his “wife stirred up” (1 Kings 21:25)—none like Ahab. Here was a man who was the very paragon of evil. And yet, God called Elijah “the prophet.” Here was a man of God who knew the power of God, and Elijah the prophet said, “We’re going to have a contest to see which god is the true God”—“and the God that answereth by fire, let him be God.” (1 Kings 18:24)

Now, there were 450 prophets of Baal. The prophets of God were hiding in a cave. There was a man of God named Obadiah who was feeding the prophets of God. He was on Ahab’s payroll. He was a servant of the wicked king, but he loved God in his heart. And so, on the side he was taking care of the prophets of God, feeding them in the cave. And, he was out there foraging around, looking for grass to feed the cattle. That was his job—to try to find enough to feed the cattle. There was a drought in the land because God had sent judgment upon the land. And, Obadiah was out there looking for grass when he ought to have been praying for rain, like so many of us just trying to make do until our Lord comes back. And, Elijah, the man of God, proposed a contest. He said, “I’m going to let the prophets of Baal put an offering on an altar, a young bull, and I’m going to put a bull on an altar; and then, we’re going to pray to God. And, the god that answers by fire, let him be God.” And then, Elijah the prophet commanded that twelve barrels full of water be poured upon his sacrifice. The Bible says that the water ran down over the sacrifice and over the stones, over the wood that was under the sacrifice, and over the stone, and then filled up a trench that was round about the sacrifice.

The priests of Baal prayed. They went through their incantations. They cut themselves with stones and sharp knives. They cried out to Baal and said, “O Baal!” Baal was the false god of fertility. “O Baal, hear us!” But, that god could not answer. Then, Elijah prayed, “O Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Jacob, let it be known this day that thou art God in Israel, that I am thy servant, that I’ve done all these things according to thy word.” Then, the Bible says that the fire of the Lord fell and consumed the sacrifice and the wood and the stones and licked up the water that was in the trench. (1 Kings 18:25–38)

Now, some would have said God could not do that because the wood was so wet. But, you see, a god that can’t burn wet wood is no good. That’s what Elijah is saying. What Elijah was going to prove is that whatever happened that day was not spontaneous combustion. Don’t try to tell me that everything has to be just right in order for God to work. The test that day was not fame, not figures, not finances, but fire. “The God that [answers] by fire…” (1 Kings 18:40) And, that was in the midst of unmitigated wickedness. God answered by fire, and it began a mighty revival. And, the people fell on their faces, and they said, “The LORD, he is…God. the LORD, he is…God.” (1 Kings 18:39) And, that’s what I desire today. But friend, those people who are like the people of Elijah’s day who were on the fence, Elijah said, “If God be God, serve Him; if Baal be god, serve him”—“and the people answered…not a word.” (1 Kings 18:21) And, they never did answer a word until they saw something they could not explain apart from the power of God.

And, the blank-faced heathen out here, and the humanists and the unbelievers, they’re watching; they’re looking. They’re looking at churches like Bellevue. They’re looking at people like me and you and others, and they’re saying, “Where is their God?
Where is the power of God? Where is the fire of God?” If God did it on Mount Carmel,
God can do it today.

Another revival in history was the revival at Nineveh. Nineveh was a city of about 650,000 people, not quite as big as our metropolitan area, according to historians. It was a city that was filled with debauchery. It was a city that was filled with licentiousness. It was a city filled with idolatry. They worshipped a god, the fish god.
They were living in such wickedness, such cruelty, that God had said He was going to destroy Nineveh, He was going to blot them out, He was going to wipe them out. But, a preacher named Jonah, when God finally got him right, went and preached to Nineveh.
And, that entire city, according to the Word of God, repented in sackcloth and ashes, and God sent a mighty, judgment-stopping, soul-saving, God-glorifying revival to a pagan city.

