1) INTRODUCTION

- a) Romans 8:28
- b) Just as a pharmacist takes powders and noxious poisons and mixes them together to make medicine for us, God takes situations, problems and things that in themselves look bad and hurtful, and He mixes these together in the crucible of His love and wisdom.
 - i) And the result is medicine for our souls and something good and wonderful.
- c) God, by the chemistry of the cross, takes the situations and circumstances of our lives and makes them work together for our good and His glory.

 - (i) It seems that the more God blesses us, the more arrogant and sinful we become.
 - (ii) God may have to do something to America for our good, like He did to Judah for their good.