Now, question: If God could do that for Nineveh, can God do that for Memphis? Yes, He can. Yes, He can. And, the way the Ninevites were living was such that God was ready to destroy them. If God did that for Nineveh, cannot God do that for Memphis? Do you know the problem in Nineveh? It was not primarily with the Ninevites; it was primarily with Jonah. The problem in today is not primarily with the harvest; it is with the harvesters, with the reapers. The harvest is white. We’ve talked unto harvest. The fields are white unto harvest. That means, not that the grain is ripening—it’s already past ripe and falling to the ground. And, our Lord taught us to pray, “Pray…the Lord of…harvest, that he will send forth labourers into [the] harvest.” (Matthew 9:38; Luke 10:2) God had far more difficulty with Jonah, getting Jonah to do what he ought to do, than He had with the Ninevites. The problem is not Memphis, Tennessee; it’s in this room, friends. Now, the God that sent revival to Nineveh can send revival here.

Another illustration: On the Day of Pentecost, the Holy Spirit fell. Thousands were born again. And, that was the beginning of a revival where multiplied thousands came,
’til finally they had to say, “[You] have filled [this city] with your doctrine” (Acts 5:28);
“[you] have turned the world upside down.” (Acts 17:6) It happened at Jerusalem. Well, you say, “Yes, we would expect revival at Jerusalem.” I would say, to the contrary, if there were ever a place on earth when you would not expect revival, it would have been Jerusalem. Why?
Well, number one: They were what we call “gospel-hardened.” They had heard the preaching of all of the prophets. They were the counterpart of Memphis, Tennessee. They were the buckle on the Bible belt. They had heard it all. Number two: Not only that, but there was scandal in that city. The followers of the Lord Jesus Christ had failed Him. One of His chief followers had denied Him and sold Him for thirty pieces of silver. Another of His chief followers, a man named Peter, had cursed and sworn that he never even knew the Lord Jesus Christ. On top of all of that, there was never a city where Jesus Christ was more hated than Jerusalem. You say, “Why do you say that they hated Jesus in Jerusalem? How do you know that?” Well, they crucified Him there. I mean, they chose a common criminal over the Lord Jesus Christ. They, at Jerusalem, shouted for the blood of Jesus Christ. As far as I know, they’ve not yet done that in Memphis, Tennessee. I mean, here was a wicked, wicked, wicked, wicked city that had been hardened by the preaching of the Word of God rather than softened. And, they’d heard the prophets, and they’d stoned the prophets. And, Jesus wept over Jerusalem. And yet, God sent revival to Jerusalem. The Holy Spirit of God came down. The Holy Spirit of God came down. The disciples went out. The lost came in. And, there was a mighty, mighty revival.

If God sent revival on Mount Carmel, can’t He send revival here? If God sent revival to Nineveh, can He not send revival here? If God sent revival to Jerusalem, can He not send revival here? You say, “All of that was in the Bible times, though, pastor. We’re out of Bible times.” Well, go back to the Dark Ages, what we call “the Dark Ages.” In the Dark Ages in world history, there was a famine for the Word of God. The boys and girls in Bellevue’s Sunday school know far more of the Word of God than the priests of that day. So dark were the days that they literally were called “the Dark Ages.” And yet, God raised up some men. God raised up Luther. We had the Protestant Reformation. What some call the Protestant Reformation, in 1517, was really a mighty revival, and millions were born again. God raised up Calvin—John Calvin and others—and there came again a hunger of the Word of God and a knowledge of the Word of God. The course of history was changed. Wesley, founder of Methodism in the eighteenth century, began to preach in England. There was a complete breakdown of government and morals in France. It was about to overtake England. In England there was sin, debauchery, no Sunday school, a drunken, gambling clergy. The English slave trade was flourishing. And yet, Wesley, with a heart aflame, the power of God, with the righteousness and holiness, began to preach. God moved in, and there was a mighty, mighty revival.

I think, friend, of the revival under Dwight L. Moody in our country. I quoted Dwight L. Moody this morning. Moody was basically an unlettered, uneducated man, but God saved him. He began to preach here in the United States of America. We have the Moody Bible Institute as a tribute to that great man. Here was a man who was not a philosopher. He did not know Greek. He did not know Hebrew. But, he knew God. They joked at the way he would murder the King’s English. They said he was the only man living who could pronounce the word Jerusalem in two syllables. That’s the way he preached. But Moody, one day, in Chicago issued a challenge. He said, “I want every infidel and every unbeliever to come to an auditorium. I want every atheist to come.” Atheism was rampant. Five thousand atheists came. One man stood in front of all of them. Can you imagine preaching to a sanctuary about this size filled with atheists? And, one unlettered man stood up in front of them all and preached the gospel of Jesus Christ, and five hundred of them got saved in that service. Don’t tell me, friend, that the power of God does not work. The problem is primarily with those of us in this room. It is primarily with the messengers.

In Wales, in 1904, revival came to Wales like an unexpected tornado because there were those who were praying, seeking God. And, God so moved in Wales that in six weeks twenty thousand were added to the churches. In some cities the revival was so strong that work ceased. The jails no longer operated. They didn’t lock the jail doors any more because the people inside the jails and outside the jails were so right with God that all crime just ceased. People wouldn’t even lock their doors. They would meet together to sing and praise God in the streets. There was very little preaching. It was marked primarily by prayer and singing and praise. And, one account of that revival I read said that the people were so changed that the mules who worked in the coal mines in Wales refused to work because they were unaccustomed to being treated so kindly. The bars were closed. One theater closed for lack of patrons. There was a universal, widespread, deeply felt move of God.

Again, I say, when I talk about that in this day and age, many of us don’t even think that would ever happen so we don’t pray for it. We don’t expect it. We don’t think it’s possible. We’re just hoping that we can save our children and our grandchildren ’till Jesus gets here. And, rather than singing “Onward, Christian Soldiers,” we’re singing “Hold the Fort.”

III. Our Resources Have Not Changed
What am I saying? I’m saying that God has not changed. I’m saying that mankind has not changed. And, I’m saying also that our resources have not changed. We do not need a new gospel for a new age. Do you know what the Bible says? The Bible says in 2 Corinthians chapter 10, verse 4 that “the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds.” (2 Corinthians 10:4) What are our weapons? Well, first of all, the gospel of Jesus Christ. The Apostle Paul said, “[I’m] not ashamed of the gospel of Christ… it is the power of God unto salvation.” (Romans 1:16) Now, what power does Satan have over against the power of God and salvation?
The gospel of Jesus Christ is one of our weapons. It is a part of God’s arsenal. And, you know as I know that the word power that is used there is the word that we get our word dynamite from. It is the dunamis of God. “It is the power of God.” (Romans 1:16)

Oh, the Word of God is so powerful! I was looking at this verse recently: Jeremiah 23 and verse 28. Here’s a challenge that the prophet Jeremiah uttered: “The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully”—now, you’ve got two kinds of prophets: false prophets who simply dream up their own message. They’re the source of their own inspiration. Then you have the man who has heard from God and has the Word of God. And then, God goes on to speak—“What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the LORD. Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?” (Jeremiah 23:28–29) God’s Word is like a fire that burns, like a rock that crushes. You say, “Men’s hearts are hard as a rock.” I say, God’s Word is a hammer that will break the rock in pieces. It’s the power of the Word of God.

Our weapons have not changed. There’s the gospel. There’s the Word of God. There is prayer. God does answer prayer. God said, “Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.” (Jeremiah 33:3) James has said—James chapter 5, verse 16—“the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.” (James 5:16) The weapons of our warfare: the Holy Spirit of God. “Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me.” (Acts 1:8)

Conclusion
I’ve said all that to say this, folks: that God—God, God—is our only hope. Do you know what’s happening in America? God is letting an alarm clock go off that is louder than any I’ve ever heard. I don’t know whether you’re just going to roll over and go back to sleep or not, but it’s wakeup time. It’s time to wake up. It’s time to get up. It’s time to dress up. It’s time to fire up. It’s time to speak up. It’s time to look up. It’s time to get serious with God as individuals, as Sunday school classes, as a church, as a denomination. I believe that revival is possible and probable, but not automatic.